EARLY RETURNS FAVOR HARDING

OFFICE SEEKERS HAUNT HARDING HEADQUARTERS

Senator's Admirers, Confident of Republican Victory, Give Him Attention of Potential President

MARION, O. (AP)—While the nation was recording its decision today on the candidacy for president, Senator Harding put politics out of his mind and gave over the greater part of his time to a game of golf.

Arranging to visit the polls and cast his own vote early in the forenoon he chose to spend the remainder of the day away from Marion. He selected the Seltie club, near Columbus, for his golf game and was to make the forty mile trip back by motor late in the afternoon.

Tonight with Mrs. Harding and a circle of relatives and friends he will learn the result of the balloting at his home, where local republican leaders have planned a red fire celebration in his honor.

Smilingly Confident

If there was in the senator's manner any apprehension over the outcome, it did not manifest itself in his outward demeanor. He wore the same air of smiling confidence that has characterized his manner throughout his campaign and there was apparent an additional touch of satisfaction that the closing of political debate and maneuvering was over.

Mrs. Harding, his constant companion during his campaigning, appeared equally confident and she insisted on doing her full part to the end of the fight by accompanying him to the polls and casting her first vote for him. A slight cold kept her indoors yesterday but she said she felt much better today.

Vacation plans are in formulation for Mr. and Mrs. Harding but details have not been announced.

Office Seekers Rush

Many of the senator's admirers, already have given him the attention of a potential president, and the inevitable procession of office seekers has begun. Requests for appointment to positions coming from cabinet member down have reached Harding headquarters in quantity, and there has been a rush for postmasterships by many who are not aware that recent legislation has put these positions under the civil service.

One of those who offered to serve as secretary of state, wrote the senator that although he was young and inexperienced, he had honest purposes and high aims and was willing to take advice. His name never had been heard here by the candidate, or his advisers here.

CUBAN ELECTION CANVASS DRAGS

Coalition Candidate Leads Liberal Standard Bearer in Early Count

HAVANA, (AP)—Work of canvassing the vote of yesterday's presidential election moved fast last night, and it seems probable that if the rate of counting the ballots maintained last night is continued, the result of the presidential election in the United States today may be known by the time Cubans learn the name of their next president.

Returns from only 111 of the 3,000 precincts in Cuba had been received by the central election board up till the time it closed shortly before midnight. At that time Dr. Alfredo Zayas, coalition candidate, was leading General Jose Miguel Gomez, standard bearer of the liberal party, by 485 votes. The tabulation as announced by the electoral board gave Zayas 11,034 and Gomez 10,552.

Some of the liberals charged that the count was being held up by the government but this was denied by officials.

There was a feeling of intense relief when dispatches from all parts of the island indicated that the day had passed without serious outbreaks. The number of persons killed around the polling places was no greater than expected.

LESS DISTURBANCE REPORTED THAN IN PRIOR ELECTIONS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Reports to the state department today on the election in Cuba said that the voting proceeded quietly and that there was less disturbance than in any previous election.

The report, it was said, would be difficult to ascertain for some time at least the liberal candidate, General Miguel Gomez, appeared to be leading in early returns.

Russian Reds Ask England to Side Against Enemies

Bolshevik Leaders Request a Declaration Against Anti-Soviet Leaders

LONDON, (AP)—Assurances have been asked of Great Britain by the Russian soviet authorities that she will not countenance the military activities of General Bakalovich and Petliura, the anti-soviet commanders who continued hostilities against the Bolsheviks after the conclusion of the peace with Poland.

The request came through Gregory Kraisin, soviet representative in London, who yesterday handed a note to the British government complaining that notwithstanding the 1918 British armistice the forces of General Bakalovich and Petliura were continuing warfare on soviet Russia with the assistance, the note alleged, of the entente powers. The note asked that Great Britain make it plain that she would not give her approval to these forces in continuing the bloodshed.

IDAHO WEATHER

Tonight and Wednesday fair, warmest tonight north portion.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Men and women voters of the 48 sovereign states of the union went to the polls today to select a new president for the four years beginning March 4, next.

Before the dawn of another day has broken the country in all likelihood will know whether Warren G. Harding, republican, or James M. Cox, democrat, has been selected to succeed Woodrow Wilson. For it is generally agreed that, barring a miracle, none of the other candidates has a chance. This choice, it is estimated, will be registered by a record vote of between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 persons, many of whom are women who have been enfranchised since the last presidential election and are voting today for the first time.

Second only in interest to the contest for the presidency is the fight between the two major parties for the control of the next congress. Thirty-four United States senators, 21 to fill seats now held by 17 democrats and 15 republicans and two to fill the unexpired terms caused by the death of Senators Bankhead, Alabama, and Martin, Virginia, both democrats, are being chosen, as well as an entire new house of representatives, composed of 435 members.

The present senate is composed of 47 democrats, 48 republicans and one republican and progressive. The present house consists of 190 democrats and 232 republicans, two independent republicans, one independent and one prohibitionist. There are also nine unexpired seats.

Will H. Hays and George White, republican and democratic national chairmen, respectively, each continued confident of victory when the polls opened. Mr. Hays reiterated his prediction that the republican ticket was "certain to obtain 388 electoral votes" and that there was a strong possibility that the total might reach the 400 mark. A total of 286 is necessary to elect. Mr. White gave out no last minute prediction on the electoral vote, but renewed his expression of confidence in the election of Governor Cox. Each chairman also predicted control of the next congress by his party.

The campaign itself, waged principally around the issue of national unity, did not come to an end until an early hour this morning.

Unsettled weather, with the possibility of rain forced the early voters of the eastern states as they trudged to the polls to cast their ballots, while those of the upper Mississippi valley and northern New England and New York, ordered for the weather may prediction of snow. The rest of the country generally is expected to vote under clear skies.

For governor: Cox, 1904.
For governor: Allen (rep.), 3286; Davis (dem.), 2119.

The returns from several parts of the state indicated Senator Harding running far ahead of the other candidates on the republican ticket. Senator Curtis and Governor Allen were running ahead of their democratic opponents at approximately the same range.

The vote was from populous centers, where the double counting system is in operation:

TOPEKA, Kan., (AP)—Twenty-five precincts incomplete from Topeka give: Harding, 1771; Cox, 790.
Twenty-three precincts incomplete, give for United States senator: Curtis (rep.) 1503; Hodges (dem.) 828.
For governor: Allen, 1428; Davis, 821.

REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDES IN MASSACHUSETTS AND KANSAS ARE INDICATED

Bay State Voters Record Enormous Preference for Candidates of G. O. P.

FIRST REPORTS FROM OKLAHOMA GIVE LEAD TO BOURBON NOMINEE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Weather running the entire prognostic's gamut from "fair and warm" in the old south to "rain or snow" in the Great Lakes region, "clear skies" in the west and "unusual conditions" on the Atlantic seaboard, greeted the nation's voters today as they lined up at polling places to choose their next president.

Before noon scattering reports from the four corners of the country indicated that men and women alike were defying the elements where they threatened and going early to discharge their ancient prerogative, in the case of the men voters, and their new privilege, in that of the newly enfranchised women.

Nominees Vote Early.

The central figures in the contest voted early with their wives. Senator Harding, republican nominee for president, motored to the golf links after casting his ballot at Marion. Governor Cox of Ohio, the democratic choice, voted at Dayton and then went to his farm. Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts awaited return in Boston after voting in Northampton and, Franking D. Roosevelt withdrew to his country home at Hyde Park, overlooking the Hudson, after voting with a number of his relatives.

The Berkshire county town of New Ashford, in Massachusetts, was the first to report its final returns. By a vote of nearly 5 to 1, it concurred to the world its choice for the nation's chief executive. The vote was: Harding, 28; Cox, 6.

First returns from Kansas, where the contest appeared hot, gave Harding a slight advantage over Governor Cox. Late incomplete returns from 50 scattered precincts in the state gave Harding 1136 and Cox 592.

Women Crowd Polls.

Many polling places in several states notably Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, reported a woman vote more numerous than men in the morning balloting.

Arrangements for handling the voters in New York and Chicago proved inadequate to the increased number of voters. In Chicago ballot boxes were filled early and precinct officials were instructed to empty the ballots into bags.

Democrats in Distress.

Early in the day democratic national headquarters here sent out a distress signal. The landlord had locked the administrators of the party of Jefferson out of house and home at a moment when the administrators particularly wanted to be inside.

In a long statement, issued after a compromise had been effected and the double bars of the office doors let down, the chairman of the democratic national committee, secretary of the owners of the Grand Central Palace of attempting to "stop the entire machinery of the democratic national committee this morning." An hour or two later, however, the headquarters was buzzing with the same activity as prevailed its rival on Party fourth street, where republican leaders, linked with all parts of the country by telephone and telegraph wires, awaited the returns.

White Still Confident.

Mr. White said that the rent of the national committee office had been paid to November 1, and that an additional $1000 was tendered the landlord this morning to cover the additional period including election day.

The governor's letter, written in reply to one sent him by the association, said:

"It is my purpose to give every attention to the Russian situation. I have stated in the past my conviction that Russia should be enabled to work out her own salvation in her own way and be admitted to membership in the league of nations. America is interested in and should help the oppressed and starving of any nation. I shall support my policy which makes of America the moral and humanitarian leader of the world and I cannot in propriety at this time express what in friendly quarters might be seized upon as an ungracious criticism."

GUATEMALAN EXECUTIVE INVITES FOREIGN FUNDS

Seeks to Interest Outside Capital in Development of Huge Unexploited Area

GUATEMALA, (P)—President Herrera has undertaken to interest foreign capital in the development of some 15,000 square miles of unexploited territory in Guatemala which still awaits the hand of the pioneer and the invader to transform it into productive fields. As the first step he has created a new department of agriculture with a minister in his cabinet and has appointed as head of this department Antonio Boucayrol.

Both the president and the new minister have devoted the most part of their lives to agricultural development and are therefore keenly interested in providing encouragement to the farmers and planters. Both realize foreign investment must be encouraged to accomplish this end and believe that such aid must be expected as a result of diffusion of the knowledge that Guatemala has a safe and sane government, is a fit place to live in and has much territory as yet undeveloped.

DISORDERS DISCOURAGE IRISH TOURIST TRAFFIC

North Wales and Isle of Man Capture Visitors who Used to Go to Killarney and Glengarriff

DUBLIN, (P)—The tourist business in Ireland has been injuriously affected by the revolutionary disorders. Tourist agents and hotel keepers are in despair. North Wales and the Isle of Man have captured the visitors who used to come to Killarney and Glengarriff. There has been a notable absence of the usual influx of Americans. Dublin has suffered less proportionately than other places, but Dublin's visitors did not take the risk of leaving it for the provinces. There was no danger to life or limb, but the dislocation of the railway service caused by the refusal of the railway men to carry soldiers, police or marines, made the train service so uncertain that nobody could count safely on reaching or returning from any given destination within the limits of a holiday.

It is proposed to include the Baltic and border states in the newly formed bank's sphere of influence.

The Vossische's financial editor says that the lively interest displayed by the United States and England in Russian trade relations should be an incentive for Germany to turn her trade eye to the east.

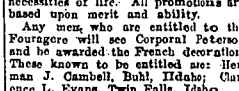

He declares that world conference will discuss the European situation in vain so long as they continue to exclude Russia from their economic calculations.

CHINA REUNITED PEKING REPORTS

Proclamation Calls for Election of New Parliament on Old Basis

PEKING, (AP)—The Peking government has just issued a proclamation declaring that there has been a reunion of north and south China and calling for the election of a new parliament on the basis of the old election regulations. The proclamation cites an announcement by General Tsin Chum-Huan, the chief of the southern military government, of the dissolution of that government and the recognition by the provinces of Kwangtung and Kwang-Hai of their status of independence.

This Peking proclamation has elicited a manifesto from the constitutionalists, leaders, Dr. Sun Yat-Sen and Tang Shao-Yi at Shanghai, declaring the constitutional government was still in existence and that they did not recognize the Peking proclamation as having any force. The alleged unity it declared, was based upon a peace agreement made by "irresponsible persons" and the manifesto charges that the proclamation constitutes an attempt to deceive foreigners for ulterior purposes and give life to an illegal government.

The view of the situation held here is that the Peking government has hope of reconciling the southern factions.

HUGE DEFICIT ADMITTED BY AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT

Constant Demands of the State Employees Create Heavy Drain on Funds

VIENNA, (AP)—A deficit government for the current year of 13,000,000 crowns is admitted by the finance department. Other estimates, however, place the deficit at 15,000,000 crowns. The constant demands of state employees for increased wages and allowances which the government cannot concede.

Replying to a delegation of civil servants the government admitted that there were 60,000 more employees on the payroll at present than were covered in the estimates. It was confessed that it was next to impossible to reduce the list and throw these people into the ranks of the unemployed with the approach of winter.

Social Democratic Party Makes Use of Propaganda to Influence Government During War

VIENNA, (AP)—The Social Democratic press has been busy with election propaganda some of the letters received at the instance of the Austro-Hungarian government during the war to pacify the discontent of the people. One taken from the Reichspost is captioned "A Soldier's Letter from Heaven" and reads:

"What you were recently told in this paper, the joys of the blessed did not by any means approach the truth. It is in reality far more beautiful. You people on earth can form no conception of the magnificence and splendor which surrounds the throne of the blessed Queen of Battles and of the delights which she holds in readiness for her soldier-children."

"You cherished the wish that I might return home and, having celebrated with you our victory, have continued to be your support as in bygone days. But I say, you what our Saviour said to his disciples before His ascension: 'It is well that I go from you.' In heaven I can help you far more than on earth. And who should I celebrate victories more beloved among you? I have won the true victory for all eternity. I daily thank the dear Virgin that she did not stay the bullet that pierced my heart."

Hunters Answer Call as Duck Season Opens

"The ducks are flying," is the glad news passed around among the hunters at this time of the year, for the duck hunting season has opened. Along the lakes and ocean marshes the duck hunters lie in wait with their decoys "planted" at the break of day. Oftentimes the patience and marksmanship of the duck hunter is rewarded by a fine bag of mallards or canvasbacks. This picture shows a successful hunter with his trophies just landing with his boat after a trip to the marshes where the wild ducks feed.

DOORN, Holland. (AP)—The village of Doorn now begins to look upon the former German emperor as a welcome guest. His residence here, under the new tax assessment levied on the village, is expected to increase the town's income by about $13,255 annually, being about 25 percent of the entire municipal tax receipts of Doorn. This is the municipal share of the anticipated revenue from taxation of William's income which the Dutch government has estimated at the normal equivalent of $525,000 annually.

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this remedy to use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—adv.

HOLLAND FACES KNOTTY EXTRADITION PROBLEM

Belgian Government Demands Surrender of Alleged Traitor or Fugitive

THE HAGUE, (AP)—Holland, which refused to surrender the former German emperor to the allies for trial, has another knotty problem in a demand from the Belgian government for the extradition of Professor de Vreeze, formerly librarian of Ghent university, a political refugee and now librarian at Rotterdam.

Professor de Vreeze is one of the Flemish Belgians who during the German occupation of their country sought, with German aid, to separate Flanders, the Dutch-speaking part of Belgium, from the French-speaking part. Many of them, when the armistice showed Germany beaten, fled to Holland. In their absence, they were convicted of treason and some of them are under sentence of death. Professor de Vreeze is accused as a leading "activist" in the Flemish separation movement. Considering this a political offense and therefore not extraditable, the Dutch government would not give him up.

Now at a time when relations between Holland and Belgium are strained because of commercial treaty complications and the renewed efforts of Belgian-Flemish activists toward the separatist movement, Belgium has demanded the extradition of De Vreeze, this time on grounds, which, if proved, Holland might consider, while it would not consider a political offense.

The charge, however, is only that Professor de Vreeze used for fuel at his home in Ghent some government property, such as oil boxes, old books and some coal which were on the premises of the library at Ghent.

It is hinted in Holland that this is only a subterfuge to get the professor across the frontier.

The Dutch government has named a commission to decide the case.

GOVERNOR COX VOTES BETIMES

Candidate Receives Neighborly Greetings and Good Wishes at Polls

DAYTON, O., (AP)—Governor Cox, the democratic presidential candidate, was an early voter today, but on arriving at the polls found more than 200 of his neighbors had cast their ballots ahead of him.

Accompanied by Mrs. Cox, the governor reached the polling place, a combination barber shop, store and print shop, at ten o'clock but found the waiting voters delayed the deposit of their ballots until 10:17 a. m. The polls were in Carmonte, a suburb of Dayton and about a mile from the Cox home, Trail's End.

"The vote cast by Mrs. Cox was not her first, she having lived in Illinois and voted at a state election a few years ago. In the voting booth here she showed her knowledge of the old Australian ballot, marking up four different forms composing it in two minutes and beating her husband by thirty seconds.

Neighborly greetings and good wishes from his friends greeted the candidate as he arrived at the polls.

A battery of cameras were centered on him as joining the line of voters the governor remarked to an elderly woman:

"There's a lot of excitement in Carmonte today."

"Yes, this town needs to be waked up," was her rejoinder.

After getting his ballot—number 288—the governor found himself without a pencil, but many were offered him, and the one he borrowed was returned to the owner, who remarked: "I'll keep this as a keepsake for the next president."

The candidate responded with a smile. Mrs. Cox's ballot was numbered 235, showing that 234 voters had preceded her and her husband to the polls.

The governor's special train arrived here before dawn from Toledo where he closed his campaign last night, and in the railroad yards the governor was seen by two sun-bonneted women who were cleaning up coaches.

"Hey Governor, come out here, I just voted for you," called one of the women.

The governor hurried to the rear platform and shook the woman's hand and said: "I'm very much obliged to you."

As a parting shot to his campaign, the governor issued an election day statement, in which he declared:

"I am confident that the cause for which I have fought during the entire campaign will be victorious today. The campaign has been based entirely upon a great moral issue, and in all the history of the world whenever a great moral issue has been presented to the people it has not failed. It will not fail today."

tion, was the senator's voting place today. It returned a democratic majority at the last election but the local republican managers predicted that it would go for Harding by a big margin today.

Observed at Polls.

Senator and Mrs. Harding reached the precinct voting place, a red brick garage, shortly after ten o'clock. They were cheered when they entered the building and several of those who were waiting ahead of them offered to give up their places to the senator and his wife, but the senator refused, however, and took his place thirteenth in the line, with Mrs. Harding just ahead of him.

A half dozen spotlights were concentrated on them and a battery of cameras clicked away as the nominee and his wife waited their turn. Mr. Harding took orders from the photographers and naturally, as he got the crowd laughing by mimicking the movie men.

"That's right, let's keep this scenario going good," he said, "you know you only vote for yourself for president once."

Mrs. Harding's voting number was 303 and her husband's 304 in a ward whose registered vote is about 500. As they emerged from the voting booths the spotlights flared on them again and there was another burst of cheering as they battled over their ballots to the election judge.

Deliberate Birthday

After he had voted Senator Harding remained near the voting place for a half hour chatting with his neighbors as they crowded around to express a hope that he would be victorious in the day's balloting. Many of them also extended birthday greetings for Mr. Harding was born fifty-five years ago today.

A great bundle of congratulatory birthday messages and advance congratulations on the election result had been received at Harding headquarters long before noon.

BILLIE'S SPRINGTIME

"I'd like to tell my story," said Billie to the Fairy Wondrous Secrets. "Folk are always wondering what babies think about and what they are planning to do when they grow up. If they are planning to do anything or not. They wonder so much about us, and so I'd like to tell my story. I don't know about other babies. But I would like to tell about myself, if no one minds."

"I'd like to hear," said the Fairy Wondrous Secrets.

Now Billie was in a baby carriage which was out on the front porch of a little house in the country. Billie's mother was busy and so was Billie's daddy, but Billie, they know, was quite safe in the carriage on the porch where the soft spring air was blowing.

No one was around but the Fairy Wondrous Secrets and if anyone came around the Fairy Wondrous Secrets would have vanished quickly.

"I'm really a little girl," Billie began, "though my name is something like a boy's name I believe. You see my great big daddy's name is Bill and my mother would name me after him. She couldn't have my real name, Billie, so she had every one call me that, so it's my daytime, every-day name, and my best, dress-up name is Mary Ann, or Marion or some such like name after my mother."

"I came to the world in December," said Billie. "You see, Fairy, I thought it would be fun to arrive in the world when everything was so exciting. Christmas was coming on and it was very dry and merry."

"I've had a nice winter, but now is the best time I've known for it's springtime, and I'll tell you, Fairy Wondrous Secrets, I feel as though it were all my own springtime."

"I feel the soft, warm wind blow over my little pink cheeks which every one admires so much and I smile and I croon and I make soft, little giggling sounds like the trees do. And I look around to smile at the trees and the bushes too and to let them see my blue eyes. I ask them if they think my eyes look like the blue sky, for the bushes and the trees are always looking up at the sky so they should surely know."

"I can see the yellow forsythia upon the bushes, and how gay and lovely it is. The lilacs are in bud, and there are white blossoms on the bushes. Back of our house there are some waterfalls and they laugh and gurgle as they dash over the rocks something the way I laugh and gurgle."

Aged Indian Has Spent 36 Years in Prison

Charles Buckner, known as "Indian Dick."

Charles Buckner, known as "Indian Dick," has the distinction of having spent more years in a California prison than any other man in the world. Buckner recently arrived in San Francisco after serving thirty-six years in San Quentin and Folsom penitentiaries for the killing of seven Chinese mine claim jumpers in El Dorado County, Cal. It is said that Buckner purchased a rifle to kill the Chinese. The rifle was returned to shoot straight and when he missed one of his victims he returned to the store and is said to have demanded his money back.

"I and I splash and kick and laugh and have such a good time! I don't care if the water spins over the rocks, more than I imagine the water-falls care that they spill water over the rocks. They enjoy it! So do I!"

"I can see the ducks and hear them quack, quack. I hear that sometimes say that my yellow eggs a day. The chickens and the waterfowl are everywhere walk about and chatter, and one day, a lady passed and said 'Hello' to a chicken and the chicken got up from the ground most politely like a mannerly person would do I told."

The pussy willows are out and the skunk-cabbage is in bloom and there are red flowers and yellow flowers and little star flowers. The trees are full of buds or little leaves or blossoms of different colors. There is a little turtle who is sunning himself by the brook nearby and who is an interesting creature, I have heard. He wears a shell over his back like I wear a little knitted jacket."

"At night I hear the crickets when I wake up for my bottle. And I believe these creatures all like the country, too. The chickens and the ducks say that in the cities they aren't allowed and they wouldn't be allowed to wander about so they wouldn't leave the country for anything."

"And one evening I saw a moon in the sky. My daddy told me it was a moon and surely he knows! And over the moon there was a bright gold star, and I made a wish. This was my wish: that other babies might have happy homes like I have, where they don't want to cry, because there is no reason to cry. I'm well looked after, I'm never spoiled and they love me; so why should I cry? But what I'm thinking about mostly these days is of how lucky I am to have such a daddy and mother and to see the beautiful springtime in the country."

Rudyard Kipling's Autograph.

They say that a bank check bearing the signature of Rudyard Kipling fetches a bigger price for its autograph than for the amount of money named in the check. Probably much depends on the size of the check. A distinguished poet of Boston once sent a poetic contribution to a well-known periodical. It was promptly accepted and published and in due course he received a check for $3 for it. Instead of cashing the check he had it mounted, framed and hung up in his library for the edification and amusement of his friends. Possibly Mr. Kipling may have had similar experience to verify the current item about the autographic and cost value of checks sent to him.—Boston Globe.

SKYS CLEAR AFTER RAIN OVER ELECTORS OF OHIO
COLUMBUS, O., (P)—A heavy downpour of rain in portions of Ohio this morning threatened to dampen the ardor of early morning voters and delay the casting of what promised to be a record vote in one of the earliest fought political campaigns in the state's history. Clearing skies and cooler weather were promised later in the day.

Party leaders and workers were early out and exerting every effort to get out the full voting strength of their organizations. Early indications were, despite the rainfalls, practically every person eligible to vote would, before nightfall, have cast his or her ballot. Women voters plus the enormous increase in men voters, are expected to swell Ohio's vote to more than 2,000,000. The previous record was 1,165,000 cast in 1916.

REPORTS OF IRREGULARITIES COME EARLY IN CHICAGO
CHICAGO, (P)—Voting was heavy in Chicago early today in spite of cold weather with traces of snow. The gubernatorial race between Len Small, republican, and James Hamilton Lewis, democratic, involved various party factions, and attracted much interest. Reports of irregularities at polling places were reported to the authorities early, and special details of police and investigators were sent to precincts where clashes were feared.

HEAVY VOTE BEING CAST FOR ELECTORS OF MISSOURI
ST. LOUIS, Mo., (P)—A heavy vote was being cast in Missouri today, despite threatening weather in parts of the state. In St. Louis voters formed lines at the balloting places long before they were opened and held their places despite freezing temperatures and cloudy sky. Throughout the morning votes were cast at the rate of one a minute here, according to election officials. Leaders of both major parties continued to confer at the precincts, each claiming that the state was leaning its way.

SENATORIAL FIGHT MAKES FOR HEAVY VOTE IN IOWA
DES MOINES, Ia., (P)—Early reports indicated heavy voting at the opening of the polls in Iowa generally. Interest was keen in the race of Senator A. B. Cummins, republican, and Claude R. Porter, democratic, for United States senator. In the central part of the state, a light snow was on the ground.

CLEAR WEATHER PREVAILS OVER INDIANA POLLING PLACES
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (P)—Early reports indicated a heavy vote in the general election in Indiana today. Clear weather prevailed. The most important state issue was the election of United States senator. United States Senator James E. Watson, republican, seeks re-election. His opponent is former United States Senator Thomas Taggart, democratic.

NEBRASKA VOTERS DISPLAY LIVELY INTEREST IN RESULT
OMAHA, Neb., (P)—A heavy vote by both men and women was cast in Omaha during the forenoon, indicating a lively interest in the outcome of the various contests. Clear cool weather was general throughout the state. Traffic facilities, however, felt the effect of yesterday's storm, telephone officials reported wires out of commission in at least five counties.

MANY WOMEN ARE EARLY VOTERS IN MILWAUKEE
MILWAUKEE, Wis., (P)—Voting started in Milwaukee with a rush, many women being among the early voters. Judging from the time it took to mark ballots the apparently was much "scratching." The weather early was cloudy and cold.

RECORD VOTE FORECAST WHEN KANSAS POLLS OPEN
TOPEKA, Kan., (P)—A record vote, possibly 650,000 or over was forecast when the polls in the general election opened in Kansas today. Four years ago the vote was 629,813.

MICHIGAN VOTERS GOING TO POLLS IN DRIZZLING RAIN
DETROIT, Mich., (P)—Reports from throughout Michigan this forenoon indicated a record vote was being cast despite a drizzling rain, prevailing throughout the lower peninsula during the forenoon. The advice indicated that women made up from one third to one half of the early voters. Some confusion occurred in Grand Rapids where several hundred voters who registered at the city hall could not be identified in the precinct files.

Some confusion occurred in Grand Rapids where several hundred voters who registered at the city hall could not be identified in the precinct files.

COLORED WOMEN REFUSED BALLOTS IN SAVANNAH
SAVANNAH, Ga., (P)—Negro women were refused ballots at the voting places in Savannah today. Many negro women have registered here since a decision was made by the state to allow the suffrage amendment became effective, but the election judges ruled that they were not entitled to vote because of a state law which requires registration six months before an election. No white women presented themselves early at the polls.

WEST VIRGINIA VOTERS TRUDGE THROUGH DRIZZLE
CHARLESTON, W. Va., (P)—In spite of a drizzling rain, West Virginia voters today went early to the polls, in many instances whole families going together. At Snowhill, Kanawha county, a ballot box was reported stolen and federal agents were sent there.

WOMEN'S VOTES EXPECTED TO SWELL OKLAHOMA VOTE
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., (P)—Women were expected to increase the Oklahoma vote to more than 400,000 in the election today. There was no gubernatorial contest, and interest centered in the senatorial and congressional races.

REPUBLICANS IN ARKANSAS SEEK TO BREAK DELEGATION
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., (P)—With republicans centering their efforts in the third district to bring about a break in the solid democratic delegation to come the voters of Arkansas today cast their ballots for candidates from president to the lesser offices.

The third district contest was between John N. Tillman, democratic incumbent, and John I. Worthington, republican.

LOW PAY FOR ELECTION VOTING OFFICIALS DELAYS VOTING
COLUMBIA, S. C., (P)—Disinclination of election managers to accept the authorized pay of a dollar a day resulted in the ballot boxes in several Columbia precincts still remaining unopened at 6 o'clock. Election managers were on hand in only one of the 11 precincts of the city. Later two or three managers were sworn in.

UNUSUALLY LARGE VOTE IS INDICATED IN TEXAS
DALLAS, Texas, (P)—With generally fair but cold weather promised, an unusually large vote was expected in Texas today. The democrats predicted the usual success for their entire state ticket. The republicans claimed victory in the ninth and fourteenth congressional districts and also characterized the sixth district as "doubtful."

Chief interest in the newly formed American party, which waged a vigorous state campaign, centered in the number of votes it would poll. This party formed at Fort Worth a year ago is headed by former Governor James E. Ferguson, for president of the United States and T. H. McGregor, for governor of Texas.

EARLY INDICATIONS POINT TO HEAVY VOTE IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, (P)—Early indications were that a heavy vote would be cast in the five boroughs of greater New York today.

When the polls were opened this morning short lines of voters, including women, were outside the numerous polling booths in all parts of the city. The lines lengthened, however, as the housewives and women office employees began to arrive. Indications that interest in the election was more than usually acute was shown in the heavy ballot cast in the 44th election district, a sector favored by actors and theatrical workers, who ordinarily are late sleepers. New York state's citizenry went to the polls in large numbers early today, and officials predicted that at the close of the ballot boxes at 6 o'clock tonight, there would be three millions of the 3,500,000 qualified men and women will have expressed their choice for national, state and local officers.

Secretary of State Hugo has sent 20,000 ballots to soldiers, sailors and marines in overseas service. These votes will be counted in December. Governor Alfred E. Smith, democrat, seeking re-election, is opposed by Nathan I. Miller, of Syracuse, former judge of the court of appeals. United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., republican, a candidate for re-election is opposed by Lieutenant Governor Harry C. Walker.

There also are before the voters a proposition to issue $45,000,000 for soldiers bonuses.

OVERCAST SKIES GREET MASSACHUSETTS ELECTORS
BOSTON, Mass., (P)—An overcast sky that carried a threat of rain greeted Massachusetts voters, many of whom went to the polls early today to cast their ballots for presidential electors, congressmen and state officers. Predictions were made that 800,000 ballots would be marked in the state.

Department stores and numerous retail establishments in Boston remained closed until 10 a. m. to give employees, particularly women, sufficient time to vote.

NEW JERSEY VOTERS TURN OUT IN FORCE
TRENTON, N. J., (P)—New Jersey voters, under a forecast of inclement weather, turned out in force with the opening of the polls at six o'clock this morning. Wet and dry issues involved in several congressional contests.

ELECTION OFFICIALS PREDICT HEAVY VOTING IN SOUTE
ATLANTA, Ga., (P)—Heavy voting throughout the south, with thousands of women casting their first ballots for president, was predicted by election officials when the polls opened today. Favorable weather conditions were expected to prevail during the day in most localities, although showers had been forecast for states along the Atlantic seaboard.

Election day found democratic leaders confident they would make clean sweep in all southern states. The republicans, however, claimed they would be able to elect their congressional candidates in at least half a dozen senatorial districts. The election of Colonel A. I. Taylor, the republican gubernatorial nominee in Tennessee was forecast by his supporters, who said his majority would be at least 10,000.

Tennessee democrats, however, claim the reelection of Governor Roberts and are predicting that Governor Cox will carry the state by 40,000 majority. Republican state chairman John J. Gore has contended that Senator Harding probably would lose the state by a narrow margin.

SHIP GUARDS OPEN FIRE ON CHINESE MUTINEERS

Eleven Orientals are Wounded on British Vessel at New Orleans when Officers Use Pistols

NEW ORLEANS, La., (P)—Eleven Chinese members of the crew of the British steamship Elm Leaf were wounded early today when guards resorted to pistol fire to quell a mutiny aboard the vessel.

Twenty-four Chinese participated in the riot which was precipitated when officers of the ship announced their compliance with federal regulations no shore leave would be granted. According to reports submitted at the customs house the Chinese armed themselves with knives, pieces of pipe and scrap iron and rushed from the forecastle in an effort to overwhelm the guards. A number got over the ship and hid themselves in the woods bordering the river. The rapid firing of the guards influenced most of those not wounded to surrender. Two of the wounded will die, according to reports. The Elm Leaf is anchored at Good Hope, about 15 miles above New Orleans. The vessel is operated between New Orleans and Tampa.

FOR BIG GAME

NEW YORK, (P)—University of Nebraska's heavy football team invaded the Polo grounds today to test the prowess of the Bears college eleven. The graduates of the western institution on the east planned to turn out in force and root for the cornhuskers. A box was reserved for General John J. Pershing, an alumnus and former instructor in mathematics at the University.

GENERAL ELECTION BRINGS OUT COMMANDING VOTE IN ALL TWIN FALLS CITY PRECINCTS; RUSH AT NOON UNPRECEDENTED--JUDGES WORK

Enfranchised Citizens Start Casting Ballots Early and Continue in Steady Stream before Clerks with a Distinct Flurry at Mid-day--Secret Counting Holds Attention of Judges

Local interest in today's election was markedly more keen than has evolved at any other voting here not expecting the election four years ago when the issue of the war held sway over all human impulses.

Today's interest is manifested in the early vote which up to noon was more than 1,000 out of an approximate total registration of 5,200. Judges believe that practically the full registration will be voted before the close of polls at 8 o'clock this evening.

Up to the noon hour the vote by precincts was about as follows:

No. 1, Lavering pavilion, 185; No. 2, court house, 153; No. 3, Smith Motor company, 180; No. 4, McKinstor building, 152; No. 5, Bickel school, 91; No. 6, Lincoln school, 190; No. 7, Washington school, 129.

During the period between 12 noon and 1:30 the rush at the polls was at peak for the day, but even this rush is expected to be eclipsed after work hours this evening. Prior to noon voting at all headquarters was a steady flow, and the same condition obtained after the noon hour had subsided.

Involving the intensity of interest in the election, and the advantage taken of the noon period to cast ballots district No. 5 stands out as a worthy example. At noon votes cast numbered 91 at the Bickel school. Two hours later the total ballot record was 208.

The same ratio of increase was reported at all other voting places. Judges of election started their job of counting ballots in all precincts as soon as a legal number of votes had been cast. The work is strictly secret, with no limitation of the flow of votes one way or another being given out. Officials of both major parties, however, aver confidence in the success of their sides at the conclusion of balloting.

FARM PROFITS NOT EXCESSIVE

The United States department of agriculture has made a study of three farm areas—one in Ohio, another in Indiana and the third in Wisconsin—and it is developed that farmers are making an average of five per cent on their investments in land and equipment.

This investigation has also disclosed that the average profit of these farmers in a year does not exceed $500, which is slightly less than $10 a week. Almost any good mechanic will earn that much in a single day, and common labor will earn the sum in two days.

Persons living in the cities, paying high prices for all the products of the farm, sometimes get the idea that the farmers must be getting enormously rich, but they do not take into consideration that the average farmer—the one who does not market his produce direct to the consumer—gets in most cases less than half and in some cases only one-fourth of the retail price charged.

Another thing that cuts the farmer's income is the high cost of practically everything that enters into the business of farming. Even though the farmer gets what is considered a good price for wheat and other grains, the cost of production almost eliminates any profit.

The continued drift of farmers to the cities is partly explained by the fact that so little is left to the raisers of food products after the cost has been deducted. The farmer and his family get the bulk of their living, of course, but the net returns on the investments for owning and operating a farm are less than a savings bank will pay and considerably less than could be secured from good industrial stocks.

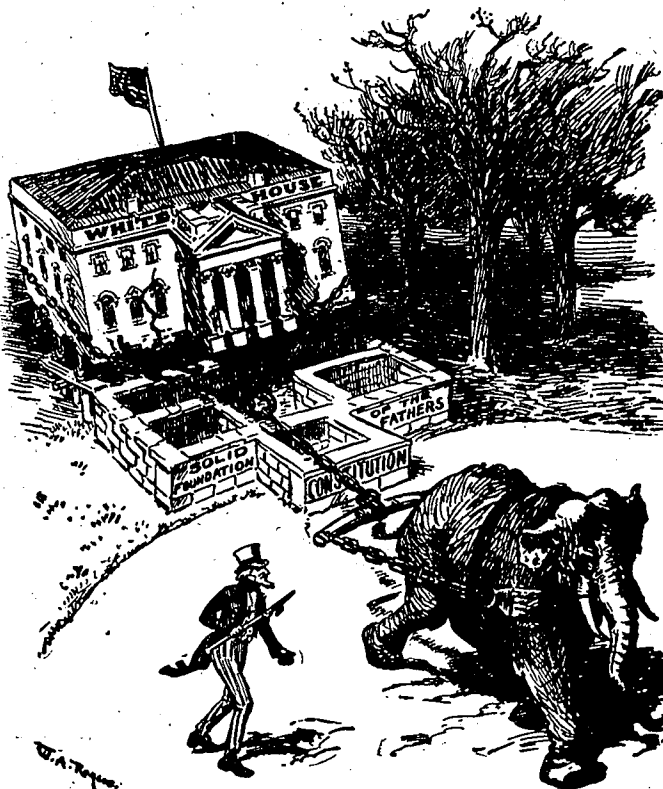

It will not do to judge farming by the fine properties which have been developed in many western states—farms which can be operated by machinery on a large scale, and with a minimum of expense. The great number of farmers are working under unfavorable conditions, which impose the biggest costs with the least returns for money invested.

NEW FACTORS IN TRANSPORTATION

To Alaska and return by airplane has been demonstrated possible by four American army fliers. Covering 9,000 miles in 110 hours, these intrepid bird-men have set a new record for aviation in this country. Less spectacular but perhaps more indicative of the future of aviation, is the report of the splendid record made by the regular airplane service between London and Paris, in which but 17 out of 166 flights scheduled were prevented or interrupted. And as indicating the comparative trustworthiness of the machines, it is recorded that but three flights were hindered by mechanical defects. The other 14 interruptions were due to the weather conditions.

An authority on aeronautics in America recently made the statement that the development of commercial aviation now awaited only suitable landing places to the commercial centers. It is a little hard to get the work-a-day world to notice the approach of this comparative revolution in the methods of rapid transit. But the successes achieved must be taken as conclusive proof that the airplane in passenger and express transportation has demonstrated that it is worthy of recognition. Practical aviation has come to stay, and progressive communities must soon make provision for its reception and accommodation.

THE ANT AND THE GRASSHOPPER

A day in the fields or woods in the slipping air of the late fall cannot but put new heart into the worker whose tasks keep him indoors six days a week. Perhaps, on a ramble across the stubble, you have sometimes come upon the withered remains of a grasshopper or an antskill overturned by the mowers. And if you have, the chances are you've taken a deep draught at your pipe and philosophized after the fashion of La Fontaine who told the fable of the Grasshopper and the Ant.

"You have sung all summer," explains the Ant in high dorian. "Very well, now you may dance."

Now to spoil your day, or your philosophy, comes Fabre, the French naturalist, to tell a different story. It is the grasshopper who is industrious, Fabre tells us, and the ant who is a parasite. When a grasshopper sticks his miniature suction pump into a cache of honey, the ants swarm about by the thousand to rob him. The grasshopper does not mind. He takes his fill and then, flying off, expects rates on all his little enemies just as, if you hold him, he will spit "toxic juice" on your finger.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard," may have to be revised when the naturalist gets through to "go to the grasshopper."

SPUD GROWERS HAVE LITTLE CAUSE FOR JOY

Low Market Price, Few Cars and No Storage Causes No Optimism

It is impossible to ask potato growers of eastern Idaho to be other than pessimistic. A low market, early snowstorms, freezes and car shortage seem to have combined against the producers of the famed Idaho spud, says a writer in the Weekly Market Bulletin. On the other hand, the writer continues, potato growers may find some solace in the thought that had they produced wheat or hay instead of potatoes, they would have found the same depressed market. No doubt these growers would eagerly grasp any advice as to whether they should store their potatoes and hope for a better price or as to whether they should sell at the present price, but apparently no one is capable of advising them.

At the outset, the estimated crop for the United States of 414,986,000 bushels would discourage the thought of a high market because it is an abnormal crop and because it is seldom that more than 1 per cent of our potato crop is exported. Furthermore, potatoes are a perishable product and cannot be carried over from one season to another. It is readily apparent that the poorest among us can now have an abundant supply of potatoes, while not twelve months ago they were considered with other luxuries and could be eaten only by inhabitants of farms and the city rich.

It is still possible that this crop, estimated in much larger figures, may be reduced by inclement weather and freezes. At present it appears that Idaho's output will be considerably decreased because of the inability of producers to successfully harvest, and because of the severe inroads of disease.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—flavor grained.

"Some Biscuit!"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all-satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Biscuit Recipe

How To Plant An Advertising Crop

Until the advent of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, advertisers sowed their business seed in a vast but fallow field. Some of it grew and returned a fair harvest—much of it was cast upon barren ground and was lost. There was no standardized method of determining the fertility of a publication's field. Experimenting was expensive.

The A. B. C. has eliminated the barren spots of circulation. Planting an advertising crop is no longer an experiment. Advertisers know the field through audit reports. They know whether it is fertile ground and sow their seed accordingly.

The News' circulation has been audited by the A. B. C. Advertisements placed in this publication are seeds well sown.

A commonplace life, we say and we sigh:
 Yet why do we sigh as we say?
 The commonplace sun in the commonplace sky
 Makes up the commonplace day.

FOOD FOR THE ILL

Indigestion, stomach trouble of various kinds as well as intestinal troubles have as many forms and causes that it is never safe to trust one's own ideas in the regard of food one should eat.

A dining room will give a list of various foods it is safe to eat; however it is probable that tonight when in lightly toasted on the outside, soft and full of moisture inside is unwholesome for the most healthy stomach. Toast should be made of bread at least two days old, cut one-half inch thick and dried for a few minutes in the oven to remove any moisture, then while still hot from the oven slowly soaked a golden brown. Too many cooks serve toast by the recipe given by the small boy "toast bread with butter, then scrape it at the kitchen sink."

Eggs, milk and combinations of eggs and milk when carefully prepared in regard to the one who is to eat the dish are foods which will be taken with comfort.

Custards of all kinds, cooked just long enough to be smooth and velvety are not monotonous though served often.

Fried foods of all kinds should be eliminated as they are especially hard to digest.

Fruit juices, jellies, gelatin dishes and sea moss are desserts which may be commonly served in ordinary cases.

Apple Custard—Take five well-beaten eggs, add a quart of milk and one pint of strained apple sauce. Sweeten and flavor to taste and bake carefully until firm. Set the pan of custard into a pan of hot water to bake.

Jon Villa, dean of all New York baseball writers, recently made a canon of the situation around his ball park which he included in sentiment concerning the 12-club league proposal.

Joe says there is no sentiment among Great League players for proposal, except a "hell, no!" feeling.

Abe Attell says both he and Hal Chasen came out of the series perving broke flat.

A statement hard to believe.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, says he is strong for purifying baseball.

Last summer Jaws spent the greater part of the time working on Roger Hornsby in an attempt to dissatisfy the Cardinal infielder with his berth. But perhaps Jaws wouldn't mind the purify squad working on him a bit.

But speaking of purify in baseball, the men who are back of the movement are: John Hoyer, president of the National league, who whitewashed Hal Chasen, considered the arch-enemy of the Yankees who signed Carl Mays after that baseball artist had quit another club which held his contract, and one or two others.

All these men are after Ban Johnson's scalp, and would do anything to get it. Which seems to be the big motive behind the Lasker plan of baseball government.

Charlie O'Leary, former star infielder of the Detroit club, says baseball reforms are needed but wants them worked out without so much publicity.

Rube Marquand says there is a conspiracy on foot to drive him out of baseball.

Quite probable the conspirators for him to offer for sale tickets to the late series at an exorbitant price.

Sugar and Crime.
 The observation has been made in the English courts that 90 per cent of the children brought up for trial were accused of stealing sweets. Wonderful Shakespeare.
 Among the English authors, Shakespeare has incomparably excelled all others. Why "Leap Year."
 The name "Leap Year" is supposed to have grown out of King Henry's proclamation making February 28 and 29 legally one day. Another theory connected with it is that the leap year of the 28th day of February to the first of March.

REPORT RENDERED BY RED CROSS SECTION

Home Service Department
Makes Statement of Work
Performed

Following is the report of the work of the home service section of the Twin Falls County Chapter of the American Red Cross, since the office was opened in 1918. Also the amount of money expended for relief purposes and in maintaining the office of the organization.

There have been 119 applications for compensation by men who were disabled in the service, that have gone through this office. One in 1918, 40 in 1919 and 69 in 1920 up to the present time. There are still many who have not claimed compensation who may do so later. Eighty of these claims have been allowed, 21 are pending, two of the claimants died soon after the papers were sent in, one was disallowed and 15 have not been reported as to whether or not claims were allowed or not. Most of these have been in community without leaving an address.

Out of this 119, 103 have applied for vocational training. Seventy of these have been approved, 39 being in training at this time, of the other 34, eight will enter within a month and eight remainders are either postponed their training or have decided not to take advantage of the opportunity. Of the remaining 20 who have applied, one has been disallowed, and the rest are pending.

There have been 129 applications for travel pay that was still due, and 30 for the $60 bonus that should have been paid at date of discharge. Twenty-eight have asked assistance in getting liberty bonds that were not delivered. Ninety-seven have been sent for lack of allotment and allowance and 36 have been applied for the Victory medal.

There have been many other inquiries of all kinds; for equipment, for lack pay, for addresses of men in the service, but not heard from, for naturalization papers, for certificates in lieu of discharges that have been lost, for reimbursement of expenses that the government should stand, for lost belongings of ex-soldiers, and work that is necessary because of neglect or poor work done in service or for work that was started and not finished.

A large part of the work has been in reinstating and converting the government insurance, and in sending out letters to men whose eighteen months are almost up, to get their insurance reinstated. Sixty-eight have reinstated their insurance, amounting to $107,000. Twenty-nine have converted their insurance to permanent forms as follows:

Six to ordinary life, amounting to $20,000.
Eight to 20-payment life, amounting to $20,000.
Eight to 20-year endowment amounting to $37,000.
Seven to endowment at 662 years, to $40,000.

During the last three years, financial assistance has been given to the amount of $7314.97. Much of this has gone to civilian families, and included as do all the figures, the cost of the chapter jurisdiction. During the influenza epidemic last year $326.60 was paid out for nursing.

The expense of maintaining the office since it was started amounted to $3077.00. These expenditures have had the approval of the executive board of the chapter.

Many think that because the war is over, the work is done, but a representative of the service and information branch of the army, who has been in the summer, said that it had been estimated that there still remained to be adjusted, an average of three claims for every service man.

Potato Shipping Takes Slump, Due to Weak Market

Railroad Agent Tells of Failure of Shippers to Use Cars Furnished

Due, probably, to the low condition of the potato market and leading at the local railroad has subsided materially in the past few days, according to D. E. Sullivan, general agent of the O. R. L.

Mr. Sullivan is authority for the statement that there are now on hand at the local yards 17 empty refrigerator cars ordered for potato loading, and which the shippers have turned back to the company on canceled orders.

During the month of October a total of 110 carloads of potatoes was shipped out of Twin Falls as against 107 for October, 1919. There were 45 carloads of apples sent forward, a reduction of 50 cars over 1919.

Potato Shipping Takes Slump, Due to Weak Market

Railroad Agent Tells of Failure of Shippers to Use Cars Furnished

Due, probably, to the low condition of the potato market and leading at the local railroad has subsided materially in the past few days, according to D. E. Sullivan, general agent of the O. R. L.

Mr. Sullivan is authority for the statement that there are now on hand at the local yards 17 empty refrigerator cars ordered for potato loading, and which the shippers have turned back to the company on canceled orders.

During the month of October a total of 110 carloads of potatoes was shipped out of Twin Falls as against 107 for October, 1919. There were 45 carloads of apples sent forward, a reduction of 50 cars over 1919.
