

PRESIDENT PUTS BAN ON FOREIGN WAR DECORATION

Circumvents Act of Congress by Request to European Powers, According to Disclosure of Secretary Daniels

WASHINGTON, (AP)—After congress passed a law permitting American officers to accept decorations from foreign governments Friday, Secretary Daniels directed the state department to inform all European governments that the United States did not wish any awards made. Secretary Daniels disclosed Saturday before the senate committee investigating naval awards.

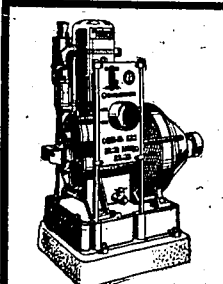

Sins Accepted Award
Before the president acted, Mr. Daniels said, Rear Admiral Sims had been informed by the chief of the bureau of navigation of the passage of the law and had accepted a decoration from the king of England and had authorized Admiral Rodman, then commanding the American battle fleet, and Rear Admiral Strauss, directing the laying of the North Sea mine barrage, to accept decorations.

Admiral Sims was informed by Secretary Daniels of the president's action, the secretary continued, and he wrote asking whether he should return the medal to the king. Mr. Daniels said he replied that in view of the action taken, presumably before President Wilson's request reached the king, there was nothing that could be done. That, of course, the decorations already accepted could not be returned. He expressed the hope at this time, he said, that no other foreign decorations would be given except as might be awarded for courageous conduct in battle.

Differs With Secretary
Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Sims differed regarding the acceptance of foreign decorations by American officers, the secretary told the sub-committee. The secretary said Admiral Sims recommended that no officers be permitted to accept such decorations on the ground that it would have a marked effect on morale and efficiency, while he opposed such a plan.
"I don't believe for a moment that the mere fact that the British government had expressed a desire to award decorations to certain of our ships' officers, influenced the morale or fighting spirit of the men in the fleet," said Mr. Daniels. "Its effect may have been pronounced upon those more eager for British honors than American appreciation, but in the American navy that number is negligible."
Quotes American Principle
"I was and am personally opposed to a foreign decoration upon the ancient American principle based upon the belief that if such decorations could be accepted there would not be wanting a few men in our service whose desire to obtain them would make them solicitous of securing foreign approval and favor. Such an attitude would be subversive of the perfect independence of mind and freedom from obligation in the slightest degree of any nation, even to the most friendly nation with whom we might for the time being be associated in the war."

FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO REMEMBER YANKS

Will Award Diplomas to Nearest Kin of Those Who Died During World War

The French government is going to present a memorial diploma to the nearest of kin of Americans who died in the service of their country during the world war, and through the adjutant general of the U. S. army has requested the American Legion to distribute these diplomas on Washington's birthday, February 22, 1920. At this time there is to be distributed a very complimentary appreciation of the service of the American forces in France, to the members of the A. E. F., which will be done through the auspices of the American Legion.

In order that none to whom this memorial belongs be slighted, the nearest kin of all men who died in the service of their country between the dates of April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, are requested to send their name, all names, and claim of kinship to the nearest post of the legion, giving the full name of these relatives to whom they claim relation. In case there is nothing known of a post in the locality of those wishing these diplomas, the request should be made to Allen Fifield, Idaho Department, the American Legion, Pocatello, Idaho, who will refer them to the nearest post to their home.
The diploma representing one of the beneficiaries of the Are de Triomphe in Paris, will bear the name of the deceased soldier with a recognition from the French people signed by the president of the republic of France. A complete description of the diploma is attached, giving the English translation.

REPORT SHOWS FLOOD OF MONEY ENTERING MEXICO

Laborers Remittance to Relatives in Land of Birth Held Responsible for Showing

JUAREZ, Mex., (AP)—During the first 20 months since the resumption of international money order relations between the United States and Mexico, $35,446 money orders, totaling $3,492, 002.30, were issued in the United States for collection in Mexico, according to a report received by Edward A. Dow, American consul here, from Andres G. Moller, director general of the Mexican postal service.
Senator Garcia's report shows that 23, 315 money orders have been issued in Mexico for collection in the United States since May 1, 1918. The money value of these orders was $278,811.33.
The fact that the value of money orders issued in the United States payable in Mexico is about six times that of orders made out in Mexico to American payees is explained by American officials here as due to the number of remittances made to relatives in Mexico by Mexican laborers in the United States.

TEN DEATHS RECORDED FROM FLU AT BURLEY
Week's Toll of Epidemic Alarming—Cooperative Action is Demanded
BURLEY (Special)—Ten deaths have occurred here in the past week from influenza and pneumonia growing out of influenza. A number of patients are reported in critical condition and further deaths are looked for before the crisis of the epidemic is passed.
While the disease does not appear to be as serious as it was last year, it has the aspect of increasing virulence and fears are expressed that unless cooperative action by people and health officials to check the disease are taken it may yet assume the fatal proportions of the plague of last year, authorities declare.

WORLD END PREDICTION ALARMS INDIAN MASSES

Villagers Invoke Gods, Shave Heads and Make Vows and Offerings

LONDON, (AP)—The masses in India, especially the ignorant villagers, were greatly agitated as the result of the prediction made by Professor Porta, of America, that December 31 would see the beginning of exceptional storms and earthquakes, says the Calcutta correspondent of the Daily Mail. By the time the prediction reached India it had grown into a declaration that the world was coming to an end. The correspondent says of these frightened people:
"They invoked their gods, made vows and offerings, bathed in the sacred streams, shaved their heads, and sat clothed practically in sackcloth and ashes (it is quite a common sight to see religious mendicants emerald all over with ashes), awaiting the crack of doom."

"It was rumored that 'Khuda' (the Deity) was going to descend to the Ocheltery monument in Calcutta. At the police corps scores of self-constituted astrologers argued, some for and others against the prophecy. As soon as the weather got cloudy an aged Moslem, who was the complainant in a case of petty assault, left the court and let his case take care of itself. He was, he said, going home to die with his family."

WAY IS PAVED FOR ADOPTION OF RAILS BILL

Congressional Conferees Agree Upon Return of 5 1-2 Per Cent on Aggregate Value of Systems for Two Years

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A return of 5 1-2 per cent on the aggregate value of the railroads will be guaranteed by the government for a period of two years under an agreement reached Saturday by the senate and house conferees on the railroad bill.
In announcing the agreement today, Chairman Crampton of the senate managers said the re-written section provided that after the two year period the percentage of return would be fixed by the interstate commerce commission, which would be authorized to fix rates so as to yield that return.
Hope for Early Enactment
In agreement on this section leaders hope to complete final enactment of the bill before March 1.
The aggregate value of the properties used in transportation would be determined by the interstate commerce commission, according to the bill, the termination being by traffic districts. These districts would be used as groups for rate making and in territories where the roads earned an equivalent of the guaranteed return, no increase of rates would be necessary. Similarly, the rates would be raised to make up a deficit in districts where the roads failed to earn the 5 1-2 per cent.
Figures Not Yet Available
Figures on the probable aggregate value of the roads are not available yet. The commission has completed the final physical valuation of only three roads and the tentative valuations of only 55, the largest being the Kansas City Southern. The outstanding capitalization and bonded indebtedness of all the roads amount to approximately $19, 000,000,000, on which a 5 1-2 per cent return would be $1,045,000,000.
The guaranteed return to the roads under government control has been about $900,000,000 annually, based on the three year period just prior to the time the government took charge, individual roads receiving varying returns.
Excess Distribution Fixed
Distribution of earnings in excess of the guaranteed return also is provided in the bill. One half of one per cent would be available for unproductive improvements. Fifty per cent of the excess over six per cent would go to the roads, earning much excess, while the remaining half would be put into a contingent fund administered by the commission and used to purchase equipment for rental to the weaker roads, which also could obtain loans from the fund.

NORWAY'S TRADE BOOMS

Shipping Business with United States Receives Great Impetus

CHRISTIANIA, (AP)—Norway's mercantile shipping business with the United States has received a big impetus since the war by reason of the fact that European markets are no longer able to supply the country's needs. New York and other American ports are now taking the place of Hamburg and London as the principal outlets for the overseas trade of the Scandinavian countries. Moreover, a great many American export firms have established branches and agencies in Norway.

EL PASO, Texas, (AP)—Villa rebels recently occupied Gomez, Pecos and Lordsburg, suburbs of Torreon, Coahuila, and held them for six hours, looting stores and homes and releasing fifty-seven prisoners in the jails, according to unofficial reports received here. It was after this raid that the rebels were reported to have captured Joseph E. Askew, the American, who is said to be held by Francisco Villa for $20,000 ransom.

DILEMMA COMES FROM PROPOSAL OF NEGOTIATION

Chinese Acceptance of Japanese Offer Popularly Opposed, but Rejection Would Entail Delay and Danger

PEKING, (AP)—Japan's proposal to open negotiations with China for the return of Shantung province has placed the government in a dilemma, according to Dr. Yen Hsiang-ling, counselor to the foreign office, who has just returned from Paris with Foreign Minister Lu Hsiang-shan. The Chinese proposal is objected to by provincial authorities, student bodies, members of commerce and various guilds, but a refusal, besides endangering the good relations of the two countries, Dr. Yen pointed out, would necessarily mean the indefinite postponement of the province's restoration. The submission of the controversy to the league of nations does not appeal to the counselor, because of the present intangible status of that body.

All members of the directorate were re-elected. The bank is now planning the remodeling of its present quarters. These operations will be started in the early spring, the counting house being extended so as to include a room now occupied as a drug store.

LOT OF REFUGEE IN SHANGHAI IS MADE DIFFICULT

Fear of Bolshevism Entertained by Employers Reacts to Disadvantage of Fugitives from Reds in Siberia

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Fear of Bolshevism entertained by employers in Shanghai is a factor which is making more difficult the hard lot of hundreds of Russian refugees who have been fleeing in increasing numbers out of Siberia into China. The growing colony of these Russian refugees, whose numbers swelled after the Siberian capital at Omsk fell into the hands of the Bolsheviks, has become a problem in the city of Shanghai. One handicap upon their efforts to obtain employment has been the reluctance of employers to give work to persons from Siberia believed to have been exposed to the Bolshevik infection.

Members of the colony here, which numbers several hundreds, have established a school where English is being taught to the newcomers. At first one or two of the colony itself acted as instructors. After a few weeks volunteer teachers came forward and classes are now being held day and night in the shabby and cramped quarters provided at No. 73 Range Road. Another unwillingness on the part of many of the Russian newcomers to recognize the Kolschak administration as the government of Russia has kept many from registering at the Russian consulate, which, it is stated, can extend aid only to regularly registered Russian citizens.

MONUMENT PROPOSED FOR HAND-CART PIONEERS

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—Erection of a monument to the memory of the hand-cart pioneers, people who came to what is now Utah during the early Mormon colonization days, pulling their belongings with them on two-wheeled vehicles, is being advocated here. The monument, if erected, will have a bronze tablet attached with the names of the pioneers upon it. Many of the hand-cart pioneers were women, and early settlers say they handled their carts with great skill and without aid on the long journey over the plains and mountains from the east.

BELIEVE ANCIENT UTAHANS USED WATER FOR IRRIGATION
ODEN, Utah, (AP)—Belief that the thousands of millions of Utah used water for irrigation purposes is held by forestry officials here as the result of the recent unearthing in the Beaver forest in southern Utah of what is said to be a stone pipe line.
Discovery of the pipe line was made in 1917 by two forest rangers who went to France with the American forces and did not report their find until they returned from overseas. Forestry officials then looked into the matter and they say, from observations made, that the pipe line probably was used to carry water for domestic purposes also. The relics will be turned over to the University of Utah archeological department, it is said.

NEW ALASKAN TENT CITY IS ENGINEER'S FORECAST

Inflooding of Thousands of People to Mining Stewart River Center Predicted for Spring

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Hyder, Alaska, center of the Stewart River mining properties, will become a tent city rivalling Nome and other famous "strike" towns...

"The world is going to see another tent city in the spring," Mr. McDonald said. Hyder's future is uncertain, and there is every indication that when the snow goes off thousands of people will flock to the little town..."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Harry Graham Bonner

"BILLIE BROWNIE"

"I've had such an amusing summer," said Billie Brownie, "and now that it is just about winter, I like to talk about it."

"What has happened that has been so very funny?" asked Peter Gnome. "Of course we have had a lot of parties together, and lots of good times and jolly times, but I suppose you mean some especially amusing things happened which I don't know of. Is that it?"

"Yes," said Billie Brownie, "for you know of all the good times we've had together and so I didn't mention those times when I spoke of the amusing summer. They really help make it a very perfect summer, of course, but at the moment I spoke I was thinking of other things."

"Well, what were you thinking of?" asked Peter Gnome. "I was thinking," said Billie Brownie, "of how I started making lists."

"Lists," said Peter Gnome, in surprise. "What in the world did you start making lists for?"

"Well," said Billie Brownie, "I found how many people said the same things and I started keeping count of how many times I heard the same speech made. 'I got so I couldn't manage my lists after a time—they became so long. Every one has worked and sacrificed and given for a common cause. Never in the history of our country has there been so much loyal devotion expressed by its citizenship...'"

"I kept a list of the number of people who abused others for working hard but who wouldn't lift a hand to help out for anything. I was surprised how that list grew. 'Then I kept a list of those who pretended they were poor, so they wouldn't have to do anything for others and those who pretended they were rich and who went and got things they couldn't afford...'"

"I kept a list of the number of people who repeated the same things they had all read in the newspapers as if each of them had made a great discovery all by themselves. And I kept lists of those who said the weather was too hot and of those who said the weather was too cold. These lists were impossible to keep after a while. 'And there were those who used to say, 'It must be hot in the city today. And those who lived in the city who said, 'It must be cool in the ocean today...'"

"There were many who said, 'Is it hot enough for you?' every time it became very warm. Oh, there were hundreds and hundreds on that list of mine. Yes, my lists were so long I couldn't manage them and it would have been such fun to see just how many people did so and say just the same little things. 'I met some people whose name was Bacon and every one said it was a nice name to have when everything was so expensive, including bacon. They were always having fun made of their name and every one who met them would say, 'How do you do, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon, and they thought no one else had said such a thing, but that they had been the bright ones to be able to make jokes like that...'"

"Yes," Billie Brownie continued, "I did have an amusing summer, and it was fun to see how many people thought themselves so bright and so original who were really saying just the same things as every one else."

Enough to Go Ahead. The success of others should stimulate us to win success. Let us not envy them their triumphs nor grudge them the honors nor happiness they have earned. There is success enough to go around. Only small souls need envy as a spur. The great-hearted, while bending all their energies toward achievement, can rejoice in the triumphs of others who are struggling to reach the same goal—Ourselves' Companion.

Dodge Brothers Will Continue Same Policies

Letter Read at Meeting Refers to Continuation of Ideals as Tribute to Late President

Definite assurance that there would be no change in the policies of Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers, as a result of the recent death of John F. Dodge, president, was given to dealers at a meeting in the Blackstone Hotel, in Chicago, during the automobile show there January 23. The assurance came in the form of a letter addressed to the dealers by Horace E. Dodge, now at the head of the business, and read at the meeting by George C. Hubbs, assistant general sales manager. The letter follows: 'I regret exceedingly that I cannot be with you this afternoon to personally express my own and my brother's appreciation of your work during the last year, but on account of my recent illness, I am obliged to forego that pleasure...'"

"The passing of my dear brother, Mr. John F. Dodge, is to me, personally, a loss so great that I hesitate to look forward to the years without his personal help and my brother's appreciation of your work during the last year, but on account of my recent illness, I am obliged to forego that pleasure...'"

"I have the same pride in the accomplishments of Dodge Brothers that inspired him, and I feel that we can pay no greater tribute to his memory than to carry forward the plans and aspirations which he and myself had for the future of the business. 'This business will be conducted in the future exactly as it has been in the past—the same principles of honor, honesty and integrity that dominated his life will continue to dominate the business of Dodge Brothers. There will be no change, and you can safely make your plans for the future in reliance upon the same whole-hearted support of Dodge Brothers that has been given to you in the past...'"

LADIES, DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on this simple mixture was applied with her hands, faded or streaked appearance, wonderful effect.

But browning at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wynton's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, ready, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a

RUTH IS STILL AFTER BUNDLE OF SALE PRICE

Brief Bits of Sport

We scotter, way down in our heart, had a "feelin'" for Georges Carpentier until he announced his decision to enter the movies.

But then, as long as he hasn't gone and done it there's a measure of hope left.

Come now Ceoisis Mack, that most conservative of baseball magnates, with an intimation that the American league banquo may split on the rock of dissension and not enter the field this season.

That's what a few willful persons can do when they will.

Sim Smiley, sagebrush sage, says: "Beware of the man who tells you you know your own business best; he's just venerating a notion that he could straighten it out a lot for you."

Of course any old ball player, if he's any sort of a player, will hold out during the off season; but they all, mostly anyway, come to their senses when the call to training camp comes in the spring.

"Babe" Ruth would probably be satisfied with two-thirds of that $125,000 purchase money.

A baseball league for Utah and Idaho is planned and getting a lot of boost from Ogden. The league is expected to have three towns in Utah and a similar number in Idaho.

We can chuck a stone and hit one Idaho town that won't be in it.

Hughie Jennings expects to have a sound of 31 Tigers on the southern tugging junket. Up to the present he has reported six signed.

Jimmy Wilde says he prefers to fight men who have a reputation at stake.

CAPTAIN OF CHAMPS PEDDLES SHIRTS

Helme Groh is captain. World series money, as trophy of the champion Red Sox failed to divert Groh from his regular winter job, once the season was over. So any day now Helme Groh can be found behind the shirt counter of a Cincinnati men's furnishing store. And Helme's boss says the Red captain is a fine salesman.
