

CHARGES SERBS INTERFERE WITH RELIEF WORKERS

Englishman Raises Voice in Protest Against Alleged Activities of Army of Occupation in Montenegro

LONDON, (AP)—Charges that the Serbian military forces have stopped a British and a Canadian mission from doing relief work in Montenegro are made by Alex Devine of Winchester in a statement he has just issued. Mr. Devine describes himself as a friend of Montenegro who "only has an interest in that country in that all have the chance of determining its own fate—a right that has been denied to Montenegro since the first world war."

He alleges that the British relief mission was prevented from entering Montenegro by the Serbian military forces acting on orders from Belgrade and under threats of violence was compelled to retire to Italy. According to Mr. Devine, the Canadian Medical Mission headed by Col. Burnham which had been operating in Montenegro for some time also has been stopped. He states that Colonel Burnham has appealed to the British foreign secretary for protection informing the secretary that "the seriousness of the situation here, created by the Serbs admits of no delay" and asking that the British government ensure the safety of the mission. Mr. Devine quotes Colonel Burnham as accusing the Serbs of seizing the boats and material of the mission and of terrorizing his people. Mr. Devine says:

"Colonel Burnham says that he has been threatened with assassination and that the mission is in peril on such an extent that even the sick are afraid to come to the hospital for relief. The colonel adds: "When the veil is lifted from the Balkan country there will be found a condition of affairs which will come as a rude shock to those who have put their confidence and given their help to Serbia. The reign of terror is complete, there are not many Montenegroans, and in another year there will be none left. The entire country is mourning and it is no longer possible for these people to exist, many have lost their reason and all are in the direct clutches of Montenegro is being done to death."

SAYS CHANCES ARE SLIM FOR TREASURE RECOVERY

Texas Writer Sees Small Probability for Uncertain Buried Cache

GALVESTON, Texas, (AP)—Searchers after buried silver on the mainland opposite Pate Island, 18 miles southeast of Corpus Christi, Tex., probably are doomed to disappointment, in the opinion of Dr. J. O. Dyer, a local writer on historical and scientific subjects. The rush of treasure seekers began with the discovery recently of 35 skeletons, popularly believed by many to be those of members of the crew of a Spanish treasure ship which foundered off the Texas coast early in the eighteenth century. No record is available of any such a wreck.

The "life" of a skeleton buried in the sands of the beaches of the coastal country, Dr. Dyer points out, is not over 30 years.

He says also treasure ships from Mexico to Spain were discontinued after 1820, partly because of the activities of Jean Lafitte's fleet of buccaniers.

Even before that time the Spaniards tried to avoid excessive losses from the storms and Lafitte's fleet of buccaniering vessels and 10 Spanish transports less than 20 tons of silver built to the vessel. Then, the current rate in Mexico was approximately $10 a ton. The most valuable of all Lafitte's prizes, the Scyllia, carried only $150,000 in treasure, according to Laffite's captured treasure, according to the records extant, was buried in three caches. Two of these were located on Galveston Island and the third on a small island to the east, which was completely washed away during a storm in 1828.

There have been many reports of the discovery on this coast of caches of coin or chests from trading ships containing from $5,000 to $15,000.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME IS TO BE CELEBRATED

Old Timers' Association to Gather at Banquet on Anniversary of Initial Championship Contest

CHICAGO, (AP)—The fiftieth anniversary of the first professional baseball championship game will be celebrated by the Old Timers' Baseball Association at a banquet here October 13. The game was played between the Cincinnati Red Stockings and the Chicago White Stockings October 13, 1870, at the old Dexter Driving Park in this city; The Cincinnati aggregation went down to defeat 10 to 3 at the hands of the Chicago team.

This game was practically the beginning of professional baseball, according to Al G. Spink, of Chicago, secretary of the old association. The Old Timers' Baseball Association was organized about a year ago. It takes in persons who played in or who saw the game and now has about 1,000 members. Tom Foley, manager of the old White Stockings team, is a member.

DISCONTENT IS PREVALENT IN ITALIAN ISLE

Sardinians Incline to Opinion that Independence would Make for Greater Prosperity—Nation of Fighters

ROME, (AP)—The spirit of unrest has penetrated since the war even to such old world and out of the way spots as the island of Sardinia. Among these picturesque peasants, many of whom cannot read or write, though they are often people of dignified manners and strong character, public opinion is diffused by word of mouth and a strong party has arisen lately whose motto is "Sardinia alone," who think that the island, which is the second largest in the Mediterranean would be more prosperous if it governed itself and had little or nothing to do with Italy.

In ancient days Sardinia was one of the great granaries of the world, supplying first Carthage and later Rome with immense quantities of grain. Now a large proportion of the island is unutilized and about one-fifth is covered with forests, chiefly consisting of hulk oaks and cork trees. The most valuable exports, however, are from the mines of lead, zinc, antimony, copper, silver, lignite and anthracite, which if only thoroughly developed would be a source of great riches.

The Sardinians are a splendid fighting race and not only during the late world conflict but throughout the Napoleonic wars and the middle ages provided some of the staunchest soldiers in Europe. The Sardinians have always considered their island the Cinderella of United Italy. They say that they have been alternately neglected and taken advantage of by the central government, education has been disregarded, the maritine state of the country has been ignored, few roads or railways have been provided in order to develop its resources, while government money has never been forthcoming for its needs.

The peasants of Sardinia declare that this is the most when Sardinia might start on the road to regeneration and re-construction, moral, commercial and economic but if it is, as of old, abandoned to apathy and want of initiative ruin is certain. A deep spirit of discontent and irritation is prevalent. The Sardinians call themselves "the Irish of the Mediterranean" and a large party is being formed of those who desire to work out their own salvation and at least for a certain time to be entirely independent of the mother country, which they accuse of having treated them more like the typical stepmother. They ask to be allowed to take their destiny in their own hands.

MIDDLE WESTERN WHEAT GROWERS TALK PRICES

SALINA, Kan., (AP)—Wheat growers and members of farmers' organizations from Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska were here today to discuss plans for obtaining what they termed "a living price" for their 1920 wheat crop.

The meeting was the outcome of a conference in Kansas City recently by wheat growers and farm organization officials at which it was decided a minimum price of $2.30 a bushel at the farm was a fair one.

Fordson

TRADE MARK

The Fordson Tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the every-day American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the man of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all other work on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to the farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish power for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing power for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and the hundred and one things on the farm. It was made to do all this economically and in a reliable way. It was made to be the big profitable servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It has been tested as no other Tractor has been tested. It has been proven reliable and can furnish proofs impossible to any other Tractor. It has done these things not only in America, but in Europe, Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the demands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions of your farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not buying any experiment—you are buying a servant and a money maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put it to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is simple in control. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every foot of ground you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on the farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of work it can do.

Wed like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson Tractor already, to come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your own farm. Let's get into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a money-making servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in and talk it over. Your time against ours. It is worth it.

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that Tractor in reliable running condition every day. You won't have to wait if anything should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the conditions of the Fordson Dealer is that he must keep on hand always a complete supply of parts. This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other farm Tractor. Come in. Let's talk it over.

CHAMP RECEIVES NEAT PURSE FOR BEATING MISKE

Club Pays Dempsey $55,000 for Less than Three Rounds of Fighting

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, received $55,000 for battering Billy Miske of St. Paul, challenger to defeat in the third round of their scheduled ten-round bout yesterday...

The total attendance of the Labor day battle was 11,348 and the total receipts $134,904 including state and war tax. Dempsey was guaranteed $50,000 with a privilege of accepting 50 per cent of the receipts. Miske fought on a straight guarantee of $25,000.

After the knockout it was reported that one of Miske's ribs had been broken by the terrific punch he delivered in the second round, but two physicians examined him and they agreed there was no fracture. There was a sore, red spot under Miske's heart, the result of the punch, which he admitted was the blow that really started him out to defeat. His ribs were bruised and his jaw was very sore, but otherwise he showed no ill effects.

Dempsey did not hear a mark of the battle. After he had dined with Promoter Fitzsimmons and a party of friends last night, he spent the rest of the evening dancing at a pavilion in St. Joseph. He planned to leave for Chicago late this afternoon and will immediately go out in search of new opponents to conquer.

Promoter Fitzsimmons declared the contest was a success in every way. Despite the police protection scores of visitors were victims of pickpockets. Secretary McConley, of the state boxing commission was robbed of $180 at the ring side. Others reported that they had lost sums ranging from $25 to $250.

Miske was heartbroken over his defeat. He left the ring in tears as he had hoped to stay the limit with Dempsey as his bid to defeat. His previous engagements, with his father and wife, were ringside spectators.

DECISION FAVORS BURMAN

ROMEO HAGAN, COAST FIGHTER, PROVES NO MATCH FOR CLEVER GORDON M'KAY—IS KNOCKED OUT

Thirteenth Knockdown in Sixth Round Enough for Seattle Pugilist, who, Displaying No Fistic Prowess Other Than Sturdiness, is Badly Beaten by Pocatello Man

Repeated knockdowns from the beginning of the fourth round weakened Romeo Hagan in his battle with Gordon McKay last night and he failed to respond after the thirteenth down which was registered in the sixth. The battle was McKay's, from almost the start.

Hagan, a sturdy punishment assimilator from Seattle, was at no time a match for the cool and steady Pocatello middleweight. Time after time he rushed McKay apparently bent upon the annihilation of the Idaho champion. Every rush was met accurately and with well measured concussions the Seattle man scarcely once breaking through the almost impregnable guard of the native son.

McKay appeared to have mapped out a well defined plan of action against the rushing methods of the man from the coast. He was cool throughout and stood his ground meeting rush and bill strength with science and strength quite the equal of his opponent in the first phases of the battle, and decidedly superior in the latter. Hagan showed no science, but appeared to depend chiefly upon his vaunted strength and ability to take punishment.

With the opening of the fourth round McKay started to take advantage of his opponent's lack of ability to keep on his feet. He showed some strength in snapping punches. In this session Hagan was dropped seven times and went to his corner groggy. He recuperated during the minute's rest and started rushing again, only to be checked by resounding smashes to the face and body. He went down twice again in this frame and four more in the sixth. He was all out on the last drop.

McKay was on merit and showed much of the form that won for him a contest with the former middleweight champion, Mike O'Dowd last July 5. The Pocatello man showed everything against Hagan, probably looking better because of Hagan's bad showing. J. W. Orwig refereed the bout.

In the first of the preliminaries Jack King won by a knockout over Jack Ryan in three rounds. Although Ryan was badly beaten, he was not knocked out. The bout was stopped to save him from further punishment.

Coppenbarger, the Battling Hawk-keeper of Lubec, earned a decision over the Chicago Kid in six rounds. The "Kid" claimed he was ill when he went into the ring and after the fight challenged Coppenbarger for another battle. Cliff Lewis was referee of the preliminary.

EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES:
 George B. David Co., Inc., 171 Madison Ave., New York; A. E. Keator, 1411 Hartford Building, Chicago.

LET'S HAVE TRUTH.

The Idaho Leader, "official publication of the National Non-partisan League in Idaho," in its issue of August 28, quotes the full text of instructions issued by A. C. Townley, F. B. Wood and William Lenke, as members of the league executive committee, under this heading: "League Will Take No Active Part in National Campaign."
 In the same issue, and on its front page in bold type, under the caption "Some System," and without other comment, the Leader quotes from a circular sent out by the Kansas Farmer Labor Non-partisan campaign committee, a statement credited by the Leader and by the Kansas organization to "The Bankers' Magazine," a publication the existence of which searching investigation fails to disclose outside the imaginations of the Kansas committee and other organizations which are striving to bring about the election of Parley P. Christenson of Salt Lake as president of the United States.

Here is the text of the circular which the Idaho Leader finds in harmony with its views, the quotation used by the Leader appearing in bold type:

Pittsburg Kan.,
 June 5, 1920.

To All Organized Labor,
 Dear Sirs and Brothers: In compliance with the directions of the State Campaign Committee, I am again directing your attention to the policy adopted for raising a campaign fund to enable the committee to carry the plan to a successful conclusion. All that is asked is the equivalent to one hour's pay per month from April 1 to November 30, 1920.

What do you say? You know the attitude of the State Legislators toward Labor by enacting the Industrial Court Bill. The Congress of the United States has failed to do its duty. It has failed to meet the emergency. Its dominating thought has been the repression of Labor, and why? Read the following clipping taken from "The Bankers' Magazine" and you will understand. Read it carefully, let your friends read it, then act according to your own good judgment:

"We must proceed with caution and guard well every move made for the lower orders for the people are already showing signs of restlessness commotion. Prudence will therefore, dictate a policy of apparently yielding to the popular will until all our plans are so far consummated that we can declare our designs without fear of any organized resistance."
 "The Farmers' Alliance and the Socialist organization in the United States should be carefully watched by our trusted men, and we must take immediate steps to counteract these organizations in our interest or disrupt them."

 "At the coming Omaha convention our men must attend and direct its movements, or else there will be set on foot such a campaign to our designs as may require force to overcome."
 "This, at the present time, would be premature. We are not yet ready for such a crisis. Capital must protect itself in every possible manner through combination and legislation."

"The courts must be called to our aid. Debts must be collected, bonds and mortgages foreclosed as rapidly as possible."

"When, through a process of law, the common people have lost their homes, they will be more tractable and easily governed through the influence of the strong arm of the government applied by the central power of imperial wealth under the control of the leading financiers. A people without homes will not quarrel with their rulers."

"History repeats itself in regular cycles. The truth is well known and principal men now engaged in furthering an imperialism of capital to govern the world. While they are doing this the people must be in a condition of political antagonism."

"The question of tariff reform must be urged through the organization known as the Democratic party, and the question of protection with reciprocity must be forced to view through the Republican party."

"By thus dividing the votes we can get them to spend their energies in fighting over questions of no importance to us except as teachers to lead the common herd. Thus by discreet action we can secure all that has been so generously planned and successfully accomplished."

Unless it can be proven that this quotation is actually taken from a bona fide publication occupying a position where it might reasonably be expected to voice the views of American bankers generally, such use as is made of the quotation by the Idaho Leader must stand condemned as a most malicious attempt to discredit the American financial and industrial system, and a despicable subterfuge to mislead and arouse large numbers of people.

Design of arousing class hatred is very well served in crediting the quotation to "The Bankers' Magazine," but no place of publication of the magazine is given.

When confronted with the article, "The Bankers' Magazine" of New York stated that it had never appeared in their publication and is absolutely false as far as they are concerned.

Upon being asked, Charles Hamlin, whose name is signed as secretary-treasurer of the Kansas organization sending out the article, stated that this "Bankers' Magazine" is published in Los Angeles.

An inquiry sent to the First National Bank of Los Angeles regarding the "Bankers' Magazine" said to be published in that city, brings the following reply:

"In reply to yours of July 7 covering the pamphlet issued by the Kansas Farmer Labor Non-partisan Campaign Committee, of Pittsburg, Kan., I would say that no such publication as the Bankers' Magazine has been admitted to the Los Angeles postoffice as second-class matter. No such magazine is on sale at any book stand, nor have we been able to find it for sale on the radical stands of the city. From the character of the quotation, I am led to believe that in all probability this alleged magazine, when printed, has been produced in order to create evidence for the use of the radical element."

Other inquiries have brought similar replies. It has been impossible to find any "Bankers' Magazine" which published the article in question.

The only clue that could be found was that some such publication did appear in Pasadena sporadically for a few issues some months ago, but no copy could be located.

The only conclusion that can be drawn is that this article was manufactured and printed purely for the purpose of quoting the same in such way that it might be used as radical propaganda to stir up a misinformed public to adopt a drastic political program.

This idea is strengthened by the attitude of the various radical representatives at the Third Party convention in Chicago. Carl D. Thompson, a league leader, asked that "working" people transfer their savings deposited in "capitalistic" banks to Non-partisan league institutions—in other words, to banks being operated by the Non-partisan League.

The whole thing smacks decidedly of propaganda of the ultra radical element in this country to create sentiment for socialization of industry and financial institutions.

The design of the Idaho Leader in its use of this quotation is plain to be seen. The work is crude. It may be effective in some quarters; but pretty generally it must be recognized that a righteous cause has no need for stooping to such methods for support, and in the long run no good can come to those who deal in this sort of mud.

SALVATION ARMY PROHIBITION
 (The War Cry)

No matter of what persuasion in regard to the great question of prohibition everyone must be glad that the supreme court has handed down its decision, and Salvationists are especially happy because that decision is in accord with our deep conviction, and our joy is further enhanced because the vast majority of the American public shares this view with us.

Had the eighteenth amendment to the constitution been at any time in peril we should have seen serious cause for alarm, but its passage, its ratification and its supporting federal law, the Volstead act, all seemed to be so indubitably right that doubt as to the final issue was wholly inadmissible.

One or two states have not added anything to their lustre by their frigid defense of the outlawed alcohol, even though it be not counted as a defiance of the constitution.

It is a pity that upon a great moral question such as this that any of our legislators, to say nothing of our legislative bodies, can be found upon the wrong side.

Very naturally the brewing interests have fought to the last ditch, but the inevitable has happened, and now we sincerely hope that our friends, the brewers, and their allied trades will find in this great land a more exalted sense of brotherhood. We believe they will and that ultimately they will also thoroughly approve the wisdom that planned the prohibition of such a business. There certainly will be few wrecks for The Army to salvage.

OBSERVE ROAD RULES TO AVOID ACCIDENTS

The two best ways to avoid automobile accidents are to be courteous on the road and confident in your driving ability.

This formula for road safety comes from Restus R. Parrish motorcycle pathfinder of the Travel and Transport bureau of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company. He is well qualified to speak on the subject as he has traveled 100,000 miles during the past six years and has never had a serious accident.

"Courtesy and confidence should be big words in every motorist's vocabulary," says Parrish. "Most of the tail-end, head-on and 'ditched' car accidents would be avoided if every motorist would practice common road courtesy. Respect the other fellow. He's entitled to the same consideration you expect from him."

"One of the most discourteous practices I have experienced is negligence in applying dim headlights when passing another vehicle at night. Hundreds of unnecessary accidents are caused by glaring headlights bearing down on drivers. Almost blinded, the motorist must choose between being 'swiped' by the other car, toppling over into a ditch, or taking his chances of holding his portion of the road. Proper use of dimmers will have injuries, lives and dollars.

 "The best car drivers today are those who impress other drivers that they know what they are doing," according to Parrish. "Confidence in your own driving ability will dispel all doubt on the other fellow's part. On the other hand, if you appear timid and confused, your chances of being hit or smashing into another car are multiplied."
