LABOR OPENS ATTACK UPON CONGRESSMEN

Plumb's Tour of Ohio First Open Development in Campaign to Oppose Supporters of the Railroad Bill

FARMER-LABOR POLITICAL COMBINE IS ANNOUNCED

Election of House and Senate "Responsible to People" Proclaimed Purpose of New Organization

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The first open development in organized labor's campaign to oppose congressmen who voted for the railroad bill came today when it was announced that the Plumb plan to elect a congress from the railroad league that Glenn E. Plumb, general counsel for the railroad brotherhoods, would tour Ohio next month to speak in support of the brotherhoods' plan for a tripartite control of the railroads and against congressmen who voted for the bill.

From Congressional Committee
Formation of a "farmer-labor" congressional committee which will assist in electing a congress "responsible to the people, which will make the transportation trust and the money trust the servants of the people instead of the masters of the people" and restore the "constitutional rights of freedom of discussion," was announced here today by George P. Hampton, managing director of the farmers' national council. Mr. Hampton is chairman and Warren E. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is vice-president of the committee.

PANAMA STRIKE SEEMS AT END

Maintenance of Way Men Accept Offer of British Minister's Mediation

PANAMA, (AP)—Indications early today were that the strike of approximately 15,000 canal zone workers in Panama was expected here in a few days to end. The British minister here today announced that the leaders of the striking union members had accepted his offer to act as mediator between the men and Governor Harding of the canal zone and the war department in Washington, and that the men in the meantime had agreed to go back to work today. The great majority of the strikers are West Indians, largely from British possessions.

Unwillingness on part of the Panama government to receive 1,000 striking maintenance of way workmen from the canal zone was expected here to aid the strike which began a few days ago. Governor Harding of the canal zone was informed that there was a possibility that the strikers would become public charges in future. Men who are idle because of the strike do not favorably contemplate repatriation to their native lands. The British minister is attempting to bring about a settlement.

BOSTON BENDS ENERGIES IN BATTLE AGAINST SNOW

Industries Asked to Lend Employees for Digging Out the Railroad Yards

BOSTON, (AP)—Industrial establishments were asked to divert the energies of their employees today to digging out railroad yards and junction points in New England where thousands of cars have been stalled by recent snowstorms. Experts on transportation regard the situation as the worst in history. Many plants have been closed because of fuel shortages and others will follow early next week unless conditions are improved. The question of fuel supplies is serious in some sections.

Clergy Decries Excess of Nudity in Women's Wear

IO JANNIRO, (AP)—A campaign against prevailing modes in feminine attire in large cities of Brazil has been inaugurated by the Catholic clergy.

One bishop recently advised his clergy to deny communion to those who presented themselves unsuitably attired, while an archbishop has made the exaggeration of fashions the subject of a pastoral letter.

Monseigneur Maximiano Leite, the vicar general, declared there was an excess of nudity in feminine garments profusely dangerous to morals. The heat of the climate, he said, was made the pretext for lamentable excesses.

CHARGE PER JURY AGAINST LAWYER AT TOMBSTONE

Issuance of Warrant for Arrest of Attorney for Defense Feature of Day in Deportations Trial

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., (AP)—Issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Bruce Stephenson, an attorney for the defense in the Biabeo deportations cases on trial here, on charges of perjury was the main topic of conversation in Tombstone today.

The warrant for Stephenson's arrest was issued last night by Justice A. Wentworth after W. A. Beaton swore to a complaint prepared by Assistant County Attorney George M. Boark and Joseph Hansen, which accused Stephenson of giving false testimony while a witness for the defense in an attempt to unsettle Juror Charles A. Mannus.

Contradict Testimony
In court yesterday Stephenson and Beaton gave flatly contradictory testimony concerning a visit to the Beaton home. Stephenson said he called at the Beaton home Wednesday night and Mrs. Beaton told him in the presence of her husband that Mannus late in 1917 had expressed the opinion the deportations were wrong.

ORDERS ISSUED FOR TIE UP OF FRENCH RAILS

Conditions Nearing Crisis Point to Breakdown of Strike or Paralysis of Nation's Transportation

PARIS, (AP)—The striking employees of the French railway lines will have the backing of the general federation of labor in their present combat, it was announced this evening. A statement issued by the labor federation says it "assures the federation of railway men of its support in the struggle."

PARIS, (AP)—Orders for a general railroad strike have been issued by the National Federation of Railroad men. Reports were current last night that this action had been taken but confirmation could not be obtained until late this forenoon.

Conditions were considered near a crisis this morning and believe the expected breakdown of the strike or a paralysis of the nation's railroad system would ensue during the day.

Operating conditions on the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean railroads were affected by the walkout of employees assumed to be slightly improved last night.

It was believed that mobilization orders sent to men of the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean and state roads would bring a sufficient force to carry on normal traffic.

Strong military forces are guarding tracks inside the city limits of Paris and a law authorizing the requisitioning of automobiles, motor trucks and airplanes in case of interruption of air-rail traffic was passed last night by the chamber of deputies.

The question of arrest and prosecution of the leaders of the railroad strike was discussed at the ministry of justice this afternoon and Public Prosecutor Scherding was called into conference, together with the judges of the Seine tribunal.

It is held among legal experts that the order for a general strike issued today after mobilization is a violation of the law of July 1911, constituting provocation to the soldiers to abandon military duty and refuse obedience to their military leaders, and is punishable by one year in jail.

The state embassy at Mexico City has been instructed to make urgent requests looking to the arrest and punishment of the murderers and the American consulate at Manzanillo has been instructed to make similar representations to the local Mexican authorities. OPEN SHOP IS STRIKE CAUSE

Baltimore Shipbuilders Curtail Operations as Workers Walk Out

BALTIMORE, Md., (AP)—All the cranes and steam pumps at the cranes and shipyard of Drydocks and Shipbuilding company went out today, making altogether about 2,000 labor unionists there who have struck on what the company says is the open shop issue.

An official of the company said today's developments forced the discontinuance of all new construction and necessitated the laying off of 2,000 additional workers. The company is unable to do any emergency repair work.

Holden A. Evans, president of the company today reiterated his previous statement that his company was not unfriendly to organized labor but he said that never becomes a closed shop even if it never builds a ship or turns a wheel.

Seven large oil tankers are under construction at the company yards and about fifteen vessels are undergoing repairs.

PREMIERS' NOTE FAILS TO ALTER WILSON'S STAND

Officials Reluctant to Discuss Latest Communication from London, but Say Situation is Unchanged

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The British and French premiers' reply to President Wilson on the Adriatic question was read today by the president and he is expected to send his reply early next week.

Officials Dodge Question
Officials were not disposed to discuss the latest note from London, but it was said that the withdrawal of an attempt of December 9, pending an attempt by Italy and Jugoslavia to reach a satisfactory agreement among themselves as proposed by the premiers, could have little effect on the ultimate outcome of the negotiations.

The principles enunciated in that agreement will remain the same, it was explained, and the American government will continue to adhere to its original position that a settlement to which Jugoslavia objected was not to be forced on that country.

Senate Details Open Issue
The president's answer in the Adriatic matter was criticized today in the senate during the first debate on the subject. Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, one of the mild reservationists, who has congratulated Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, and Senator Kullback, of Nebraska, on their support of the treaty of the irreconcilables on "their new alliance" to defeat the treaty.

"The two senators a short time before had been in consultation on the senate floor and Senator Kellogg, referring to reports that they were working together to prevent ratification with the republican reservationists, declared he had believed for a long time that the purpose of the senator from Nebraska to defeat the treaty, with republican votes if he can, but if not with democratic votes.

VARIETY OF ENTERTAINMENT IS EXPRESSED IN LONDON

LONDON, (AP)—Correspondence between the allied premiers and President Wilson relative to the Adriatic settlement is given much prominence in this morning's London newspapers, but several refrain from commenting on the situation.

"So ends the attempt of Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau to get the 'new-style' says the Times which throughout has supported President Wilson. "Mr. Lloyd George and Premier Millerand have rushed into the true path into which the American president has directed us. We may hope he will continue to shepherd them along it, perhaps with a somewhat grim smile."

The Chronicle sharply scores President Wilson and declares his original note was "scarcely less than violence."

GERMANY WILL GIVE UP FLEET

Excitement Prevails as Time for Delivery of Last Ships Nears

According to an announcement made at a meeting of the Association of German fishermen at Hamburg yesterday. These vessels, and several others, have been handed by officers of the German mercantile marine.

Excitement prevails at German seaports as the time approaches for delivery of the last German commercial ships, and several unions have appealed to the government, advocating retention of the boats. It is pointed out that reconstruction of the industry may be impossible and that new disturbances in the labor market are inevitable.

FURS FOR MILADY FROM OVER THE BORDER

Reynard is in fair way to become a neckpiece

Cubs at Allin Fox Farm

The growth of population in the United States has led or driven away most of the animals wont to supply furs for our better halves and for such of our lesser halves as can afford them after the ladies are supplied. The old-time trapper is practically extinct in this country. He has moved his habits to Canada, where the procuring of fur is still an important industry, but there, too, the fur-bearing animals and the men who hunt them are driven ever northward before the advancing onsets of civilization.

Russian supply is now cut off and Canada must supply most of the skins. She is exporting more furs than ever before, but still the demand exceeds the supply. The trappers cannot get enough furs; prices are the highest in the history of this trade and the only solution seems to be the domestication of the fur-bearing animals.

Fox farming is very profitable. Red fox is in great demand; black fox is worth $75 to $1,000 a skin, and silver foxes are worth $10,000 to $15,000 a skin. Foxes have one litter a year of from one to nine pups; there is a good average for a well managed farm. Mink is also raised, the largest farm being at Las Char, Quebec. Raccoon is domesticated in several provinces, and skunk raising has been successfully attempted and on a large scale is very profitable. The skunk is readily tamed and can easily be handled without cutting the scent glands. At the recent fur sale in Vancouver markets brought $4; fisher, $3; red fox, $40; prime interior mink, $15; martens, $40, and weasel, $1.75.

Fox farms London, St. Louis and New York have been the selling centers to which Canadian furs have travelled, and St. Louis has been the world's premier fur mart, but Canada has finally come to a realization of the money lost in this way, and in the future will market her own furs. It is expected that Montreal will be the center of the most important fur markets of the world. The auction at Montreal will be conducted by a large company capitalized at $5,000,000 and will be largely co-operative in nature.

SCHOLARSHIPS COST MORE

Candidates for Oxford must pay Additional Fee to Meet High Prices

OXFORD, (AP)—Candidates for the Rhodes Scholarships in Oxford University will have to pay an extra $250 yearly to meet the increased cost of living, as the present scholarship of $1,500 is no longer sufficient to cover the expenses of a full year, including terms and vacations. This is pointed out in the statement of the Rhodes Trust for 1919. The trustees have made a temporary grant of a small way bonus to existing scholars but those elected for any year later than 1919 will have to furnish the additional money.

SET PARLIAMENTARY STYLE

Peersness Attend Function without Feathers and Vails by Instruction

LONDON, (AP)—Peersness who attended the state opening of parliament this month wore dresses with low necks, but without feathers and vails. This was by order of the Lord Chamberlain who has charge of all the state functions.

It is understood that this new rule was due to Queen Mary's determination that in future the dress for women attending state functions should be of a simpler character than heretofore. Formerly, the gorgeous dresses of women at these functions drew photographers' and "court photographers" did a big business.

SHAW DECLARES FOR DESTROYING OF OLD HOUSES

British Dramatist Argues for Law to Compel Razing and Replacement of All Buildings at End of Twenty Years

LONDON, (AP)—George Bernard Shaw declares that the old cottages of England should be destroyed wholesale. "The old-fashioned houses with an exalted sense of doing the right thing," he told the Society of Arts recently, "one realizes that all the time one has been living in a sort of architectural hell. I am so far modern that I have come to the conclusion that what is wanted is a law that every building should be knocked down at the end of 20 years, and a new one erected. That would get rid of old cottages. We have got into the incorrigible habit of sponging on the past. The next generation ought to be able to produce its own art and all this worship of the past can only be got rid of by a wholesale destruction of all the monuments of the past. If we could avoid the wholesale destruction of human beings involved by a great war, I should be glad to have half a dozen great wars in Europe so that all the old buildings might be knocked down, thus forcing us to a sort of starvation to make our own architectural efforts."

ROGERSON—Charles Craig returned to Rogerson on Monday evening after spending several days in Twin Falls in the interest of business affairs. Mr. Craig has a position with the Twin Falls Bank and Trust, as bookkeeper. O. D. Vandenberg has returned after spending several days in Twin Falls where he transacted business. Miss Ella Kimbrough has returned to Rogerson after spending some time in Twin Falls visiting relatives, and has resumed her school work. She reports that Miss Hanson is recuperating from the influenza, though not yet able to resume teaching. Word was received in Rogerson recently that Will Lake, who was critically ill with influenza in Kansas, is now out of danger. Charlie Forman of the Shoshone Basin was among the outside business visitors here this week. He reports the recent snow fall in the Basin as being quite light. Cleve Boss is again able to be about after being ill with influenza for the past two weeks or more. Will Halsey, who has been quite ill for some time with influenza, was taken to a Twin Falls hospital on Monday, as his recovery is very slow. Jerome Resident Unearths Unique Relic in Garden

Fred Sampson, while Raking Weeds, Finds Pistol of Ancient Manufacture

While raking out some weeds in the back part of his premises Fred Sampson of Jerome discovered a pistol of ancient make. The weapon evidently had reposed where Sampson found it a good many years. The pistol is of the old-fashioned horse holster pocket make, is about seven inches over all with two inches of barrel. It has a muzzle loader and fired by percussion cap. The stock is of black walnut and the metal mountings and trimmings are solid silver. There is no date discernible on the weapon, but a manufacturer's plate bears the name "Deering" deeply stamped in the metal. It is about .38 calibre, rifle barreled and fully loaded, at least that was discovered by probing what appears to be the charge. The metal is badly rusted and the wood stock so much decayed that the iron is falling away from it. The lock, however, appears to be in good condition, and the hammer, devised to be lowered and raised by a spring, is still operative. There are many conjectures as to how the ancient weapon happened to be found. It is the most accepted theory being that some early argonaut, passing through the country years and years ago, when the trail from the Missouri river to Oregon led through this section, lost it. The fact that the weapon is apparently loaded supports this theory.

Daily Thought. Not what happened to myself today, but what has happened to others through me—that should be my thought.—Frederick Deering Blake.

USE HAMPER TO CARRY PRODUCE TO CONSUMERS

Connecticut Farm Bureau Inaugurates Experiment in Simplifying Distribution of Foodstuffs from Farm.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—An experiment in use of the hamper for carrying products of the farm from the farmer to the city householder is being tried out in Connecticut. The department of agriculture has approved the idea, which is patterned on that of the parcel post rural service. The street railway express is the medium of transportation, not the mails.

Farmer Takes Orders

A farmer may take orders by telephone or mail, fill up a hamper and deliver it to the nearest street railway company which maintains an auxiliary express service along its lines with automobiles, delivery to the cities. Eggs, poultry, apples and other farm products, ordered over the wire, may be delivered in a hamper with as much care as a marketman in town gives to his city customer.

The New Haven county farm bureau, which for a year has studied local marketing, by a survey found the possibilities of the trolley express were such as to develop a "farm to table" delivery by means of a "home hamper." Connecticut is gridironed by trolley lines. Thousands of farmers can see cross country trolley lines pass. Express cars pick up wayside freight or express matter at any stopping place. Hampers made up in fifteen minutes are delivered in New Haven and Bridgeport within two hours, or in as short an interval as a city merchant makes his local deliveries.

Use Uniform Hamper

The plan contemplates use of a uniform hamper of varying sizes, easily handled as express, recognized by car crews and automobile drivers as containing foodstuffs with the possibility of perishable articles, like dressed poultry, or breakables, like eggs. Experimental hampers hold enough food to last a family several days. Success of the plan will largely depend on the initiative of farmers in securing customers who are willing to have delivery made in this way.

Living Creatures That Are Immortal

In the Protocoz, as Weismann and others have pointed out, the recuperative processes are so perfect that natural death need never occur; the stable mortal parts of the colloidal substratum can be reduced and restored piece-meal, and the creature never grows old. It is probable that the same is true of a simple animal like the freshwater Hydra, which may also be credited with immortality.—New York Herald.

Origin of the Jazz Band

The jazz band idea, according to a French paper, originated in the time of the Directory. At the concert of the Cat orchestra were twenty cats, headed in a row on the keyboard of a harpsichord. The performer by striding the keys pulled the cats' tails, causing a caterwauling which sounded like a jazz band.

VENERABLE STATESMAN MUCH CONGRATULATED

Former Lord Chancellor Celebrates Seventieth Anniversary of Call to Bar

LONDON, (AP)—Lord Halsbury, the venerable former Lord Chancellor, has been receiving a flood of congratulations on the 70th anniversary of his call to the bar. Although in his 70th year, he still goes to public dinners, makes speeches, and takes part in all the appeal cases before the House of Lords.

Lord Halsbury became Lord Chancellor in 1895 and his two temporary re-appointments filled his position without interruption from 1895 to 1906 when he retired definitely. Since the pension of a Lord Chancellor is 5,000 pounds a year, it is estimated that Lord Halsbury has already received something like 100,000 as retiring allowances, and as one of the newspapers puts it, "he is still going strong."

REFORM URGED IN NAMING OF WAR CHILDREN

Babies Born in France During Conflict are Burdened with Topical Cognomens, Mostly Incongruous

PARIS, (AP)—Babies in France in war times or since have received many topical names, for the most part ugly and incongruous. An appeal has now been issued that this custom cease, and that the ordinary christian names, to be drawn from the calendar of saints, should once more become universal in the country. Among the names given to some of the unfortunate children born during the war, Joffrette and Joffrette are common. A father of Bordeaux was anxious to christen his daughter Bevanche and this name was also suggested by an inhabitant of Montreal for his son. Place names, such as Narbonne, Liège, Le Marne, Alsace-Lorraine, Munich, Verdun and Balaclava, are also now quite usual. As for the Frances and the Victories, it should be difficult to count them.

One father wanted to name his son Bismarck after one of the masses, Nette and Bismarck, sold during the war. The registry clerk, luckily for the unfortunate child, refused to register such a name, as in France the only christian names which are recognized by the law are those which appear in the calendar of saints. A campaign is now being organized for the strict enforcement of the law.

Shallowness

Shallow waters show a very clear bottom and but little intensity of light is needed in order to display the pebbles and clear sand. That must be a "purest ray serene"—a pencil of strongest light—which discloses the black, rich, unbroken depths. For the clearness of depth is very different from the clearness of shallowness. The former is a positive quality. The latter is negative.—Charles Warren Stoddard.

INDUSTRIAL LIBERTY

"Industrial liberty, like civil liberty, must rest upon the solid foundation of law. Disregard the law in either, however good your motives, and you have anarchy. The plea of trades unions for immunity, be it from injunction or from liability for damages, is as fallacious as the plea of the lynchers. If lawless methods are pursued by trades unions, whether it be by violence, or by intimidation, or by the more peaceful infringement of legal rights, that lawlessness must be put down at once and at any cost."—Louis D. Brandeis.

You may have asked yourself the question, "How does the 'Open' or 'Closed' shop affect me?"

Here is one of the ways that it may affect you very materially.

You must have a house to live in, and decide to build. You have plans drawn and get estimates on the cost. You may have the work done by a general contractor, who will hire the different craftsmen, as the job progresses, or you may decide to let the work to contractors in the different crafts.

We will say that you let the contract to a general contractor. Under the "Closed Shop," as operated in other cities, he must employ only men of all crafts who carry cards from the Building Trades Council. If all works well, and you secure efficient workmen you will get your house built in a workmanlike manner, but if one of the subcontractors is declared "unfair" by the "Trades Council" (over which you have no control), or any material is delivered on the job which is considered "unfair" by the business agent of the Building Trades Council, then all the men on the job will be called from the work and no work can be done until an adjustment is made to satisfy the demands of the business agent representing the Building Trades Council.

Let us suppose that you prefer to let the work of building your house to several contractors, each to perform the work of his craft. Under the "Closed Shop," as ordinarily operated, you cannot give the contracts to any but contractors who employ men affiliated with the Building Trades Council, and you must buy only the materials approved and rated as "Fair." You may prefer some material that is rated as "unfair," but the workmen will not handle it. You may prefer to give all your contracts except one, to "Closed Shops," but if you award one contract to an "Open Shop," then the mechanics employed by the "Closed Shops" will refuse to work on your job, and you will be forced to hire the men and buy the materials which are rated as "Fair" by the Building Trades Council before your house can be finished.

Under the "Open Shop" policy you are free to hire such men as you desire. You formed by union men and another may have one portion of the work performed by men who affiliate with no organization, yet do the work as you desire it. You may go into the market and purchase such materials as meet your requirements, and at prices that meet with your approval, regardless of whether they are produced by union or non-union labor. In short, you are free to patronize whom you will.

Since available statistics indicate that between 80 and 90 per cent of all business transacted in the United States is done on the "Open Shop" basis, it naturally follows that the restrictions surrounding the "Closed Shop," make for a curtailment of production, an inefficiency of operation, and bring about conditions that are unjust to the bulk of the population, and work a hardship on every man, woman and child who desires to work, yet perhaps belongs to no union.

Not a word should be said against the man who affiliates with a union of his fellow craftsmen, but no union should prevent any man from working at his trade because he does not belong to a trades union.

The "Open Shop" is American Stand for the "Open Shop"

The purpose of the Southern Idaho Employers' Association, Twin Falls Division, is to promote and safeguard the interests of our citizenship, including both employes and employers, and their families—by insuring, through the principles of the open shop, and by other means, equal opportunity to all, and by preventing all unjust discriminations, whether against employes, employers or the general public. It is not the purpose of the committee to combat organized labor, as such, or to prevent the formation of labor unions; but rather to protect personal liberty and property rights by seeing that non-union workers have an equal chance in Twin Falls with workers who belong to the unions.

SOUTHERN IDAHO EMPLOYERS' ASSOCIATION, TWIN FALLS DIVISION:

I believe that the "open shop" should prevail in the City of Twin Falls, as outlined by your committee, in order that the very best business conditions may obtain, and that no discrimination shall be made against any man or body of men engaged in any legitimate business or trade in this community.

ENGLAND COUNTS ON EXPORTS TO ALTER BALANCE

Indications Point to Diminution in Volume of Imports to United Kingdom with Brightened Prospects

LONDON, (AP)—Great Britain's adverse trade balance for the year amounted to 669,000,000 pounds. Against this will apply Britain's "invisible exports," which have been estimated by the board of trade at 1,000,000,000 pounds, for freight charges, 80,000,000 pounds, in interest on foreign investments, and 40,000,000 pounds in income charges on the earnings of British citizens abroad, etc. These would total 2,000,000,000 pounds, leaving an adverse balance of 140,000,000 pounds, as compared with the pre-war favorable balance of 220,000,000 pounds.

A considerable reduction of the excess of imports over exports is expected in 1920 for two reasons in particular. First, the American Chamber of Commerce in London. First, the imports in the early months of 1919 are stated to have consisted largely of balances of deliveries of war materials which will, however, not recur in 1920. Second, 1919 was largely a year of re-stocking for British manufacturers. In 1920, therefore, the American Chamber says, Britain should be able to export more on imports of raw materials while the exports of finished goods should be increased.

Despite the fact that Britain's 1919 imports were more than twice her 1913 imports in value, the American Chamber points out that they were less than four-fifths the 1913 imports in quantity. The average cost of 1913 imports figures out at about 16 pounds a ton; in 1919 it was about 41 per cent. Great Britain is still importing less than her pre-war quantities.

A review of the monthly totals shows an almost unbroken rise in the export of British goods, culminating in a year's production of 1,000,000,000 pounds. Of this 632,000,000 pounds, or almost 80 per cent, were manufactured articles, a tribute to the degree in which British production is under way despite the curbing of the industrial districts since the armistice.

According to the American Chamber, prospects for British trade for the coming year, both for export and re-export, are unusually promising.

Irrepressible in Business

The good-natured man with a well-balanced mind in business, he does not go around fawning his cheerfulness to right and left unobtrusively. He does not need to be easy to be good natured. He can be firm in his convictions, and immovable from his principles, and yet he can assert himself in that quiet, sincere way which wins the respect even of his opponents.—From "The Northwest Buzzer," published by Northwestern Electric Equipment company, St. Paul, Minn.

Tax of Idleness

It would be thought a hard government that should tax its people one-tenth part of their time, to be employed in its service. It is idleness taxes many of us much more. If we reckon all that is spent in absolute sloth, or in doing nothing; with that which is spent in idle employments or amusements that amount to nothing. Sloth, like rust, consumes faster than labor wears; while the used key is always bright, as Poor Richard says.—Franklin

DIRECT-MARKETING HAS DIFFICULTIES

Department of Agriculture Report Suggests Farmer Needs the Middleman

Farmers have often tried direct marketing to consumers, and history is full of the wreckage of co-operative marketing schemes. The department of agriculture in a recent report sets forth some of the reasons for these failures, in the shape of a list of difficulties met by farmers when attempting to take middlemen out of the picture.

Some people are in the dark concerning the middleman's job. That job is to bring farming, mining, or manufacturing producers together with the consumer of their products. Clearly the department of agriculture does not believe an automobile engine can be connected up direct with the rear wheels, but the same transmission and gears and the differential in between. So it is with the middleman who connects the farmer and the consumer.

The difficulties mentioned in the report are as follows: (1) The difficulty of ascertaining and maintaining the quality of product desired by consumers; (2) getting consumers to attend to mill necessary business details and both of re-ordering; (3) getting consumers to wait for the delivery of products ordered; (4) the difficulty of consumers getting in touch with desirable farmers; (5) the difficulty of farmers getting in touch with desirable consumers; (6) securing the special skill and personality needed for successful marketing; (7) getting farmers' and consumers' prices on fair prices.

This formidable list of difficulties, the wholesale and retail merchants dealing in food products, meet by mastery of the special problems involved in the marketing. The jobber knows the market, both as to quality and quantity of goods required. He maintains a large stock of the products that he knows the consumers in his territory go for. He has a force of salesmen going direct to the retailer, and is able to make prompt delivery of the small orders. His skilled credit and collections department serves to minimize the difficulties connected with payment. On top of this, the wholesaler distributor of food products is a skilled specialist in buying, and may be said to do the "shopping" for his salesmen.

The farmer can meet the difficulties pointed out by the department of agriculture by doing the same things that the jobber does. He can become a specialist in his line, and get rid of the difficulties which confront him as a mere farmer. The question then arises, however, can a man do both jobs so well that he is not better in this age of specialization, to have the farmer, the manufacturer, the middleman, all "stick to their last"?

By co-operation of specialists the interests of the consumer are best served.

High Prices During Civil War

The cost of staples were extremely high during the four years of the Civil war, and a decline in prices began to set in in 1860 and 1867. The following are the prices of staples which prevailed in 1867: Coal, $3.50 per ton; flour, $11.25 per barrel; sugar, 14 cents a pound; butter, 46 cents per pound; fresh beef, 10 1/2 cents per pound; eggs, 42 cents per dozen.

CHINOOK-WASHER VALLEYS FIELD CABBAGES WEIGHING 23 POUNDS

Vancover, B. C.—Cabbages weighing twenty-five pounds each, that a six-year-old child can lift behind, what over a man's head and forty-five bushels to the acre, oats up to a horse's shoulders—these are some of the products of the rich farming lands "warm" chinook winds in British Columbia.

Settlers in British Columbia have a variety of land to choose from. Of the 250,000,000 acres in the province, 92,000,000 are forest lands, and the other 15,000,000 acres carry merchantable timber. Once cleared, much of this land is as agriculturally as any in Canada. The clearing of the land is a source of great profit and numerous saw-mills have been established. The timber industry of the province is being rapidly developed. Devastated Europe is clamoring for all the timber America can supply and the Panama canal opens to British Columbia a direct sea route for an immense lumber trade.

There are, also, many valleys and rolling lands along the rivers and watercourses whose soil is declared, by experts, to be as rich as any on the continent. Two districts already have been surveyed by the government and laid out for settlement. One comprises 25,000 acres in the Nephako valley around Vanderhoof, and the other, 15,000 acres in Bulkley valley. While the lands are rated as good for grain as those of the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, British Columbia farmers have gone in for mixed farming and they have better in the long run than to stake all their year's prospects on a single crop of wheat.

LURE OF TROUT DISCLOSES RICH COPPER REGION

Pioneer History of Montana Reveals Interesting Facts in Connection with Discovery of Butte

BUTTE, Mont., (AP)—Lure of the gamey trout in the Deer Lodge river, which took Ooley Humfrey and William Allison out of their way in going home to Alder gulch, led to the discovery of Butte, now the great copper mining camp and one of the greatest silver producers in the world.

The discovery was made in August, 1866, according to records which have been received by the state historical library, from Dennis Leahy, through whose efforts the original locators were followed over a trail seven days old to their prospect under a big tree where the Gagnon claim was worked afterward. The Gagnon claim, which started from a prospect hole under a big tree, signified later in the mining litigation and mining details which made Butte history, and is now in the heart of the city.

Dennis Leahy, writing from his home in Omaha to Justice W. Y. Pemberton, state librarian, says:

"You want to know who were the first five men who settled Butte. They were as follows: Ooley Humfrey, William Allison, Dennis Leahy, Henry Porter and Herb Madison.

"Humfrey and Allison are the discoverers of Butte. I was persuaded to go and track them from Virginia City, Mont., when the trail was seven days old, and Porter and Madison came with me. Porter and another man had been fishing in Deer Lodge river and were coming down to Alder Gulch and camped on Divide creek. Humfrey and Allison came out over the hills from Silver Bow creek, Joe Warnick, a druggist in Alder Gulch, got some of the ore and made an assay and was very much excited. He hunted me up and persuaded me to go and find the place where they got the ore and said he had a man that saw them come out of the hills to the trail at Divide creek.

"So I went and tracked them to the original lead and found them sinking a prospect hole under a big tree where the Gagnon claim was worked afterwards."

EDUCATION ASSOCIATION PASS BENEFICIAL LAWS

Resolution Bill favoring re-organization of Ontario, and Federal Appropriation for Schools

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—Calvin M. Kendall, commissioner of education of New Jersey, was elected president of the National Education Association in convention here yesterday. Other officers elected were: Ernest A. Smith, superintendent of schools, Salt Lake City, Utah, first vice-president; J. M. Gwin, superintendent of schools, New Orleans, second vice-president; and Bolo M. Ryan, assistant superintendent of schools, Omaha, Neb., secretary.

Charges of autocratic rule by the officers in selecting their successors was made in a resolution offered by Superintendent Fred Kuntz, Oakland, Cal., asking that the new officers be chosen by the 8,000 delegates rather than by a nominating committee approved by the president. The resolution was defeated.

The keynote of the report of the resolutions committee was indorsement of steps to induce congress to pass the Smith-Towner bill providing for a secretary of education in the president's cabinet and an annual federal appropriation of $100,000,000 for salaries and school activities. The resolutions committee was headed by Charles C. Hughes, Sacramento, California.

HOME PURCHASE IS FORCED UPON PITTSBURGERS

More than 60,000 Families Buy Dwellings During Year when Confronted with Alternative of Moving

PITTSBURG, (AP)—More than 60,000 Pittsburgh families bought their homes during the past year, not because they were particularly anxious to own their own homes, but, according to real estate men, they had to buy or move. This is continuing at the same rate thus far this year.

The home buying movement began two years ago when war activities in the mills brought scores of families into a community whose housing accommodations had been interestingly scarce for a number of years. Cost of construction increased and this curtailed building operations.

Rents have increased in proportion, small houses and apartments showing the highest percentage. Fifty per cent raises for the coming year are said to be common, while in some instances 100 per cent has been asked and paid while the occupant could afford it.

"The demand is here and the living places are not," is the way one real estate man explained the situation.

Similar conditions prevail throughout the Pittsburgh area, in some of the manufacturing towns industrial corporations are building and buying houses for their men, while in Sharon, Pa., the chamber of commerce has undertaken to finance the construction of 500 residences.

VARSITY SPORTS MAY WOO NEALE FROM RED LEGS

The Cincinnati Reds have not yet signed up Earl (Greasy) Neale, their star right fielder, for the 1920 season. But the outfielder is not worrying, since the athletic center at Marietta college, backed up by the alumni, have offered him $5,000 a year to coach baseball, football and basketball.

Neale's coaches at Marietta football team last fall. He believes that he will accept the offer if the Reds do not come through with the money he wants. Neale is like Hugo Bezdek, the big football star from Marietta. Both like all around college athletics.

ROPER RE-ENGAGED

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—William M. Roper, head coach of the Princeton football team, is expected to return for the next two seasons, according to an announcement today by the board of athletic control.

Coach Roper, whose freshman team went through the 1919 season with a clean slate, also will be back next season as coach.

PRICE TOO HIGH FOR BOXERS, SAYS BAKER, PROMOTER

No Fighter is Worth $175,000 According to Australian who Has the Dope

"No two boxers in the world are worth as much as $175,000," says Snowy Baker, the famous Australian promoter.

Snowy, one of the famous sporting characters of the world, is speaking out for the News at Six in New South Wales. He wrote his opinion of boxing purses previous to the recent fight between Carpenter and Beckett in England. It is interesting to read:

"People in all parts of the world are bidding for a Georges Carpentier-Jack Dempsey match; $20,000 has been offered the pair to contest the title honors in Australia. Mr. Dempsey is willing to give $25,000 for these stars to meet in London.

"No boxer or pair of boxers are worth this amount for the privilege of showing their wares in the 'squared circle.'"

Snowy has the right idea. It is time the fans had something to say about the reckless handling of such large amounts of money, for it is the fan who pays the price.

Good Way to Clear Land.

In the novel method of clearing land adopted by a Minnesota farmer, the underground roots are buried under the tree trunks above the ground for use as firewood. At one side of each stump an excavation is made in the ground, and from this a hole is bored through the roots to a stovepipe set upright in the ground on the other side. When a fire is kindled in the excavation, the draft set up through the roots and the pipe causes the roots to be slowly consumed, until the stump may be toppled over quite unharmed.

What to wear is the now-question—and women who seek for the answer in the store ads as well as in fashion articles are wise.

Holy Land to be Made Homeland For Millions Now Facing Death

To make Haifa not only the leading city of the Eastern Mediterranean, but a great port as well, is the plan of engineering experts engaged in the reconstruction of the Holy Land.

The first step in the vast restoration program necessary to prepare Palestine to absorb hundreds of thousands of Jews from all over the world, who are waiting with almost frenzied impatience to flee from persecution and massacre as soon as immigration opens up with the signing of the Turkish treaty, these experts plan rebuilding the harbor of Haifa, so that it will be adequate to handle this world mass migration and the increased commercial and agricultural production of the Holy Land.

The British government plans spending $5,000,000 for immediate harbor improvements at Haifa, while through the $10,000,000 national campaign for the Palestine Restoration Fund, the Society of Engineers of the Zionist Organization of America will be enabled to undertake the preliminary work, which ultimately is expected to convert Haifa into the most important city of the Near East.

Hand in hand with the harbor improvements, the Zionist engineers plan to build railroads and highways, for irrigation, reclamation of swamp lands, sanitation, agricultural projects, modernizing old cities and building new ones along the coast, all with the end in view of providing facilities in the Holy Land to take care of its thousands of new citizens who are anxiously awaiting the word to go there and assist in establishing the Jewish National Homeland.

Prof. Patrick Geddes of the University of Edinburgh, known as the world's most famous town planner, is at present in Palestine for the Zionist Organization—working on the modernizing of Jerusalem, without destroying its historical and biblical aspects, and on the construction of the University of Jerusalem, destined to be the center of Jewish culture and education.

In addition to rebuilding Jerusalem, Prof. Geddes is planning the modernizing of Haifa, Jafa, Tiberias, Acca and other towns of Palestine, as well as the building of new cities, which will be necessary when mass migration opens up on a large scale.

Zionist engineers expect Damascus to rival its ancient world importance, when rebuilt Haifa provides it with an adequate outlet to the Mediterranean. With Haifa as the port for Damascus, fertile Mesopotamia, as well as for rejuvenated Palestine, the Zionist experts expect to provide a Palestine merchant marine, at an expenditure of another $10,000,000.

PRISONERS CROWD CONJON AT GOODING

Numerous Arrests, Principally on Liquor Charges, Will Jail to Utmost Limit

GOODING, Idaho, (Special)—So many arrests have been made here in the past few days that the jail is crowded to the limit. If malefactions continue additional battle quarters will be needed.

The principal arrests are for drunkenness and bootlegging and operation of moonshine stills. George Rothmel, a rancher southeast of Gooding, was recently arrested on the latter charge, the sheriff having found a still on his place. The illicit distillery was discovered under Rothmel's garage, a secret door leading to the place of operation. A barrel of mash, composed of raisins and grain, in process of fermentation, was found, together with several sacks of ground grain, a stove for cooking, the pipe of which led to the house flue. Rothmel, after strenuously denying the charge that he was making moonshine whiskey, finally confessed. At first he stated he was making manufacturer's tests for a new process of yeast.

Sheriff R. O. Jones, who headed the Rothmel raid, reports having found a part-of-a-still outfit along the Snake river. August Burkhardt is held in jail for selling booze. Harry Raymond, of the state constabulary, raided a place at Mountain Home and took in charge a man who has given a half dozen names since his arrest. The owner had several quarts of home-made liquor in his possession.

Three young men, accused of pilfering the cash register at the C. H. Barber place are under arrest. It is said the men stole $39 from the register.

Originally "Easterling" Sterling, in such applications as sterling silver, has a curious history. The people, especially merchants, from Germany, were called Easterlings, because the country lay east of England. About the time of King Richard, money coined in Germany came into great demand in England. Men retired to mining; were imported into England, and the coins they produced were called Easterlings, after the name of imported workmen. By the tendency of abridgment that seems inherent in all languages, the first part of the word was dropped, and the word became sterling.

Garifout Once Valuable Bird.

Off the coast of Newfoundland lies a group of islands called the Funks. Here in the beginning of the last century the garifout, with its short, abortive wings, resorted in hundreds and hundreds of thousands to breed. Its feathers were soft and fine. Beneath the feathers was a thick coating of valuable down, and its flesh, after the bird had been soaked, was extremely palatable.

Might Be Worth It.

It is estimated that an expenditure of $10,000,000,000 would be required to equip the United States with all village tools necessary to bring its farms up to the highest possible production.

JAPANESE DIET TORN ASUNDER ON SUFFRAGE

Dissolution by Imperial Decree Results from Profound Dis- agreement over Extension of Franchise

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Japanese diet has been dissolved by imperial decree as a result of a profound difference of opinion between the cabinet and the lower house in the past regarding the extension of the franchise.

This action was taken by the emperor last Thursday at the request of Premier Hara, according to cabinet advisers received here today from Tokio. It followed the recent violent scenes in parliament over the suffrage question.

Under the constitution a new election must be held within five months. The parliament last dissolved is now about two and a half years old. There were few sessions during the war and Christmas day was practically its first business session. The cabinet measures brought forward related to the extension of the franchise. About two years ago, the government had consented to the passage of legislation which extended the right of the people of Japan to vote to those whose direct tax exceeded three yen.

Opposition Forces Issues

The government intended to test the new law by the election of a diet before consenting to any measure of further extension. But the powerful opposition party—the Ken-Sei-Kai—made an issue of a measure conferring universal suffrage upon all males in Japan.

Without awaiting a test vote which might have amounted to an expression of a lack of confidence in the cabinet, the premier applied to the emperor for a writ of dissolution which was granted.

Violence Marks Debate

The debate on the suffrage question reached its climax on February 14, and resulted in violent scenes in the lower house. Dispatches from Tokio said the opposition attacked the government for opposing the measure and that the president was obliged to intervene.

The police fought members of the house in the lobby and the crowds outside attempting to break into the building and demonstrations continued during the night.

Hot Legal Fight Looms

The portly charges are expected to develop one of the first legal fights of the trial and it was expected both the state and defense would attempt to get the matter into the trial of Wootton, when court convened again Monday.

When court adjourned Friday afternoon Frank E. Curley, assistant chief counsel for the defense, said that defense would have witnesses present on Monday to hear out the testimony given by Stephenson.

Oakley Quintet Defeats Twin Falls But Latter Comes Back Against Heyburn

Twin Falls high school varsity quintet lost a hard-fought game to Oakley last night at Oakley, 35 to 31. The defeat is believed to be due to Oakley's floor, which is hard to play on unless a team is accustomed to it. Twin Falls showed superiority over the Oakley five here on the local floor some time ago and had an easy time defeating the team which won from them last night.

Thursday night at Heyburn Natifco's men took a 2-1 defeat from Heyburn, 50 to 39. The two games of the week have put the local men in good shape for the tournament and it is likely that Oakley will be completely outplayed when it comes here for games Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Griffin declined to discuss the "moonshining" reports but denied a report the girls had been gambling with dice.

Today's Markets

New York Exchange

NEW YORK, (AP)—The week-end session of the stock market was listless and uncertain, rally furnishing almost the only element of activity and strength. Even in that quarter speculation was shown by investment shares. Lower priced issues of the western and southwestern divisions; also culvers and cotton carriers, mounted to new high prices for the current movement; but early gains of 1 to 2 points were reduced later. Oils and motors moved within narrow bounds but steels and equipments inclined moderately downward. The closing was irregular. The sales approximated 200,000 shares. Liberty bonds and Victory notes reflected further pressure.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Final prices of Liberty bonds today were: 3 1/2's $24.34; first 4's $20.20; second 4's $20.40; first 4-1/4's $20.90; second 4-1/4's $20.04; third 4-1/4's $22.30; fourth 4-1/4's $20.20; Victory 3 3/4's $27.30; Victory 3 3/4's $27.35.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Predictions of an improvement in traffic conditions after railroads are returned to private ownership continued somewhat in weakening the corn market. Renewed attention was also given to gossip that the government report on farm reserves would indicate a good sized surplus. Scarcity of corn was also noted. Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 1 3/4 lower, with May $1.25 to 1.35 1/2 and July $1.29 3/4 to 1.29 7/8, were followed by a moderate general setback.

Month-end adjustment of trades led to a brisk rally near the finish. Prices closed unsettled, at 1 1/2c net lower to 1 3/8c advance, with May $1.28 3/4 to 1.36 7/8 and July $1.31 to 1.31 1/8. Oats were easier with corn. After opening 1-8 to 1-2c lower, including May at 79 1/4 to 79 1/2c, the market continued to sag.

AVIATOR TELLS OF ASCENT INTO RECORD HEIGHT

Major Schroeder, Recovering from Five Mile Fall, Determined to Make Another Aerial Climb

SAULT STEPHENS, Ohio, (AP)—Major R. W. Schroeder, pilot of the "Waco" biplane, yesterday fell more than five miles in two minutes after shattering the world's altitude record, miraculously escaping death. He today is recovering from a serious injury, and determined to make another ascent into the heavens at the first opportunity.

Major Schroeder yesterday to a height of 38,000 feet, then plunged downward more than five miles when his engine stalled. He was rescued by a plane which landed near his position. He was then taken to a hospital in Columbus, Ohio.

When attendants rushed to the machine they found him sitting erect in the plane, blinded and unconscious. His eyeballs had been frozen, the temperature at the height to which he had ascended being 87 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

At the hospital last night Major Schroeder told of the climb to heights never before attained, of his battle with the wind and the struggle of his determination to mount 40,000 feet above the ground, his objective when he took the air yesterday.

"I was thinking only of my desire to climb 40,000 feet when suddenly my oxygen stopped flowing," he said. "Then, all at once, it seemed that an explosion took place inside my head. My eyes hurt and they would not open then and I knew I was falling. I guess I pulled hard on the stick, for I knew I must straighten out for a glide. The plane rode easy. I opened my eyes but could see nothing of the ground. Then I closed my eyes again for a moment and when I opened them saw William Wright flying. I knew I could see them there in the haze, and I tilted my machine for a climb, intending to make sure of a good altitude and then jump with my parachute. But at that instant I saw McCook field and came down."

Some witnesses inclined to the belief that a strange body was coming with a message from Mars, Professor William Beale astronomer at St. Mary's college, observed the airplane through a telescope, however.

Thousands saw the machine appear, a mere black speck against the sky. Then they saw it become larger and larger, leaving a long white trail in its wake as it fell. When the machine was about 3000 feet above the ground the watchers saw the outlines of the plane as it whirled downward in a tall spiral. Then they saw the machine suddenly righted. It was at this time that Major Schroeder pulled the control stick and the instrument of Major Schroeder's machine told the story of his fight against the elements as he climbed upward. His thermometer recorded a temperature of 87 degrees below zero. The barograph reading indicates an altitude of 37,000 feet, and when calibrated by Captain Harrison W. Pickering showed an official altitude of 38,000 feet, a new world's record, and a variation of less than 1000 feet.

HOUSE REFUSES FINANCES FOR PROHIBITION PATROLS
WASHINGTON, (AP)—The house unanimously refused today to appropriate money for a bill for use until July 1 in attempting to prevent the smuggling of liquor over the Canadian and Mexican borders. Provisions for the appropriation had been inserted in the general deficiency bill by the senate.

Representative Cannon, republican, Illinois, declared that "nothing short of the army, the navy and the coast guard" could stop the smuggling of liquor into this country so long as there was a demand for it.

WOOD FRIENDS IN IDAHO WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

Vigorous Fight in Prospect for Delegation to Chicago Inducted for Military Candidate

REGARDED AS DEFIANCE TO COMMITTEEMAN HART

Part to Be Played by Senior Senator in Gem State Politics Remains Topic for Interesting Conjecture

BOISE, Idaho (Special to The News)—Backers of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood do not take kindly to the idea of sending an uninducted delegation from Idaho to the republican national convention. Maj. H. H. Armistead arrived in Boise Wednesday night to take charge of the Wood campaign in this state. He will open headquarters in the Owyhee hotel and the vigorous fight for a delegation instructed for Wood. He was accompanied to Boise by Guy H. Martin of Sandpoint, who will be in charge of the republican candidate for governor back in 1912. While these two are looking after the Wood interests in the south, George E. Backen will look after the interests of the military candidate in the north, directing the campaign from Sandpoint. This is interesting because the first anti-armistead of the campaign of 1920 was a republican action of national delegates in the Coeur d'Alene convention in April.

Again it is interesting because this fight for an instructed delegation the Wood men must be regarded as open defiance to John W. Hart. At the recent meeting of the republican state committee in Boise, Backen was named for an uninducted delegation. In the course of that speech he said he had been in conference with Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, and that Hays had urged the sending of an uninducted delegation from Idaho.

There are some so uncharitable as to say that what Hart really desires is a military candidate for the presidency. It is presumed that Idaho-republicans in 1920 will follow precedent and allow the delegates to the national convention to choose the Idaho member of the national committee. Viewing the matter from this angle it is not difficult to figure out the special interest of John W. Hart. He would naturally be solicited to be one of the delegates. If he could have much to say in the selection of delegates it would suit him all the better. Then when it came to the selection of the Idaho member of the national committee it would be up to John W. Hart.

Whether or not Senator Borah is back of all this will perhaps never be known definitely. It is one of the things in politics that must be worked out by cause and effect. It probably would be perfectly natural for Senator Borah to wish to control the delegation from his own state. He is never spoken of here as a candidate for the presidency itself, and to judge from present indications his name will not go before the Chicago convention. But even so, he will have his choice and he will have his game to play. For strategic reasons he might wish to throw the Idaho vote to Hiram Johnson or to Pinckney. He might wish to keep it dangling in the air until the band wagon have in sight, and by an adroit move land squarely on the front seat of the foremost band wagon. It would be a sad sight—Senator Borah in the Chicago convention with no votes to deliver except perhaps his own.

It will be hardly seen from this that Leonard Wood will have a hard row to hoe before he walks off with the Idaho delegation. This would be just as true of any other candidate. It will be a hard row to hoe for General Wood because of the field with tremendous advantages on the side of the field.

Selection of a Leonard Wood delegation under the circumstances would be instructed by many as a repudiation of John W. Hart, if not of Senator Borah. This is unthinkable. In fairness to all concerned it must be said, too, that sentiment for General Wood has not become vocal yet around the state capital. As a matter of fact there is but little sentiment expressed for any one of the candidates. A large majority of the republicans seem to be turning a "watchful waiting" policy, ready to swing to the candidate that seems strongest. One hears as much real talk for Hughes and Taft as for any other name in the race. This is another strong factor working for an uninducted delegation.

Idaho has been looked upon as so exclusively the preserve of Senator Borah that it has been added today to the list of those who will appear on the presidential preference primary ballot in Michigan April 5. Petitions were received by the secretary of state to take as to endorsement of the republican ballot and Palmer on the democratic ticket.

Hoover's name probably will appear on both republican and democratic tickets. He lacks less than 30 signatures to qualify for a place on the democratic ballot and these, it is understood, will be filed before Monday noon when the nominations will close.

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP)—Following an annual conference of members of the Non-partisan league of Nebraska, an announcement was made last night by C. A. These candidates will be members of the republican party, it was stated by Mr. Severance. No action was taken as to endorsement in the first, second and fourth districts.

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—Entries in Ohio's presidential preference primary closed yesterday. There were four republican candidates and three democratic in the race. All filed declarations with the secretary of state. The republican candidates are United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, Major General Leonard Wood, James R. Garfield, Ohio, and Louis A. Baird of Washington, D. C.

The democratic candidates are Governor J. M. Cox, former Governor J. R. Campbell, and James O. Monroe, of Chicago. These lists, however, are expected to be increased down to two republicans, Harding and Wood, and one democrat, Governor Cox, before time for printing the ballots arrives.

REMARKS, N. D., (AP)—Resolutions requiring all prospective candidates for the presidency to file for the primary election in North Dakota March 10 and endorsing the candidacy of Senator Hiram Johnson of California were adopted here yesterday at a meeting of the republican central committee, called by Chairman William Lenke, of Fargo.

The emerald has been known since early times, both in Europe and in certain parts of the Orient. Its name may be traced back to an old word which appeared in Greek as smaragdus, mentioned by Theophrastus three hundred years before the Christian era.

Sound, though seemingly a very definite manifestation of activity, is peculiar among physical phenomena for its lack of units or means of measurement. Story of the Emerald.
The emerald has been known since early times, both in Europe and in certain parts of the Orient. Its name may be traced back to an old word which appeared in Greek as smaragdus, mentioned by Theophrastus three hundred years before the Christian era.

Find Measurement for Sound.
Sound, though seemingly a very definite manifestation of activity, is peculiar among physical phenomena for its lack of units or means of measurement. An American physicist has finally arrived at a method of expressing sound values in watts, making absolute measurements with new and better apparatus than a standard source of sound, called a "phone," is made adjustable in tone by changing the volume of the resonator and the tension of wires supporting a mica diaphragm.—From the December Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Poor Places for Pictures.
The Corcoran art gallery says that it is harmful to an oil painting to hang it near a window where it will be exposed to the sun, or to be hung near a stove or radiator, as all heat agencies tend to dry the oil and make the painting crack.

PARANOIA

"Where are the good old-fashioned citizens who used to think men could diagnose totally and yet be patriotic?"

With this highly pertinent question, Vice-President Marshall struck the keynote in a recent address before the New Haven chamber of commerce, wherein he sounded a warning to hesitations and individuals seeking to enlist government aid in their activities to take care not to claim privileges which would create grievances.

"The war disposed of the hyphenated German-Americans at an awful price," Mr. Marshall said. "Is America to be rehabilitated by a new breed of hyphenated Americans? Is the rehabilitation to be turned over to the England-manufacturer-Americans, Agriculture-Americans, Federation of Labor-Americans, Protestant Americans or Catholic-Americans?"

The vice-president's inquiries strike a responsive chord pretty generally in what makes up the rank and file of American citizenship. A generous measure of attention is being directed in this country toward the answer to the questions he propounds, and toward the causes which make for the condition he depicts.

The vice-president himself offers a suggestion worthy of full consideration in the diagnosis of the case, with the declaration:

"One of the manifestations of paranoia is a fixed opinion that the victim is right and that everybody not agreeing with him is his personal enemy. Paranoia may be caused by shell shock. Have the thunderings of the cannon in Parieto reverberated across the Atlantic and caused many men in America to suffer shell shock and paranoid?"

It would be difficult to draw a more apt analogy than this and its significance suffers not a particle through appreciation of the fact that it cannot be the actual tumult of physical encounter to which Mr. Marshall refers as a possible cause for the existing unhappy situation.

The analogy holds good when psychic disturbances is substituted for reference to physical conflict.

It is extremely unlikely that even shell shock is as productive of the symptoms ascribed to the victims of paranoia as are the agencies that make for nurture of the spirit of self-pity.

These agencies have been periodically active in this country for some time, and invariably have been discovered at the bottom of the sinks from which emerge the stygian mutterings of "class consciousness."

Self-pity has nothing in common with discontent, which, tempered with common sense, is an essential factor in the forward march of humanity. Self-pity, on the other hand, is a brooder of the reactionary. It makes of its victims contemptible, intolerant specimens of humanity, bereft of initiative and suspiciously crying for larger shares of the reward won by competence. It makes of them most effective instruments in the hands of those who would wield them for selfish and destructive ends.

So efficacious is this means of producing those human instrumentalities and so amenable are so many mental-ities to its application that it would be a wonder indeed if agencies of sar-dony and other enemies of the policy that has made America great had not sought to turn their hand late its use.

And it is quite likely that this is what the vice-president intended to convey in his reference to the battle fields of Europe; because a monaco of the type he has portrayed never was bred in America.

DADDY'S EVENING
FAIRY TALE
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MR. GRASSHOPPER AGAIN.

"Really, Mrs. Grasshopper," said Mr. Grasshopper, hopping home one evening after a day spent in travelling about the country side.

"Really," he repeated, "I've had a most interesting time."

"Do tell me about it," said Mrs. Grasshopper, who had been feeling just like a good long series of hops, or perhaps a long walk of hops, one might say.

"Well," said Mr. Grasshopper, "of course when it comes this time of the year I feel like doing things, and in a short time I went. Just before the cold winds came and while there is a little bit of warmth and sunshine to these brisk autumn days I enjoy being out-of-doors, but such days are almost over now."

"So I was wandering about, hopping here and hopping there, enjoying this view and that, when along I came to a house that was white."

"Was there anything so remarkable about that?" asked Mrs. Grasshopper.
"Nothing remarkable in the least," said Mr. Grasshopper. "In fact, quite usual."

"Then why mention it?" asked Mrs.
Grasshopper.

"Oh, just to add a little color to the description or account which I am giving."

"You're not adding much color when you say the house was white," said
Mrs. Grasshopper.

"No," said Mr. Grasshopper, "but then I must speak the truth. The house was white. And when one speaks of adding color to a story or a description or an account of anything one means one is adding a little attractiveness to it."

"It makes my account a little more interesting when I say the house was white rather than just saying it was a house. Now you have more of an idea of what the house looked and it makes the story more real to you. You see it more as I did."

"True, true," said Mrs. Grasshop-
per. "Pray continue."

"I went into the white house, through the front door, which was opened wide. Now you might have thought that I would have been nervous or frightened hopping into a big house like that."

"You might have thought that I would be so embarrassed and shy and all of that, that I would have stumbled over the hall table and upset the flowers there."

"You're rather small to do all that,"
said Mrs. Grasshopper.

"If I had been terribly embarrassed
I might have done almost anything," he said.

"Perhaps," said Mrs. Grasshopper,
"but it isn't likely. However, do go on with your story."

"Well," Mr. Grasshopper said, "I hopped along the front hall and there I saw a hatrack. I believe that is its name. Anyway, it is a place where the hats are kept belonging to the people who live in the house. Also the hats of visitors are kept there, too."

"As I hadn't any hat to leave I didn't leave one. That was sensible enough."

"Very sensible," said Mrs. Grasshopper.

"But I hopped upon a hat and I said to myself:

"Grassy, I said, 'how you will be able to tell Mrs. Grasshopper about the new autumn hats and what you think of them and if they're so fine as people pretend from the fuss you've heard them make about hats.'"

"I hopped on the first hat and then on the second hat. And I looked at every hat there.

"To my mind they were just hats. There were not any that were especially nice, or though one green one did take my eye."

"That is, it didn't exactly take my eye, but it took my fancy.
You know—the expression."

"But most of the hats—Gracious,
I'm glad you don't waste your time,
Mrs. Grasshopper,
in hat shops, for if you didn't get anything better than the ones I saw, with the exception of the green one, I'd hate to hop down the fields with you."

"How interesting to have seen them all," said Mrs. Grasshopper. "Well, I never thought so much of them seeing them on people, and I'm glad to hear they're not so fine when seen close up."

Johnny Was Timid.
"Can you tell me, John," asked the fair young teacher, "where shingles

"Yes'm," answered modest Johnny,
"but I'd rather not, ma'am."

VILLA LIKED STOLEN
CAR BUT RETURNED IT

Newspapers in every section of the country were just repeating the remarkable experiences of Fred G. Hugo of Eagle Pass, Tex., who was kidnaped by Gen. Villa, held for $15,000 and then mysteriously released on condition that he "would keep his mouth shut," when a Detroit motor car manufacturer's representative arrived in Eagle Pass to consult his local dealer. One of the first persons the Detroit man met was Hugo himself. He found him at the dealer's place of business making inquiries about the delivery of a new car.

"You see," said Hugo, "Villa liked my car so well that he decided to keep it. I've got to have another."

And as Hugo's promise to the bandit general required him only to keep secret the time, place and conditions under which he was released, he consented to narrate some of the hitherto unpublished details of his remarkable experiences. He and his band had been hoping the town of Mexique, Coahuila, Mexico, when they visited the ranch of which he is manager, Hugo said. At the point of a revolver, Villa and five of his generals forced him to take the wheel of his touring car and drive them away. The federal army was in close pursuit but the bandits considered it advisable to give up their horses.

"It was a rough haul," said Hugo.
"There were practically no roads; the ruts were deep, said heavy and hills hard to climb. But through it all the car performed beautifully. I could see that Villa and the others were admiring her."

"Finally Villa said no other car had ever made that trip and wanted to know what the Dodge Brothers car sold for. I told him $1,000, or $1,200, Detroit, which made it about $1,200 in Eagle Pass, to which Villa replied that this was a very moderate price for such a car and that he had made an improbable trip in Mexico, but at no time had he been driven in a car that got along quite as well as this one."

Mr. Hugo added that the journey to the general's temporary rendezvous in the Paso del Rio in the state of Chihuahua was over 100 miles of terrific roads and that the car arrived in good condition.

Several days after this interview, the Eagle Pass dealer was surprised to see Hugo again driving about in his same familiar car. He learned with great surprise that it had been mysteriously returned, just as Hugo had been mysteriously released. Villa had sent word to him to be at an appointed place at a given time. He went and found his car awaiting him, with the rebel general's compliments.

"Over 300 miles of that wild, southerly and westerly road as fine as ever; not even the Gen. B. monogram was scratched," smiled Mr. Hugo, the ranchman, as he posed for a photograph.

Factory Enlarged—Production Doubled to Meet Increasing Popularity of Cole Aero-EIGHT

DURING 1919 only a fraction of the demand for Cole Aero-EIGHTS could be supplied, despite the fact that it was the largest production year which the Cole Motor Car Company had ever had. With the expansion of the factory to twice its former size, this production of Aero-EIGHTS will be more than doubled in 1920.

Though this will enable many motorists to own Cole Aero-EIGHTS who never before have been able to enjoy that privilege, several thousand unfilled orders carried over from 1919, must be accorded preferential deliveries during the early months of the present year.

Hence, all who now contemplate the purchase of Cole Aero-EIGHTS are urged to place their orders without delay, indicating the date of delivery desired, so that equitable distribution of the product may be made and prompt deliveries assured.

POINTS WAY TO ITALY'S RELIEF FROM BURDENS

American Avers Severe Check to Return to Prosperity is the Enormous Necessary Buying of Coal and Food

ROME, (P)—Economic purchases of coal and foodstuffs, which Italy is compelled to make abroad in depreciated currency constitute the severest check to this country's return to prosperity, says Alfred B. Anderson, American commercial attaché, in an interview in the Popolo Romano.

Conditions Temporary
Mr. Dennis points out that the price of coal in Italy is ten times the price in the United States and that this cripples all Italy's coal-consuming industries and upsets the balance of production between Italy and her industrial competitors. The American attaché says, however, that in his opinion this condition is merely temporary and will be improved with the lowering of freight rates and the opening of new sources of supply.

"I judge that Italy would be helped at this juncture," said Mr. Dennis, "if attention could be called in the United States to the opportunities now offered for the investment of American dollars in Italian enterprises. In my opinion it would cause less future strain and anxiety if a great part of the credits which Italy desires abroad should naturally come through the purchase by Americans of Italian securities. Under the present rates of exchange the investment of American dollars in Italy appears to offer exceptional opportunities to the investor.

Gains Manpower in War
"Italy is the only one of the great belligerent nations which has come out of the conflict richer in manpower than when it went into it. Half a million men were lost in the battlefield, but this was compensated by the return of reservists and the arrest for three years of the stream of emigration. Italy has a population today exceeding the total civilized population of South America and is probably richer in manpower than any like portion of the surface of the earth. This vigor abundant labor in many instances is touched with a genius for artistic creation, and constitutes one of Italy's most valuable assets."

Concerning the Sabbath
According to the Bible the Lord created the world in six days and rested on the seventh. As Saturday is the seventh day of the week, the Jews observe it as the Sabbath, as do certain other denominations following the old Moslem law. When Christ said, "Behold, they are become new," his followers regarded this as a command to change the old order, and they made the day of his resurrection the Sabbath.

Consideration of Price Problem Necessitates Continued Sessions at London

LONDON, (P)—Decision by the allied supreme council today to increase the monthly the prevailing high prices and the question of exchange will necessitate splitting the conferees into two bodies and continue the sessions in London at least another week.

After preliminary discussions this morning the council decided to investigate exchange, the scarcity of commodities, the operation of "rigged" markets with keeping up prices, and profits and taxation as it affects prices.

The financial question will be dealt with by the council with their official financial and economic advisers augmented from time to time with unofficial experts, owing to the importance placed on this investigation.

Japan was not represented this morning for the first time since the sessions were initiated in London. The council has not yet received a reply to the note it sent the Jugg-Blaws in the London notes, but N. P. Kitchin, representing Serbia, arrived in London this morning and will confer with Premier Lloyd George before the council meets this afternoon.

For the afternoon session the council inaugurated a plan of dividing its members into two bodies. The foreign ministers went over the decisions previously reached by the council on the Turkish peace terms with the treaty drafting committee. While this conference was going on the premiers with their financial experts heard Signor Bonomi outline Italy's views on the existing high prices of commodities and the conditions of the European exchange market.

Social Worm Turns

An English paper inveighs against hosts and hostesses who look upon their guests as temporary chattels, creatures to be disposed of at will, amused, fed, exercised and finally herded to bed, entirely without reference to their own desires. Few of these victims have the courage of Lady Georgina Grey, who on being told by her host, as he bade her good night, "We breakfast at nine," replied: "Oh, do you? Musical Instruments of Insects

Buzzing or humming is mainly due to rapid vibrations of the wings, which often strike the air more than a hundred times in a second, but there is sometimes a special quivering instrument near the base of the wings. Chirping or trilling is due to some sort of "stridulator" organ, one hard part being scraped against another, as the bow on the fiddle—it may be leg against wing.

CHARGE TRAPPERS WITH VIOLATION OF GAME LAW

Officials on Trail of Alleged Poachers Among Forest Workers at North Idaho

MISSOULA, Mont., (P)—That Montana trappers, given permission to work in the forests just across the Idaho line, are violating the game laws, is the charge of two officers, who returned recently from a long chase on snowshoes, after suspects.

They followed one trapper several days and came upon a "camp," where while they pedaled, chunks of moose meat lay. No track of the occupant was found, however.

J. H. Clark, deputy supervisor of the Big Lost national forest, and Andrew Bjork, a deputy game warden from Idaho were the officers on the alleged poacher trail. They have not given up hope of landing some of the game killers.

DENIES EXTRAVAGANCE OF ALCHEMIST'S DREAM

British Scientist Explains Method for Producing Gold from Base Metals

LONDON, (P)—The alchemist's dream of producing gold from base metals is not extravagant, asserted Professor Frederic Soddy, head of the Physical Chemistry department at Oxford, in a recent publication. He tells how to do it.

"To get gold from mercury," he says, "strip from the atom of mercury one beta particle, which will make thallium; then one alpha-particle which will turn the thallium into gold. Or, to get gold from lead, expel from the atom of lead one alpha-particle which will turn it into mercury, and proceed as before."

Investigators already are working along these lines.

Men of Spirit

There are men of spirit who are excessively exhausting to some people. They are the talkers who have what may be called jerky minds. Their thoughts do not run in the natural order of sequence. They say bright things on all possible subjects, but their signpost rack you to death. After a jolting half hour with one of these jerky companions, talking with a dull friend affords relief. CHEAPER MONEY CAUSES STRIKE

Effect of Diminishing Value of Austrian Currency Evidenced in Vienna

VIENNA, (P)—The effect of the diminishing value of Austrian currency is shown in the great increases in the wages demanded here. There was a strike of tailors the other day to enforce a demand by master tailors for an income of 65,780 crowns a year. Their pre-war warnings were about 2,700 crowns. Assistant tailors, that is plain sewers, asked for about 30,000 crowns a year. Before the war they averaged 700 crowns.

In all recent strikes and demands of other class of workers, a sliding scale allowance was asked so as to meet the advances in the price of necessities.

Growth of Cremation Idea

Available statistics compiled less than a decade ago show that in the United States the total number of cremations had risen to over 60,000 distributed among 35 crematories. The growth of cremation has been very rapid on the Pacific coast. In 1918 a contract was let by the government for the erection of a crematory in the Canal zone.

DESCRIBED FOR WAR WORK
OF AND THROUGH FRANK HELENA, Mont., (P)—Approximately 25,000 graves of American soldiers in France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and England, have been photographed by the American Red Cross, according to Mrs. Jessie Little of this city, who recently returned home after an absence since December, 1917, taking photographs in France.

It is surprising how many of the fallen soldiers have been identified, said Miss Little. "Also, remarkable work has been done in removing the bodies from the temporary places where they were often buried in haste, to the concentration cemeteries. The Argonne burial place, the largest, contains 22,000 graves."

GONZALES GIVES WORD TO ABIDE BY VOTE RESULT

Former Commander of Military Operations Issues Manifesto on Candidacy for Mexican Presidency.

EL PASO, Texas, (AP)—Solomon promises possibly to abide by the result of the July election has been made by General Pablo Gonzalez, former commander of military operations in the southern half of Mexico and now candidate for the presidency of the republic in a lengthy manifesto recently issued by him in Mexico City. Copies of the document have just reached the border.

"I am not possessed with unbridled ambitions of power," General Gonzalez says, "nor do I expect to reach the heights at any cost. I do not intend to provoke disorders or shed a drop of blood or cause the slightest national disturbance for my personal aggrandizement. I am ready to receive with perfect equanimity either victory or defeat, since both are human and possible. During the electoral campaign I shall not with entire decency and serenity."

A conciliatory policy toward foreign nations, especially the United States, was advocated by General Gonzalez, who also urged the passing of a sweeping law after rebellion has been put down "so that peace thus obtained may become an organic peace and not give way to new rebellions."

Other plans in the Gonzalez platform include the gradual decrease of the standing army, intellectual freedom, civil service, autonomy of cities, and changes in the administration of public funds.

"Economies in the war department, looking to the reduction of the army to the irreducible minimum and the utilization of the money saved in these departments" are likewise urged by General Gonzalez.

A subsidized press is denounced and the strong organic political parties is favored in the manifesto.

MONTANANS CO-OPERATING FOR ROOSEVELT HIGHWAY

Proposed Memorial Road to Pass Through Cities of Great Northern From Buford

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—The Northern Montana Good Roads association and the Northern Montana Development association are co-operating in a movement for the Theodore Roosevelt transcontinental memorial highway, which, as projected, would pass through the cities on the Great Northern "high line" across Glacier park and into Idaho through the Roosevelt pass. The road would enter Montana at Buford.

Commercial clubs in towns interested also will assist the development association and the road-association, it is expected.

Barcelona Once Great Seaport.

Until 1402 Barcelona was the New York of the Mediterranean. Its position in the northeastern coast of Spain, actually at about the same latitude as New York city, relatively to the Mediterranean world what the western city is to Atlantic trade routes. Columbus' voyage was considered a bit of impertinence on the part of the Castilian government to upset the balance of trade in favor of cities in western and southern Spain.

The Weeping Mice.

A friend of mine was engaging a cook lately, and inquired why she had left a certain place. "I couldn't stop there, madam," was the reply. "I don't mind rats, and I believe I'm economical, but in the kitchen they were so saving that the very mice would run about with tears in their eyes."—London Daily Express.

"The Lady on Horseback"

In the campaign for women's suffrage, Missouri produced a noted figure in Mrs. Moyer-Wing. A St. Louis paper pictured her as "The Lady on Horseback" because of her activities into the Ozark mountain country, not only for suffrage, but during the war, for the American Red Cross and the Liberty loans. She traveled thousands of miles, up and down the Ozarks, on her horse La Belle, preaching the gospel of patriotism and loyalty. She can speak and write and organize. Now she is giving her time and talents to the Women's Republican Auxiliary of Missouri, being an ardent Republican.

She is the daughter of a Civil War veteran, and her son, a sergeant, was in the foreign service in the World War.

IS MADE OTTIBEN WHILE IN EUROPE WITH ARMY

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Thomas P. Nielsen, a Dane, recently became a citizen of the United States through the local courts, although he is still in Europe, where he served with the United States army.

Before returning home, Nielsen desired to visit his parents in Denmark. However, he feared that if he returned to that country, which he left as a boy, without having become an American citizen, he would be forced to perform military service in the Danish army. Friends here arranged to set for him in obtaining his naturalization papers in his absence and an official of the local court took the oath of the absent soldier.

Lies.

Many tell lies in order to deceive us, and many because they themselves are deceived. Some seek to win our favor by false accusations and invent wrongs in order that they may appear angry at our having suffered them. One man lies out of spite that he may set trusting friends at variance; some because they are suspicious and wish to see sport and watch from a safe distance those whom they have set by the ears.—Lucius Annaeus Seneca.

NON-PRODUCTION ZENTRI REACHED BARUCH AVERS

Former War Industries Board Chairman Gives Views to Quiz Board

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The search for non-production has been reached, "unless there is a cataclysm, some sort of Providence or undesirable government action," in the opinion of Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board.

Testifying yesterday before a house investigating committee, Mr. Baruch said there had been some letdown in the desire to work, but that this was "being done away with."

"When the hoarders and profiteers," he said, "see that this great production is in sight—and they will see it first—they will get from under. When we get normal transportation, on land and sea, prices of necessities of life unquestionably will come down."

Mr. Baruch was questioned concerning his relations with President Wilson and as to his views about this country being drawn into the war.

"I had been disturbed by our condition of unpreparedness," he said. "I was one of the first to support General Wood's Plattsburg project—indeed, I gave some of the first money for it. I felt that as we might be drawn into the war it was wise to mobilize our industry and to hold the president as much."

"Who suggested Herbert Hoover as food administrator?" the chairman asked.

"His appointment was natural. I'd like to have the credit but am afraid I can't claim it."

Get the Daily Walk Habit.

"A daily walk is infinitely superior in its health-giving effects to the daily sprint and is also more beneficial than working for some time at high tension or than even taking a long rest. Working in spurts and playing or resting in spurts, as the Americans usually does, is not good practice. Business men and women should realize their outdoor exercise, and the exercise could take the form of walking."—Exchange.

CLAIMS DISCOVERY OF LARGEST OIL IN CALIFORNIA

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—F. Roth of Del Brea has announced his discovery of the San Bernadino mountains of an oil field which he says is the largest in California. It is near Coalinga.

1,500,000,000 Miles of Evidence

Statisticians calculate that Maxwell cars the world over traveled 1,500,000,000 miles last year. What a gigantic test of gears, bearings, axles, crankshafts, and the 3,000 other pieces of steel in a Maxwell car!

Had these metals shown a single chronic weakness their makers would have suffered a far-reaching penalty.

Instead these 1,500,000,000 test miles—equal to 57,000 times around the equator—put a great premium on the Maxwell.

So great that it is becoming more and more difficult each day to get a Maxwell.

To fill this ever-growing and friendly demand for Maxwell, 100,000 are being built this year, bringing the total of Maxwells now in use on the road to 400,000. The 100,000 will fall far short.

Possibly 40,000 persons will have to purchase a second choice car.

To be sure of your first choice see the Post-War Maxwell without delay.

COACHES DRILL ATHLETES FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

Tryouts Will Be Held by Committee Before Selection of Men's Team

Walter Eberhart, following the definite announcement by Fred W. Rubie, chairman of the championship committee of the National A. U., that the national championship trials will be the final tryout for the American Olympic team which will compete in the world's games at Antwerp, Belgium, in August, coaches and athletes now stand to lay plans for the big event.

Chairman Rubie also announced that sectional trials will be held at the Harvard stadium in Cambridge, Mass., and at the University of California at Berkeley, Calif. The advantage of holding the trials is to permit the American Olympic committee to get a true idea on athletes, some of whom may not be able to compete in the national championships.

Six Athletes in Each Event

According to previous announcements by the American Olympic committee, this country will be permitted to enter six athletes in each event. As there are twenty-eight events, it follows that the American team will be composed of at least 168 performers.

Try to Get Best Man

Although the national championships will be the chief means of selecting the best men, coaches will have to take into consideration the performances of the men in the intercollegiate meets and in the sectional tryouts. Some great athletes have even won national titles in the sectional tryouts and cannot pay their own expenses to the national trials. They still, however, compete in the intercollegiate or Olympic tryouts and in these performances will be the ones who will be without competing in the national championships.

Considering the number of indoor meets, it is thought best to hold the trials before the athletes hit the outdoor paths out of doors, the committee should have a pretty good idea who are the best men in the country. There will be numerous outdoor meets, including the sectional A. U. championships and the many intercollegiate.

Plenty of Meets in East

In the East, Boston, New York and Milwaukee, O. already have held their winter indoor games, while those of the New York A. C. the first since the indoor track and field championships are scheduled to take place in New York City on March 13. This set of games will attract the cream of the eastern and western colleges. The usual number of twelve standard championship events will be held.

While the east has been busily engaged staging meets for its great athletes, the central west is doing its share to encourage its stars to greater efforts. The First Regiment A. A. handicappers, the first to be held since 1917, were staged last night at the University of Illinois. The Chicago Athletic association has staged three of its series of four indoor meets for athletes of the small clubs affiliated with the A. U. These have been well encouraged by the athletes who seldom had an opportunity to win prizes in open competition.

The first event of importance for the central west college athletes will be the annual indoor relay carnival of the University of Illinois March 6. Like other meetings in this section, it will be the first since 1917 but already has attracted entries from every institution of athletic note in the west.

RUPERT COMETS ARE DEFEATED BY TWIN FALLS POST

Local Legion Basketball Team Wins Over Visiting Quintet by Score 37-30

Twin Falls post, American Legion basketball team, last night defeated the visiting quintet from Rupert, Idaho, in one of the most despoorly fought contests of the local season. The game was a battle from the start, the locals striving to regain lost honors, and the visitors contesting equally hard to retain the honors they won from Twin Falls a short time back. In the long run form and efficiency told in favor of Twin Falls.

Last night's victory, won on the high school floor, puts Twin Falls in direct line for competition for the state basketball championship. The local team and the Post quintet of Mountain Home have the most victories marked up for the season.

Brief Bits of Sport

Another bloomer from Britain has landed on these shores.

Low Edwards, Australian lightweight champion, himself a Briton by breeding and birth, is the latest victim of American athletic prowess.

And now, what shall be done unto the two Jacks?

The federal grand jury has had its say in the case, what the United States court will do is a question yet to be determined.

But the indictment itself will bring tears of joy to the eyes of a whole lot of patriotic folks in this country.

Jack Johnson has decided matters and things on this side the Rio Grande have too torrid an aspect, so he has decided to become a Greaser by naturalization.

Paul Moore, Joe Burman and Johnny Griffiths are now all under the management of Nate Lewis and Tom Walsh. Charlie White, who is hanging on to Lewis for a manager.

Some talent in that aggregation, especially with White showing some of the real old stuff.

SALVATION ARMY'S BUDGET OF $3,500

In a Week Campaign Will Be Started to Procure a Fund to Carry on Work

A campaign for funds to carry on Salvation Army work in Twin Falls will be formally inaugurated next Saturday, March 6. This was decided upon at the meeting of the board of directors last night, when it approved an expense budget of $3500 for the ensuing eight months and named a committee of five to make arrangements with the War Mothers, the American Legion and the Central Labor union to aid in the campaign.

It is planned to begin the campaign on Saturday afternoon and continue it throughout Sunday. A large force of Salvation Army workers will be brought here to assist the organizations and Ensign and Mrs. John J. at that time. On Sunday night the local corps will hold street and hall meetings. Contributions will be limited to one dollar a person in order to facilitate raising of the desired sum. The amount will cover all expenses for the eight months period beginning March 8, and little doubt is entertained that the campaign will be amply successful.

SMALL IS CHANGE FOR FEDERAL DOOST IN AID NOW APPORTIONED

Representative Burton Presents Illuminating Figures Detailing Condition of Finances for Highway Construction — Twin Falls County Has Voted Nearly Two-Thirds Total Amount Allotted the State

That there is little chance for Idaho to participate very extensively in federal aid for road making during the year 1920 is the gist of a letter from Representative Burton L. French in congress, written to members of the municipal administration.

"The government has appropriated a large sum of federal assistance in road work throughout all of the states of the union," Representative French advises. He says $1,100,000,000 has been appropriated to Idaho, but only $200,000,000 has been voted nearly two-thirds the amount necessary to meet the government's total appropriation for the entire state on 40,000 miles. Congressman French intimates that money is not available to carry on road building programs on an extensive scale as had been planned in this state. He says there is no doubt that many of the projects will have to be abandoned unless the government can be shown to provide more funds than have already been voted for road purposes.

WRIGHTS ARE SEEKING ENLARGED STORE PLACE

Entertaining confidence in the continued coming of the Wrights of Twin Falls, A. T. and J. E. Wright, of Ogden, owners of the Wright and Sons' store here, are in Twin Falls today seeking larger quarters for the store than they now possess. Though nothing definite has been done in the way of procuring a future location, every effort is being made to obtain new quarters which will be adequate for the increasing trade the store is enjoying. Several locations are being considered by the management, and it is possible that within a short time a desirable place will be found. Should the company be unsuccessful in this, however, the basement of the present building will be remodelled and adapted to the needs of the store as a temporary measure.

Wright and Sons' stores have recently been opened in Proceatle and Idaho Falls and it is planned to open a store in Burley in the near future, though this has not been definitely decided upon at the present time.

BELOUGM IN MARKET FOR AMERICAN STEEL MATERIAL

NEW YORK, (AP)—Belgium is seeking 50,000 tons of American steel-making iron, it was learned here today, but American iron makers are paying little attention to this and similar inquiries from Europe because of their inability to meet domestic demands. Merchants declare that if the iron were available for export the price under the existing rate of exchange and freight rates probably would prove prohibitive.

GEM LANDS

I have good news for you if you are looking for some of the very best lands in Idaho, a long growing season free from frosts, and it is not uncommon for the farmers to produce seven, eight and even ten tons of alfalfa hay to the acre. On account of the deposits of nitrate in this soil it will produce the largest crops of anything you wish to grow. The finest water melons and cantaloupes grown in the state are raised here. Early potatoes you can put on the market nearly one month earlier than you could in many other sections. There is no limit to the depth of this soil and it is free from rock and lays fine in most every case. This is the finest best land in the state and the sugar company is contracting for beets on this tract, and whether you would want to raise beets or not there is one thing sure—wherever a sugar factory has gone in it has in most cases doubled the price of farm lands, and it will do it on the Gem Tract. Compare the prices of lands on the Twin Falls Tract before the sugar factory came and now. Now, then, if you want to get the benefit of a rapid advance in the most productive lands in Idaho you will have to get in before all the improvements that are sure to come in the near future.

Do not let anyone throw you off the track but come and see the map and get direct information.

The altitude on the Gem Tract is 2,260 feet. We expect to go by auto with land buyers in a few days and will furnish free transportation to land buyers.
