DIVIDED VIEWS ON STRAIN POOL FOR FARMERS

Advocates and Opponents of Compulsion in Trade Methods Wage Word War in Chicago Conference

CHICAGO, (AP)—The fight over the compulsory pooling of farmers' grain, which began yesterday on presentation of the Committee of Seventeen's report on a national cooperative grain marketing system, broke out immediately today on a session of the farmers' ratification conference.

Stands by Guns

While the committee which drew up the proposed system and called the conference stood by its guns for pooling at option of the farmer, delegates from various sections told the convention that compulsory pooling was the only thing that would make the system a success. Other delegates supporting the committee's plan insisted compulsion led to sure failure.

Kansas Opens Attack

The attack on optional pooling was opened by L. P. Bally, chairman of the National executive committee of the Wheat Growers' association of America, which stands for 100 per cent pooling, but is willing to compromise on 25 to 50 per cent. He declared that effective regulation of wheat supplies could not be accomplished without a pool.

Urges Stand on Merit

Professor H. C. Fillee of the University of Nebraska said that if pooling was to become permanent it should be on the optional privilege offered.

Commitment Explains

The committee of seventeen made its first answer through William Hirth, member from Columbia, Mo. "Compulsory pooling would mean an absolute defeat of this proposition before it was started," he said. "Advocates of compulsory pooling urge it to get a better price for their grain. That is what we are all after. But later we have had the greatest pool in the history of the United States. Expecting higher prices, the farmer has so thoroughly withheld his wheat that it only has a few cents in the market. It was shut off as never before, and yet he has not been able to get a decent price for his wheat.

Pooling Not Sufficient

"More pooling doesn't necessarily control price when other factors are more powerful." "Any group of men can borrow $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 on the exchanges and without a counterbalance can drive the market where they want it."

Both Sides Hopeful

Both sides of the pooling question were hopeful of a settlement after the first session adjourned. Efforts to set an early hour for voting were defeated.

CHICAGO MAIL ROBBERY LADY REACHES BIG SUM

Rifled Pouch is Found, Containing Wrappers for Packages of Money

CHICAGO, (AP)—Indications today were that the loot obtained in the mail robbery at the Dearborn street railway station would aggregate an amount of $25,000,000 and $750,000. The evidence that the loot would be large, was obtained when the police recovered a mail pouch that had been ripped open, rifled and thrown aside. It contained money wrapped in five small bags containing currency and consigned to various federal reserve bank members. Most of the money was consigned to Indianapolis banks.

The robbery was executed with rapidity by four bandits. One story was that the quartet had been playing golf for some time on a lot near the station and suddenly rushed over with revolvers and held up the station and mail truck employees. It is declared the robbery did not require more than 70 minutes and a half, the robbers demanding a particular registered mail pouch which still was on a mail truck. The bandits fled with the $250,000, an automobile and one of the robbers fired a shot, supposedly at one of his fellow who failed to recognize him in the excitement. They leaped into the machine and escaped.

Enforcement of Blue Laws Waits Courts Decision

South Dakota Statutes Validity Must Be Passed Upon, Officials Hold

PIERRE, S. D., (AP)—Pending decision by the state supreme court on the constitutionality of the South Dakota Sunday blue laws, enforcement of these old statutes will be held in abeyance, it was indicated today at the office of Attorney General Byron S. Payne. The state today filed its brief in the test case brought against Allen Goehal, a theater owner of Huron, who is expected to file his brief within a few days, instead of waiting the full 30 days allowed by law, so that decision in the matter can be expedited.

DATES HEARING ON WAGES CUTS

Railroad Labor Board Arranges Consolidation of All the Petitions

CHICAGO, (AP)—The railroad labor board today announced that a consolidated hearing of all wage reduction petitions would be held April 18. Twenty-six roads, which have filed appeal for lower wage scales in the last 30 days, are to be heard in the dockets today. Other roads who present similar requests will also be included in the same hearing. The decision to act quickly on the wage reduction appeals came at the same time that permission was denied the New York Central railroad to make a provisional cut, effective April 3. The New York Central has asked that the roads which are parties to the hearing on April 18 and which will decide whether a permanent reduction in the wages of unskilled labor may be made.

To the Citizens and Voters of Independent School District No. 1

IF tomorrow's special Tax Levy Election fails to carry the School Board has decreed, by resolution passed in regular session on Wednesday, April 6, that the schools of the District will close on the afternoon of Friday, April 8.

This fact is incontrovertible—a thorough investigation has been made of the entire question and there is no legal means whereby the School Teachers may be compelled to teach without pay. Failure of the Election to carry does not relieve the Taxpayer of any part of the regular school expense of operation or indebtedness already contracted. The expense must be met just the same whether the schools remain open or not. If the schools close, as they will if the election fails to carry, every teacher, under the terms of his or her contract, may collect salary for the entire term of employment by Court action. The chances of any teacher failing to obtain a judgment ensuring this result are very remote. The Court has power to levy a tax sufficient to raise the money necessary to pay teachers' salaries. This is a point of law, but such action would not re-open the schools if the schools are once closed. Tomorrow's Election is for the purpose of placing in legal form a situation which will permit the issuance of legal warrants. The actual tax is levied in the regular course of business and is payable at the regular tax-paying periods. THE SCHOOL INDEBTEDNESS MUST BE PAID JUST THE SAME WHETHER THE SCHOOLS ARE OPEN OR CLOSED. IF THIS SPECIAL LEVY IS NOT VOTED AND THE SCHOOLS CLOSED, THEY WILL REMAIN CLOSED, IN ALL PROBABILITY UNTIL SEPTEMBER OF 1922. THIS MEANS THAT EACH STUDENT WILL LOSE ONE YEAR OF HIS OR HER SCHOOL LIFE, AND THE TAXPAYER WILL HAVE SAVED NOT ONE CENT. There is no way of dodging these facts.

DAUGHERTY TO TAKE HAND IN BUILDING MESS

Attorney General Refers Specifically to Situation in Construction Industry in Warning Against Law Violation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A general warning to business that the department of justice will censure any violations of the law was sounded today by Attorney General Daugherty. He said that the department of justice will censure any violations of the law, but emphasized that it is those for whom it was intended and could be regarded as an opportunity for any of those who should mend their ways to do so.

Will Not Harass Business.

The attorney general said the department of justice will not harass business in any way, but that it did intend to enforce the law. He pointed out that while the profiteering sections of the Lever act had been declared unconstitutional, the department still could proceed under the Sherman anti-trust law. Mr. Daugherty was discussing specifically the situation in the building materials industry, which he declared reports to the department showed to be "intolerable." He said the department of justice would look for more aid from the outside than it had received heretofore and that lawyers representing firms should regard themselves as agents of the department of justice in upholding the law.

Utah's Weather Does Not Favor National Game

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—The opening of the football season scheduled for last Tuesday is still "hanging fire" and some fans have wondered if Oakland and Salt Lake will come to grips. There will be no game today because of the weather. "We're going to have a snow storm," is the reason. It is snowing at intervals here with the weather man making another prediction that "freezing temperatures will prevail tonight."

Middle Class Union Planned by Tenants

CHICAGO, (AP)—Organization of the so-called middle class to present a solid front against all forms of profiteering was announced today as a new aim of the Chicago Tenants' Protective League. A middle class union would be effected by enlargement of the scope of the league which passed a resolution containing a clause expressing the purpose as follows: "To organize the great unorganized middle class so as to protect it from many small but very organized divisions that take advantage."

Urges Mormon Youth to Wed Within Faith

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (AP)—Declaring that it is the young men and women of the Mormon church should discontinue marrying non-church members, the church would suffer disintegration and its work would eventually be in vain, Joseph A. Stevin J. Ballard made a vigorous plea at Wednesday's session of the ninety-first annual conference for the youth of the church to choose mates of the same faith.

Will Tender Materials and Labor in Reconstruction of the Devastated Areas

BERLIN, (AP)—Germany will submit to the allied supreme council specific proposals for the reconstruction of the devastated regions of northern France in a note which is now being prepared and which will be despatched before May 1, it was announced officially today. The note will reiterate Germany's desire to see the regions reconstructed as quickly as possible and will offer German labor and material to "this end. The German plan has been worked out by government officials, industrial leaders and representatives of the labor unions, who have reached a complete accord regarding the methods of rebuilding and the use of necessary material and labor. The note will demonstrate the sincerity of our purposes, which we have often expressed, and do whatever is within our ability toward rebuilding the devastated districts," an official statement is giving out the announcement.

Will Recommend Repeal of Excess Profits Tax

Secretary Mellon and Advisors Reach One Decision on Tax Revision

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Suggestions as to the means of raising the four billion dollars of revenue necessary for the conduct of the national government during the next fiscal year will be sent to congress early next week, Secretary Mellon said today. Discussion of sources which may be tapped by the new tax program will be concluded probably Saturday by the treasury secretary and his staff of advisers. Thus far, it was stated, definite discussion has been reached on only one question, that of tax revision. Mr. Mellon will recommend repeal of the excess profits tax, but he has not yet decided what form of levy will supplant that wartime provision.

FREEHOLDER IS DEIFIED FOR PURPOSE OF VOTING

Qualifications of voters in the election tomorrow to determine whether or not the trustees of the Twin Falls school district shall be authorized to levy a special tax sufficient to continue the schools are set forth in a decision rendered today for the trustees by Walters and Hodgins, members for the district. The decision follows: THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT NUMBER ONE:

In response to your verbal request for our opinion as to who are legal voters within the meaning of the law, so as to entitle them to vote at the Special Election to be held Friday afternoon, we submit the following: Voters must first have the qualifications set forth in the general laws of the State, that is to say—they must be 21 years of age, or older, must have resided in the State of Idaho for six months, and within the county 30 days. In addition to these qualifications they must be resident freeholders within the Independent School District, that is they must reside within the boundaries of the school district, and own real property within its boundaries, in order to be qualified to vote at the special election. In the case of married persons living and owning real property within the district, the husband and wife are considered as one person, although the property owned by them may stand on the records in the name of the husband only. The question of who are freeholders within the meaning of the term as used in the law, is not free from difficulties—but after careful consideration and consideration we are of the opinion that a freeholder within the meaning of the language used in the statute, is a person owning an interest in real property, which interest is greater than a lease hold—so that one having purchased real estate on a contract, where the deed has been placed in escrow to be delivered to the purchaser upon the completion of the purchase and the purchase has gone into possession of the property, he is a freeholder within the meaning of the term as used in the statute and is entitled to vote at the school election. No registration is necessary to vote at the election to be held tomorrow afternoon. Very truly yours, WALTERS, HODGINS AND BAILLY, By S. L. Hodgins.

ADJESSED UNITY OF EFFORT IN VETERANS CASE

Consolidation of Government Agencies for Treatment of Disabled Service Men is Urged by Dawes' Report

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Organization of a veteran's service administration, consolidating existing governmental bureaus having to do with treatment of disabled service men, is recommended in a report submitted today to President Harding by Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, chairman of the special commission investigating soldier relief problems. The new agency would be headed by a director general to be appointed by President Harding and to serve directly under the executive. The consolidation would be separate from departmental establishments as a means of insuring against conflicting authority. The commission which began its session here Monday completed its report this morning and immediately took it to the White House.

Proposed One Executive.

Some lines appeared in the subsequent debate in the conference when J. H. Clynes, chairman of the parliamentary labor party and others pleaded with the prime minister to call the cabinet together and agree with neither side offering conditions as the basis for the reopening of negotiations. Government Preparing. Both the railway and transport men had stated their intention of striking the miners' fall support but no intention was forthcoming as to whether this would mean a nation-wide strike. The government, on the other hand, continued upon its preparations to meet any emergency with the employment of all the facilities of the army and navy. Strikers More Aggressive. Reports from many mining centers say that the strikers were adopting a more aggressive attitude to make job-collenders free from water. In numerous instances force was used. At Borthwickton, Scotland, miners' tools were broken at a pithead in order to intimidate volunteer workers in the mine. No material damage was done. Mob Rifes Shop. New disturbances occurred in the town of Southdown, Scotland, last night. During the disorder a shop window was broken, the contents of the place were carried away. The police dispersed the crowd with their clubs, according to a Central News dispatch from Dunfermline. Transport Workers of the British fleet in the Fifth of Fifth have been given sleeping berths on board the battleships Crescent and Boyth. Double standards have been placed on all sailings in the fourth area.

UNION RAILMEN LOOKING FOR MISSING OFFICIALS

Institute Search for Brotherhood Leaders who Leave Following Visitation from Citizens Committee

JOPLIN, Mo., (AP)—Local union officials in charge of the strike of employes of the Missouri and North Arkansas roads were making efforts to ascertain the whereabouts of a group of railroad brotherhood leaders who left Harrison, Ark., late yesterday after a committee of citizens had visited them and asked that they desert. Reports here were that the party might be expected in Joplin, which is the northern terminus of the line. Early today a telegram had been received from the men and inquiries at Bureka Springs, Ark., and other nearby points failed to reveal a trace of them. The men, Martin C. Carey, Pratt Huron, Mich., representing the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors; W. J. Potts, Little Rock, Dispatchers' association; and J. M. Kelly, Gen. Office, Atlanta, Railway Telegraphers; W. E. Horne, Kansas City, and Joseph P. Saxe, Fort Worth, Tex., had been in Harrison, Ark., under the threat of strike, which the result of a wage controversy.

VETERAN TALKS ON SUCCESSFUL STATESMANSHIP

Fluency of Speech Counts for Little in British House of Commons, Declares Bonar Law after Years Experience

GLASGOW, (P)—Contrary to a popular idea, nowhere does "fluency of speech" count for less than in the house of commons, according to Andrew Bonar Law, who for 20 years has been a member of parliament and, until his recent resignation, was the government leader in the house. Mr. Bonar Law was asked to give the quality that make for success in public life.

"In parliament it is not the act of speech but the debating speech which is effective," he said in the course of his inauguration address as lord rector of Glasgow university. "As in the wars which may secure victory are necessarily the biggest, but those which are placed in the best position, so in parliament the heavier the call of the guns the better, but in all cases they must be quick firing."

Difference in Faculty.

"There is a great difference between men in their faculty of speech, when they speak. Some men speak far above their general ability and some men far below it but a natural gift of speech is not necessary to secure success in public life."

"There have always been, and there are in parliament, men whose speaking when they have become unpopular had little, nevertheless, has taken their place in the front rank of statesmen. They did so because intellect is not a fool, but a hand, and they used their innate intellect and force to master the tool which was necessary for their work."

"In parliament also there have always been, and there are now, men who from every point of view of form, or style, make speeches which cannot be considered good, but there is in them a vital force and their utterances however expressed, like an electric current convey their force to those who listen to them."

Few Eloquent Speeches.

Eloquence, like genius, he said, was a thing apart and the eloquent man, like the poet, was "born and not made." The former colleague of Lloyd George said he had heard very few eloquent speeches. He had, however, listened to many very fine rhetorical efforts but the difference between eloquence and rhetoric was as wide as the distance between heaven and earth. Eloquence also was always simple. There was nothing abstract or mechanical about it and it was not by piling up images but by some winged expression that the effect was produced.

"No man could secure, still less could he retain the confidence of the house of commons or of the country unless he had gained a reputation for 'disinterestedness and sincerity.' Mr. Bonar Law said he had been only one way in which such a reputation could be permanently retained and that was by the actual possession of the truth. The strongest human motive, he said, should be in some of duty."

Defends Ambition.

In looking out upon life, it was right that men should be ambitious, it was right that they should strive to excel, but if it was merely a selfish ambition there could be in that no "vision splendid."

Scientists Find Head-Hunting Indians in Ecuador

Head-hunting Indians with a devil for a god, speckled bears and scorpions for buried treasures were met with by the most recent scientific expedition to Ecuador. Harold E. Anthony and George K. Cherie, under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History, led the expedition which recently returned from South America. The natives studied most carefully were the Jibaro. Everything but Jibaro is Christmas to the natives. They look down on white men because the white man has only one wife. As each wants at least four or five wives, and there are not enough women to go around, the Indians fight to get their homelands. When an enemy is killed his head is cut off as a trophy of war. The bones are taken out of the head and the skin is dried slowly and carefully to about the size of a doll's head. Then the trophy is dyed black and painted red in spots. A war dance is held, with the most eloquent oratorical, and the trophy thereafter is worn by the winner. The photo on the left shows dried human heads worn by the Jibaros the way the North American Indians wore scalps. The photo on the right shows a member of the Jibaro tribe with an ancient muzzle-loading musket, while in the inset is a bell of the tribe.

Twentieth Century Club Favors Movement to Observe Consumers' Week

From April 11 to April 18 is Home Products Week.

The question of observing it in the most efficient manner, was up for discussion at the meeting of the Twentieth Century club at the Baptist building Tuesday afternoon. A letter from Donald McLean bearing upon the matter, was read and received careful attention. The letter said in part:

"Hoists makes this quite an event. They have a great many products left in the district, and with plenty of advertising, they are able to get the people to lay in a good supply of the products, and clean them up before the new crop comes in, and it helps to put the district in a more prosperous condition. "If these things are allowed to decay and waste through lack of foresight, and we go on importing fresh, but a poorer quality of such products from California and surrounding states between now and the time our new crops come in, it will not only be an economic loss and waste, but also the loss of a great deal of money that might be used to good advantage by all of us on this tract. This should not happen in a year when the farmers are already staggering under the heavy decrease in market value of their products, and in many instances are unable to borrow money to buy seed to produce for another year.

"I am sure you will agree that this condition should be helped by all forces that are interested in promoting the sound economic growth of this district of ours, and I for one would like to appeal to you to bring it to the attention of the club of which you are president, and to start and help it in every way possible. I think, while all western products should be boosted, that we have a very serious condition on this tract that, should occupy most of our attention."

A committee headed by Mrs. J. H. Seaver was appointed to place the recommendations before the public.

Twentieth Century Club Will Support Tax Levy Proposal

Members of Civic Body to Give Every Assistance to School Election

At the regular meeting of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday, the body spent some time in a survey of the forthcoming bond election. A committee from the chamber of commerce composed of E. J. Finch, N. B. Wight, J. A. Cron and J. A. Keefer were present, to present plans already formulated by that organization, to assist in getting out the vote on election day. Following a very animated discussion of the whole situation, and the plan outlined, the club voted to give it every support and assistance. A committee composed of Mrs. H. W. Clouche, Mrs. B. E. Morse and Mrs. C. H. Krongel was elected to extend the club's co-operation.

It is significant of the high civic standard of the club that in the entire discussion, there was no sentiment expressed against the bond issue.

LEGISLATURE LIGHTENS BURDEN UPON TRIBUNAL

Kansas Industrial Court is Charged On by Duty of Settling Labor Disputes

TOPPEKA, Kan., (P)—Under enactment of the 1921 legislature which adjourned March 21 the Kansas court of industrial relations becomes today a tribunal for settling industrial controversies, including disputes between employers and employees in essential industries. The supervision over public utilities rates which heretofore constituted a large share of the industrial courts work, is to be taken over by the newly created public utilities commission of three members.

In carrying out the administration plan to divorce the industrial and utility branches of the court, the state department of labor and the state industrial welfare commission were taken over bodily by the industrial court and will continue to operate as subsidiaries of the court. Reason for creation of the new utilities commission, as given by Governor Harry J. Allen, was that, quite unexpectedly, the large volume of utilities rate cases coming before the court tended to submerge its activities as an industrial tribunal and demanded the court's attention at the expense of the industrial matters before it.

Furthermore, the governor pointed out, the necessity to increase rates charged by utility corporations, as approved by the industrial court brought it an undesirable popularity, while on the other hand, its operations in industrial cases appeared to be in strong favor of the public. The two tribunals—industrial court and utilities commission—became operative upon the appointees qualifying.

SENTIMENT CRYSTALLIZES FOR BERGDOLL'S RETURN

American Legion Headquarters Receives General Support in Drive Against Slacker

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (P)—Hundreds of telegrams and letters voting a scold for the return to this country of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, convicted Philadelphia draft evader now in Germany are being received at the national headquarters of the American Legion, officials announced here today.

The general public is leading the demand for Bergdoll's return, the legion officers say. In one day individual telegrams were received from banks, business houses, city officials and public utilities, civic organizations and representative citizens of Aberdeen, S. D., according to the legion announcement. Assurance of support to bring Bergdoll back was also received from J. W. Witherspoon, head of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Legion posts on the Pacific coast have started a fund to further the movement and Kansas legionnaires have wired that they will support any plan for bringing Bergdoll back.

F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the legion, telegraphed today from Washington, where he is in conference with President Harding's committee for relief of disabled servicemen, the following message: "I am bringing every argument to bear on government officials to hasten the demand for Bergdoll. The legion cannot rest until this paragraph of the dialysis is once more behind prison bars. I think that the time is not far away."

HUGHES DENIES RIGHTS OF U. S. ARE FORFEITED

Secretary of State, in Notes to Allied Powers, Asserts Necessity for American Acquisition in Mandates

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Failure of the United States to ratify the treaty of Versailles will not be allowed to detract from this country's right to participate in peace settlements, Secretary Hughes declared in notes addressed to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

The note to Japan differed from the other three in that it referred more specifically to the Japanese mandate over the island of Yap. All four of them reiterated the contention that the United States had sacrificed no rights in the peace settlement by reason of its unwillingness to join the league of nations.

"The fact that the United States has not ratified the treaty of Versailles," the notes said, "cannot detract from rights which the United States has already acquired and it is hardly necessary to suggest that a treaty to which the United States is not a party could not affect those rights."

U. S. Given Share. Article 119 of the treaty provides, Mr. Hughes said, that Germany renounces in favor of the principal allied and associated powers all her rights and titles in her overseas possessions. The secretary then emphasized that the United States is one of the principal allied and associated powers, and that the position of the government of Japan could derive no strength from the treaty of Versailles or from any discussion preliminary to it.

Continuing, Secretary Hughes said: "As the United States did not enter into this convention or into any treaty relating to the subject, this government is unable to understand upon what ground it was thereafter attempted to confer the mandate without the agreement of the United States. It is manifest that the league of nations was without any authority to bind the United States and that the confirmation of the mandate in question and the definition of its terms by the council of the league of nations in December, 1920, cannot be regarded as having efficiency with respect to the United States."

Ottos Wilson's Attitude. The attitude of former President Wilson upon the disposition of Yap was set forth in a statement which he made to the state department on March 3, 1921. The former president was quoted as saying that his first information of a contention that the "so-called decision of May 7, 1919" by the council of four, assigning Yap to Japan was given to him by Mr. Norman D. White, then said that he informed Mr. Davis he had never consented to such an assignment. Mr. Wilson said that on several occasions he had made specific reservations regarding the island of Yap and had taken the position that it should not be assigned under any mandate to any one power, but should be internationalized for cable purposes.

Secretary Hughes insisted in his note that any omission to make protest against the assignment of Yap to Japan would not operate as a waiver of its rights since the proceedings of the supreme council did not and could not have finality.

Rights Not Surrendered. "As no treaty has ever been concluded with the United States," Secretary Hughes wrote, "relating to the island of Yap and as no one has ever been authorized to cede or surrender the right or interest of the United States in the island, this government must insist that it has not lost its right or interest as it existed prior to any action of the supreme council or the league of nations and cannot recognize the alienation of the island or the validity of the mandate to Japan."

"This government," the note concluded, "as has been clearly stated in previous communications, seeks no exclusive interest in the island of Yap and has no desire to secure any privileges without having similar privileges accorded to other powers including, of course, Japan, and relying upon the sense of justice of the government of Japan and of the governments of the other allied and associated powers, this government looks with confidence to a disposition of the matter whereby the just interests of all may be properly preserved."

Note to Japan Withheld. The copy of the note sent to Japan was not made public. It is said, however, to be very similar to those to Great Britain, France and Italy, except that it contained some additional paragraphs referring to previous correspondence between the two governments relating to Yap.

FALSE REPORT HARD TO DOWN IN DALTON CASE

Correction in Press Accounts Travels Slow and Difficult Course

CHICAGO, (AP)—An example of how much faster incorrect, sensational reports sometimes travel than the facts was disclosed in the Chicago bank robbery in which William Dalton, a 16-year-old clerk, who stole $72,000 worth of bonds, was credited with saying that he was influenced by the leniency of Judge Keneaw M. Landis, in postponing sentence on an Ottawa, Ill., bank teller.

Mr. Dalton denied the reports that he had said he was influenced by Judge Landis, when they were called to his attention a few hours after his capture at Heyworth, Ill., February 23. The denial was bulletined, the same as the first story of the capture, but Judge Landis said he still receives comments from all over the country from persons who have read only the incorrect report that Dalton had blamed him.

An investigation of the story at its source, in Heyworth, brought affidavits that Mr. Dalton had made no such statement. A newspaperman of Heyworth, who was probably the first news writer to interview the boy after his capture made this sworn affidavit: "Our conversation was about as follows: 'Reporter—'Did you ever read about the Ottawa case which came before Judge Landis?' 'Dalton—'No.' 'Reporter—'The two cases resemble each other, and in that case Landis did not sentence Carey, but let him go on his honor, to come back at any time he would call him. The two cases resemble each other and for that reason I thought you had read of it.' 'Dalton—'The Ottawa man got a raise just before he pulled off his stunt.' 'Reporter—'Then you have read about the Ottawa case.' 'Dalton—'Yes, I have read about it.'"

When this conversation was reported over the long distance telephone the questions became mixed with the answers, with the result that Dalton was made to say that he thought the Ottawa case fitted his own.

This incorrect report was in type for several hours before investigation by Associated Press writers brought denial from Mr. Dalton that he had made any such statement.

GERMANS URGED BY COUNTRYMEN TO SHUN MEXICO

Only Sizeable Teutonic Colonization Scheme Instituted Since War Comes to Grief; Immigrants in Straits

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—German immigration to Mexico has so decreased that not more than 500 have entered the country since the end of the war. German officials have urged their countrymen not to migrate here at present but rather to avail themselves of the facilities offered for settlement in the South American republics of Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay. Information to this effect was given at the German embassy following inquiries as to newspaper reports here that an official request had been made in naturalized Germany for a concession of about 70,000 acres of land in Coahuila.

Denies Coahuila Scheme. Denial was made that the Coahuila concession in question pertains to German citizens, Counsellor Fuhr asserting that the request was made by naturalized Germans in the United States, principally from Texas, who wished to form a colony near Las Vegas, Coahuila, and desert their American homes.

"The only profitable emigration from Germany to Mexico ended in failure," Counsellor Fuhr asserted. "Shortly after the end of the war a colonization company was formed of several hundred members, who pooled their resources and purchased German goods estimated to bring $800,000 (pesos) when sold in Mexico.

"Two men were appointed to accompany the goods but unfortunately after they disposed of them they pocketed the money and have disappeared. Meanwhile the would-be colonists' emigration for Mexico in large numbers but since their arrival here they have been virtual wards of the permanent German colony in Mexico City inasmuch as they had invested all their funds in the defunct company. One of the colonists, for instance, was a former German vice admiral. He is now working as a laborer with a surveying gang and is glad of the chance."

Offers No Inducements. Declaration was made further that the Mexican government as yet has offered no inducements for German immigration beyond mere transportation from the port of entry to the place of settlement. Contrasted to this is the policy inaugurated by the "Hate republics," Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay, whereby colonists with free passage from Germany and free grants of land. Until other facilities are offered by Mexico and "home steadling" is made practicable, Counsellor Fuhr said his countrymen would be advised to stay away.

QUICK ACTION FORECAST ON IMMIGRANTS BARRIER

Republican Congressional Leaders Set May 1 as Date for Setting Up Bars Denied by Wilson

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Law against immigration from Europe will be placed May 1 under plans announced Wednesday by republican congressional leaders. Senator Dillingham of Vermont was prepared for immediate introduction in the new congress the immigration restriction bill which was passed by the last congress and voted by President Wilson. It would become effective May 1 and would limit immigration for one year to three per cent of the population of alien origin now in this country.

Senator Jones, republican, Washington, contemplates offering an amendment requiring all immigrants to travel on American ships.

SCHOOLS TO SINGLE ISSUE

There is probably no proposition upon which Twin Falls people are more nearly in full accord than that Twin Falls schools ought not to be discontinued; and yet it would be rank folly to suppose that the continuance of the schools is not seriously jeopardized in the election to be held tomorrow on the question of authorizing a special tax levy to meet the outstanding obligations of the school district.

Unless approval of the tax is voted, the schools must close not only for the remainder of this year but for next year, too. No other way out has been suggested. The legislature and the Governor could not suggest an alternative course, and both legislature and governor consented to enactment of the emergency law under which the special levy may be voted only when they were convinced that it would afford the only solution of the problem.

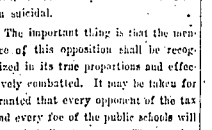

The situation, in a nutshell, is this: Legal obligations have been contracted by the district in an amount that will consume all of the revenue available for this year and most of next unless the special levy is voted. These obligations cannot be evaded, and unless money to pay them is provided through the special tax, they must be paid with the money that otherwise would be used for carrying on school next year.

Question of the responsibility of the school directors in this situation is of secondary importance just now. The essential consideration is that continuance of school shall be made possible through voting of the special levy, and the questions of responsibility should be threshed out afterward. It is reasonable to suppose that the people who vote tomorrow to make more money available for carrying on the schools will be on the alert to see that it is spent judiciously and that the trustees shall be held to strict accountability; but if no money is made available and the schools are closed then, it is as reasonable that the question of responsibility of the trustees will become a dead issue.

Singleness of the issue—whether there shall be schools or no schools—is an obvious fact that there would seem to be no possibility for division of opinion; but the unavoidable fact is that not a few, but a great many of the voters who will go to the polls tomorrow fully intend to vote against the special tax.

In some few instances average blinded by the glitter of the copper penny, dictates the adverse vote, and in many others pre-emption is warped by obsession of grievance that is real or fancied, but essentially destructive and even suicidal.

The important thing is that the nature of this opposition shall be recognized in its true proportions and effectively combated. It may be taken for granted that every opponent of the tax and every foe of the public schools will cast his ballot tomorrow. The question is whether friends of education can outnumber their opponents two to one. Unless every person who is a qualified voter in the election tomorrow actually casts his ballot for the special tax he must share equally with the enemies of the schools in the grief and shame that is certain to be the portion of Twin Falls if the levy fails.

AUDITOR GIVES FACTS IN SCHOOL SITUATION

Declares Only Solution of Problem, with Exception of Complete Suspension of System for From One Year to Eighteen Months, is to Vote Special Levy and Wipe State Clean; Traces Complications Incident to Failure to Approve Tax

Twin Falls, Idaho, April 5, 1921. To the Editor of the Twin Falls News: In spite of the fact that we have worked day and night to get our report of the audit of the School District's books to the people before election, and while it is even now being printed in the Twin Falls News, we realize that little time is left before election for those interested to read, digest and discuss such a lengthy and detailed report.

On our own initiative, we are therefore taking this means of summarizing the vital points uncovered by our audit and discussed at length in our report, so that a brief and dependable record of the main facts may be available to the taxpayers of the district.

First, one word about the School Board. This short article cannot take up a discussion of the actions of the Board. This is fully covered in our detailed report which will be published in full as rapidly as it can be set up by the printer.

No Evidence of Fraud. It should be said, however, that our investigations do not disclose any evidence of fraud nor the slightest suggestion of such a thing. Any charges direct or implied which have been or may be made are absolutely without foundation so far as our investigation has been unable to disclose. The Board has made mistakes, and serious ones, and we have not spared it in our report and criticism but does not deserve the persecution which has been directed at it as a body or at its members as individuals. Personalities should be left out of a situation so serious and one that involves not the personnel of the Board, but the educational, moral and financial welfare of this community. So much for the Board for the present.

The Problem

The present financial condition of the district can be briefly described as follows: The figures here used are as at January 31, 1921.

All of the operating revenue for the year so far received with the exception of $8,407.03 has been expended, and, in addition, $155,533.70 has been expended which must be paid out of future revenue.

The future income which will become available for this purpose amounts to approximately $149,515.51. This income would liquidate the warrant indebtedness of $155,533.70 all but $6,101.77, but, of course will not operate the schools for the remaining five months of the year. The estimated amount required to operate the schools until June 30, 1921, is $176,688.05. Therefore, $176,688.05 plus $6,101.77 must be raised from some source other than the revenue now available.

Closing the schools will not solve the problem, as a VERY LARGE PART OF THE $176,688.05 MUST BE PAID WHETHER THE SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED OR NOT.

At this writing over two months of the five mentioned have passed, the expense of which amounts to about $70,000, and in addition to this the salaries of teachers, who are under contract, and representing over 50 per cent of the remaining total of $106,000, must be met whether the schools remain open or not.

Situation to Be Met

With all "whys" and "wherefores," criticisms, post mortems, and other obstructing debris brushed away this is the condition the district is in and the situation that must be faced.

How it happened, who or what is responsible is immaterial—the situation itself remains unchanged and the problem must be faced and solved.

There is but one solution to the problem with the exception of a complete suspension of school for from one year to eighteen months, and this is the means provided by House Bill No. 121.

It provides that the taxpayers of the district may, at an election called for that purpose, vote an additional tax which, when added to that otherwise provided by the law and to other income, will be sufficient to operate the schools for nine months of the year, etc.

The authorization of the Commissioner of Education and the assent of two-thirds of the voting taxpayers is necessary to approve this tax. In the event of its carrying, expenditures can be made in anticipation of the collection of the tax.

Would Give "Clean Slate" The solution then is quite simple—it is only necessary to vote the additional tax required and in one year you will fall with a "clean slate." There are a great many points in regard to both this tax and the financial situation which are not understood. Some of the most important of these are as follows:

With respect to the tax, first, this tax is not payable now, but next January and June, the same as all other taxes. Second, it will be added to the tax levy made in September for the next school year. Third, the tax really represents an additional tax which is made now because the ones levied for the past two

SCHOOL LEVY ELECTION!

If the school levy election fails on Friday afternoon to carry by a two-thirds majority and the schools close and remain closed, a cloud that moment settles over the community that will require years to lift.

3,200 children will be out of school, 110 teachers and 35 wagon drivers out of employment, and every citizen in the School District made to suffer by the ruination of our school system.

The good name of the Twin Falls Country will be blackened for years to come and all our business competitors who in the past have been so willing to discredit this community will enjoy the opportunity to give us further adverse notoriety.

The value of every piece of property in this district will decrease many more times than the $20.00 levy rate per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is the rate of the levy which will be collected as part of the regular taxes, one-half in January, 1922, the other half in June, 1922, if the levy is voted.

Severe losses and harm would result to the 3,200 boys and girls from closing the schools; by causing the loss of time already spent on partly completed work with consequent loss of credits for uncompleted studies, and causing the general lowering of morale and standards which naturally would come from allowing the children to roam the streets or follow activities less profitable to their growth and development.

THE SCHOOLS WILL REMAIN CLOSED

The School Board has decided by resolution that if the levy election fails to carry the boys and girls of the District will not go back to the school houses Monday morning.

Do we wish 110 teachers to go out of our community to all parts of the country and advertise us by relating their experiences in Twin Falls?

OUR DEBTS MUST BE PAID

The additional levy must be made some time before the school warrants that have and should be drawn can be paid.

We will never get out of paying the debts we owe; they must be met some time, and the salaries of the teachers which according to their contracts should have been paid monthly will be collectable by the teachers whether the schools remain closed or are kept open by the voting of the levy at this time.

The auditor of the school accounts has shown by his figures that it will cost only $17,000 more to continue the schools to the end of the year than to close at this time which would amount to 1.8 mills levy or $1.80 tax per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The other debts will all have to be paid sooner or later whether the schools remain open or closed at this time.

The lack of passage of this levy now will be a calamity to the school children, to the teachers, to the property owner in the city and the country alike, and to the business world and every citizen in the community.

THE LEVY WHICH WILL BE COLLECTED IN JANUARY, 1922, AND JUNE, 1922, SHOULD BE VOTED NOW AND THE SERIOUS SITUATION AVERTED.

L. D. S. CHURCH ON RECORD FOR SCHOOL ISSUE

President Kirkman Urges Unanimous Vote for Special Tax Levy

That the people of the L. D. S. church may be fully and definitely informed concerning the stand of the church leaders in Twin Falls stake on the school election issue, to be voted upon at Friday's election, L. G. Kirkman, president of the stake, today announced that as in all matters of moral character the church stands for the undivided support of the levy question.

"We absolutely believe that the levy issue is one of the most vital matters that has ever come before the people of this city and community, and we believe that every ballot should be cast in favor of the most educational matter that has ever come before the best interest of the community, as well as for the advantage to the boys and girls of the district," President Kirkman said today.

Last night the sentiment was expressed at a meeting of the first ward teachers training class, L. D. S., when 40 persons were present.

At the meeting, L. D. S. church in Twin Falls stake, the following statement is issued:

"I advise all of our people to support the school levy as an absolute necessity and as a moral question."

"*G. KIRKMAN, L. D. S."

Also speaking for the levy issue the following statement has been issued by Bishop George W. Wood of the Twin Falls Second ward, L. D. S.:

"The Bishop of Twin Falls second ward, L. D. S. is on record in favor of supporting the school levy election coming to a vote on Friday, April 8, 1921."

SCHOOL BOARD MAKES DEFINITE STATEMENT

Educational Institutions of District Will Close Unless Levy is Endorsed

That schools will be closed for the remainder of the school year by the trustees of Independent District No. 1, by their ballots, authorize a special tax levy to defray expenses already incurred, and to meet those of the future, is the official announcement made to the teachers by the board of trustees when the Teachers' Council met with the board in joint session late yesterday.

The meeting was called at the request of the council to get from the trustees a definite statement concerning the future of the schools. The official statement that the schools would remain closed if the election does not endorse the special tax levy, was made in the following resolution, adopted by the board for the information of the teachers:

"Be it resolved by the school board of Independent district No. 1, Twin Falls county, Idaho, that the members of the faculties and others in the employment of said school district be and they are hereby informed that if the special election is provided for their benefit for said district to be held Friday, April 8, 1921, fails to carry that said schools will close."

With the last class of this afternoon the school of the district will be closed. The date for reopening depends entirely upon the result of Friday's election.

Monthly Cost of Producing Milk Shows A Wide Variation Throughout the Year

In winter the cost of feed, bedding and pasture amounts to 20 per cent of the yearly cost of producing milk in a typical Vermont dairy section, while in summer it amounts to 15.0 per cent. Specialists of the United States department of agriculture found as a result of a study covering two years in a section of that state where milk was produced for market. The report of this study is now published in department bulletin 923, 'Unit Requirements for Producing Milk in Vermont.' While the figures obtained show the requirements of producing milk in that particular section, and may be approximately of the requirements in similar sections, the specialists point out that they do not apply to dairy sections where other conditions and methods of management prevail.

Quantity of Food Varies. It was found that 31.1 pounds of concentrates were required to produce 100 pounds of milk in winter, while to produce the same amount in summer only 8.7 pounds were necessary. Other requirements for producing this amount of milk in winter were: Hauling and grinding concentrates, 2.2 cents; dry roughing, 2.9 cents; silage and other

WHEAT PRICE HOLDS ITS OWN THROUGH SESSIONS

Government Report is Considered as Bearish but Suggestive of Yield Less Than Expected

CHICAGO, (AP)—Scattered buying to prepare for the government crop report today tended to strengthen while somewhat. Low temperatures in the west counted also in favor of the bull side of the market. On the other hand renewed unhappiness over the labor deadlock in Great Britain prevented any decided advance in prices. Opening quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1-2 lower, with May $1.36 to 1.38 1/4 and July $1.11 3/4 to 1.12, were followed by a slight general up and then by moderate gains all around which, however, were mostly transient.

The government report was construed as bearish, although suggesting a yield somewhat less than had generally been expected. Prices closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/4 higher, with May $1.36 to 1.38 1/4 and July $1.12 to 1.13 1/4.

In the corn market export sales had a sustaining influence. After opening a shade to 3-8 higher, May 90 to 90 1/4, the price received a little and then rose higher than before. Receipts continued light. The market closed steady at 1-4 to 5-8 net advance, with May 60 1-4.

Outs were firm with corn, starting at 1-3c decline to a like advance, July 38 3/4 and then hardening still more. Weakness in hog values had a depressing effect on provisions.

New York Stock Market. NEW YORK, (AP)—Shorts-avoided themselves of unfavorable foreign and domestic industrial conditions to devalue values in the stock market on day. Losers among leaders ranged from 1 to 3 points. Sales approximately 400,000 shares.

Early dealings in the stock market today showed no definite tendencies, although advances outnumbered declines. Industrial sentiment was somewhat dampened by latest developments in the British coal strike situation and the decision of the United States railroad labor board against temporary reduction of wages. Rates of 1 to 2 points in Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt and United States Rubber were the outstanding features. Rails were inclined to ease and recent pressure against European oils was resumed. Exchange on London reacted very slightly from yesterday's highest quotations.

Further declines attended the light dealings of the final hour. Harvester declined 2 points and Twin City Rapid Transit showing an extreme reaction of 8 points. Cables and granars also lost 1 to 2 points. The closing was heavy.

WOMEN VOTERS IN CONVENTION

Primary Election System and World Disarmament Subjects for Discussion

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—The board of directors, regional directors and chairman of standing committees of the National League of Women Voters will meet here today in a closed conference and pre-convention business meeting to map out the work of the second annual convention of the league which opens here Monday and continues all the week.

The members of the national board are Mrs. Maud Wood Park, of Boston, national chairman; Mrs. George Gellhorn, St. Louis vice chairman; Mrs. Selon Jacobs, Birmingham, Ala., secretary; Mrs. Richard Edwards, Portland, Ind., treasurer.

The regional directors are: Miss Katherine Lindgren, Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. F. Louise Slade, New York; Miss Della Dorelli, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Elizabeth Hanger, Cleveland; Mrs. James E. Pike, Minneapolis; and Mrs. G. B. Simmons, Portland, Ore.

Among recommendations to be made to the convention by the standing committees are: Continued efforts to pass the Sheppard-Towner bill for federal aid for mothers and infants.

Improvement in election methods. Stop profiteering now going on in the necessities of life.

Educational qualification for the vote in all states. Uniform laws concerning women.

Proposed revision of the by-laws will be presented. One important revision is to have the league elect its president and officers by vote of the entire convention.

DOLLAR DAYS DOPE

The Dollar Days celebration might properly be called a Spring Bargain Festival, and if the plans of the committee are carried out, it will be remembered in Twin Falls, coming as it does after an extended era of unsettled market conditions, times that have been just as discouraging for the merchant as for the consumer, and times that have tried the very hearts of men and women.

Now that conditions are a trifle more encouraging to the merchant in all lines, Twin Falls business men are, for the most part, determined to lessen the burden on the householder. Hence this big bargain time to which all in the dollar community are to be the invited guests as far as possible, with the outline the base of all transactions.

Every branch of the mercantile world is to be represented on these two days in Twin Falls, from the butcher, and baker to the "electric light man." The entertainment committee reports a big band concert and a big free street dance if the weather man is willing to do his part.

Some of the preliminary bargains are beginning to show themselves in the stores and the values that are to be offered are such that will surprise and delight the marketeer.

COBB, LEADER, TESTS NEED OF CLUB MORALE

Tiger Boss Puts His Man on Personal Honor to Keep Fit for Play

By I. E. SANBORN.

In spite of all the changes in the clubhouse of the 16 major league teams this year, there is only one manager who has not tried his hand at steering a big league outfit in the world's series, and that one man is Verus Cobb, the veteran superman of the Detroit club.

On that account and because of his wonderful record as a ball player, great interest will be taken in his transformation into a manager.

The Georgia peach always has been an eccentric player, for whom most of the ordinary rules of discipline were waived, and now it will be educational to learn whether a player who had not been amenable to discipline in one sphere, discipline of which his discipline is beneficial to baseball.

Dropie Morning Practice. Manager Cobb has announced a unique system for handling a team. He has declared against morning practice, even when the team is at home.

May Mean Tender Muscles. If it works out all right it will simplify the task of managers wonderfully. But it is a good guess that, if there is any time in precedent, the player who is allowed to sleep as long as he wants to and practice as little as possible, will develop very soft and tender muscles before the season has progressed far.

Joint Pilots for New Clubs. The managers in the major leagues who retain their former berths are Kid Gleason of the White Sox, Trip Speaker of the Cleveland Indians, Connie Mack of the Athletics, Miller Huggins of the Yankees, Wilbur Robinson of the Brooklyn champions, George Gleason of the Pirates, Pat Moran of the Red Sox and Branch Rickey of the Cardinals.

Clark Griffith of Washington has unshaken part of his burden on the shoulders of George McBride who will be titular manager of the Senators, but he cannot name Cobb as a new manager because it's a cinch Griffith will remain the real guy at the helm.

The same is true of Jennings and the Giants, who will still be ruled by the "big analysis" by McGraw, as always.

Fred Mitchell and Hugh Duffy, who will manage the Braves and Red Sox respectively, have both had their fling at handling big league teams in Chicago. Bill Donovan, the ex-wild man of the club, was given a tryout some years ago as boss of the Yankees, and will now try to make good with the Phillies.

Lee Fohl, who succeeds Jimmy Burke as manager of the Browns, was pilot of the Indians for several seasons without producing results which satisfied the club owners. He will have a chance this year to demonstrate whether or not it was his fault.

Benny Leonard has developed a broken thumb and so can't engage in fistie encounters for some time to come.

vanized sheet iron making it fire proof. The approximate cost was $15,000. The gang of 15 men employed on the job left Wednesday for Poastelle to work on a big timbering plant.
