WALSH LEADER OF FIGHT UPON LEAGUE PLANK

Administration Fails to Secure Platform Committee's Endorsement of Its Stand without Amendment

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—After a wrangle of more than two hours over the suffrage plank of the platform committee reached an agreement and began consideration of the Irish plank by granting the request of Frank P. Walsh that he be heard.

Mr. Walsh, who is head of the American committee on Irish freedom, got before the committee at the request of a caucus of about 200 Irish sympathizers among delegates to the convention. He told the committee that the sub-committee plank proposing to leave the Irish question to the league of nations would be regarded by Irish-Americans as an evasion of the issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—A plank dealing with the league of nations was adopted by the democratic platform committee early this morning. A long, bitter fight so delayed the platform work that the committee recessed until 10 o'clock. Leaders hoped to have the platform ready for the convention this afternoon.

In the treaty battle the administration failed to secure adoption of its plank without amendment. The committee, by a vote of 18 to 12, adopted an addition by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, among those opposing the administration force, providing for ratification of the treaty of Versailles with reservations consistent with American principles. The treaty took up most of the session which began at 8 o'clock last night and ended with recess at 3:30 this morning when the committee was so fatigued that they ceased work without taking up the labor, Irish or other controverted questions. The committee adopted the labor and several other minor planks, however.

Treaty Plank Endorsed

As submitted to the committee, the administration treaty plank, according to authoritative statements provided:

"We recommend ratification of the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations covenant without reservations which would impair its essential integrity."

The words added by Senator Walsh's amendment were:

"But we do not oppose reservations which make more clear or specific our obligations to the associated nations."

The substitute planks of Mr. Bryan and Senator Walsh of Montana and Pomeroy of Ohio, went down to defeat, it was said, with but from 12 to 15 votes each.

Minority Report Indicated

Chairman Carter Glass and other members refused to give out any information concerning any action by the committee, but it was indicated that, dissatisfied with the treaty plank approved, a minority report for approval to the convention was under consideration.

The labor plank adopted, and against compulsory arbitration and declared strikes and lockouts and advocated that some peaceable way be found to settle industrial disputes.

The committee also gave approval on a declaration for legislation which would permit collective bargaining by farmers.

As reported by the sub-committee, the league of nations plank followed closely that adopted by the Virginia democrats. Senator Walsh of Montana submitted a minority report and led the fight against the Virginia proposal, which had the backing of President Wilson.

TURKS ATTEMPT TO SHIFT BLAME

Reply of Envoys to Peace Terms Minimizes Responsibility for War

PARIS, (AP)—The reply of the Turkish delegation to the allies concerning the Turkish treaty minimizes Turkish responsibility for the war, recognizes the new states of Syria, Mesopotamia, and Palestine and renounces all rights to Egypt. It further recognizes the rights of Great Britain in the Suez canal and the Sudan and also British annexation of the island of Cyprus, and renounces Turkish rights to the islands of Imbros, Tenedos, Lemnos, Samothrace, Mytilene, Chios, Samos and Nigra.

The reply protests the allotment of eastern Thrace to Greece, declaring this violates the principles of nationalities and the security of Turkey, placing the Greek frontier within cannon range of Constantinople.

ARGENTINE BARRISTER TAKES OATH BY BUDDHA

Superior Court of Cordoba Makes Exception in Case of Law Student of Agnostic Belief

BUENOS AIRES, (AP)—Permission to swear by Buddha instead of God and the Holy Apostles was granted by the Superior Court of Cordoba the other day to a young law student of agnostic belief when he took oath of membership in the Argentine bar. He sought first to take the oath "by my country, and my honor," but the court informed him that he would be obliged to take a "religious oath."

The student, it is related, therupon went to a library and began a profound study of the world's religions, on which he spent several days. He then returned to the court and informed the learned judges he had found that the Buddhist religion was "the most moral and most complete" and asked permission to take oath upon it. The judges consented, and the student, after a long and dusty tomes of Argentine law and the fact there was nothing to exclude him from taking such an oath.

The Fargo Courier News, official publication of the Nonpartisan league, early today asserted Dr. E. F. Ladd, league candidate for the United States senatorial nomination, would run ahead of the state ticket.

Opposing Dr. Ladd are Senator A. J. Gronna, independent republican candidate, and Colonel Frank White, former governor. Official returns available early today showed Gronna leading Ladd about 2 to 1.

The report proposes the distribution among the roads of $86,000,000 to be used in rebuilding and repairing 12,010 miles of locomotives in the purchase of 893 new locomotives and 45,000 freight cars, and $35,000,000 for additions and betterments to promote the movement of cars.

Then the organ pealed off The Star Spangled Banner, and the convention chorused in the playing of the national anthem. At the close of the singing, Judge Murawski of San Francisco, took a place at the speaker's stand and recited the Battle Hymn of the Republic, while the great organ so vibrantly the melody of the martial air in accompaniment.

The judge recited the first stanza while the organ trembled out its majestic strains, and then coming to the chorus, turned his eyes to a tall gallery, where a clear bell-toned soprano rang out with the refrain, beginning softly at first, and then joining in the pen of the organ as it built into the mighty thunder of "Glory,

NOMINATIONS OCCUPY TIME OF CONVENTION AWAITING PLATFORM

Fourth Day Session Adjourns after Brief Session to Reconvene Tonight for Reception of Report of Resolutions Committee; Attempt to Suspend Rules and Proceed with Ballot Abandoned; Fourteen Candidates Placed in Running AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—With fourteen candidates placed before it for the presidential nomination the democratic national convention, after a brief session today, found the platform committee unable to make a report and adjourned until eight o'clock tonight.

An attempt to suspend the rules of the convention and proceed with the balloting was not with much obvious disapproval by the convention that it was not pressed. The name of John W. Davis, American ambassador to Great Britain, would up the list of names on the program for nominating speeches, but at the last minute the names of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, Senator Glass of Virginia, and Francis Burton Harrison, governor general of the Philippines, were added, and when the call of the states had been completed the names of fourteen men in all had been placed formally before the convention.

The circle of thirteen which has run through the administration of Woodrow Wilson was narrowly avoided.

Committee Hard at Work
The platform committee continued working during the day hoping to harmonize the differences over the prohibition plank and the league of nations and the Irish question. Delegates who were interested in the Irish question had a caucus soon after the adjournment of the convention to decide what would be done in pressing the claim for a platform plank declaring recognition of the Irish republic. Concentrated efforts were being made to bring in the report of the platform committee when the convention reassembled at eight o'clock, but there were no definite assurances that it would be ready then.

Today's brief session was markedly quiet and orderly in comparison with the noisy and turbulent session of yesterday. No one could estimate the probable duration of tonight's session and there were no assurances that it might not continue until daylight.

Galleries Fill Early
Galleries filled early in expectation of a showy fight on the platform issue. The delegates came more slowly and later than in the past, but by 7 o'clock, the hour for the opening of the convention, the galleries as usual were only partially filled with chatting members. The band, the organ and the singers as usual entertained the crowd while things were waiting to be started up.

Beside the speech making Ambassador Davis in nomination, it was understood that Senator Glass would be placed in nomination by the representative of Illinois, one of the Virginia delegates. So far as the convention officials have been advised early today, that ended the list of nominating speeches, and the next business was to take up the opening of the convention and the delegates as usual were only partially filled with chatting members. The band, the organ and the singers as usual entertained the crowd while things were waiting to be started up.

Carnival Spirit Lacking
Reminiscence of the happy singing carnival of yesterday that held the convention in its joyful grip for hours, the local news coverage in the celebration of the Lord's prayer. Then the organ pealed off The Star Spangled Banner, and the convention chorused in the playing of the national anthem. At the close of the singing, Judge Murawski of San Francisco, took a place at the speaker's stand and recited the Battle Hymn of the Republic, while the great organ so vibrantly the melody of the martial air in accompaniment.

As the counter move to meet the combination against McAdoo administration forces were scouting for a dark horse of their own who could break the combination if it proved effective. Vice-president Marshall had been talked of to head the combination against McAdoo, but Thomas Taggart, head of the Indiana delegation, did not attend the conference.

There was mention of Cummings, who has always been a factor since his keynote speech as temporary chairman, and a new name heard was that of Balbridge Colby, secretary of state, which there will be no trend toward either of these or any new names introduced.

The Palmer, or Cox forces or both definitely reject the combination, which has for its purpose the defeat of McAdoo. No progress was made in the meantime to bring Mr. Bryan into the combination and have him place in nomination for the presidency.

Some of the ideas favored during the preliminary conferences.

Bryan Still a Factor
A factor in the situation was the absence of Mr. Bryan, who had been expected to place in nomination the platform of the platform. The position of Mr. Bryan is slightly bound up in that issue. There are some who say that Mr. Bryan should be successful in obtaining the platform he has introduced, which is the only man who could run on it and these same old line leaders charged that the creation of that situation was a part of the Bryan program.

BAH FOR WALK
BOSTON, (AP)—Walter Johnson, crack pitcher of the Washington American league team, today pitched his first six-inning game, shutting out the Red Sox without hit or run. Washington scored a single tally. Johnson was opposed by Harry Harper, a former pitching mate of the Washington club.

STRUGGLE OVER LEAGUE PLANK DELAYS BALLOT

Old Line Leaders Admit McAdoo Seems to Have Inside Track While They Devise Means to Stop His Nomination

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., (AP)—Maintaining his sphinx-like silence, William G. McAdoo at his country home here today declined to be persuaded by newspapermen to make any comment on the activities of the democratic convention at San Francisco where his name has been placed in nomination for the presidency.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Prospects for balloting late today for a presidential candidate, most promising as the delegates to the democratic national convention assembled for the fourth day's session. A long, bitter fight over the league of nations declaration, which the supporters of President Wilson were forced to accept an amendment to the administration's plank before it could be adopted, so delayed the work of the platform committee that there is little likelihood the delegates will get down to balloting before tomorrow.

Platform Adoption First
Voting for president will not begin until the platform has been adopted. The convention proceedings today, called for the final nominating speeches. The one set speech on the program was that of Governor Cornell of West Virginia, placing in nomination John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain.

Cox, McAdoo, Palmer, Gerard, Hitchcock, Cummings, Edwards, Smith, McCall, and Owen had been expected to place before the convention before it recessed last evening.

Frankly admitting that McAdoo seems to have the inside track on the issue for his nomination, the inner circle of old line democrats are working through the night devising means to stop his nomination.

Discuss Clark as Possibility
Chairman Clark was being discussed as a possibility.

The answer of the McAdoo people to that move was that if an inner circle combination forestalled them, there would be no need of a "dark horse" which would produce a Wilson-backed dark horse. The name of Homer S. Cummings cropped out whenever the administration forces were discussed. The name of Vice President Marshall was generally linked with that of Champ Clark when combination candidates, to break the McAdoo wave, were being discussed.

Palmer Leaders Confident
Former Representative Carlin, Palmer, and other staff, refused to concede that the attorney-general could not be nominated and E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., the Cox force marshal said: "There may be a grasshopper convention, but I haven't been informed as yet that any of the Cox delegates are going to jump."

Nevertheless, the report persisted that there was some talk of an understanding between the Cox and Palmer men and that the managers of these candidates favored the nomination of anyone rather than Bryan.

Irreconcilable
Chairman Clark was being discussed as a possibility.

McAdoo leaders claimed to have within 50 votes of the necessary two-thirds and declared they were sure of accomplishing their purpose by their showing of strength.

In contrast to this the opposition to McAdoo claimed his vote never would exceed 450. They conceded to Palmer 200 votes, which they predicted would be won by the Pennsylvanian. New York was being counted on to cast 75 votes of her 90 against McAdoo from beginning to end, and with votes from Pennsylvania, Indiana, the New England states and some others, the McAdoo opposition counts up about 475 votes against the former secretary, exclusive of the votes in the Cox block.

It requires 728 to nominate. Bryan's help is being counted-up in the movement against McAdoo.

World Hardening Convention
One of the leaders in the opposition to McAdoo epitomized the situation by saying there was an effort under way to "keep Bryan out of the movement."

TENTATIVE PLATFORM DECLARES FOR LEAGUE; SILENT ON DRY ISSUE

Draft of Sub-Committee of Nine and Submitted by Full Committee Demands Ratification of Peace Treaty as Requisite to National Honor; Suggests Reference of Irish Question to League and Leaves Prohibition Unmentioned

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The democratic platform as drafted by the sub-committee and submitted by the full committee declared for ratification of the peace treaty as a requisite to preserve the honor and integrity of the nation; suggests that the Irish question can be brought legitimately before the league of nations for settlement; and is silent on the subject of prohibition.

Advocates collective bargaining for farmers; opposes compulsory arbitration for labor disputes; declares for recognition of new Mexican government when it has established order, and calls on the legislatures of Tennessee, Florida and North Carolina to ratify the suffrage amendment.

In many respects the platform follows that adopted by the Virginia democrats and approved by President Wilson. The league of nations plank in particular was taken virtually as a whole from the Virginia platform, though in other respects there have been modifications and many new subjects have been added.

A summary of the sub-committee's draft follows:

- Preamble.
Sends greetings to President Wilson commending his achievements in the interest of the country and of the whole world. Condemns in general terms the republican congress.
- League of Nations.
Repeats the Virginia plank with little variation, condemning the action of the senate in ratifying the league of nations and the separate peace resolution and advocating ratification of the peace treaty and such membership in the league of nations as would insure the integrity of national integrity or independence.
- Conduct of the War.
Praises the administration's conduct of the war, commends the patriotic efforts of American citizens to aid the government and praises the military and naval forces with mention of General Pershing by name.
- Finance.
Again incorporates the language of the Virginia democrats in extolling the federal reserve system and the financing of the war and in condemning the republicans for extravagance.
- Taxation.
Criticizes the republican congress for failing to revise wartime tax schedules and demands a survey of the tax conditions by the committee on finance. Declares that no money was saved except at the expense of the efficiency of government bureaus.
- High Cost of Living.
Blames diminished production for high prices and declares the republicans are responsible in that they delayed peace and failed to provide the president with necessary legislation.
- War Investigations.
Condemns the republicans for their use of appropriations in investigating the conduct of the war.
- Profitsteering.
Pledges the party to enactment and enforcement of such legislation as may be required to bring profiteers before the bar of criminal justice.
- Tariff.
Reaffirms democratic tariff doctrine and declares for a research on the subject by a non-partisan commission.
- Budget.
Defends President Wilson's veto of the budget bill and advocates a budget system partially under direction of the secretary of the treasury with consolidated auditing.
- Postal Service.
Commends democratic administration of the postal service and makes a blanket declaration for higher salaries for postal employees. Advocates greater use of motor vehicles in transportation.
- Agriculture.
Praises the democratic record in establishing farm loan banks and other farm legislation. Endorses collective bargaining and researches into production costs.
- Labor.
Follows the Virginia plank in declaring strikes and lockouts should not jeopardize the paramount public interests but adds a statement of opposition to compulsory arbitration. Favors adjustment of salaries of government employees.
- Suffrage.
Congratulates legislatures that have ratified the suffrage amendment and urges democratic governors and legislatures of Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida to complete ratification in time for women to vote this fall.
- Women in Industry.
Declares against child labor. Favors legislation for child welfare and maternity care. Advocates increases in teachers' salaries. Urges extension of vocational education, better conditions for working women and re-classification of the civil service with a view to equality of the sexes. Endorses separate citizenship for married women.
- Soldier Compensation.
Advocates generosity to disabled soldiers but declares against excessive bond issues to pay compensation which would put patriotism on a pecuniary basis.
- Railroads.
Commends federal administration of railroads during the war, declaring it was efficient and economical despite inadequate and worn equipment. Criticizes the recently enacted transportation act and says congress temporized until so late a date that the president was forced to sign the bill or else throw the railroad situation into chaos.
- Highways.
Favor continuance of federal aid in road building.
- Inland Waterways.
Calls republican plank inadequate and advocates further development of adequate transportation on rivers and further improvement of inland waterways. Recognizes the importance of connecting the Great Lakes with the Mississippi as well as with the St. Lawrence.
- Foreign Trade.
Favors extension of foreign trade.
- Merchant Marine.
Pledges the party to a policy of continued improvement of the merchant marine under proper legislation.
- Reclamation.
Advocates extension of arid land reclamation with a view to home building.
- Mexico.
Deplores the misfortunes of the Mexican people and upholds President Wilson's Mexican policy, declaring that as a consequence order is reestablished in Mexico. Advocates recognition of new Mexican government when it has proved its ability to maintain order.

Poland.
Reiterates President Wilson's principle of self determination, expresses sympathy with the aspirations of the Polish people and declares that when the United States becomes a member of the league of nations it can legitimately bring the Irish problem before the bar of the league.

Armenia.
Declares it the duty of the American government to aid in the establishment of order and complete independence for Armenia.

Alaska.
Commends the democratic administration for railroad construction and coal and oil development. Advocates modification of coal law to facilitate development and also extension of the farm loan act to Alaska.

Philippines.
Declares for Philippine independence without unnecessary delay when the islands are ready for self government.

Hawaii.
Advocates a liberal policy toward Hawaii with greater development of the rights and privileges of the middle classes.

Corrupt Practices.
Deplores the pre-convention expenditures of republican presidential candidates and advocates regulation of such expenditures by federal law.

Federal Trade Commission.
Praises the administration of the commission and advocates amplification of its work.

Livestock Markets.
Favors legislation for supervision of livestock markets by the federal government.

FOREIGNERS ASK CHINESE TO DISPOSE OF CORPSES
SHANGHAI, (AP)—Foreign residents of the Jesfield and Kinschow road districts have asked the municipal council of the International Settlement of Shanghai to urge upon the Chinese authorities to bury a large number of coffins containing the remains of Chinese that had been left scattered about fields and vacant tracts of the two districts. The complaint grows out of the Chinese custom frequently of leaving their dead unburied for long periods.

HIGH COST PUTS WORD IN BRAZILIAN LEXICON

No Effort is Made to Translate "Overalls" into Portuguese Tongue.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, (AP)—One result of the movement against the high cost of living in the United States has been to add a new word—"overalls"—to the Portuguese language. When the overalls movement started in the United States recently, newspapers here began translating the Associated Press dispatches from English into the Portuguese language were perplexed. The literal translation would be "sobretudo" but as this means overcoat translators finally decided on "roupa de operario" which in English is "workmen's clothes."

At present however, since photographs have arrived from North America and the movement has been started here, no further effort is made at translation. The simple English word "overalls" has been adopted by newspapers and public alike.

The movement is gathering momentum in Rio de Janeiro and vicinity. Agitation started by newspapers has been taken up by students who in a mass meeting resolved to lead the way in imitation of North Americans in combating the high cost of living.

PENNSYLVANIA PROMISED WHITE HOUSE RELATIONS

Election of Harding Would Bind University City Closer than Ever to Seat of Government

WASHINGTON, Pa., (AP)—If Warren G. Harding is elected president of the United States, this pretty little university city in the hills of western Pennsylvania will be bound up closer than ever with the White House, for not only did Senator Harding's ancestors live here but the father of President Wilson also was a resident of Washington.

Senator Harding's great-grandfather, William Van Kirk, was one of the early settlers of Franklin township, and he and his wife are buried in the family graveyard on the Charles Van Kirk farm near Point Lookout. Senator Harding is honorary president of the Van Kirk family society and frequently has attended the annual reunion here. President Wilson's father, Rev. Joseph Buggles Wilson, was born at Stru-benville, O., not far from here and in 1848 became pastor of the Hills Presbyterian church at Cambasburg, near Washington. Here the family remained until their removal to Virginia where the president was born a short time afterward.

Tire Cost Is Coming Down

That is, the cost per mile.
Miller Tire mileage has in late years almost doubled, through perfection in tire making.

In the factory tests—rear-wheel tests under hard conditions—Miller Cords last year averaged 15,000 miles.

The new Miller tread has added 25% to the tread wear. Since its adoption, not a single Miller Tire has come back with the tread gone.

Both maker and inspector must sign every Miller Tire. Both are penalized if a tire comes back.

Every tire user owes himself a test of the Miller Tire. Its exceptional mileage is talked everywhere today.

Under this plan, defects have become a rarity.

It is giving hundreds of thousands of users new criterions of tire service.

It is winning contests where a score of makes are given million-mile comparisons.

Give it a chance to show.

HUMOR PLAYS BIG PART IN CONVENTIONS

Appeal of Governor Willis is Credited with Having Effect in Securing Republican Nomination for Harding

CHICAGO, Ill., (AP)—The long hours of oratory that mark every national political convention may bore the tired delegates and spectators nearly to the point of exhaustion, but never kill their sense of humor. Occasionally a witty sentence or a quick repolisher has been credited with having had a greater effect on the final result than all the oratory of the picked spell-binders.

At the recent republican gathering at Chicago, Frank B. Willis, former governor of Ohio, was nominating Senator Warren G. Harding for the presidency. Ohio was far down in the list. The 33,000 swarming persons, who crowded the big coliseum had listened with only half-interest to more than five hours of formal oratory when Willis, closing his speech, said: "Well, boys and girls, let's nominate Harding."

The friendly humor brought a ready response. The next day, when the land-slide toward Harding began, an Ohio admirer of the senator who had inscribed the sentence on a huge sheet of cardboard dropped it from the gallery. It made an instantaneous hit.

Earlier in the contest, a negro delegate from Oklahoma, appearing before the credentials committee at 3 o'clock in the morning to press his claim for a seat, put new life into that body and won his point by a remark. Having told how the "illy white" side had held its convention in a hotel from which negroes were barred by the proprietor, he said:

"Why, gentlemen, in Oklahoma there's 'Jim Crowism' from the henhouse to the hotel."

In the laugh that followed a motion to seat the contestant was carried unanimously.

Officials of Norris Government Adopt Unique Campaign Enterprise

With the premier leading the van, this unique method of conducting campaigning is new and is claimed by officials of the Norris government to be the first attempt to use it in the world. Edward Brown, provincial treasurer in the present cabinet, recently took a flight over Winnipeg and expressed himself as highly delighted with the possibilities of airplanes in the campaign.

Two machines are already engaged for the enterprise. They will touch at least one town in every constituency. Campaign literature will be dropped from the airplane as it circles over the town. After landing, the government minister in the machine will address the crowd that gathers to meet it. Supporters of Premier Norris are enthusiastic over the scheme.

The machine at present engaged display an appealing urging voters to support the present government.

MIKE O'DOWD WORKS HARD, SAYS LITTLE ABOUT PROSPECTS—WILL LET JULY BATTLE TELL THE TALE

Former Middleweight Champion Gets Down to Business Immediately on Arrival in Pocatello for Bout with Sturdy Gordon McKay, Native Son—Women Aplenty Will See Fight July 5

(BY EILEF RUE)

Looking fit and ready, Mike O'Dowd, king of middleweights, arrived in Pocatello yesterday to put on the finishing touches to his training for the fight with Gordon McKay, northwest champion, next Monday.

In the party with O'Dowd were Paddy Mullins, his wise but reticent manager, who thinks much but says nothing; William Costain, his trainer; and "Three Star" Hennessy, his expert rubber and sparring partner.

When O'Dowd was asked what he thought of the coming fight with McKay by reporters to whom he was introduced, he displayed a broad unworldly smile and retorted:

"Say, this is certainly a grand climate here. I feel light as a feather and I'll bet a person can certainly sleep well at night. I intend to."

Pressed as to a statement about the fight, O'Dowd paid a tribute to the abilities of McKay, saying:

"I never make any fight predictions. I'll fight and let some one else do the talking. I know McKay is a mighty clever boy and I'm not taking him lightly for a second. I predict that we'll both be there to do our best to."

Unassuming, without a trace of conceit, O'Dowd appealed to the sport fans who met him at the train as a "big, well built, big fellow." "I'm a fighting 'covey,'" with Mr. Costain, his trainer, about Mr. Costain's statement that Idaho could raise six good alfalfa crops a year, was one of the chief topics of conversation at a luncheon given by J. Robb Brady, Pocatello's fight promoter.

Without wasting any time, O'Dowd went out trotting on the road this morning, getting acclimated. He was perspiring freely when he returned from the road jaunt.

Arrangements were made this morning to establish training quarters for the fight. The McKay camp will be at the Pocatello hotel and the O'Dowd camp will be at the Pocatello hotel.

Gordon McKay, a confident and untroubled, is a native of Pocatello, Idaho, and is now in the zenith of his career. Each morning he goes to the gymnasium and spends the day in hitting and other boxing stunts, he steps a few fight rounds with his sparring partners, followed by a thorough rubdown. McKay's admirers who have been watching his training are becoming increasingly confident that McKay will be able to surpass the sporting world by decisively beating O'Dowd and there is plenty of money to support McKay.

According to indications at places where fight tickets are on sale, a record percentage of women fans at the fight seems assured to establish a new record in the United States for the quota of women at a fight. J. Robb Brady, promoter, remarked, after he had answered five successive telephone calls by Pocatello women who wished to buy tickets.

"Because of the interest developed in the fight and the prospects of thousands of visitors, the plans for the increase of the mammoth open stadium have been put into effect and the number of seats is now nearly 7,000. No more increases, however, LeRoy Collier, manager, announced, will be made, and persons who do not get their tickets early, will have to take their chances in the fight should draw more than 7,000 fight fans."

Glass Leads Wilson's Battle

In the debate, which lasted a flood of bitter feeling, Senator Walsh was followed by Mr. Bryan, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator Pomereoy of Ohio, while the battle for the administration was led by Senator Glass of Virginia, the committee chairman. Senator Walsh's minority report provided for a plank pledging the nomination of the convention to the democratic caucus to make such concessions as might be necessary to secure ratification of the treaty. All of those who supported it told the committee bluntly that hope of ratification without such concessions as might be necessary to secure ratification of the treaty was as well abandoned and that the wise course was that of a compromise.

Others Want Modification

Mr. Bryan and several others wanted modifications of the wording of the Walsh plank and as the discussion raged they expressed the hope of members that the question could be kept off the convention floor diminished.

On the prohibition issue the subcommittee made no recommendation and a big grist of proposed amendments was piled up by Mr. Bryan leading the drys in a determined crusade to keep the party from making a wet declaration or remaining silent on the prohibition issue.

The Irish plank submitted by the subcommittee reiterated in general terms President Wilson's principle of self-determination, expressed sympathy for the Irish people and suggested that the Irish problem could be legitimately brought before the league of nations. That is unsatisfactory to some of the committee members who are making a fight for a plank pledging the party to recognize the Irish republic.

Would Make Pledge Good

In his fight against the administration's league of nations plank, Senator Walsh declared that although he had been for the treaty without reservations, the great effort had been made to secure such a ratification was impossible. In the coming campaign, he asserted, the democrats could not hope to gain enough senators to make up the necessary two-thirds and if the administration declaration was adopted the country might well ask what the democrats possibly could hope to do to carry it out.

Mr. Bryan argued that the party should not go on record as opposing reservations to which a majority of the senators had agreed but should take the issue out of politics by declaring for an immediate ratification compromise.

In the debate, Vice President Marshall was reported to have criticized the administration plank because it gave no information to the public regarding what reservations would be submitted and the clause described as not impairing the government's "essential integrity."

Chairman Glass, Senator McKellar of Tennessee and other administration chiefs strenuously opposed the Walsh amendment. The administration side charged it would play into the hands of the republicans, be regarded as a weakening of the democratic position, and be support for the position of republican senators led by Senator Lodge. Senator McKellar was declared to have denounced the Walsh amendment as "the doctrine of hell."

Another administration member said it would appear as if the democrats were "coming to terms" with the republicans. Still, another opponent of Senator Walsh's amendment said that its defeat was tantamount to defeating the Lodge reservations and that if the committee adopted the Walsh addition it "ought to put Senator Lodge in nomination" here.

Senator Pomereoy supported the Walsh amendment.

Concludes Article 10 Destructive.

Although Senator Walsh is said to have conceded that article 10 of the league covenant would be destroyed by the Lodge reservation, and Senator Pomereoy told the committee that most of the important features of the treaty would remain.

Senator Walsh said that the amendment would be assured that with it the democrats would be assured that the amendment by former Governor McKellar of West Virginia that he was opposed to action for mere expediency.

"God help the democratic party," Governor McKellar exclaimed. "We will lose the respect of the American people."

Glass and Bryan Clash

During the debate, Senator Glass and Mr. Bryan clashed over Mr. Bryan's pushed criticism of the subcommittee as a "secret body" when Senator Glass objected to it. Mr. Bryan replied that he would use it again or any other word he should choose.

NOMINATIONS OCCUPY TIME.

Glory, Hallelujah! Then the audience joined in the rolling chorus and the great auditorium was filled to the very top with the singing of the hymn, and the conclusion of the singing the secretary of the convention continued the call of roll of states for nominating speeches.

Mexico, first on the call, simply seconded the nomination of William G. McAdoo. It was a sign.

real for a demonstration which started in the galleries and spread to some delegations on the floor but did not last long.

North Carolina sent W. C. Newland, of Lenoire, to the platform to place in nomination Senator Simmons, for whom the North Carolina delegates are instructed to vote.

Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann, of California, made a second speech for Simmons, merely saying:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the convention: I, too, second the nomination of Senator Simmons of North Carolina.

Oregon Joins McAdoo Draft

North Dakota passed and Oregon announced that the delegation joined the movement to draft the Honorable William G. McAdoo.

The McAdoo boomers, helped out by the band, made the signal for another brief demonstration.

Rhode Island passed, so did South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, and Utah announced that it seconded the nomination of McAdoo.

Vermont passed and Virginia sent Representative Elliot to the platform to nominate Senator Glass, chairman of the resolutions committee. Describing Glass as the "warm supporter and close political adviser of Woodrow Wilson," Mr. Elliot told the convention that Senator Glass' home town, Lynchburg, Va., was a monument to his ability.

Mr. Elliot reviewed the work of Glass in the house of representatives, the treasury department and finally in the senate, and ended by declaring he offered to the party the experience and the capacity of "a brave man whose democracy will never waver and whose patriotism will never be questioned."

Denies Sectionalism

Washington was called and passed and West Virginia sent Governor Corwain to the platform to nominate John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain.

Governor Corwain told the convention that if the campaign was merely a contest to keep control of the government for the democratic party to keep some people in political office and to put others into office, that I am ready to quit now."

The public record of Mr. Davis, Governor Corwain said, shows that he nominated he would not be the candidate "of any class, any section or any group."

You cannot afford in this convention," said he, "to nominate a man merely because he is supposed to be popular with one particular group of people in the country at the sacrifice of leadership. If you do that you make the democratic party a sectional organization."

The convention construed the governor's remarks as a thrust at the McAdoo boom. At the same time Governor Corwain by indirect reference defended the later record of Mr. Davis which has been attacked.

He closed with a reference to the close relations between the president and Mr. Davis, and the fact that during negotiation of the peace treaty the president had kept Mr. Davis "at his elbow."

Mrs. Julia Brown of West Virginia, seconded the nomination of Mr. Davis. Mrs. Brown was dressed in a white organdie gown with a corsage of roses and looked like a debutante as she stepped out to the speaker's place.

Woman's Story Scores

Mrs. Brown, who before her marriage was Lottie Jewett, a stock actress in the east, began by telling the convention a funny story which ran to the effect that while man was asleep in the Garden of Eden the Creator took the man of the convention took the thrust and laughed heartily.

"Women will select a man," said Mrs. Brown, "who has the stock and the straightest tent and whose present life measures up to women's ideals."

"This man," said Mrs. Brown, "is not a preacher, although in his life he practices what preachers preach. He is home-bred and a well-rounded American statesman."

Mrs. Brown made a hit with her audience when she said that the play "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary."

Jordan Burr of Alabama, seconded the nomination of Mr. Davis. Mrs. Guilford Dudley of Nashville, Tenn., also delivered a second speech for Mr. Davis.

Woman Nominates Harrison

Wisconsin, Wyoming, Alaska, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and the Philippines were called and Miss Beatrice Dryer of Manila was escorted to the speaker's stand to make a nominating speech for Frances Burton Harrison, governor general of the Philippines.

She did it expeditiously and much to the point.

Porto Rico and the Canal zone had no candidates to present.

Chairman Robinson announced that there would be a meeting of delegates interested in the Irish question at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Platform Not Ready

The presentation of a nominating speaker was ended and unless the convention decided to suspend its rules and begin balloting, it would have nothing before it except consideration of the platform, which was not ready.

Secretary Hoffman announced that the platform would not be ready to report until 8 o'clock tonight.

Mayor M. P. Bayler of Los Angeles was introduced and invited the convention delegates to visit his city on their way home.

Calls for Suffrage Vote

Mrs. Gould B. Blakeley, of Utah, a member of the state legislature, presented a resolution calling on the Louisiana legislature to ratify the suffrage amendment to the constitution. Governor John M. Parker was asked, in a telegram, to transmit a special message to the legislature.

Objection was made and the resolution could not go through.

William W. Marsh of Iowa, moved a suspension of the rules so the convention could go ahead with balloting. There was objection from many parts of the hall.

STRUGGLE OVER LEAGUE PLANK

to Hardingize the convention, but up to the present movement no Harding could be found.

Despite the growing organized opposition of McAdoo, his supporters expressed confidence that he would win before the tenth ballot.

Champ Clark talk was particularly discounted by the McAdoo forces because they thought that under no circumstances could Bryan be attracted to him. Rather than oppose McAdoo, the former secretary's friends say they think eventually Bryan will come to his support if necessary.

A break to McAdoo, his supporters say, will begin to come after the second or third ballot. McAdoo's friends want to force continuous balloting once it starts, but they expect the Cox adherents will oppose it.

Devies for Second Place

Talk on the Presidential nominees was mixed with a current of discussion as to the vice presidency. The name of Joseph Davies, former representative in congress from Wisconsin, and first chairman of the federal trade commission, was suggested for a McAdoo ticket as was that of Secretary Meredith. The name of Victor Murdock of Kansas also bubbled up.

The discussion of second place with McAdoo continued to emphasize the name of Governor Cox. At Cox headquarters whispers that the Ohio governor was prepared to accept a second place nomination were resented. In fact, it was said among Ohio delegates that Cox adherents were more likely to be found allied with Palmer delegates to block a McAdoo drift in the voting.

ESSEX IS CREDITED WITH MAKING RECORD

Fast Time is Recorded on Trial Run, Twin Falls to Buhl and Return

Blair Langford of the Salladay Hardware company, accompanied by Harry Atwood, of the Johnson Auto Sales company today drove an Essex roadster from Twin Falls to Buhl in what is believed to be the best time ever made between these two points.

Mr. Langford left the Perrine hotel from a standing start at 4:00 a. m. this morning and arrived at the Oregon Short Line railroad crossing on Broadway at Buhl at 4:33 a. m. and was again at the Perrine hotel in Twin Falls at 4:56 a. m. Sworn statements from disinterested persons verifying this Essex performance are now in the hands of the Johnson Auto Sales company.

In an interview, Mr. Langford made the following statement regarding his remarkable drive: "That any automobile would stand such a grueling test over such rough roads is unbelievable. The road blocks were so severe that before we had gone more than two miles the windshield was shattered and it seemed as though something must give away, but the little roadster never faltered and returned in perfect condition except for the broken windshield and some badly mangled tires. I feel certain that with the roads in their present miserable condition that my Essex roadster can still reduce our performance of 34 miles in 46 minutes by several minutes."

Mr. Langford made this drive at the request of the Johnson Auto Sales company to fulfill the promise to the public that it could expect some unusual performance from the Essex car during "Watch the Essex week."
