HOLLAND WOULD RESENT ALLIED DICTATION MOVE

Accession to Polite Request to Put Former Emperor Wilhelm Farther from German Border is Indicated

HOPE FOR CONCILIATION IS PINNED ON NEW NOTE

Berlin Dispatch Says Frederick Wilhelm's Act Brought Representations to Dutch from Father

LONDON, (AP)—The allied supreme council today forwarded to Holland the note regarding the case of former Emperor Wilhelm, whose surrender to the Dutch government was recently refused by the Dutch government. The note was signed by President George as president of the council.

THE HAGUE, (AP)—Holland probably would be unwilling to accede to a polite request from the allies to put former Emperor Wilhelm farther from the German frontier than he is at present, it has been learned here, but would undoubtedly resent any dictation as to sending him to a Dutch island or any particular place.

REMOVAL OF WILHELM TO EAST INDIES SUGGESTED

PARIS, (AP)—The notes to Germany and Holland approved yesterday at the meeting of the supreme allied council in London, constitute an important step toward conciliation, the Matin believes. It says the note sent to Holland recognizes the possibility of Holland's refusal to accept the removal of Wilhelm to a Dutch island, and the Matin demands extradition only of German officers with the commission of direct crimes, and admits the difficulties Germany would encounter in attempting to surrender those whose responsibility is more doubtful.

LANSING QUILTS CABINET WHEN PRESIDENT REBUKES DISPLAY OF INITIATIVE

Wilson Resents Action of Secretary of State in Calling Meetings of Official Family During His Illness and Avails Self of Offer of Resignation Tender; Polk Fills Position in Interim with Early Appointment in Prospect

REAL REASONS FOR BREAK GO BACK OVER LONG PERIOD, CAPITAL VIEW

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rebuked by President Wilson for calling cabinet meetings during his illness, Secretary Lansing has resigned. The president has accepted the resignation "with appreciation" and Mr. Lansing becomes the second secretary of state to leave the administration over a disagreement with his chief.

There will be no more resignations from the cabinet as a result of the Lansing incident, it was said yesterday. "White House" today. There was no information available at the White House as to a probable successor to Mr. Lansing, but the appointment is expected to be made in a few days. Mr. Lansing's resignation was announced today that he was making rapid strides toward regaining his health.

Break Long Incubating

Although the correspondence between Mr. Lansing and the president makes the calling of the cabinet meetings the incident which led directly to the secretary's resignation, it is believed that the incident was the result of a long incubating process. The relations between the men remained very much strained, and then Mr. Lansing's action in calling the cabinet together brought them to a breaking point.

Lane Deems Self on Level with Lansing

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Lane declared today that he considered himself "just as much responsible" as Secretary Lansing for the calling of cabinet meetings during the president's illness. He said Mr. Lansing called him on the telephone and obtained his approval of the idea before calling the first meeting, and "presumably secured the approval of other cabinet members also."

FINLAND PUTS BAN ON AMERICAN PHOTO PLAYS

HELSINGFOR, Finland, (AP)—The financial council, because of the exchange rate situation, has prohibited the importation of American moving picture films. The educational council, however, has declared itself out of sympathy with the importers, expressing the view that moving picture films are a mental recreation for the war-stricken people. It is believed here that the financial council's drastic measure will be moderated to some extent.

Completion of the machinery for handling the strike was announced several days ago with the setting up of a committee to handle the strike.

BRITISH DEBATE SOARING COSTS

To Add to Miseries of World, United States Goes Dry, Says Chamberlain

LONDON, (AP)—Debate on the address in reply to the king's speech from the throne was resumed yesterday when Sir Arthur H. Steel-Maitland, unionist, moved an amendment to the address, revealing that the government's expenditure had been allowed to continue at a high rate.

Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, declared high prices were the result of world causes. Among other things, he said, the world's sugar production was short and because America was "dry" she was using much more sugar.

"To add to the miseries of the world, the United States goes dry," Mr. Chamberlain declared.

A labor member interrupted with "for the benefit of the world," which Lady Nancy Astor added "and humanity as a whole."

Calla Effect Unfortunate

Mr. Chamberlain would not say that the United States should have gone dry, but the effect was abundantly clear, and he thought that moderate drinkers like himself, who seldom touched sugar but got their sugar out of the alcohol they drank, were good citizens.

Mr. Chamberlain said that the first thing necessary to a return to better conditions was increased production throughout the world. He declared that manufacturers must use improved methods to increase production. Then the government must halt fresh borrowing on the revenue account. He asserted that the national debt had reached its highest point.

Must Fund Floating Debt

Great Britain, the chancellor said, must fund its floating debt, and then British credit would improve rapidly.

In conclusion, Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that Anglo-American exchange was really European American exchange and that Great Britain's task would be lightened or rendered more difficult according to the wisdom or otherwise with which all Europe conducted their affairs.

FORMER ARMY OFFICERS IN LONDON SEEKING JOBS

LONDON, (AP)—Discharged army officers are still having difficulty in many cases in finding employment. At Croxden the other day a brigadier general was among the applicants for the post of secretary to the Croxden Pensions committee. The position pays only 350 pounds. The place was given to a lieutenant colonel who had served in the army 30 years.

LABOR MAKES POLITICAL ADVANCES IN SCOTLAND

EDINBURGH, (AP)—The progress of labor in Scotland is illustrated by the fact that local governing bodies now include 700 labor and socialist members. In the latest Scottish elections labor gained 43 seats on the county councils, 154 on the town councils and 300 on the parish councils.

Well-Preserved Water Pipes

Wooden water pipes that were used from the time of the Revolution until the late 1870s to carry water into Boston have lately been unearthed and are found to be in a good state of preservation. A coil of the late 1800s in an almost perfect condition was found near one of the pipes, establishing it would seem, the date at which the pipe was laid.

STANSELL IS HOME FROM EASTERN TRIP

Local Thresher Man Spent Two Interesting Weeks at La Porte, Indiana

I. W. Stansell has returned from the Advance-Rumely Thresher company's dealer school at La Porte and states he spent a most pleasant and profitable two weeks as the guest of the OilPull company.

"On arriving at La Porte," Mr. Stansell says, "I was registered and were assigned to rooms with private families in town, giving a little touch of home life with only a stranger in a strange land, and I know how to appreciate it."

"The school was operated much like a large university, with regular lectures and laboratory classes running from 8 in the morning until 5 at night. Lectures were given by some of the best engineers in the automotive industry. After the lectures we would put on our overalls and go into the laboratory and work on the machines. There was an enthusiastic group of men working on motors, transmissions, running tractors, etc. We had, altogether, some 250 delegates from all over the United States and Canada.

"One man, Mr. Rosenski, came all the way from Stockholm, Sweden, to attend the school. He represents a complete line in Scandinavia, Russia and Poland.

"We made a trip through the entire plant, spending a half day in the OilPull and the same amount of time in the Renault factory. Believe me, it is a whole of a plant. The factory alone covers 85 acres and employs over 2000 men. Everything is well organized and things sure do run through in a systematic, thorough way.

"The spirit within the Advance-Rumely organization is another thing that impressed us as being a strong and loyal organization, prevalent throughout the whole works which makes the organization seem like one big family.

"There was plenty of entertainment, the climax of which was the banquet given at the Masonic hall by the Rumely company as a sort of a farewell party. Some 'feed,' I claim. During the meal we were entertained by a Hawaiian orchestra which handles the dancer and an Hawaiian orchestra.

Mr. Stansell is more enthusiastic than ever about the company and its product and states that he is now in a position to give a personal service to his customers that can't be beat.

VALUABLE GOLD FIELDS DISCOVERED IN URALS

BERLIN, (AP)—Two valuable gold fields have been discovered since the Russian soviet government recovered the Urals, according to a Moscow newspaper.

One field is said to lie 30 miles north of the most northerly mine of the Ekaterinburg mining center. Soviet engineers reported that if machinery were available these fields would increase Russia's gold output by 60 per cent within two years. Herr Reiche, a German engineer in the service of the soviet, is said to have conducted this report after a personal inspection of the fields.

NAVY RECOGNIZES AID OF AMATEUR OPERATORS

Recent Plans Contemplate Co-operation Through Sending Out of Drill Messages

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Recognition by the United States navy of the efforts of amateur wireless operators in augmenting and providing efficient radio forces for the army, navy, and marine corps for war service is contemplated in plans announced here by the navy communication service for cooperation with amateur radio operators.

Lieutenant G. O. Twiss, of the naval communication service, twelfth naval district here, is completing details for use of the navy radio apparatus in working from time to time in drills with amateur radio sets. For this purpose the district will be divided into zones, with Eureka, San Francisco, San Pedro and San Diego stations each sending out drill messages for a seventy-five mile area.

At designated times, to be announced by the navy, drill messages will be sent out from these stations on spark transmitters, and all amateur radio operators will be asked to copy and forward the message as received to the communication service of the twelfth naval district.

Advice and aid to amateurs will be rendered, to encourage their development in the use of their apparatus. In announcing the plans, Lieutenant Twiss stated that the efficiency in maintaining radio communication by the United States during the war may be credited in a large measure to the availability of amateur radio students.

MONUMENT DEDICATED TO FRIEND OF MISSIONARY

Hawaiians Honor Memory of Native Who Was Responsible for Bringing Gospel Workers

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A monument was unveiled at Napoosipi, near here, January 25, to Opuakalia, the young Hawaiian who was responsible for the coming of the first missionaries to the islands in 1820.

The site of the stone memorial is close to the spot where Captain James Cook discovered the Hawaiian group, and was crowned on a hill by the natives.

Opuakalia lived near the heiau, or native temple, with his uncle, a member of the old-time Hawaiian priesthood, according to Rev. Henry P. Judd of the Hawaiian board of missions. In 1809 the young Hawaiian went to New England aboard a trading ship. There he came in contact with a number of churchmen who were so impressed with his bearing that it was decided to send missionaries to Hawaii.

Frost at Varying Heights

The reason frost occurs on high lands when there is none on low ground is because the higher ground cools off more rapidly than the lower, and the upper stratum of air being thus condensed, flows downward and deposits the moisture, which changes into frost. Cold air is heavier than warm and settles to the bottom.

SERVICE

WHEN you buy a tractor you want first, the most efficient, dependable and economical tractor on the market. Second, you want to be sure of a personal service from your dealer that means something. For what good is the very best tractor to you if you don't thoroughly know how it works and how to keep it working?

I went to the Advance-Rumely Dealers School at LaPorte, Indiana, where the famous OilPull Tractor is built for the express purpose of putting myself in a position to give you such service. I was privileged to attend this two weeks course in company with some 250 other dealers selected by the Advance-Rumely Thresher Company.

During the two weeks we worked, and worked hard. We learned the tractor thoroughly, not from books—but by stripping it down and assembling it again. We worked on the motor, transmission—the cooling, ignition and lubrication systems—in fact every part of the machine.

Think what this means to the buyer of an OilPull tractor. It means that I am equipped to give a Tractor Service to my customers that is unequalled in these parts. And it means that such service is right next door to you, so to speak. That's worth a whole lot to you, isn't it?

And they put the "cards on the table" there at LaPorte. We were allowed, and urged, to look into every branch of the factory—no department was closed to us—nothing was kept from us. We saw the whole inside workings. The bigness of it impressed me—the machine shop alone is 800 feet long—but more than that was the systematic way things are organized and the thoroughness with which the goods are manufactured, inspected and tested. One of the machines, a cylinder grinder, is the only machine of its kind in the country. The OilPull cylinders and pistons, you know, are ground to within 2/1000 of an inch.

I was pretty well satisfied before I went down to LaPorte that the materials and workmanship that went into the OilPull were the best that went into any tractor—now I am SURE of it.

In the Rumely OilPull Tractor I am not only getting absolutely the most efficient, dependable and economical tractor on the market—and guaranteed, remember—but I am backing it with a personal service that means something.

NEWSPAPERS BIG HELP TO CHURCH

Campaign Gets Big Push Through Publicity Carried by Prints of Country

The church in the twentieth century is using modern business methods. Notable among its achievements in this new day is the recently elected administrative council of the Episcopal church, consisting of the presiding bishop, the Right Reverend Daniel S. Tuttle, D. D., at one time missionary bishop in Idaho, Bishop Gallor, of Tennessee, who is the president of the executive council, nine bishops elected from different parts of the country and six laymen chosen from New York, Virginia, Ohio, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and California. This executive council, with headquarters in New York, has control of the affairs of the Episcopal church between general conventions, which meet only once in three years. It is an expression of unity and efficiency and consecrated common sense.

Another evidence of efficiency in the church is the appreciation of the newspaper. It is interesting to note that in the diocese of Pennsylvania, by appointment of the bishop, James M. Becket, formerly one of the editors of the Philadelphia Ledger, and for twenty-seven years in daily newspaper work, has taken a position as director of publicity for the Episcopal church in Pennsylvania. He will be the managing editor of the official church paper of the diocese, and in addition will take the responsibility for supplying news of the church to daily and weekly papers. The same plan for giving publicity to the affairs of the church is being considered in many other parts of the country, and it is confidently expected that within the next few years the American newspaper and the American church will be very closely related.

A short time ago there appeared in the columns of this paper a story of the nation-wide campaign which is sweeping through the Episcopal church of this country. That it is not through and through with the idea of efficiency is evidenced by the fact that a very large territory in the east has recently been traveled by a group of enthusiastic church workers with a view to bringing more young men and young women in the church to the sense of vocation between November 10 and November 29, thirty-six different conferences of diocesan were held in eastern states with a total attendance of young women and young men amounting to 5400. Of this number, 1400 signed cards signifying their choice of a life work and their belief that every boy and girl in America should be willing to live and die for the church as for the country. Too many of the youth in America are just drifting without any sense of vocation, while from every side the call is coming to minister to the common life. Theodore Roosevelt, early in his life, experienced this sense of vocation and was able to arouse in hundreds of thousands of young people in this country the same desire for service. During the last fifty years there has never been any one in America who has stood out so strongly for this idea. And it is most encouraging to find the church life of America emphasizing this characteristic which Mr. Roosevelt knew so well.

The Episcopal church in Idaho will doubtless reflect in its present-day activities many of these ideals that are now so prominent in the national church life.

Our ancestors would have marveled if they could have looked upon anything so wonderful as a newspaper in a modern store. Study our stores. They are worth it.

LAVERING

The voice of Josephine Martino, who is to appear here soon on the Lyceum course, has attracted attention from no less a personage than President Willson, who heard this gifted young artist sing last year and complimented her personally.

Miss Martino has taken a great interest in the work of Miss Martino. In January, 1919, Miss Martino sang before Caruso, Gatti-Casazza, and Alce Lambert, probably the three best-known figures in New York musical circles. All predicted a great career for Miss Martino. Caruso has coached her in a number of the operatic numbers and has given her the "gold ring" award. Last season she was tendered a place with the Metropolitan operatic force.

During the fall of 1919 Miss Martino has been singing for the Edison company and next season will be one of their regularly advertised "recreation artists." The managers are most enthusiastic over her work.

LAVERING

In the course of each theatrical season there are perhaps half a dozen plays produced which stand out in bold relief from all others. The success they score is so marked that it is instantly and universally recognized, and these are the plays which in years to follow go into the hands of a wide circle of students and eventually millions of the theatre-goers.

One of these rare plays will be seen here on Saturday evening, the play being "The Woman of Bronze" by Henry Kleinsmeyer and Eugene Boland. In this production the authors have won the theatre one of the brightest plays ever written by these excellent playwrights. The story is strictly modern, and despite the fact that it deals with what finally proves to be a trifling incident in the lives of several thoroughly nice people, it is seasonally dramatic throughout. No less than the best ever to come from the pens of the authors. Critics described it as scintillating, brilliant, and quite the best ever to come from the pens of the authors. In the hands of a capable cast Miss Anglin has assembled, the play is certain to prove one of the dramatic treats of the year.

Cost of Columbus Voyage of Discovery Estimated at $7,000

United States General Land Office Makes Interesting Calculations

CHEYENNE, Wyo., (AP)—It cost $7000 to discover America, the United States general land office, estimated following research work done in some of the ancient museums of Genoa, Italy, birthplace of Christopher Columbus, the port from which the memorable expedition set sail.

Employees of the surveyor general's office here have received from Washington a booklet published by the department which sheds some interesting light on the matter of financing the voyage of discovery, and which indicates that $7000 was the total amount Queen Isabella was compelled to secure by hypothecating her jewelry. The value of the Columbus fleet in placed at something like $3000, the tiny crews being being appraised at $1000 each by one of the marine experts of that day.

Columbus received a compensation of $300 a year while on the voyage, according to the musty records on file at Genoa, while two of his captains received $200 per annum. The pay of the ordinary seaman of that day was apparently nothing lavish, as the records indicate that the sailors of the expedition were paid at the rate of $2.50 a month. The remainder of the $7000 was expended for such items as ship supplies, food, and other incidentals.

The total sum spent in getting the expedition together would hardly buy a 30-hp. gasoline motor today, seafaring folks say.

MEXICAN OIL PRODUCTION WOULD MEET U.S. NEEDS

Potential Output is 2,000,000 Barrels Daily According to Newspaper Estimate

LAREDO, Texas, (AP)—Mexico's supply of petroleum, "if worked thoroughly," would be greater than the entire production of the United States, according to the Mexican department of industry and commerce, as quoted by the Mexican newspaper Excelsior.

"The potential production of Mexico is practically 2,000,000 barrels daily," the newspaper continues, "and the exportation of petroleum last year was 60 per cent greater than the previous year. The value of that exported last year was $45,887,421, on which a tax of $4,730,000 was collected, the paper adds.

From January to November, 1919, twenty-seven new wells were "brought in" from forty-three drillings on Mexico's oil fields, the newspaper says, and these wells have a potential production of 400,000 barrels daily. The Excelsior also reported new mining activity in the state of Chihuahua, "due to the absence of the bandit, Villa, from that state." Many new locations are announced, and the old locations are being marked, with prospects for great year of prosperity, chiefly on account of the high cost of silver."

As a car is 98% metal you can readily imagine how great a part metals play in its quality. A Maxwell is made of fine metals—extra fine metals; otherwise it never could have survived those 1,500,000,000 miles that owners are estimated to have driven it.

These metals had to be of the finer grades in a Maxwell. For a Maxwell is light—2130 pounds. Lighter metals had to be used but lighter in weight only—not in strength.

Such metals are the extra fine metals that the great science of metallurgy has produced. They are high priced. But they have won countless friendships for Maxwell, developed a great family of owners approaching 400,000 in number.

LANSING QUITS CABINET

credited last November when the cabinet conference at the call of Secretary Lansing.

Lansing's resignation was announced by the secretary of state, it should be said, he was supported by precedent in calling the cabinet together, making up the cabinet records, he found it had been done when President Garfield lay ill; for weeks after having been shot by an assassin and that it had been done when President Taylor had long illness and ultimately was succeeded by Vice-President Filmore.

The Wilson cabinet assembled the first day with a feeling of apprehension, for some of the members knew the extent of the president's illness, but expected to be informed of it. Secretary Lansing had informed the cabinet that Mr. Lansing and called the cabinet together, and the president, somewhat disturbed, gave his personal physician a message to deliver to the secretaries.

Secretary Lansing is reported to have said by those who were present, that he wished to know the nature and extent of the president's illness, and whether he is able to perform the duties of his office, so that he may determine what should be done to carry on the business of the government.

The president's physician is quoted by some of the other secretaries as having replied in substance: "The president is doing as well as could be expected in full possession of all his faculties, and he has directed me to inquire of you by what authority this meeting of the cabinet was called, what business is before it, and what business it is expected might be transacted at a cabinet meeting without his participation."

Meeting Broken Up According to the story told at the time, Secretary Lansing had an opportunity to reply because some of the other members stepped into the breach and asked Dr. Grayson to say to the president that the only purpose of the meeting was to inquire into his health and send him a message of loyalty and encouragement. At that point the meeting broke up without having transacted any business, but it did not end the so-called cabinet conference.

Except Secret from Wilson It has not been made plain whether President Wilson knew since then that the cabinet members had been assembling and talking over interdepartmental affairs, but the meetings have been held in the cabinet room in the executive offices and if the president did not know what was being done, the circumstances, him did not think it wise to tell him.

The best opinion of those "on the inside" is that the president did not know until last week of the regularity at which the cabinet was meeting at the call of the secretary of state, because at about the time at which the president's first letter to Mr. Lansing is dated, the White House officials had ended the cabinet conferences and there was an inference that he might preside at the next one himself. There was, however, no hint of this before the meeting, marked a separation between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing.

Differ on Foreign Policy Now that the breach has come and Mr. Lansing has left the cabinet, much may be revealed of the extent to which the secretary of state and the president differed in matters of policy. Quite aside from the difference in the peace conference, there were other differences in foreign policy, and some of Mr. Lansing's friends say he would have left his office some time ago but for the fact that he wished to spare the president an upheaval in his official family at a time when Europe was watching the fight over the treaty in America and especially when the president was ill and unable to look after the affairs of the state department himself.

President's Conception of Powers Mr. Lansing became head of the state department when William J. Bryan and the president had their differences over the Louisiana notes. Mr. Lansing was counselor, an office in which he had succeeded John Bassett Moore. It has been common knowledge that while Mr. Lansing's name was signed to the succeeding notes to Germany and the notes which preceded the armistice, Mr. Wilson wrote them himself. In fact, he practically acted as secretary of state in all important business. It was the president's conception of his relation to the foreign policy of the nation.

Mexican Policy an Issue How much Mr. Lansing and the president differed on the Mexican policy never has been fully revealed, but officials who sympathize with Mr. Lansing's views say that they differed a great deal. It has generally been believed in official circles here that the sharp notes which Mr. Lansing sent to Carranza in connection with the Jenkins case were what the president referred to in his letter to the secretary when he spoke of the secretary of state having taken action without his judgment. It is known, however, that Henry Prather Fletcher, former ambassador to Mexico, who recently resigned, wrote letters to the president in which he excoriated the administration's Mexican policy, and the general belief in the state department is that Mr. Lansing and Mr. Fletcher agreed pretty generally. Mr. Fletcher's letter of resignation never has been given out at the White House. But aside from his difficulties with the president, it has been common knowledge in Washington that Mr. Lansing has not been on good terms with Secretary Tamm and from time to time there have been apparently well-grounded reports of friction with Secretaries Baker and Daniels.

Stands High with Senators In the senate foreign relations committee, where Mr. Lansing was frequently touched with senators, he is regarded as a trained diplomat. Senators remarked when Bullitt gave his sensational testimony that they regarded it very much on Lansing's account. Secretary Lansing gave out the correspondence between himself and the president last night and stipulated that it was for publication in morning papers today. Some news agencies, however, other than the Associated Press, violated their pledges to the state department and published the letters in afternoon parts of the country yesterday afternoon.

Today's Markets

New York Exchange NEW YORK, (AP)—The brick rally which accompanied yesterday's later dealings in the stock market was continued for longer lengths during today's short but active session. Leading issues continued to rise to levels where many recent severe losses were materially reduced. Shorts made involuntary contributions to the movement, which derived further assistance from improvement in foreign exchange.

Steels, oils, motors and shippings furnished the chief momentum at gains of 2 to 5 points. Rails also hardened with metals and numerous specialties. The closing was strong. Sales approximated $66,000 shares. The bond market was distinctly firmer.

Liberty Bonds NEW YORK, (AP)—Final prices of Liberty bonds today were: 3 1/2's $95.52; first 4's $90.40; second 4's $90.10; first 4-1/4's $91.20; second 4-1/4's $90.20; third 4-1/4's $93; fourth 4-1/4's $90.70; Victory 3 3/4's $97.70; Victory 4 3/4's $97.60.

Grain and Provisions OHIOAGO, (AP)—Fresh strength manifested itself in the corn market today with traders giving continued attention to the furtherance of receipts. General belief that railroad labor troubles would be settled without a strike tended also to lift values. Besides, Argentina shipments for the week were of much less volume than expected. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.32 1/2 to 1.32 7/8 and July 1.129 1/4 to 1.29 1/2 were followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Later a reaction took place, influenced by slowness of shipping demand here and by gossip about increased importation of foodstuffs into this country from Denmark. The close was unsettled 1-4 to 7-8c net higher, with May $1.23 to 1.23 5/8 and July $1.30 to 1.30 3/4.

Later the market showed a rally, helped by estimates that next week's arrivals of hops here would be much less numerous than a year ago. Oats advanced with corn. After opening 1-3 to 1-2c higher, including May at 79 3/4 to 80c, the market scored an additional gain.

Provisions were dull and easier. A subject of export business was a source of comment.

PRINCESS WAS FRIEND OF BUFFALO BILL CODY

BOME, (AP)—Princess Doris, who recently died in Bome, was an Englishwoman, Lady Emily Felham-Gilston, and for many years was known to most prominent visitors to Italy. When Colonel William F. Cody came to Bome with his Wild West show Princess Doris met him and made a wager that she could produce a better (cattle herder) from her estate in the Roman campaign who could ride any of his wild ponies and that she could also produce a wild horse which his cowpunchers could not ride. The bronco busters, according to the story told here, failed to master the Italian horse and Princess Doris's cattle herder rode the American bronco, to the intense satisfaction of the great crowd which saw the performance.

THE ESSENTIAL POINT

"To add to the miseries of the world, the United States goes 'dry'."

This is an interesting statement attributed to Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer of Great Britain, during a discussion yesterday in the British house of commons over the high prices and kindred economic ills.

The fact that a labor member promptly interrupted with the observation that America's stand on the liquor question was "for the benefit of the world," in which Lady Nancy Astor added "and humanity as a whole," does not affect the chancellor's declaration except in an argument over the desirability of prohibition as such.

The point Chamberlain was making was that high prices are the result of world causes. He argued that sugar production was short and because America was "dry" she was using much more sugar, valuing thereof an opinion that is not uncommon on this side of the Atlantic.

His statement heretofore quoted seems to have been simply an incidental expression of his own notion as to the desirability of prohibition per se, and he got back to the point of his argument when he continued with the declaration that the first thing necessary to a return of better conditions was increased production throughout the world.

That is exactly the thought that prevails among all intelligent students of the existing economic situation. It is not diminished consumption of sugar that anybody ought to be urging upon Americans, and farthest from any rational advice would be proposal for the return to the "wet" regime to increase sugar supplies. But there is a crying demand for increased production, not only of sugar to which the Twin Falls country is most admirably situated to respond, but of every commodity for which there is a lack.

World Has Many Lepers.
Neither geography, climate, diet, heredity nor any other known influence sufficiently explains the cause, the distribution or the behavior of leprosy. There is no discovered certain cure for it, and the cases of complete recovery, if there have been such, are rare. To most Americans it is happily only a name made familiar by Biblical mention or by reports of misadventures to far-off lands; and the estimate that there are 2,000,000 of these hopeless sufferers in the world comes to many people as a surprise.—Rochester Post-Express.

WRIGHT'S STORE HAS BUYERS IN NEW YORK

Six Stocks in Various Lines of Sport Now in Metropolis Getting Goods

Twin Falls enjoys today the distinction of having one store with six specialists in New York and other eastern markets, planning for its merchandise. By midsummer the W. H. Wright & Sons Company will be operating stores in Ogden, Utah, Twin Falls, Idaho, and Portland, Idaho. The lines and the other Idaho towns will be practically the same as those carried here in the Twin Falls store, and it for the selection of this merchandise that six buyers are now in the markets. The Twin Falls store has the full benefit of the activities of this corps of buyers, although they were all operating for the local store independently.

Parley T. Wright, general manager of the company, is with the departmental buyers, supervising their activities and keeping his fingers on the pulse of the trade. Mr. Wright has had more than twenty years of experience as buyer in the markets. P. A. Paris, who was in the Twin Falls store at the time of its opening, is buying the silks and dress goods; a Miss Conroy specializes on women's ready-to-wear; Etta Merrill is an expert on history, underwear and small wares; Edna Simms is a specialist on women's lingerie, corsets and kindred lines; Richard Fowler has charge of the household lines and house furnishings and toys.

Merchandise bought by these people for Twin Falls will come here directly from the factories. The large reserve stocks will be stocked in Ogden so that the brands of goods may keep their colors here complete in size, kind, colors, etc. The benefits of this concerted buying are better prices, larger shipments, freshness of styles, etc.

The Wright company is not a "chain store" company as that term is generally understood. Their operations will be confined to within a stated radius of miles from the Twin Falls store and are to be limited in number. It is the plan of the company to make permanent investments in the towns in which they operate, to cooperate with the merchants and business people generally and to become factors in helping to uplift the several communities in which they operate.—Adv.

ROAD CONCLAVE DURING MARCH

Western States Good Roads Delegates Will Call on Nation's Bolons

On March 10 a conference is to be held in Washington, D. C., of delegates from various western states to present to congress in a most vigorous way arguments favoring a continuance of the federal road program.

This conference has been called in view of the present attitude of congress with regard to federal aid for road building in western states, a reduction in appropriation for this cause having recently been ordered.

Representative Addison T. Smith has informed officers of the Twin Falls chamber of commerce of the call of the meeting of delegates, adding, in his telegram, that the most urgent co-operative effort is necessary if any sort of assistance is to be expected from the federal department in the construction of roads in Idaho this year.

Representative Smith's telegram comes in response to a request from the chamber of commerce to employ every means at his command to get an adequate appropriation for Idaho roads. "Unfortunately," says Representative Smith in his message, "we are confronted with a deficit of three billion dollars and the leaders of both branches of congress are determined, if possible, to prevent another bond issue or increase taxes, by curtailing appropriations wherever possible."

Woosh; Lookut! Ain't You Glad to Reside Here?

NORTH DAKOTA and Western Minnesota are in the grip of a cold wave, says the Associated Press. Street thermometers here last night showed a drop to 20 below zero; in the face of strong northwest winds. Heavy snow was reported from some sections of the state; huge drifts piling up before the wind. A Soo lake passenger train was reported in the snow north of Bismarck.

Judging from the freezing N. Dak. and Minn. are good states for Equiniaux and other folks of frigid regions. Also they are good states to emigrate from for Idaho.

Lookit! Seventeen to 20 below back there; twenty above for the coldest here last night, and 43 above yesterday, with a fair to why go to Florida, California or Hawaii!

Delegates to the national convention in Chicago will be chosen at the Coeur d'Alene convention, while at the Pocatello convention nominations for state officers will be made.
