FOGH FILES BILL OF PARTICULARS IN GERMAN CASE

Reports to the Supreme Allied Council on Failure to Execute Disarmament Clauses of the Peace Treaty

BRUSSELS, (AP)—The supreme allied council met this morning and began consideration of the program which will be discussed with German delegates at the meeting at Spa, next week.

A very unfavorable impression was created when it became known that a memorandum prepared by German experts regarding the economic situation of Germany and her ability to meet the reparation demands had been submitted to the allied governments. The step was regarded as a maneuver intended to prepare the way for the execution of the treaty.

No Thoughts of Betterment
It was also taken as confirmation of reports from Berlin that the attitude of Konstantin Fehrenbach, German chancellor and head of the German Spa delegation, will be that financial adjustment must be made on the basis of the present economic situation of Germany without taking into account any future economic improvement.

The council listened to Marshal Foch and others report on the disarmament clauses of the treaty which Germany has not executed and instructed the military, naval and aerial experts to draw up a complete list of such omissions.

Experts of the reparations committee likewise were instructed to prepare a memorandum on Germany's failure to fulfill the coal delivery requirements which were discussed in a note to the council submitted by the reparations committee. The report of these experts, it is intended to present to the German representatives at Spa.

Confer with Belgians
During the recess after the first session Premier Lloyd George and Miller and conference with the Belgian delegation. It is expected that the council's conference will be completed today. The allied delegates intend to leave for Spa Sunday morning.

The afternoon session was cancelled at the last moment as the delegates had assembled and the meeting was adjourned until tomorrow morning. Meanwhile further conferences will be held to settle the question of division of reparations payments among the allies.

GERMANY PLEADS INABILITY TO FULFILL OBLIGATIONS

PARIS, (AP)—The memorandum submitted to the supreme allied council at Brussels this morning was presented to the French, British and Italian governments today at their respective capitals. It is understood it tries to establish Germany's inability materially to fulfill her treaty obligations.

WOMAN OF MYSTERY IN MURDER CASE ON CARPET

Supposed Owner of Silk Linen Found in Elwell's Room Again Questioned

NEW YORK, (AP)—Efforts to solve the murder of Jos B. Elwell, what was gravitated today toward "Miss Wren," supposed owner of silk lingerie found in the dead man's bedroom. Her acquaintance with the sportman has six times caused her to be questioned by the district attorney's office. The latest interview was held in order that she might be confronted with a cablegram quoting Anna Kane, Elwell's former housekeeper, now in Ireland, as stating that "Miss Wren" had "threatened to shoot Elwell if he deserted her again."

Following the examination District Attorney Swann said "Miss Wren" had "denied categorically that she had uttered any threat against the life of Elwell."

James Shevlin, supervising prohibition enforcement, expressed the belief today that several business men known in Wall street were connected with the "whiskey ring" of which the murdered man is alleged to have been a member.

LATER RETURNS TURN TIDE IN NORTH DAKOTA

interest Turns to Senatorial Race with Gubernatorial Contest Conceded Non-Partisan League Victory

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—With the gubernatorial contest virtually conceded a Nonpartisan victory, interest in Wednesday's primary election turned today to the contest for the United States senatorial nomination on the republican ticket.

The early lead established by Senator A. J. Gronna was dwindling somewhat at noon, his total of 738 out of 2,004 precincts in the state being 20,825 against the 18,724 polled by Dr. B. F. Ladd, the league candidate.

Predictions today by the Fargo Forum, which has supported the candidacy of Wm. Langer for governor, placed the estimated majority of Governor Lynn J. Frazier, the league choice, at from 5,000 to 7,000. Langer had a lead of 1,000 votes in 1,022 precincts, but the missing precincts were recognized as Frazier strongholds almost entirely.

CALL FOR MINERS STRIKE FALLS FLAT IN KENTUCKY

Order Generally Obeyed in Region North of Tug in Williamson Field

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Contradictory reports continue to come in from Mingo county as to the number of miners on strike in that field and in the Pike county, Kentucky, district. The operators, on the second day of the strike, claim that scarcely more than 1500 are affected by the strike, while union officials here assert that 5000 men are out in Mingo county.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Reports early today from all sections of the Williamson coal fields showed that the strike of miners, called by the United Mine Workers, was obeyed in the region north of Tug river.

On the Kentucky side of the river, it was said only three mines were affected.

Several other miners' strikes, in no way related to the Williamson walk-out, were reported to union headquarters today. Union leaders announced that several hundred workers on Coal and Elk rivers had quit work because of the absence of wage contracts between operators and miners. According to operators of the Williamson district, there are 85 mines in that section operated by 55 companies, and of these, 29 were in operation. They said the day's tonnage would be the average of the last two weeks.

FEAR OF BALLOT DEADLOCK PROMPTS INCREASING DEMANDS FOR HIGH SPEED

Bryan Making Stubborn Fight at Bourbon Convention

William Jennings Bryan

Three times William Jennings Bryan was the democratic presidential nominee and three times he has suffered defeat, an experience the like of which no other man in American history has had. Few men since the foundation of the republic have exercised so great political power over such a period of years as has the "Commoner." William Jennings Bryan was born in Salem, Marion County, Ill., March 10, 1860. His parents attended to his early education, but at the age of ten he was sent to public school, and at the age of fifteen entered Whipple Academy, the preparatory department of Illinois College. He was graduated in 1881 and in 1884 took his law degree from Union College at Chicago. He first became interested in politics in 1890 when his brilliant oratory electrified the Nebraska democratic convention and won him the nomination for congress. In 1896 he was sent to Chicago to report the democratic convention for the Omaha World-Herald, with which paper he was connected, and came away with the democratic presidential nomination. He was defeated. Again in 1900 he was selected as the head of the democratic ticket and was again defeated. He then retired to his farm and established his newspaper, "The Commoner," which is still being published. Returning from a trip to Europe in 1906 he continued his political activities and in 1908 again won the democratic presidential nomination, but was defeated by William Howard Taft. In 1912 it was Bryan who, throwing his support over to Woodrow Wilson, won for the latter the nomination for president at the Baltimore convention.

BRYAN CARRIES DRY PLANK WAR TO CONVENTION

Waits to Offer Minority Report on Five Issues when Platform is Reported by Resolutions Committee

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, (AP)—At 10:40 o'clock the long awaited report of the platform committee was formally brought before the democratic national convention, ready by Chairman Glass of the resolutions committee. It was the opening gun of the day's big fight. William J. Bryan was waiting to offer his minority reports on five planks.

Silent on Prohibition
The platform committee of the democratic national convention completed its labors at 12:15 this morning with the decisive defeat of both wet and dry planks. The committee draft of the platform submitted to the convention today contains no mention of the prohibition enforcement issue.

After the committee had voted 30 to 15 against all issue planks offered by the committee, Bryan, who had attempted to write a declaration in regard to enforcement of the Volstead act, William J. Bryan, field marshal of the dry adherents, announced he would carry his fight for a bone dry declaration to the convention floor.

Has Other Amendments
Mr. Bryan stated that he had amendments to offer to the platform as

COCKRAN LEADS OPPOSITION TO STAND OF BRYAN

Declaration for Manufacture and Home Consumption of Light Wine and Beer Greeted with Shouts and Cheers

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, (AP)—The battle of the wets and drys under way in the democratic national convention this afternoon, the platform had been making mention of a "bone dry plank," as Mr. Bryan was "fought" to offer a bone dry plank, as a minority report.

Presents Six Planks
Mr. Bryan presented his own five planks and a prohibition plank by former Congressman Hobson and then W. Bourke Cockran of New York, took the platform to present another minority report.

Mr. Cockran presented a substitute for Mr. Bryan's prohibition plank and declared that Mr. Bryan having presented the question of prohibition "Thank heaven the convention can no longer dodge it."

The plank which Mr. Cockran presented while declaring the validity of the prohibition law was also declared a fact for home consumption of cider, light wines.

The convention immediately broke out of that phrase with a mighty shout and prolonged cheers. It reserved the states the right to fix alcoholic content.

R. L. O'Leary of California presented a minority report on the Irish question proposing a plank providing for the recognition of the Irish republic.

On motion of Senator Glass, the debate was limited to three hours and thirty minutes on a suspension of the rules. Chairman Robinson recognized Bryan for one hour and the real fight started off.

Invokes Old Time Oratory
Bryan confined his argument largely to contending that any weakening on the prohibition law was a dangerous step which opened the door to a breakdown of the whole prohibition law. Quoting from the bible, Bryan captivated his audience with flashes of old-time oratory.

Look Forward to Action
An announcement that the platform committee was ready to make its report caused delegates to the democratic national convention to look forward to a long, hard grid with real action when the assembly assembled for its fifth day's session.

In anticipation of a lively time on the floor over issues hotly contested in the resolutions committee, crowds came early to the great auditorium and were prepared for a long stay. Thousands of spectators were disappointed at last night's barroom session due to the committee's failure to complete its work.

Conventions rules provided for the immediate consideration of the party's declaration of principles submitted by the platform committee when the delegates were called to order. The document was completed late last night.

Text of Cockran's Substitute Plank

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, (AP)—The text of the sub-plank offered by W. Bourke Cockran follows:
"The validity of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution has been sustained by the supreme court and any law enacted under its authority must be enforced. In the interest of personal liberty to conserve the rights of the states,

France and America Cooperate to Gain Release of Illinoisans Held by Turks

WASHINGTON, (AP)—In a concerted effort to bring about the release of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nilson of Illinois, who are held by Turkish nationalists, an American destroyer has been dispatched to Messina and the French authorities are holding Turkish hostages. Admiral Bristol at Constantinople reported today to the state department.

Americans at Hadjin, in the mountainous region of Cilicia, six of whom, according to press reports, have surrendered to Turkish nationalists, were well as late as April 29, the date of the latest direct news from Hadjin to Constantinople. Admiral Bristol, in reporting this to the state department, said efforts were being made to secure reliable information concerning these Americans.

Admiral Bristol's report said the Nilsons, who were connected with the mission school at Tarsus, passed beyond the French lines on June 18, and had been missing since then.

Admiral Bristol said vigorous representations had been made to the proper Turkish authorities at Constantinople and that he was doing all he could for the protection of the Americans.

CONSTANTINOPLE, (AP)—A dispatch from Messina under date of June 30 reiterated that Paul Nilson and his wife, American missionaries, who recently were captured by Turkish bandits, were taken to Sivlik from Tarsus, Asia Minor, but the Turkish officials have deny any knowledge as to where the Americans are. They promise to investigate, however.

The American destroyer Parker has sent an airplane to Tarsus and Adna, demanding the release of Mr. and Mrs. Nilson.

SELECTION OF NUGENT PROVES DISTASTEFUL

Surprise and Disgust Expressed Among Ardent Supporters of Wilson at Berth Given the Junior Senator

BORAH WOULD BREAK UP TOWNLEY-DEMOCRAT TIE

Leaves No Doubt as to Attitude on League of Nations Issue and Declares Against Covenant in Any Form

By PHIL REAMS.
BOISE, Idaho (Special To The News)—As these lines are written the democrats are still in the throes of incubation at San Francisco. For this reason comment on the candidates and platform and their reception by the faithful in Idaho must be deferred till later, until after the barrage dies down and the smoke blows away.

Warriors Express Disgust.
This may be said, however, even at this early date. There is surprise and disgust expressed by some of the democratic warriors at the state capital when it became known that Senator John P. Nugent had been placed on the resolutions committee of the convention to represent Idaho. This was especially true of the ardent supporters of President Wilson. They look upon Nugent as a follower of Bryan rather than as a follower of Wilson, and as the issue in the convention is between Bryan and Wilson it is in effect a fight between the two camps.

Warrior on Warpath.
The democratic women of the state capital are on the warpath. Their grievance is that Mrs. Teresa M. Graham of Coeur d'Alene was made the woman member of the national committee over their vigorous protest. In this is seen the handiwork of Moses Alexander. Mrs. Graham and Alexander in politics have been members of a mutual admiration society for years. This latest development is taken as proof that Alexander is still a dominating factor in Idaho state politics, and that there may be substantial basis for the talk that the Boise clothing merchant is to undertake to save Idaho another million dollars in taxes—by other words that is to run for governor and save the economy issue.

Great Pick Issues.
The last thought a democrat may be set down as "hair drive in Idaho on these lines." Denunciation of the Davis administration for increasing state taxes; denunciation of the republican party in the state for setting up the cabinet form of government without first submitting the matter to the voters and getting the permission of the people for making so radical a change; denunciation of the republican party for throwing the judiciary back into politics; denunciation of the republican party for destroying the primary system and turning back to the old convention system.

At the same time it is a fact that the democrats are united only on the first proposition—denunciation of high taxes. There is a real diversity of opinion among them on the cabinet and judiciary issues, while the unfortunate experience of the party with the Non-partisan league in the last campaign has made many of the most prominent democrats in the state determined to stand against any sort of primary system that will permit of much political shuffling, as that witnessed when the league moved in and took possession of the democratic organization two years ago.

Information comes from Senator Borah in a roundabout way that one of his important missions in Idaho at this time is to break up the coalition between the Non-partisan league and the democrats. Just how this is to be done is still under cover. It is known that Senator Borah has great influence with many of the league leaders in the state, and that confusion that exists in the ranks of the league will make it all the easier to drive a wedge between them and the democrats.

Borah's Position Plain.
Senator Borah leaves no doubt as to what he will do on the league of nations issue. He is not waiting for the democrats to issue their platform. He is not waiting for Senator Harding, the republican nominee, to give his interpretation of the republican platform. In an address at Kuna Saturday night Senator Borah announced that he was against the league in any form, either with or without reservations. No doubt he will insist later that this is what the republican platform means.

Boale Boon Promising.
A prominent citizen of the Coeur d'Alene country, a man of influence in many lines, a republican, informs me that the movement to send Charles H. Boale of Shoshone county to the United States senate as a republican colleague for Senator Borah is serious, and that it has much force back of it. This man would not permit the use of his name for business reasons. Among other significant things he said was that little more would be heard of the candidacy of Captain A. H. Conner. He indicated that by the time the state convention rolls around north Idaho would be practically solid behind Boale.

Gooding's Chance Called Slim.
Commenting on the senatorial situation in general this man said the impression was general in north Idaho that Frank R. Gooding could not be elected to the senate and that his nomination would be handled by the office over to the democrats for six years. Among north Idaho republicans he said further, the candidates of Col. E. Davis and Colonel L. V. Patch arouse no enthusiasm whatever—little interest is taken in them. The men are considered much better fitted for other positions.

Of course this all sounds like propaganda in favor of Boale. No doubt there is propaganda in it. Still it is not devoid of truth and good politics. Boale is credited with being a good lawyer, a student, a man of affairs and a loyal republican at all times. Then his geography is urged in his favor. North Idaho with all her industrial and commercial interests insists that she is entitled to the representation in the upper branch of congress that she lost when Senator Heyburn died, and all this is urged in support of Boale.

Working Without Noise.
In this senatorial connection it must be admitted that Colonel Davis and Colonel Patch are making little stir in this part of the state. Clubs have been organized for both and announcements have been given that the work of organization was to be extended to all parts of the state. This is as far as the movement has gone. There may be quiet and effective organization work going on under cover. If so the candidates are keeping their tracks well covered.

There is little interest of any kind expressed in local politics. The managers are hustling to get county candidates into the field and to get delegates lined up for their county conventions, but the activity is confined to those who have axes to grind. Democrats are having more trouble here than are the republicans. This is true because republicans now hold practically all the offices while the democrats are still up in the air because of their recent liaison with the Non-partisan league. Outside of the city of Boise the democratic organization of Ada county is still in the hands of the Non-partisan league.

Whittaker May Make Run.
Word comes from the southeast that Mayor Whittaker of Pocatello is slated to make the race for congress on the democratic ticket. This may have a tendency to upset the plans of Taylor Cummins of Twin Falls. The matter is not important because running for congress against Addison T. Smith under present conditions will be an empty honor for any democrat.

GERMANY'S PRICES RISE AS MARK GAINS STRENGTH

Foreigners Discover that for Them Land of Former Kaiser is Dearest in Europe

BERLIN, (P)—As a result of the steady rise of the German mark, foreigners are discovering that for them Germany is now perhaps the dearest country in Europe. And as the mark strengthens prices continue to rise.

For several months German hotels have been forcing foreigners to pay from 100 to 200 per cent more than natives are charged. Many shops also make a practice of milking foreigners, some haberdasheries in Berlin charging 60 cents, American, for an ordinary white collar.

Newsies, learning of the great influx of American tourists to England and France, are beginning to wonder if the extortions of shops and hotels will have the effect of keeping the Americans and other foreigners out of Germany.

NEWS OF BURGLARY OF HOME SHOCKS BLUEBEARD

Prisoner Held on Murder Charge Growing Out of Disappearance of 11 Women on Remains Others' Depravity

PARIS, (P)—Landru, the Gambala bluebeard, the police call him, who has been in Le Sante prison for 14 months' awaiting trial on murder charges growing out of the disappearance of 11 women to whom he is alleged to have promised marriage, received what he told his lawyer to be the greatest shock of his life a few days ago.

His lawyer had just informed him that his villa at Gambala where Landru is accused by the police of having done away with his numerous fiancées had been ransacked and pillaged by burglars. The villa is famous, as it was the last place that the missing women entered and from it they were never seen to come out.

The police charge that Landru murdered his victims in the villa, disposed of the bodies by cremating them in a little kitchen stove. Human bones, hair and little trinkets belonging to the missing women were also found in the villa, the police say.

"What a world we live in," exclaimed Landru, when his lawyer broke the news to him. "Our generation respects nothing, nothing is sacred to them. It is enough to make one despair of the human race."

DAWSON DRIES LUXURY TAX TO AUSTER MONETARY SQUEEZE

DAWSON, Y. T. (P)—Though luxury taxes call for small coins the Yukon Development league has rejected a proposal to introduce dimes and tickets into local circulation. Dawson however has had any smaller coin than the 25-cent piece and will adhere to it.

INDIANS FORM POLITICAL UNIT

Mexican Agrarian Party Expresses Cry of Virtual Slaves, Says Dances

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Twelve million Indians, who have slaved for 5 cents a day for five years at a time to support 3,000,000 idlers, cry out for help to the newly formed national agrarian party, according to Crisoforo Dances, who made the keynote speech at the party's organization meeting here yesterday, according to El Heraldo de Mexico.

"Since childhood I have lived the life of the peasants," said Dances. "I know how much the toilers of the field have suffered, how much they need and how much they merit. They have spent five years at a time earning the miserable daily wage of ten centavos (five cents) tilling the earth with the sweat of their brow for the people's profit. In the beginning of our history as a people the Indians were reduced to worse than nothing by the Spanish agents, who, in their fanaticism for the Virgin of Guadalupe, so as to be able to do anything they pleased with them later, by invoking this name, and the Indian was reduced to slavery."

"For this reason the Indian hates the white man. The Indians, who call the animal that roams the fields 'cuchucayote,' simply call the white man 'cayote,' that is, thief. This because for a long time there have been in Mexico 12,000,000 Indians who have supported 3,000,000 idlers and not a few Europeans who also live off of them."

Bitter attacks on President Carranza and some of his followers featured the address of the newly elected president Antonio Diaz Soto y Gama, who said that Emiliano Zapata was his "only chief."

Soto y Gama pledged the party's support to the presidential candidacy of General Alvaro Obregón because of his "radicalism," and because he "is feared by the reactionaries."

Generals Alvaro Obregón, Salvador Alvarado, Plutarco Elías Calles, Antonio I. Villarreal and Guillermo Magaña were elected honorary presidents of the new party.

HAWKER'S UNDERCARRIAGE GIVEN PLACE IN MUSEUM

Device Which Dropped from Plane on Jump Off for Trans-Atlantic Flight Recovered

ST. JOHN'S N. F., (AP)—The undercarriage which Harry Hawker dropped from his airplane when he took flight from here a year ago on his pioneer attempt to cross the Atlantic without stop has been recovered, and presented to the public museum for keeping with other exhibits associated with the colony's history. The gift was made by W. B. Grieco, M. L. C., who purchased the carriage after fishermen had picked it up off Cape St. Mary's, 200 miles south southwest from the point where it was dropped into the sea.

When Hawker set out on his trans-oceanic attempt on May 18, 1919, he flew over the airframe of Frederick P. Rayham, almost the edge of the world. Within sight of his rival, who was standing by his plane unable to take-off because of an adverse wind, Hawker cut loose his undercarriage as a gauge to contest for the honors of the air, and to lighten his load; then winged his way seaward with Ireland as his object. Rayham, accepting the challenge, sought to start, notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, but he was unable to leave the ground and his machine was wrecked, he was injured, and his navigator, Major C. W. F. Morgan, almost killed. Hawker, it will be recalled, flew 1100 miles before engine trouble brought him down. The undercarriage was actively sought by Hawker's agents and by others, as a souvenir, but search of the coast and of nearby waters, long continued, failed to disclose the wheel and their mount. Fishermen recently picked the carriage up off the coast, southwest of Cape Hatteras, and brought it into Presque, where they disposed of it for a nominal sum.

WAR INSURANCE REINSTATEMENT TERM EXTENDED

Bureau Announces Ruling Defining New Conditions under Which Former Service Men May Keep Policies in Force

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A ruling defining new conditions under which lapsed or cancelled war risk insurance policies may be reinstated by former service men and women has been issued by the war risk insurance bureau.

Under the ruling applications for reinstatement made within 18 months of discharge and prior to January 1, 1921, need only be accompanied by only two months premiums and a statement that the applicant is in as good health as on the date of the discharge or resignation. No medical examination is required.

After January 1, 1921, and until July 1, 1921, in cases where insurance lapsed or was cancelled prior to July 1, 1920, the applicant must be accompanied by a statement of length of time since discharge, the applicant must forward two months premiums and also the report of a full medical examination made by a licensed physician at the applicant's expense.

Insurance lapsing or cancelled after July 1, 1920, may be reinstated on statement of physical condition within three months after three months and within six months the application for reinstatement must be accompanied by a short medical examination certificate and after six months and within 18 months by a full medical examination certificate. In all cases two months' premiums must accompany the application for reinstatement.

SOUTHAMPTON ASSERTS PART IN PILGRIM FAME

Mayor Protests Against Possibility of Obscuring of Distinction

SOUTHAMPTON, (AP)—Plymouth is not the only port connected with the sailing of the Pilgrim Fathers, says Mayor S. G. Kimball of this city, in a letter to the newspapers.

"It was from the ancient port of Southampton that the famous Mayflower set sail on August 15, 1620 in company with a smaller vessel, the Speedwell," he says.

"Owing to accidents the voyage was delayed by temporary stoppings, first at Dartmouth and then at Plymouth and it was from the latter port that the Mayflower resumed her voyage alone. This gives Plymouth a real claim to the honor in connection with the event but this claim should not be allowed to obscure the historic fact that it was Southampton which the Pilgrim Fathers chose as their point of departure, that it was at Southampton that they made all preparations for the voyage and that it was from Southampton that they actually set sail for the new world."

Suffered Intense Pain

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker, Macon, Mo. WILSON, CHAMP, HAS SHADE ON WELTERWEIGHT

Middle-weight Title Holder Manages to Grab Decision Against Bartfield

NEWARK, N. J., (AP)—Johnny Wilson, middleweight boxing champion, defeated Soldier Bartfield of New York on points in a hard-fought bout of 12 rounds here last night.

Wilson excelled in eight rounds, Bartfield had the better of the second, seventh and twelfth, while the third was even.

Both men received hard body punishment. Wilson used his left effectively to Bartfield's stomach, but the soldier took his punishment gamely. Bartfield excelled in the infighting but the champion shook him off and scored lefts to the head and stomach. Bartfield was fighting hard at the final bell.

Wilson weighed in at 157 3/4 and Bartfield at 149 1/2 pounds. The start of the bout was delayed until nearly midnight by the reported attempt of the management to reduce Wilson's guarantee from $7500 to $5000. An amicable adjustment was made before the men entered the ring.

Farmers Most Persistent Gamblers

The very nature of their business makes them gamblers. A merchant's first thought after putting in a stock of goods is to insure against possible loss.

Such a thing seldom if ever enters the mind of the farmer when putting in his crops.

The merchant's greatest hazard is FIRE, with paid fire-fighters always within call.

The farmer's hazards are numerous, chief among which is HAIL, with no means of stopping the damage.

His only hope lies in insurance against such disaster. Don't lock the barn after the horse is stolen, but have your crops protected with HAIL INSURANCE. We are agents for the Old Reliable Hartford. Let a Word to the Wise be Sufficient.

WOOD CALLS ON G. O. P. LEADER

Conference Causes Flurry of Excitement at Party's Headquarters

NEW YORK, (AP)—A half-hour conference today between Mayor General Leonard Wood and Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, caused a flurry of excitement in the offices of the party's national headquarters. A "royal" filtered through the closed doors of Mr. Hays' office that more than passive support of the Harding campaign had been offered by the general.

"General Wood will do everything consistent with his position as an army officer to further Senator Harding's election," said the executive of the campaign announced while the conference still was in progress. "The report that the general had enlisted wholeheartedly in the Harding cause was strengthened when it was learned that he was planning to call on Senator Harding at the latter's home in Marion, O., within the next few weeks. Wood would not admit that his call on Chairman Hays had any political significance. He said he was in New York solely as an escort to his daughter, Louise, who is to sail for France tomorrow.

BRYAN CARRIES DRY PLANK WAR

adopted by the resolutions committee affecting other matters. He did not admit that he would attempt to stir on the floor, saying that he did not feel at liberty to discuss his plans as the committee draft of the platform and not been made public.

After the dry plank was read, the platform committee voted 39 to 11 to reject a light wine and beer plank. W. J. Bryan did not talk on his bone-dry plank up to that time.

The action narrowed the fight down to two points, whether the platform would contain a provision for rigid enforcement or remain silent on prohibition. Resists Both Wet and Dry. A committee member who came from the room at midnight said that up to that time every effort to get wet or dry plank into the platform had failed. He believed that the majority of the delegates had about given up hope and that the platform would remain silent on the subject.

COCKRAN LEADS OPPOSITION

When the dry plank was read, the opposition was led by Senator Cockran, who was the only one to stand up and speak against it. He said that the plank was a "bone-dry" plank and that it was a "bone-dry" plank.

Bryan Remains Undecided

William J. Bryan, the storm center in the fight for a wet plank, was around whom a tempest was expected to rage on the convention floor, was eager to fight some of the "planks" in the platform and also to present his own plank. He said that the committee rejected the plank, which he said was a "bone-dry" plank. He said that the committee rejected the plank, which he said was a "bone-dry" plank. He said that the committee rejected the plank, which he said was a "bone-dry" plank.

Talk of Total Ban

Voting for a presidential nominee will begin immediately after the platform is adopted unless a recess intervenes to permit the delegates to refresh themselves. There was talk of taking one or two ballots as to get the lineup of the delegates and then take a recess in order to allow the various managers of the delegates time to plan for the final drive.

Crowds Gather Slowly

Growing accustomed to late starts, the delegates and crowds were slower than ever in arriving at the convention, and when the monster pipe organ began its recital a half hour before the hour set for convening, its harmony surged out into an almost empty auditorium.

The hour of 10 came and went with hardly a handful of delegates on the floor and with great empty patches in the galleries. Only a few of the big leaders had come in.

Mr. Bryan came to the convention prepared to offer five planks as minority reports. His dry plank was the same as the one he announced on his arrival in San Francisco last week. In another plank he renewed his fight for a national bullhead to be published by the federal government. He also had a profiteering plank proposing the elimination of "unnecessary middlemen" and to require disclosure of cost and selling prices and to recommend creation of a bureau of commissions similar to the federal trade commission. Another plank, very brief merely stated opposition to universal compulsory military training in time of peace. His treaty plank was also the same as the one he previously had announced.

Mr. R. Nugent of New Jersey was ready with a wet plank. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Nugent discussed the order of their recognition with Chairman Robinson and it was arranged that after the platform had been placed before the convention Nugent would first offer his wet plank as an amendment and that Mr. Bryan would offer his dry plank as a substitute.

Urges Soldiers' Loans. Another minority report dealing with soldier relief, was ready to be presented by Tom D. Lyons of Oklahoma. It made no mention of a bonus, but declared for establishment of farm and home loans, and the recognition of the Irish sympathizers for their recognition plank would take had not been revealed.

Despite the trouble that was brewing behind the scenes, the delegates themselves seemed good natured as they gathered on the convention floor. They were in joking and laughing as they asked one another what the fireworks were going to be like.

Objection to Debate Limit

Ten fifteen saw most of the delegates assembled but on the platform there was not a sign of the convention officials. They stayed in the background working out details of procedure with the opposing leaders. One of the planks under consideration in the back stage conference of leaders was a suggestion that all debate on the platform be limited to three hours and that balloting for a presidential candidate should follow the conclusion. There was some objection, however, and the consultation continued without immediate fruit.

Convention Shows Impatience

At ten twenty-seven Chairman Robinson, Senator Glass and Mr. Bryan appeared together on the platform and there was a scattered patter of applause. Some cheers for Bryan followed from corners of the galleries and there were a lot of impatient demands that the convention get under way. "Let's go, let's go!" the crowd called. They indicated it by striking up "Over There."

Apparently the plan of procedure had not yet been completed and Senator Robinson and the others on the platform gathered in the back of the hall and their heads together, while the impatience of the thousands gathered in the hall broke out again in loud demands for action.

At 10:35 Senator Robinson pounded for order and the hall quieted down very quickly. The prayer was by Rev. Josiah Bibbey of San Francisco. He then read the platform plank presented by Senator Glass and the reading of the platform began.

Delegates and galleries listened attentively and interrupted the opening recital to President Wilson with loud clapping. At one point where the plank declared for the league of nations Senator Glass put the emphasis on the word "the" and the convention stood up and cheered for a minute.

Reading Proceeds

Senator Glass' reading at the rate of fifty-six words a minute. The platform exceeds 5,000 words. Without interruptions for applause of especially appreciated passages the reading would conclude at 11:47. The reading of the platform was a time likely to be requested for the actual presentation of the committee's majority report was something more than two hours.

When the dry plank was read for ratification of the treaty was reached in the reading there was another demonstration, about half the delegates again getting to their feet and clapping.

When he finished the league plank

Senator Glass departed by his manuscript to say: "So much for the league of nations, and so much for the treaty to say it is paired from fighting for that declaration."

The remark was answered by applause from some of the delegates and spectators.

Proceedings Too Tense

Nearly every plank got a little rise of applause when it was read, but the declarations in the platform were not the most part they became restless before the reading was half completed. The monotony of the proceeding apparently was too tame for them and they began to grow impatient.

Senator Glass worked hard at the reading and paused many times to wipe the perspiration from his face. "It's a hot job," he remarked just after he had read the agricultural plank.

"It's a hot platform," shouted a delegate and there was a ripple of laughter and cheering. So far the convention was going smoothly enough.

Demonstration for Suffrage

One of the biggest demonstrations was the one for the suffrage plank. On the legislatures of three southern democratic states to ratify the suffrage amendment. Led by the women delegates virtually every one on the floor got to their feet and cheered while the standards of Tennessee, Florida and North Carolina, the three states specifically named in the appeal for ratification, were carried to the speaker's stand and held high before the delegates.

Soon nearly every other standard was brought up and put into the clubhouse while the band played "Oh, You Beautiful Day."

Tumble Over Standards

There was a disagreement over both the New Jersey and Louisiana standards, but after a little shoving and tussling both of them were carried out of place and put with the others up in front.

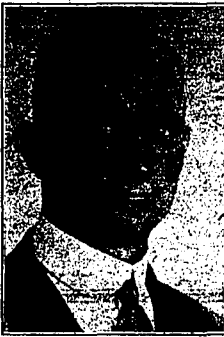

Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby of New York got the Louisiana standard started for the first time. A number of some of the Louisiana delegates but after she had carried it a little way a man took it and put it into place with the big assemblage around the platform.

A parade in which practically all of the standards joined was organized when the demonstration had been going on for five minutes. The marchers tramped around the hall to the tune of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," and then the organ dropped into "Smiles," and most of those on the floor took up the words of the song.

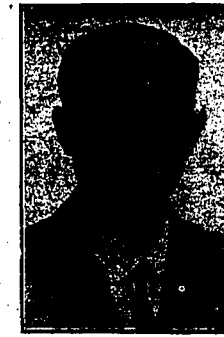

Continues Thirteen Minutes

It was a thirteen-minute demonstration.

tion when it had concluded, but the suffrage leaders declined to regard it as a bad one.

When order had been restored Senator Glass again took up the reading.

Omissions Court, Too

There was some more hurrying a few minutes later when Senator Glass, at the end of the long list of things that party proposed to do for women, said in another aside to those near the platform:

"If we have omitted anything, we mean that, too."

Irish Plank Quietly Received

Chairman Glass read the Mexican plank to some applause and when he came to the Irish plank there was a preliminary demonstration by the Irish ever there among the delegates and in the galleries.

"I'll have to read it in my own brogue," said Chairman Glass to the accompaniment of a roar of applause and cheers.

When the applause had died down, he added:

"That's the American brogue."

There was another wave of applause to that.

The plank merely expressing sympathy for the aspirations of Ireland for self government, made no mention of recognition of the Irish republic and was read and passed without any great demonstration of approval or disapproval.

Approve Armenian Declaration

Shouts of "Och" and "Good" answered the reading of the plank on Armenia.

Then when Chairman Glass struck some of the routine planks he hurried over them like a congressional reading clerk.

ition he presented first and then followed the declarations he had drafted for publication of a government bulletin, for dealing with profiteers and to put the party record as opposing compulsory military training in times of peace.

Denies Conflict on League

When he came to the last of his five planks which dealt with the league of nations, Mr. Bryan prefaced its reading by saying that nothing contained in it was intended to conflict with the majority platform words of praise for the president. "The league treaty," he said, "is better than anyone has a right to expect" considering the circumstances with which the president had to deal.

Some "no" interrupted the reading of the Bryan league plank but its provisions also got some applause.

It demanded an amendment to the constitution for ratification of treaties by a majority vote in the senate.

Cockran Takes Floor

When Mr. Bryan finished reading his planks he sat down and W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, another veteran of many democratic conventions, was recognized to also present a minority report. He said Mr. Bryan had been inadequate in his description of the efforts of the platform committee to write a great platform.

Mr. Cockran's minority was a wet plank. He told the convention that had Mr. Bryan consented to let the committee's report stand, he doubted whether the vote would have raised the question.

"But Mr. Bryan, and evasion are irreconcilable within the same hall," he added, "and now that the issue has been raised, thank God the convention can no longer dodge it."

A roar of cheering greeted the language of the plank which declared for manufacture and home consumption of cider, light wine and beer. Just as the reading was finished some one upset a glass of water on the speaker's table and it went down the neck of the official stenographer.

Edward L. Doheny of California was the next to bring in a minority plank. It was in part the Irish plank for which an unsuccessful fight had been waged, by organized Irish sympathizers.

Today's Markets

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—Contrary to the usual pre-holiday sessions today's stock market was relatively active and expansive. Many popular issues registered maximum quotations for the week. Sales approximated $50,000 shares. The close was strong.

Advances of a point in Baldwin locomotive, Mexican Petroleum and Middle States Oil and fractional increases in several of the high grade oils, American Can and the Coppers measured the extent of the irregular movement of prices at the opening of today's stock market.

The effect of the coming holidays was apparent in the small attendance of members on the exchange and the very light business reported by commission houses from out-of-town sources.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bond financial prices today were: 3 1/2's $91.04; first 4's $85.00; second 4's $85.30; first 4 1/2's $86.10; second 4 1/2's $85.04; third 4 1/2's $85.80; fourth 4 1/2's $85.00; Victory 3 3/4's $95.84; Victory 4 3/4's $95.80.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Strength developed in the corn market after a sag at the outset. The chief bullish factor was a forecast that receipts would be smaller next week, besides many traders expected to leave tonight on holiday trips and wished to avoid leaving any risks open here meanwhile. Initial quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c lower, with September $1.69 1/4 to $1.69 1/2 and December $1.66 1/4 to $1.66 1/2, were followed by an upturn of $1.00 around to well above yesterday's figures.

houses with eastern connections. The selling was said to be based to some extent on extremely favorable weather, high temperatures following recent rains. The market closed unsettled; 2 1/8 to 3 7/8c net lower, with September $1.66 1/4 to $1.66 1/2 and December $1.64 1/2 to $1.64 3/4.

There was no selling pressure on oats, and it took but little effort to send the market upward. After opening 3-8c off to a like advance, prices scored moderate general gains.

Provisions ruled dull and weak. The big stock of lard in warehouses had a depressing effect.

Success Leads On

The successes in the past with the Idaho state fair have led to optimism for the future; no one agency in the state, it is claimed, exerts as wide and effective a development upon the agricultural, livestock, social and educational interests as the rapid advancement of this state along these lines in the past few years has been remarkable. For this reason and for the increased production resulting from the lessons learned at these state fairs, the people of Idaho are earnestly urged to co-operate with the management this year to make the 1920 Idaho State fair even more successful than that of 1919. The new premium list is just off the press.

in the committee but as read by Mr. Denny; it did not contain a declaration for recognition of the Irish republic. Presenting the minority plank of soldier relief, Tom Lyons, of Oklahoma, declared the adoption in the committee had been so close that it took three roll calls before it was certain that it had been defeated.

Bryan Given One Hour

While the minority propositions were being read the leaders conferred and agreed on a plan to limit debate to three hours and a half. Chairman Robinson presented the arrangement to the convention for approval although there were cries of "Cut it down," and one delegate yelled "cut out the three hours." Unanimous consent for the agreement was refused by a chorus of objections, but on motion of Senator Glass the rules were suspended and the three hour and a half plan was agreed to. Then W. J. Bryan was recognized to begin argument on his proposals. He was allotted an hour and a half for the convention's agreement, but said he would yield a large part of that time to those supporting him.

Beginning his argument in support of the eighteenth amendment, Mr. Bryan soon got the convention to cheering. Every democratic state, he said, had ratified the amendment, and everyone recognized that the "liquor traffic is dead, never to be resurrected."

BERLIN, (AP)—Like everything else in Germany, the price of wild animals has soared sky high. An elephant costs 50,000 marks as against the former price of 7500. A lioness now brings 4000 marks, which is much more than a living lion used to cost. Owing to the great expense it is out of the question to replenish Germany's zoos except by breeding and the keepers of the various zoos throughout Germany are co-operating in mating their charges.

SPENDING AS THEY BARN

The soviet government of Russia has put into practice many freakish innovations, so that anything undertaken no longer causes surprise. The latest experiment reported is that of issuing currency notes good only for the month of June, a different color being provided for each month. It is presumed the dominant idea is to cause holders of the notes to spend their money from day to day and to make impossible any accumulation for the future. If such is the principle on which the government is acting it should be successful.

Spend today, let the morrow take care of itself, is the plan on which many individuals act, but such never become of great importance in the world. Primitive races that had not developed to the point where they realized the value of storing for the future followed that plan. They gorged themselves when food was plentiful and starved when it was scarce because they either had not learned to save it times of plenty or periods of scarcity or had no facilities for storing.

If the accumulation of money is forbidden as a means to prevent the accumulation of wealth, the laying away of money is also forbidden.

It is merely a medium of exchange. If the soviet government wishes to bar absolutely the accumulation of wealth it would be necessary to cease producing more than is consumed from month to month. Applying the plan to currency alone will not fulfill the desire.

By means of barter one may accumulate wealth without the use of currency at all. Spending as they go and consuming as fast as they produce will not restore Russia to a condition of prosperity. The Bolshevik leaders in their efforts to establish a purely social state, if much really is their purpose, evidently have not advanced to the primary grade in the principles of economy.

WOMEN IN AVIATION

The ascent of a French aviatrix to a height of 21,225 feet, a greater altitude than any hitherto attained by a woman, is now evidence that in courage and enterprise the gentle sex is well able to hold its own with men. Almost from the beginning women have taken a prominent part in aviation and have made invaluable contributions to its development. They have not only performed spectacular feats, but have worked unostentatiously to determine the powers of heavier-than-air machines for practical as well as exhibition purposes. They have made remarkable demonstrations not only of the airplane's ability to climb but also of its possibilities for long-distance and non-stop flights.

The women have given a pitifully large number of martyrs to the development of aviation. Harriet Quimby was killed eight years ago while trying for a new altitude record over Boston harbor. She was the fourth of her sex to meet death in airplane accidents in the United States, and since then there have been additions to the number.

It is regrettable that women should consider it necessary to take the risks involved in seeking to perform new feats and establish new records in aviation. It would be more pleasing to men if the path-finding in the art of flight should be left to them. But this cannot minimize the importance of what is owed by progress to the daring and largeness of women. With women joining with men in promoting not only aviation but every other branch of science, art and industry, the onward march of civilization will be made with doubled strides.

DISTANCE LENDS ENCHANTMENT

A certain jurist appearing here lately on the Chautauque platform stopped just short of logical and ultimate conclusions in his argument for the doctrine of non-resistance. He argued for removal of restrictions upon immigration, abolition of deportations and of the military and naval forces. If he had declared also for abolition of the police and judiciary system he would have carried his argument to its logical conclusion; his audience would have been enabled better to discern the trend of the whole tenor of his observations, and undoubtedly would have been more sparing in its demonstrations of approval.

But the speaker was canny enough to avoid bringing the discussion to a plane where his audience would be directly affected. It was another case of where distance lends enchantment.

NOMINATION OF M'ADOO SIGNALS DEMONSTRATION

Dr. Burris Jenkins Tells Democrats in Convention Former Secretary of Treasury Will Accept Place

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, (AP)—William G. McAdoo was placed in nomination for the presidency Wednesday afternoon at the democratic national convention in one of the shortest nominating speeches on record by Dr. Burris Jenkins of Kansas City.

Says McAdoo Will Accept
After Cox, Palmer, Gerard, Cummings, Hitchcock and others had been placed in nomination, Jenkins took the platform and told the convention that in view of the persistent and insistent demands from McAdoo that no nominating speech be made for him he would accede to that request, but that it might be necessary to "draft him for the service of the nation."

Any rumors that McAdoo would not serve if nominated, Jenkins told the convention could be dismissed as the "work of enemies."

Jenkins merely said: "I nominate William G. McAdoo," and the point of enthusiasm of the McAdoo forces broke loose in a noisy demonstration.

Idaho Joins Parade

A parade around the convention floor started as soon as the short speech was concluded, and soon the standards of Washington, Delaware, Louisiana, Alabama, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Idaho, Arkansas, Oregon, Wyoming, Maine, Michigan, Kansas, Nevada, Hawaii, Wisconsin and South Dakota were in the moving, swinging line.

McAdoo supporters in the Missouri delegation tried to put their standard into the parade, and the move developed a fist fight in which the police interfered. Bennett Clark, son of Champ Clark, was among those who tried to keep the banner out of the procession. In the mix-up the standard was trampled on the floor and torn in two, but the McAdoo men rescued the letters "ouri" and bore them triumphantly into the line of marchers.

Fight for Standards

There was a good deal of scuffling and fighting for possession of other state standards which McAdoo boomers wanted to get into the demonstration and which members of the delegations wanted to keep out.

George Dunkley of the Colorado delegation carried the state standard in after, it is said, there was an agreement to keep it out. Helen Grenfell, former superintendent of schools of Denver, announced her intention of taking it away from him and took up a position in wait. Dunkley saw the situation and ducked down another aisle with the standard. Miss Grenfell and George L. Bradley of the delegation finally forced it back to its position.

Brief Bits of Sport

The Yanks went into the American league race lead yesterday by whipping the Athletics while Cleveland was idle.

The lead is only by a fraction of a point, however, and hardly seems fair to take at the expense of so notoriously weak a club as that of C Mack.

The Salt Lake club retained its precarious hold on the lead in the Coast league, although the Bees lost yesterday.

Vernon lost as well, so the standing is the same as on the day preceding.

After lamping yesterday's Washington-Boston game, would suppose Walt Johnson is slipping?

The Washington star twister appears to possess everything he ever had in clutching speed, curves and confidence.

Benny Kauff, start outfielder of the Giants, is to be tried July 20 on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Somebody really ought to head off Mister Ruth. He's liable to spavin himself.

Still, running for president on the democratic ticket, shouldn't keep a man away from business very long, do you think?

Our idea of a moving picture of Bombarider Wells fighting is a "still life" etching of the "Dying Gladiator."

The "Bomb" spends most of his time that way, anyhow.

We wonder that some of the mitted hunkies from this country haven't, before now, hit Bombarider so hard as to knock him clean off the little title.

The Salt Lake Bees are leading the Coast league clubs in hitting, all right, but not in fielding. The Bees stand fourth in picking up the pill, with Vernon leading, Los Angeles next and Portland just ahead.

If somebody would just say, to us—wearer mention it like—that there is a vacant seat in his car on the trip to Pocatello next Monday, we might be induced to dig up the "ringsiders."

Of course, that if somebody would.

Slim Smiley, sagobrush sage, says: "That's a time for ever 'thin' even for knuckin' some things."

Either all the bum pitchers are in the American league, or all the good batters are there. There are 42 players batting .300 or over in the Johnsonian circuit.

The National circuit has only 24 batters of class.

CLAIM SPAIN'S RULE DESPOTIC

Liberal Newspapers Compare Situation to Regime of the Russian Czars

MADRID, (AP)—Spain has been ruled since March 24, 1919, by its successive governments in the same way as Russia was ruled under the old despotic emperors, assert the liberal newspapers.

"On that date the constitutional guarantees were suspended in all the provinces," says La Libertad. "and all this date have never been restored. Even when the general elections were in progress public rights under only one of the articles of the constitution, then only the second paragraph of article 13, were permitted to be exercised—that is to say, the right of holding quiet public meetings.

This permission was useless by itself without being accompanied by the others concerning the same precept of the fundamental law, since what could be the object of holding meetings while the prohibition was still enforced against the free expression of opinion and while the press continued muzzled?"

The censorship continually exercised not only on Spanish papers but on telegrams to the foreign press also is sharply criticized.

NEED OF WARMER WEATHER IS URGENT IN MOST STATE PARTS

Bureau Authority, Reporting on Crop Conditions and Prospects, Tells of Cool Weather with Frosts for the Week Closing Month of June—Haying is in Progress but Wind Prevents Stacking

Telling of generally fair crop growing conditions, although remarking there is a need of more warmth and depicting frosts which have visited some sections, Clinton E. Norquist of Boise, has issued a summary of weather and crop conditions all over the state.

Of the week ending June 29, Mr. Norquist says: The week was most of the season and light to heavy frosts occurred in various localities of the southern and western counties. There was considerable cloudiness, with light scattered showers, but sunshine was adequate in most sections. In Adams county soil moisture was rapidly depleted by cold, dry north winds.

Crops made fair progress, although the weather was not favorable for rapid growth as that which obtained during the previous week. It was a little too cool for most crops but wheat, barley, and oats are well along and are for the most part in fine condition. Potatoes, sugar beets, field peas, garden and truck crops—all are making fair to satisfactory progress.

Haymaking is well advanced in most sections, but the damage was in most instances slight. Pastures and ranges improved during the week, some section report the summer range the best in several years. With improved forage conditions livestock are thriving and making good gains.

Apples and pines grow rapidly. Cherries ripened fast and the harvest is now well started. The quality of the fruit is good but the yield is not as heavy as that of last year.

Alfalfa harvest is in full swing. Most of the crop has been cut but the hay is curing slowly and as a consequence much of it is still in the field. In the Twin Falls section haying was somewhat interrupted by high winds. In many instances the yield is somewhat heavier than seemed possible earlier in the season.

Of Twin Falls county the reporter says alfalfa is mostly down and some in the stack. Haying has been delayed somewhat by high wind. Wheat, barley and apples are looking fine, with fruit advancing fast.

Frost is reported in Shoshone and Boise counties, with warm weather needed everywhere. In some districts crops are being killed by the frost, but no great damage is reported. The first new potatoes were harvested and some in the market. In Canyon county, heavy and general rains in the past few days and nights is being made to save crops from ravaging grasshoppers, which have invaded that section and are said to be doing great damage.

W. B. Wall, doing business under the firm title, the Wall Plumbing company has instituted civil proceedings in the district court against Mrs. Anna Owens for judgment in the sum of $275. This amount is said to be due for merchandise and fixtures installed by contract in a house owned by Mrs. Owens. Wolfe, Martin & Wade have charge of the case for the plaintiff.

UNRULY KIDDIES WILL BE CHECKED BY AUTHORITIES

John Ault Warns Guardians Children Must Be Restrained in Park

Hereafter parents and other guardians are to be held personally responsible for the actions of their wards during the band concert programs, and other similar functions in the city park.

This announcement is officially made by John Ault, juvenile officer, to whom many complaints have been made since the band concert series began this summer. During the past week, unruly children have been causing trouble at the band concerts and the juvenile officer will be placed in the custody of the sheriff until called for by parents.

“The actions of these children are not only annoying to the masses of persons who attend the concerts but are demonstrating an inclination toward habits which may lead to serious results in the future,” Ault said. “Parents and guardians are warned to hold their wards well in check in all public places if they do not want them placed in custody of the sheriff,” Mr. Ault announced.

WASHINGTON STATE HAS NO GASOLINE

L. E. Silladay has just completed a Seattle round trip overland. He was absent from Twin Falls about twelve days and found fairly good roads to the coast. Mr. Silladay, however, does not recommend the trip for pleasure seekers, unless the travelers are able to carry a sufficient supply of fuel oil to last across the state of Washington and back to Oregon. Mr. Silladay procured a sufficient supply at Pendleton to reach Seattle, but had to call upon personal friends to provide enough gas for the trip back to Pendleton. Mrs. Silladay and the other members of the family, came back with Mr. Silladay.

Theatres

A bent horseshoe nail is a pretty small thing with which to solve a robbery mystery. William S. Hart finds it beside a western river bank in his new picture, “Bad!” showing at the Idaho theater today, and decides that he has some connection with the daring hold-up men who robbed the western flyer, then rode into the stream and apparently never came out. And a few weeks later it is the money which he stops a second attempt at the express car and captures the road agents. But that doesn't happen until Bill has had some stirring adventures in the little border town, turned from railroading to cupwiping, and had several run-ins with the local “bad man.” This is a film presenting the western star in a characteristic “two gun role” and packed with healthy excitement. Pretty Mary Thurman is the leading woman and the rest of the cast is of high calibre.

GEM

An appealing story dramatically told, a popular star and the elaborate production for which Universal is noted, contribute to the success of “The Rider of the Law,” which opened at the Gem theater today and tomorrow. Harry Carey is the star.

The story was written by G. R. Law, author, the widely known British author. It was adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Steck and produced by Universal under the direction of Jack Ford.

The supporting cast is notable with the presence of Gloria Hope, Claire Anderson, Jennie Lee, Vester Pegg, Ted Brooks, Duke R. Lee, Joe Harris and Jack Wills.

“The Rider of the Law” will be seen at the Gem theater again tomorrow.

STORAGE LAKE IS FILLED UP

Jackson Reservoir Reaches Capacity—Flow Turned to the River

During the past week, the storage capacity of Jackson lake reservoir was reached and it became necessary to shut the headgates leading into the reservoir. This was done on June 27.

The stage of water on June 27 was 693.25 feet. Since that date all of the natural flow has been turned back into the Snake river. This condition will be allowed to exist until such time as the run off from the mountains forming the Snake lake watershed shall have been depleted of its source of natural water supply.

As compared with this date in 1919 the stage of water at the reservoir is 402.50 feet in excess at the present time. Water is flowing into the Snake river at Moran at a rate of 7213 acre feet per day.

At the present time the river flow is supplying all the water needed for irrigation in the districts served by the Snake. The flow is actually in excess of the needs, with a goodly amount going over the Milner spillway daily.

Heated Weather Proves Big Aid to Band Concert

TORRID conditions in the heat, accentuated by lack of cooling breeze, helped band concert attendance last night. Everybody was there.

Yesterday, unrelieved by breeze of moment, the mercury reached and held to a fairly blistering point. Heat entered every nook and cranny until far into the night, when the natural decline of the temperature made itself felt.

The top point yesterday, three degrees below the season's record, was 88 degrees. A drop of 40 degrees was marked during the night.

Of the morrow the weather dispenser woteth not; at let it be tellth not.

BIG TIME IN TWIN FALLS CITY PARK

Tuesday, July 6, 9:30 a.m.

Meet Pusyfoot

See the Airplane

Hear the Band

All Twin Falls county is invited to join in the Big Open Air Demonstration in honor of Pusyfoot Johnson, who will come by airplane from Granger, Wyoming, to Twin Falls.

No other city in America of less than 100,000 inhabitants is being honored by a visit from William E. Johnson, world known American.

You are invited to have your picture taken with Pusyfoot; this picture will be published in the big metropolitan dailies and across the seas.

This is your chance to inspect an airplane—and Pusyfoot—at close quarters. Work on the fifth—celebrate on the sixth; meet your friends—and Pusyfoot—foot.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE Back Home Again

We are now at home in the cozy little store that you learned to like so well; the store that was so cruelly “mussed up” by fire and water.

Everything is now fresh and new again, not a sign or suggestion of the fire. Let us forget the bad luck and “carry on” again, building the business to excel even the past good record.

Come Make a Call

There's always something to be thankful for; the renewed store looks better than ever. Furniture and woodwork has all been renewed or refinished; a stream of new merchandise is pouring in now—pouring in from the Ogden store and from eastern manufacturers. Whether you have purchases to make or not we want you to “make a call.” We know you will enjoy seeing the store renewed.

BRING THE KIDDIES Free Balloons Saturday

Have you noticed that the children of Twin Falls have a kindly feeling toward “Wright's Store”? Probably it is because we try to make them feel at home here. Our instructions to all employees of the store are to give the best possible attention to the children.

On opening day we will have a dandy toy balloon for every child that comes to the store with its parent.

Damaged Stocks All On Sale!

What damaged stock remained unsold will be reduced each week. On this leftover merchandise, automatic reductions will be the rule. The merchandise that does not sell at its marked price this week must be marked at a lower price next week, for there must not remain in stock any of that merchandise that was damaged in the least.
