1 COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS FACE CONSPIRACY INDICTMENTS

SENATE LEADERS WANT ORDER IN RESERVATION

Action on Article Ten Reservation Again Deferred With Effort to Re-establish Compromise Relations

HITCHCOCK STRIVES TO KEEP FORCES IN LINE

Administration Spokesman is Balked by Reservationists in Effort to Secure Immediate Action

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senate action on article ten was deferred again today as the leaders sought to bring order to the situation resulting from yesterday's break up in the compromise negotiations. Republican leaders were understood to have indicated that they might accept with certain changes the substitute article ten reservation urged by the mild reservationists. Among the Democrats the compromise advocates continued active at work, some of them claiming they could muster thirty or more votes for the substitute. Fighting to hold the administration forces in line, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the democratic leader, was understood to have suggested that an effort be made to get action in the senate today, but the democratic and republican reservationists obtained a delay while they continued their negotiations for an agreement.

OPPOSES BONDS TO PAY SOLDIERS

Secretary Houston Suggests Higher Tax to Aid Former Service Men

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A bond issue of $2,500,000,000 to pay adjusted compensation to former service men "might result in disaster," Secretary Houston today told the house veterans' committee, which is considering soldier relief legislation. He suggested increased taxes to extend aid to former service men was suggested by the secretary as "the least harmful way," but he said the proposed expenditure of two billion dollars would be a serious one for people to confront at this time.

"The present financial situation is not critical," Mr. Houston said. "Good faith by the people, avoidance of waste in expenditures, economical appropriations by congress and prudence in handling these appropriations will naturally relieve the situation."

Further credit expansion which has been a factor in the upward trend of living costs would be inevitable if another bond issue were approved, he said.

POINTS TO DIFFICULTIES

The issuing of two billion dollars in bonds at this time would be a much more serious proposition than it was during the war, Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, told the committee.

"First, there would be a lack of patriotism which helps in raising bonds during the war and secondly we would come into competition with all sorts of commercial investments," he said.

SCRANTON STOPS MINING

City Authorities Take Possession of Property Pending Investigation

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—The city authorities are today in possession of the Oxford mine of the Peoples Coal company in the exercise of police powers to prevent its further operation. Fifty policemen detailed at the breaker and shaft are keeping all workmen away from the place. Twelve other policemen during the night made their way into the mine, through abandoned workings and bottling workings and have full control inside. They had to break locks of barricade and division doors to get into the workings. There have been disturbances at the mine for two days arising from efforts of the city authorities to gain entrance for the purpose of investigating alleged reckless and illegal mining.

AMERICA FIRST NAVY'S POLICY AFTER PLEDGE TO GIVE FULL SUPPORT

Admiral Sims Resumes Testimony Before Senate Committee Investigating Naval Conduct of War, Revealing Indications that Department Withheld Sending All Available Craft to European Waters Because of Apprehension for Possible Eventualities

RECORD SHOWS SIX TO EIGHT MONTHS DELAY ACTING ON RECOMMENDATION

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Indications that the navy department withheld sending all available American naval craft to European waters early in the war because of a desire to keep the main body of the navy's strength intact for possible eventualities were contained in Admiral Sims' testimony today before the senate committee investigating the naval conduct of the war. He read a cablegram from the navy department, dated July 10, 1917, which declared "while a successful termination of the present war must not be jeopardized, any delay in the probable result in diminished tenacity throughout the world, the future position of the United States must in no way be jeopardized by any disposition of our main fighting fleet."

OUTLINES GENERAL PLAN

The same cablegram, Admiral Sims said, contained this statement: "The navy department announces as its general plan of action the following: 'The willingness to send its main fighting forces in any number not incompatible with home need to any field of action deemed advisable by the military advisory council, its willingness as a matter of policy to separate any division from the main fleet for service abroad although it is willing to send the entire battleship fleet to act as a united but cooperating unit when the emergency is deemed to warrant it.'"

With regard to this message and statement of policy Admiral Sims said it was the "first definite statement of policy I had received, arriving a few days over three months after we had declared war."

The astounding features of this policy were, however, that while it stated our intention to co-operate to the fullest degree, still such cooperation was conditioned first upon an adequate defense of our own waters and then upon the future position of the United States after this war was finished," said the admiral.

A message received from the navy department, dated July 8, to the effect that several small vessels were being sent to augment his forces "indicated that they were at last beginning to realize that there was a war being fought in European waters," declared Admiral Sims. On July 30 Admiral Sims testified before the senate committee a review of the discussions of the allied naval council and reiterated his previous report.

U. S. TREASURY IN GOOD SHAPE

Secretary Houston Says Congressional Economies Clear Financial Situation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The treasury department has not opposed former Secretary McAdoo's plan of reducing taxes by means of additional bond issues, Secretary Houston today told the house ways and means committee in reply to a question by Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin. European countries made mistakes when they undertook to meet war expenditures by constant credit devices," he said. "They haven't balanced budgets by increased taxes, he said.

"The treasury department certifies increased living costs," Mr. Frear asked. "That is a broad field you are entering, but we must reduce our steps in bringing down costs," Secretary Houston replied.

Immediate decrease in taxes is impossible, the secretary said. He added that in view of economies by congress the financial situation could be successfully handled this year under existing tax laws.

"We have issued further bonds. It will carry all securities lower in their market values," he continued. "How great a depression would result?" asked Representative Garner, democrat, Texas. "It might force the best securities as low as 90 and other down to 80," the secretary replied.

However, the channel was not wide enough to assure that the ice would not gorge again and the aviators arranged to return again today and continue their work.

ABBREVIATED WORK DAY DEMAND CAUSES DELAY IN COAL BOARD REPORT

Miners' Delegate Disagrees With Representative of Public and Operators in Strike Settlement

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT WAGE BOOST MAJORITY REPORT RECOMMENDATION

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A 25 per cent wage increase for bituminous coal miners is recommended in a majority report of the commission appointed by President Wilson to settle the coal strike.

No change in working hours or conditions was recommended. John P. White, representing the miners, held out for a higher wage increase, it was said, and will submit a minority report. The wage increase proposed will absorb the 14 per cent granted when the miners returned to work last November. He said that the actual increase is 11 per cent over present wages.

Favors Check Off System The majority recommended that the check report of the power of the fuel administration be conferred on it. The majority made no recommendation as to price increases to cover the advance in wages. Its statement that it did not seek for fuel administrator powers was taken to mean that it held that the question of increased prices was one for the fuel administration to decide.

THIRST FOR INFORMATION VIELLA'S EXCUSE FOR DETAINING AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Relatives and friends of Americans kidnaped by Pancho Villa need have no concern as to their safety and may dismiss all fear that they may be held for ransom if they repoke full confidence in a communication recently received from the Mexican bandit leader. ### THIRST FOR INFORMATION VIELLA'S EXCUSE FOR DETAINING AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Relatives and friends of Americans kidnaped by Pancho Villa need have no concern as to their safety and may dismiss all fear that they may be held for ransom if they repoke full confidence in a communication recently received from the Mexican bandit leader. According to the note of reassurance, he has advised the only practical means he can think of to get a friendly conversation with various representative Americans who cross his trail, and, while they are his "guests" they will be treated with every consideration and returned unharmed and unrobbed to their friends. The substance of Villa's communication was transmitted unofficially to officers of the intelligence branch of the war department. It was explained in the message Villa succeeded in getting here that only a wage idea of what was going on in the outside world could be had where he was, and the desire to learn more to gain the American's point of view and a determination to give opportunity to carry back with them some of his own theories of what government in Mexico should be had caused him to determine to gather in his guests where he might find them, regardless of their unwillingness to accept his invitation. He added that from time others would be brought in, but urged those interested not to become alarmed.

SHIPPING BOARD OPENS TRADE TO PACIFIC COAST

Establishes Coastwise Service of Sixteen Vessels in Far East Running from North China to Calcutta

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Within the past nine months the United States shipping board has put 565,313 dead-weight tons of Pacific tonnage into service. It has established a coastwise service of 16 vessels in the far east running from North China to Calcutta, and has arranged for the use of 11 big passenger liners to trans-Pacific trade according to announcement by the board's offices here today.

Considers New Route

An important contemplated route is that between Puget Sound points and Buenos Aires by way of the Straits of Magellan. It has been found that this route is approximately 1,000 miles shorter than the Panama canal route.

At least a month will be put on this route and the service will be established within 90 days, the board said. The route will be a new one for American trade in every sense of the word. New routes are being added to the shipping board on the Pacific in the last nine months are:

- San Francisco to Singapore, Ceylon, Straits Settlements, Farland to North China points; around the world, starting from San Francisco and Japanese, Chinese and Indian points, going through the Suez canal to European points and those to the Atlantic; Puget Sound points to San Francisco, San Pedro and through the canal to European points; Puget Sound to New Zealand and Australia.

Employ Many Vessels

These routes have from the commencement of 25 shipping board tonnage clearing out of San Francisco, four out of Los Angeles, 23 out of Seattle and 13 out of Portland. The 14 passenger boats, the first of which will be put on on or around September 1, will be in addition to those noted. These passenger liners, which will be palatial, will clear out of Puget Sound points and San Francisco and will all be used on far eastern routes.

A regular route between Puget Sound points and San Francisco and the west coast of South America is in contemplation.

Other allocation programs for the benefit of Pacific coast ports now are being drawn up and will be announced from time to time, the shipping board said.

Use Eyes and Nose, Not Tongue in Hunt for Botulism Germ

Stanford Medical School Gives Results of Investigation of Food Poison

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., (AP)—Use your eyes and your nose, and not your tongue for any circumstances, your tongue to determine whether any canned food is fit to eat, is the advice of Dr. Ernest C. Dickson of the Stanford medical school, who is investigating botulism, the poison which has recently caused deaths among people eating canned food products.

The bacillus of botulism is destroyed by heat and there will be no danger from this source if canned foods are boiled before they are eaten, according to Dr. Dickson, who said this is the sum and substance of what science can tell the general public for its protection.

The Stanford university medical school laboratory under Dr. Dickson, in co-operation with the Hoop and Medical College of the University of California, with Dr. Karl Meyer in charge, is conducting an extensive investigation of the methods of food preservation. The work is being financed by a grant from the U. S. government.

PALATIAL GIFT HOUSE NATIONS' LEAGUE HOME

British Branch of International Organization in Sumptuous Quarters

LONDON, (AP)—The palatial London house which W. K. Vanderbilt gave to his daughter, Countess de Vanderbilt, gift when she became the Duchess of Marlborough, has become the home of the British branch of the league of nations. The government has leased the mansion and official business already is being transacted there.

This house, which is situated in the heart of the fashionable section in Carlton street, is one of the most costly in the city. It is built of marble and other stone in the French style, and from the outside looks more like a bank than a residence.

It is understood that the league of nations' officials and employees are having troubles, despite the magnificence of the surroundings. The great and ornate ballroom, for example, while much admired from an artistic point of view, develops cyclonic draughts which cause much discomfort to the unlucky officials and clerks who are stationed in it.

INDIAN USES WAR CANOE TO MOVE HOUSEHOLD GOODS

JUNEAU, Alaska, (AP)—An old fashioned Indian war canoe was paddled up Inianat Channel here recently and caused people along the waterfront to comment as it made its way past the steamers and wharves. The canoe was not on a mission of destruction, however, but was being used to carry the household goods of its owner, a pioneer Indian, away from Juneau. The old Indian said it was leaving the city because he feared landladies.

Eight Years' Trouble Gone—Feels Fine Every Day Since Taking Taniae

"Since I commenced taking Taniae all my troubles of eight years' standing have left me and I can do as big a man's work as any man," said J. Curry, a well-known flagman on the Bay State System, who lives at 577 West Eleventh St., Oakland, Cal.

"I had the worst sort of chronic indigestion," continued Mr. Curry, "I could hardly retain a thing on my stomach and had spells of belching and nausea almost every meal and a bad taste in my mouth nearly all the time. I was so badly constipated that I had to take a laxative nearly every day. I was troubled a lot with lumbago and was so nervous that at night I would roll and tumble from one side of the bed to the other without getting near enough sleep and when morning came I would be so tired I simply had to drag myself to work."

"I began taking Taniae and will say right here it measures up to everything people say of it, for it has put me back in as fine health as I ever was. I eat anything set before me without the slightest bad after effects. I sleep like a log every night and all my other troubles are gone. I have more life and energy about me than I have had in years and can't praise Taniae enough for it is the most dependable medicine I ever heard of."

Editorial

Growth is mighty. As Emerson says: "The creation of a thousand forests is in one acorn." Like the acorn, DEPENDABILITY to the success of a store is the same as mother earth to the acorn. It is fertile. It is the foundation. It will create thousands of friends. But growth must come through experience. We must know a thing before we know it. That requires personal experience, for everything that exists today was once the private opinion of one person.

The growth of this store is not an accident, it is the result of an idea of its founder in a plan for the future, using his experience in catering to the needs of the store's customers.

Back of it all stand the goal and motto—DEPENDABILITY. Yes, we have grown, but the day is still early. This growth shall continue for these ideals shall continue.

The Best Way of Practicing Dentistry

THERE is only one way to practice good dentistry at a moderate price to patients, and that is on a large scale and according to a system. Dentistry has too many branches and too many details for one man to do it well alone in a small office.

There is extracting, filling, treating, artificial plate-making, crown and bridge work, examinations, receiving patients, bookkeeping, collecting, record-keeping, buying supplies, paying bills, and many other business details to be looked after.

Under the E. R. Parker System a number of Registered Dentists, mechanical dentists, graduate nurses, stenographers, bookkeepers and attendants work together in much the same way as banks and other successful business enterprises are conducted.

Each has some particular kind of work to do, and thus becomes expert at it, doing it better and in less time.

Advertisements are put in the papers telling what good dental work is done by this modern System, and many patients come in and have their teeth cared for.

In this way better dentistry is given for less money, because where the practice is large, the price can be made smaller. This way of practicing dentistry is the modern way and the best way.

You are invited to call and see what an improvement has been made in dental work under the E. R. Parker System. When you call, your teeth can be examined and reliable advice given without charge.

MONDELL GIVES HIS VIEWS UPON SOLDIER RELIEF

Warns Congress of Impending Necessity for Extensive Program of Attracting People Back to Country

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Many former service men are anxious to assist in reclaiming government lands to provide homes for themselves, Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, the republican leader, said yesterday before the house ways and means committee which is holding hearings on soldier relief legislation.

The republican leader warned that congress in the near future must undertake an extensive program of attracting people back to the country and making waste lands productive, as the "cities now are more attractive than ever before."

"Carpenters are getting $1.25 per hour," he said. "If the farmer averaged $1.25 per hour for every hour he worked, wheat would be selling at from $4 to $5 a bushel."

Mr. Mondell said a bond issue for soldier relief might cause a financial panic.

Extension of financial relief to former service men "is utterly impossible unless the people are willing to stand heavy additional taxes," he said.

MAKES PUBLIC DATA ON SHIP BOARD ACTIVITIES

Chairman Payne Says Government Operation Nets Profit of $14,493,990

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Government operations in the shipping business resulted in a net profit of $14,493,990 last June 30, Chairman Payne yesterday told the senate merchant marine committee, making public for the first time complete official statistics on the financial aspects of the board's transportation activities. This revenue does not include unpaid balances due from other government departments, he said, adding that the total government operation was the board about $15,000,000 and the war department about $10,000,000.

On February 1, he said, the board was operating 1,267 steamships of 3,350,000 deadweight tons, including 1,046 steel cargo ships, 276 wooden vessels, 43 tankers and 16 refrigerator ships. A total of 158 companies, he said, held operating charters for vessels owned by the board. On the first day of February, 200 ships were listed as "under repair," 135 "held up for winter" and 1,179 "in actual operation."

WARNS STOCKHOLDERS OF PENALTY SUIT IMPENDING

Texas Railroad Commission is Forced to Bring Action to Secure Regulations Observance

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP)—It is becoming apparent, according to a statement issued by the Texas railroad commission, that despite its efforts to avoid litigation, the commission "will be driven to the necessity of directing penalty suits in a few cases to secure observance of its oil and gas conservation regulations." The statement continued:

"As the offenders are in most cases joint stock associations or common law trusts, we feel we would be lacking in candor if we did not warn trustees, adding that the fear of a suit concerning their individual and personal liability for the failure of such concerns to obey the law. Whatever opinion may be held as to the power of a group of individuals to agree among themselves to limit their liability or contracts without statutory authority, there is not the slightest doubt that they cannot contract themselves out of liability to the state for penalties due for infractions of the law.

"When the railroad commission directs that penalty suits be brought against joint stock associations for ignoring the conservation statute it will be compelled to make the individuals composing the company, and not the company, defendants, because the company has no corporate existence. "The conservation statute authorizes the recovery of penalties up to $5,000 for each infraction of the law, and each day may be made a separate offense."

BLAMES EXCESS PROFITS TAX FOR BOOSTING COSTS

CHICAGO, (AP)—The excess profits tax helps to advance the cost of living, according to Richard H. Hawes, of St. Louis, who addressed the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday. (Mr. Hawes is president of the American Bankers association.)

It is his view that the consumer must pay the excess profits tax on goods as it passes through the hands of producer, manufacturer, jobber and retailer.

"The tax stands as a detriment to sane, industrial development," he said.

The speaker advocated that, since it is impossible to eliminate outstanding tax-free securities, the income tax law should be amended to make a distinction between earned and unearned income.

"A man without capital who has but his earnings should not be taxed the same as the possessor of a similar income in investments," he said.

MONTANA ROAD BUILDERS WORK FOR MEMORIAL HIGHWAY

GREAT FALLS, Mont., (AP)—The Northern Montana Good Roads association and the Northern Montana Development association are co-operating in a movement for the Theodore Roosevelt transcontinental memorial highway, which, as projected, would pass through the cities on the Great Northern "high-line" across Glacier park and into Idaho through the Roosevelt pass. The road would enter Montana at Buford. Commercial clubs in towns interested also will assist the development association and the road association, it is expected.

If advertising did not serve—there would be no advertising.

Finding a position is sometimes most discouraging task. First of all, upon friends, or upon going about making personal applications, often leads to utter discouragement. The quick road to a position is through the classified. Sometimes this road requires more than one day to travel—but it leads invariably to the desired goal if followed.

WILSON'S ACCUSATION IS AIMED AT FOCH

French Political Writer Says So-Called Imperialism Consists in Conviction that the Rhine Bridgehead Be Held.

PARIS, (AP)—President Wilson's charge against France made in the latter part of this week by Gilbert M. Hitchcock, democratic leader in the United States senate, are said by "Le Petit Journal" editor of the Echo de Paris to be aimed at France by name, but at Marshal Foch by implication.

The so-called imperialism of France," says the writer, in discussing Mr. Wilson's letter, "consists in the conviction, fortified by all the lessons of history, that to guarantee herself against attacks from central Europe, she must hold the Rhine bridgehead."

"Perrinax" says President Wilson went to the session of the supreme council on May 29, 1919, much perturbed and read to Premier Clemenceau and Lloyd George a letter from Pierrepoint E. Noyes, American member of the Rhineland commission, who declared the agreement of May 11 for the administration of the Rhineland was "more brutal than its authors themselves would decide as it provides for intolerable oppression of 6,000,000 inhabitants of the region during many years."

Wilson Wins Point
Mr. Noyes proposed a plan of occulation involving a minimum of military domination, it is said.

"This plan," the article asserts, "was nothing more or less than the conventional provision for occupation of the Rhineland signed with Germany at Versailles on June 23, 1919, because President Wilson was able at a meeting of May 29 to impress Marshal Foch, Mr. Noyes on the supreme council, and a new commission consisting of Marshal Foch, General Tasker H. Bliss, American peace delegate, and Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, chief of the imperial staff of the British army, received strict orders to prepare a new scheme based on American ideas."
The writer declares Marshal Foch, in discussing the plan evolved by this commission, said: "The Germans asked for an imperial commission and they were given, not only a commission, but a civil administration commission which is more than they desired."
"No Right to Talk"
"These words of Marshal Foch," he continued, "characterize the whole business today. In consequence it is plain to see the Rhineland shares fully in the life of united Germany and in the distribution of coal there Germany goes as far as to distinguish between inhabitants she supposes favorable and unfavorable to us."
In a word, the work of France is compromised by Mr. Wilson after such examples of our moderation. President Wilson has no right to talk of our "imperialism."

RUPP RESIDENT OF TWIN FALLS

Young Man Who Lost Memory While on Coast Said to Have Lived Here at One Time

Declaring that Burton W. Rupp, a resident of Salt Lake, who was the victim of lost memory while in Southern California last week, was formerly a resident of Twin Falls, the Long Beach Press carries a story of some length. The Press also states that Rupp's wife is now a resident of Twin Falls.

Neither of these statements can be confirmed at offices of county or city officials.
Following is the California account of the unfortunate circumstance:
"His memory partially restored as a result of meeting his father and studying a photograph of his wife and babies, Burton W. Rupp, amnesia victim, whose mysterious actions puzzled police and physicians of southern California for more than a week, is today en route to the home of his parents in Salt Lake in charge of his father, Burton B. Rupp, a Utah mining man.
"An unusual scene was enacted at the Cliff Dwellers Inn yesterday afternoon when the younger Rupp's faulty memory began to function as he gazed upon a photograph of the members of his family. For several minutes he studied the reproduction of the faces without evidencing a sign of recognition. Then as his brain linked the past with the present and memory established a connection between the faces in the picture and a home life which had existed before accident nullified Rupp's mentality, the amnesia victim trembling with emotion, pointed a shaking finger at a figure in the photograph and exclaimed:

"That's May; that's my wife."
Bull Hasty

"But the mist which has clouded young Rupp's brain for several months did not lift completely. While he remembered his wife, children, and his father, his memory was pitifully indistinct as to events which have transpired since he disappeared from his home at Twin Falls, Idaho, nearly a year ago.
After several hours spent in conference with his father and Detective A. E. Thompson, who located the missing man yesterday afternoon in this city, Rupp was taken to the Willard George hotel in Los Angeles last night and early today left for his parents' home in Salt Lake City.

"Rupp came to Long Beach about two weeks ago from Fresno. Later a trained nurse arrived to take charge of the young man, Rupp's unusual actions and the mystery surrounding his identity caused police and physicians to make an investigation. Rupp eventually was identified through a photograph supplied by a relative. He disappeared from a local hotel last Monday as he was about to be taken into custody by the police, escaped to San Diego and returned here yesterday. Detective G. Thompson located the missing man and turned Rupp over to his father.

Puzzled Over Nurse

"The elder Rupp announced yesterday that he was puzzled by the interest displayed in the younger Rupp by the nurse in question and before leaving for Salt Lake today announced a determination to return and make further investigation. The nurse who had ministered to Rupp, Jr., here, Mrs. Mae Smith, was paid $100 for her services by the father.

"When questioned by Detective Thompson Mrs. Smith declared she had no means of identifying young Rupp, who was traveling under the name of B. Burton. Examination of Rupp's effects last night showed, however, letters and telegrams, which clearly indicated Rupp's identity and the fact that he had a wife living at Twin Falls, Idaho. Rupp, according to his father, disappeared from his Idaho home about eight months ago."

Young Rupp is now at the home of his father in Salt Lake, having been accompanied by his parent from the coast to the Utah capital last Sunday.
