New York Chamber of Commerce Committee on Public Welfare Enrolls Volunteers for Safeguard of Community

NEW YORK, (AP)—An investigation of the "one big union of citizens" idea and its feasibility in protecting American communities from possible fuel or food famines during strikes is now underway by ten members of the New York State Chamber of Commerce recently appointed by the president of the organization as a "committee on public welfare."

Revolutionary labor upheavals and strikes designated as "outlaw" walk-out by union officials and the employment of volunteer firemen in the channels of communication and transportation open, are the object, it is said, of the chamber's present inquiry. The chamber for several weeks has been listing and classifying volunteers who, with no antagonism toward unions or parliaments, are willing to motor trucks or do any other work necessary to keep the nation's commercial arteries from being blocked. To prevent the "lying up and throttling of whole communities," the committee has received hundreds of requests to blank out volunteers according to the ability and equipment of the various volunteers. Their occupation, home addresses and telephone numbers together with other pertinent data are in possession of the committee which, in time, of crisis, may be utilized.

Menace of False Ideas

The chamber at a recent meeting authorized the formation of a committee under the leadership of President Alfred E. Marling, passed resolutions in which it said that "civilization is now menaced by false and distorted and political ideas and the public welfare demands that the men and women of the nation, who hold to high ideals of personal and political conduct, who believe in sound economic principles and in constitutional government, shall undertake more resolutely to fulfill their civic duties." The resolutions further declared that "the structure of government and society as a whole" was imperilled by the interruption of the normal channels of communication and public service due to "an irresponsible minority of the population of the United States." It further stated that the duties of the committee on public welfare should be to draw up "a plan of organization and cooperation whereby the public may, by volunteer service, aid in maintaining the uninterrupted use of public utilities and assist the duly constituted authorities in preserving law and order."

Many interesting letters accompanied the applications of volunteers. A doctor who formerly was a telegraph operator offered his services in any capacity for "the maintenance of social equilibrium against the rebellions and misled small minority." He said "that the movement deserves the support of all right-minded citizens who are the backbone of the country."

A Russian refugee, a major general in the former Russian army, "who has suffered the loss of everything I possessed through the Bolshevik," said he felt in duty bound to offer his services. He wrote: "I am perfectly familiar with the beginning of the Bolshevik, a movement in Russia which started, as you know, with strikes, uprisings and the curtailment of food. I know thoroughly the Bolsheviks of other countries as well as Russia and their methods and, since I am the guest of America and everybody has been so very kind to me, I wish to do all in my power to help America."

A man, a consulting engineer, 67 years old, in "fair health and vigor," wrote: "I am fully in sympathy with your apparent theory that the way to combat 'outlaw' or 'evil' labor organizations to public activities is to develop a strong and widespread sentiment among the masses of right-minded citizens against such labor disturbances. Also that the best way to develop this sentiment among right-thinking people is to permit them to take part in combating lawlessness and to aid in the carrying on of public activities which may be interrupted by labor disturbances."

Former Mrs. Widener Sat in Boat while Husband Killed Attacking Cannibals

The story of the thrilling fight with cannibals who had attacked the expedition party of Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice on the Amazon river, is told in a letter received by Miss Pauline Stevens, of Newport, a friend of Chester Ober, a member of the expedition. The story says that Dr. Rice killed two giant cannibals and that Ober slew another. The party, in a canoe, was exploring one of the tributaries of the Amazon when they were suddenly attacked by twenty-five cannibals, who rushed into the water after them. The party opened fire and killed the others fled. Mrs. Rice, the former Mrs. George D. Wilonor, of Philadelphia, is accompanying her husband on the trip. Mrs. Rice remained on the yacht while the explorers went further up the river. Dr. Rice is on his third trip up the Amazon. The party is expected to return home about May 15.

tion of the national life. No other country," he added, "gives to its citizens and others so large an amount of freedom and privilege as does America, yet many of those within our borders fail to appreciate that with liberty also comes responsibility toward others. It is high time that true American citizen awakens to the conditions that threaten and rallies to the support of law and order."
The committee on public welfare is expected to make a report of its investigations and progress in the near future.

CHINESE IN HONOLULU BAN JAPANESE WARES

Island Merchants Follow Lead of Countrymen in Orient in Boycott

HONOLULU, T. H., (AP)—Chinese merchants of Honolulu are conducting a strict boycott of Japanese goods and dealers, according to W. C. Gee, prominent Chinese merchant of the city and son of Geo. Kin Fook, president of the Honolulu Chinese Merchants' association.

The proportion of Chinese stores in China, which abstain from handling all things Japanese is nine out of ten, according to Gee, who added that the proportion is not quite so high in Honolulu but that it is growing daily. Gee stated that Chinese firms in China which do buy and handle Japanese goods in turn are boycotted and that similar procedure is being directed against such Chinese firms in Honolulu.

He predicted that in the near future there would be no Japanese goods handled by Chinese merchants. Whether the Japanese were retaliating in kind, Gee was not prepared to say, but Yuchi Furuya, acting consul general of Japan, said that so far as he knew the relations between Japanese and Chinese merchants in Honolulu were cordial.

Impressive Potentia.

In no country in the world will one find a more garish display in the way of dress than in India. Both men and women of the highest rank present the most gorgeous appearance when they are "all dolled up." Magnificent jewels are worn and no royal ruler in other lands can show more magnificent pearls than are worn by some of the potentates of India. The high and mighty of the land present a fearful and wonderful appearance on state occasions, and it is worth going far to be present on an occasion of this kind.

RUMANIA OFFERS FAIR EXAMPLE OF BALKAN POLITICS

Combinations Balk Averesso in Attempt to Put Promised Reforms into Effect is Charge Preferred

BUCHAREST, (AP)—Rumania is passing through another of the many political crises she has experienced since the armistice. General Alexander Averesso, who was made premier by King Ferdinand in the middle of March, did not have a majority in the old parliament which the king dissolved at that time and he is being opposed by several political parties in the new elections to choose a parliament to succeed the one dissolved by the king. Promises have been made that General Averesso will establish order in the country, regulate the railways, demobilize the army, send the soldiers back to the farms and eliminate the normal demand for half of all colors. Possessors of rich burn or pure white locks of suitable length can obtain $12 or $15 by submitting to the "bobbing" operation.

There is some irony in the fact that London women who paid five or six shillings a few months ago to have their hair "bobbed" and left the tresses with the hairdresser, not knowing they might have received money for them, are now spending anxious hours in other shops in an effort futile "matching up" endeavor.

FEMINE HAIR CUTTING FAD ON WANE IN LONDON

Score of Short-Haired Women Search Shops for Locks to Replace Those of which They Were Shorn

LONDON, (AP)—The fashion of cutting women's hair short is waning and scores of short-haired women are now searching west end hair-dressing shops for locks with which to replace those of which they were shorn a few months ago when the "bobbing" craze was at its height. This has created an abnormal demand for hair of all colors. There is some irony in the fact that London women who paid five or six shillings a few months ago to have their hair "bobbed" and left the tresses with the hairdresser, not knowing they might have received money for them, are now spending anxious hours in other shops in an effort futile "matching up" endeavor.

EXHIBITS BEAR MUTE EVIDENCE OF WORLD WAR

Battle Trophies are Gathered from Every Land where Conflict Cast its Trail to Show Common Effort of Empire

LONDON, (AP)—Signs bearing the inscriptions "Hell-Fire Corner," "Piccadilly" and "Halg Avenue," erected by British troops just behind the front lines in France, are among the more than 10,000 exhibits being assembled at Crystal Palace, London, to form the Imperial war museum. It will be opened by the king in June and will continue for four years.

Exhibits innumerable have been gathered from every land where the war cast its trail to show the common effort of the empire during the great conflict. Shortly after the signing of the armistice, the memorable sign posts mentioned were found discarded as lumber. In addition to those bearing "street" names, which, to many of the men who know them, had meant so many directions to scenes of agony, there was found the rallying trench sign of Verdun with its "no thoroughfare" sign.

The larger pieces of ordinance, some of which weigh 10 tons, are being arranged on the floor of the spacious hall. But the galleries will hold displays of equal, if not greater interest. These include war paintings and trench implements, realistic scenic models and protective devices which have been an illuminating light on conditions which existed in the German army. Some of these are amusing, some tragic.

There is a cyclotron device attachment for lighting an officer's dug-out upon which two of the worst offenders had to sit in the trenches, and another which might have illumination while they devised new plans of aggression.

Looking at the life buoys of the Lusitania, the shattered funnel of the Hindenburg, the shells and special charge Mole and the formidable mines that bestrode the Dardanelles, the exhibit will recall to "those who were there" many chapters of a great epic.

Armor.
The invention of some form of protective covering or armor for the body dates back a long way in the history of the world. Homer, in the Iliad, the story of the great siege of Troy by the Greeks, which was written some hundreds of years before the Christian era, has much to say, incidentally, about armor. He describes more than once the full armor of an ancient Greek warrior, greaves, corselet, helmet, shield, sword and spear, and tells us how each article was put on. Greaves are metal or leather protections for the legs, in fact something very like a pair of modern cricket pads. One contingent of Greeks, at the siege of Troy, seems to have made a specialty of them, for they are constantly referred to as "well-greaved Achaeans."—Christian Science Monitor.

GIBBONS BEING GROOMED BOOT WITH GEORGES

Tilt Between St. Paul Phantom and French Fighter is Almost Evened

By Al Finch

There is no doubt in the world now that the first important battle fought in the United States in which George Carpenter, top French champion, will be the trump card will be that which will take place in the very near future with Mike Gibbons, for many years America's middleweight champion, facing the Frenchman.

In their next fight Gibbons took part in, that with Mike O'Dowd, the former middleweight champion, which took place at St. Paul on November 21, 1919. Gibbons won the ten rounds scheduled, but with a broken hand. But for that accident he would undoubtedly have received the decision.

After that meeting Gibbons announced his retirement from the ring. He made the announcement not only to the injury to his hand but to the fact that his wife and two sons had requested him to quit the boxing game for good. The two things combined caused him to decide that he had quit the game forever.

Very recently, with his hands returned to perfect shape and the call of the fight fans ringing in his ears, the great middleweight has about made up his mind to reconsider his plan to retire from the game for good and to accept the offer made him to meet Carpenter.

mot boxers bigger and stronger than himself, he has never yet known defeat.

For several years Gibbons has been so wonderfully successful, too, as a middleweight that his friends have claimed to could even hold his own with the best of the heavyweights, and not long ago his friends wanted to match him against Dempsey.

Time and again Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, asked Dempsey's manager for a bout with his man, but the request was always amiably refused. Gibbons feared no fighter living when he was in active ring service, and is the same sort of man today.

Carpenter and Gibbons, on the other hand, should make a splendidly even match.

Not only are they alike in size, but they are well matched in speed and cleverness, and it would be well worth a journey to see them battle, no matter where their meeting takes place.

Locals to Meet Boise in Champ Baseball Series

Capital City Diamond Men will Come Tomorrow for Two Games at Lincoln Park

With the high school baseball championship of the state at stake, Twin Falls and Boise will begin a two-game series at Lincoln park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Twin Falls has met all comers in this section without a defeat, while the capital city men have cleaned up practically everything in their district this year.

Real baseball is promised fans this week at both of these contests. Last year the locals tied a series with Boise, while the previous year Boise was defeated in three games out of four. Games played this week will therefore be hotly contested and both crews will be at their best.

Coach Dennan will probably play his strongest cards against the invaders. Fix is slated to hurl one of the trays, while the chances are even between Jamison and Kregel for the other. Fix has probably shown up better than any of the other local moundmen and Boise hitters will have a difficult time "finding" him. Jamison and Kregel have also proved to be good slingers and Boise hitters their opponents when they meet.

The second game of the series will be played Saturday.

GERMANY HOLDS ATTRACTION FOR ENLISTED MEN

Lager Beer, Increased Salaries and Decreased Cost of Living Lure Ten Members of the American First Division

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Lager beer, increased salaries and decreased cost of living in Germany are the lures that attracted ten men of the first division at Camp Zachary Taylor to apply for transfer to the American forces in Germany, according to members of the detachment.

Soldiers returning from Germany said an American army private's pay of $1 a day would buy him 1400 loaves of bread, which he could take to 140 marks and a glass of beer to only one-tenth of a mark. The finest Illinois wine, it is reported here, costs 15 marks a quart. Ninety per cent of the soldiers formerly in Germany would like to return if they could, said Sergeant Donald McCraney, first engineer.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Sheppard's bill proposing an annual appropriation of four million dollars to be spent through the states in the care, nursing and education of expectant mothers was supported before the senate public health committee Wednesday by Mrs. Joseph Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, and other witnesses.

Mrs. Daniels told the committee that lack of care and lack of education were causing the unnecessary death of hundreds of mothers and infants. Mrs. Anne Marx, wife of the secretary of the navy, said 250,000 babies and 23,000 mothers died last year and our government spent to prevent it about one-fourth of $1,000,000.

American Wins With Technical Knockout from French Champ

Low Tandler Stops Papin in the Sixth of Scheduled 12 Round Bout at Jersey City

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Low Tandler of Philadelphia scored a technical knockout over Georges Papin, the French champion, in the sixth round of a scheduled 12-round bout here last night.

The Frenchman had been knocked down four times at the beginning of the sixth round he became the aggressor, raising rights and left to Tandler's head. Suddenly he stopped and Tandler, being tired from exhaustion without having been struck by Tandler, and was counted out.

Jack Blumfield, an English light-heavyweight, also scored a technical knockout over Jack Hanton of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the fourth round. The Brooklyn pugilist having received a severe beating.

FARMERS DEVISE POLITICAL DEAL

Propose Throwing Support to Party which Gives Greatest Consideration to Claims

CHICAGO, (AP)—Recognition for the farmers of the platform makers of each of the two great political parties at their June conventions by representatives of farm organizations of the country. This action was decided at the meeting of the national board of farm organizations' meeting.

According to Charles A. Lyman, national secretary of the farmers, it was the general opinion of the delegates that the food producers of the country never had received the attention of either the republican or the democratic party to which they were allied. It was their purpose, he said, to send representatives to the Chicago and the San Francisco conventions with demands that they be recognized the formation of party platforms, and to give the weight of their support at the November election to that party which gave the greatest consideration to the farmer in the party platform.

National Committee Treasurer Makes Arrangements for Fifth Convention

CHICAGO, (AP)—The directing genius of four republican conventions in the past, Fred W. Upham, republican national committee treasurer, has planned his fifth and greatest one.

Mr. Upham has been chairman of Chicago convention committee for 16 years and the first time he has promoted more national political gatherings than any man living. He has organized and financed the local arrangements of the republican gatherings since 1904.

Every four years the planning of the first year the republicans met at the Chicago coliseum, the convention arrangements cost $70,000. In 1916 the expenses had increased to $110,000 and this year the sum will exceed $150,000.

To raise this money, contract for building alterations, extra seats, decorations, tickets, badges and all the other myriad details of staging big quadruple spectacles, in which more than 15,000 delegates and spectators will this year participate, is Upham's task.

Most of altering the coliseum and decorating it will alone cost more than $50,000 this year. The task of obtaining and then safeguarding the tickets, is a problem in itself.

There is evidence of progress on City paving with a vengeance these days. Streets are torn up it is true, dust fills the air and on every hand gangs of men and huge machines assist in the work of tearing up our streets. But there will be paving laid within the next ten days; there will be completed streets which it will be a pleasure to drive over. A part of the paving will be finished and ready for use. Not much, to be sure, but some.

There is never a gain without some disadvantage, and to have paving we must also have torn up streets. But these things will soon be forgotten, and in the meantime the goal of our ambitions grows steadily nearer, progress is being made every day.

order to maintain the dignity of the rank.

Both branches of the service have suffered the loss of many officers in recent months, because it was found impossible to live properly and maintain families in the way gentlemen and officers should maintain their families. Hundreds have found employment in other professions at higher pay. This has been especially the case in the grades below naval captains and army colonels, for the reason that these officers were younger and more in demand by corporations and private business partnerships. The higher officers, who have given the best years of their lives to the government, do not find it so easy to assume duty in civil life. And they are left out of the increased pay bill.

It looks as though the congressmen who are fixing the pay are literally taking advantage of what might be called a helpless condition, and actually penalizing these officers for their long and faithful service. If the admirals and generals of the United States call the republic ungrateful, who can blame them?

When General B. F. Butler was running for president on the Greenback ticket he told the working men in Massachusetts that they were paying too much for bread and meat. He suggested that by new issues of greenbacks this matter could be remedied. This General Butler came to Iowa on a special train, and told the farmers that if new issues of greenbacks were made the farmers would receive a higher price for pork and beef. This Butler Doctrine was repudiated when the New England mechanic had a little conversation with the Iowa farmer. These two men discovered that Butler could not fulfill both promises.

The men who are now trying to mix oil and water in the politics of Iowa will find themselves in General Butler's position.

When it is borne in mind that the present scale of pay for the army and navy was established several decades ago, and that no advance has been made in that time to meet the increased cost of living, it is natural to wonder why the officers above the grades named should be omitted from the benefits of the bill. It is unjust to stop at the colonels in the army and captains in the navy, for the duties devolving upon higher ranks are exacting, requiring in many cases the expenditure of funds far beyond the present scale of pay, in

GENERAL B. F. BUTLER TRIED IT ONCE
(Des Moines Capital)

The effort to unite the labor unions and the farmers into one organization in this state goes on. If this union is consummated it will be the strangest combination on earth. We are not prepared to say it cannot be done for the reason that in an age when worthless stocks representing not a dollar's worth of property can be sold at double price, almost anything can be considered possible. We are now considering labor unions and farmers as separate entities. We are not discussing labor unions excepting on regards politics. We believe in labor unions, and collective bargaining, but as a rule farmers do not believe in labor unions. The farmer regards the labor unions as something to boost the wages, and to reduce the price of the farmers' products. It is the spirit of the labor union which causes the farm hand to want to work eight hours a day with Saturday afternoon off, adding a Ford car for social purposes. The farmer feels that if the hired man works but eight hours a day the farmer must work sixteen hours a day. If the farm hand is in the field when it is time to quit he must stop his team right there, and start to the house. Then the farmer must go out to the field to get the team. Mechanical industries can work under union rules, but we do not believe it is possible for union rules to be applied to the farm during the seasons of plowing and planting. If union rules are adopted on the farm every item of produce coming from the farm must be doubled in price. The farmer takes more chances in his work than does any other citizen or producer. His success depends upon the weather. Everything he has growing might be destroyed by a cyclone, or a downpour of rain. We presume that if the farmer were left to himself he would organize against the unions in the cities, and those in the cities who belong to unions would be dissatisfied if union work on the farm should double the cost of bread and meat.

As we have often said—there is a radical contention between those who produce farm products, and those who consume the same. The working man feels that he ought to have good food at the lowest possible price. And he ought. The farmer feels that all intermediaries, and all other organizations, are against him. He would like to know how to defend himself, and he does not feel that he can defend himself by offering his limbs for new shackles.

WHAT TO HAVE FOR DINNER.

A rather unusual cake is prepared according to the following recipe:

French Sponge Cake.—Separate the yolks and whites of four eggs, beat the yolks to a cream, add gradually one cupful of powdered sugar, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Add one cupful of flour with one teaspoonful of baking powder; add to the first mixture, stirring lightly.

Bake in two small layers. When cold, spread with the following filling: Beat to a cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add gradually one-quarter of a cupful of powdered sugar; drop into this the yolk of an egg, beat well; add a second yolk and beat again. Add a tablespoonful of strong coffee infusion. Stand on ice until cold.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Mix one cupful of cranberries, cut in halves and washed under the tap to remove the seeds; add one cupful of raisins, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of flour and one-third of a cupful of hot water. Set in a warm place while preparing the crust. Bake with two crusts.

Nut Omelet.—Put through a meat chopper a half cupful of nuts; beat three eggs until light, add salt and pepper and three tablespoonfuls of cold water; then add the nutmeats and mix well. Put a piece of butter the size of a walnut in a frying pan; when hot, pour in the mixture, and as soon as it begins to set lift the edges until it is firm all through. Fold over and send it to the table on a hot dish.

Harvard Pudding.—Mix and sift two and one-half cupfuls of flour with three and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and pepper and three tablespoonfuls of cold water; then add the nutmeats and mix well. Put a piece of butter the size of a walnut in a frying pan; when hot, pour in the mixture, and as soon as it begins to set lift the edges until it is firm all through. Fold over and send it to the table on a hot dish.

Paraly Croquettes.—Cut in halves, lengthwise, four uniform-sized parsnips; cook until tender; remove the skins and mash until perfectly smooth; add butter, salt and pepper and set aside to cool. When cold mold into balls, roll in egg, then crumbs, and fry in fat. Serve as a garnish for a roast.

"Hear! Hear!"

It is reported that Great Britain's first lady M. P.'s first words in debate were "Hear, hear," and certainly they were appropriate to the occasion, for it was a woman who first used the phrase. It Samuel 20:10 tells us: "Then cried a wise woman out of the city, 'Hear, hear.'" Another lady's first words in parliament were equally brief. This was the countess Grey who was then an infant. She was being shown around the house of parliament by her father, Lord Selborne, and near the entrance to the chamber she was held up to a window to have a peep at the debaters inside. At that moment the swing-door flew open and members were startled to hear a shrill, childish treble crying, in tones of delight, "I see! I see!"

The W. K. Lovering company display is being shown favorably comment at the auto show. Of particular interest is the three-fourths ton Bethlehem delivery on exhibition for the first time in this territory. Mr. B. W. Grenlich, wholesale sales manager, is more than pleased with its performance. This truck is the latest addition to the Bethlehem line.

It was driven over from Salt Lake over some exceptionally bad roads and with one-half ton overload. Although a new truck with stiff motor it showed a gasoline consumption of 17 1/2 miles to the gallon which goes to prove that this truck will go far towards maintaining the Bethlehem's reputation for a low operating expense. The flexibility and easy riding qualities were shown as the load contained 32 glass jar batteries to be used for demonstration for the Universal Lighting Plant and not one was broken, although the truck at times attained the speed of thirty miles an hour over rough roads. Mr. Grenlich fully expects that before the show is over this truck will be placed in practically all towns in this vicinity.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham, Donner 2/22

ELIZABETH'S CHARGES.

"Elizabeth," said Daddy, "is a gray goose. In fact, I should say that she is a gray goose. She is a very fine goose and looks quite important and the tail until she begins to walk and then she waddles along in such a funny way that it is so comical that you do not look so important at all."

"Some time ago a lot of little ducks were left on the farm where Elizabeth lives without any mother. They had lost their mother and were rather lonely little ducks, not knowing quite what to do or whom to go to if they were hurt or tired."

"But when they got to the farm and Elizabeth saw that they had no mother she took them in charge. She fed them and showed them where to find the food. She led them around all summer long and when winter came they were put together so Elizabeth could still be in charge."

"She was always in the center and the ducks were always around her and she never seemed to scold them, but just somehow they seemed to know that they must do what she said, for she would do the right thing for them."

"So Elizabeth taught the little ducks all their lessons and their manners and on the winter afternoons she told them stories and she chattered in her shrill, harsh voice which sounded very lively to the little ducks."

"And they talked to her and asked her questions and their little noisy quack-quacking sounded very sweet to Elizabeth for she had become their own mother, and they were her own ducklings."

"But one day some of the chickens got quarrelling and scolding and they were really quite old enough to know much, much better, for they were big chickens at this time."

"I'm glad you're not my charges," said Elizabeth.

"We would like to have you better than our mother," said the chickens.

"For shame," said Elizabeth.

"Well, the ducks aren't your own children so why couldn't you have us, too?"

"The ducks didn't have any mother," said Elizabeth, "and I didn't have any little ones so the little ducks became my children and I became their mother so as to make all of us quite happy."

"But my little ducks always took their baths in the summer and I remember what dirty little creatures you were."

HIGH PRICE OF SUGAR ATTRACTS MEXICAN STOCK

Sinaloa and Navarri Refineries Export Product to United States for First Time in Several Years

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The prevailing high price of sugar in the United States is attracting sugar in large quantities from western Mexico to San Francisco, according to Victor Patron, a former Mazatlan merchant now in business in San Francisco, who reports that several thousand bags have arrived here recently by steamer from the states of Sinaloa and Navarri. This is the first time in several years that there has been sugar exported to California from the states of Sinaloa and Navarri. Patron said Sinaloa has four refineries, two of them owned by American interests, while the Navarri refinery is controlled by Spanish capital, he said.

Unfavorable weather conditions cut down an expected yield of 1,000,000 boxes of tomatoes in Sinaloa to quarter that amount, according to Patron, but the tomato crop is still so much larger than that of last year that considerable exportation to the United States is expected this year, he said.

How Firestone Is Able to Produce the Finest Laminated Inner Tube and Still Hold to a Moderate Price

Firestone Man Power: Firestone has gathered together a remarkable body of workers, 17,000 strong — many of them stockholders in the Company. Men financially interested in the success of their product do better work.

Firestone Buying Power: Firestone has established purchasing headquarters at Singapore in the Straits Settlement where 85% of the world's rubber is produced. Thus Firestone gets first choice of the raw product at quantity prices. And this saving is turned back to car owners.

Firestone Selling Power — Firestone's immense production requires a widespread distribution system. Sixty-five branches and 46,000 dealers throughout the United States selling Firestone Tubes assure a fast-moving product, which means fresh stock at all times—most miles per dollar in tubes as well as tires.

SOCIALISTS GET TOGETHER UPON PLATFORM PLANK

Demand Public Administration of Country's Wealth; Vote Down Declaration that Privileged Few Control Churches

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Attorney General Palmer, Secretary Tamm and Secretary Baker will receive the committee of the socialist national convention which is to come from New York late this week to ask for the release of Eugene V. Debs...

NEW YORK, (AP)—Public administration of the country's wealth for the equal benefit of all was adopted as the first of its declaration of principles by the national convention of the socialist party of America here Wednesday.

Victory for "Conservatives." This action emphasized the victory of the "conservative" party, forces Tuesday over the Illinois delegation "red flag" demands for the "dictatorship of the proletariat" and limitation of citizenship to workers.

The primary principle as adopted reads: "The socialist party of the United States demands that the country and its wealth be redeemed from the control of private interests and turned over to the people to be administered for the equal benefit of all."

Joseph H. McIntyre of the District of Columbia said that since joining the socialist party he had ceased being a member of the Roman Catholic church.

McIntyre declared, "Socialist literature has opened my eyes. If you put religion into our hands, we will get into a religious discussion and forget all about socialism. Get the voters first and talk religion out of their heads."

Characterizing the workers as virtually a "subject class" the convention adopted a declaration that the "middle class" of the American people—owners, small business men, manufacturers, employees and better paid employes—are staunch supporters of the "ruling class" of which they hope to become part.

Platform Principle Business Detailed consideration of the proposal of a "moderate" platform of the socialist party, as presented by Morris Hillquit of this city was the principal business before the national convention of the party Wednesday. The red flag internationalists were defeated yesterday by vote of 103 to 33 in their attempt to substitute a more radical program for the party, declared they would continue their fight against the Hillquit document.

Hobo's Union Represented A representative of the International Brotherhood Welfare association, known as the Hobo's union, appeared at the convention to ask the delegation to endorse a proposed amendment to the United States constitution, providing that all citizens shall vote in the general election, regardless of race, sex, color, habitation, occupation or "lack of occupation."

Gold Didn't Materialize A Chicago inventor named Brice, in 1897, was seeking a patent on a process for making gold in a mixture of antimony, iron and sulphur. The patent office would not grant it without proof that the idea had merit, and the then secretary of the treasury was persuaded to direct the mint bureau to try the thing out. There must have been something wrong about the methods of the treasury laboratory, for not a particle of gold or silver was obtained.

Babe Ruth seems to have lost his batting eye... Babe Ruth must sure be on the bum... Cause all he got was 6 home runs in the game he played today...

Seattle-Price game was 9-8; Vernon and Sacramento had a 3-2 tussle; the Beavers and Angles battled to a 3-1 finish and Oakland and the Bees came out 6-4.

The Yankees touched the Sox slab artists for 20; the Athletics nipped the Browns for 12 and then couldn't win; and the Indians bumped the Red Sox pitchers for 11 fatalities.

Some slugfests we'd say, eh? Sugar... 'Tis his C. L. a awful thing, I'll tell you that much, gents...

I've seen everything on the market board And watched the prices bounce But say, is sugar a thousand dollars Or just two thousand bucks an ounce?!

GROCCERS ENTER DENIAL OF INSPECTORS CHARGE

Declare Labeled Meat Shipment Sent in Error and Not For Sale; Will Fight Case

Dr. W. A. Falloun, city meat inspector, yesterday afternoon inspected city ordinance 200 for the first time when he brought L. V. Tait, manager of Skaggs' grocery, into the municipal court and charged him with violation of the law by having in his possession three cartons of meat which had never been inspected.

Mr. Tait entered a plea of not guilty saying that the shipments were sent him through an error and had not been opened for sale.

City authorities claim possession of such goods is a violation of the ordinance. Mr. B. Skaggs of Pocatello, owner of the concern, will fight the charges.

Trial will take place in the police court tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. City Clerk W. A. Minnick stated this morning.

High School News

Girls of the senior class, through their club, 'Girls of the Red and White,' have patched and made a quilt which is now on display in a window of the Cius book store.

This quilt is the product of several club meetings during which time the girls turned their efforts toward buying a cripple's chair. The chair when purchased will be given to a high school girl.

The quilt was recently bought by Mrs. T. F. Warner and given back to the club to be re-sold. Any person desiring to purchase the article may get it at the Cius book store.

Seniors will picnic tomorrow at Clear Lake, that visiting up the school year. Cars will leave from the school at 9 o'clock.
