

MEETING ISSUES ARE PRESENTED TO CONFERENCE

Deliberations of Allied Statesmen with Representatives of Greece and Turkey of Momentous Consequence

DISPOSITION OF SMYRNA BESET WITH DIFFICULTY

LONDON, (AP)—The conference of the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, French premier, Mr. Georges Clemenceau, and Italian premier, Mr. Benito Mussolini, with representatives of Greece and Turkey, which is to open here Monday, February 21, has for its object the settlement of the Greek-Turkish dispute, growing out of the treaty of Sèvres, a point of world interest and perplexity. It is expected to rank with the new peace conferences of Hythe, Brussels and San Remo.

One of the most interesting features of the gathering will be the meeting face to face of the delegates representing the new Greek government under King Constantine with the former Greek premier, Venizelos, for the first time since Venizelos withdrew from Greece after the defeat of his ministry in the elections and the recall of the king.

Smyrna Difficult Issue

One of the most difficult issues confronting the delegates will be the disposition of the port of Smyrna and the semi-circle of adjacent territory on the Aegean sea, 100 kilometers long and 100 kilometers broad which, under the terms of the treaty, were placed under the sovereignty of Greece.

Since the signing of the treaty of Sèvres, however, Turkey has demanded the 'abrogation of Greek rights in Smyrna as well as autonomy for Thrace. Thrace was given outright to Greece. The demand for autonomy in Thrace is made by the Turks despite the renunciation by the Ottoman government of its sovereignty over Turkey in Europe outside of Constantinople as well as its control over eight or more islands in the Aegean sea.

Maintenance of Turkish sovereignty over the territory awarded to Armenia is another demand of the Ottoman government which is to come up for settlement. In this treaty, it was provided that Armenia was recognized as 'a free and independent state.' Turkey accented the proposal that the president of the United States should be the arbitrator as to the frontier in the province of Armenia, between Turkey and Armenia and as to the access of Armenia to the sea.

Attacks Economic Clauses

Modification of 'the economic clauses' of the treaty which infringe upon Turkish sovereignty and independence will also be sought. The treaty of Sèvres provides that the Turkish government can control no loans, internal or external, without the consent of a permanent English-French-Italian commission, whose duties include the supervision of all Ottoman financial laws and the reform of the country's monetary system. This commission is also to determine the amount of the annual loan to be paid by Turkey for the cost of occupation of her territory by allied troops.

Turkey's desire to maintain a 'defensive army' will also be considered by the delegates. The military clauses of the treaty forbade Turkey to have a fleet or military airplanes and provided that all the fortifications along the Bosphorus were to be destroyed. The work of demilitarization is reported nearly complete. France, England and Italy were obligated to maintain an army of occupation. Turkey was allowed for police purposes a force of 35,000 men. The 100,000 special gendarmes, however, were in case of trouble, and a bodyguard of 700 for the sultan.

Premier Lloyd George is expected to preside at the conference, and A. J. Balfour, who was 15-Tive attended the league of nations council meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, which opened on the Sunday, will participate. In addition to representatives of England, France and Italy, Belgium also must send an official delegation.

Agencies Complicate Plans

Agencies holding the conference were complicated by disputes which arose both in Turkey and Greece as to the delegations to represent those countries. The British minister in Greece fell and a new premier, M. Kalligopoulos, was chosen. He is expected to head the Greek commission. Eleutherios Venizelos, former premier of Greece, now in London, is expected to be an unofficial envoy to the conference as it was while he was premier that Thrace and Smyrna were given to the Greeks. He is on friendly relations with the allies while the attitude of the allies toward the new Greek premier has not been defined.

Venizelos has declared that 'the possibility of restoring in any degree to force of the delegates representing the new Greek government under King Constantine with the former Greek premier, Venizelos, for the first time since Venizelos withdrew from Greece after the defeat of his ministry in the elections and the recall of the king.

This overturn in Greek affairs was an important factor in influencing the allies to call the conference.

Nationalists Big Factor

Turkey's representation at the conference was complicated by the fact that the Ottoman government, headed by the sultan, controls only a small territory in the vicinity of Constantinople, the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmara, while Anatolia, the greater part of Turkey in Asia, is controlled by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the leader of the nationalist revolt which followed the treaty of Sèvres.

Tokic Pasha, the Turkish grand vizier, heads the delegation that represents the Ottoman government of Constantinople. Kemal Pasha who at first declared he would not do so unless the allies withdrew from Turkey and waived their indemnity claims, announced later to send representatives to the meeting.

FIGHT AGAINST WHITE 'FAILS TO MATERIALIZE

Democratic National Chairman Will Not Be Asked by Committee to Resign Position

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The fight to oust Chairman George W. White of the democratic national committee, which had been forecast, failed to develop today at meetings of the national executive committee. The paragraph of the petition to the executive committee which related to the chairman's resignation was eliminated by Robert W. Woolley, who with Thomas W. Lavo, committeeman from Texas, read the document. Mr. Lavo previously had told the committee he was not supporting the candidacy of any particular person to succeed Mr. White should he be asked to resign.

At the first session today the committee withheld action on a petition of Thomas B. Love, of Texas, asking for a meeting of the full committee at B. Lavo or some other central city on March 4. It was decided to hear other signers of the petition before taking a vote on the proposal.

80,000 CHINESE AWAITING FOOD DIE IN TRACKS

American Engineer Brings Piteous Picture of Destitution in Famine Stricken Districts of Northern China

LACKS HEART TO TAKE PHOTOGRAPH OF MISERY

NEW YORK, (AP)—Thirty thousand Chinese gathered on a great bare field outside Peking, China, waited patiently for food which never arrived and then slowly died there. S. G. Olney, American engineer, reported upon his arrival here after passing six months in the famine-stricken areas of North China.

The condition of the starving borders was so pitiful, Mr. Olney said, that he 'did not have the heart to take photographs of such misery.' He said that the crowd at Peking had gathered because they believed food would reach them there more quickly than in the country. Along a roadside near the field he told of seeing the bodies of a whole family—father, mother and five children—each a few yards apart, where they had dropped and died.

Crop Failures Complete

'The crop failures have been almost complete in the five great provinces that make up the northern part of China, proper—Chihli, Shanxi, Shansi, Shensi and Honan,' said Mr. Olney. 'This is the part of the country around Peking, south of Mongolia and Manchuria.'

Explaining why the sections of China not stricken by famine were unable to relieve the starvation districts, Mr. Olney said: 'China is largely an agricultural nation. Ninety per cent of the population lives on the tiny farms into which the country is divided. The Chinese work their land to the limit, but they cannot raise more than enough to feed themselves. Each district can raise barely enough food to support its own people. That is why the "prosperous" provinces have been able to do so little for the famine-stricken ones. They have not the food to send.'

'The crops in North China have failed since 1910. The people have been unable to get more than scraps of food from other parts of China. They have been unable to get much from outside because food has been high priced all over the world. They have tried to move to better districts where they could raise crops, but such districts are so far and they have had such poor resources that they have died like flies on the way.

Food Must Be Rushed

'There is no question that more than 10,000,000 Chinese will starve to death this winter and spring unless food is rushed to them.' He declared that millions will die despite aid, that the population of 46,000,000 in the famine districts is in such dire straits that it will be a physical impossibility to rush enough food to them to save all.

Great irrigation projects, control of flood-producing streams, and improvement of transportation were cited by Mr. Olney as the only salvation of the agricultural and economic life of China. 'These things will be done in time,' he said, 'for China is awake. America will probably have a big part in this future of China, but we must lay aside those things for the present and devote every effort to getting food to the starving millions.'

White Sox Lost Nearly Million Dollars, Cubs, Giants, and Browns Suffer, Too

By I. E. SANBORN.

What it has cost professional baseball to permit gamblers to gain control of the most hard fought and best watched sport in the world is being estimated, because it depends on a lot of things.

The loss of Charles A. Quinsley alone was heavy and he was not the only club owner who was compelled to sacrifice playing material—the promoter's head—on the altar of the game of the year. The eight White Sox players implicated in the world's series scandal of 1919 represent a lot of money.

If it was true—and we doubt it—that New York offered $300,000 for Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals, the cash value of Quinsley's team would be $1,000,000 and the owner of the White Sox probably could have commanded that figure if he had not disposed of them for cash before they were "tainted."

North Nearly $1,000,000.

Knocking off 20 per cent of the Giants' alleged bid for Hornsby the cash value of the seven players whom he would have paid would be $1,000,000 and the owner of the White Sox probably could have commanded that figure if he had not disposed of them for cash before they were "tainted."

None of them was rated as high in the stellar ranks as the Cardinals' in fielders, but there were few outfielders

in a class with Felsch and Jackson, and slightly few superior to them, while

Weaver was considered by many as the most valuable third baseman in either league, and Ribicoff was a great shortstop, in spite of his erratic tendencies.

Two Class Twiflers.

Goetz and Williams were class pitchers, consequently the million dollar rating given the seven of them collectively does not seem excessive, in view of the existing market for discount talent. What it will cost Comstock to replace them is another question, and hard to figure mathematically.

He had a small army of "mucksniffing" through the minor league domains ever since he worked his team at St. Petersburg, and he would not be forced until the next campaign, is in.

In the elimination of Hal Chase and the Cincinnati Reds from their ranks, the New York Giants surrendered some good assets and so did the Chicago

Cubs when they released Lee Magee on conditionals. Another man who would be that of Joe Gleason of the St. Louis

Browns.

They men, cast the clubs to which they owed allegiance considerable sums, either as original investments or in the form of developing them, but none of the gamblers suffered any such loss as did the White Sox owner.

figures, and much depends on how much confidence the fans have in the game and how much the season has been ruined by the scandal.

of Forestry

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Eight billion board feet of timber was destroyed by the cyclone that ripped a 75-mile path, 30 miles wide, through the forests of the Olympic peninsula, Washington state, January 29. Reports from the forest service, made public today, class the storm as "the greatest disaster ever recorded in the annals of forestry and lumbering."

The storm ripped 132 miles as far before instruments at the weather bureau station were destroyed. It is estimated to have reached 150 miles therefrom. Practically all standing timber over 2250 square miles was blown down in a tangled mass of splintered logs and debris, and with it the chance of salvage. Most of it was western hemlock and spruce, Article Forester E. A. Sherman reported, and subject to rapid decay.

No human lives were lost, but buildings were destroyed and many animals perished, including elk. Numbers of animals were rescued by the tangle of debris to die of hunger. The best winter feeding ground for elk of the region was swept.

"If fire should gain headway in the devastated area," the forester reported, "the most stupendous conflagration ever known in this country would result. Fifteen billion feet of timber is exposed in the adjoining part of the Olympic national forest."

As special precaution against fire, the navy department has been asked to make an air survey of the storm area where it is impossible to land.

Re-equipment of the war-time survey railroad, the only line of rails into the section, has been asked of the war department in order to salvage as much timber as possible.

No Gormandizing Will Be Allowed in Spring Conditioning, Evers Avers

CHICAGO (AP)—Two meals a day for all except the veteran pitcher, and three hours daily practice will be the rule at the Chicago Cubs training camp in Southern California, it was announced today by Manager Johnny Evers.

Two weeks of such conditioning, Evers believes, will prevent the squad from reporting for the season's opening game in poor shape because of over-weight.

The full squad will start practice on March 7 at Tournament field, Pasadena.

BULLISH FACTORS FAIL TO BOOST WHEAT PRICE

Chicago Market Closes Weak After Up and Down Session, with Quotations
1-2 to 1-3-4 Cents Lower

CHICAGO, (AP)—Rain and snow in the southwest had a leathery effect to that in the wheat market. Many traders, however, showed a disposition to take to the buying side, on a decline. Much attention continued to be given to the possibility of serious crop damage resulting from the green bug pest.

Opening prices, which ranged from 1-4 to 2-1-4 lower, with March $1.67 to 1-5-8 and May $1.57 to 1-5-8. The close was weak, 1-2 to 1-3-4 net lower, with March $1.67 1-2 to 1-5-8 and May $1.57 1-2 to 1-5-8.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. After opening 1-16 to 1-1-4 lower, including May at 69 1-2 to 69 3-4, the market sagged 1-16 lower, and then rallied to 69 1-2.

Export sales quoted subsequently in favor of the bulls. Cane, however, failed to lead. The market closed weak, 1-8 to 1-4 to 3-8 net lower, with May 69 1-2 to 69 3-4.

Oats were swayed by the course of other cereals, starting unchanged to 1-8 net off, May 44 7-8 to 45, and later going lower, but then seeing some thing of an advance.

Downfalls in the price of hogs weakens provisions.

New York Stock Market
NEW YORK, (AP)—Shipments, all and notations featured a succession of reactions in the stock market today, together with numerous miscellaneous issues, notably tobacco and food shares. Sales approximated 520,000 shares.

Trading on the stock exchange at the opening of today's session was fairly active but very irregular. Standard walls and industrials were steady to firm, but secondary steels as well as shipping, motor accessories and oils were subjected to further pressure. Atlantic Gulf was especially heavy, declining almost 2 points in the first few transactions. Specialties whose dividend prospect under discussion extended their recent losses. Foreign exchange stiffened, the London rate ruling 1-38 on yesterday's final quotation.

Obscure specialties were bid up in the later dealings, but the list fell back again when Atlantic Gulf extended its decline to more than ten points. The closing was heavy.

HARDING SEEKS HUGHES' ADVICE

Confers with Probable Choice for Secretary of State on Foreign Policy

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., (AP)—Specific steps in initiating the foreign policy of the next administration will be passed in final review today at a conference between President-elect Harding and Charles Evans Hughes of New York, who is expected to be the next secretary of state.

Among the problems to be discussed at the conference is the action of Mr. Harding's inaugural address to be devoted to the plan for an association of nations. The address is expected to refer only in a general way to the plan, but it is understood the president-elect wants to have Mr. Hughes' advice before he frames the exact language of this expression.

WHITE HOUSE PLEASUR BY TONE OF HARDING'S REQUEST

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President-elect Harding in a letter received today by Hughes requests that a luncheon be prepared at the White House on March 4 for him and his immediate family. The president and Mrs. Wilson will not be present, as Mr. Wilson plans to go direct from the capital after the inauguration to his new home on R. street.

Whether the president will ride to the capital with the president-elect remains to be determined, but if Mr. Wilson is present at the inauguration he will remain in his automobile during the ceremony.

Mr. Harding's letter was in reply to one from the president asking if he desired a luncheon prepared. White House officers described the letter as "very nice and generous." They said the president-elect had stated that he was pleased to learn that Mr. Wilson's health had so improved that he was able to attend the theatre.

President Wilson today issued the usual proclamation declaring March 4 a holiday for the thousands of government employes in Washington.

COUNTY POTATO SCHOOL ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

Spud Growing and Betterment Subjects Discussed Largely at Convention

Continuing the Twin Falls county potato school program started yesterday, P. R. Bennett, H. A. Smith, J. F. Marshall, L. S. Otto, W. A. McDonald and B. F. Jala are today discussing the various methods of producing good potatoes, the elimination of insects and control of plant diseases. The meetings are being held in Parish hall under the direction of the officials of the farm bureau.

Today Professor Bennett, who is connected with the extension department at Boise, spoke on the topic "Diseases and Insect Pests of the Potato and Their Treatment." Mr. Smith, who is state entomologist, spoke on the same subject. J. W. Barber, agricultural agent of Cassia county, addressed the assembly on "Certified Seed." J. F. Marshall and L. S. Otto are scheduled to speak on the subject, "Cultivation and Irrigation of Potatoes," and E. A. McDonald and B. F. Jala are to discuss "Harvesting and Grading." C. C. Taylor is to give a farm management demonstration, taking as his subject, "Crop Rotation as a Factor in Potato Production."

Tomorrow's program includes addresses by Mr. Bennett, H. A. Smith, W. I. Wilks and H. F. Sherman. The attendance is quite large, pondering extreme difficulty of getting into town today from the country. There men who are attending are said to have walked from eight to fifteen miles to Twin Falls for this convention.

Rumor of Revolt in Germany Stirs Paris

PARIS, (AP)—Rumor of a revolution breaking out in Berlin, which was published in the first edition of the newspaper Matin, caused a sensation in Paris this morning. The story, however, was suppressed in the Matin's succeeding editions.

The Berlin correspondent of the Havas News Agency, in his daily telephone report, made no mention of any disorders in the German capital.

RANCHER OF KIMBERLY GOES INTO SHORTHORNS

O. M. Lloyd Stocks Fine Ranch with Some of Best Stock in This Section

O. M. Lloyd, residing on a ranch on mile west and three quarters of a mile south of Kimberly, has just added eight select Shorthorn cattle to his herd. The purchases consist of one bull and seven high grade heifers. The stock was bought from C. A. McMaster & Son, of Twin Falls.

The head of the herd is an 11-month-old male, sired by imported Monticello Silver Star. The heifers carry service of Sultan Supreme Gem. The purchases were a high priced farm and plans to stock the place with cattle equal to the grade of the rest of the property. The cattle bought from the McMaster are rated among the best in this section of the country.

Forecasting the Weather.
A handy method of forecasting the weather is to drop carefully a lump of sugar into a cup of coffee. If the bubbles it causes suddenly rush from the center to the side of the cup, it is going to rain very hard. If the air bubbles assemble in the center and then pass to the side of the cup in a deliberate way, you must still be prepared for what the weather forecast would call "some showers." But if the bubbles refuse to stir from the center of the cup, you may go forth to your labors unmolested of a fine day.

PROTESTS AND POLITICS

(Disfranchisement of citizens for the purpose of holding either brickbats or bouquets at the City administration necessarily in the popular estimation, take on a political aspect when the date of the City elections is drawing near.

This would be true at this season whether the gatherings were in themselves political or otherwise.

Hence, it would not be a matter for wonderment if an assemblage of citizens gathered together merely for the purpose of furthering a protest against an act or action of the present administration, and appreciating that its decisions will be interpreted in the light of politics whether or not they resolve itself into a political convention and forthwith announce its choice of candidates for municipal offices.

This, perhaps, is as it should be, provided the views of any considerable number of the City's electorate find expression in this procedure.

It is to be remembered, however, that a winning ticket cannot be presented on a platform of negation. Protest and criticism have their place but there must be along with them, a definite statement of constructive policy and an assurance of capability of bettering conditions, or the people will have none of it.

AS AN AMENDMENT

Records of the State Senate show that there has been introduced in that body a bill bearing the signatures of Senator Seaver, Senator Kirtick and others, which, if enacted into law, would preclude male voters from registering for an election or voting until they had paid their poll tax.

Presumably there are features of the bill that commend themselves at least to its sponsors; but it is difficult to see either the necessity or desirability of such a proposal.

Only as an effort to right a most grievous wrong could such a limitation upon the franchise find justification; and it is hard to believe that there is in Idaho such serious wronging as to justify this measure.

The crying need would seem to be for encouragement of the voters in the exercise of their franchise—not for discouragement, which is the certain effect of this proposal.

The News ventures to suggest as an amendment, and without special regard for the manner in which it may square with legal restrictions, that payment of the poll tax be ascertained only against those citizens who fail and neglect to vote.

LET'S ALL GO

There are at least two reasons why the Community Dinner to be served to-morrow evening in the Parish hall by the Salvation Army should be patronized generously.

In the first place, patronage of the affair is a contribution to the fund wherewith the Salvation Army may promote its benevolence in Twin Falls, and, in the second place, the bringing together of Twin Falls people around

PORTO RICO LAYS CLAIM TO GOVERNMENT REFORM

Territorial Legislature Appeals to Congress for Granting of "Extension of Present System."

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, (P)—"Claim of Porto Rico for a better form of government were included in dispatches sent Thursday by the Porto Rican legislature to Honorable Mr. Towner, chairman of the insular affairs committee of the United States house of representatives and Senator Albert B. Fall, chairman of the senate committee on Pacific Islands, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The messages request Congressmen Towner and Senator Fall to express to their respective houses of congress the "sentiments of admiration and respect for the representatives of the people of Porto Rico for the representatives of the national sovereignty, looking for that just worthy of both in the granting of our immediate aspirations in the extension and development of our present system of government under democratic principles."

Messages were also sent to President-elect Harding and to President Wilson, in their greeting to Mr. Wilson, the house described him as "the greatest apostle of liberty and democracy of the world."

FARM ORIGINATES AS WORD IN REVOLUTION

Br. of Unprecedented Agricultural Organization and Development Re-claims History

CHICAGO, Ill., (P)—In this day of unprecedented farm organization and development, it is noted here that the very words farm and farmer grew out of the first "rural revolution."

As told in a history of the English people it is shown that it came about in the fourteenth century. In describing the peasant's revolt, 1377 to 1381, the history states:

"The Lord of the Manor instead of cultivating the demesne through his own hall, often found it more convenient and profitable to let the manor to tenants at a given rate payable either in money or in kind."

"It is this system of leasing, or rather to the usual term, for the rest it entailed (feud), from the Latin fides, that we owe the words farm and farmer, the growing of which make the first step in the rural revolution which we are examining."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN TWIN FALLS

Taken at random from The News files this date in year 1906

Every acre of land under the Twin Falls canal system on the south side of the Snake river should be watered by June 1 of this year. If the weather holds good and no unexpected accident occurs the company expects to be able to deliver water over the entire tract in about 90 days.

M. J. Sweeney has purchased from John A. Waters 40 acres of Mr. Waters' section north of town. While Mr. Sweeney has not divulged his farming plans it is safe to predict that the land he bought will soon be productive.

The streets are again in abominable condition, the crossings being almost impassable. The mud seems to be a little more adhesive than it was last year, doubtless on account of the increased value of real estate. Twin Falls needs street crossings and needs them badly.

Mrs. Greenhow and Miss Higbee, entertained the sewing circle at the Hotel Perrine on Thursday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Allen, A. N. Sprague, G. W. Sprague, Perrine, Alkon, McCollum, Osborne, Tibbals, Ball, Mitchell, Sweeney, Boyd, J. V. Baker, Williams, Pike and Miss Kierstead.

John Peters has returned from Emmelburg, Ill., his old home. He reports that they had a fine winter there. He states that a party of 20 home seekers will shortly leave Omaha, for Twin Falls.

Fred La Belle, who recently shipped in a carload of cows, is finding ready sale for them at prices ranging from $15 to $20 per head.

Work on the new public school building will be resumed in a few days. The water pipes used by the contractors froze during the cold weather, hence the delay. The building will be ready for play in about six weeks.

Frank Bower has arrived from Yampa, Colo. Mr. Bower has a choice farm southeast of Twin Falls, having landed on the ground floor in the March drawing.

FAMINE RELIEF WORK IN CHINA PROCEEDING WELL

Distribution of Supplies in Well Organized and Spirit of Co-operation is Manifested

PEKING, (P)—Famine relief work in western China has proceeded so well that each local branch rarely has to serve a greater radius than 15 miles. The Rev. J. D. Hayes, travelling secretary of the Famine Relief committee, reported: "Distribution of supplies has been well organized and there is a commendable spirit of co-operation shown by the local Chinese."

The plan, he reports, of having the famine sufferers come to the stations in groups for their supplies, furnishing their own carts, is working out satisfactorily.

The report emphasized the need of larger large of workers, especially of business men capable of directing affairs on a large scale.

FORESEES DEEP SEAVESSELS AT CHICAGO DOCKS

Federal District Engineer Visualizes Huge Harbor on Lake Shore on South Side of the City in Present Wharf

INDICATES ADVANTAGES IN DEVELOPMENT'S PATH

CHICAGO, Ill., (AP)—Assuming that the Great Lakes' Lawrence waterway to the ocean will be opened in the near future, Colonel W. J. Johnson, United States district engineer of the Chicago district, has issued a bulletin in which he states that it does not require a great stretch of the imagination to picture needs connected with and from Chicago carrying passengers in large numbers, as a matter of economy in the case of immigrants and a matter of convenience, convenience and pleasure for other passengers.

In this connection he conceives a huge harbor on the lake shore, on the south side of the city, near the wharf.

Needs Industrial Needs.
Colonel Johnson's statement says: "Port facilities to fulfill a number of different functions are required at any time of first importance. At some great ports, as New York, the main function is that of transfer from rail to vessel and vice versa."

"At the port of Chicago the principal existing port facilities may be classified as industrial. The Chicago industrial and commercial district now has a waterline commerce of nearly 20,000,000 tons per annum (as compared with New York's 45,000,000 tons), the great bulk of which consists of raw materials of manufacture, livestock, coal, ore and flaxing stone."

"Industrial port facilities exist which handle large areas of relatively cheap land are provided with a reasonable amount of wharf front and rail connection. Along Indiana harbor canal and Calumet river on the lake front at Gary, Indiana harbor, and Calumet harbor, and eventually in Calumet lake we have wonderful opportunities for industrial port development but a small fraction of which are now utilized, although the remaining industrial district is one of the greatest in the world."

Provides for Transfers.
"For the sake of the public interest involving the shifting of freight between ocean vessels, lake vessels, lighters, barges, warehouses and railroads, it is necessary that the port facilities adapted to such transfer facilities."

"It may be plainly understood from what precedes that the port facilities are not competitive in their nature, but supplementary. For example, the value of an industrial harbor at Lake Calumet would be vastly enhanced by the presence, within easy lightering distance of a transfer harbor, the main port facilities could be made to all parts of the world, and, similarly, value is added to a transfer harbor if materials for water movement and export are produced in large quantities within easy lightering distance."

"When the Chicago districts possessed in operation great transfer port facilities where vessels will deliver cargoes from all over the world and receive cargoes efficiently destined for export, it will be seen that the employment of the lighters will be under a large and increasing scale, connecting the transfer port facilities with great and small industrial plants and with the warehouses of merchants located all about the Chicago district. In such lightering operations the Chicago river, the drainage canal (Chicago Main and Sag), Calumet river and Indian harbor canal will take part."

Convenience and Pleasure.
Finally, it does not require a great stretch of imagination to indicate that such vessels bound to and from Chicago will carry passengers in large numbers, as a matter of economy in the case of immigrants and as a matter of convenience, economy and pleasure for other passengers who will wish to see the scenic beauties of the Thousand Islands and avoid sea sickness and expense while proceeding between Europe and this general neighborhood. I conceive, therefore, that port facilities will be required in Harbor district No. 2 upon the Lake Shore south of Fifth street where passenger vessels bound to or from the transfer harbor near the state line will touch in passing to take on or let off passengers as well as cargo, as express and package freight."

BURIED TREASURE TALE LURES TO KANSAS FARM

Mystery Is Periodically Revived by Searchers for Chest Containing $40,000 in Gold

KINGMAN, Kan., (AP)—The farm of John Ford in the southern part of this country is the site of a buried treasure mystery which is periodically revived by persons who there seeking a chest of gold.

The story is still fresh in the minds of the older settlers here, many of whom say they believe the chest was buried here in the day of their youth when he and his detail were attacked by the Comanche Indians and later killed. The perpetrator and his men were en route to an army post to pay the soldiers.

They are supposed to have been camped near two big springs on the Ford farm when the attack was made. Both springs were well known stopping places in the day of the pioneer when they and cattle trail and it is to them the present day treasure seekers go in their quest of fortune. The information it seems to come from one point—that the gold was buried near the springs but each person has a different report as to the exact location.

Years ago many Indians went there to search, inspired by the tale of an old Oklahoma Comanche, who claimed to have been in the band that murdered the army men. But with his claim the Indians stopped coming.

However, the lure continues to attract the white man and recently a summer passage that some prospectors failed to spend a few days delving here, looking there in the earth about the old springs.

SHANGHAI, (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A comprehensive educational campaign for the Y. M. C. The district to be served has a population of about 50,000 Chinese mill workers.

County Physician McGinnis Charges Citizens are Concealing Cases of Disease

Charge is made by Dr. C. McGinnis that selfish motives are menacing the health of the community. The county physician announces that parents and guardians are concealing cases of smallpox within their households. There are many such instances, he says. Discovery of this condition was definitely made yesterday when the county health officer called at a school and found four children absent on account of smallpox in the family. Investigation proved that none of the cases had been reported to the health officer, and in one instance a parent denied the disease existed in the household.

"There has developed a marked tendency to hide small cases of smallpox, and a number of cases are not receiving medical attention," Dr. McGinnis stated today. The physician stated, too, that in many cases members of the families where the disease exists, and who are not now suffering from it, have been running at large and coming in contact with others.

Dr. McGinnis says there has been a noticeable increase of smallpox in Twin Falls during the past week. He estimates the number coming to his attention to be at least 25. How many cases there are being concealed, he does not say, but believes they are quite numerous. A plan of concert between city and county authorities with the school officials is being worked out to disclose hidden cases of smallpox. Enforcers of the law, Dr. McGinnis says, will be dealt with through the law.

MERCHANTS DEFRAUDED BY FOUR SCHOOL BOYS

Youngsters in Court Reveal Unique Operations to Obtain Money

A most unusual case of juvenile delinquency came to the attention of the juvenile authorities during the week when four merchants specializing in clothing and shoes were defrauded by four school boys from 13 to 16. The boys' question are enrolled in local schools, although Probate Judge J. P. Durbin sentenced the boys to terms in the industrial school at St. Anthony, he suspended actual commitment pending good behavior. The boys were returned to the custody of parents in each case.

Statements made by Judge Durbin and John H. Ault of the juvenile department, following a hearing this morning, were in effect that the boys worked in pairs in their fraudulent operations. Two lads entered a store, one engaging the attention of the clerk while the other apparently uninterested in the shopping, would go about the boy's clothing. Later the goods were returned by one of the gang accompanied with a note purporting to be signed by the other. These notes indicated that the goods had been regularly purchased and had been what the merchant would call a "good buy."

The money paid was always asked, Mr. Ault says the boys confessed that the money was always divided equally among members of the gang. Too frequent operations on one store resulted in suspicion and the arrest of the boys. The officers were appealed for in working out the case to the fraud. All four lads were taken in charge Thursday. The father of each was in court this morning and gave pledge to keep strict watch over his son in the future. The boys are to make an inventory of goods obtained through this proceeding and to return the list to the court. They will then be required to find employment to make such returns to the merchants defrauded.

WHEAT SUPPLY SHOWED DECREASE ON JANUARY 1, 1920

Marketable Stocks 40 Per Cent of Amount on July 1, 1920

Marketable stocks of wheat in the United States on January 1, 1921, are estimated by the bureau of markets and the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, to be 200,000,000 bushels, which is approximately 40 per cent of the total available on July 1, 1920, and compares with 115,000,000 bushels on January 1, 1920. After deducting an average carryover of about 700,000,000 bushels, there remains about 250,000,000 bushels in this country available for export and domestic requirements during the six months from January 1 to July 1, 1921. Of the 47,000,000 bushels on January 1, 1920, about 100,000,000 bushels were carried over into the next season, as compared with the above carryover of 200,000,000 bushels for the months' export and domestic requirements. These figures do not include flour stocks or flour equivalents, neither do they take into account the wheat held on farms for seed or other purposes, estimated at 32 per cent of the crop.
