Twenty-two Persons are Known to Have Lost Lives in Disaster Caused by Quake and Tidal Wave

ROME. (AP)—New earthquake shocks have completed the destruction of the Albanian village of Tepeleni, 32 miles southeast of Avlona, according to reports from Brindisi. Twenty-two persons are known to have lost their lives. Exact details of the situation have not been learned owing to the interruption of communications between Avlona and the stricken village. Serious earth- quakes took place in the Tepeleni district early this month, an area of 40 square miles being shaken and many villages reduced to ruins. Advice state that Commander Puglaro, his two daughters, 17 sailors and two non-com missioned officers lost their lives on the island of Saseno, at the entrance of the Bay of Avlona, when land slides buried the houses in which the com- mander lived. It is said the hospital on the island of Saseno has disap- peared.

This announcement is considered as an answer to representations from the Russian Bolsheviks, who are entertain- ing suspicion that Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the nationalist chief, is plan- ning a compromise with the allies in the event the latter offer certain con- cessions.

PHYSICAL TEST SHOWS NO HARM TO CHAMP'S EAR

Reports of Damage in Brennan Fight are Refuted in Close Examination

CHICAGO. (AP)—A score of newspa- per reporters last night put Jack Demp- sey through a series of tests, many patterned after those used in the war in examining applicants for the air service, in an effort to confirm the heavyweight champion's claim that neither of his ears had been seriously injured by the blow of Bill Brennan in their fight and Dempsey came through all of them successfully. Reports that one ear virtually was torn off and that a distance of 200 feet and most other tests, but in no case was there any indication that the fighter had sustained serious injury. The only mark he bore was a slight scratch on the lobe of one ear.

B. Loomis, principal at the Hyde- park school, announced today. It was alleged that a University of Chicago freshman played for Hyde park.

BILL MCCARTHY PULLS A GROUCH OVER ELECTION

Because it Wasn't Unanimous President of Coast League Declines Job

SACRAMENTO, Cal., (AP)—Because of what he termed a movement to "oust" him from the presidency of the Pacific Coast league, W. H. McCar- thy of San Francisco today twice refused reelection to that office. The second tender was made after the an- nual of the post had been increased to $10,000, double its former figure. McCarthy said an effort was being made to make him pay the penalty for his stand in the Rumlery case. McCarthy last summer demitted and obtained the release of William G. Rumlery of the Salt Lake club on the charges of alleged irregularities in the 1919 coast league pennant race, in con- nection with which Rumlery now is under indictment in Los Angeles. McCarthy consented to serve until his successor could be chosen, however, which probably would be at a meeting next month at some city not yet nam- ed. League members who had opposed McCarthy's retention of the presi- dency at an increased salary after they had voted to offer him $10,000 a year for three years, joined in the attempt to persuade him to take the place.

RAILWAY LABOR BOARD EXCEPTS ELECTRIC LINES

Denies Own Jurisdiction Over Interurbans in Refusal to Hear Employees' Appeals for Airing of Grievances

CHICAGO, (AP)—The United States railroad labor board handed down a decision today which, according to each Commins transportation act to mean that the board does not have jurisdiction over any interurban or electric lines. Appeals from employees on various electric lines, asking the board to hear their grievances, were denied. Arguments in the case were heard several months ago. Members of the board stated at the time their belief that, regardless of which side won, the matter would be appealed to the United States supreme court for interpretation of the transportation act. The decision was rendered in cases brought by the sixteen railway brotherhoods against 11 electric lines, whose employees have just been recognized as unions of steam road employees. The roads involved included the Spokane and Eastern Railway and Power Company, International Railway of Des Moines and Interurban Electric Lines, the Moines and Southern railroad, Pacific Electric Railway company and Denver and Interurban railroad.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, said one of the framers of the transportation act, said today that the decision of the railroad labor board that the act did not apply to interurban electric lines was not in accord with the intention of the framers of the measure.

BRITONS DIVIDE

and Finland, which have been made members of the league, had seats in today's meeting, but did not participate in the proceedings. It was expected to secure the proper credentials in the short space of time which has intervened since these nations were accorded membership. The formal signing of the protocol by the representatives of a number of nations accepting jurisdiction of the international court was planned to be held at headquarters of the league secretariat this afternoon.

Puts Limits on Mandates

The general conclusions of the mandate committee's report, which was awaited with much interest, were that the council of the league had adopted a policy of non-interference. That there was no opportunity to discuss them publicly before they went into force; that the mandatory nations should not resort to arbitrary jurisdiction over them, nor profit from their trust in exploiting for their own benefit the natural resources of those territories.

Takes Council to Task

Lord Robert Cecil, in presenting the report, suggested that at least one woman should be appointed a member of the mandate commission since that body will have much to do regarding women and children in mandated territories.

INITIAL STEPS

MARION, O. (AP)—In another set of conferences today, President-elect Harding heard and advised the two subjects which for the present bulk largest in his mind, the choice of a cabinet and the formulation of a plan for world peace.

On the proposal for an association of nations, which has taken more definite form as a result of his consultations here, he again conferred with Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, a democrat, who took a leading part in the fight of senate intransigence against the Versailles league.

Another on the President-elect's appointment list was Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, a student of international law and an advocate of ratification of the Versailles treaty with reservations. Mr. Butler, pre-convention, manager for Senator Harding and since the Chicago convention one of his closest advisers, and Senator Harry S. Today's Markets

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—The stock market became unsteady again today as the irregular opening of today's short session. Shorts experienced little difficulty in depressing prices, there being virtually no support, especially in the speculative market. The chief features of weakness included food shares, also oils, shipping, tobaccos, motors, equipments and utilities. Declines of 2 to 0 1/2 points marked the offerings of American Best Sugar, Mexican Petroleum, Houston Oil, Atlantic Gulf, Liggett and Myers, preferred, Plover Arrow preferred, Pullman and Peoples Gas. High grade rails forfeited one to three points, centers displaying especial weakness. There was virtually no recovery, final prices in many instances being at or near lowest levels of the day. Sales approximated 450,000 shares.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 3 1/2s $90.00; first 4 $85.50; second 4s $84.50; first 4 1/4s $85.50; second 4 1/4s $84.60; third 4 1/4s $87.20; fourth 4 1/4s $85.12; Victory 3 3/4s $84.00; Victory 4 3/4s $95.00.

Grains and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat got an irregular start today, failure of the British to take wheat overright being responsible for some early selling by the local element. A house with eastern connections became a good buyer of the March delivery on the decline, and a rally set in which brought prices above the low point. Opening quotations which ranged from 1 1/2 cents lower to 2c higher, with March $1.63 to 1.64 and May $1.59 to 1.60, were followed by decided gains all around. Export demand was not in evidence but the market showed a firm undertone the greater part of the day and averaged higher. On general selling the market came off and closed weak, 1 1/4 to 1 1/4-c net lower, with March $1.63 1/2 to $1.63 3/4. Strength in wheat was responsible for a higher range in corn. The feature of the early trading was the selling of the cereal by commission houses with country connections. Initial quotations which ranged from 1 1/4 to 5/8c higher, including May at 71 1/4 to 71 3/4-c, were followed by further upturn. Corn showed a rather independent strength and at the high point May showed 6 3/8c above the inside figure of two days ago. The best buying today was for the purpose of taking profits on previous sales. The close was firm, 1 1/8 to 1 7/8-c net higher, with May 72 3/8 to 72 7/8-c.

There was a good class of buying in evidence in oats but the strength came mainly from other grains. After starting 1 1/8 to 1 1/2c higher, with May 49 1/2 to 48 3/4-c, the market scored further advances. Provisions reflected the strength in grain.

ATTEMPTS TO PROVE ALIBI

Alleged Criminal Gangster Denies Part in Attack Upon Girl

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Edmond (Spud) Murphy, pugilist and alleged criminal gangster, attempted to prove in his trial here today on a charge of feloniously attacking Miss Jessie Montgomery, a Reno girl, here that he was not present when the attack was said to have been committed. He maintained through what the defense termed a "defensive alibi" testimony that the girl and her companion, Miss Jean Stanley, formerly of Portland, another alleged attack victim, were mistaken in their identification of him. GETTING BACK TO THE FARMS

No figures are available to show what movement, if any, is under way on the part of persons in the towns to get back to the rural homes which they abandoned to earn big wages in industrial plants during and since the war. It was hoped the one good effect from the slowing down of industry would be the creation of more interest in farming.

Under the stimulus of war conditions the farmers of the United States planted record crops, and since the war the decrease in acreage has not been more than 15 per cent. With the sharp drop in prices and the drift of so many of the farmers toward the cities, it must be plain that a crisis in agriculture will be created within a short time.

Reports from Kansas are that wheat growers have sowed slightly more than 10 per cent less acreage in wheat than the preceding year, but the sharp decline in the quotations for wheat will probably have the effect of causing more marked reductions next year, unless prices are advanced.

Farmers will yield to the lure of wages and the advantages of the cities unless farming is reasonably profitable. The idea of a paternalistic government may not be a pleasant one, but congress should do what it can to aid in financing present and prospective farmers, just as it aids, through the banking system, the manufacturers and the business men.

AZERBAIJAN

It must indeed be a sorry state of mind not to be sure what country you live in. The Mohammedan dwellers in Baku and neighboring territory have been in that plight since the world war was signed. In the old days they were subjects of the czar. That gallor, for they felt they owed at least a religious submission to the sultan of Turkey, the head of Islam. The treaty of Versailles, however, settled their status. They were to be citizens of the republic of Azerbaijan.

Now Azerbaijan is one of the principal oil fields in the world. The Standard Oil interests had been firmly established there before the war. So had British and German oil interests. But commerce fell back when armies were afoot, and at the conclusion of peace it was the first who could scramble to Baku who had best chance of declaring his sovereignty there.

Along ethnic lines a new republic was declared. British finance galloped to Azerbaijan. But it was a little too late. Troops of the soviet government of Russia were already on the job. Now Azerbaijan is just two provinces of Russia once again, Baku and Elizavetopol. The British occupational troops were recalled by order of the supreme council of the League of Nations.

In the mountains which surround the rich, oily plain another army waits, however. Let the red army once relax its hold, and this guerrilla band will surely come down, banners flying and the cry "Azerbaijan forever" on its lips. It is an army of the natives of the two provinces. For a republic, the citizens of Azerbaijan have just now seemingly very little to say as to how their nation shall be run.

NINE RULES OF HAPPINESS

Did it ever strike you, when you're listening to someone rail against the evil of divorce, that the happy marriage, as opposed to the unhappy, has never really had its fair share of publicity?

If one of your neighbors down the street has a family ruckus, the whole town will know it tomorrow. But if all the other folk in the block have a quiet, happy evening at home, no one is the wiser.

It is not so important that a couple be fitted for each other, as that they make themselves fit for each other once they're married. Adjusting oneself to an intimate companion of the other sex—that's the hard thing.

Now the British novelist, W. L. George, is in this country with his wife. He is an expert on love, courtship and marriage. While he talks to big audiences, his wife sews his button on and glories in his celebrity. That doesn't mean she hasn't an occasional thought about her husband's principal topic, herself. In fact, Mrs. George told some Chicago reporters her own ideas, and gave them nine rules on how to be happy, though married. They're pretty good. Here they are:

Do not open each other's mail. You might not like its contents.
A woman should occasionally change her view, her ways and her hats.
If you must be frank, let it be in private.

Once a day a husband should say to his wife: "I love you."
Once a day a wife should say to her husband: "How clever you are!"

Idea are no good, but you can exaggerate a little, as in courtship.
If it seems hard to be married to your wife, remember it is hard for her to be married to you.
Find out on the honeymoon if swearing or crying is most effective.
Forgive your partner 70 times seven and then lose the account book.
