HOWAT OPPONENT OF KANSAS LAW FROM INCEPTION

State Industrial Relations Court Established and Functioning in Face of Miners' Leaders' Defiance

PITTSBURG, Kan., (AP)—When Governor Henry J. Allen entered the coal fields of the Pittsburg district last November to ask the idle miners to work for the state under the receiver-ship which the governor had instituted, the minister asked on every hand, "What will Alexander Howat say about it?"

The governor was told frankly that Howat, district president of the United Miners, would reject the plan. Howat was in Washington attending the negotiations in progress for the settlement of the nation-wide strike of bituminous miners. A close friend of Howat's volunteered to go to Washington and seek his consent for the men to return to work. Not only did Howat reject the offer, but he handed a stationer in which he bitterly condemned the plan as an "invasion of the governor in an attempt to disrupt the nation."

Overrides Obstruction
The campaign to work the mines under a state receiver-ship was continued. A call then went out for volunteers. Scores of husky young Kansans, many war veterans, answered the appeal. A close friend of Howat's in the face of a blizzard, but they turned out. State troops were brought into the district to guard the workers, with federal troops at hand for reserve duty. The Kansas governor organized a temporary executive office in Pittsburg and while here formed a tentative plan for a court of industrial relations. W. L. Huggins, then chairman of the Kansas state public utilities commission, and Judge F. C. Price, a leader in the state senate and chairman of the judiciary committee, were called into conference. A day or two later the governor issued a call for an extraordinary session of the legislature and in January the law creating the court of industrial relations was enacted. Howat, meanwhile at meetings of the miners in Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois, declared the law was designed to enslave the working people of Kansas. He threatened a fresh strike of the Kansas miners.

Ignores Court's Order
After the new industrial court had begun functioning it was announced that investigation of the coal mining industry of the state would be held here. The court assembled and Howat and other officials of the mine workers were summoned to appear as witnesses. The order was ignored. The presiding judge then applied to Judge A. J. Curran of the Crawford county district court to order Howat to appear before the industrial court. When Howat and the other officials did not appear, Judge Curran found them in contempt and issued an order committing them to jail "until such time as they consent to appear before the Kansas industrial relations court and answer all questions asked them."

Howat is serving his nineteenth year as an official of the United Mine Workers. He was born in Scotland and came to the United States when three years old. At ten he went to work in a coal mine. A foe to compromise, when the nation-wide bituminous strike was settled in November, 1919, Howat denounced some phases of the settlement. On December 22, 1919, he was sent to jail in Indianapolis for contempt because a strike in the mines of the Central Coal and Coke company in Kansas, called the previous July, was still in progress after the nation-wide settlement. Howat was released the next day upon his promise, it was said, that he would endeavor to induce the miners to return to work.

Legislative Innovation
The court of industrial relations, which launched into an entirely new field of legislative endeavor, was attacked before the Kansas legislature by representatives of capital and labor. Ample time was given both sides to present arguments, and the bill was condemned as inimical to the interests of capital and labor alike. Mr. Huggins presented the views of the public. Both houses of the legislature adopted the measure by overwhelming majorities.

The new law has been in operation only a few months but petitions have been filed under its provisions by local state and national labor union organizations, as well as by groups of workers and by individuals. It not only prohibits strikes and lockouts in essential industries, but it requires essential industries to operate with "a reasonable continuity necessary for the protection of the public."

The court which is created is empowered to regulate wages, hours and working conditions, pending agreement between employer and employee. Labor officials or employees violating provisions of the law may be charged with a felony, subject to penalties reaching a maximum of $5,000 fine and two years' imprisonment. Maximum penalties for employers who violate the law are $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment in a county jail.

The court is composed of George H. Wark, a lawyer, Clyde M. Reed, a newspaper publisher, and Mr. Huggins, the father of the new law.

SHIPPING TANGLE IS CAUSED BY RY. STRIKE

The present railroad strike has precipitated a shipping tangle, which threatens the nation's business and jeopardizes the food supply of communities. The situation demands immediate practical solution.

"Ship by truck" is the practical solution of the present situation. The whole strength of the truck industry, should help in the present emergency. No greater opportunity is needed to advance the "ship by truck" cause.

The Indiana Truck corporation is meeting the issue by using its "ship by truck" service. Indiana trucks are being dispatched today to Chicago, Ill., Kalamazoo, and Muskegon, Mich., Detroit, Mich., and Cleveland, O. These trucks will be stationed at these points for active service during the strike, delivering shipments of material from sources of supply in those cities to railroad stations in territory not directly affected by the strike. In other words these trucks will deliver this freight to stations where the Railroad company can accept shipments for Marion, Ind.

This action was taken as a result of a conference here, in order to solve the strike situation, as it directly affects the Indiana truck interests. So far as production is concerned it is believed that the Indiana trucks out on the job will keep the flow of material coming, so that production will not be interfered with by the present strike conditions.

These Indiana trucks will help relieve the terminal facilities of the railroads. What the Indiana truck corporation is doing to solve their problem, other owners of trucks can do to assist in keeping traffic open and freight moving. Use motor trucks now, particularly for short hauls.

ELECTRICITY IN BARN ECONOMICAL FEATURE

Extensive advertising, and almost constant editorial discussion in the farm journals of the country, have raised keen interest within the last three or four years in the matter of the electric light and power plants for farm use. And thousands of these plants have already been installed. One of the questions that arises in the minds of those who are considering the matter of electrifying their farms, has been that of cost and expense. That is, they have asked themselves whether electricity is merely a convenient but rather expensive form of light and power for their farms, or whether it is, as claimed, so expensive and in many cases productive of a real saving.

In this connection it is interesting to note the experience of a central Ohio farmer who has had a chance to observe the working of an electric plant on his own farm for the past several months.

The farmer in question lights his whole house and barns, and, among other power uses, operates a milking machine with an electric motor. He takes care of a herd of 30 cows. The milking machine was installed before the electric plant, and was operated at first by a gas engine. His records show that in those days he used about one gallon of gasoline a day for the operation of the engine at milking times. Three lanterns about the barns and a number of lamps large and small in the house, used about the same amount of kerosene. Today, with his electric plant, which uses kerosene as fuel, he supplies his whole place with light, operates his milking machine and does other electric power work—all on a single gallon of kerosene as fuel in the electric plant engine. In other words the same amount of kerosene which originally furnished light, alone now furnishes more and better light, and in addition does the milking and a lot of other work.

His saving in dollars and cents amounts to the cost of a gallon of gasoline, or about 25 cents a day. Savings such as the one cited here, together with the fact that practically every farm offers an opportunity for the extensive use of electric power, are some of the factors that are deciding farmers in favor of the farm electric plant, and that are responsible for the very rapid increase in the number of electrically lighted rural homes.

SHORTAGE OF AUTOS SORE, RULON AVERS

Without the slightest doubt, there will be a serious shortage of auto cars this year, according to Charles O. Rulon, manager of the Johnson Auto Sales company. He states that recently several automobile factories, including the Maxwell and Chalmers, were compelled to temporarily close their plants because of a shortage of freight equipment to move their product, the only outlet for their production being drive-ways and limited storage at the factories.

No notice has as yet been received advising that the railroad embargo, recently placed, prohibiting shipments of automobiles in this direction, had been cancelled and how long this condition will exist is very uncertain.

Knowing that the demand for cars throughout the country will be greater this year than ever before, the factories are making gigantic efforts to overcome the many difficulties that have been thrown in their way which are interfering with full production. The present labor, material, and transporta-

The man who stands buying a car this spring or summer should not delay in placing his order if he expects to get the car of his choice, as the delivery situation will be even worse than it was last year when the warnings of the dealers and the factories were disregarded and many were compelled to be satisfied with inferior cars.

The virtue of Dehydrated fruits and vegetables are becoming so well known that the demand is growing so rapidly as to guarantee markets. The process used by the Twin Falls institution is perfect. The Eveready products are excellent beyond comparison, and recurring orders come as a matter of course.

This being true, the question of the importance of this institution to the community is answered. For when a car of Eveready products is shipped, it means that $30,000 will come to the community from outside sources.

The water is eliminated from the products. Shipment is in concentrated form. Freight is largely eliminated. But the flavor is there—the excellence which wins the approval of the housewife, and wins the hearts of the men in camp far from the reach of fresh vegetables.

And everywhere a package of Eveready Dehydrated products travels, there goes an advertisement for the Twin Falls country. The savory character of our fruit and vegetables is disclosed under the name of the community. And who can measure in dollars and cents the value of this publicity to Twin Falls county?

Is it not remarkable, in considering these facts, to learn that the fruit and produce which are used in this process would be wasted to the grower, were it not for the presence of the Dehydrating plant in Twin Falls?

'BEARCATS' WIN KIMBERLY GAME BY 13 TO 7 COUNT

Twin Falls High Outclashes Suburban Team in Play and Pitching

Jamerson's pitching and the support accorded him featured the inter-school baseball game between Twin Falls and Kimberly yesterday, in which the Twin Falls men took the long end of a 13 to 7 score. Jamerson, a new man in baseball circles, hurled seven innings without allowing a hit. Kimberly got its first man on the bases in the seventh on a walk.

Almost perfect support was given Jamerson and Putzier, the latter working the last two innings. Phelps, Thomatz and Fix took care of all else handsly, while Captain King at first, Yochem at second, Krengeled at short and Watson at third performed well. Tucker showed his usual good form behind the bat. Kimberly put up a slight fight when did Buhl on Wednesday. Poor support behind Pitcher Wheeler let in Twin Falls' first score and a little of Wheeler's wildness accounted in part for the Bearcats' large score. The rest of the time Wheeler did good hurling, but could not stop the Demantians' onslaught. Though both sides were scored for Twin Falls, all of them were timely.

Demant's men started off in the second frame with two tallies, made more in the third, and four in the fifth. The count stood 12 to 0 when Kimberly came to bat in the eighth. Pettigrove made first on his last strike when the ball passed Tucker and Twin Falls loosened up sufficiently to allow the home team a little exercise. Watson made a good scoop of Swearingen's grounder in the second inning, and tossed him out at first. Kimberly ran its total up to seven in the last round. Wilson potted a two-bagger into deep right field and scored when Crom dropped Wheeler's high fly to center. Pettigrove singled, scoring Wheeler, but was later put out by Watson when he attempted to steal third. Robinson made first on his third swing, and later scored with the home team's last run.

Twin Falls will travel to Wendell on Wednesday for its next game.

ACTION APLENTY IN JERSEY CITY 8-ROUND BATTLE

Willie Jackson has Better of Argument Against Jack Lawlor, But it is Good

JERSEY CITY, N. J., (AP)—Willie Jackson of New York outfighth Jack Lawlor of Omaha, in an eight-round bare knuckle last night, according to ring-side critics. Lawlor, who made his first appearance in the seat, covered up and clinched frequently during the first rounds.

He showed more aggressiveness in the fifth and sixth when he placed several hard rights to the head. In the seventh, Jackson, off balance, went down for a second from a light blow. Jackson weighed 128 1/2 pounds and his opponent 132 1/2. Jack Bloomfield, an English heavy-weight, won his first bout in this country, defeating Walter Miller of New York, in a six-round contest. Spiller Boach of San Francisco defeated Bert Spencer of Brooklyn in a six-round bout.

Fine Steels form the Sinews of a MAXWELL

Everything that is built to endure must have fine sinews.

A great ship, a giant locomotive, a huge bridge, a gigantic building.

Search for the sinews in a Maxwell and you discover new steels, fine steels, special steels, steels manufactured to Maxwell's own formulae.

Steels, for instance, that make possible that rare combination of extreme lightness and brute strength.

For a Maxwell is made to be light in weight. Its mission is economic transportation.

Any superfluous pound to carry around means so much more cost of operation.

But the great problem was to get steels of rare quality and great strength.

They are found in a Maxwell in axles, shaftings, gears, frame, crankshaft, connecting rods, etc., etc.

They equal, pound for pound, the steels to be found in any car made.

Costly as they are, they repay their price many times over in the lifetime of a Maxwell.

They save. They pay dividends of satisfaction.

They make friends. They are responsible for that rapid rise of Maxwell the world over.

Nearly 400,000 now in use; 100,000 more in process of construction; and fully 40 per cent of those who have decided upon a Maxwell as their first-choice car will not be able to get one this year—so overwhelming is the demand for this remarkable car.

CAPPER SCORES PROFITEERING LAWS EVASION

Kansas Senator Calls for Enforcement of Legislation Designed to Curb Evil or Re-ignation of Officials

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States has become a rubber stamp, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, declared in a prepared address today in the senate in which he scored profiteering and declared that if the law enforcement officers of the government could not enforce the laws they should resign and let men who can take a bribe place.

Offers Proof of Profiteering. Declaring that the proof of profiteering was in the margin of profit, the senator said that in one year alone during the war the income of American corporations rose from 35.13 billions to eighty-four and one-half billions. He read to the senate a long list of corporations whose stock prices placed at anywhere from 20 to 200 per cent.

"All street's melon patches," he declared, "continue to be watered by the sun of privilege, fertilized by the perspiration of labor, and watered by the tears of poverty, and this year will raise a record harvest of American profiteers. The blight of income taxes, while the people are being urged to buy their coal early and be robbed for less, to abstain from stock and to be urged to purchase war savings stamps that the United States may live in nine billion style on a six billion income."

Under Eyes of Senate. "At this moment the most brazen challenge we have had in this senate of greed comes from the gamblers in sugar. A corner has evidently been formed right under the eyes of the department of justice. The canning season is on. For years the sugar interests have annually and openly shammed the nation's American housewives during the canning season."

"These patriotic melon raisers, who have made their millions of dollars during and since the war," said Senator Capper, "now are urging that the soldiers' bonus be raised by a one per cent tax on the profits of every dollar spent by every man, woman and child in the country, including the services of themselves. 'President, I shall favor lifting this tax right where it belongs—on war profits—and taking from these huge stock dividends from executives, from the profits of all that is useful to compensate the men who sacrificed themselves instead of their country or their countrymen, in time of war.'"

"During the coal-strike, while so cold and privation threatened the people, the price of coal rose to nearly 800 per cent and still is rising."

Agriculture Made Heaps. The senator cited numerous corporations which he declared had made enormous profits, and then turned to agriculture.

"Our greatest industry—agriculture—led hand and foot—has been made the helpless victim of speculators and profiteers."

"It is wrong to assume because extravagance flaunts itself in our cities, that plenty exists in all the homes of the land. People who have never known want or privation are living to-day in tents instead of homes; thousands of men, women and children are compelled to do without necessary shoes and clothing, if not fuel and certain articles of food."

Jail Would Cure Evil. Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, declared that "a single millionaire were sent to Leavenworth under the laws now on the books some of this profiteering would be stopped."

Attorney General Palmer announced that he is setting a few mouse traps around the country when he ought to be baiting bear traps. Not one thing is done to the big profiteers."

Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, replying to Senators Capper and Lenroot, said, "Nearly all the big profiteers he knew were republican. They were members of the republican party."

"I can assure the senator from Wisconsin," he said, "that at the end of the next administration he has mentioned he will find their efforts to reduce profiteering as miserable a failure as in his estimation are those of today."

Fighting Conditions, Says Thomas. "All profiteers ought to be punished. But we ought to understand by now that we are fighting conditions instead of causes, as foolish in some of our plants as a child who stumbles over a chair, and then turns around and kicks it."

Governmental expenditures, Senator Thomas said, should be considered one cause of the difficulties. Mentioning the soldiers' bonus proposal, the increase in veterans' pensions, he suggested that "we do our part here instead of only complaining at the result."

HONOLULU, T. H. (AP)—Territorial Senator John A. Wise has announced that in two weeks he can settle the sugar plantation laborers' strike on the island of Oahu, which began January 19 last.

Senator Wise said that he could settle the strike with the Japanese Federation of Laborers ready to negotiate. He insisted, however, that the initiative be taken by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association.

Presidential Possibilities Rank in Order Among 'U' Students

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—Herbert Hoover, Leonard Wood and Hiram Johnson rank first, second and third among presidential possibilities in the opinion of University of Idaho students, if sentiments voiced by a group of representative undergraduates whose statements appeared in a recent issue of the college paper may be taken as an index of general campus convictions.

Statements favoring Hoover more than doubled those lauding General Wood, who, in turn, led Senator Johnson by a substantial margin. William Jennings Bryan was favored by several and one student urged that the virtues of Senator Capper of Kansas make him a possible rival of the White House.

Both men and women undergraduates were called upon for expressions of opinion.

Today's Markets

New York Exchange. NEW YORK, (AP)—Stocks of almost every class made spirited recoveries during today's brief session, the rally resulting from a better understanding of the Mexican situation and the elimination of the Status controversy, as a disturbing element. Advances of 1/8 to 1/2 points marked the rebound of motor oil, steel and equipment issues. Textile and leather shares together with kindred specialties made less extensive gains. Rails and shipping replaced only losses with moderate advances. Repeating for profits reduced sales gains later. The closing was strong. Total approximated 450,000 shares.

Liberty Bonds. NEW YORK, (AP)—Final prices today on Liberty bonds were: 3 1/2's $93.40; first 4's $85.50; second 4's $85; first 4 1/4's $85.00; second 4 1/4's $85.50; third 4 1/4's $90.00; fourth 4 1/4's $85.00; Victory 3 3/4's $96.50; Victory 4 3/4's $96.45.

Grains and Provisions. CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat which manifested alacrity in the corn market today appeared to be due more to the effect of buying than to any special urgency to sell. Railway traffic embarrassments together with difficulties in credits put buyers at disadvantage. On the other hand, forecasts of wet weather tended somewhat to rally the market. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower, by May $1.64 1/2 to 1.65 and July $1.50 1/2 to 1.57, were followed by moderate general upturns.

Later the market derived additional strength from the fact that owing to export demand rice was commanding the highest price yet this season. Cattle quotations were firm at 1 1/2 to 2 3/4 net advance, with $1.07 1/4 to $1.07 1/2 and July $1.60 to $1.5 1/4. Oats were comparatively firm owing to predictions of rain likely to cause further delay to seeding.

Reports that Germany had obtained $45,000,000 credit from an American packing firm helped further to strengthen values.

Ellis of the University of New Mexico became extinct 15,000 years ago, was found in a gravel pit on the outskirts of Albuquerque the other day. The mammoth, Prof. Ellis said, belonged to the slothas primigenius, or elephant family. It was at maturity from 10 to 14 feet in height and had tusks much larger than the elephant. The lower part or surface of the tooth found here is about four inches wide, eight inches long and about seven and a half inches high.

THE KERNEL IN THE NUT

Members are very deeply interested in the details of the Sims-Daniels row over American naval policy in the world war except in so far as developments in this controversy may serve to bring home with resultant lasting benefit the lessons learned by the American navy in its part in that great ordeal.

To be sure, Admiral Sims' charges have been halted in some quarters as most able refutation of partisan boast on the part of some administration supporters that "our brains won the war and our party is entitled to the spoils." On the other hand, considerable has been found in the opposing camp in the denials and counter-charges now being hurled from naval officials who stand with Secretary Daniels in the developing investigation.

"I ask you to consider the navy of April, 1917, then the navy of November, 1918, and finally the navy of today. With men leaving the service in droves and ships lying idle in the navy yards, your navy of today is but a battered bulk of what it was an armistice day. Were war declared today, would it be the navy's fault that we were not instantly prepared?"

Some of the factors that caused delays and mistakes that might be avoided in future wars, the Captain declared, were lack of material preparation of adequate supplies and repair bases, sufficient personnel and training facilities and of modern methods of organization and administration.

Road Traffic Between Industrial Centers in East Leads the State Commission to Suggest Limit on Loads

NEW YORK, (AP)—If Captain Nicholas Joseph Cugno, the Frenchman who in 1769 invented the first self-propelled road vehicle, could visit the United States today, he would be amazed, perhaps, to find the horse almost obsolete, the United States government on the eve of spending $66,000,000 for good roads and factories turning out automobile trucks at the rate of about 1000 a day.

Motor truck traffic between industrial centers in Connecticut and New York city, Boston and Providence has reached such great proportions that state highway commissioners are urging shippers to restrict the maximum load on trucks to 25,000 pounds. According to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce utilization of the motor truck in enabling the railroads to "catch up" with traffic needs which mounted so enormously during the war.

Captain Hallowell, Traveler, Will Address Hollister Audience April 29

JOSEPH A. YORK, well-known business man of Portland, Me., who says he feels twenty years younger and has gained 18 pounds on four bottles of Tanlac. Declares he can now eat three square meals a day.

"I am now able to eat three square meals a day for the first time in two years," was the emphatic statement made recently by Joseph A. York, well known business man and highly respected citizen of Portland, Maine.

"I am now sixty-nine years of age, and in all my life I have never run across a medicine that I consider in a class with Tanlac. I have just finished my fourth bottle and this medicine has benefited me even beyond my greatest hopes. Besides gaining sixteen pounds in weight, I have been built up and strengthened until I feel all of twenty years younger."

"For the past two years I have been in a miserably run-down condition and was compelled a short time ago to give up all idea of business as I was too weak to look after anything. I was nervous, worn-out, had no appetite, and suffered most all the time with indigestion. Some days I would eat scarcely anything; in fact, I was afraid to eat because I knew I would suffer afterward. Sometimes I had such severe cramping pains after eating that I would almost die. My nerves were all unstrung and the least thing would worry me and I never could get a good night's sound sleep. In fact I just lost interest in everything and was greatly discouraged over my condition."

"The ordinary treatment failed to do me any good, and as I had read so many statements from people I know here in Portland who had been benefited by Tanlac, I decided to give it a trial. And now I know for myself what it will do, for I have smartly taken a new lease on life. I am now able to look after my work as usual, and never felt better in my life. I am able to eat three hearty meals a day and everything agrees with me perfectly. I eat anything I want and never feel a touch of indigestion. I never thought there was a medicine that could do me so much good, and I am only too glad to have the facts about my case given to the public."

Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.—adv.

VENICE DISPLAYS ART CONCEALED DURING WAR

Treasures from Underground Cellars or Distant Galleries Returning to Original Place

VENICE, (AP)—Now that the war is over and Venice has recovered from the nightmare of having her wealth of art destroyed by shell fire, or worse, looted by soldiers, one by one her treasures from underground cellars or distant galleries are being returned to their places.

One of her most admired possessions however, Titian's "Assumption of the Virgin," which is counted among the seven great masterpieces in the world, the pride of the Venetian academy of fine arts, had been returned, not to the gallery, but to its original home in the choir of the beautiful gothic church of the Frari, for which it was painted by Titian in 1516.

The magnificent frame of carved marble which was originally built around it now shows off the glorious picture to advantage and the Venetians are delighted that it should be restored to the position where its donor and the great genius who composed it intended it to remain.

The Determining Influence Among Motor Cars

ONLY things of acknowledged worth can acquire and retain the prestige of leadership. The world is not disposed to patronize failures; but it is quick to emulate success. Consider the recent marked changes in the design and construction of motor cars. Then recall which car it was that first introduced these striking advancements.

Cole Creations Strike New Note

The low-shouldered body panel, the high crest vogue in motor car design as well as the valanced top; the keen streamline form seen to men have become the outstanding characteristics of motor car designing.

All of these trace their origin to the Cole Motor-Car.

Aerotype construction with its strength 25,000 miles on tires; its wealth of reserve power; its tenacious road adherence; its increased gasoline economy; its swift acceleration and wide range of performance have elevated automobile standards.

And aerotype construction was first applied to the automobile by Cole engineers.

Acknowledged as the sponsor of the present vogue in motor car design as well as a leader in mechanical achievement, the Cole Motor-Car is seasons ahead.

Its prestige is being reaffirmed again and again by the determining influence it continues to exercise over the works of its contemporaries, who have accepted Cole standards as the ones to which they, themselves, would build.

And with the ownership of the Cole Motor-Car goes that feeling of pride in the possession of a thing whose worth is acknowledged by the consensus of others to follow its example.
