circumstances Nugent would uphold the president and his policies.

In the face of all this the Idaho senator switched, and switched at the most critical stage of the entire treaty fight.

Severely Own Intercourse

And the fact that he did switch is contrary to some of his former declarations to the effect that Senator Nugent considers it best for his own political interests that his figures—that the president's sun has set and that the time is at hand for him to ally himself with the faction opposed to the policies of the man in the White House.

In casting about for the influence that has been brought to bear upon Nugent to induce him to change, three stand out prominently in the minds of his former Democratic backers. There are William Randolph Hearst, the Blum-Pain Irish and William B. Borah. Although as far apart as the poles in many things, these three factors are as one in their determination to "get Wilson" and "all of them are known to make a direct appeal to the sympathies of John F. Nugent.

It is recalled now that it was John F. Nugent who swung Idaho into line for William Randolph Hearst when that sweet-voiced patriot was a candidate for the presidency back in 1904. Through the influence of Nugent Idaho was for Hearst in the democratic national convention. The two men have never been really divorced since.

Collusion Open Secret

As to the political collusion between William B. Borah and John F. Nugent, that is no secret in and around the Idaho state capital. Indeed it is given out that after the last election Nugent gave the credit for his victory to the "personal friends of Senator Borah." Now he is charged with knowing how to Borah's friends again in the hope of winning again.

On the face of it it looks to a man up a tree as if Senator Nugent had made the deliberate choice of Senator Borah and his support rather than President Wilson and his support. This leaves the ardent supporters of President Wilson here in an awkward position. They, too, must make the choice between the one hand and the Borah-Nugent combination on the other. To say that they are disgusted and bewildered is putting it mildly.

Davis as Strategic Point

A few days ago the information was given out through the Boise newspapers that Governor Davis had been called to north Idaho on important official business. Right on the heels of this announcement came the information from St. Maries, Benewah county, that the republicans of that county had assembled to choose delegates to the Cour d'Alene convention, and by mere chance Governor Davis happened to be in St. Maries at the time. He was even prevailed upon to visit the place where the Benewah county republicans were in session and "say a few words" to them.

Then to show that there was no hard feeling the Benewah republicans turned in, endorsed the administration of Governor Davis, his cabinet form of government and insisted on him serving for a second term. This all came about by mere chance, of course. The fact that Benewah county is the first to take action; the fact that its action might have an influence on others; that fact that Governor Davis happened to be on hand cocked and primed with a speech; the fact that appointees and friends of appointees of the governor were in the convention and perhaps in control—all these are mere incidents in the game of politics.

Outside State Politics

Incidentally it is noted that this Benewah county convention had nothing to do with state politics; that the delegates there chosen have nothing to do with state politics; that the Cour d'Alene convention to which these delegates were chosen has nothing to do with state politics; that its sole duty is to select eight delegates to the national convention at Chicago. But then what is the use of raising these technical points at this time? The main thing is to "put it across." Of course Ben county is next door neighbor to Kootenai county, the home of M. A. Kiger, the opponent of Governor Davis for the republican nomination; and that is all the more reason why it was necessary for Benewah to start the ball rolling.

Against Instructed Delegates

Ada county republicans have gone on record against instructed delegates to the Chicago convention. The delegates and 15 alternates were chosen by the county committee after voting against county convention. These were instructed by resolutions to vote for uninstructed national delegates. This is not surprising. Boise is the home of Senator Leah and Senator Borah is against uninstructed delegates. What would be thought of the influence of the prior senator if his own belittled way to ignore his wishes in a matter of the kind?

There is a better Leonard Wood sentiment in this community. It may be machine made and artificial as some of the words of Leonard Wood charge, but it is here and is spreading. In defiance of this and all other opposing factors the certainty grows that Senator Borah will be in control of the Idaho delegation in the republican national convention. Whether Senator Borah will take advantage of this for the reelection of John W. Hart to the position of member of the republican national committee for Idaho is one of the little political "by-plays" that is going to be watched with keenest interest. There is a limit beyond which it would be unsafe even for Senator Borah to go in Idaho politics.

High School News

Plans are formulating for the annual junior class "prom" to be given to the graduating class toward the end of the school year. This social event has been an institution for several years past, taking the form of an elaborate ball at times and sometimes taking the form of equally elaborate banquet. The latter form was employed last year by the present senior class. Unless the school board wishes enforcement of a ruling which now prohibits dancing in the high school, the "prom" will probably be taken outside the school. This step may be made by a two-thirds vote of the junior class, and judging by a straw vote recently taken, at which there was an overwhelming vote in favor of the dance, it will be taken. Active preparations for the event will probably not be commenced until next week, when a complete roster will be taken and committees appointed. Entertainment besides the probable dance will be planned, in order to obtain a large attendance at the "prom."

Election of officers for next year and selection of several delegates to the summer Y. W. C. A. conference at Payette will take place at the Blue Triangle club tonight. About six candidates for each of the four clubs of officers will be proposed. Club members have been conducting candy sales at

DANIELS LACKS SPIRIT OF NAVY FISKE DECLARES

Retired Rear Admiral Argues for Different Type of Department Head to Avoid Repetition of Mistakes

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The navy was unprepared for war in 1917 because of the "mental and temperamental characteristics of the men at its head and of the policy he pursued as the result of those characteristics," Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, retired, declared today before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

"To prevent improvements in the future," Admiral Fiske said, "the most important step is for the public to insist that the man at the head of the department shall be imbued with the spirit of the navy, highly educated, open minded and acquainted with the principles on which naval preparedness is based and by following which preparedness can be secured."

Admiral Fiske was aid for operations and senior advisor to the secretary of war for several years before the United States entered the war, but resigned as aide after differences regarding the building of warships and over preparedness.

Generally Unprepared.

The admiral told the committee the navy was not only unprepared for war in 1917, but it was unprepared in material and personnel, but lacked any well-prepared war plans. It was not until August 1, 1919, that the navy department established an organization for the study of making plans for war, he said, although he and other officers had urged such an organization for several years. Several war plans in 1910 and 1911, when he was a member of the general board, did not contain one per cent of what they should have embodied, Admiral Fiske testified, and in 1914 the navy was "wholly unprepared for war."

"The navy today could not carry out maneuvers such as the German navy executed in 1917," he said, "principally because of lack of battle cruisers and aerial forces."

Reviews Differences.

Much of Admiral Fiske's statement was devoted to a review of the differences with Secretary Daniels, "Mental characteristics and previous training" of Mr. Daniels were such as to prevent a "broad and profound view" of the needs of the navy as a whole, he said.

Mr. Daniels, he declared, refused to approve plans for the extension of the aerial fleet, the need for an efficient personnel and proper formulation of war plans prior to 1917.

Asks Mayo's Suggestions.

Rear Admiral Mayo was cross-examined briefly on his direct statement of yesterday. Chairman Hale requested him to prepare a further statement on his remarks with regard to the need of a well-considered policy for proper preparedness of the navy for war. He was also asked to prepare suggestions whereby mistakes of the recent war might be avoided in the future.

WILSON HOLDS TO CLAIM FOR EXPULSION OF TURK

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Frank expression of his belief that the Turk as a nation should be expelled from Europe and that this "often expressed view" of the president was carried out in framing the Turkish treaty is contained in President Wilson's note to the allied leaders, replying to their recent statement of information concerning the progress made in framing the treaty. The note was made public here last night after the state department had been informed that it had been delivered to the allied premier.

The president wrote that while the strength of the arguments for retention of the Turks in Constantinople was recognized, the American government believes that the statements against it are far stronger. Approval of some of the territorial phases and upon the whole economic program was deferred, he said, because the more complete information as to the objects sought.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Strength in the March option caused shorts in the deferred deliveries of corn to become uneasy and offerings were light. May advancing more than a point above yesterday's close. Commission houses that recently have been the leading sellers headed the buying. Short covering was responsible for the upturn. May early selling at $159 1/8 or within 5/8 of the high point on the present advance. Opening prices ranged from 3/8 to 1/8 higher with May $1.57 1/2 to $1.58 1/4 and July $1.51 1/2 to $1.51 3/4.

Resumption of free river service with the east brought a wave of short covering in corn that swept all deliveries higher. A big bull factor was the prospect that congress would declare separate peace with Germany. Profit-taking $1.07, which was 3/8 higher than the checked the upturn. ## SALTS FINE FOR AGING KIDNEY

We Eat Too Much Meat which Ologs Kidneys, then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, also we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver and stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the salt of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

JOINT MEASURE DECLARES PEACE

Resolution Introduced in House Would Assert State of War at End

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A joint resolution declaring the state of war between the United States and Germany at an end was introduced today in the house immediately after its approval at a conference between republican leaders and members of the foreign affairs committee.

The measure was referred to the foreign affairs committee, Republican leaders plan to bring it up Friday under a special rule with the hope of final action before adjournment that day. Attention was called that this would be Good Friday and that war was declared on Good Friday three years ago.

The resolution provides for certain reciprocal trading with Germany and for repeal of the president's war powers. It allows Germany 45 days after its adoption in which to agree not to assert any claims against the United States which she could not have asserted under the treaty of Versailles. A penalty of $10,000 is provided in cases of violation of the terms of the resolution as to trading.

Labor Leader Registers Serious Objection to Kansas Industrial Court

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—After having suppressed imperial autonomy in Europe, we protest against the attempt at the establishment of industrial autonomy at home," Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared in an address before a joint session of the legislature Tuesday. Mr. Compers' speech was a reply to the argument recently presented to the legislature by Governor Allen of Kansas in support of the enactment of an industrial relations law similar to the Kansas statute.

"The industrial relations law of Kansas," said Mr. Compers, "has its roots from the workers their right of membership in themselves. They must work by order of the law, by order of the court, under penalty of fines and imprisonment."

"If the workers wish to refuse to give their services they must perform whether they like it or not, and the government such a law compelling them to work."

"A slave must work when his master directs; he cannot refuse. The freeman may refuse to work, may own himself."

REBELLIOUS GERMANS (Continued from Page One)

the government's demands for the cessation of armed activity in the Ruhr region, was seized Tuesday by a company of the red army returning from the front. An agreement was obtained at a new committee be appointed and for the withdrawal of the acceptance to the government's ultimatum. The new committee contends that compliance with the terms of the ultimatum, particularly the surrender of arms, is a physical impossibility. A general strike is threatened for Dusseldorf although late last night no order had been issued. All activities were proceeding normally at Dusseldorf, the units at the front having been recalled by the deposed committee. Truck loads of other troops, however, left last night for the north.

STARTED RING CAREER WHEN 13 YEARS OLD

Georges Carpentier Won His First Fight at that Age in Four Short Rounds

By AL KAPLAN... Georges Carpentier began fighting when he was only 13 years of age. He won his first fight at that age from Bourgeois in four rounds.

In 1911, and when in his 17th year, Carpentier began to assume his real form. He then stood 5 feet 11 inch in height and weighed 167 pounds. At this time he offered to meet all comers, and was successful nearly all the way down the line until he met the Dixie Kid.

The Kid was a greater fighter, even though he was a tramp and had itchy feet. He had a normal hatred to giving out money to railroad companies. On one occasion he rode the blind baggage cars from the Show Me state to San Francisco.

The Kid arrived on the Pacific coast at a time when fighters there were as thick as flies around a molasses barrel, and he left Frisco for Los Angeles, where he obtained a job as bootlegger. Dixie's method of traveling was unique. When leaving a place, he donned old clothes, packed his good "duds" in a valise and shipped them on to his destination.

When he arrived at the town he was headed for he would get his valise, don his good clothes and thus make himself fit to move around among the swiftest colored "spats." Dixie's wandering around in a valise that was studded with tin trouble. A story is told of how one time Dixie, because of his dusty and unkempt appearance became involved in an impromptu fight.

It seems that Dixie, while traveling through the San Joaquin valley, stopped at one of the smaller towns, and, having nothing in particular to do, snatched into a saloon that was frequented by cowboys, lumbermen and other hard-fisted gentlemen. There he ran afoul Bert Fowled, a 250-pound negro, who had been bullying everyone for some time.

The cowboys formed an impromptu ring and the two colored individuals stripped for the fray. There were murmurings of pity for the reason that the Kid looked like a child compared to his great, bulky opponent, who up to this point had proved himself invincible. But, this time he had more than met his match, for in three minutes by the watch the Kid had him whipped to a frazzle and down and out.

Papke and Klaus, the two middleweights who took Carpentier's measure, were the best in the line when they met him. Carpentier's defeat at their hands, due to his then youth and inexperience, should not be counted against him.

Their victories over Carpentier were not unexpected. They met Carpentier in 1912. On June 24 of that year Klaus, in the nineteenth round, was given a decision over Georges on a claim of foul.

That Klaus was a great fighter was proved the following year when he fought a 10-round draw with Jack Dillon at Indianapolis at a time when Dillon was beating all comers.

After that battle Papke returned to America, where he wound up his career in an eight-round, no-decision bout at St. Louis with Marty Bowman as his opponent.

From the time the two great middleweights met Carpentier they backed up, which would indicate that their fight with the Frenchman did them no good, even though they did win them.

Carpentier's record in the army is one of which any man might feel proud. The great French boxer has taken part in several thrilling aerial engagements and has had several half-breath escapes from annihilation.

Three times he was decorated for daring deeds as an aviator, and while hovering over the battlefields of France. Long before the war he was the pet of the Paris sporting life. Today he is the idol of all France.

JACK JOHNSON MAKES ANOTHER PUBLICITY BID... Exiled Fighter Near U. S. Border Attempts to Attract the Americans to His Boat

CALEXICO, Cal., (AP)—Jack Johnson, former world champion heavyweight pugilist, arrived at Mexicali, adjoining Calexico, but across the international line in Mexico today. Johnson was accompanied by his wife, his nephew and his wife's maid.

Johnson began negotiations today for a fight at Mexicali in the near future. He also signed an agreement today to give an exhibition boxing match at Mexicali next Saturday at which time members of the Elks from many cities are expected in Calexico to attend the dedication of a new lodge building.

Johnson said he expected to go direct to Chicago when he re-entered the United States and endeavor to have the charges against him disposed of. He said he would then take up his former occupation of boxing and would sign for a theatrical tour. He said he plans to spend the rest of his life in the United States.

After starting negotiations for a boxing match here, Johnson arranged to go to Tiquana next Monday where he hopes to meet J. H. Coffroth, fight promoter, and sign for two or three bouts in lower California to be put on before he goes across the line.

THE FORUM

WHAT IS THE "AMERICAN PLAN"? In a column and a half contribution to one of our evening papers, Henry C. Seranton relates the circumstances under which he says his job with the local highway district.

This is spoken like a true American; and, as we understand, it voices the very crux of the "American Plan." But to what union can Mr. Seranton belong that permits him to subscribe to such a sentiment?

I proclaim it my constitutional right to belong to whatever church, league, political party or union, or to neither, as I may choose, and to defy any other man who claims to be an American and a citizen to deny me such right.

Babe Ruth Goes Into Bleachers to Reach Critic

Bile of Homerun King Overflows When He is Twitted for Fanning Twice

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Fair-minded fans here are not inclined to blame Babe Ruth for what came near being a serious row in the game between Yankees and Dodgers recently, when Ruth jumped into the bleachers and started after a spectator who had been "riding" him. Ruth had struck out twice in the game, the last time in the eighth inning. When the Yankee came in from the field for their turn at bat in the ninth, Ruth went over to the bleachers. There were some hard words and one man dared Ruth to come into the stand. Ruth jumped into the stand and the fan pulled a knife. The situation was getting ugly when Ernie Shore rushed in and dragged Ruth away. Comment heard among players and others is that if Ruth is going to let criticism get under his skin in exhibition games, he will have a hard time of it during the regular season.

Brief Bits of Sport

There'll be a scrap bout or two during the coming league convales, but let's hope they'll exit like grapple stuff.

The Cincinnati Reds seem to be in their proper form. Every major and minor league club they have tackled in spring games have licked to world's champs.

And right here we are willing to wager our top that Moran's outfit will not win the National golf tournament this season.

Ain't that a fine chance for somebody?

Benny Leonard, Mike O'Dowd and Jack Britton are a disgrace to the "profession." Each and every one of 'em insists on fighting for a living.

The British government denies that "India is in rebellion."

Neither is Ireland.

Gasoline is going to be much higher, a petroleum engineer says. But he isn't going to get any of our money, 'cause we don't spend it that way.

The Salt Lake Bees wound up the training season with a 13 to 6 score over the Santa Rosa club. Johnson, Maggert and Bumler got three hits each.

Georges Carpentier is as good as licked. Jim Corbett has at the stamp of approval on the French boxer, which if Jim is running true to form in picking winners, is good enough to send the foreigner right back home.

Corbett tried out Carpentier in private the other night and was "amazed at the speed and cleverness of Europe's champion boxer."

Pat Moore is out again with a challenge directed against Jimmy Wilde.

But there's nothing stirring around the Wilde camp, at least nothing of interest to Moore.

"Will the farmer strike?" is a query often propounded in these hectic times. The answer is: "Yes, he will strike the voter" who thinks this world can be rebuilt on an eight-hour day in the good old summer time.

Sam Smiley, sagebrush sage, says: "I'd like to see a fellow who hard up, he'd better get a dollar, but he's harder up in the year 1920 because his dollar he ain't got air worth only 46 cents."

If the many rookies who have been hitting homers in training games were able to keep up the clip in championship games, it may be a manager's worries would depart quickly.

Buck Weaver and the former ruler of Germany seem to be in pretty much the same class. The latter has repudiated his three-year agreement with the Chicago Americans, just as the former Kaiser repudiated agreements to keep to preserve Belgium's neutrality.

Weaver's contract, signed last spring, calls for $1,000 per year of six months. He says he will not play; now comes Cinskey rates the ax.

Seems to be a bit of the spirit of the times in the attitude of the ball player.

SHOULD BE $100,000.

LAWRENCE, Kas., (AP)—Jesse Willard, former heavyweight champion, was fined $1 and costs in the court of Justice R. C. Manley here yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace. Complaint was made by Fred Logan, a negro policeman, who testified today that Willard hit him "with both fists" during an argument over a woman. Logan was riding in a wagon.

RAE FOR HIM

CHAMP PUTS OUT EGAN

HAS BEST OF WALLACE

have been destroyed and the fer is continuing. Livestock, too, is being summarily disposed of number of men and children have

According to Dr. H. E. Groome, Je-suate veterinarian of Twin Falls,
a number of dogs in the Hollister section have shown symptoms. A report transmitted by a state veterinarian has determined the presence of rabies in one dead dog.
These cases are out of trouble at Lake Mohor farm, one mile north of Hollister, about a fortnight ago, a dog owned by Mr. Moore attacked several children. The dog was killed and the brain examined in Falls. A negative report was made. Another dog owned by Moore killed in the past few days had brain sent to the state department for examination. H. A. Macdonald, bacteriologist, has advised groome that the brain shows pos-

The finding has caused a rush of
to sanitarians for pasture

ATTEMPT TO BURN BICKEL SCHOOL IS FRUSTRATED BY PEDESTRIANS

Dr. Schwarz and Son Extinguish Fire Started in Teacher's Desk in Basement—This is Second Attempt of This Nature Made in Past Four Weeks—Vandals Suspected

Two attempts in a month have been made to destroy by fire the Bickel school. One attempt was made in the last days of February, the second last night. The best of good fortune for the city prevented serious property loss.

On both occasions, Miss Rose Murray, principal of the Bickel school, says, the same plan of procedure was followed.
The fire was started in the teachers'
desks. The desks were in basement class rooms, at opposite sides of the hall.

Last night's attempt to fire the big school building was discovered and frustrated by Dr. T. E. Schwarz and his son Theodore as they were proceeding home from town at about 7:30. A blazing flash in the basement of the school attracted the attention of the pedestrians. The younger man, having once been a pupil at the Bickel school, readily found a means of ingress. The fire, found to have been set in one of the large drawers in an oak desk, was quickly extinguished and the incident reported to Principal Murray. The desk was ruined with all of its contents.
On the first occasion the fact that an attempt had been made to destroy the building was not discovered until the building was opened for class work the following morning, when the charred remains were found. The drawers were evidently been closed too tightly, thus smothering the flames.

That the attempts were not made by any of the school students is the belief expressed by both Miss Murray and Superintendent Hal G. Blue, who are inclined to place the blame on older persons possessed of malicious intent.
The school authorities entertain some suspicions as to who may be responsible and are following clues that may lead to early arrests. Entrance to the building was made through one of the basement windows, officials believe.

CARVER NOW ACCUSED OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Accusing W. M. Carver of murder in the second degree, a new complaint was this morning filed in the probate court by County Prosecutor Frank M.
L. Stephan. Carver, who is a farmer in the Bliss section, is charged with killing a sheep raiser who died in Gooding hospital last night.
The herder's death results, according to official statements, from a bullet wound in the brain, the bullet
having been fired, this officials say,
by Carver during an altercation concerning the trespassing of sheep on Carver's land last Saturday. Carver was released on $1,000 bond on Sunday, but when his victim died last night he was re-arrested. Further bond, it is said, will be provided today.

TEMPLARS MAKE NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD

Intense Interest is Displayed in Special Convocation of Commandery

Attendance records were shattered at last night's special convocation of Twin Falls commandery, No. 10, Knights Templar. Interest in the work of this advanced branch of Masonic work showed a corresponding increase.
Bilateral excommunication began at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, four candidates being accorded the rank of knight during the afternoon and evening. At 7 o'clock dinner was served at which 53 members of the order were seated. There was a gratifying number of out-of-town visitors. Immediately following dinner Hal G.
Blue, superintendent of city schools,
gave a short address, his subject relating to the general industrial and economic situation in this and foreign countries. Mr. Blue warned against too complacent an attitude toward existing conditions, and urged Americans to beware of the growing spirit that breeds disloyalty to the country.

The subject of support for the new Masonic club was pressed home by President Harry Barnett, of the club,
in a short talk explanatory of the club's purposes and the ambitions of its officers. There was liberal response to the call for help in establishing the club.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS WILL HOLD CEREMONIAL

hotel, will be in charge of the officers of Rose Croix lodge, and the members will be addressed by the Rev. A. G.
Bennett of the Methodist Episcopal church. The ceremonial of extinguishing the lights will conclude the exercises.

EXERCISES SUNDAY NIGHT

copal church Sunday school will be held Sunday evening in the church,
instead of Friday evening, as heretofore stated. A splendid program has been prepared by the classes.
