PARIS, (AP)—Premier Millerand today received Dr. von Mayer, the German charge d'affaires, and went over the situation in the Ruhr district with him.

PARIS, (AP)—Premier Millerand today received Dr. von Mayer, the German charge d'affaires, and went over the situation in the Ruhr district with him. The premier reiterated the terms of his letter of yesterday dealing with the question of permission for German troops to enter the Ruhr region in which the military intervention would be useless and dangerous. He added that the French government was taking steps to confirm the information upon which his decision was based. The premier also conferred with Marshal Foch respecting measures to be taken in case the Germans attempt to send more of their troops into the Ruhr district. No apprehension is expressed, however, that anything further would result than an advance of the French troops a dozen miles or so in order to occupy the Ruhr district. It is not expected, however, that this would provide any light on the question on the part of the Germans. Dr. von Mayer is declared to have intimated that his government might consent to send more of their troops into the Ruhr district if the evacuation of the Ruhr district by the additional German troops, if they were allowed to enter the region. At the same time, he said much skepticism here, even in circles close to the government, regarding the efficacy or the desirability of such an advance.

Officials of the league have expressed the hope the convention would result in the unification of all interests in support of some plan for improving the Colorado basin for the benefit of the entire southwest. The convention began with an address by Governor W. J. Stephens of California. W. J. Prosser, of Pasadena, spoke on "Unity of the Southwest" and the Colorado river basin was discussed by E. C. # BORAH BULKING BIG IN OUTLOOK OF POLITICIANS

Volunteer Explanations of Motive for Fight on Boodle Generally Give No Credit for Disinterestedness

PRIOR RECORD CREEPS INTO CONSIDERATIONS

Opinion Gains Ground that Idaho's Senior Senator is Playing Cards to Win Presidential Nomination for Himself

BOISE.—(Special to The News)—Senator Borah is monopolizing much of the attention of the politicians in and around the state house these days. The question of the house seems to be "What does Borah mean?"

It is not at all complimentary to the Idaho senator that not one out of 10 give him credit for disinterestedness in his present fight against the use of boodle in politics. There are those who insist that the senator is actuated wholly by patriotic and altruistic motives, those that his love of country, his abhorrence of trickery, corruption and underhanded methods in politics; his determination to have fair play are the only motives actuating him in his onslaught on Major General Leonard Wood and Frank O. Lowden. But those admirers are in a minority.

Back Track to 1912

Most of those who express opinions on the subject hark back to the days of 1912 when Borah made a somewhat similar fight against the boodlers. They tell again how he flitted with the Roosevelt forces and then threw them down in the campaign, supporting neither Taft nor Roosevelt. They recall that in that year he would not say a word in support of republican stilet ticket and refused to appear on the same platform with John C. Haines, the republican candidate for governor. He made his fight for William E. Borah and William E. Borah alone.

Deep down in the inner consciousness of many astute republican politicians of Idaho is the conviction that William E. Borah played all his cards in 1912 to secure the republican presidential nomination in that year for William E. Borah and that he has not yet recovered from the disappointment and disgust that entered his soul at that time.

But this was "before the war." The campaign of 1920 is wide open and Borah is again dancing in front of the footlights. Also at the state capital, men who studied him carefully in politics since the days when he backed to the limit William Jennings Bryan and the free and unlimited exchange of silver "without the aid or consent of any other nation on earth" are convinced that William E. Borah is today consumed with an ambition to be president of the United States and that he is fully determined to satisfy that ambition this year if it is in the cards. His whole course since the close of the war—the leadership of the "Battalion of Death" against the peace treaty and league of nations, his flamboyant attacks on England, and now his attacks on Wood, Lowden and all other republicans who seem likely to carry off the republican nomination at Chicago—all this is taken to be an outward expression of his ambition.

Would Coerce Party.

Indeed it is announced at the streets of Boise that Senator Borah has in receipt of a letter from him in which he says that he proposes to force the republicans at Chicago to go on record in their platform against a league of nations of any kind. This would mean the nomination of Hiram Johnson or

William E. Borah for the presidency, because the same forces that would bring about the adoption of such a platform would bring about a candidate in harmony with the platform. Just how this would lead to the nomination of Borah instead of Johnson is still buried in obscurity. In discussing this phase of the situation old timers recall the nomination of James A. Hiram Johnson in 1890. That was in Chicago, for John Sherman was the favorite son of Ohio in that convention and he chose James A. Garfield to be president of the United States before the convention. Garfield made such an eloquent speech that when the smoke rolled away John Sherman was the standard bearer of the republican party.

History Might Be Repeated.

There is no reason why the wisecracks, why this bit of political history could not be repeated in 1920. William E. Borah could make such a speech in Chicago, for John Sherman was the favorite son of Ohio in that convention and he chose James A. Garfield to be president of the United States before the convention. Garfield made such an eloquent speech that when the smoke rolled away John Sherman was the standard bearer of the republican party.

It is a dream, of course, but able-bodied men in Idaho are beginning to nibble themselves with dreams. Dream or no dream, this idea of others equally fantastic are running rampant in Idaho. Among politicians, republicans, democrats and non-descript, are speculating on the chance of William E. Borah dominating the next national convention. It should be a thing happen as Borah's nomination, even for the vice presidency, is not so unlikely as it seems. Borah's enthusiasm that all opposition would melt away. There would be no democratic or nonpartisan party speaking of—everything would be Borah's.

Glimpse on Handwagon.

With this thought in mind peanut politicians are popping up everywhere. They feel that with Borah being on ticket everything that smacked of republicanism would be swept into the fire on the tidal wave, and to win all that would be necessary would be to get on the ticket by hook or by crook.

Conner Enters Race.

Captain A. H. Conner of Sandpoint formally entered the race for United States senator in the past week, thus adding materially to the interest of the situation. It is idle to speculate at this early day on the effect this announcement is to have. Friends of Frank R. Gooding profess to be pleased with it. They are confident that Col. E. G. Davis is to enter the race later. Three figures dividing the soldier vote, and not one of them with money backing, would seem to make it any sleight of hand for the former governor in a four-candidate state convention. ### Dr. E. O. Sisson Extolls Personality, Freedom and Human Equality in Address Before Educators at Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash., (P)—A plea that emphasis be put on personality, freedom and human equality, rather than on property and the amassing of wealth was made by Dr. Edward O. Sisson, president of the University of Montana, in an address at the opening session here Wednesday of the annual convention of the Inland Empire Teachers' association. "Let America make it clear that her constitution and her laws have their aim and end in the personality, the freedom, the human equality of her people, of all her people," he said, "and that neither laws nor constitutions are a yoke of brass, but rather the ministers of the public welfare, amenable to the will of the people, the durable, yet evolving form of democracy."

World Wide Over Property.

"The world is absolutely agog over property today," he declared, and continued: "This is the crux of our present situation, out of which arises the acid test by which our faith will be tried. It is over property that the extremists at both ends are threatening to swamp the ship of state."

Changes in the economic life of the nation are desirable, he declared, and insisted that the present distribution of wealth is illogical because we are hardheaded to it. Corporations made 2,000 per cent profit during the war when 99 per cent of the people grow poorer; twice as much money is expended for pleasure automobiles as for teachers' salaries; a "movie star" receives in a year more wealth than all the high school teachers of Montana or Idaho. A man is killed in a mill or a mine his widow and children receive, if the state is generous and progressive, a sum being $200 he "here" should maintain them in a decent American home and console them for the loss of husband and father.

Improvements Constant.

"But whatever. All these conditions are better than they once were and if America is true, they shall be far better yet. Yet not too much progress, especially among those who themselves are at ease. For by undue tolerance of unjust economic conditions come reigns of terror and red repression. Let us set our house in order as rapidly as may be, lest disorder break upon us."

All history, said Dr. Sisson, "is against the doctrine of equality." It is only about 50 years, he said, "since the people in general got their first real notice from the writers of history."

"The biggest task for America," he declared, "is to keep the common, everyday man in the running. It is small comfort to be 'here' if he has already lost any chance of winning when he wakes to the fact that he has once entered the race. And yet just so long as success, national and individual, is measured in material terms, so long this infinite inequality is likely to persist. So long as the popular mind is fascinated and deluded and infatuated by the spectacle of immense wealth, and is led in a thousand ways to identify wealth and success, so long the advance toward genuine democracy is barred."

"What is it that every American has a right to, equally with every other? It is just the personality. We started out with that and that freedom under the law, that is the indispensable condition of personality. It is a worthy life, a decent life, a life one need not be ashamed of nor apologize for; it is to look the world and every man in the eye without either fear or shame. It is to choose a mate, found a home, rear sons and daughters and behold with joy how they spring out upon the same universal democracy of the privilege of the worthy life. "This is what 99 per cent of men and women really want, more than money, more than God, and it is what Americans must have."

FISTIC FANS NOT RAVING OVER PROPOSED DECISION ABOUT FIGHT BETWEEN CHAMPIONS

Johnny Kilbane and Pete Herman Are Not Favorites with the Public and Fight Between Them Wouldn't Set the World Afire

By EDDIE GAHAN.

Fight fans throughout the country are none too eager to see the proposed match between Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion and Pete Herman, bantamweight king, checked. Cleveland promoters go on to land such a fight on the fourth of July. If it materializes it will be a 12-round affair, to a decision.

Sport followers, however, are anxious to see either of these little boxers finally agree to a decision, for they have foisted the public too long. Kilbane went out of his class twice before, suffering a knockout at the hands of Bonnie Leonard, the lightweight champion, and beating Kid Williams in Philadelphia when the latter was bantamweight champion.

We happened to see the latter bout, which was staged four years ago in the Phillies' park. Williams was at that time still the terrible Wolf boy, but Kilbane punched him unmercifully for six rounds. The few rounds that Kilbane had on the Baltimore arena, of course, showed to advantage, but that night Johnny seemed to have everything.

Estimates were willing to pay to see Kilbane engage in bouts with youngsters who had a chance of winning to title, but it was doubtful if many of the fans would betray any great anxiety to see Kilbane in the ring with Herman. Like Johnny, Herman isn't any too big a drawing card.

Baseball Methods Help Children in Spelling Studies

KANE, Pa., (AP)—With the school room as a "diamond," the corners used for bases and the teacher on the "mound," the local public schools here have adopted the "baseball system" of spelling. The pupils, as players, when called "to bat," advance to the corner of the room designated as the "plate" and the teacher pronounces three words. If all are correctly spelled the "player" moves to first base, having made a "hit"; each succeeding player who makes a "hit" advances him a base until he is scored. Each batter, on making a "safe hit," goes to first base and the runs scored count for the side the players represent. When the player fails to spell a word correctly he is declared "out," and goes to the "players' bench." The rules of the national game are adhered to as strictly as possible, there being three out to a side and nine innings to a game. The teachers say it is the best method of teaching spelling they have ever known.

PICKS FLAWS IN FEDERAL REPORT

Captain Wheeler Says Blaine Investigation Misleading and Incorrect

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., (AP)—The report of the Blaine depositions of 1917 made by President Wilson's commission, headed by Secretary of Labor William B. Weaver, was characterized as "misleading and incorrect" by Captain Harry Wheeler, former sheriff of Blaine, yesterday, testifying at the trial of Harry E. Weston, charged with kidnaping in connection with the depositions.

One thing, the report makes no mention of the Mexicans deported, of whom there were many," Captain Wheeler commented after County Attorney Wheeler read the report. He has a copy of the commission report, and the findings contained in the report shown to Captain Wheeler were the following:

That the conditions in Blaine were peaceful and free from any indications of disorder or violence... of officials of the city and who are in a position to testify... and without bias... without authority in law, either state or federal."

Fighting Hunger

Hunger is never more than a few days away from the American people.

The coal strike showed us what a narrow margin the country goes on, even in a non-perishable necessity which can be stored.

Swift & Company is engaged in the business of fighting hunger.

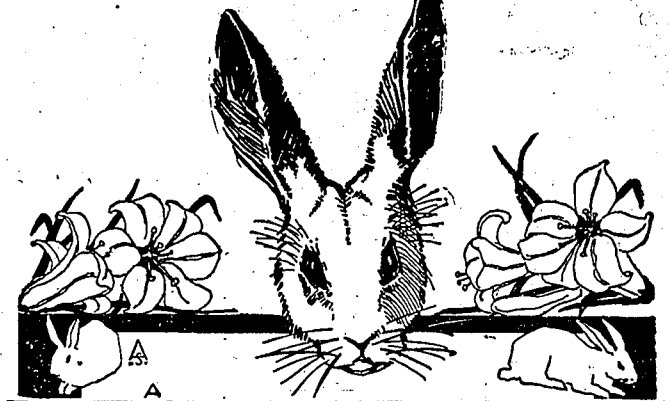

From coast to coast, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, the lines of defense are drawn—packing plants at strategic points; branch houses in four hundred towns and cities; hundreds of car routes; thousands of refrigerator cars; tens of thousands of loyal men and women expert in their work.

Day by day, hour by hour ceaselessly, this fight, your fight, goes on. Yet so smoothly, surely and victoriously that you, unaware how close hunger always is, are as certain each night of tomorrow's meat as you are of tomorrow's sun.

And so economically is this done that the cost to you for this service is less than three cents a pound of meat sold. The profits shared in by more than 10,000 shareholders whose money makes the victory possible is only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products.

If hunger did not make it necessary for us to fight this fight in the best possible way for all concerned, the competition of hundreds of other packers, large and small, would compel us.

has a by-law that forces a man to take two days to do a certain work that otherwise he could do in one day, does not that make his wages double what they should be?

Who Pays the Bills?

The Taxpayer, the man who owns the home, the man who rents his home, the man who rents his office, the man who tries to build business blocks and homes to improve the city.

It Is Not a Question of Wages

One of the fundamental principles of this organization is to maintain a wage scale as high as any other town in the state. It is a question of efficiency, of production, of fairness, of justice between man and man. Of the right of our boys to learn a trade. Of the right of any man to earn a living. Of the right of a business man to run his business without being forced to be an agent for a labor union. It is not a question of wages, but a question of growth and expansion of our community. We know and we welcome the issue.

DISSATISFIED FIREMEN SIGN RESIGNATIONS

Threats of Prosecution for Conspiracy Strike Chicago City Employees Striking for Higher Pay

CHICAGO, (AP)—Threats of prosecution for conspiracy faced city firemen today as a result of withdrawal resignations as a "strike" for higher pay. Seven hundred firemen signed resignations yesterday in defiance of city and by nightfall they expect to have similar action by 1,800 of the 2,207 city truckmen and policemen.

John Curtiss, assistant fire department property, notified union officials today that their action was a conspiracy. The fire marshal, Curtiss, said, had sent a letter to city officials for fire service, and would do so to fill the ranks.

The situation was further complicated by the withdrawal of the 256 fire department engineers, announced their men would walk out if non-union pipemen and truckmen were employed.

Reject Council's Offer
No break was seen today in the ranks of the 1,000 city hall clerks, 350 garbage handlers and 75 food inspectors who have been striking for three days. At meetings last night the various unions declared the ten per cent wage advance voted by city council yesterday was insufficient and would not be accepted. The strikers seek a flat increase of 25 per cent.

Tears Flow when Canine Pets Are Wantonly Killed

Wage of Dog—Destruction by Poisoning Causes Grief Around Town

Dr. F. F. McAfee and the doctor's family are mourning the loss of "Jim," a Boston bull terrier and a friend of the family and the child who lives in the families in the neighborhood for many years past.

The death of Jim took place sometime during the last of March. The little animal had spent the day playing about with the youngsters in quite the way Jim ordinarily spent his days. But in the late afternoon Jim showed unmistakable signs of distress, and as the evening wore on there was no evidence of improvement. A veterinarian was called and restorative measures employed but without results. The veterinarian, however, was readily enabled to diagnose the trouble. He went further and gave it the name of strychnine. Jim would not play with the children next day, or for that matter, any other day.

Jim had been poisoned. And so the little chaps who live about the block where Jim lived stand around in little whispering groups and play not at all the way they used to do that Jim could climb a fence "most and as good as eat. That he chased cats but didn't seem to care much whether he caught 'em or not and that when they wanted him he was always around and always ready for whatever might be going on. There are other dogs, of course, but they know Jim very, very well.

Jim, it appears, is not the only victim of this particular form of crime in Twin Falls. Exact Who is willing to pay a substantial cash reward for information as to the identity of the person who killed in the same manner a valuable dog of this kind in the last few days. Other cases are mentioned, and the conclusion is unmistakable that some microbe is at work in the northern part of the Twin Falls residence district.

Such incidents are hard to explain to children.

the state, while Morris Hilliquit, Seymour Stedman, Gilbert E. Roe, S. John Block, William Kazla and Walter Nolle appeared for the suspended assemblymen.

Twenty-four days were consumed in the hearing.

By its action the assembly established a precedent altogether unique in the legislative history in the United States, as never before has an entire party delegation been ejected from any legislative body.

When the assembly adjourned it had been in continuous session 23 hours and 40 minutes.

MRS. MARY E. ROACH, of Lynchburg, Va., who says Taniae is her favorite medicine and that she will always keep it on hand as it enabled her to enjoy three years of good health.

"Taniae has been the favorite medicine in my cabinet for three years," said Mrs. M. E. Roach, of 402 Clay St., Lynchburg, Virginia, in an interview, recently.

"At the time I began taking Taniae," explained Mrs. Roach, "I had been suffering from indigestion, rheumatism and other troubles for nine years and could find nothing to help me. If I ventured to eat anything the least bit heavy I would black up with sour gas and almost another. My heart would palpitate frightfully and when these spells came on me I was so dizzy and weak I could hardly stand up. I often had to stop and rest while doing my housework. I was badly constipated and suffered with headache. I also suffered with rheumatism in my fingers and especially in cloudy, rainy or snowy weather my pain was almost unbearable. My kidneys and liver were out of order and I had the worst kind of pains in my back, legs and shoulders. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me more harm than good, as I always suffered afterwards and had become so run-down, weak and miserable that I sometimes felt like life was hardly worth living.

"One day I read a testimonial for Taniae that seemed so sincere that I decided to see if the medicine would help me. Well, the first bottle did me so much good that I got another, then another and so on until my troubles all disappeared. As I said that was three years ago, and I have been able to keep myself in good health ever since by taking a few doses of Taniae now and then as I feel the need of it. Taniae has built me up and given me strength and energy so that my housework is easy for me. It makes life worth living for it keeps me with a good appetite, helps me to digest my food properly, and by relieving me of all suffering and nervousness, enables me to sleep soundly every night. I shall always praise Taniae."

Taniae is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.—adv.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Corn took a decided upward swing in price today mainly as a result of bullish estimates regarding winter wheat. A leading expert had figured the winter wheat crop condition as the lowest for this date in more than ten years, bearing a single exception. Besides, his report suggested that the consequent abandonment of winter wheat would amount to the huge total of 5,000,000 acres. Opening corn prices, which ranged from 1-2 to 3-4 higher, with May $1.58 3-4 to $1.59 1-8 and July $1.53 1-4 to $1.52 1-2, were followed by a slight reaction and then by material fresh upturns.

On the advance July and September deliveries went to the highest prices yet on the crop. Heavy buying for hedges with eastern connections was a feature. The close was strong, 2 1-4 to 3-4c net higher, with May $1.01 3-8 at $1.01 1-2 and July $1.64 1-4 to $1.64 3-8.

Oats sympathized with corn. After opening 3-8c off to 5-8c advance, including July at 72 1-2c, the market secured moderate gains all around.

Continuance of the strike of Chicago stockyard employees tended to lift the provision market. Business, however, lacked volume. In the later trading strength of grain failed to counterbalance the effect of increased commission house selling. Much of the advance in provisions was therefore wiped out.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding I wish to state that it was not I who made the tests upon the heads of certain animals suspected of suffering from rabies which failed to show the presence of the germ but in the case of which re-examination at Boise gave positive results.

This sale of suits at $49.50 has met with such a generous response that we have decided to continue the selling another week, and have also added some fresh styles from our Oregon Branch. We doubt if these values can be matched for less than $60.

A Remarkable Silk Dress Sale . . . $29.75

Another week of selling will see the last of the pretty silk dresses offered at $29.75—and so the selling continues. $35 to $40 would be reasonable prices for the smart new frocks that are now offered at $29.75. Materials are tafetas, foulards, georgettes, and most of them exclusive models.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS WILL HAVE CHANCE TO VOTE ON VITAL MATTER

BOISE, Idaho (Special)—Idaho farm bureau members, to the number of about 14,000, will be called upon before April 15, to indicate their approval or disapproval of a bill introduced by the bill in congress to levy a tax of 1 percent on land holdings in excess of $10,000. Their vote will be in the form of a referendum to be held by the American Farm Bureau Federation, which was formed at Chicago March 3.

Submission of this referendum is the first result in Idaho of the action of the Idaho State farm bureau, at its recent meeting in Boise, in deciding to join the national federation. At the Boise meeting special agronomist forest given by the delegates to the provision in the proposed federation constitution, that the federation should not be committed to opinions on national policies without submission of such questions to a referendum of the membership.

A copy of the referendum, which is the first ever put out by the national body, has been received in the office of L. W. Elsharty, secretary of the state farm bureau. It will be transmitted by him to the county farm bureaus, with a request that it be passed on to community chairman for submission to farmers in their communities. The referendum says:

"February 7, 1920, Representative Nolan introduced in the house of representatives a bill to provide for the raising of public revenues by a tax upon the privilege of the use and enjoyment of lands of large value. Section 1 of said bill defines land to be 'the surface of the ground with all abutments and water rights and minerals, and not including improvements the result in whole or in part of the application of labor to land.'

"Section 2 provides 'That all persons, firms, associations and corporations owning land in value in excess of $10,000, whether in possession, or leased to others, shall be subject to an excise tax upon the privilege of the use and enjoyment of such excess at the rate of 1 per centum.'

"The referendum says: 'The object of this act is to raise public revenues. It is not supposed that it will do away entirely with, but be supplementary to the present income tax laws. The proponents of this and similar measures believe that land does not at present bear its just proportion of taxes as compared to the industries.'

"Effect: In considering this act you should not allow the fact that the revenues therefrom will come in principal part from the farmers, to influence your judgment, but should consider it in relation to fairness to other interests; and whether or not it would be of sufficient burden to affect land values, rentals to income and thus affect production.

"There is no provision made for deductions for lien or mortgages. The provisions merely call for one per cent per annum on actual valuations of all holdings above $10,000. Since the farmers of the nation are most vitally concerned in this proposal we ask that you give this careful consideration and return the enclosed ballot to the American Farm Bureau Federation, Ames, Iowa, not later than April 15, 1920."

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair, which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound" is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the glow and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—adv.

THE BIG ONE

Fear that might have existed on the score of possible injury to the interests of France consequent upon the reversal of Clemenceau from the direction of French policy, has been abundantly proven groundless by recent strategic developments wherein Premier Millerand, asserting himself as a worthy successor to The Tiger, lays at rest any doubt that his vision is less clear or his determination less resolute than that of his distinguished predecessor.

Arguing that such a movement was necessary, Germany lately sought permission to reinforce government troops in the troubled Ruhr region, which is under quasi-control of the allied powers. The significant feature of the incident is that Germany addressed herself in this instance, not to the allied powers, but to France alone. The German request was denied, and it was denied by Millerand of France, acting in dependency of the allies. Furthermore, Millerand let it be known that in the event of German violation of the peace terms in this respect, France was prepared and would take independent punitive action.

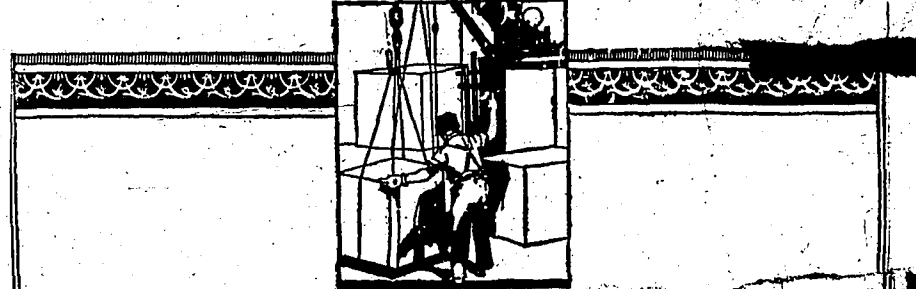

It is nothing, perhaps, to the discredit of the other allied powers that Germany has seen fit to address herself in this instance to France alone. In pursuing this course Germany elects to get at once to the meat of the matter, and selects Millerand to hear her plea, because Millerand, like Roosevelt in his dealings with Germany, speaks a language which Germany seems best able to understand. There is an entire absence of indefinite generality in Millerand's reply. He sets out definitely the position of France with respect to the German request, and he points to a positive penalty to be incurred through violation of his terms.

Not only does he reach German consciousness in meeting German policy on its own grounds and speaking in terms best understood by Germany, but he commands German respect, and it is a safe hazard that this particular provision of the treaty will not be violated.

Largest Pipe Organ.
 What is undoubtedly the largest and probably the greatest pipe organ ever made was that which was played in Festival hall in St. Louis, during the exposition in 1904. It was originally made for Convention hall, in Kansas City, but was never accepted. It remained in storage for years and was then bought by John Wana-maker and installed in his Philadelphia store, where it is played every working day. The organ weighs 375,000 pounds.

The Foundation of a Great Business

Built on a foundation of justice, honor and service, The Paraffine Companies, Inc., has grown steadily and consistently until today it is one of the dominating industries of the Far West.

It is preeminently a Pacific Coast institution. Organized in 1884, with the high-minded ideals characteristic of the early Pioneers, the Company has endeavored to live up to a policy of fairness to everyone and a square deal always. Just as frank honesty and tireless energy developed the vast regions of the West, so did they also help build up The Paraffine Companies, Inc.

A Square Deal After Fire of 1906

After the San Francisco Fire of 1906 the Oakland Ready Roofing plant of The Paraffine Companies, Inc., was one of the few factories capable of delivering building material immediately. Its entire output, however, could take care of only a small part of the tremendous demand. But Pabco Products were sold at the same price which had prevailed before the disaster. No favoritism was shown, and the orders of the individual whose need was small but urgent were filled as readily and as promptly as were the large orders from big companies. Quotas were apportioned equally among those who needed building material and these quotas were strictly adhered to.

A Fair Price to All

This is but one example of the policy which has been consistently followed. The jobber knows that he pays the same price for Pabco Products that the other jobbers pay, quantity being the same. The dealer knows that The Paraffine Companies, Inc., will treat him with the same fairness with regard to price and promptness of delivery that they treat every other dealer. The customer who buys Malthoid or Ru-ber-oid knows that he gets the highest quality ready roofing and always at a fair price.

Service to Everybody

Together with this policy of dependency The Paraffine Companies, Inc., has endeavored to provide real service to every purchaser of Pabco Products. Salesmen are selected with the greatest care and are educated in the high ideals of the Company. They understand thoroughly the manufacture and application of roofing and are always ready to render whatever service they can to the jobber, to the dealer and to the small purchaser.

If you ever have need of advice on the matter of roofing, if you ever wish to know the best method of applying Malthoid, Ru-ber-oid or other Pabco Products, feel free to call upon us.
