

CALLS RUSSIAN SOVIET WORLD'S WORST TYRANNY

Leader of Communist Party in United States Gives Impressions of Five Months Spent Under Bolshevik Regime

RYVAL, Esthonia. (AP)—The "old caving civilization of soviet Russia" was depicted as the worst tyranny in the world by Dr. Morris Zucker, known here as a leader and organizer of the communist party in the United States...

"Conditions steadily are becoming worse," he declared. "What little foreign trade Russia is able to get is of no help to the people, who everywhere are the victims of tyranny and go about in hopeless attitude because of the great and constant red terror."

Dr. Zucker last June was pardoned by President Wilson after having been sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment on being found guilty of sedition. He left the United States in September and arrived in Russia in November. Three days after his arrival in Moscow he was imprisoned and spent most of the time he was in Russia in confinement.

Meets Tyranny's Victims Inside the prison walls, Dr. Zucker said met victims of Bolshevik tyranny, most of whom were there because they had opposed being ruled by the small Bolshevik minority.

Dr. Zucker, who arrived here with a group of Germans on the way home from Russia, where they were prisoners, said he hoped to return to the United States to relate the facts regarding Russia to the millions of people who think there is anything like freedom under the soviet.

Americans Among Prisoners In prison in Moscow, he said, there still are a number of Americans, some of whom he saw. These included Royal C. Kealey, an electrical mechanical expert of New York, who had been in prison eight months; William Flick of Brooklyn and Dr. Estes, who went to Russia last September to take moving pictures; Mrs. Marguerite E. Hamilton, an American newspaper correspondent; Henry J. A. Mar, of New York, who long had been a resident of Russia and remained there to care for his property; Demetrios Kallimantzi, an American of Greek parentage who had been two and one-half years in prison and Captain Emmett Kilpatrick, of the American Red Cross, who is in a concentration camp.

These prisoners, like Zucker himself were very poorly fed, he asserted, most of them being threatened constantly with the "third degree" to exact confessions of guilt for things they never had done. He said Mrs. Harrison, under threat of death and through much ill treatment, had in some way been inveigled into signing a false confession.

Brought Back from Border. Mr. Kealey, Dr. Zucker declared, had been invited to Russia, and was faked and traveled on special cars while there. He was given a banquet by Nikolai Lenin, Bolsheviki premier, the night he left Moscow for the Esthonian frontier on his return home, said Dr. Zucker, only to be arrested at the border and returned to a Moscow prison where the Bolsheviki learned his report on Russia would be unfavorable.

Belgian Troops Entering Dusseldorf

This is one of the first photographs to arrive in this country of the new allied invasion of Germany, shows Belgian troops marching past the statue of Frederick the Great in Dusseldorf during their occupation of that important German city. The invasion was ordered by the allied command following the failure of the reparations conference in London.

RAILWAY CONGESTION IN MEXICO BECOMES SERIOUS

Commercial and Industrial Interests Appeal to Government for Relief

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—Congestion of Mexican railroads has reached a critical stage and commercial and industrial interests of the country have appealed to the government to take extraordinary steps to relieve the situation. At Vera Cruz, Tampico, Puerto Mexico, and in cities along the United States frontier thousands of tons of merchandise have been lying for months, the railroads being unable to move these goods to their destinations.

In addition to the economic pain presented by the railroad congestion, traveling in Mexico is at present tedious, passenger trains running from one to two days late. The lack of relief is said to be the cause of this inconvenience. President Obregon declared yesterday that imports to Mexico had increased 200 per cent in the past three months and that additional railroad rolling stock had not been acquired to a proportionate degree.

Adds to his list, secretary of the treasury denied reports that certain irregularities in the customs system had caused the port congestion.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT TO TAKE HAND IN OIL FIND

Petroleum Discoveries in State of Tabasco Resent in Excited Rush to District

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—Contracts for the lease of oil lands in the state of Tabasco will not be recognized by the Mexican government unless they receive the sanction of the department of commerce and industry, says an official announcement issued here. This statement was a result of great excitement over the discovery of oil in Tabasco, and a rush of operators to that district. Most of the leases already made have been given foreign oil men and confer rights to the subsoil, presenting problems much the same as encountered in petroleum development projects in the Tampico field.

Important petroleum discoveries have been made in Tabasco, it is reported, and the Excelsior says that, therefore, the principal part of the state, there are enacted "rules similar to those in the Klondike when the gold rush was on."

WOMEN TO STUDY POLITICS

(AP)—Every angle to the present day activity in American politics by political bosses and political machines will come up for action before the second annual convention of the National League of Women Voters, which opens here Monday. This became apparent when the executive board which is rounding out the final details of the convention schedule announced the program for the study of election methods.

FEARS AMERICANS FAIL TO APPRECIATE BRITAIN

London Telegraph Expresses Apprehension Over Stand on Oil Fields Exploitation

LONDON. (AP)—Apprehension that the position of Great Britain relative to the exploitation of oil fields in Mesopotamia is not understood in the United States is expressed by the Daily Telegraph, which says that as a result of the present situation, the British government has not received due credit for the policy it has pursued. This newspaper, which stands in view of the country in the exchange of notes between London and Washington asks Americans if they are "convinced they would have observed similar self-denial in less circumstances." "We believe," the newspaper continues, "that Americans have been misled by persons whose aim is to sow discord between the two nations. In view of the facts that Lord Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, recited in his last note, however, it is hardly conceivable that further mis-understanding is possible, and the controversy, if it can be thus described can continue without a suggestion of bitterness."

ITALIAN NATIONALISTS CLASH WITH SOCIALISTS

Padua is Reported Scene of Bloody Fight Between Followers of Labor Chamber and Strike Gali

LONDON. (AP)—Office of the chamber of labor in the Italian city of Padua were burned last night by members of the extreme nationalist group says a Central News dispatch from Rome. The socialists at once proclaimed a general strike, and formed a procession with the intention of burning one of the nationalist clubs in the city. While marching through the streets, the socialists encountered a procession of nationalists, and in the fighting that ensued one man was killed and many injured. The socialists were routed and dispersed. The dispatch quotes the newspaper Tempo of Rome as stating that 30 anarchists have been arrested at Ferrara, 20 miles northeast of Bologna, on the charge that they were implicated in a plot to bomb nationalist clubs, a theater and several cafes.

REFUGEES HOLD AMERICAN BOYS IN HIGH ESTEEM

Russian Fugitives from Crimea—Praise Generosity and Tenderness of Fighting Men in Relief Measures

RAQUA, Dalmatia. (AP)—The generosity shown by the officers and men of the American warships in the Adriatic commanded by Rear Admiral Andrews will never be forgotten by more than 20,000 of the Russian refugees from the Crimea, who, infected with typhus, died from the Bolsheviki and refuge here on the Dalmatian coast.

The American sailors' tenderness in keeping the children clothed and fed and the outpouring of pocket books and stores on the ships for relief is the chief topic of conversation in the Russian colony and the refugees received in this district.

"They have saved us. They are the brightest remembrances of our unhappy existence," is the most common sentiment expressed about here.

Food 5000 Daily.

The bluejackets of the flagship Olympia, and the destroyers Alden, Gillmer, Berber, James and the Starvetter have fed 5000 persons daily and have even taken clothing from their own backs to give to the refugees.

When the refugees landed at Cattaro bay and other places and it was found that no preparation had been made for their arrival, the sailors worked hard to make dwelling places for them. They cleaned the old barracks, and hangars and sometimes made up gangs of Russians who assisted in the general cleaning up.

When an outbreak of typhus later the sailors brought into use improvised disinfecting plants, steaming apparatus and baths and eliminated the dirt and vermin which the Russians had accumulated in their clothing through the winter.

With real American generosity, Admiral Andrews' men, when they saw the destitute children, hungry and shivering mothers, would take them to the local stores and, from their own pockets, outfit them from head to foot.

Women Show Gratitude. The Russian women showed the most grateful appreciation of the sailors' work, although they were powerless to repay them. Captain Wyman of Olympia received a long note from the Russian women extolling the sailors.

GOLDEN RIVERS OF WOODLAND SWEETS INUNDATE PANCAKES OF CONTINENT

WHEN THE GAP IS IN THE MAPLES

UTTAWA, ONT.—From the maple trees of eastern Canada miniature rivers of syrup will soon start flowing. Later it will blanket the pancakes of a continent and give the palatable touch to many other table delicacies.

Twenty million pounds, according to a department of agriculture report, should be this year's harvest. Quebec, the biggest producer, will furnish about 14,500,000 pounds, Ontario about 5,000,000 and New Brunswick and Nova Scotia groves the remainder. Total value should exceed $2,000,000.

Vast stretches of primeval maple forest awaits modern sugar-making equipment in northern parts of Quebec and Ontario. Plans for developing the industry are being advanced by a number of interests, including a co-operative sugar-makers' association. This organization also seeks laws to prohibit licentious and deceptive trade practices and is urging the government to assist in a big annual exposition. The government has established in Quebec four schools in the manufacture of sugar and syrup.

Reforesting with maple, which "should prove a very remunerative enterprise, yielding an annual crop of sugar and a heritage in timber," is advocated in the government report. The Indians started the industry, gashing the maples with tomahawks and catching the sap in birch-bark dishes. It was boiled in earthen kettles. In a few backwoods spots the methods of the red men have been little improved. Modern equipment will soon transform this condition, however.

Talent Saved Him Well. A story is told that in the time of Frederick the Great there was a soldier who played the Jewharp so well that his fume spread. However, when he at last played at the palace the king was so pleased that he gave the soldier honorable discharge from military service.

FARMERS LIKE BEET CONTRACT

Beet contracts are coming in satisfactorily. We now have six thousand acres contracted for Twin Falls factories; forty-seven hundred acres for Burley and thirty-eight hundred for Paul, about as much as we had last year for all factories. We expect six thousand acres more, which acreage is necessary to make a successful run. With our present contract, the more beets we slice the higher price we will be able to pay per ton for beets, so it is to the grower's interest to grow enough beets to run the factories to full capacity. The majority of the growers after they have become familiar with the profit-sharing contract are well pleased and in many instances are increasing their acreage, as all feel that with the prospect of a tariff being put on sugar in the near future and the falling off of expected production in Cuba, beets next fall will be worth from eight to eleven dollars per ton. Beets worth eight dollars per ton, and assuming the farmer gets fifteen tons per acre, figures out as compared with sixty bushels of wheat, at one dollar per bushel as follows:

Beet Crop—Cost Per Acre		Wheat Crop—Cost Per Acre
Rent of land	$20.00	Rent of land	$20.00
Plowing	4.00	Plowing	4.00
Harrowing and leveling	2.00	Harrowing and leveling	2.00
Planting	.50	Planting	.25
Cultivating, 5 times	2.50	Seed	1.50
Seed	3.00	Irrigating	1.00
Irrigating	3.00	Cutting and stocking	2.75
Pulling	3.00	Threshing	9.00
Hand Labor	26.50	Twining	1.00
Hauling	15.00	Hauling to market	3.00
	79.50		44.50

PROCEEDS
15 tons per acre at $8.00 per ton amounts to $120.00
Less 79.50
Price of beet tops per acre 40.50
Less 6.00
Total profit per acre $46.50

PROCEEDS
60 bushels per acre at $1.00 per bushel amounts to $60.00
Less 44.50
Total profit per acre $15.50

On the face of these figures we cannot see how any farmer, whose land is suitable for beets can afford to grow all wheat. This snowfall on top of the moisture that was already in the soil puts land in ideal condition, and with abundant water for irrigation in sight, we feel that this is going to be the banner year for tonnage. Last year a great many of our growers got from fifteen to twenty-two tons per acre and by using proper methods this year we hope to see an average of fifteen tons per acre harvested for the entire acreage planted, which was accomplished last year at several of our Utah factories.

The prospects are, that we will have an abundance of labor at a reasonable price. of $26.50 per acre for a fifteen ton crop as against $34.00 per acre last year. Expense alluding the line will be less and we feel that the present contract is as good, if not better than that of last year. The ground is now in good condition on fall or early spring plowing. We believe there will be no need of irrigating before planting, if the moisture that has fallen connects with the moisture in the subsoil. This will be fine. But if there is a dry space between the two moistures then the ground should be irrigated. Irrigate the ground after it is prepared deep enough to avoid flooding, then turn on water long enough to thoroughly wet the subsoil, then keep off the land until it is dry enough to work into a good dust mulch, then work down immediately with a double disc or spring-tooth harrow to hold the moisture, level and plant as soon as possible. In no case plant over 1-2 inches deep, early planting about 1-1 1/2 inches, later 1-2 inches. Avoid deep planting. Examine the seed in the ground after you drill and be sure of the depth; also be sure that the drill shoes are clean and that the seed is feeding freely. Put on plenty of seed, not less than fifteen pounds per acre. Early planting usually gives best results. Beets should all be planted by May 20th.

ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD REPORTS REVENUE FALL

Not Income Decreases 44.40 Per Cent as Compared with Last Year

NEW YORK, (AP)—Net revenue from railway operations of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway and subsidiary companies for 1920, as disclosed by the corporate and federal combined income account issued today, aggregated $4,141,141, a decrease of $6,715,810 or 44.40 per cent compared with the previous year.

The total income of the system amounted to $4,141,225, a decrease of $7,017,417 or 53.15 per cent and the deficit, after allowing for total deductions from income, rose to $1,070,994, an increase of $9,027,386 or 511.01 per cent. The company's financial position is strong, however, considering it paid $11,608,331 in cash, against $347,309 in the previous year and total current assets rising from $16,891,768 to $20,282,770.

Regarding the question of federal valuation of the system, President J. E. Gorman said in part: "The bureau of valuation is now making and soon will complete its study of the present cost of acquisition of carrier lands of this company and we expect that a tentative valuation will shortly be served upon us. During the year we have continued our conference with the bureau of valuation, seeking to agree as far as possible upon disputed questions of fact. We are well of the opinion, as expressed in our preceding report that the final figures which will be served upon us by the bureau of valuation will exceed by a substantial figure the par value of all our outstanding obligations and the preferred and common stock."

Total railway operating revenue for 1920 amounted to $411,040,973, an increase of $57,332,280 or 21.71 per cent. Total operating expenses were $333,532,832 increased $3,908,009 or 31.57 per cent.

Total railway operating income of $77,508,141 showed a decrease of $7,702,524 or 75.17 per cent.

Opposition Develops Considerable opposition to the strike amongst the rank and file of the railwaymen appeared today. The Liverpool union telegraphed to J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's union, stating that the Liverpool men would not strike unless a ballot of the men favored such action.

Similar action was taken by the unions at Alfreton, in Derbyshire.

Mobilizes Power Leaders of the National Federation of Transport Workers and the National Union of Railwaymen, which organizations have voted to support the miners in the great coal strike, decided the miners should strike in support of the unions. This brings the entire power of the "triple alliance of labor" into the greatest industrial controversy in British history.

Official announcement that the "triple alliance" had decided upon a strike was made shortly after noon today.

General strike of the railroads and transport workers was to be called unless the striking miners and the owners of British coal pits reach a settlement.

Thomas Shows Displeasure After the consultation between the transport workers and the railroad men, J. H. Thomas, a leader of the railroads, emerged from the meeting in a case more appearing much distressed.

"A triple alliance" strike has been decided upon," he said. "It will be controlled by the joint, executive committee of the three bodies and will meet this afternoon to take charge and make necessary arrangements."

Miners Reject Offer. Representatives of British miners this morning refused to accept Premier Lloyd George's invitation to meet the owners of the coal mines on the conditions proposed, which were that the return of pumpmen and engineers to the pits would be the first matter settled at the conference.

The miners re-assembled at 2.30 o'clock to consider the government's offer to their refusal to confer. It was in his reply, the premier Lloyd George asked the miners to meet the owners at 3 p. m. The answer of the miners was that "the conditions laid down providing that the safety of the miners first be discussed stand in the way of the resumption of the negotiations."

The prime minister in his reply, it develops, had no objection to the safety of the mines must be discussed and disposed of before other matters were taken up.

British Mine Owners this morning conditionally accepted Premier Lloyd George's invitation to confer with leaders of the miners' union before a return of pumpmen and engineers to the mines, pending negotiations for a settlement of the coal strike.

RAILROAD EXECUTIVES WILL DECIDE ATTITUDE ON PROPOSAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP)—Executive of railroads in the southwest will meet here April 11 to decide their attitude on the proposal of the "Big Four" Brotherhood of railway employes, that the government should take the initiative in the settlement of the Missouri Pacific, announced today.

BIG GAME HUNTERS ARE PLANNING FOR THE LONG TRAIL THAT LEADS TO YUKON'S UNSPOILED HUNTING FIELDS

Are you planning to hunt big game in the Yukon this season? If so, have you increased your outfit? If you have not, lose no more time in doing so. Guides are none too plentiful in the far north and both guides and transportation are being booked long with promises to be the biggest bunch of hunters that have gone to the Yukon. A report has just come out from one of Yukon's best known guides, to the effect that curious are more plentiful than heretofore known and are ranging in great droves.

The two principal districts are the Klondike, White River and the McMillan River sections, the start for either is made from White Horse. The Klondike is reached by an all-water route, the White River wholly by land. Outfitters may be done at White Horse. Some hunters bring along their own ammunition and bedding, but this is unnecessary as Yukon outfitters "go with it" just what is needed and are ready to furnish it. Both districts are covered by the same laws, and licenses, costing $100, are obtainable at White Horse.

From fifty to sixty days must be allowed for the hunting trip. Anything under fifty days demands a pace that precludes choice of hands. In addition to caribou, moose, bear and sheep, goats may be gotten by making short side trips to the particular hunts they favor. Plenty of good fishing may be enjoyed on either trip.

PLEA IS MADE TO BRING BACK THE DAIRY COW TO ITS OWN IN TWIN FALLS DISTRICT

First Step Taken Toward Formation of Co-operative, Non-Profit Sharing Creamery Association for the Country Hereabouts—Program Plan is Explained in Detail by Expert

By DR. JOHN E. WHITE. On looking over the Twin Falls district in its present depressed and wretched condition, and being somewhat familiar with the history of the section for many years, one comes to the conclusion that we have, to a large extent, traveled in a circle. We are again at about the same point where we were at the beginning of the tract—except we are a little more in debt—individually and collectively. We are raising hay and wheat again. It is not time that we on the farm realize the danger of selling hay and wheat. Our soil will soon be exhausted—unless we ink into our rotation, livestock, and their owners are going with our wheat cropping. The sheep and cow have come and gone. It is not time to think of bringing them back. It makes one fairly sick to realize that we are still trying to sell our hay and wheat. A serious danger faces the tract unless we act in this matter. The dairy cow is the only animal that we can profit by very readily. Why not invite her back? But, in bringing her back, we need not make the same mistakes that we made last time. In the early days of the tract we were loaded with miners' by unscrupulous dealers in the east. They shipped us their shorthorn, tuff colored spongers and their star breeders. As a matter of fact, we recall that we failed to build up a permanent business. In the past, also, our marketing of cream and milk has been the same as all of our farm products—sold wastefully and inefficiently handled.

Wisconsin and California have had many years experience in marketing their dairy products, and we can profit by their experience. Recently, while in the American Falls country, I came across a co-operative creamery that has had a very interesting experience. A review of this history may be of interest to some on the Twin Falls tract.

The "dry" farmers in and around Rockland, Ind. had had several dry years. They discovered that sun flowers could be grown and that excellent silage could be made. Wishing to start a co-operative enterprise, they contacted with the University of California, and secured information enabling them to form and build a purely co-operative non-profit sharing creamery. The following program was carried into effect: (breath speaking, the thing desired in all co-operative marketing is the tying together of a single product for a period of years). The details are: 1. The producer pays a membership fee of $5. This is payable and is spent entirely on organization. 2. The producer signs an iron-clad agreement to sell his cream to his association for a period of years—usually three years. He is not compelled to produce cream, but if he does, his contracts to sell it only through his association, and an evidence of good faith that he will live up to his contract, he signs a $10 note without interest, running through the life of the note, for each cow that he intends to milk. To still further secure these notes, in case of failure to so deliver the cream, the association always keeps 15 days cream back on the settlement. Any days come twice a month—this amount is held until the end of each month, but there is always 15 days unutilized for. If for any reason one willfully leaves his association, and sells his cream to others, he forfeits his note, and in case his note cannot be collected—then his 15-day cream check stands as liquidating damages. 4. The product being sold, the supply being assured for a period of years, the question of certain equipment to handle the product is necessary. At American Falls, there was a creamery that was on its last legs financially, that gladly entered into a contract to sell within the three years of the contract so much being paid annually. Enough of the above notes secured by cream were given an evidence of good faith that the payments would be made. Enough notes were secured, however, are held out to secure a short term loan at the bank to finance the first few weeks running expenses. The payments on property are made from profits on sales and even though they would not—other arrangements could be made. If whoever reads this article is interested, if they will drop a card or in some way show their interest in the matter to either Donald McCreary or Dr. J. E. White at the farmers' service office, perhaps it will start the co-operative cream producers' association.

country behind the national co-operative grain marketing corporation voted last year, yesterday remained today still to be accomplished.

W. H. McCreery of Wichita, Kansas, secretary-treasurer of the National Wheat Growers Association, which has been signing 100 per cent pooling contracts for this year's crop, said his board of directors would have to pass on the plan adopted yesterday, which calls for optional pooling.

In any case, Mr. McCreery said, he favored maintenance of the organization he represented.

Would Retain Own Basis The Northwest group, which also was defeated in its fight for compulsory pooling, should come into the plan, but on the basis of maintaining its own organization and continuing with its 100 per cent pooling contracts, according to the view of George C. Jett of Spokane, Wash., expressed today. Mr. Jett is general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers Association, which is the selling agency for optional pooling in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana.

"I am going back to recommend to the 7,000 members of the Northwest Wheat Growers Association, who join the new national marketing corporation," Mr. Jett said. "I will recommend that they maintain their present form of contract calling for 100 per cent pooling, that they maintain their organization and that they harmonize their interests with the national body in such a way that they may have a proper part of the large national movement."

The detail incident to the accomplishment of these things has not been worked out, but it is expected that it will be done without difficulty and in such a way that the Northwest Wheat Growers Association can come in as an organization.

Contracts Over Big Amount "We have already under contract twenty-two to twenty-three million bushels of wheat. We are today the only wheat growers' organization actually operating under a long-time contract, and we shall be glad to give the board of directors of the new corporation the benefit of our experience both as to organization and operation. We are heartily in favor of the movement and will lend every assistance possible to its consummation."

Defeat of any measure of compulsory pooling left the National Wheat Growers Association in an embarrassing position, Mr. McCreery said. "Our association is committed to the compulsory pooling plan and what our union we shall have on the optional pooling system will have to be decided by our board of directors," he said. "We expect to call a meeting soon."

think our membership will be largely guided by what the board decides. Our membership numbers 200,000 and we are organized in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and North Dakota.

Signing 1921 Contracts "We already have contracts signed up for handling a part of the 1921 wheat crop. Whether we shall buy these contracts for this year is a question that we expect to be acted on at the next directors' meeting."

State Board of Education Authorizes Vote on School Levy

The only remedy for the unfortunate financial situation existing in the local district is the success of the levy election being carried out today.

There is no other legal remedy, the tax levy must be voted by the people at the district if the schools are to be kept open.

This in substance, is the burden of a telegram received today by the clerk of the local school board from the state board of education, E. A. Bryan, commissioner, acting for the board.

STUDENTS APPEAL TO VOTERS BY MONSTER PARADE TO KEEP DISTRICT SCHOOLS AVAILABLE

Climax of Unusual Campaign Demanding Continuance of Educational Institutions is Carried Out by Pupils Enrolled at High and Intermediate Schools—The Football Champions Give Demonstration

Climaxing a sentiment arousing campaign that throughout has been of a most unusual character 1200 high and intermediate grade school students at noon today made an appeal to community voters to keep the schools of Independent District No. 1 open.

The closing call upon the people to save the day for the students by an affirmative vote at the polls tomorrow, was made in the form of a monster street parade. The entire enrollment of the regular and the junior high departments took up behind the high school band in front of the high school building on Shoshone street and took a line of march to Main avenue, turning south on that thoroughfare for a considerable distance.

Clad in the molasses garb they were with honor to themselves, their school and their district, they marched in the parade. The football champions of Southern Idaho football championship squad of last fall followed directly after the band. A monitor here has the record of the parade.

EASTERN CITY BUILDER DUE IN AMERICAN FALLS

New Jersey Expert Will Arrive Shortly to Lay Out New Town by Big Dam

Within the next fortnight or so, Russell G. Black, city builder of Heights, N. J., will arrive in American Falls, to begin the creation of the new city of American Falls. It was announced this week by reclamation officials here, according to reports from that city.

Black was selected from a group of a half dozen or more city builders by the reclamation boards after a lengthy consideration of the qualifications of the various engineers seeking the opportunity of building the model city of the west. Black, it is said, is considered especially competent in the east in the work of city construction and will bring west with him several plans for the approval of the local inhabitants.

Black is known to favor the girder type of city structure and a number of European plans. The girder type, it is said, is a formal and regular plan adopted by many western cities.

Contracts will be let shortly, it was announced, for clearing the new town site. This work will consist mainly of clearing the land of sage brush. The work can be completed during the current season, it is said, in a much better manner and at a less expense than at a later date.

The government is also clearing title and validating contracts in all purchases of American Falls property made recently, while all detail work is being cleared up so that work can be started on a larger scale when the reclamation service is granted more money to carry on the project.

President Gives His Endorsement To Irish Relief

Copy of Harding's Telegram to Committee Chairman is Received Here

The American committee for relief in Ireland has received an unqualified endorsement of its aims and purposes from the President of the United States.

In a telegram to Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, chairman of the committee, copy of which has been received by T. G. Macneily, President Harding says: "I wish you the fullest measure of success not only in the great benefit performance you are to conduct in the Metropolitan Opera House on April 20, but in every worthy effort to make a beneficial contribution on the part of our people to relieve distress among the women and children of Ireland. The people of America never will be deaf to the call for relief in behalf of suffering humanity and the knowledge of distress in Ireland makes quick and deep appeal to the more fortunate of our land than so many of our citizens trace kinship to the Emerald Isle."
