PRICE CUTTING
TAKES BOTTOM
OUT OF WHEAT

As Much as 11 1-2 Cents a Bushel Slashed from Values in Some Cases During the Avalanche of Liquidation

FUTURE DELIVERIES AT SEASON'S NEW LOW MARK

Export Call Appears Slow while Domestic Demand is More or Less at Standstill During the Day's Trading

CHICAGO, (AP)—Dramatic cutting of price took place in the wheat market today. In some cases as much as 11 1-2 cents a bushel was slashed from values, the December delivery at one time bringing only $1.06 as against $2.07 1/2 at the finish Saturday. Increased liquidation by holders was in progress, especially from rural sources.

Drop Under 22

All future deliveries of wheat dropped below $2 a bushel for the first time since the withdrawal of the government price guarantee. Export call appeared to be very slow, and domestic demand also was more or less at a standstill. In this connection, special notice was given to announcement that one of the largest flour mills in St. Louis had closed down on account of lack of orders from buyers.

Other grain showed the weakness of wheat. Corn values shrank more than 5 cents a bushel and oats about two cents.

Lowest at Close

Acute depression developed at the last, and the market closed considerably lower at the lowest prices of the day, showing a net decline of 11 1-2 to 12 1-2 cents, with December $1.05 to $1.05 1-2 and March $1.01 to $1.01 1-2. In the final trading, the leading futures were not so much aggressive efforts to sell as the nearly complete absence of buying.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR PRICES

CONTINUE DOWNWARD TREND

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (AP)—Flour prices continued their downward trend when market opened a reaction of 10 to 60 cents a barrel for family patents here today. One large mill's quotation was reduced from $12.55 to $11.55 a barrel, while another which lowered its price half a dollar Saturday, made further cut of 10 cents, making its price $11.50 a barrel. The low wheat market is responsible for the decline, millers say.

NEW LOW RECORDS FOR

YEAR SET IN SUGAR TRADE

NEW YORK, (AP)—New low records for the year were established in both raw and refined sugar markets this morning. Prices were half a cent lower than at the close of last week, with raw sugar at 11 1/2 cents and refined at 12 1/2 cents a pound by the Federal Sugar Refining company.

WILSON TAKES UP FIGHT

IN DEFENSE OF LEAGUE

Urges Endorsement at Polls Next Month of Administration's International Policy

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—President Wilson, urging endorsement at the polls next month of the administration's international policy, declared in a communication addressed to "My Fellow Countrymen" and given out for publication today, that there was nothing in the communication which in the least interferes with or impairs the right of congress to declare war or not declare war, according to its own independent judgment, as our constitution provides.

The president characterized as "absolutely false" assertions that other nations, under article 10 of the league covenant, would be in a position to lead the United States into war. The communication, which was the president's first direct campaign appeal to the public, charged that voters have been grossly misled with regard to the treaty and particularly with regard to the proposed character of the league of nations, by those who have assumed the serious responsibility of opposing it.

"The whole world will wait for your verdict in November," the president declared, "as it would wait for an intimation of what its future is to be."

Foreign Office Announces "Important Measures" to be Taken to Prevent Joining of Austria with Germany

PARIS, (AP)—"Important measures" are to be taken to enforce the terms of the treaties with Germany and Austria and prevent a union between those nations, should the proposed Austrian plebiscite decide in favor of the project, according to the foreign office today. (The Austrian national assembly on October 1 adopted unanimously a motion calling on the government to carry out within six weeks a plebiscite on the union of Austria with Germany.)

Meanwhile, it is understood no action will be taken with a view to preventing the holding of the plebiscite until views are exchanged between France, Great Britain and Italy to determine whether such a plebiscite comes under the ban of the treaties.

Both article 80 of the Versailles treaty and article 88 of the St. Germain treaty shall be inalienable except with the consent of the council of the league of nations, and Germany is obligated to respect Austria's boundaries as defined in the peace treaty. There has been no suggestion, it is understood, that the league of nations would approve a union of Austria and Germany.

Young, both of New Britain, Conn., and six residents of this city were persons named in the indictments which charged unlawful abstraction of government records, conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States, an unlawful acceptance of fees by government employees.

TWO GROWTH

IN POPULATION

32.6 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—New York state, the most populous in the country, has a population of 10,384,144, an increase of 1,270,530, or 13.9 per cent over that of ten years ago. Populations of three other states also were announced today by the census bureau.

Texas has 4,061,027 inhabitants, an increase of 744,485, or 19.0 per cent over 1910. New Jersey with a population of 3,555,774, showed an increase of 618,207, or 21.4 per cent. Idaho, with a population of 431,829, increased 106,232, or 32.6 per cent.

New York's growth was the second largest in its history, but was 574,190 below that of the census ending in 1910. Its percentage increase was next to the lowest on record, a growth of 12.9 per cent being shown for the decade ended with 1870.

City Absorbs People

Revised statistics on New York City's population, also announced today, show the city to have absorbed practically two-thirds of the country's growth. The revised population of the city was announced at 5,620,048, an increase of 83,165 or 1.5 per cent. This was 1,163 less than the population previously announced.

Texas is expected to retain its present rank of fifth most populous state. Although its numerical growth was large, the rate showed its lowest relative increase. New Jersey, which ranked 13th in 1910, passed Indiana and Georgia in the 1920 census rank. The state showed its second largest numerical growth on record.

Idaho Passes Two States

Idaho passes New Mexico and Vermont in the 1920 rank of states. It showed its second greatest numerical growth, but its relative increase was the lowest in its history.

Idaho had a population of 325,294 in 1910, ranking it as 45th most populous state in the Union. It showed an increase of 163,822, or 101.3 per cent, because of the large increase in the rate of increase of any state in the Union. Its numerical increase in that decade was the largest it had ever had, being more than double that of any previous decade.

In 1920 Idaho ranked as 12th largest state in the Union in 1910, with a total area of 83,551 square miles, making its population average 3.9 per square mile.

Idaho was organized as a territory in 1890 and appears in the federal census reports for the first time in 1870. During the 40 years from that time to 1910 its population increased rapidly, the population in 1910 being nearly double that of 1870.

The percentage of increase did not fall below 100 per cent except during the decade 1880-1900, when it was 82.7 per cent. The highest percentage of 26

MYSTERY SURROUNDS
SOURCE OF RUSSIAN
GOLD SENT TO U. S.

State-Department Suspects Bolshevik Propaganda Fund While Federal Reserve Board Officials Suggest that Shipment of $339,636 Might Have Been One Started to This Country Before America's Declaration of War

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Inquiry into the source of the recent shipment of Russian gold to the United States has been ordered by the department of justice. Belief exists at the department that the gold may be a part of the Russian Bolshevik propaganda fund.

First Since 1916

Receipt of the shipment, totaling $339,636, was announced last week by the federal reserve board in its periodical report on gold imports and exports. This was the first shipment of gold from Russia to the United States since late in 1916. Officials of the board said today they had not yet identified the shipment or its consignee.

The federal reserve board's statement contained an item merely recording receipt of the gold from Russia in Europe. Although there are several small provinces of Russia in Europe, which are not under soviet control, federal officials maintained that it was not likely that the shipment might have been even a comparatively small shipment of gold because of their financial conditions.

Federal reserve board officials suggested that the shipment might have been one which was started in this country before America's declaration of war.

Republican Nominee Takes

Part in Unveiling of Memorial Tablet

MARION, O., (AP)—Senator Harding left Marion today by motor to make a speech near Fremont, where he will take part in the unveiling of a memorial tablet in honor of soldiers who lost their lives in the great war.

The nominee and his wife started on the trip in time to take lunch at the home near Fremont of Webb C. Hayes, who is a son of President Rutherford B. Hayes, before the dedication ceremony.

In the address prepared for him, the senator lauded the patriotism and heroism of the American expeditionary force and asked that their services be made an example to American citizens in future times.

He did not touch on political issues.

The memorial tablet stands in Hayes' memorial library in the Spiegel Grove state park, which is a part of the state park system and was selected for the unveiling because it is the birthday of the former president.

Dittman's Report on Experiences of Immigrants Seeking Utopia Under Bolsheviki Rule Stirs Up Debate

BERLIN, (AP)—Revelations made by William Dittman concerning the fate of 70 families of German working men and 120 German industrial workers, who migrated from Germany to Soviet Russia in the hope of finding a socialist Utopia, have stirred up a heated debate in the independent socialist party of which Dittman is leader. He is also a member of the Reichstag. The Freiheit, the party's organ, has been made a battle ground ever since Dittman returned from Russia where he went as one of the four delegates sent by the independent socialists to the world's communist congress, the third international at Moscow. The issue fought in the columns of the Freiheit is whether German radicals, in view of Dittman's revelations, shall pool their interests with the Moscow regime.

Outspoken Denunciation
Most of the Germans who migrated were formerly members of the independent socialist party and others were communists. Dittman found the 70 German families waiting in Petrograd for transfer to some industrial section of inner Russia. The industrial workers were in Kolpna, near Moscow. Dittman reported that the German emigrants were outspoken in their denunciation of the Russian immigration agents operating in Germany who had talked them into selling their homes and going to Russia. They strongly urged that steps be taken to head off any other German workers who might be on their way to Russia. Most of the men, Dittman said, were penniless, and declared they were no other country so expensive to live in as the Russia of today. They were cut off from communication with the outside world and not permitted to send letters home, Dittman reported. They told him they were inhospitably received by the Russian "comrades" who branded them as intruders who had "come to take the bread out of their mouths," and they also came into conflict with their hosts over the conditions under which they were to work. The upshot was that the German railroad chasers refused to work and demanded that they should be permitted to return to Germany.

Bolsheviki's Plans Fade
"Conditions in Russia are altogether different from what they were represented to us in Germany," the emigrants told Dittman, and the members of the German delegation, comprising Christian Dauting and Blocker. The latter two were ardent champions of a union between the independent socialist party and the Bolsheviks.

"We were promised a small factory which we were to operate ourselves," he says, stated. "We were assured of comfortable dwellings and told that there was plenty of food. None of these things were true." As a result of their "mutiny," they declared, they were promptly stigmatized as counter revolutionaries by the local bolsheviki commissars. Dittman tried to comfort his dejected fellow countrymen after listening to their protests, by advising them to "live down their first and impressions."

Dauting admitted that he could readily understand "why a German is unable to eat this Russian bread which looks like put," but he advised the erstwhile communist enthusiasts to resign themselves to the inevitable.

STATESMAN OF JAPAN OPPOSES JINGO TACTICS

Baron Goto, Who May Be Next Premier of Island Empire, Expresses Hope for Settlement of Race Issue

TOKIO, (AP)—Anti-American outburst by the Japanese press are very strongly deprecated by Baron Shimpo Goto, former minister of foreign affairs who may be Japan's next premier. He refuses to lead an attack against the Japanese government over its American policy and, in a statement to the correspondent of Reuters, Ltd., expresses hope that settlement of the anti-Japanese movement in California may be reached.

"The anti-Japanese situation," he said, "is merely a phase of the post world election and is part of the general question which the wisest statesmen on both sides of the Pacific must face with a view to securing a future mental settlement. The question of ownership of land in California is not the real issue, but only a part of the real issue, which is a question of discrimination. The Japanese people must remain cool and refrain from the vote-catching politicians in either country to stampede them, while responsible statesmen must later seek a proper solution of the question which will be settled honorably on both sides, and the Japanese must appeal to the sense of honor and justice of America."

The tension between the United States and Japan is causing serious concern to responsible Japanese statesmen and to all the friends of both countries, who hope for a cessation of alarmist reports which are influencing both sides of the present controversy. The Japan-American society has decided to send two members to America to endeavor to secure a better understanding of the Japanese case in California and other questions, and to allay the feeling in America that Japan is looking for trouble. These delegates have been selected, but it still is uncertain whether the mission would be accepted. Meanwhile, it has been decided to cable a request to the Japan society of New York city to redouble its efforts to dispel the clouds on both sides of the Pacific.

DECLARES LOT OF JEWS IN RUSSIA IS HARD ONE

Brutal Treatment of Hebrews is Charged Against Bolshevik Authorities

LONDON, (AP)—The fate of the Jews in Russia is anything but an enviable one, says an article in the current number of the Zionist Bulletin.

According to the report, 98 per cent of the forced laborers in Kharkov are Jews, who are treated brutally. The Gentile laborers are content to be regarded them as a coolie caste, and they are shot at least as freely as other Russians for counter revolutionary activity.

Before the war, the article explains, about 66 per cent of the Jews in Russia were engaged in commerce, and most of the rounder were artisans or factory workers. When the Soviet government closed down private enterprise as being tainted with capitalism, most of the Jews lost their livelihood. Most of the non-Jewish Russians who were likewise made destitute turned to farm labor and have been able to scrape along, but Russian villagers, steeped in centuries of anti-Semitism, would not tolerate Jewish settlers among them.

While the Soviet government barred actual pogroms, it has not insisted on access to the land being given to the Jewish traders who it dislodged from their country houses, says the writer, so when forced labor came in last March, a very large number of Jews were visibly "unproductive persons," and ripe for industrial conscription, or for death if they objected.

"Almost all the Jews were entered as 'of no occupation,' irrespective of whether they knew a trade or not," says the writer. "The result was a terrible hunt begun for the Jewish masses by Red soldiery, with the willing help of the antisemites. The Jews were shut up in the courtyards of the labor barracks and led to camp day and night in the open, almost without food. The compulsory work consists mainly in the heaviest kind of labor, such as road building and the cleaning out of dirty places in town and country."

LAOS ARE PROFICIENT JUDGES OF LIVESTOCK

George Denman Accords High School Teams Praise for Excellent Work

BOISE (Special).—Extraordinary credit is accorded contestants in the livestock judging competition at the state fair, by George E. Denman, state supervisor of agricultural education, who declares that the progress in this branch of farm education during the past year is little short of marvelous.

The leading schools entered one team each of three boys, all demonstrating proficiency in judging the various lines of livestock entered at the big fair. All the teams were accompanied by an authorized coach.

Teams from the various schools ranked in the following order: Twin Falls, Blackfoot, Blackfoot, Meridian, Nampa, Eagle, Boise. The Twin Falls team ranked 14 points above its nearest competitor.

John Owens of Twin Falls was high man with others ranking in the following order: Robert Nicholson, Twin Falls; Earl Evans, Meridian; Fred Tucker, Twin Falls; Glen Gregg, Blackfoot; and Stanley Myerton, Gooding.

Earl Johnson of Blackfoot was high man on beef cattle, Jim Owens, Twin Falls, on swine; Fred McWurg, Eagle, on horses; and Robert Nicholson, Twin Falls on dairy cattle.

Instructors present from the various high schools were: Walter Thomas, Blackfoot; William Crabtree, Twin Falls; L. K. Summ, Gooding; Ralph Hunt, Eagle; L. S. Plato, Nampa; Marjorie Laird, Meridian; and E. C. McCormick, Boise. A similar contest will be held for the fall livestock fair in connection with the Northwest livestock show at Lewiston in November.

These contests annually in order to stimulate interest in the study of livestock, it is said.

WILSON GREETED SUPREME COURT

President Receives Justices for First Time Since His Illness

WASHINGTON, (AP)—For the first time since 1919 President Wilson received today the justices of the United States supreme court, who called to pay their respects. The court convened at noon after the president had been immediately adjourned until tomorrow so the justices might visit the White House.

Finds Crowded Docket.

The United States supreme court reconvened today to find a docket crowded with important cases. Besides anti-trust suits, matters pending included further attacks on the prohibition amendment, suits to test the constitutionality of the anti-protection section of the food control act and appeals in the Newberry election case.

With the federal supreme court expected tests of its constitutionality would reach the court this session.

Anti-Trust Suits.

Anti-trust suits against the Eastman Kodak company, the Associated Press and Publishers of the United States and Canada, American Can company, Southern Pacific company and the Keystone Watch Case company will be postponed temporarily by agreement of counsel.

Other cases of consequence before the court are those involving the constitutionality of provisions in the 1919 war revenue act levying an excise tax on profits derived from child labor; the boundary dispute between Oklahoma and Texas, as the case of the United States Machinery company, originally instituted by the government in St. Louis under the Clayton act.

SALTS FINE FOR WASHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat which Clogs Kidneys, then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and lead misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and is harmless to the kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it is no longer irritating, thus ending bladder disorders.

"Jad Salts" is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcleaning kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

BORAH ACCEPTS SPEAKING DATES

Idaho Senator to Tour New Hampshire on Schedule to be Arranged

NEW YORK, (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho, who last week requested that no further speaking dates be made for him by the republican national committee, will speak in New Hampshire next week on a schedule to be arranged by Colonel Thos. W. Miller of the committee's speakers bureau, and Senator Moses of New Hampshire.

This announcement was made today by Colonel Miller, who had a half hour conference here with the Idaho senator while he was awaiting a train for Danbury, Conn., where he is to speak tonight. Later, Senator Borah will speak in New York, Maryland, Indiana and Ohio. Colonel Miller said that Senator Borah again on his return from Connecticut, said Colonel Miller, "and arrange for his future participation in the campaign in other states within the eastern district. He expects to go to New Hampshire next week, the dates to be arranged by Senator Moses and these headquarters. Senator Borah also expects to campaign for Senator Watson in Indiana; former Governor Willis in Ohio, who is seeking Senator Harding's place in the senate; Senator Wardsworth in this state; and O. E. Weller, the senatorial candidate in Maryland."

The conference with Senator Borah, Colonel Miller said, took place out side republican headquarters as the senator did not visit the party's offices here.

Senator Borah of Idaho will make four speeches in Connecticut in the interests of Senator Brandegee. It was expected that Senator Watson in Indiana; former Governor Willis in Ohio, who is seeking Senator Harding's place in the senate; Senator Wardsworth in this state; and O. E. Weller, the senatorial candidate in Maryland."

COTTON CROP PROSPECTS REDUCED BY ESTIMATE

Production Forecast Cuts Margin Off Excess for This Year as Compared With Last

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Cotton production this year was forecast today at 12,123,000 bales by the department of agriculture which based its estimate on the condition of the crop on Sept. 25, which was announced as 9.1 per cent of a normal.

A reduction of 600,000 bales in the cotton crop as forecast last month was predicted today by the department of agriculture, which based its latest forecast on a crop condition of 59.1 per cent on September 25.

Last year's production was 11,329,755 bales and the condition of the crop on September 25 a year ago was 54.4. The

The condition of the crop this year was attributed to last week's deficit of reserves and record loan expansion by clearing house banks. Sales approximated 800,000 bales.

The indefinite trend of price at the opening of today's stock market resulted mainly from profit taking in the recently strong rally. Great Northern and Northern Pacific soon lost 1-2 and 1-4 points, respectively, and other transcontinentals and grangers market fractional recessions. NEW YORK, (AP)—Much of the uncertainty shown by the stock market today was attributed to last week's deficit of reserves and record loan expansion by clearing house banks. Sales approximated 800,000 bales.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Severe new setbacks in the price of wheat resulted today from an increase of country selling. March delivery went down $2 for the first time on the crop, and December dropped also to a new low level. Figured on the basis of the premium of the hard winter grade over the December delivery wheat today was cheaper than at any time since 1917.

Options, which ranged from 2 to 3 1/2 down, with December $2.04 to $2.04 1/2 and March $2 to $2.01, were followed by a moderate rally and then by a drop, much under the initial bottom price.

Later there was an unusual answer of support other than from shorts, and with liquidation much in evidence the market suffered additional big cuts. The close was heavy, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 net lower, with December $1.95 to $1.95 1/2 and March $1.91 to $1.91 1/2.

Reprints and fine weather had a decided bearish effect on corn. After opening 1/2 to 3-5 lower, including December at 89 to 89 3/4, the market continued to descend.

Bearish crop estimates and the weakness of wheat led subsequently to a further decline. The close was nervous, 3/8 to 5/8 net lower, with December $3 7/8 to $4.

by a noted poet as "the poor Indian,"
the wrongs committed against his race
by the white man have long furnished
a fertile theme for writers.

Once the average Indian was poor, judged by the standards which were tangible values, but that is true no longer. He may still possess an "entitled mind" but he is of a people
the richest on earth, measured with the dollar yardstick.

The recent report of the secretary of the interior estimates the per capita wealth of the Indians at $5,000, nearly three times that of the white American population. It is true that this accumulation of resources is not due to the financial acumen of the Indian himself. Neither is it due to the fact that the government of the United States in exercising its wardship over the Indians intended to enrich them to this extent.

When the Indians were hustled off to reservations regardless of their wishes, it was not so much for the purpose of benefiting them as for removing them from conflict with white men who wanted the Indians' lands. Had it been suspected that the lands granted to the Indians would prove so valuable as they have, it is beyond doubt that some other location for them would have been found.

Much of the land awarded the Indians is amazingly rich in minerals and development has enabled great numbers of Indians to roll in the lap of luxury. Not all Indians have been so fortunate in the land assigned to them,
but every Indian may have the satisfaction of reflecting that his race

stands at the top in financial resources on the average. Perhaps the gross wrong suffered by Indians in an earlier day are in a measure compensated
by the affluent circumstances of the Indian race as a whole in this generation. Perhaps some providence operated to guide the settlement of the Indians as a recompense for the deprivation of ancient homes.

The lands that were thought wellworthless concealed their riches
until the progress of events had made it impossible for the white man to dispossess the Indian without due compensation. As a consequence the Indian may wear a silk shirt instead of a blanket and drive his automobile in company with the best of his white neighbors. He may reflect occasionally on the wrongs suffered by his race, but it is probable that he gives vastly more thought to the increasing price of gasoline.

SILVER LINING

It is easy to yield to disturbing speculation over the news of continued irritation attending Japanese-American relations as a result of differences over racial and economic rights and privileges on the Pacific coast. The situation is indeed disagreeable; but it is not necessarily alarming. The resources of diplomacy have not been tested.

There is always a silver lining to the cloud. Thus, close upon a cable telling of anti-American demonstrations in Nippon, comes a message reporting the calm counsel of a great Japanese financier. Simultaneously with report of a wave of resentment against the United States sweeping the island empire we receive a brief dispatch telling that 1,000,000 pencils were sold in Japan to raise the nucleus of a fund to honor the work of the late H. J. Heinz, father of the Orient's Sunday school movement.

The question is entirely one of interest. Japan is seeking means to care for an overflowing population.
California is determined she shall not be inundated. Obviously the American people want no dispute with Japan.
But just as obviously one important section of the American people already has a dispute with Japan. The apathy of many to the possibilities of the situation seems to be one of its most disturbance features. Japan can hope to gain nothing by arousing the ire of Uncle Sam and she will cease her futile efforts when the futility of them dawns.

American Indian a Mystery.

The origin of the American Indian
is a matter of dispute. Ethnologically, the Indian resembles most closely certain Mongolian and Siberian peoples. It is, therefore, believed by most authorities that his ancestors crossed from Asia to Alaska and thence down
the coast of North America.

Agriculture and the New Day

The following article, issued by the American Farm Bureau Federation, is designed to cover in a broad and comprehensive manner, our present day agricultural problems and their relation to the general welfare of the nation. It is not written from a political point of view, nor is it the aim to seek favors for any group or class. It was prepared after a very extensive review of existing conditions and is intended to bring about a better understanding and a closer cooperation between country and city—between the farmer, and the industrial worker. It will appear daily in its entirety.

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

THE NEW FARM LIFE.

Country life must be raised out of the monotony. It is not enough that a farmer should be able to make money.
His life should be personally satisfactory.

The new farm life will provide for better wages; better distribution of work and working hours; educational advantages will be improved; disagreeable tasks will be largely eliminated;
up to date methods; steps will be taken
to furnish recreations and amusements;
the social side of rural life will receive more attention than formerly.

Although the world's immediate need for food is indeed serious, a broad consideration of the problem involves the matter of popularizing agriculture and country life for all time to come.

Such a movement, if it is to be effective, must be conducted unselfishly,
giving due consideration to each and every group and class that make up our nation.

Constructive Effort Needed.

Furthermore, it must be conducted along constructive lines. We must interest ourselves with putting rural life
on a more attractive and higher plane
rather than deprecating the rural attractions of other societies.

The newspapers and magazines should be extensively used. The help of the federal employment bureaus, chambers of commerce, advertising associations, commercial clubs and other civic clubs,
high schools, colleges, Y. M. C. A.'s, etc., should be solicited.

It is up to the farmer individually
and collectively to boost his business.
Such a movement, if it is to be effective, must be conducted unselfishly,
giving due consideration to each and
every group and class that make up our
nation.

ADVANTAGES OF RURAL LIFE

There are very few real advantages of the city that cannot be brought to the ruralist, but the basic fundamental advantages of free life in God's open country can be transplanted into the city except to a very limited degree.

For every advantage of the city
there are corresponding advantages of the country. For every disadvantage of the farm there are innumerable drawbacks to urban existence. The city worker gets more money than the farm laborer. He likewise spends more. The city man works a fewer number of hours than the rural-ist—but he consumes more time in going to and from his work.

The farmer lives out among the hills
and the meadows—the city man exists in the crowded fleshpots. The farmer gets his meat either free or at cost—the city man pays a few cents enough to cover the profit-taking of both property owner and rental agent.

Rely on Providence.

The farmer may have a crop failure on account of weather conditions—but the city clump often loses his job without a cloud or a weather report to warn him of the impending danger and frequently the industrial employer is more uncertain and erratic than the Providence of the elements!

The farmer may obtain his food direct from the soil. In the case of the city dweller, the simple act of food distribution is infinitely more complex and expensive than the basic process
of production itself.

Life in the country fosters individualism. This urbanite is merely a cog
in the wheel.

The city man is only one of the masses—the farmer is received by his fellow-farmers on his merits as a man.
Country life makes for physical and moral strength—the city is the graveyard of our national physique.

In the final analysis, the farmer has the upper hand. Agriculture is the most stable of all industries. Wars may devastate, panics may bankrupt, markets may become stagnant, but the farmer continues to live more or less as usual.

Agriculture as a Business Profession

Country life may lack some of the zip and bustle of the metropolis, but competition for individual prestige and advancement is less keen in agriculture
than in other industries.

The fact that farm labor is scarce,
with wages higher than ever before,
makes it possible for the young man who is agriculturally inclined to start on the road to independence. With an equal amount of energy and enthusiasm,
starting without education or training,
he can get his name on the bank directory via the agricultural route quicker than by Michigan avenue, Broadway
or Wall street.

We hear a great deal about high wages in the city but little is said concerning the liability side of the worker's personal ledger. The net balance is the only basis upon which to compare the income of the city worker to that of the farmer. It is doubtful if there is a city anywhere where a man can secure room rent, food and laundry for less than $17 a week. Thus the bare necessities of life cost him at least $65
a month. To this must be added the expense of good clothing, continual effort to find amusement and the high cost of just being a "good fellow."

No other line of human endeavor offers an opportunity for such broad personal development as does agriculture.
By the very nature of things, the farm
is independent—he must depend upon his own efforts—he must be versatile, self-reliant, adaptable—he must be a naturalist as well as a business man.

In the new era of agriculture, there will be innumerable openings in the line of special occupations and professions requiring a basic knowledge of agriculture and country life such as soil experts, plant doctors, health experts, pruning and spraying experts, forest specialists, farm machinery monitors, drainage and irrigation engineers,

recreation instructors, market experts,
etc.

THE PROBLEM OF THE UNBAL- ANCED SEASON

The question of the unbalanced seasons and the necessity for more help during certain periods has been one of the bugbears of the farm labor problem.

Many of us do not appreciate, however, that this same condition exists to a certain degree in every line of industry. The ice business, the coal business, department stores—automobile, tractor and implement manufacturers—have all been confronted by the slack season problem. Since time immemorial, one of the principle endev-ors of all industries has been to equalize their activity throughout the year.

While the laws of nature cannot be changed, progressive farmers are, to a marked degree, equalizing their labor requirements throughout the year.
Intelligent planning and the use of modern farm machinery and labor-saving devices are potent factors in accomplishing this end.

Works on Schedule.
One of the most successful farmers in America has a typewritten list of winter and rainy day jobs conspicuously posted around his barns, dairy, repair shop and home. He looks ahead for the unpleasant days out of doors.
On such days he and his men clean the barns, and hen houses, chop wood, oil
the harness, sharpen the farm tools,
adjust and repair the machinery,
straighten up the farm shop clean and grade the seed, shell the corn, sort the seed potatoes, etc.

Another farmer who raises vegetables
on a large scale has a small box factory as an adjunct to his business. In this way his employees are kept busy throughout the year and incidentally he gets his shipping boxes at a cost

somewhat lower than the city market!
Ploving the crops in the fall and early winter saves a lot of work in the busy spring when the seed bed must be prepared.

KEEPING FARM HELP CON- TENTED.

Although every employer of farm labor must work out his own individual problems, a summary of expedients that are being employed by successful farmers is of general interest.

A written contract between employer and employee makes the relation more business-like and there is less chance of a misunderstanding.

Free garden rent, and a working interest in the dairy and poultry products to keep the employee better satisfied, afford him work extending over practically the entire year and if properly handled, is mutually profitable and advantageous.

Pets for the children have proved valuable in keeping the married employee contented.

Many farmers have instituted the bonus plan to good advantage, giving the employee a share in the production above a certain yield and awarding some kind of a remuneration for suggestions that increase the efficiency of the farm.

The value of milking machines, modern tillage tools, cement barnyards, tractors and other modernized equipment cannot be overestimated.

Camel CIGARETTES

HOWDY PETE!

Always learn something when I head into this old town. Passed my deck of Camels to a fine, business-looking citizen in the Pullman dressing room this morning and this opened up a conversation. Listen, Pete, that man talked the Camel language according to Hoytel!

"Camels are the very quintessence of cigarettes" said this party. Pete, get that word? It fits—it spreads the news—it spills the whole Camel story! And, if you don't get what I'm driving to you, look up the word in Webster's! Why, Uncle Sam put it there when he dreamed Camels were coming! That man slipped into one word—mellow-mild-body, no cigarette aftertaste,
no cigarette odor—and—the best cigarette
in the world at any price!

Pete, why do you hear men of all types everywhere actually boasting Camels?
That's because they know Camels are right!
They know from Camels flavor that Camels
have the quality—and they know that Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice
Domestic tobaccos makes the most delightful cigarette any man ever put between his lips!

Old oil well, I'm no gusher, but the way
Camels are going to more and more men
every one of the seven days in every week is a sight to see!

GOTHAM MAYOR
TO TOSS FIRST
BALL TOMORROWHylan Accepts Honor in Opening Game Between Indians
and Superbas

NEW YORK, (AP)—President Ebbets of the Brooklyn club announced today that Mayor Hylan has accepted an invitation to throw out the first ball in the opening game of the series tomorrow.

Definite announcement of the assignment of umpires to their positions has not yet been made, but since the series will open in a National league park it is expected that either Henry O'Day or William Klein will work behind the plate in the first contest. This arrangement will mean that the other National league umpire will be at second base, with William Dineen and Thomas Connolly of the American league at first and third bases, respectively. Under this plan, Connolly, who is the senior umpire of the American league, will work behind the plate in Wednesday's game.

As a result of the great demand for tickets this year, President Ebbets has decided to dispense with lunch music at the games in Brooklyn.

Distribution of the tickets was completed today to the fortunate ones, with thousands of other fans searching throughout greater New York hoping that they might be able to purchase tickets from persons who, for one reason or another, were unable to attend the games.

The weather bureau today gave a promise of favorable weather for the opening of the series.

"Fair tonight and Tuesday; somewhat cooler; moderate southwest to west winds," was the official forecast.

Brief Bits of Sport

Championships in both major leagues are settled fast.

So there's nothing now to do but await the big clashes.

On paper Cleveland looks like a world gonfalon winner, but the Bronx should put up a hard battle from the start.

Looks like Walt Mills to start the series.

Poor old White Sox; but it can't be helped.

Charlie White is to get his fourth chance at the world's lightweight title. Arrangements have practically been completed for a return match between White and Benny Leonard and a date will be set within a few days. The pair fought at Benton Harbor last July when Leonard knocked White out in the ninth round. It was the closest call Leonard has had and though White was eventually knocked out he at one time during the fight almost had the champion out. It was only due to the latter's ring generalship that he pulled through and won via the K. Leonard was not properly trained for that bout but it is a certainty he will be in shape for this next scrap. Prior to that scrap White had met Freddie Welsh and Willis Hitehite for the title and lost both scraps.

Earl Sheely's chances of breaking the coast league "home run" record seems to have gone. The record is 33 made by Bunney Brie a few years ago and today Sheely is 27 to his credit. On the average of home run swats he has set there is no chance of his making seven circuits of the bases in the time left for completing the league schedule. But that it looks as though the Salt Lake swatter is going to retain his stand as the leading batsman of the coast teams. He is hitting consistently today, today he made the hit 269 as against 369 last week. Miller of Oakland is his nearest rival and he jumped two points last series coming up from 336 to 338.

One of the largest dog shows of Southern California is to be held at Santa Barbara, October 7, 8 and 9. Many well known dog owners of San Francisco and Los Angeles are to exhibit including Mayor James Rolph and Irving C. Ackerman of San Francisco and Miss Anita Baldwin of Los Angeles.

Automobile racing is becoming more popular in every section of the coast states. Tacoma, Wash., recently put on a big series and Los Angeles and Hanford, Cal., later put on successful race meets. Fresno, Cal., is the latest and will open a new $250,000 track next Saturday. The list of drivers for a $15,000 purse for which 12 of the most famous racing drivers of the country will compete. Ralph De Palma, Gene Chevrolet, Eddie Hearne, Ralph Mulford and Eddie Miller are among the drivers entered.

The famed Dipsea race was run last Sunday on Mill Valley road, near the Camp, Cal., and won by Willie O'Connell of the Italian Athletic club. The winner made a name for himself with his army of occupation in Germany, winning several regimental distance championships and winding up by capturing the third army championship. Mason Martwell made the fastest time of 49:57 this being the sixth race this runner has captured the time prize.

Now comes the story that Billy Mike was all confidence and ready to Jack Dempsey on his beam ends until the day before the battle. And then something happened. Mrs. Mike arrived in the challenger's camp. She was fearful of the outcome and was prone to give and take. It is said that the wife's interference before he entered the ring. Ever since our original grand parents were asked to vacate the municipal park of Eden, the lady and the apple have been forced to shoulder the blame when anything went wrong with the old man.

Not once in a generation does the spectacle present itself in a baseball league when five teams all have a chance for pennant honors three weeks before the close of the season. Such is the situation as it exists in the Pacific coast organization. The proverbial blanket could be discarded for a postage stamp with which to cover the heads of the contenders, as close together as they bunched. Every game counts from now on and the boys will be playing under an unusual strain.

Comfort Pre-requisite.

Good quarters to sleep in, electric lights, magazines to read, running water, a place to take a bath—all are requirements for the new day.

If the farmer's family is to be satisfied, their interest must lie in farming. In some instances, farmers have inaugurated profit sharing plans.

Such work stimulates interest, creates enthusiasm, and makes for development of efficient farmers and home makers.

The fact that the salary of the farm employee is practically all profit must be properly emphasized if the farmer is to compete with industry in securing and holding labor. In Wisconsin, one farmer is employing his point men, usually by paying his men in money alone and then charging them back for provisions, rent, water, light, laundry, etc.

A PERMANENT TENANCY

The aim of the employer or the man who rents out land should be to keep his men with him until they are able to buy farms and go into business on their own account. The kind of labor that floats from farm to farm or from city to farm and vice versa does not offer the proper solution of the farm labor problem.

Short Lease Disastrous.

Short leases are disastrous both to farming and to country life. A permanent tenancy cannot be attained unless the tenant is allowed a share in payment improvements.

We need a permanent occupation of land without the disadvantage of the system that approaches the social castes of Europe. The ultimate cannot be accomplished in American agriculture until the owner begins to live on the land and take a direct interest in farming. Provision should be made through governmental channels or other ways whereby it will be possible for the ambitious, responsible, industrious young farmer to capitalize on such qualities and secure adequate financial assistance in the matter of buying his own farm.

CZAR'S BROTHER ESCAPES

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch in St. Petersburg, Russia.

PARIS, (AP)—Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, of Russia, younger brother of the late Emperor Nicholas, was not assassinated by the Bolsheviks, as has been reported but is now in St. Petersburg, according to Nicholas Brashkovsky, a Russian agent, writing in the Figaro. He asserts the grand duke escaped from Perm, where he was interned by the Bolsheviks, and fled to the depths of Siberia. Later he reached St. Petersburg after a long adventurous voyage, and was received by the King of Siam, Vajiravudh, who married a Russian lady while finishing his military education in Petrograd.

WALTERS OPENS BOULDER DRIVE

Candidate for Governor of Idaho Talks on State and National Issues

Opening with arraignment of "an unwarranted expansion" of the cabinet form of government established in Idaho two years ago by republican governor and legislature and promising substantial reductions in the cost of election of democratic state administration, and closing with pleas for adoption of the league of nations covenant and for re-election of Senator John F. Nugent, T. A. Walters of Caldwell, former attorney general and democratic candidate for governor, addressed an audience of between 200 and 400 persons in the Lavering theater here last evening in the first of his democratic campaign in this county.

Former Governor James H. Havel, who was to have shared the platform with Mr. Walters, was detained at Coeur d'Alene and unable to be present. Mr. Walters was accompanied by J. T. Pope of Boise, democratic state chairman, who occupied a place on the stage, and was introduced by Judge James R. Borchert of Twin Falls.

The speaker's arraignment of the republican state administration occasioned rather frequent and general applause. He used every principle argument put forward by proponents of the league of nations and was accorded close attention, but failed to receive a hand throughout his plea for adoption of the covenant. He stated that he declared that "one of the best amendments to the constitution had made it possible for the mothers of America to vote on this question." His plea for support of Senator Nugent was based on argument that Nugent had been a true and true friend of the league of nations. Mention of Nugent's name at the end of an oratorical period drew applause.

Argues War Is Alternative.
Mr. Walters' argument for American adoption of the league covenant made it appear that failure to join would result in alliance of all the world against the United States. He stated that the course here to a great armament program and universal military training which, in itself, he declared, would make for the most disastrous war in history that would be certain to result, he asserted, if American ratification were not forthcoming.

He asserted in preliminary remarks on the subject, that the question of American adoption of the covenant and treaty was larger than a party question any larger than an American question. Later on he declared that desire for partisan advantage had prevented ratification.

Following up his charge of extravagance against the present state administration, Mr. Walters arraigned it bitterly for "stealing the direct primary law." Abolition of the primary, he declared, was deemed necessary to remove the most formidable obstacle to operation of the cabinet form of government, which, he charged, made possible the use of 1000 state employees in a political machine for perpetuation in office of the party in power.

Quotes Auditor's Estimate.
Taxation for state purposes, he said, had been increased 200 per cent as compared with the lowest level of the state's history, which he credited to the preceding democratic administration. He quoted from a written statement by Governor Snodgrass that the state auditor's office, during the democratic administration and during the first year of the republican administration, to the effect the funds of the state departments were now exhausted, and that Snell "understand" that the state highway commission on September 10 began registering warrants to the amount of from $300,000 to $500,000 a month.

He denied that unpaid claims in any amount had been bequeathed to the present administration by the preceding democratic administration, arguing on the strength of the Snell report that tax monies levied by the democratic administration, when collected, left a balance of $10,000 to its credit, after making payment of claims incident to the war and forest protection.

Counts Idaho Too Small.

Mr. Walters asserted that the cabinet form of government might be successfully operated in larger and more populous states, but denied that it could be similarly conducted in Idaho. He compared the adoption of the cabinet government in Idaho to the use of a high powered engine in a light weight automobile and said that cost of "oil and gas" would "break" the state.

He made no attempt to answer the republican contention that increase in state taxes was necessitated in large part by reason of the fact that the legal limit on state bond issues had been reached under the last democratic state administration.

FINED FOR FIGHTING.

In the municipal court this morning Thomas T. McDonald and Harry L. Kinder were arraigned on charge of disturbing the peace by fighting. The men were found guilty and fined $10 and $5 respectively. The assessments were paid. McDonald and Kinder engaged in a fight in the front of the Ferguson pharmacy, the fight resulting from an argument over a minor matter.

COUNTRY'S LEADERS CONFIDENT OF REPUBLICAN POLLS VICTORY

Congressman Addison T. Smith Tells of Feeling in West where Sentiment is All Favorable to G. O. P. at November Election—Legislature Reconstruction Needed for Restoration of the Country's Normalcy

Congressman Addison T. Smith has returned from San Francisco where he was called by the National Republican Committee two weeks ago to organize the Speakers' Bureau for the Western states, and will start on his speaking itinerary on Wednesday through Southern Idaho to continue until election day.

Congressman Smith was selected director of the Speakers' bureau at western headquarters because of his wide national acquaintance and his knowledge of the platform speakers in public and civil life, as it was believed he could accomplish the work more satisfactorily and expeditiously than any other person available. Commenting on the political situation he said:

G. O. P. Victory Sure
"While with the Western Headquarters of the national committee at San Francisco as director of the Speakers' bureau I had a splendid opportunity to get into close touch with the national political situation and I am pleased to say that the leaders over the country express themselves as confident that Senator Harding will carry practically every western and northern state and have a large majority of the electoral college; but they are concerned regarding the conduct of the senate and the house of representatives, especially the senate, where the Republicans have only one of a majority.

"There is grave danger that the Republicans will lose several republican senators, and the fight for the senate is being concentrated in Idaho, Nevada, Arizona and California, now represented by Democrats, and in Utah where Senator Smoot's seat is in danger.

"The election of Harding and Coolidge and the loss of the control of the senate or the house of representatives would prevent the Republicans from carrying out their policies, and neither party would be wholly responsible for the conduct of the government during the next administration.

Reconstruction Must Come
"Reconstruction legislation of the greatest importance must be enacted, as well as a change effected in existing governmental policies if the country is to be restored to a normal condition. If the farmer and stock raiser, whose market is being captured by the foreign importer, is to prosper, a protective tariff must be enacted to replace our present Democratic free trade law, as that is the only remedy for the languishing condition of the stock industry in the western states, an every thoughtful and unprejudiced person will know.

Want Protective Tariff
"I was able to attend the state convention at Sacramento where Senator Johnson made his first speech of the campaign. He is a great deal in the state and received a wonderful reception. While a great portion of his address was devoted to his opposition to the league of nations he emphasized in the most forceful manner the importance of electing a republican senate and house of representatives in order that a protective tariff might be placed on farm products and fruits. The lemon, prune and nut industry in California are the most important, and unless the protection afforded prior to the war is restored.

"The same arguments he advanced for the election of Mr. Shortridge, the senatorial candidate in California, applies with equal emphasis for the election of Mr. Snodgrass in this state, and also to the republican candidates for congress.

RAIL BONUS FUND STEADILY CLIMBS

Canvassing Committees Continue to Show Progress in Twin Falls

Including Saturday's report of canvassing activities the sum total subscribed or pledged for the railroad bonus fund is $67,967.50. This total embraces subscriptions from every source to date.

Segregated the amounts are:
Twin Falls community.....$45,030.00
Contact, Nev.....21,037.50
Elko, Nev.....1,900.00

Total.....$67,967.50

This week Filer enters the field of bonus survey, and Rugerson, too, will start canvassing committees exploring for funds to help make the south rail outfit possible. It is confidently expressed belief that before the end of the present week a big hole will be cut into the bonus total against which only whitening operations have been used in the past.

The required amount is $500,000. The foregoing total hardly makes an impression on the major amount, but the directing committee expresses strong confidence that the sum will be ultimately subscribed, and they also express satisfaction with the response to appeals thus far made.

The local canvassing committee started out again this morning intent upon covering a single block today.

OLD TRANSGRESSION HELD AGAINST THIERY

After Many Months Offender Is Picked Up and Must Serve Jail Term

Seventy-five days in the county jail is the sentence now imposed upon Albert Thiery in the police court this morning. Thiery was booked for drunkenness, being picked up Saturday night by the police. The heavy impost was not fixed simply because of a single offense, his trouble harking back to last December.

On that occasion Thiery offended against the law and was fined $25. He had no cash with him when he was tried and promised to return in a few days and liquidate. He failed to show up until his arrest Saturday. The magistrate recommended the old failure to fix a penalty this time to meet both transgressions.

JEWETT TO GIVE TALK

George Jewett, formerly vice-president of the Federal Land bank Spokane, and lately elected president of the Northwestern Wheat Growers' association, of which the Idaho organization is a branch, is to be in Twin Falls at an early date to address a meeting of wheat growers of this district, according to information received by Dr. John E. White through the office of Dan Fidler of Rockland, manager of the Idaho Wheat Growers' association. Dr. White is taking the lead in forming an organization here of the Wheat Growers' association.
