UNION LABOR TO LAUNCH GENERAL POLITICAL MOVE

Plans for Aggressive Campaign are Formulated at Meeting of Executive Council and Heads of All Departments

PURPOSE HOT FIGHT ON UNFRIENDLY CANDIDATES

Vast Army of Organizers and Workers to Be Enlisted in the Effort to Elect Only Officials Favorable to Organization

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Plans for the most aggressive and general political campaign ever waged by the American Federation of Labor were formulated at a meeting today of a general council composed of the executive council and the heads of all departments of the federation.

It was said officially that the campaign to be conducted in connection with the general election in November not only would be aimed at members of congress, or candidates for, unfavorable to organized labor, but also at unfriendly candidates for president, governor and for members of state legislatures.

Every trade and craft affiliated with the federation will be called upon to take up the fight in every section of the country and to exert every effort to elect only such public officials as are favorable to the principles of organized labor. It was said that a vast army of organizers and workers would be recruited for the campaign.

Checks Up Records Every member of the present house or senate running for re-election who have by their record shown an unfriendly spirit towards organized labor, will be called upon to be dropped, and their votes will be opposed by the labor vote.

President Campers presided at the session today and there was the announcement of the federation's formal action was expected after the meeting had ended late today.

Gale and Blizzard in Atlantic States Causes Destruction and Suffering

ALLIED CONSIDERATION OF NEW NOTE WAITS COMING OF BRITISH OFFICIALS

COUNCIL OF AMBASSADORS DEFERS NEXT STEP PENDING DELAYED ARRIVAL OF BRITISH OFFICIALS

PARIS, (AP)—Consideration of the new note to be sent to Germany as a result of the failure of her representative here to transmit the list of accused Germans demanded for extradition by the allies was deferred by the council of ambassadors today until evening because Lord Birkenhead, the British lord high chancellor, and Sir Gordon Hewart, the attorney general, were delayed in their journey from London by fog in the English channel.

BERLIN, (AP)—The German government probably will be willing to surrender its nationals charged with war crimes to be tried by a neutral tribunal if the entente will agree, says the National Zeitung.

Depends on Negotiations A member of the government is quoted by the press as saying: "The government is still endeavoring to find a way out by further negotiations."

It is believed that the government will attempt to obtain a modification of the peace treaty respecting extradition. If it is unsuccessful it will, so it is said, fold its arms and let the allied powers have their way according to prevalent opinion.

NEW ARMY RULES GROUP RECRUITS ON STATE LINES

Infantry and Artillerymen from Idaho Go to Camp Lewis; Engineers to El Paso or Fort Bliss; Cavalry to Brownville

WASHINGTON, (AP)—To stimulate regular army recruiting and arouse local interest, the war department has issued to all recruiting officers over the country a schedule for allocation of recruits by states to specific regiments. Through this method of distribution, officials believe each state will take a personal interest in the regiments to which its men are assigned.

The frame work of a divisional organization on geographical lines is also set up. New England will make up one division, New York compose another, and similarly the whole country is covered.

Infantry and field artillery regiments will be so allocated as to best identify each regiment with a separate state, according to the plan. Where the number of regiments is greater or less than the number of states comprising the divisional area, a regiment may be made up of recruits from more than one state.

Infantry and coast artillery—recruits from Oregon, Idaho and Montana go to 25th and 27th regiments, Camp Lewis, Wash.; engineers to 8th, El Paso, Fort Bliss; and cavalry to 18th Brownville, Tex. Oregon and Montana field artillery, 78th, Camp Grant, Ill.; and Idaho to 4th Camp Stanley, Tex.

Nevada, Utah California infantry go to 32nd, Camp Kearney, Calif.; coast artillery to 50th, Camp Lewis, Wash.; engineers to 9th, Fort Bliss, Texas; and cavalry, Monterey, Calif. Field artillery from California and Nevada will go to the 82nd, Fort Bliss, Tex. Some of the California infantry recruits will be stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco.

There are no road rules nor speed limits in Chile outside of the cities, but the speed limit in the cities is 25 kilometers (15 1/2 miles) an hour. In the traffic rules of the various Chilean cities there is a lack of uniformity, the Valparaiso regulations requiring an automobile to pass to the right of a coming car, while in Santiago it must pass to the left.

DARING ORIENTAL SUITS ARE FEATURED IN PARIS

Bright Textures Appear in Many of the Most Popular Creations for Women's Wear

PARIS, (AP)—Daring Oriental suits of lustrous gold and silver tissues ending in trouser legs, which are held close to the shoe tops by straps, sometimes ornamented in previous stories, pasting under the wearers (instead are featured in displays of summer models in Parisian modistes parlors. Some models coyly veil the trousers with filmy materials.

Recent rumors that light lacings was to be restored to favor have proved to be erroneous. In fact, little if any corseting will be needed next summer except by stout women. The length of street dresses being shown is about the same as that most in vogue last fall but the hem is narrower.

Bright textures will appear in many of the most popular creations and patterned materials will be featured by some of the more famous houses. One of the most popular models will show a flounce effect and a light undergarment of pale green. A smart little jacket with gorgeously embroidered lining has been given the stamp of approval in some of the more exclusive shops.

PROTEST RAISE IN COAL PRICE

National Electric Light Association Makes Charges Against Mine Operators

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bituminous coal operators have recently raised the wages of their miners 14 per cent and who, it was announced, agreed to absorb the increase so that it would not be passed on to the consumer, are raising the protest sent to electric light and power companies throughout the United States with whom they have sliding scale contracts, according to charges made in a protest sent to Henry T. E. Robinson, chairman of the United States bituminous coal commission from the headquarters of the national electric light association here yesterday.

R. H. Bullard, of Los Angeles, president, and M. H. Ayleworth, executive manager of the organization of light and power utilities, declared in a letter to Chairman Robinson that by an order of former Fuel Administrator Garfield issued last November 12, the wage increase was "to be applicable only to coal diverted by the railroads. And that it exempted all public utility companies having contracts which had been entered into with the coal men prior to October 30, 1919. These contracts, according to the protest, were based upon a sliding scale, which could not result in advance rates for light and power. Reconsideration of the subject is requested.

Public Pays Increase
Electric light and power companies, the letter says, are regulated by state and municipal authorities and are not permitted to earn more than a fair rate of return on the value of the properties. "Consequently," it says, "increased operating expenses must necessarily be borne by the consuming public."

The protest of the national electric light association follows a previous request for a ruling made of Chairman Robinson and Attorney General Palmer some time ago by the national committee on gas and electric service of the parent organization. The head of the bituminous coal commission at that time is said to have expressed the opinion that the commission was without authority to pass upon the question.

THE TRUTH ABOUT SHOE PRICES

You can't have a world "short on shoes" without the demand being greater than the supply. The actual shortage of the best quality leathers, decreased production due to shorter working hours, grasping for partial supplies at any price by foreign countries, increased cost of labor, and the higher price of all materials entering into shoe construction have all combined to create a condition little understood by the average wearer.

HONOLULU, T. H., (AP)—Acting Governor Curtis P. We will do our duty as Americans when the interests of public are at stake, as they will be from a prolonged deadlock. I shall feel it my duty to use my influence to avert what I would regard as a public calamity."

MINT EMPLOYEE ADMITS THEFT

Search of Home Reveals Gold Bars Buried and Hidden in Various Places

DENVER, Colo., (AP)—Orville Harrington, 41, a skilled worker in the Denver mint, was arrested yesterday by E. J. G. Goddard, chief of the local branch of the federal secret service on a charge of having robbed the Denver mint of gold bullion valued at more than one hundred thousand dollars. A search of Harrington's home revealed the gold bars buried and hidden in various parts of the premises and all of it was recovered, according to Goddard.

Uses Hollow False Leg

Harrington, according to the officers, carried the bars out of the mint concealed in a hollow false limb which he wore. Because of the unusual means taken to get the gold out of the mint, the officers were unable to locate the source of the theft for several days. Harrington was taken into custody as he was coming off shift, a search of his person disclosing a $1,400 bar of gold hidden in the false leg.

The thefts which began two weeks ago had been traced to the refinery, and watch was set over all employees of that department. The list of suspects narrowed down to three and watch placed on the home of the suspected one. Tuesday night, officers who were watching the Harrington home saw Harrington bury a bar in the orchard, and subsequent search of the orchard disclosed the bars hidden there. The search of the house early yesterday netted fourteen other bars which had been buried in the cellar.

Temptation Too Great

"I was coming out for a day's work at the mint," said Harrington at police headquarters, "and one can't enjoy life on such limited funds. I had been having lots of trouble with my leg and had been compelled to wear a false limb and to submit to a number of operations since having my foot amputated several years ago. I have a wife and family and had to get out of the mint to buy a farm for them and to be independent. I can't say just when the impulse to steal first came to me. I was constantly in touch with great stores of gold and silver valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, and it looked too easy, that's all."

Solomon Predicted It

In the book of Tobit, chapter 5, verse 16, there is this statement—"and the young man's dog went along with them." In one of the best accounts of the Tuesday election in New York city there is this statement—"the women went to the voting booths and, in many instances, their dogs went along with them." As King Solomon remarked, there isn't any thing new under the sun.—Latimore American.

Walk in faith and fear not.—Mazzini.

JAI ALAI MAKES CUBAN NOISY AS A BASEBALL FAN

Old Spanish Game is Exciting as it is Played on the Pearl of the Antilles

HAVANA, (Special).—The Spanish national ball game of "Pelota," or "Jai Alai," as it is adapted to Cuba, is a favorite stamping ground at night for the visiting Chicagoans.

Lacrosse, as our friends, the Cannibals, play it, is a strenuous, almost ferocious pastime. But for an athletic sport requiring greater strength, ability, endurance, and skill, you must witness a game of "Jai Alai" between professional teams.

They call the building in which "Jai Alai" games are played a Fronton. The playing court is a rectangle 210 feet long and 30 feet wide. The floor is of cement, the end and side walls of granite. On the front wall, against which the ball is served at the beginning of play, are fastened three narrow strips of thin metal, the first parallel to the floor and 3 feet 3 inches above it. The second parallel to the first, but 36 feet higher. The third is a vertical band connecting the outer ends of the two.

Metal Strips Mark Limits

The back wall is provided with two metal strips in the same position as the upper one and vertical one on the front wall. Along the side wall runs a single horizontal strip across the entire length at a height of 30 feet 2 inches from the floor. Three metal strips mark the limits within which the ball when in play must strike the wall. Any ball touching a strip or striking below the lower strip on the front wall, or outside the vertical strips or above the upper strip is out.

The court floor is divided into equal spaces 12 feet wide, indicated by vertical lines on side walls, and which are numbered consecutively from front to rear wall. At the fourth and seventh divisions lines are drawn transversely across the floor. These lines mark the limits within which the ball, after being served against the front wall, at the beginning of play, must strike the floor in order to be good. The fourth is called the Fault line and the seventh the Pass line.

Players Wear "Costumes"

Each player is known by a number on his right arm, the players of opposing teams being distinguished by the color of their costumes. For they are more conspicuous than uniforms.

The team which first scores the designated number of points wins the match. Before the match begins, the names of the players and the number of points to be conceded are posted in a conspicuous place. As the play progresses an attendant scores the points in view of the spectators. The first serve is determined by the toss of the coin.

"Jai Alai," like so many of the popular pastimes in Cuba, is a gamblers' game. Bookmakers are as busy here as they will ever be at Oriental park. And no six-day bicycle race crowd or world's championship gathering ever will make more noise in the same space and time as 3,000 Cubans at a game of "Jai Alai."

Big Demand for Seats

Try to get a seat for the game on the date of playing, and you will find it as difficult, at the standard prices, as to get a sure thing in the fifth race.

The "best" prices are 12 for a box of six seats; $2 each for the first row seats, $1.50 each for the seats in the first five rows, also for balcony seats; $1 each for numbered gallery seats; 50 cents for first row numbered gallery seats, and 50 cents for numbered gallery upper seats.

The seats are arranged arena fashion, but in step tiers. Basin checks are hard to acquire, for if 15 points are scored before an interruption of the game admittance fees will not be refunded. And the fellow who likes a nip between acts is confronted with this discouraging sign: "No passes issued to the street."

Betting Lively Feature

Those who think that our own national game of baseball is being prosecuted by the gambling fraternity might look into the methods of an audience at the Cuban game. First you bet even money upon the team that you pick to win. You bet upon the color worn by numbered consecutively from front to rear wall. At the fourth and seventh

CALLS PETROGRAD CITY OF FAMINE AND ROBBERY

Russian Red Cross Society Head Reports on Investigation of Conditions in Capital

LONDON, (AP)—Petrograd is described as a city suffering from famine, cold, disease and robbery in a report just made by Professor Zeldler, president of the Russian Red Cross society who has investigated conditions in the capital.

"Owing to the want of fuel the capital is becoming a desert," he says. "In a few houses only there are still some inhabitants and even these generally live in their kitchens. Famine conditions in this city are terrible. If the population had not already accustomed itself to feeding on what people in normal circumstances never eat at all, they would have no food whatever. Spotted typhus and Spanish influenza with various complications have put an end to the sufferings of many unfortunate people.

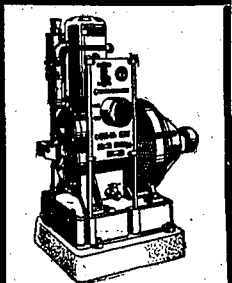

"The authorities are powerless to guard public safety. Gangs of robbers are at work in the deserted quarters of the city carrying off all that may have been left after the searches made by the red army."

Any reasonably-priced house or apartment may be rented—through an expensive classified advertising campaign. Test the matter. The "ask" involved is so small that few people would dignify it by that name.

Let the ads help you to decide where to buy it.

But before half a dozen serves are made you find these around you scrambling for the runners, beseeching them to place their money with the bookmakers who are reeling along the side lines. Every move seems to mean a bet, and for real out and out panic-mania you can't beat this bunch at this game. The bets run into hundreds of dollars upon a turn of a serve, the number of times the ball will be kept in service, the number of outs, and in fact every important movement of the opposing players.

The second session is now at its height and Americans are scrambling for advance reservations upon every night of play.

Never Drink Water

A large number of the smaller kinds of desert mammals never drink water. They live and thrive on dry seeds and scraps of vegetation in places where the heat and aridity are excessive without even touching their lips to water, and it has been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity. A new department of the hospital, fully equipped to lend valuable aid toward making a diagnosis.

Without a proper diagnosis, no disease can be properly treated.

Diseases, such as typhoid, syphilis, malaria, tuberculosis, anemia, influenza, obscure diseases of the blood and nervous system, Bright's disease, and cancer, can be diagnosed by laboratory tests alone.

In nearly every disease known, valuable diagnostic, as well as prognostic aid can be given by careful examination of the blood, urine, sputum, gastric contents, specimens of tissue, such as cancerous and tuberculous glands, bacterial examinations of pus, spinal fluid, contents, and inflammatory exudates, such as pus in the lung, etc.

No disease is of such minor importance that the patient is not justified in demanding every means toward an accurate diagnosis.

Witnesses Before Senate Committee Investigating Mexican Situation Propose Organization of Vigilantes

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—General Howze, commanding here, received authority from the war department today to appear as a witness before the senate committee investigating the Mexican situation. It is expected his testimony will be followed by that of other army officers on duty along the border.

Troops Make Life Possible O. C. Howe, customs inspector and P. E. Dyer, military band leader of the Big Bend district, gave the committee corroborative information as to conditions along the Rio Grande. After asserting that life in that region was made possible only by the protection afforded by the United States troops, he suggested the Big Bend might be "cleared up" if the "job" was left to the civilian residents. He told the committee both sides had been fairly well provided the American property owners and their employes could organize a force similar to the "vigilantes" that would check the raids of Mexicans.

Fall Census Threat Reports Students of Mexican newspapers that the sub-committee is threatening Mexicans who refuse to testify with imprisonment caused Senator Fall to read into the record today a report that he was suspicious of the misconception of a few Mexicans might be due to a misunderstanding of the subpoena. It was pointed out no effort had been made to compel attendance and that no subpoena had been issued for any Mexican although a few have been told they might have the opportunity to testify. For their own protection, certain Mexicans have asked that they be subpoenaed. Senator Fall added there was no doubt of the legal right of the sub-committee to force the appearance of a witness, whether American or Mexican.

HIGH WAGE SCALES ADD TO LIST OF INCOME TAX PAYERS AMONG WORKERS

Internal Revenue Collector for New York Districts Includes Longshoremen, Garment Makers, Chauffeurs and Piano Movers and Chorus Girls in Clientele

NEW YORK, (AP)—Plumbers who pay income taxes are no longer the "aristocrats of labor," according to William H. Edwards, United States internal revenue collector for the second and third districts of New York, in whose district this year more than $1,500,000 will be gathered up for Uncle Sam. High wages and profitable overtime, says Mr. Edwards, have raised to the income tax paying list such workers as longshoremen, garment workers, jewelers, railroads brakemen, chauffeurs, sailors, truck drivers and piano movers. "And don't forget the chorus girls, the movie stars and the hotel waiters," declared the collector, adding that some of the latter were making more than $5,000 a year in tips alone.

Cities Garment a Wage Street car conductors and motorman in Brooklyn, for instance, he said, have wages as high as $20 a week, and if their yearly income exceeds $1,000 for a single man or $2,000 for the head of a family, they will be required to contribute their share toward the cost of running the government. Mr. Edwards cited a few instances without, of course, mentioning any names, of bootblack, milk wagon drivers and bellboys who in 1919 had small salaries but who were required to file returns.

Payment of the income tax began on January 1 and will continue until mid-night of March 15, at which time all returns must be in to escape the possibility of a maximum of $1000 fine for delinquency. While Collector Edwards was speaking, his small secretary day out of a clock for $2,838,735.33, representing the payment of a corporation tax with penalty and interest. The next letter he opened was from Minneapolis, N. M., which had been notified that it had been required to pay an income tax of $1.37.

Not Income 65 Cents A recent caller at the collector's office was a woman whose net income was 65 cents. Her tax returned the four cents. She wanted to know if she would be permitted to make the payments "quarterly." When told she could she smiled and said she guessed she would pay it all at once, handing over four shining pennies and took her receipt.

Another patriotic citizen, foreign born, had a net income of $1000, but that he had no income which was subject to taxation. At the bottom of his return was the following notation: "No tax due but would like to pay some tax and enclose for $100."

Collector Edwards said that, under the law, he was not permitted to accept the check, but that he would refer it to Commissioner Roper in Washington to dispose of as he saw fit. This year the income tax rate is less than last, Mr. Edwards said, the normal rate being 16 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemption and 8 per cent on the remaining net income instead of 8 and 12 per cent as in 1918. "Of the 100,000 returns that we get, we would hardly think that a longshoreman came within the requirements of the income tax law. Certainly he did not a year ago when many of them found it difficult to pay their taxes in the past year or two, however, many longshoremen have been making from $3,000 to $5,000 a year."

Hits Theatrical Profession "The theatrical profession, some members of the theatrical profession pretty hard. Some of these actors, including motion picture stars, perhaps make as high as $200 and $300 a week in the city. In the country they live well and by the time their income tax payment is due may be out of an engagement. They are confronted with a good deal of tax without any income in the year. It is then up to them to get it. "Last year my investigators found many diamond merchants have been doing business in this country four or five years of their life without any income. After then and increased our returns by more than $1,000,000. Some of the actresses who were delinquent last year they did not pay because they could not figure out just how much they were exempt because of the cost of their gowns, taxicabs and other luxuries. A 50 per cent penalty was imposed because of their failure to pay when the taxes were due."

After Forty Years Suffering Mrs. Mahoney Finds Relief by Taking

"There is no ailment that I can make that would be strong enough to express how thankful myself and my husband are for Tanlac," said Mrs. C. Mahoney at her home at No. 2300 East 11th St., Los Angeles. "Tanlac has restored my health after forty years of suffering," she continued. "It is the greatest medicine in the world. "All my life I have had no real appetite and had to be very careful what I ate for gas would fill me up and seem to press on my heart terribly. "For the past few years I have had no peace at all and was in pain nearly every minute and my condition became so serious I could get no rest or sleep. I just lived on dread and would sit down at the table three times a day with only a cup of tea for a meal and never a bit of solid food at all. Once in a while a glass of milk, but that was all. Even a bit of bread would cause me such agony I could hardly endure it. "I tried every sort of medicine or treatment any one would suggest but got no relief whatever. In fact, nearly all the medicine I took came right back up again and left my stomach more irritated and painful than ever. I was so sick and miserable I was in dread all the time. It was terrible. "My husband had been taking Tanlac and had been so much benefited by it that one day when I was so bad he urged me to take a dose, which I did. I was greatly surprised to find that it stayed on my stomach and instead of nauseating me seemed to soothe me. I have now taken four bottles and I don't hesitate to say that it is the finest stomach medicine made for every bit of the gas and pain are gone from my stomach and I don't have palpitations of the heart any more. I am eating more now than I ever did in my life before and I relish every bit of it. I don't have the slightest discomfort after eating, either, and I have gained a lot of weight. I feel positively I feel better than I ever did in my whole life. "My husband I just bless the day I heard of Tanlac and as I said before no statement I could make would be strong enough to express our gratitude for it. "Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Eugene by Thompson Drug Co., in Murtaugh by Murtaugh Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Wood, in Buhl by C. D. Boring Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by A. L. Stowe, adv."

Stranded Vessel Calls for Aid to Passengers Steamship Princess Anne Runs Aground Off Long Island in Heavy Storm

NEW YORK, (AP)—The steamship Princess Anne of the Old Dominion line, carrying 32 passengers and a crew of 72 from Norfolk, Va., to New York, ran aground one mile off the coast at Rockaway Point on Long Island in a heavy storm early today and sent out S. O. S. calls for assistance. Tugs from army transport headquarters at Hoboken, wrecking tugs and a police patrol were alerted to the aid of the stranded vessel.

Wireless reports said that Captain Seay of the Princess Anne had been seriously injured. The vessel's position was reported as being on the coast of the gale that had lashed the coast for the past two days. Members of the coast guard at Rockaway Beach endeavored to launch a boat to go to the steamer but gave up the attempt when giant rollers nearly battered the craft to pieces. Later reports from the stranded ship said that the vessel was taking water rapidly and the captain requested that passengers and crew be taken off before night.

Communication between the Princess Anne and shore wireless stations will soon fall owing to lack of battery, a message from the ship indicated at 2 p. m.

POINTS TO LAW ON USE OF FLAG

Labor Organization Alleges the Violation Statute; Disclaims Intent to Prosecute

Alleging violation of law in use by the Twin Falls Employers' association of the American flag on its placards first displayed announcing adoption of the "open shop" plan, the local building trades council, through its business agent, F. D. Turner, today issued a statement disclaiming intention to prosecute on the charge set forth and calling for settlement of questions raised. Use of the placard displaying the flag has been discontinued. The statement follows:

"It is to be regretted that any citizen of the city of Twin Falls would so forget himself in his zeal and partisan efforts concerning differences of opinion concerning any matter, and especially the matter in which is so intimately and vitally involved as the carrying on of work such as constructing schools in which to educate the youth of the land and inculcate in their minds the love of their country and their flag, and in the building of houses to house the people, that they should, in violation of the laws of this state, as set forth in section 8504 of the Idaho compiled statute, use the flag of our beloved country on certain hand bills and placards.

"This law provides among other things, that if any person in any manner, for to be placed, or exposes or causes to be exhibited, display, places or causes exposed to public view, any flag upon which shall be printed, attached, appended, affixed or unfastened, any word, mark, picture, design or drawing, or any advertisement of any nature or who shall cast contempt, either by words or acts upon such flag, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall forfeit a penalty of $50 to be recovered in a civil suit, which suit can be brought by any citizen of the state, and it further provides that the words, marks, pictures, etc., shall include any flag, etc., or any picture or representation made of any substance and of any size purporting to be, either of such flag, standard, colors or ensign, of the United States of America, or of any picture or representation of either thereof, upon which shall be shown the colors, standard and the stars and stripes, in any number of either thereof, or which the person so acting, without any deliberation, may believe the same to represent the flag colors, standard or ensign of the United States of America, and provides that if any person in possession of any such flag, standard or ensign shall be presumptive evidence that the same is in violation of said law.

"A similar law has been enacted in the state of Nebraska, and the Supreme Court of that state, in a recent decision upholding the validity of said law has said that, "from the earliest periods in the history of the human race, banners, standards and ensigns have been adopted as symbols of power and history of the peoples who bore them. It is not, then, remarkable that the American people acting through the legislative branch of the government, early in their history, adopted the flag as a symbol as an existence and sovereignty of the nation. Indeed, it would have been extraordinary if the government had started this country upon its marvelous career without adopting it a flag to be recognized as the emblem of the American republic. For that flag every true American has not simply an appreciation, but an affection. No American, not only a citizen, but a foreigner who enjoys the privileges of American citizenship, ever looks upon it without taking pride in the fact that it lives under this free government. Hence, it has often occurred that the use of a flag have been the cause of war, and indignities put upon it, in the presence of those who revere it, have often been resented and published on the spot.

"Looking, then, to the provisions relating to the placing of representations of the flag upon articles of merchandise for purpose of advertising, we are of opinion that those who enacted the law, what is known of all, that is, every true American, has adopted the flag as a symbol of the nation's power—the emblem of freedom in its truest, best sense. It is not extravagant to say that to all lovers of the country it signifies government, not only for the consent of the governed; liberty regulated by law; the protection of the weak against the strong; security against the exercise of arbitrary power; and absolute safety for free institutions against foreign aggression."

"And again the court says 'all are alike forbidden to use the flag as an advertisement.'"

"It would be going very far to say that the statute in question had not reasonable connection with the common good, and was not promotive of the peace, order and well being of the people."

"Organized labor commends this opinion of the supreme court of the United States to the consideration of those who have been using the flag in trying to restrict the actions of their own Organized labor in Twin Falls will not take action upon this statute collectively or individually, believing that this is a time for moderation; it is a time for cool reflection; it is a time when both the laboring men and the employer should not allow outside influences to enter their councils; that they should meet across the table in an earnest desire to reconcile their differences, and as fair Americans spirit attempt to take that course which will mean the multiplication of business structures, the building of homes, and acquire a habit of carrying a greater desire in the hearts of all to be of service to each other."

"Let us determine that our differences have been brought about by mutual misunderstanding, and let us come to a fair understanding, and let us come to a purpose to be of service one to the other."

STOCKS PRICES TUMBLE DESPITE EXCHANGE GAIN

Leading Issues Drop from 6 to 15 Points Under Heavy Selling

NEW YORK, (AP)—Prices of stocks tumbled today under heavy selling despite improvement in foreign exchange. Losses of two to five points were numerous and United States Steel fell to 96.7-8-1/2 its lowest quotations for months. Prices opened 1 1/2 points up, but reacted after the first hour and soon there was heavy liquidation. The break was accelerated by 17 per cent call.

Declines of 6 to 15 points from the opening prices occurred in General Motors, Mexican Petroleum, Crucible Steel, Texas Company, Industrial Alcohol, American Woolen and General Electric.

Live Like Cliff Dwellers.
A characteristic bit of the old world may be seen near Roundup, Mont., where Austrian and Indian miners have built their homes to incase themselves from the elements. They are simply erecting a stone wall they have a shelter that cannot be bettered for warmth in winter and coolness in summer.

"Half-Mast High."
Everyone knows when he sees a flag down at half-mast that it is a sign of mourning, but few have any idea how the custom originated. It traces from the old naval rule that the sign of demotion was the lowering of the flag by the vanquished.

The war has just started for one of Uncle Sam's governmental departments. It is the internal revenue, whose duty it is to help enforce national bone-dry prohibition. One of the busiest spots is at the Washington laboratories, where all illicit liquors and drugs are analyzed. Over $300,000 worth of drugs and liquors were recently received for shipment for analysis. At one time turned over $75,000 worth of seized drugs to the Red Cross after its work was done. Over 40,000 suspected samples are received annually for tests. In the background is shown Dr. William V. Linder, in charge of the laboratory work. Foreground, Chas. C. P. ### Facilities for Care of Disabled Former Service Men to Be Installed at Several Forts

HELENA, Mont., (AP)—Facilities for caring for disabled former service men of northwestern states are soon to be installed at Fort William Henry Harrison, near here, and Fort Missoula, at Missoula. Captain Fred E. Hamilton recently visited the former army posts in connection with their equipment as rehabilitation hospitals.

Mental cases are to be treated at Fort Harrison and tuberculosis and general cases also are to be treated at Boise barracks, Boise, Idaho.

"Regular troops have not been stationed at the two Montana army posts in connection with their equipment used during the war as a mobilization point for Montana soldiers. It has been in care of a custodian, however, and is declared to be in good condition. The fort is four miles from this city, with which it is connected with an electric line. It is with view of the main range of the Rocky mountains, and excellent opportunities for recreation are at hand.

Fort Missoula was last used for housing members of the student army training corps. The last regular troops were stationed there in 1917. It also has been in charge of a doctor and the buildings are said to be in first-class shape.

TRADING WITH RUSSIA

As between Herbert Hoover's assertion to the effect that the props have been kicked from under the soviet regime and the declaration of the soviet government itself that "the blockade ring has been broken by the victories of the Red army," there is a wide and fertile field for speculation and conjecture as to the probable results of resumption of economic relations between the allied nations and the people of Russia.

Under those circumstances, perhaps the interpretation put upon the matter by one who may well regard himself as one of the "people of Russia" will prove enlightening and furnish as accurate a forecast as may be expected. From this standpoint there is probably none better qualified to speak than A. J. Sack, director of the Russian Information Bureau in the United States, who represents the Kerensky government, if he can be said to represent any government. In a pamphlet recently issued he writes:

"The removal of the allied blockade by the supreme council does not signify any change in the allied policy towards Bolshevism. It represents only a change in the method. The allies understand that Europe cannot remain half-Bolshevik and half-democratic and, disappointed in their previous methods in handling Bolshevism, they have now decided to try a new method. Instead of openly declaring war on Bolshevism for the purpose of helping the Russian people to establish a stable democratic government which, in our opinion, would be the only proper policy with regard to Russia at present, they have decided to undermine Bolshevism by supplying the Russian people with all the necessities, through the co-operative societies, the idea being that under normal conditions the Russian people would find in themselves enough strength to overthrow the Bolshevik tyranny.

"It is natural that the supreme council has chosen the co-operative societies as the intermediary for the new trade relations and that it has limited this trade to bartering, to the exchange of merchandise for merchandise. The supreme council could not permit the acceptance of Russian gold, since this would involve dealing with the so-called Bolshevist government and the recognition of the legitimacy of the possession of this gold by the Bolsheviks, whereas they have stolen this gold from the treasury of the Russian people.

"The re-establishment of normal economic conditions in Russia depends, in accordance with the supreme council's declaration, upon two factors: first, on the possibility for the Russian Co-operative societies to collect the raw materials and bring them over to the ports and, second, on the possibility for the co-operatives to distribute fairly among the Russian population the merchandise they will obtain in exchange for the raw materials.

"It is clear that the disorder now reigning in Russia, combined with the thorough disorganization of means of transportation, will interfere seriously with the collecting and transporting of the raw materials to the ports. "If the supreme council is interested in undermining the Bolshevist power through fair distribution of necessities in Russia, the Bolsheviks naturally are interested in the same. Therefore, in spite of all the adverse conditions, we would see a considerable amount of merchandise going into Russia, one of two things would happen; either the Bolshevik would stop the trade, in case the co-operatives succeed in the achieving of fair distribution of the merchandise, or the Supreme Council would stop it in case the Bolshevik take over the merchandise and distribute it among themselves and their followers.

"So the practical results of the now allied decision will most certainly be negligible. The raising of the blockade will not eliminate starvation from Russia. Russia's starvation is due not to the allied blockade as the Bolshevik and the parlor-Bolshevik insist, but to the criminal inefficiency of the Bolshevik regime and to the civil war the Bolshevik have brought upon Russia in their endeavor to replace the autocracy of the old regime by now and even more tyrannical autocracy. Under normal conditions Russia is able not only to feed herself but to feed other countries as well. If we take the pre-war conditions, we find that Russia exported about 600 million dollars' worth of food supplies yearly.

"The decision of the Supreme Council does not present a solution of the Russian problem. It is rather an endeavor to evade the only solution possible, and that is meeting the Bolshevik challenge of the democratic civilization in the open, by military force."

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity-acid stomach-and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which irritate the stomach like a top hammer. We then get the heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulency, water brash, or nausea. He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get four or five grains four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is refreshing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.-Adv.

Titles Occupational.

An English newspaper suggests the use of generic names for household help, as, for instance: "Palmer" for parlor maid, "Jenny" for general, "Sally" for scullery maid, and so on. All very well, but suppose in the first case there were three parlor maids, would it distinguish them as "Palm," "Palmer" and "Palmer"?-Boston Transcript.

TO GET RID OF MILDEW STAIN.

The Moon and the Horizon.

According to astronomers it is owing to the atmosphere and the fact that lying low in the line of the earth or objects that makes the moon look larger. Just as soon as the moon rises in the heavens and we look up to it without intervening or surrounding objects, it diminishes in apparent size.

The quick road to a position is through the classified. Sometimes this road requires more than one day to travel—but it leads inevitably to the desired goal if followed.
