

FAULTS FOUND BY HUNGARIANS IN PEACE TERMS

Attitude is Reported Uncompromising Rejection of Proposed Detachment of Transylvania and Economic Terms

PARIS, (AP)—The final documents annexed to the Hungarian reply to the allied peace terms were presented to the secretary of the peace conference Saturday last.

The French press has intimated that the London conference would take up the Hungarian reply, but it is learned that no official notice to that effect has been given to the Hungarian delegation headed by Count Apponyi.

Books Self Determination

The Hungarian attitude has been reported as an uncompromising rejection of the proposed detachment of Transylvania and other territories and the economic terms of the treaty. It has been known, however, that the reply is based rather on the principle of self determination.

It questions the exactitude of the representations made to the peace conference by neighboring countries regarding their ethnological, historic and territorial claims. It says that Hungary is willing that the populations of all the contested territory be decided by an impartial plebiscite not dominated by troops of occupation whether they wished to remain Hungarian.

Claim Injustice Done

It is contended by the Hungarians in their answer that the boundaries proposed by the treaty are strategically and economically favorable to the adjoining countries and the unjust. Hungary it is pointed out that in addition to Transylvania the boundaries proposed leave outside of Hungary a strip of territory from 35 to 40 miles wide and entirely surrounded by Hungary, in which the Hungarian population is in the overwhelming majority.

It also is alleged that the treaty cuts off a large population in the Carpathians which in the past has depended for its existence upon the work given the people during the summer on the Hungarian plains. These plains are to remain Hungarian.

Break Up Public Works

The proposed boundaries, it is pointed out, likewise break up public works erected at great expense, to fight the floods along the Danube, some dikes and pumping stations being allotted to one country, while connecting ones operated in conjunction with them are left to another country. Another point made is that the treaty lices out the railroads winding through the territories until it will be impossible to operate them successfully.

The point on which the Hungarians appear to be most sensitive is the detachment of territory in western Hungary for annexation to Austria. They ask that plebiscites be held there also.

Asks Investigation

Promise is made in the reply that even should the plebiscites proposed in Transylvania reject the alternative of annexation to Rumania, the United States will give Transylvania political autonomy with economic union with Hungary would be given to Transylvania. The reply says that while 40 per cent of the population of Transylvania is Rumanian, the territory has belonged to Hungary for a thousand years and the Rumanians who moved in were exiles who came when they fled before the Turks. It is added that Rumanians had never demanded annexation to Rumania but that they were divided, one party favoring autonomy and another remaining loyal to Hungary. The reply asks for the appointment of a commission to investigate atrocities alleged to have been committed in Transylvania by the Rumanian troops of occupation.

WATER FROM JORDAN IS USED AT CHRISTENING

LONDON, (AP)—King George and Queen Mary attended the christening of the son of Commander Ramsay and Lady Ramsay, formerly Princess Patricia, of Connaught, at the Chapel Royal yesterday afternoon.

The water used in christening the infant was drawn from the Jordan by the Duke of Connaught when the British crossed the river in the advance of 1917.

Indicts Indian Bureau

Representative Homer P. Snyder

This Republican statesman from New York is chairman of the house committee on Indian affairs. In reporting the Indian appropriation bill the committee made sweeping reductions of the estimated amount to nearly one-third the amount asked. Congressman Snyder indicted the administration of the Indian bureau under Cato Selig, Democrat, and produced figures to show that the bureau's expenditures have been increasing at the rate of $1,000,000 A YEAR while Indians have been decreasing.

ARRAIGNS CLASS INTEREST LOBBY

Senator Thomas Takes Occasion to Inveigh Against Operation of Congress

NEW YORK, (AP)—Lobbying by class interests at Washington more seriously menaces the government of the United States than foreign complications over the league of nations, Senator Thomas declared in an address at Washington's birthday meeting of the Sons of the Revolution here yesterday.

In speaking of railroad legislation pending in congress, he said: "We, your servants, are threatened, cajoled, persuaded and warned of the civil, political and otherwise, that awaits us if we dare exercise our own judgment on this measure. We'll be damned if we do, and we'll be damned if we don't."

Arraigh for Candidates

"The galleries of both houses of congress are constantly filled with representatives of various class interests. You cannot imagine the mental anguish of the man who wants to be re-elected. Some one said that the most terrible thing imaginable was to be a drayhorse in the infernal regions, but he has a happy time of it compared to some public servants."

"The surrender of some congressmen," he continued, "is exhibited in the statutes now on the books. Just think! We have exempted the labor and agricultural societies from the operation of the anti-trust laws, and we cannot appropriate a dollar unless they acquiesce—and that in the land of equal right to all and privilege for none. This practice, made sacred, is repudiated by every political party, including my own."

Predicts Identical Platforms

Both big political parties will adopt identical platforms at their national conventions, Senator Thomas predicted.

ed, and both will feel certain that the country "is lost unless their own candidate is elected."

Referring to national prohibition, he declared: "We voted wet until it seemed the 'ant' were in the majority. Then we damned them in the cloak room and voted for them on the floor."

PROMISES PUBLICITY TO ADRIATIC CONTROVERSY

Publication to Be Made of the Notes Exchanged Between Wilson and Entente

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The notes exchanged between the United States and the entente powers on the Adriatic question will be made public by President Wilson within a few days, it was stated yesterday officially. The publication, it is understood, will be made with the consent of the foreign governments.

It is expected that the notes will be given to the public as soon as the president's latest reply to the entente premiers is delivered. It will be sent to Ambassador Davis at London, who will deliver it to the premiers.

President Wilson's rejoinder to the entente premiers of the Adriatic situation was expected by officials to be on its way to Europe by last night. The state department had finished work on the document, which was to be returned to Mr. Wilson for final review before it was placed on the cable.

SINGLE TAX ADVOCATES FOR NEW NATIONAL PARTY

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—Single tax clubs throughout the country propose this year to form a new national party according to James A. Robinson, of Philadelphia, national organizer. The tax on land values will be the only platform framework.

"Our candidate for president has not been selected, but General William Goetz, the man who cleaned up the Panama canal zone, is a member of the party and we have reason to believe he would run," Mr. Robinson said.

The Parker Idea in Dentistry

THE Parker Idea is to spread information everywhere about the importance of good teeth, because good teeth stand for good health;

- to make everything in dentistry perfectly plain to the people;
- to render to the great masses, at a moderate price, the same class of dental work that only the few could afford in the past;
- to practice dentistry according to a System such as is used in banks, trust companies and other successful business institutions;
- to conduct the dental business on a large scale, because that is the only way the cost of good dentistry can be cut down;
- to improve the lot of the dentist himself, so that he can make a better living than when he works alone;
- to take the fear of pain out of dentistry and give full satisfaction to patients;
- to put good dentistry within the reach of all.

There are twenty-four offices where the Parker Idea is carried out under the E. R. Parker System.

Pup Holds Train to Quarter Speed

NEW YORK, (AP)—Twenty going passengers on an express bound up town in the Seventh avenue subway fumed and fretted yesterday afternoon while the train ran at quarter speed and with frequent jerky stops. As the hour for curtains to rise on matinee came periodically near, a self-constituted committee called on the motorman for an explanation. He was peering anxiously out his cab window at a bewildered brown and white terrier running between the rails.

"The pup can't run any faster," the motorman explained, "and I ain't going to run over him. That stands if we don't get to Times Square till night." At Times Square the terrier still was ahead of the train but going at a greatly reduced pace. "See daylight at 128th street," "E hope he'll fall out when he sighted the motorman."

AGED WOMEN FIRE VICTIMS

Four inmates of Massachusetts Home are Burned to Death in Flames

Stop Loss of Irrigation Water-- Use American Quality Wood-Pipe

If irrigation water is wasted, burned-up crops will result when the hot, dry weather sets in. Much of the annual waste of water is due to evaporation and seepage from open ditches and flumes.

When wood pipe is used, waste is reduced to the minimum because the flow of water through the pipe prevents evaporation and seepage is almost impossible. Pipe does not take up as much space as ditches and flumes and more land can be devoted to cultivation.

Wood pipe is less expensive and more durable than iron pipe. It does not rust, the interior surface will not become rough with age and it offers less resistance to the flow of water.

Our American Quality wood pipe is ideal for irrigation purposes. It is made of best grade Washington yellow fir, has high tensile strength and because the wood is hard it prevents compression of the steel bands into the staves.

Ask the manager of any Boise Payette yard about American quality wood pipe. He will be glad to give you full information and will assure you prompt service.

Views of Labor Upon Bill to Be Sought

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Views of organized labor will be sought next week by the Senate commerce committee, on a bill to amend a national shipping policy bill, testimony of ship owners having been concluded yesterday with the appearance of E. H. M. Robinson of New York, and William A. Dobson of Philadelphia, representing the Atlantic Shippers' association. Chairman John C. McLaughlin, of Washington, announced that hearings would end with examination of shipping board and other government officials when labor representatives have been heard.

Not more than 20 per cent of war built tonnage should be sold at present, Mr. Robinson said, the remainder of the government fleet being retained until a definite policy has been adopted.

ENGLAND ONLY WOULD ABOLISH CONSCRIPTION

Churchill Says British Empire Stood Alone at Peace Confer- ence Against Compulsory Military Service

LONDON, (AP)—Conscription will be abolished in Great Britain March 31 and within a month from that date the last conscripts will be entitled to be released, it was announced by Winston Churchill, the secretary of war, in the house of commons yesterday.

He stated that Great Britain had succeeded in raising a new volunteer army which now contains 1,000,000 men, but that about 250,000, including troops serving in India.

The nation would be able to place in the field in case of emergency twenty divisions, with cavalry and auxiliary services, and supplied with the most modern arms and equipment a British army ever has had, the war secretary declared.

Incidentally he disclosed the fact that a new tank had been produced, with speed of twenty miles an hour, which has mechanically a long life. In a trial run of 1,000 miles it had, virtually no wear had developed.

Mr. Churchill declared that Great Britain had fought at the peace conference for the abolition of conscription, but that the only other great power who agreed was Germany, and that only under dire compulsion. All the other states had maintained compulsory service as the basis of their military system. These states, he added, included even the United States, which was the originator of the League of Nations, and Russia, the nation of advanced political thought.

GANDIL JUMPS MAJOR LEAGUE FOR BUSHERS

White Sox, Feared at Boss, Decided to Leave Omskakey Flat, Just Like That

SALT LAKE, (Special)—Chick Gandil has been known to have been dissatisfied with the White Sox and was talked of as manager of the Salt Lake Bees last fall, but could not secure his release from Manager Gleason. He has been wanting to get out of the big leagues for some time, it is stated. He was also offered a place with the San Francisco Seals of the Coast league, but again was frustrated in his efforts to shake the majors by Chicago refusing to release him. He has evidently decided to join the "outlaws" and jump from organized baseball. It is known that St. Anthony, and other Idaho towns have gone money-wild and willing to pay most anything for attractive players. Gandil is probably getting a much larger salary than organized ball was paying him. His only worry now is whether or not the league he is now to join will make it through the winter. According to the dope of Idaho fanatics there is not a chance for the league to bust up. Other players known in Pacific coast circles are apt to jump over to Idaho towns.

Baseball spirit in Idaho is running wild. The best players in the country are none too good for the six towns composing the Yellowstone league of the Gem state. The morning newspaper of this fact very clearly. The St. Anthony club has actually gone out and signed a topnotcher in the big leagues. Chick Gandil, first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, world series contender last year, will manager the St. Anthony team this year. The contract has already been signed by the "big league" manager. Gandil is being lined up by the players that will compose the squad this year.

In a telegram received by L. A. Smoot, one of the officers present visiting in Salt Lake, Gandil stated that he was at present in Los Angeles and that he would be ready for work the middle of next month. He is already being lined up by the men that were already signed for the squad this year and stated that he would get hold of the remaining players while he was on the coast.

Gandil, first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, world series contender last year, will manager the St. Anthony club. Last year preparations were made to have him come to Salt Lake to manage the Bees, but he could not secure a satisfactory release from the Sox owners. To manage a team in the Yellowstone league Gandil will not need a satisfactory release, as this league is not considered in the light of organized baseball, and, in other words, the new manager of the St. Anthony club is what may be termed an "outlaw" in baseball.

This makes no difference, however, to the Idaho club. Gandil is the new manager. Gandil was previously purchased from the Cleveland Indians by the White Sox, and while a member of the latter team he played at first base regularly. His batting average for the world's series was .223. The fact that if Gandil had been gotten into release from the Sox last spring he would have managed the Salt Lake team is just a slight example of what the St. Anthony club is getting this year to manage their team.

Last year the St. Anthony club finished second in the league, with the Rexburg club topping the column. This year the season opens on May 16. The teams that compose the Yellowstone league are Rexburg, Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, Rigby, Sugar City and St. Anthony.

The Salt Lake Bees have been ordered to report at Boyes Springs, California, March 1. There will be the old bunch of 300 hitters in the lot. Bill Ruml, Earl Shockey, homerun King, Ernie Johnson and Marty Krug.

Comes now "Tub" Spencer and kicks over the traces in organized baseball. The recruitant former Bee says he has signed to manage the Rexburg club of the Snake River-Yellowstone league.

According to reports from Jerome "Chick" Fraser, former pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, has signed to manage the Jerome club in the proposed South or Idaho Baseball league this season.

MELADY AVERS DIDN'T ALIBI TITLE'S LOSS

Oaddock's Manager Says that Stecher Fairly Won Crown —Statement Distorted

It's much easier to get in bad with American sport fans than the ordinary mortal believes, according to Gene Melady of Omaha, manager of Earl Oaddock, the wrestler who recently lost his title to Gene Stecher in a match in New York City. Melady is now on the grill in some of the eastern sport circles, and while he claims he is innocent of any wrongdoing, quite a few of the sport writers are panning him unmercifully. Melady therefore speaks with some authority. After the Oaddock-Stecher match Melady was speaking to some friends. In the course of the conversation he declared he felt sorry Earl had been defeated, and then added that while he had accepted the match as such, it was really not a championship affair—all that the term implies—although it was so regarded, because the articles called for but one fall as the deciding factor.

Melady's statement to his friends was accepted by them in the spirit in which it was given. Those who heard it understood thoroughly he was not making an alibi, but was merely taking himself to task for not insisting upon two falls instead of one.

The statement, however, reached the ears of some ambitious scribe, who distorted or misunderstood the facts, and he made it appear that Melady was completely disregarding the agreement upon which the match was made and staged and was trying to claim the title for Oaddock in spite of the defeat.

"I have been intimately associated with sports in general and with wrestling in particular for a number of years," said the Omaha promoter, "and this is the first time I believe I have ever been accused of being an aggressor. It's tough, I'll tell you, but I guess I will have to forget it. Melady says he never had any objection to being quoted in the papers, but he cannot reconcile the attitude of any scribe who would plug a match into a newspaper through failure to collect facts, when it was so easy to get a plain statement. "I would have expressed the same views to the writer of that article, but I was denied that opportunity," Melady stated. Melady has long been regarded as one of the greatest friends of the mat game in the country. He has promoted a number of important matches in the middle west in recent years.

RESERVE BOARD WOULD RESTORE TRADE BALANCE

Report Evidences Determination to Exert Full Power of Reserve Banking System in Control of Credit Situation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Determination of the federal reserve board to exert the full power of the reserve banking system in regulating and controlling the credit situation, a course designed to restore a pro-war equilibrium, was disclosed in the board's annual report, just made public.

The board was prepared to "test the ability of the reserve banking system to induce healthy liquidation." The board explained it was aware of the implied power to rectify the condition which confronts the country. This power necessarily follows the authority for and employment of an elastic system of reserve credit and note issue, it was added.

Recommendations also were made to congress for amendments of the reserve act which would permit reserve banks to establish normal maximum limits of credit accommodations for member banks. An ascending scale of rates would be provided in the event of a shortage of the maximum limit. This, the board believed, would work to the end that credit expansion on a large scale would be stopped.

Warning was given that the country must be prepared to meet a rapid deflation. It was pointed out, however, that some remedies employed to correct deflation might create conditions more than inflation.

"Deflation merely for the sake of inflation and a speedy return to normal deflation merely for the sake of restoring security, values and commodity prices to their pre-war levels, without regard for the consequences, would be an inane proceeding," the report said.

It must never be forgotten that modern business is done on credit. One of its governing principles is credit. The ultimate test of a credit system must be found in what it does to produce and increase the production of goods. True in general, the truth of this observation, deserves to be particularly emphasized in the present, changed state of world industry and trade when production is the crying need of the hour everywhere.

In an explanation of its increase in discount rates, the board said this had been the traditional method of credit control. Its use, however, presupposes normal conditions and those, it is pointed out, do not exist at this time. While a high reserve rate was shown to act as a restraining influence upon borrowings and it may attract credit from other centers, it is this condition among others, that was said by the board to justify the extensive use of its power in controlling credit and starting deflation.

No Need for Appreciation
In checking expansion, the board declared much depended upon co-operation of business and the community generally. "The ultimate test of a credit system must be found in what it does to produce and increase the production of goods. True in general, the truth of this observation, deserves to be particularly emphasized in the present, changed state of world industry and trade when production is the crying need of the hour everywhere."

Urges Greater Production
The specific of greater production was urged again in a number of ways by which the "proper balance" might be materially aided. But the board directed attention to dangers which lie in the path of great production unless that production is immediately followed by distribution and the avoidance of wasteful consumption.

These are the fundamental processes upon the proper functioning of the federal reserve banks must depend," the report said. "The ultimate test of a credit system must be found in what it does to produce and increase the production of goods. True in general, the truth of this observation, deserves to be particularly emphasized in the present, changed state of world industry and trade when production is the crying need of the hour everywhere."

CHICAGO, (AP)—Some depression in the corn market resulted today from weakness of sterling exchange and from lower quotations on hogs. The fact, however, that the advance, which had been so heavy as many traders had looked for to leavely the market to recover. Most of the selling came from speculators. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.27 to 1.30 3/4 and July 1.27 1/4 to 1.27 3/4, were followed by a moderate general setback and then by a decided rally.

Further reselling of American oats for which Canadian oats were substituted had a temporary bearish effect on the oats market. After opening 8 1/2 to 1.34 1/4 and 1.34 3/8 and July 1.30 1/4 to 1.30 5/8.

Provisions were sharply lower, influenced by weakness of hogs and exchange. Selling, though, was not of an aggressive sort.

long term credits through banking operations as distinguished from appeal to the securities market. Of America's banks of $100,000,000 and over, only $4,017,745,000—approximately 4 percent—was declared to have fallen in credit transactions on the commercial banks. Treasury advances during the year were $1,675,000,000, but this was not regarded as sufficient to offset the corresponding measure of expansion necessitated by the carrying of the credit balances.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE RAINBOW'S VISIT

"Come along, my lovely children," said the rainbow, "and come to wear your best clothes, for we are going on no less famous people than the king of the clouds and the good old Mr. Sun."

So the rainbow children dressed up in their best clothes. Some of them wore green and some of them wore pink and some of them wore blue and some of them wore different shades of the same color. Then they went forth, and the ones who were dressed alike stood together, and those who were dressed in different shades of the same color stood at the end of a row.

And they all said together: "Mother Rainbow, will we do?" "Ah, yes, my beautiful ones," said Mother Rainbow, "You rejoice my heart. We will call our friends at once. Let us start."

So they knocked on the top of a mountain, and they said: "Hello, anyone at home?"

Of course they wouldn't ask if anyone was in, for they weren't going in anywhere—they were going out! And they wanted to stay out.

Mr. Sun came peeping behind the arm of raindrops who are the children of the king of the clouds and he said: "Hello, beautiful rainbow, and all your beautiful children! How lovely they all look in their exquisite, perfect frocks. Ah, I am glad to see them."

"We wanted to see if the lake was receiving callers today, too," Mother Rainbow said.

"Knocked on the Top of a Mountain."
Rainbow said, "We have come first of all to call on you, Mr. Sun and on the king of the clouds, but we would like to visit you, too, if you are at home."

"We had no sooner knocked to see if you were all out from the top of the mountain than you appeared."

"The lake would love to see you," said Mr. Sun. "Do pay it a visit."

So Mother Rainbow and her children bent down until they touched the lake and they rested on the lake, and they said:

"Lovely, cool water which in the summer rests those who are weary and warm and refreshing, we greet you. And lovely lake, which gives water to people to drink, we salute you."

"And lake which freezes so children in the winter, and is so happy in the summer, we greet you and say that in the summer it can keep things cold, we think so much of you."

Some of the rainbow children were playing with some of the cloud fairies at the top of the mountain while others were whispering secrets to the hills and to the trees over which they were bending, but down into the water, right along the surface, Mother Rainbow and just a few of her children were talking to the lake.

And the lake's face rippled and smiled, and then a little wave and another came over the lake's face, until it touched in the lovely fashion: "Oh rainbow," it said, "I am so glad you came to call on me, and didn't call on the trees and the hills alone."

"I love to see the colors of the autumn look down at me and all the photographers known as the Reflection Brothers for they reflect the beautiful pictures rather than photograph them are about making lovely pictures for me."

"Of course they don't last, but that doesn't matter when they are so beautiful and when for a time one can see them. And they will come again—the beautiful things to have their pictures taken."

"So I see a great deal that is beautiful, but this is the greatest honor of all."

BUYING SEABEDS IN THE GOLDEN GLOW WILL MAKE YOUR PRODUCE GROW
(From Shoshone Journal)

Oskar Karri, the manager of the Golden Glow mine, some 18 miles north east of Ketchikan, was then introduced by Chairman Charles Millspaugh, and gave the club a short talk on the mining industry of this part of the country. Referring to the Golden Glow mine Mr. Karri stated that his company had taken on a five year lease on the mine, had done little with it until last June when Mr. Karri was employed to manage it. During the year 1919 they shipped 108 cars of ore worth $37,103.50; that the cost of operating during that time was $3,852.36 and they are now shipping through the winter season about three cars a month employing 14 men and using 10 horses. His company has a fine option on the mine at $75,000, and has already paid $30,000 on that amount. The lease has still 18 months to run.

C. J. Hansen representing the Golden Glow mine will be at the Bogomoto hotel today and tomorrow and will be pleased to meet anyone interested in further information about the Golden Glow mine.—adv.

Derivation of "Fannel"
Some of the earlier philologists claim that the word "fannel" was originally written and pronounced "fann" and that it was essentially of Welsh origin, being derived from the Welsh "gwlan" wool, but this derivation is considered doubtful by more modern lexicographers, who regard its derivation from the Danish "fanel," old French "fanelle," or the Italian "fanella," as more probable.

Restricted Chinese Immigration
In 1894, on Dec. 7, a convention regarding Chinese immigration was ratified by the United States and China. This agreement prohibited the immigration of Chinese laborers to the United States, but admitted officials, students, merchants and travelers. American laborers and the same time were barred from China.

There are still some old price tickets hanging out at The Idaho Dept. Store
Here, for instance, is a heavy cotton union suit marked $2.00 that we had cost us at least $2.75 wholesale if we had to go back and buy it today.
And look at this pair of worsted trousers ticketed to sell at $7.50—why man alive, the seat alone is worth more than that.
We only raise on you when the market raises on us. As long as the old goods last—they are yours at old, original prices.
Perhaps if you are looking for a medium priced suit you might be able to find one that we carried over from last season.
Believe us, if we knew where we could lay our hands on old price tickets in the wholesale market we'd leave tonight even if we had to take an upper.

Made His Name Immortal.
The endless screw is still called after Archimedes, for he invented it to pump the water from the holds of vessels, and has not been improved upon since. It is a long spiral, the lower extremity of which is turned into the water, and as it is turned the water is lifted, flowing out at the top. It is really a development of this Archimedean screw, reversed in action, which is seen in the propellers of modern steamships.

SERVICE MEN ENJOY DANCE

Complimentary Entertainment by Twentieth Century Club Gives Keen Pleasure

No more pleasing and certainly no more appreciated complimentary social event has ever been carried out than was the Twentieth Century club ball for former service men at the Lavering theatre last night.

The event carried out every element of social entertainment of the best character and was enjoyed by at least 125 former soldiers of the world war. It was entirely gratuitous throughout, the program being especially elaborate and designed solely with a view to the comfort, enjoyment and entertainment of the soldier-guests.

Especially pleasing and appropriate were the decorations of the dance party, the colors being of a patriotic order. The great standard and banners of Twentieth Century Club, American Legion, formed an arch at the main entrance, while from wall to wall, festooning from ceiling and fixture were strings of the country's colors, Red, White and Blue. Music of a classical dance order was provided by the Lavering orchestra.

"I don't dance but I certainly enjoyed that affair last night," said Tom Borrington, commander of Twentieth Century Club, at the conclusion of the festivities. He expressed the hope that the Twentieth Century club's entertainment would prove the beginning of a long list of such complimentary festivities for the men who helped win the world war. Many congratulations were extended to the ladies who were instrumental in giving the affair, and carrying out the program of the former war veterans. Refreshments of punch and cakes were served.

Woods Acquires Site for Down Town Building

Realty Man Buys Corner Property from Bank—Will Soon Erect Business Block

For a consideration currently reported to be $15,000 T. J. Woods yesterday purchased from the Idaho State bank a 25 by 125 foot lot located at the corner of Main avenue north and Second street west. The property is immediately north of the A. H. Vincent furniture store.

The lot has been the property of the bank some time, and at one time it was assumed a banking house and office building would occupy the corner. That theory was abandoned, however, when the bank obtained the lease to property occupied by the Skeels-Lewis Drug company at the corner of Main avenue and Shoshone for counting-house quarters. The bank is remodeling its premises and will move into the new home March 1.

Speaking with reference to the purchase made yesterday Mr. Woods stated the property would be used for store and office purposes. He added that construction of a substantial building would start within 30 days. He added detailed plans for the building are being made now and that in a few days these would be ready for consideration of bids for erecting. How much of a building it is to be, or how much it will cost Mr. Woods declined to say.

Not Much Credit Coming to Them. J. D. Tankins says he knows two men, and maybe three, who bragged about not being' professed, simply because they never had a good chance.

GIVE THE DEVIL HIS DUES

America has little or nothing to fear from the agitator who declares openly and without qualification that he is a bolshevik...

It is probably quite true that the bolshevik movement uses such outpoken agitators in the furtherance of its propaganda...

The time has not yet come when such agitators can make their play here and get away with it...

The plain fact is that the standard of intelligence in America is altogether too high to permit of the carrying on of any such barefaced tactics as are charged...

It would be folly to presume that the bolshevik leaders are not clever enough to size up accurately the situation in the United States...

Putting of a halter on American intelligence would seem at first blush, to be an almost impossible undertaking...

One need not travel far, even among the people of the Twin Falls country where intelligence is admittedly rather higher than in some other sections...

POLITICS IN IDAHO

Developments from Day to Day in the Political Arena of the Gem State

BORE (Special)—Naturally the first thought that flashes into the mind of a man up a tree on reading the announcement of Governor D. W. Davis, that he will aspire to another term in his present office rather than to a seat in the United States senate...

It is certain that such a combination was made in the minds of many of the so-called party leaders who assembled in Boise ten days ago. It is equally certain that great pressure was brought to bear on Governor Davis by the advice of John W. Hart for member of the republican national committee from Idaho...

Much Involved. There is much more involved in this combination than Gooding for the senate and Davis for governor. There is John W. Hart for member of the republican national committee from Idaho, and James E. Babb of Lewiston for a seat on the supreme bench...

Utterance of a Disheveled Imagination (Spokane Spokesman-Review). Speakers at a so-called farmer-labor "congress" at Chicago Friday recommended the organization of co-operative daily newspapers and denounced the press of the country wholesale as "prostituted and debased in the interests of capitalists..."

Light on Enthusiasm. Considering this phase of the problem, is it any wonder that John W. Hart is looked upon as an important factor in the combination? It is well known that John W. Hart has been one of William E. Borch's trusted and pleasant lieutenants ever since the senator first entered public life...

Then there is the factor of the barrel. Already there has been nasty talk around the capital about an enormous campaign fund. It is asserted that this was one of the reasons why Col. L. V. Patch to convince him that he should not enter the race for the United States senate at this time...

Intelligent and fair-minded people long ago learned the truth of this matter. Only ignorant persons, or men and women belonging to the radical class so accurately interpreted by Mr. Spargo take any stock in such arrant nonsense as the speakers babbled at Chicago.

Returning to Senator Borch: The story is current here in the capital that some time ago some of the republican leaders in Washington called the Idaho senator on the carpet and asked him to explain just how it was that he could be re-elected by a plurality of 30,000 and that in the same election another staunch republican could be defeated for the other seat in the senate.

Just what effect this action of the national leaders may have, if indeed any such action were taken, is a question that no one on earth could answer except Senator Borch himself. Whether it would induce him to support Frank R. Gooding in the light of the fact that he did not support him in the last campaign, whether it would drive him to the support of Col. L. V. Patch as the only other alternative; or whether, like

As to James E. Babb for the supreme court there need be little said at this time. In justice to him nothing should be said, as he has not announced his candidacy. He is looked upon as a man of great ability. He has been a successful corporation lawyer for years...

But Colonel Patch is a poor man; he has no political machine and it remains to be seen what he can accomplish when pitted against a barrel-bursting campaign fund and a compact and remorseless machine. It must be admitted that at this stage his candidacy recalls the story of Daniel in the lions den.

But as the "soldier candidate" and supported by enthusiastic and aggressive young soldiers in every county the colonel might pull a big surprise on the old-timers.

Abilities of old, he would sink in his first while the little rogues a number that will rest in the lap of the gods. There will be much said as the campaign progresses about an alleged agreement that existed in the last campaign between Senator Borch, Senator Augustus, the Republican League and some other names than Frank R. Gooding, who are supposed to speak for President Wilson.

These are the men who are supposed to speak for President Wilson. It is going too early to measure the importance of the entrance into the senatorial race of Col. L. V. Patch. There is much about the colonel to command attention. His record as a public official is as clean as a hound's tooth; he was a gallant and popular soldier in the great war; his war record was splendid; and what is not any too common, he came out with the respect and good will of all the men who served under him, as well as the confidence of his superior officers.

REAL COMMUNITY BUILDING

Consider the tumbledweed and the oak. For a season the tumbledweed grows green. It flourishes in spring and summer. Then come the fall and the early gales of winter. What of the tumbledweed? Hither and yon it flies across the prairies, the sport of every vagrant breeze. No wind is too light to stir it, no obstruction too small to halt it.

But, does the oak go swirling around, a moving part of the autumnal landscape? Not that any one has noticed. The oak stays put. Its roots deep in the soil. It is a member of a colony of oaks that have grown up together, that have weathered the winds of winter together.

The tumbledweed serves a purpose if it calls attention to the permanence of the oak, and if it drives home the fact that the practice of rooting deep into the soil has its virtues.

In these times there seem to be a great many men of the tumbledweed variety being swept hither and thither. There are so many tumbledweeds scurrying about that the oaks may be overlooked. Start to count them though and there are plenty of oaks—men who have struck their roots deep into their home soil.

One of the present day problems is whether it is worth while to attempt the task of increasing the number of oaks and decreasing the number of tumbledweeds. The first thing to be noticed about the oak is that it is of slow growth. It does not spring up in a day. The next thing is that it establishes itself by taking root.

Community building in oak growing. Raising colonies of tumbledweeds will not do the trick.

Before men begin to root deeply in a community they must have an abiding interest in it. That community must be more than a chance fence corner into which they have been whirled. Too many communities are simply stopping places for the people that live in them. In driving home the fact that community building brought about by a real community life is a constructive work, the present day Community Service movement has performed a distinct service. Community building means more oaks. A lack of it means more tumbledweeds.

LOWDEN'S WAR RECORD

Governor Active Aid of National Authorities.

His Own Son, Pullman, Wins His Stripes in Overseas Service.

Friends of Frank O. Lowden point with pride to his record as war governor of Illinois. Promptly following the severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany Gov. Lowden issued an appeal to the people of Illinois to uphold President Wilson.

"It is the solemn duty of all Americans," he said, "to rally to his support."

Three days later he went before a joint session of the two branches of the legislature to renew his appeal. "We may have our sympathies," he said, "with our allies but our allegiance and that allegiance is to the United States."

The authorities in Washington regarded Illinois as critical territory. Gov. Lowden took immediate steps to demonstrate that the state was united by back of the government in whatever war measures it undertook. He appointed a state council of defense, representing all parties and all elements, to organize the war activities of Illinois.

The work of this council was noteworthy. Financed by an appropriation of $50,000 as against appropriations for similar purposes in other states running as high as $5,000,000, the Illinois council achieved results equal in importance to those of any other body of its kind in the country. Among the things it did of direct aid to the government's military plans was to give military training to several thousand and drafted men to that on reporting to camp they were able to obtain immediate recognition as noncommissioned officers. The council's chief function, however, was in building up the morale of the people at home, fostering economies, and aiding movements of whatever kind designed to increase national efficiency.

The governor kept in close personal touch with the Illinois boys in khaki and blue. He visited them in their camps, traveled to the seaboard to bid Godspeed to departing contingents and was at New York to give welcome in the name of the state to the veterans who came back at the close of the fighting.

His interest in the soldiers was not merely official. Among them was his own son, Pullman Lowden—a member of the Prairie division. In that division was the "Dandy First" regiment of the Illinois national guard which which Lowden served for three years as lieutenant-colonel. Pullman went overseas with his outfit, did his bit in the ranks as a common soldier, and came back with the cherished gold service stripes.

Tasmania. The island of Tasmania, formerly called Van Diemen's Land, lies off the south coast of Australia. It has an area of 28,885 square miles. It is covered by a network of ridges, termed locally tiers, which enclose a multitude of small plateaus and valleys. The principal industries are agriculture, mining, stock-raising and some manufacturing. Tasmania is a state in the Commonwealth of Australia. It has a population of two hundred thousand. The exports are wool, gold, silver, tin, timber, fruit, jam, hops and hides.

To End Wire "Slinging." To prevent the "slinging" of telephone or telegraph wires passing over houses, these are muted by putting on them small olive-shaped pieces of lead, or fitting cork on to them.

SOUTH AMERICA HOLDS BALANCE AGAINST U. S.

Federal Reserve Board Analysis Shows Imports from Several Countries Exceed Exports

WASHINGTON, (AP)—While the net trade balance in favor of the United States in 1919 was $4,017,745,000, a number of South American and far eastern countries held balances against this country of $66,005,000, says the annual report of the Federal reserve board in naming the countries to which extension of credit will not be necessary for the continuance of foreign commerce.

The board's analysis shows that imports from the British West Indies for the year exceeded exports by $240,644,000. Cuba was next with $140,519,000, and Brazil followed with a favorable balance of $119,915,000. China's balance was $48,630,000 and Japan with $43,630,000, slightly exceeded Argentina's total of $43,000,000. Chile had a balance of $28,970,000.

These countries, the report says in general, are in a position to pay for goods here, but the Federal Reserve board is either through exports or by the shipment of gold.

Referendum. Referendum is a Latin word now Anglicized. This and several kindred words are derived from the Latin verb, refero, I bear, I carry, I give back, from re, back, and fero, bear. The word referendum is a neuter noun, and it means the submission of a proposed public measure or law, which has been passed upon by the legislature at a vote of the people for ratification or rejection; that is, the legislators refer or carry back the measure to the electorate.

Morality the Object. The end of all political struggle is to establish morality as the basis of all legislation. "The most free institutions," says a noted statesman, "is not a democracy that is the end—no, but only the means. Morality is the object of government. We want a state of things in which crime will not pay; a state of things which allows every man the largest liberty compatible with the liberty of every other man.—Emerson.

Highspates at Reasonable Prices. If marriage is there are only two modes of marriage: capture and purchase. The cost of a wife varies from five camels for a young girl to thirty or forty camels for an old widow, the latter being quoted higher than all other classes. In statements relative to prices obtained in Mongolian society it was brought out that a wife may be bought for five pounds of rice in that country.

Wonders of the Heavens. People in the southern hemisphere see different stars, but there are some constellations which are visible at different times of the year in both hemispheres. If the earth axis kept always perpendicular to the plane of the orbit none of the northern constellations would ever be seen in the southern hemisphere, but as the axis is inclined first one way and then the other, some of both sets can be seen at different seasons.

Stolen Fruit. From the Inland Printer, Chicago, Ill.: "On the bottom of a printer's calendar we read the following statement: 'Dull business is often traced to economy in printers' ink.' True, indeed. As we look out over the great field of advertising and find that the firms which have made the most notable successes are those that have used printers' ink most freely. Emphasize these facts when talking to customers—but first take a dose of your own medicine."

You can count upon the classified to sell your real estate—and the cost of them small olive-shaped pieces of lead, or fitting cork on to them.
