DEMPSEY HAS QUEER REASON FOR WORRYING

Other Figs Keep Right on Slipping Knockout to His Hatred Rivals

By BAY PEARSON
It is tough business to be a champion boxer of the world. That may sound rather strange to the reader, but having had plenty of opportunity to know champions, the writer believes he is qualified to make such an assertion without straying far from the truth.

Reason for Worry
Knowing Jack Dempsey, we are well aware that he isn't the type of fellow to worry about ordinary things. The Irish mauler has had plenty of things to worry gray hairs onto his head in the twenty-five years of his worldly existence, but it seems he has emerged from the tough sledding with a smile and no apparent physical damage.

That feat by Moran simply knocked one more prospective opponent off Dempsey's list, for the champion had figured that Beckett would be his "knicker," not soft plucking for Moran. When Dempsey fought Brennan in Madison Square Garden at New York the other night, he just about finished his work on this side of the Atlantic, for there aren't any more guys, with the possible exception of Jess Willard, for the champion to scrap. Having polished off Willard in three rounds in their first meeting, Dempsey naturally doesn't figure on a wonderful financial pickup for the return match.

Moran May Get to Georges
Aside from Willard, he had as likely opponents Georges Carpentier, the champion of Europe, and this Mr. Beckett, who was dumped to the mats so speedily by Moran. Now he has only Carpentier, and it isn't certain that he will get in the ring with Georges, despite the fact that both have affirmed their intention to meet at articles to fight in this country.

Only Moran Left
He might get into the ring with Moran after the Pittsburgher gets back to this country, but a Dempsey-Moran clash would not draw real money, such as a Dempsey-Carpentier bout, and Champion Jack would just about have to take what he could get in the way of shooks. That would be tough picking for a champion.

Who's one looks over the past performances of the Frenchman. It is not hard to see that Georges is taking a big chance in mixing with Moran in any ring.

Frank's Feet Good as Georges'
As the fans will recall, Carpentier's most notable feat was his quick knockout of Beckett, for he did it in the first round - but along comes Moran to key this same name. Beckett, in the second round, so it doesn't look as if it is improbable that Moran might slip one over on Carpentier's chin and thereby spoil the Frenchman for Dempsey.

Cards Reject Fortune Offer For R. Hornsby

Giants' Proposal of $200,000 and Four Players Properly Spurned

New York, (AP)—An offer by the New York National league baseball club of $200,000 and four players for Roger Hornsby, leading National league in 1920, has been turned down by the St. Louis team. This statement was made here last night by Judge Francis X. McQuade, treasurer of the Giants.

McQuade said the proposition fell through when Sam Brandon, president of the Cardinals, wired they would consider if one of the four players were Frank Fitch.

McQuade wouldn't trade Fitch for Hornsby "even up," McQuade asserted.

Last summer the record offer of $250,000 was made for Hornsby by the Giants. When it was refused McGraw said he would not renew the bid. The latest offer was made, it was said when the Giants learned Branch Rickey had talked of exchanging Hornsby for three Cincinnati players.

He was badly battered in the next round when the referee stepped in and stopped the fight.

Sharkey weighed 120 1/2 and Moore 122 1/2 pounds.

CANADIAN CARS, ONCE "PRISONERS OF WAR" IN AUSTRIA, NOW RUNNING ON THE ITALIAN STATE RAILWAY SYSTEM

Recently an American traveler in Rome, Italy, rubbed his eyes in amazement as he saw before him a train of palatial observation cars of the type not usually seen in Europe though familiar to transcontinental travelers in the United States and Canada. It was not an optical illusion, for the cars are actually running on the Italian railways. Before the war these cars were operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway on the express trains of the Austrian State Railways from Arberg to Vienna and from Innsbruck to Trieste, where they were not only used novelly, but were extremely popular as well, particularly with American tourists visiting the Tyrol. Promptly upon the outbreak of hostilities, the cars were seized by the Austrian War Office which ordered them as Red Cross cars. When peace was restored they were returned to the Canadian railway. Nationally tourist travel in Austria has disappeared for the time being, but Italy, which has a very enterprising railway system, has been in better shape for the reception of visitors, and the Italian government made an offer for the cars which was accepted.

They were operated for the first time on the Italian State Railways for the transportation through Italy of delegates of the National Council of Women of the United States who were proceeding from Naples via Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan and Geneva to the International Feminist Meeting in Christiania, Norway. As a result the delegates had the same comfort and luxurious equipment they were accustomed to on the best railways in Canada and the United States, traveling conditions unequalled in any other country in Europe. These observation cars are now used for touring travel between Ventimille, Genoa, Florence, Rome and Naples.

YANKEE TENNIS PLAYERS SCORE DOUBLE HONORS

Tilden Triumphs Over Brookes while Johnston Beats Down Patterson

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, (AP)—American tennis players scored a double triumph over the greatest Australian net stars and tonight held the position of favorites in the tournament for the Davis cup, the historic championship trophy of the tennis world.

William T. Tilden, II of Philadelphia, battered down Norman E. Brookes, captain of the Australian team, while William T. Johnston of San Francisco, virtually annihilated Gerald L. Patterson, the brilliant young star who won the English championship from his teammate Brookes in 1919.

The Americans need only one match to win the cup. The scores of the matches follow: Tilden defeated Brookes 10-8, 6-4, 1-6 and 6-3; Johnston defeated Patterson, 6-3, 6-1 and 6-1. Brookes and Patterson have a chance to partly redeem their position tomorrow in the doubles against Tilden and Johnston. The way Tilden and Johnston ripped their way through the defenses of the Australians in today's contests, however, gave supporters of the Americans reason to believe that Brookes and Patterson must play super-tennis to win even a momentary respite. The final singles matches will be played on Saturday.

Here Is Good News for Women

From Wright's Shoe Department

Save Your Feet---It Pays in the Long Run---Wright's Shoe Department Can Help You If You Read This "Good News"

This "good news" is about a shoe that comes up—and stays up—to the Foot Arch. It is the most remarkable shoe ever designed for wear by the business woman, the woman who loves to walk, or the woman who is much on her feet.

The "Arch-Preserver" Shoe

Is a new and different kind of shoe, so much so, in fact, that it is necessary to see the shoe and try it on to appreciate how different it is, how much better it fits and holds the foot than any shoe you have ever worn, how it comes up to the foot arch and how its new "anchored-arch" construction holds it up there and preserves its shape and graceful appearance throughout the life of the shoe.

And also how it preserves the foot at the same time. Don't confuse the "ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE" with the so-called "arch prop" shoes that you know about. The ARCH-PRESERVER is designed especially for those who have good, sound feet—and who want to keep them from becoming stretched and strained and deformed.

The Cause of Most Foot Troubles

Practically every foot trouble known can be traced direct to shoes that are misfitted and which are not strong enough in the shank to properly hold the foot and keep it from breaking down.

The human foot can carry the load imposed upon it without being subjected to unfair and unnatural strain—only when placed upon a firm, unyielding tread-base, such as it has when the bare foot is placed upon the floor or ground.

When the foot is put into a shoe with a heel of any height, the shoe becomes a bridge as shoes always have been constructed, the shank—which is the center of the bridge—is the weakest part of the shoe.

Everyone knows that a bridge which sags in the middle when a load is placed upon it is not a reliable bridge to travel upon. Sooner or later the bridge goes down. That is what happens to the bridge in the ordinary shoe after it is worn for a short time. The foot arch, reaching and straining to find a proper base to stand on so it can carry its load, finally goes down with the shoe.

Then the owner of the foot has a broken arch—flat-foot condition with all the misery that follows in its trail.

Every woman can keep her feet well all her life!—and have style too—

The Arch Preserver Shoe makes you firm, there's an arch in your foot.

WELL-arches mean well feet. Keep your foot arches healthy and strong and you'll always enjoy foot comfort and vigor. Arch Preserver Shoes keep arches exactly as Nature intended them because of the exclusive special construction and a correctly designed last. Arch Preserver Shoes are good style shoes. Wear Arch Preserver Shoes—enjoy them—and be able to know that your feet always will be healthy. Foot health helps maintain general health. Come in and see our line of Arch Preserver Shoes for all purposes and all occasions.

 KEEPS THE FOOT WELL

Shoe Building Like Building a Bridge

ARCH-PRESERVER Shoes are built—mark that word—BUILT upon the same principle that a real bridge is built. And the bridge in the shoe reaches from the heel to the ball of the foot, and is so anchored that the bridge absolutely refuses to sag in the middle.

That is why the arch of the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE comes up and stays up to the foot-arch.

Then the inside tread surface of the shoe is so modeled that it provides the foot with exactly the sort of surface to walk upon that nature intended it should have.

While in the ordinary shoe the tread surface is just the reverse, or concaved slightly, adding to foot discomfort and eventually deformity.

Everything about this new shoe is designed to preserve the feet that are good—or reasonably good. At the same time, there are thousands of people with weak arches who claim that the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE is the only shoe that ever has "stood up" under them and given them the foot comfort they have longed for.

Our confidence in this new shoe is such that we do not hesitate to invite every woman—whether her feet are good and strong or weak and troublesome—to come to our store and examine them and try them on without any obligation whatever to buy.

Beware of the "Just-as-Good" Kind

Don't let anyone deceive you into believing that some other shoe has the same features as the ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE. This is not possible for all of the features which make this shoe fit so well, and feel so good, and stand up to the foot, are covered by patents. They are not and cannot be put into any other shoe.

ARCH-PRESERVER SHOES are made with various types of toes and heights of heels, also in different leathers and patterns. There is a type of shoe for every purpose and all occasions.

For the Woman Who is Over Weight

There is a special type of last for the heavy woman who almost invariably finds it difficult to find shoes in which she can have even reasonable foot comfort, and which will stand up under her weight.

We earnestly recommend this special type of ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE to every woman who is much over-weight for her height. Accept the first opportunity to come and try on one of these shoes—no matter whether or not you are at the moment ready to buy shoes.

There will be no obligation whatever.

When you have once felt that comfortable "FEEL" that every woman expresses about this shoe, you will be looking forward with keen pleasure to the time when you will be ready to come and get a pair.

There is an ARCH-PRESERVER SHOE for every heavy woman, for every purpose and for every occasion.

The prices on all are reasonable.

COME IN AND HAVE OUR SHOE FITTERS EXPLAIN THE MERITS OF THESE SHOES. NO OBLIGATION TO BUY.

FOR THESE WAR IS NOT OVER

A tiny news dispatch, tucked away in a corner of the first page, says American hospitals are receiving 5,000 disabled and sick war veterans every month, and discharging 3,500 cured. This means a monthly increasing roll of patients.

The United States is treating the heroes of the war much as the proverbial "poor relation" was treated. The nation is neglecting the very men who, when the nation was in sore need, gave no thought to their own lives and comfort.

The nation was grateful, all right, back in the war days, when the foe threatened. The nation was grateful indeed when the flower of American manhood rose up in arms and went forth to give battle.

Well, they came back, many of them ill and disabled. About half a million of those brave boys were discharged from service with disability. Yes, they came back! But it seems that the nation has forgotten that they came back, has forgotten the fine promises that were made upon the eve of battle.

"The war is over." Those four words you have heard often since November 11, 1918. "The war is over," declared politicians in congress as they voted away wartime legislation.

The war is not over for those veterans discharged "with disability." The war will not be over with them for many years to come.

And until the war is over with them, with the last one of them, it cannot be entirely over for the rest of them. That much of the war which has to do with giving the sick and maimed veterans a square deal can never be over until the last of them has passed on into the hereafter.

HOW TO BE HATED

Oh Ed Howe, the Kansas wise man, used to tell the readers of his paper, the Atchison Globe, that the meanest man in Atchison always made his family wait until the January sales to buy their Christmas presents.

A man in Indiana, it is said, used to refuse to let his wife pick the apples for her, wife use, "John," she would remonstrate, "there aren't any of the half-brothers left."

"Then wait until some rot," this mean old fellow would snap back at her. "We're too poor to eat the good ones."

How everybody does despise a mean old cuss like those fellow Women will send flowers to the jail to bedeck the cell of a murderer, a thief may be given another chance, but when a person is just ornery and mean, there's not much sympathy for him anywhere.

Every man and woman who really wants the good opinion of the neighbors, hasn't such a hard chore to perform after all. No one needs to possess the entire calendar of virtues. Just generosity, that's all. Just a little human kindness in one's makeup will make other folk overlook the fault.

THE "BLUE LAWS" HOAX

Some of the gentlemen who are talking so glibly of what they fear to be a movement for the revival of the "blue laws" of New England ought to look up the subject and ascertain whether there ever were such ridiculous statutes as that forbidding a man to kiss his wife on Sunday—to choose one that they are especially fond of quoting. The origin of the phrase is to be traced to a satirical pamphlet bearing the title "The Blue Laws of Connecticut," issued in 1738 by the Rev. Samuel Peters, his purpose being to poke a little good-natured fun at the lawmakers of the day.

The pamphlet enjoyed a large circulation as a work of humor. Apropos of the latest agitation for stricter Sunday laws, some of our modern humorists have been perpetrating burlesques just as broad as those of Mr. Peters. Centuries hence will credulous folk dig up these satirical articles and regard them as gospel truth.

'THE RETURN OF THE MAYFLOWER' TODAY IS FORE FATHER'S DAY.

When the Mayflower, a little vessel of 180 tons burden, set sail from the shores of Plymouth, England, with her 102 passengers August 6, 1620, she carried the seed of a future nation whose offspring would return to England's shores many hundred fold and at a time when that nation was sorely pressed.

The arrival of the United States destroyers in England on May 4, 1917, marked the beginning of that avalanche of ships and men who eventually swamped the "Huns" and sent him scurrying to the rear beyond the Rhine. It was the arrival of these destroyers under command of Captain J. K. Tausig, U. S. N., which inspired an English artist to produce the painting, "The Return of the Mayflower," of which the above is a photographic reproduction. The original hangs in the office of the secretary of the navy at Washington, D. C.

The descendants of that little group of persecuted pilgrims who landed upon the shores of America in 1620, together with those who came after, constituted the backbone of this great republic, and yearly their descendants in the U. S. Navy carry the flag of freedom to the parts of the world, police the sea and render aid to the needy in both hemispheres.

The United States flag on the ships of its navy is a welcome and the men who sail under it are equally welcome, but the men of the destroyers who marked the "Return of the Mayflower" to stricken Europe were none other than the men who were the crusaders of 1917, and placed the victory for right at the feet of suffering Europe.

LOOK ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE TRACK

By GUY PLENNER. A group of eastern men in the smoking compartment were apparently disgusted with the view. "What a barren, cheerless, desolate section," one remarked as the train sped west, rough and isolated "graveyard" shacks. "Why don't you look on the other side of the track?" suggested a native. They did not reach west kept farms. They saw cultivation in intense form. They saw fields and orchards and pastures. They saw substantial and comfortable homes. They understood it all when it was explained that the migration, water, had not yet touched the "other side" with his wand. "Who should we not all get into the habit of 'looking on the other side of the track'?"

On one side we see taxation—not a cheerful view; but on the other we see substantial institutions, standard education, commendable and needed civic equipment, improved highways, a constant effort to improve living and commercial conditions, a constant battle for betterment for all.

This and that business is charging an unholy profit, we hear; but when we look on the other side of the track we find many actually taking a loss now to avoid a heavier loss later.

The bank is damned from the one-sided viewpoint; but when we look on the other side of the track we find it is performing a mission, under severe strain, for the actual salvation of business—and we are all engaged in business in one way or another and depend on it.

Corporations are accused of excessive charges; but on the other side of the track we see them earning 6 per cent and loaning some of them running in the "red"—and yet maintaining payrolls and struggling under most adverse conditions to give the public a maximum of service at a reasonable law by the representatives of the public.

The newspaper is criticized because it does not instantly coincide with every individual view, with the vast majority that impeller; but when we look on the other side of the track we find it performing a most important

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

Today I make the most important theatrical announcement I have ever made during my long career as a manager in this city. I have just contracted with Messrs. Wm. Elliott, R. Ray Constock and Morris Gest to bring their magnificent production of "Experience," the most wonderful play in America, to the Lavinger Theatre on Friday and Saturday, December 31, January 1. "Experience" is without doubt the greatest success of this day and generation. It ran nine months in New York, seven months in Chicago and five months in Boston. In every community where it is presented, it invariably receives the enthusiastic endorsement of the clergy of all creeds and denominations. "Experience" is a modern morality drama by George V. Hobart, telling in ten vivid and powerful scenes of the temptations confronting Youth — the average young man—going forth into the world for Fame and Fortune. "Experience" is properly called "The Most Wonderful Play in America." I know of my own knowledge that this play has been a sensation elsewhere. I am sure it will arouse enormous interest here. It is the biggest show I have booked in ten years. I am proud and happy to be able to bring "Experience" to the theatre goers of this city. (Signed) E. C. LAVINGER, Manager Lavinger Theatre.

BLAMES UNIONIST FOR TROUBLES OF IRELAND

Masterman Tells British Audience Sir Edward Carson Took Lead in Resistance to Crown

MACLESFIELD, Eng. (AP)—The Irish nationalist leaders, John Dillon and John Redmond, saved Sir Edward Carson, unionist advocate, from prosecution for preaching rebellion in Ulster in 1914, says Charles F. G. Masterman, who was then financial secretary to the treasury. Mr. Masterman in addressing an audience here blamed Sir Edward for continuing the resistance to the crown which led up to the present situation in Ireland. One of his hearers asked why the Ulster leader was not then prosecuted and Mr. Masterman replied: "The cabinet was ready to do so but John Redmond and John Dillon, acting through Mr. Lloyd George, persuaded the cabinet not to take the step. They argued that in three months' time the home rule bill would become law, and they would then be responsible for the government of Ireland. They asked that they should be allowed to undertake the government of Ireland without being hampered by any feeling created beforehand by the prosecution of Sir Edward Carson. They thought that they could overcome what they regarded as the blunder (humbug) of the Ulster movement. "They may have been right or wrong," concluded the speaker, "but came."

FAMILY RESCUED BY RELIEF PARTY

County Authorities Bring Desperate Family from Snow-bound Home

By the merest accident the county commissioners late last week heard of a desperate situation of a family living in a two-room homesteader's shack in the Shoshone basin, more than 40 miles from Twin Falls, where they had been snowed in some time. A relief expedition was organized and the family rescued from the peril of starvation.

The family in question is that of Paul Georing, who, with his wife and six children, were being held in the shack all winter. They are now snug in a house in Amsterdam, where the county commissioners have placed them with an ample supply of provisions to meet all immediate needs.

Left Desolate.

Georing's situation, the authorities declare, is caused through no direct fault of his own. He is a farm worker and owns a plowing outfit, with seven head of horses and a team. He had been employed all summer plowing on a 100-acre farm owned by a man named Davis. The latter left some time ago for the east without advising Georing of his intention to leave. He was left with a bill of $800 for plowing, but a small supply of provender for his animals and a short supply of household provisions.

Word of the Georing family's desolate circumstances reached the county commissioners on Christmas eve when a man came through the basin on horseback and learned from Georing that supplies were being hoarded there. The supplies were being hoarded there, the commissioners called upon County Health Officer H. G. Jackson to assemble a relief force and get through to the stricken family. Mr. Jackson took Thomas Erie from Twin Falls and picked up P. J. Craig at Amsterdam, and with eight horses and two sleighs they broke trail through to the Georing home. The party reached Georing's on Christmas day, the party reaching Georing's on Monday at noon.

Snow Is Deep.

In the snow-bound district the ground was found covered on an average of 21 inches, while in many places the drifts were from six to seven feet deep. It took the party about six hours to get through the snow. The men and horses being almost exhausted when they reached the beleaguered family.

Georing's provisions when the rescuers reached the place consisted of a few potatoes, about 20 pounds of flour and a jar of lard. The latter gave him provided meat for the family for a few days. The relief party was about 600 yards from the shack and no grain. Some time ago a Big Creek rancher, hearing of the plight of the Georing, loaned Georing a rifle and told him he could find some deer and some domestic animals. Georing declined to meet the emergency he found himself in by breaking the game or stock law, and sent himself to the mountains to get rabbits to supply the family with meat.

DR. BOYD IS DENIED RESTRAINING ORDER

Judge Babcock Refuses to Grant Injunction Against Dr. Hal Bieler

In the district court yesterday Judge W. A. Babcock denied the application of Dr. T. O. Boyd for a temporary order against Dr. Hal Bieler, to prevent the latter from practicing medicine within 50 miles of Twin Falls. The action grew out of the alleged breaking of a contract entered into between Dr. Boyd and Dr. Bieler whereby the latter engaged in medical service with the former.

Summing up the case, which had been under consideration some time by the court, Judge Babcock makes the following statement:

"The first question presented for consideration is as to whether or not an injunction will lie on a contract such as the one in question, where there is a stipulation in the contract that in the event of a violation thereof, the weight of authority seems to be in the effect that such a stipulation will not preclude a court of equity from granting an injunction, the question being one of contract, and that if the substance of the agreement is that the party shall not do a particular act, and that in the event of a breach of the agreement and that in case there is a breach of the agreement the party shall pay a stated sum, which does not mean a penalty, an alternative remedy which he has the right to sue instead of performing his contract, there would be no reason why he should not be restrained from doing the act, and thus carrying out the intention of the parties."

EAGER CHILDREN ARE MADE HAPPY AT PARTY

Salvation Army Christmas Festivities Well Attended and Add Much Joy

Approximately 400 children of this city were made happy at a Christmas tree and Santa Claus party, given in Parish hall by the Salvation Army last night. The night was well crowded to capacity with eager kiddies and their guardians. Not one went away disappointed.

The festivities began about a o'clock after the seating arrangements of the hall had been fixed beyond doubt and children of the overflow were compelled to sit on the floor. Several scenes were played in the recessed stage before the large Christmas tree a necessary arrangement that had been donated by Mrs. I. B. Perrine. The tree itself was laden with presents of all sorts, and the children were borne down to straining to get a glimpse of what was to be theirs. The gifts were distributed during the evening by Santa Claus to happy lots and smiles of the throng.

The evening's program was in charge of Miss John Nelson, assisted by Mrs. Nathan and the Salvation Army workers. Under the direction of these a program of Christmas carols and recitations was presented during the forenoon of the evening. The children spent a good deal of time in playing Santa Claus. When in the din of clanging bells, that worthy patron saint of all children did appear the throng went wild with delight. The children which did call down only when the uplifted hand called for silence. The work of distributing gifts was then begun and carried on until all had been supplied with their share of presents. There were filled stockings for all.

The children's feature of the evening's program was well given and each number was well received. The children's band was unable to carry out its promised schedule, but other means of instrumental music were found to fill the breach.

The closing of the evening was a meeting of the Salvation Army officers which thanks to the vestry of the Church of the Ascension for the donation of the hall, and to Mrs. Perrine for the tree.

"MESSIAH" FUND GOES FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

COMPANY IN HOUSE; HUSBAND COMPLAINS

A. T. Carr Has a Grievance Which He Takes into Court for Inquiry

In the court of Kennedy Park, justice of the peace, is being heard this afternoon A. T. Carr's accusation against his wife, Mrs. A. T. Carr, and her mother, Mrs. Webster. The complaining witness has asked the court to investigate the presence of Webster in Carr's house with Mrs. Carr during the absence of Carr.

The complaining witness is a district rancher and has been living on his place all winter, coming to town but occasionally. It is said, Mrs. Carr has been living on the main avenue. On Tuesday night Carr came to town and found Webster in his home. He declares he found Webster in the house. A complaint was sworn to in Judge Park's court that night and a warrant for arrested issued. Mrs. Carr and Webster were apprehended by police officers and lodged in jail over night. Yesterday morning they were released on bond to appear this afternoon at 3 o'clock for hearing.

This morning Mrs. Carr complained to the sheriff by telephone that her husband had obtained possession of a rifle and was taking it to the authorities, was "picketing" in front of the home. Deputy Sheriff Robert Redburn was dispatched to the scene of activities and found Carr in a house next door to the one occupied by Mrs. Carr. He had a rifle in his possession, but, Deputy Redburn says, it was not loaded. Carr says he had not controlled the rifle. He explains that the house from which he got the gun is his property and has been rented furnished to another family, his wife residing next door. Carr says he was going to take out to the farm with other goods stored in the house. The weapon was taken in charge of by the officers and is held by the sheriff.

MORE THAN TWO MILLION DOLLARS

The abundant and gratifying evidence that our patrons share our pride in our constant growth and steady improvement of service, causes us to assume that you will be glad to know that the sales in Skaggs Stores for the year 1920 will be more than two million dollars, representing the very substantial expression of almost forty thousand conservative food buyers.

The actual gross (or total) profit on this vast amount of merchandise was only slightly over ten per cent, an amount so small that one of our famous Eastern Universities with masses of completed statistics from all over the United States, and after a like statement, only to scorn it as an impossible fantastic, quoting the actual average cost of doing business in grocery stores at sixteen per cent.

Our policy of handling only nationally advertised, well known brands and our money saving system of merchandising are well known to all. We never sell that which we need to save and also those who were too sensible to waste.

Our principles do not permit of a tendency to ever be satisfied that a price is low enough in our stores. Our great pride is the fact that we have been able to render a public service, that we have been of value to the community we served.

We are the personification of a new era of privately owned service organizations for we have proven that people do discriminate, that they do hunt out a well organized agency of good service and exceptional value.

Skaggs Stores' customers, today, are those who want and know real service. We want you to feel at all times that we have a warm interest in you and your satisfaction, and to that end, we trust you will keep in close touch with our organization.

Please accept our thanks for your business and your cordial good wishes for a Happy New Year.
