WAR DEPARTMENT ISSUES ORDERS FOR BREAKING UP OF BANDIT ASSOCIATION

Abduction and Holding for Ransom of Foreigners, Preferably Americans, in Operation of "Co-operative Association" Made Up of Mexicans and Americans Along Border, According to Announcement of Authorities of Southern Republic

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Discovery of a "co-operative kidnaping association," having for its purpose "the kidnaping and holding for ransom of foreigners, preferably Americans," is announced by the Mexican foreign office, according to advices today from Mexico City.

The announcement says this "unique company" is made up of Mexicans and Americans on the border, this statement being based on reports from various consular officers. The foreign office says the "association" also is engaged in "the ignoble task of creating trouble between the two countries."

Acting on the information presented by the foreign office, the war department, according to those advices, has issued instructions to the military commanders in the states of Chihuahua, Durango, Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas to break up the kidnaping organization. The government says it is believed the promoters of the kidnaping organization are rebel agents who recently circulated handbills advertising the "re-organized government of free Mexicans," and announcing a coup planned for May 5.

Because of the frequency of attacks on railroad trains the Mexican government plans to erect block houses along the railroad lines except where they already exist, other reports from Mexico City say. The operations on the Vera Cruz line where railroad holdups were greatly decreased by the block-house system has led Director General Fontes, of the railroad systems, to announce this plan. The blockhouses will be reinforced concrete, with a guard of fifty soldiers in each.

Food and supplies were all consumed. For four days the Navajo drifted in the Black sea while a hurricane raged.

Thyphus then appeared on board and the bodies of scores of refugees were consigned to the water. At last another refugee ship picked up the Navajo. Hundreds of the passengers arrived here with feet and hands frozen.

DANIELS MAKES LEAGUE FACTOR IN NAVY POLICY

Will Recommend Building Program Larger than Proposed by Board Unless Treaty is Ratified

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Daniels held the house naval committee Saturday he would recommend a naval building program for the next fiscal year larger than that proposed by the general board, "if the peace treaty is not ratified," he said in a statement. "Withholding final recommendation, however, the secretary added that if this country in the end refused membership in the league of nations, he would not impel to renew his recommendation for another three year program of construction.

"No Middle Ground" Rattling his statement of last year that "we must have a league of nations by which every nation will help preserve the peace of the world without competitive naval buildups, or we must have incomparably the biggest navy in the world," Mr. Daniels declared there was no "middle ground." The program which the secretary recommended to be authorized in event the treaty is not ratified, agreed with the general board's plan, including the proposal of 20 light cruisers and 14 fleet leaders, or super-destroyers. No light cruisers and only six super-destroyers were recommended by the board in the treaty. It had been his intention, if the peace treaty were ratified, "with the possibility of armaments being curtailed and regulated," the secretary declared, to recommend building such a "moderate building program necessary to round out the fleet." No capital ships would have been included in this program, he added, but in the "unsettled condition of the world today," he declared, the American navy "must be prepared for any emergency."

Presents Questions

"The question for you to decide," the secretary told the committee, "is whether the United States in future building shall undertake simply to round out its navy by building the units of types in which we are now short, or shall embark on further expansion in addition."

Secretary Daniels emphasized the fleet's deficiency by the loss in the other secondary craft, as demonstrated by war lessons. The present battleship strength, he pointed out, would soon be increased by the ten dreadnoughts now building, "more powerful than any battleships afloat," in addition to the six battle cruisers under construction, necessitating more auxiliary craft.

Destroyers and other anti-submarine craft construction during the war, Mr. Daniels said, had taxed facilities and prevented building additional to the fleet, while Great Britain had been able to carry out a well-balanced program. He pointed out that the British navy had increased its light cruisers to 76, against which the American navy has only three, all of doubtful value.

In addition to capital ships, the secretary's construction program included six more cruisers, six mine-laying cruisers, six fleet submarines, four airplane carriers, and other auxiliary craft.

WORK OF PREHISTORIC IRRIGATORS REVEALED

Remains of Canals and Ditches Found in New Mexico Point to Early Farm Development

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (AP)—That prehistoric peoples of New Mexico did good deal of irrigation is indicated by the remains of canals and ditches found in the state, as well as in other parts of the southwest, according to H. F. Robinson, head of the Indian irrigation bureau here.

The remains of 217 miles of ditches built by the Pueblo Indians alone are to be found, and there are evidences of elaborate water systems at the ruins of the Gran Quivira, southeast of Albuquerque, and in the Salt river valley in Arizona. These ditches were all dug by hand, according to Mr. Robinson, and city banks and beds were constructed where the way lay over a sandy plain, while the method of blasting was to heat the rocks, crack them with large stones and remove them from the way.

CARRANZA PLACE AFTER ELECTION DATE IS DEBATED

Mexican Constitutional Lawyers Engage in Serious Discussion of Possible Status of Executive in Contingency

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Mexican constitutional lawyers have been discussing seriously the question of whether President Venustiano Carranza will have the right to continue as president of Mexico after November 30, 1920, in case the scheduled summer elections should fail to take place or in case the successful candidate should fail to present himself for the oath of office.

Possible conflict between two articles of the constitution of 1917 is pointed out in an article recently published in Excelsior of Mexico City. "Article 83 contains the absolute injunction that any one who has once held the high office of president of the republic shall not hold it for another term," Excelsior says, quoting a number of legal experts.

"But article 84 reads: 'If at the beginning of a constitutional (presidential) term, the president-elect should fail to appear, or if the election should have failed to take place by December, the person whose term is about to expire shall cease to function, and there shall be named to the presidency, with title of provisional president, such persons as may be chosen by the congress of the nation.'

It is argued that article 84 contains no provision that prohibits the outgoing president from being named provisional president by the congress in the event the contingencies specified in the article should occur.

The weight of opinion, however, according to Excelsior, is that the spirit, if not the letter, of the constitution, as opposed to the continuance in office, even by congressional authority, of a person whose term as president is about to expire.

TWIN FALLS DISTRICT GETS CONSIDERATION

Farmer Publication Devotes Ample Space to Doings in Local Rural Sections

Turning the cover page one finds himself looking into the happy faces of twelve Twin Falls boys who are members of the Idaho State Bank's calf club. One picture shows the boys signing the notes they gave the bank for the calves and another view presents the youngsters as they started home with the calves. The work of the junior farmers in Twin Falls county is described by Ray W. Felton, field editor of The Farmer.

"Twin Falls county never did do things by halves," the article says. "Settled some 15 years ago by one of the most progressive types of farmers who ever came west, and favored by excellent soil and climatic conditions, this portion of Southern Idaho has continued to develop a high state of agricultural efficiency, not the least of which is the attention being given the junior farmers. In this the county is fortunate in having as a leader a young man possessing not only a practical agricultural and livestock education, but also a keen sympathy with and an understanding of boys and girls. He is A. I. O'Reilly and he was a conspicuous figure at the recent Twin Falls Shorthorn sales when he purchased an even dozen females which later were distributed among the boys comprising the Idaho State Bank Calf Club."

Sunflower ensilage as made in Minidoka county, a picture of the Harris Angus farm at Eden, and Twin Falls livestock news are among other features of special interest to Twin Falls people.

The Idaho Farmer and its companion papers, the Oregon Farmer and the Washington Farmer, reach more than 300,000 farm families weekly and the Twin Falls country has been given a liberal amount of space in them in late years and otherwise exploited through its Southern Idaho representative, Mr. Felton.

BLOODLESS WAR CONSPICUOUS IN FIUME AFFAIRS

Verbal Conflicts Resembling Back Fence Encounters in Family Feuds Occur Occasionally on Border Line

FIUME, (AP)—Verbal conflicts resembling those which take place over back yard fences in family feuds occasionally occur between the Italian regular troops and d'Annunzio's arditos on the bridge over the narrow canal which separates Sussak from Fiume.

The regulars occupy Sussak while d'Annunzio's men hold Fiume. The bridge is but fifty feet long, with a sidewalk on each side and a space of about 20 feet wide for vehicular traffic in the middle.

An attack from the regulars' side was rumored throughout the peninsula the other day. The poet himself, with a detail of arditos and several armored motor cars, hastened to the scene.

d'Annunzio stood aside while his arditos went forth to battle. They went out on the bridge and called the regular soldiers all sorts of pet names. The regulars in turn returned the volleys of colored verbiage.

All his comrades joined in the cheering. The arditos had nothing to reply to that and retreated, while d'Annunzio remained at his palace. The day's "battle" was over.

America Called Reserve Force of Civilization

Abbe Kelm Sums Up Relations Between United States and Franco

PARIS, (AP)—Abbe Felix Kelm, one of the well known Catholic writers of France, in his new book entitled "In America at the Close of the War," describes his visit to Washington and the visit made in company with a delegation of French and English clergy, including the bishop of Arras.

"We entered the White House without any formality. Two negro domestics opened the door and a secretary conducted us to the small reception room. The furniture was very plain and the walls were hung only with the portraits of presidents; prominent in the ornamentation was a bust which occupied the center of the marble mantelpiece—the bust of Lincoln.

"We waited only a few minutes. As the clock struck 4:30 the president entered, bowing and looking somewhat stern, despite his smile. As he welcomed us in a few words the severity of his expression gradually relaxed. He shook hands with each of us as we were presented.

"The presentation ended, the president addressed us formally for two or three minutes. He spoke in a calm tone, without emphasis, without gesture, and yet there was a note of feeling which stirred each one of us. He said nothing remarkable, but he spoke with that precision of language which is one of his gifts.

"After expressing his thanks for the visit of those representing the religious sentiment of France and England, he said:

FRANCE SANCTIONS PIPE FOR OIL TRANSMISSION

Double Lines from Havre to Paris to Lighten Difficulty in Supplying Capital with Coal

LONDON, (AP)—The French government has sanctioned the construction of a double pipe line for oil between Havre and Paris, a distance of about 150 miles, it is stated by the American Chamber of Commerce in London. One of the pipe lines, with an internal diameter of 10 inches, is to be used for heavy oil fuels, and above it will be a smaller pipe line of four inches, for petroleum and motor spirit.

It is anticipated that 4,500 tons of heavy and 1000 tons of light oils and fuel oils be pumped through these lines daily, thus materially lightening the difficulty of supplying Paris with coal by facilitating the use of heavy oils in its place. It is hoped to complete the line in time for next winter.

LEGISLATORS IN HONDURAS STAGE PITCHED BATTLE

President of Congress is One of Casualties When 20 Members of Law-making Body Engage in Fight to Death

MEKICO CITY, (P)—Members of Honduras congress of deputies engaged in a pitched battle during the third week of February, there being twenty killed and wounded, according to private advices reaching this city from Tegucigalpa and published by El Nacional today. Among those killed was Dr. Benito B. Duran, president of the congress. It is stated the fight had resulted in a new revolution led by General Tiburcio Garcia, against the Gutierrez government.

Since last July the Honduran congress has been the scene of bitter opposition by the enemies of General Luis Lopez Gutierrez, the new governmental leader. At the time of the Gutierrez revolt the journalists intervened and suggested negotiations between the contending forces.

Opposition to the government became so powerful that the Gutierrez government was threatened and during a session of the congress three weeks ago Dr. Benito Callejas delivered a strong speech against Gutierrez. Encouraged at this attack an adherent of Gutierrez shot and killed Dr. Callejas. Then followed a battle in the chamber between members of the body and followers of the president, who for the most part, were soldiers. In addition to President, three leading members of the opposition party, who had not taken part in the fighting, were killed.

It is stated the rebels have taken refuge near the Nicaraguan border. The recipient of the news, whose name is not given by the Universal, is said to be a former Honduran journalist in close touch with conditions in that country.

RELATIVE OF EX-EMPEROR ATTACKS FRENCH OFFICER

Noakke Orders Arrest of Prince Joachim Albrecht for Part in Assault

BERLIN, (P)—Gustave Noakke, minister of defense, has ordered the provisional arrest of Prince Joachim Albrecht, of Prussia, cousin of former Emperor William, and Baron von Blotz, for engaging in an assault upon Captain Roughevich, a French officer with the inter-allied mission in this city Saturday night.

The assault occurred in the dining room of the Adlon hotel, the prince and his friends hurling candles, crockery and other missiles at Captain Roughevich and his party, who had refused to attend while the orchestra was playing "Deutschland Ueber Alles." Captain Roughevich was beaten and his clothes were torn.

LONDON, (P)—General Nollet, head of the French military mission in Berlin, has demanded immediate audience with Foreign Minister Mueller to protest against the attack on the French party at the Hotel Adlon Saturday night by Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, and his friends, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berlin today.

URGES REVISION OF LEGION PLEA FOR RELIEF LAW

Executive Committee Member Says Mistake was Made in Form in Which Proposal was Presented to Congress

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (P)—The American Legion wants congress to play as fair with former soldiers as the men played with the country, asserted Franklin D'Oiler, national commander of the legion, today, in outlining the stand of the organization in the proposed soldier beneficial legislation.

WASHINGTON, (P)—A serious mistake was made by the American legion in presenting its proposals for soldier relief in the form in which it did, the house ways and means committee was told today by Col. E. Lester Jones, a member of the legion's executive committee. He said the executive committee would assemble this month and that a proposed to suggest that it formulate definite aims and policy for presentation to congress in a "quiet and respectful way."

Colonel Jones said he believed the legion also should present a well considered scheme for financing any plan it proposed.

Discussing the farm settlement proposal, the witness said that in making an estimate some months ago he had found that about 350,000 former soldiers desired an opportunity to take over farms. Colonel Jones said a land settlement scheme should not be confined to vacant public lands or remote cut-over lands in the south and west, but that vacant lands in the vicinity of the cities should be purchased for soldier use.

Chairman Foreney insisted over many objections on reading a letter from Baltimore signed "Loughboynes" and protesting against the recent statement to the committee by Capt. Walter Burns that ex-soldiers did not desire a cash bonus or to further embarrass the treasury.

"If we hadn't gone overboard," the letter said, "the United States treasury there is so much hollering about being busted, would be burst right paying indemnity to the Germans."

Today's Markets

New York Exchange
NEW YORK, (P)—Stocks of various descriptions rose 5 to 40 points today on announcement that the United States supreme court had ruled against the taxation of stock dividends as part of income. Sales approximated 1,600,000 shares. Bulls shared substantially in the further advances of the feverishly active final hour when silver buying became more urgent. The closing was buoyant.

Liberty Bonds
NEW YORK, (P)—Prices of Liberty bonds at 2:55 p. m. today were: 3 1/2's $95.50; first 4's $90.25; second 4's $89.50; first 4 1/4's $91.50; second 4's $90.75; first 4 1/2's $92.50; fourth 4 1/4's $90.00; Victory 3 3/4's $97.50; Victory 4 3/4's $97.50.

Grain and Provisions
CHICAGO, (P)—Fresh strength showed itself in the corn market today as a result of evening up for the government report on farm reserves. Besides, conditions were light and the forecast of warmer weather was taken as indication of a break up of country roads. July and September deliveries rose to the highest prices yet this season. Open market quotations, which varied from from the same as Saturday's finish to 1/20 up, with May $1.44 5/8 to 1.45 and July $1.38 1/4 to 1.39 1/2, were followed by a slight up and then by a sharp advance all around.

The corn market underwent a transient break with securities, but then jumped higher than before. Most traders expected a bullish report on farm reserves. The "hog" close was suggestive 1-8 to 3-4 not higher, with May $1.47 1-8 to 1.47 3-4 and July $1.40 3-8 to 1.40 3-4.

Commission houses were good buyers of calls owing to the strength of corn. After opening unchanged to 1-4 off, including July at 76, the market scored moderate general gains.

Speculators reflected the upticks in the value of hogs and corn. Buying, however, was desultory.

LABOR MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Layering Theatre Jammed to Hear Speeches by Pocatello Mayor and Others

Addressing an audience composed of union men and women, gathered in Layering theatre yesterday afternoon, W. P. Whitaker, mayor of Pocatello, delivered a caustic lecture against capitalism and American plan employers. Against the latter his remarks were particularly bitter.

Mayor Whitaker's address was scouring throughout to the factious he opposes, his remarks at times closely approaching violence. By innuendo he signified the supposed parties as "undecidable," and "spoke" attacked the American Plan employers on the alleged ground that they demanded for themselves rights denied workers employed by them.

Yesterday's meeting was called by the Women's Union Label League of Twin Falls, and was probably the best attended of any public assembly ever engaged in by labor in this district, not excepting Labor day meetings. Layering theatre, both auditorium and stage, was crowded. All speakers were frequently applauded. The program was directed by H. G. Scrantom, a manager of ceremonies. Six speakers took the stage during the proceedings including the Rev. W. E. Moore, pastor of the Christian church; Mrs. E. W. Shanks, organizer of the International Women's Label League; B. A. Gung, city attorney of Pocatello; O. C. Zane of Kimberly, former state senator; O. C. Hall, Nonpartisan League organizer in this district and W. P. Whitaker.

Explains Label League
Mrs. Shanks explained the nature of the League and told of its purposes, urging for a universal eight-hour day, equal pay for equal work for women with men, demanding a "no work" Sunday and voting power for women. She said universal adoption of the union label meant better working conditions and better goods and made an impressive plea to the women in the audience for support in the union label undertaking.

Mr. Hall devoted a brief period to recommendations for a firmer bond of unity between farmer and laborer while the Rev. W. A. Moore, addressing himself to the press table, forcefully made it known that he wished to be properly understood and quoted. The speech of B. G. Cummings was a complimentary introduction of Mr. Whitaker and an exploitation of the achievements of the present Pocatello city administration. Mr. Zuck spoke in behalf of the Nonpartisan League, declaring that the League and labor unionism would be "united in marriage next fall."

Says Labor Not Radical
Following a review of his own early life, part of which he said was spent in farming, Mr. Whitaker told of working conditions on the railroads, explaining the working hours of men of the rail, which he compared with the hours of the average banker. In this comparison he took the hours for receiving deposit on the actual working time of the banker. He charged the upper classes with disruption of the country, and denied that radical sentiments attributed to labor emanate from that body. He accused American plan employers of denying the workers rights demanded for themselves and urged for co-operative action between these opposing factions. During a harangue on the subject of the American plan, Mr. Whitaker declared the association to be composed of men who demand exorbitant prices and starve the worker. He said the Twin Falls Employers association had boasted that a 20-day strike here would put a lot of workers out of their homes. He remarked that the only equitable solution of the harmony between labor and capital lies in co-operative action on a conjunctive schedule of operation and wages. He said this is the system being followed in his own town and declared it has worked out all contentions and strife between employer and worker. He intimated that under the present Pocatello system his town would soon get Twin Falls' population.

No Boom for Agitators
Mr. Whitaker devoted considerable time to production costs and prices to the consumer, declaring all the factors to be out of proportion to the price paid the producer. He told of a municipal lumber yard operated in Pocatello which he claimed reduced the price of lumber to the consumer.
"There is no room for the agitator, man or woman, in this country, and no room for the little mass of men like the employers' association that would put the masses under bondage," Mr. Whitaker said. He stigmatized the press news as "rotten," declaring the news agencies before the people nothing but falsehoods which undermine the government. He also charged employers with driving a splitting wedge into the government by deceiving workers the right to organize, while claiming this right for themselves.
Concluding his address he stated that farmers who patronized a certain class are not loyal to the government. "And I think you know who I mean," he stated.

LICENSED TO WED
Licenses were issued Saturday as follows: To Jesse J. Hunter of Chadron, Nebraska, and Florence Zigler of Twin Falls; to Russell L. McCoy and Fern Fuller, both of Burley.

WILL REVIVE RAILROAD BUILDING PROJECT AT WEDNESDAY BANQUET

President George L. Davis Will Be in Twin Falls to Consider Proposals for Construction of the Rail Line from This City to Wells, Nevada—Representatives of All Districts Interested Invited

For the purpose of reviving discussion of and interest in a proposed railroad from Twin Falls to Wells, Nevada, a general meeting and banquet is to be held at the Hotel Rogerson Wednesday evening, this week.

The meeting is called by the Idaho-Nevada-California company, engineers. Approximately 325 ranchers, business men and persons interested in mining in Twin Falls and district proposed for the railroad. Besides Twin Falls representatives have been invited from Contact and Hollister, together with delegations from Buhl, Jerome and Filer. Shad L. Hough of Twin Falls, has been named hostmaster for the banquet.

Several years ago proposals were made and plans laid for the forming of a company to construct a railroad from Twin Falls to Wells, a line to parallel the O. S. L. branch south to Rogerson. With the coming of the war the project was abandoned. The Wednesday meeting is planned to revive interest in the former project with a view to carrying through the original plans.

Representing the Idaho-Nevada-California company will be George L. Davis, railroad builder of San Francisco and president of the Idaho, Nevada & Tidewater railroad, proposed to connect the entire Twin Falls, Filer, Buhl, Castleford, Jerome and other sections of this district with a junction with the Southern and Western Pacific railroads at Wells. While here Mr. Davis will make an inspection of southern Idaho. He will be accompanied by H. E. Van Sander.

The invitation announcement makes clear that the visit of Mr. Davis is the culmination of four years' work on the part of this company to work out a feasible and acceptable plan of building a railroad south to connect with San Francisco and the markets of the world through the Panama canal and the new merchant marine.
The reception and banquet at the Hotel Rogerson are planned to provide Mr. Davis opportunity to meet and get acquainted with representative men of the districts interested in this line.
Colfax Encampment No. 20 will meet in regular session Tuesday evening, March 9th, at which time a large class will be initiated. There will be a special hour after the meeting. All members are requested to be present. S. Watkins, Scribo. adv.
