

JAPANESE PUTS BLAME AT HOME FOR HARD PATH

Ioyeshima Finds Cause for Cooling of International Relationships in Meddling of the Militarists

WASH., (AP)—The alleged meddling of Japanese militarists in diplomacy is vigorously attacked by Count M. Ioyeshima, a prominent member of the house of peers, in the course of a contribution to the "Diplomatic Review," which is attracting considerable attention.

Divided in War

When the late war broke out the two statements had been given and the one that followed was most disconcerting, in the view of Count Ioyeshima. Had they been alive and in power, they would have seen to it that the country would be united against Germany before they declared war on her.

Reviews American Traits

Count Soyoshima thought the militarist meddling in diplomacy and the German and Chinese propaganda were chiefly responsible for the war.

"The Anglo-Saxons are a lovable race of people, but, speaking candidly, they are a people of excessive pride, this trait, especially for the Americans, who may be said to have a weakness of being self-centered and self-willed.

FARMERS LIKE BEET CONTRACT

Beet contracts are coming in satisfactorily. We now have six thousand acres contracted for Twin Falls Factory; forty-seven hundred acres for Burely and thirty-eight hundred for Paul, about as much as we had last year for all factories.

Table with columns: Beet Crop—Cost Per Acre, Wheat Crop—Cost Per Acre. Rows include Rent of land, Plowing, Harrowing and leveling, Planting, Cultivating, Seed, Irrigating, Pulling, Hand Labor, Hauling, and PROCEEDS.

On the face of these figures we cannot see how any farmer, whose land is suitable for beets can afford to grow all wheat. This snowfall on top of the moisture that was already in the soil puts land in ideal condition, and with abundant water for irrigation in night, we feel that this is going to be the banner year for tonnage.

The prospects are, that we will have an abundance of labor at a reasonable price of $26.50 per acre for a fifteen ton crop as against $34.00 per acre last year. Expense all along the line will be less and we feel that the present contract is as good, if not better than that of last year.

WORLD'S TITLE CONTEST TO BE HELD IN NEW JERSEY

Tex Rickard Says Dempsey and Carpenter Will Meet in Garden State

NEW YORK, (AP)—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will battle for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship within the state limits of New Jersey on Saturday, July 2.

The exact location of a specially constructed arena, but objection of the site will be confined to Atlantic City, Newark, or Jersey City.

This was officially announced here this afternoon by Tex Rickard, who will have sole control of the arrangements and presentation of the match.

Rickard will inspect sites in all three states, during the next few days and decide on the one which offers the greatest advantages for handling what is expected to be the largest assembly of boxing enthusiasts that has ever taken place in the weight class.

Whoever located the arena which will seat at least 50,000 spectators will be within a short distance of New York's tax revenue by all means.

Dempsey gets 50 Per Cent. Dempsey, as heavyweight champion of the world, and Carpentier, in the role of challenger and European titleholder, will compete for 60 per cent of the gross gate receipts, which will include a share of 50 per cent to Dempsey and 10 per cent to Carpentier.

Under the New Jersey state boxing law the bout cannot exceed 12 over the eight rounds and should both boxers be on their feet at the termination of the match, no official decision can be rendered.

Prices of seats will range from 45¢ for a single chair to $5 for a bleacher coupon along the extreme edges of the structure.

GERMAN WORKMEN TO HONOR FOR GENERALS

Shipbuilders Petition Government to Abandon Policy of Naming Boats for Military Commanders

BERLIN, (AP)—Workmen engaged in construction of ships in several German ports have petitioned the German government to abandon the policy of naming new ships after famous military leaders.

The dock workers and shipyard workers unions generally are bitterly anti-militarist and take advantage of every opportunity to denigrate their allegiance to the principle of democratic government.

Former sailors of the German navy and some former officers, have been named in the titles in their anti-militaristic positions.

FRANCE PASSES U. S. CLAIM ON

Considers Wilson's Reservations Basis for Negotiations With Japan

PARIS, (AP)—The French government considers President Wilson's reservations in the supreme council regarding the island of Yap to constitute a basis for negotiations between the United States and Japan, says the Temps in an article relating to the recent American note maintaining that the United States would not be bound by decisions affecting Germany's overseas possessions made by the league of nations without its consent.

The reservations of President Wilson, made on April 21 and 30 and May 1, 1919, were mentioned, declares the Temps in a recent French note on the subject of Yap sent to the United States and the note was communicated to Japan.

The reservations in question, continues the newspaper, were immediately communicated to the Japanese representatives on the supreme council. Therefore it is held, there is no reason for discussion between France and the United States on that point.

So far as the German colonies are concerned, it is taken for granted that there can be no difficulty in reaching a settlement. France has agreed, asserts the Temps that the title and operation of the New York cables for the United States, France merely making the reservation that the office in Brazil shall be operated by the French, a point which, it declares, has encountered no opposition.

ENTOMOLOGIST OF STATE UNIVERSITY GIVES INFORMATION ON SPREADERS FOR LEAD SPRAY

By R. H. SMITH.

When an apple tree is sprayed with arsenate of lead in the control of the codling moth, the spray rests on the surface of the leaves and apples in droplets which upon drying leave white spots of poison. A careful examination of an apple that has been treated in this manner will reveal that the combined area of all the poison spots is a surprisingly small portion of the total surface of the fruit. Failure to successfully control the codling moth is in a very large degree due to the fact that a relatively large portion of the surface of the fruit is not covered by poison in ordinary spraying. Arsenate of lead, when applied to the apple by eating through one of the poison spots are killed but those which enter between the spots of poison are unharmed.

For a number of years investigators have endeavored to find a substance which when added to the spray will cause the droplets of poison solution to adhere together and thus form an unbroken uniform deposit of poison over the whole surface of the fruit and foliage. Common laundry soap dissolved and added to the arsenate of lead solution at the rate of 1 or 2 pounds to each 100 gallons of spray, was early recommended by government officials. But soap has never given the desired results. In combination with arsenate of lead, experiments conducted in a southern Idaho show that soap produces a curd-like station. Spray solution, which causes the poison to flocculate and rapidly settle to the bottom of the spray or tank.

Machine Oil Spreads Not Suitable

The use of machine oils for spreaders has given good results in western Oregon and has been given considerable publicity by the Oregon experiment station. Spray solution, which with the machine oil in southern Idaho has shown that a reaction takes place between the oil and the arsenate of lead causing the poison to settle to the bottom of the tank, and in the formation of a scum of gum-like consistency which floats on the surface of the spray solution. This reaction as well

Recorder Again in Charge of Papers in Ouster Action Cases

This morning papers in three actions filed in the district court by E. F. Walton against W. W. Parish, G. W. Bled and D. F. Clark, all members of the board of trustees of Independent School District No. 1 for ouster, were restored to the county archives. The papers were originally submitted for filing by the county recorder on Tuesday evening of this week, but were immediately withdrawn.

In these complaints Mr. Walton, who is secretary-treasurer of the Taxpayers League, makes specific charges against the conduct of the men named in the complaints, while acting in the capacity of members of the school board of trustees. Among the allegations the complainant states that the defendants failed to publish reports of financial condition of the district as is legally required; that they sold and purchased property without submitting the proposals to the taxpayers for a vote; and that the funds set apart to defray certain demands were unlawfully made interchangeable, also that the board neglected to place a proper budget amount in the teachers' fund to take care of salary demands.

With the suits a form of blank order in mandamus is submitted for the signature of the presiding judge of the district, to order the defendants into court on a certain date to show cause why they should not be suspended from holding office on the school board of trustees, and functioning as said officers. Judge Hisebeck is holding court in Burley this week, but is expected in the local court room for a brief space this afternoon.

KALIH'S GATES OPEN FOR REDEEMED LEPERS

Science Wins Fight Against Scourge for Liberation of Outcasts

HONOLULU, T. H. (Correspondence of the Associated Press).— "Praslo God for Whom all blessings flow; "Praise Him all creatures here be here; "Praise Him above," ye heavenly host; "Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost."

In simple grandeur the notes and words of the old dogology arose from half a thousand throats; a stalwart, white-headed, Hawaiian senator and pastor spoke a solemn benediction, and 64 men and women — once lepers — filled between the lava pillars of Ku Ihli's gates to freedom, back to a world from which they had been outcast, back to the homes which some at least believed they never would see again.

Science had won another great battle with the scourge of the ages.

The 64 patients who were released on parole the other day from the Kalihli hospital after treatment with refined chaulmoogra oil, constituted the third division so returned to their homes. In all 142 have been paroled during the past two years and not a single one has been sent back owing to recurrence of the disease.

Officially the institution is known as Kalihli hospital, but its inmates call it by another name, a strange name, unless one has seen the cheerless born of hope that pervades the air there. It is "Mount Happy."

On the day the sixty and four were paroled friends and relatives gathered from far and near in the islands to greet those who came out of the vale of shadow. Behind a hedge stood one group of smiling inmates, behind a wall were fewer, another happy group. One group was to go back to the world and the other was to remain far further treatment.

Still another group, and larger, was gathered on the other side of the wire fence; they were the mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, sons, daughters and friends of the paroled patients.

The clear voice of a Hawaiian woman started singing the doxology, others swelled the volume, and to the accompaniment of rustling palms, and the hum of a warm trade wind in the trees the hymn of thankfulness and praise carried through to its last grand note. Stephen Desha, minister of the gospel and territorial senator, more than

TWIN FALLS TRIUMPHANT

It is to the everlasting credit of Twin Falls citizenship that the question of whether or not Twin Falls should be continued was yesterday subjected to a vote...

The election yesterday established two things: First, that there is to be no denial of educational opportunities to the future Twin Falls citizenship; and second, that there is to be no repudiation of any just debt incurred by the school district.

It is true that the affirmative margin was not great, but it is to be remembered that it was an uphill fight and there were tremendous obstacles to be overcome.

In the first place, the voters who cast their ballots in the election yesterday were already burdened with tax levies that are exceeded in only one other of the more important Idaho communities, and an affirmative vote meant further increase of these taxes.

In the second place, there were involved, directly or indirectly, issues that have been at the bottom of many of the most bitterly fought industrial wars; and, lastly, there was indisputably circulated a suggestion that the voting of the additional levy was not the only way out of the situation.

The last obstacle undoubtedly was the most difficult to surmount, but it was overcome because of a general aversion also against its implied suggestion of repudiation of debt lawfully incurred and standing as a just claim against the district.

The election yesterday demonstrated conclusively the capability of Twin Falls citizenship to meet and solve a problem that involved a danger to the community more serious than any with which it had ever been confronted.

The election yesterday proved conclusively that the heart and soul of Twin Falls citizenship is in the main true and sound. It affords an occasion that cannot well be overlooked for re-affirmation and renewal of pride and confidence in our fellow citizens and in our community.

Necessity for curtailment of expense of school operation is not to be lost sight of for a moment in consideration of yesterday's election result, but as a direct consequence of this decision, greater stress should be laid upon the imperative need for rigid economy in the school affairs...

THE NEWS' SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By CHARLES GLENN BAIRD, M. A. Rector, Church of the Ascension, Episcopal

THE MASTER OF LIFE. John 16:33: "He of good cheer: I have overcome the world."

It is very significant that the last instruction which the Savior gave to His disciples before His crucifixion was one of the most cheerful and comforting messages in the whole Gospel. "If ye love me," He said, "keep my commandments, and ye shall abide in me, and my Father shall love you, and he will keep you from the evil one, that he will not tempt you: for he that keepeth my commandments shall not see death, but shall have eternal life, and shall not be condemned, neither shall he be deprived of his life."

Victory! What a strange word to use, we say, in connection with the last things which the Master said to His disciples. He had just said: "I have overcome the world." He had just said: "I have overcome the devil, the world, and the flesh." He had just said: "I have overcome the law of sin and death."

When the Savior went to the Temple in Jerusalem as a young boy twelve years of age, He was asked: "Hast thou not been reading the scriptures?" He answered: "Yea, but I have been reading them with a different heart from that which thou hast."

Later on in His ministry, the Master said: "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me." We know that He did this will in the garden. He said: "Oh, my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt."

EXTRA TAX LEVY FOR SCHOOLS CARRIES BY WORKING MAJORITY

Special Election Recording Greatest Vote in the History of the District Gives 1920 Ballots Out of 2624 for Added Assessment to Pay Debts and Keep the Educational Institutions in Operation

Given a surplus of 172 votes over the necessary two-thirds majority, the extra tax levy of 20 mills was carried at a special election held yesterday. The vote amounting to the largest ever cast at a school election in this district, was 2624.

The ballot was distributed as follows: For the levy 1920, Against the levy 764. Total 2624.

Two-thirds necessary 1748. Surplus for levy 920. Total for levy 1920. Olanor to Vote.

Polls opened promptly at 1 o'clock, and from that time to the closing hour, a check on the voting was being signed by enfranchised schoolteachers endeavoring to record material expression of their desires at the ballot box.

Counting of ballots began shortly after the first check was received and within 45 minutes after the shut ball had been deposited the result was announced.

While the election gave a working majority of 172 votes over and above the supporters of the levy at the final count there were dubious times during the afternoon's voting.

Records, however, do not show the exact number of voters who voted in the election, but it is estimated that at least 2000 of these casting ballots were engaged in the polling place in automobiles loaned for that purpose.

There was no post-election demonstration of any sort other than those of the cheering crowds, and in fact in the result, but it is understood now that students of all the schools are planning programs to celebrate the continuance of educational operations in all district educational institutions.

TRACES BIRDS' FLIGHT FOR WINTER AND RETURN

Illinois Zoologist's Inquiry Shows the Feathered Travelers Maintain Permanent Homes

URBANA, Ill. (AP) - Though many birds from this section migrate as far south as Central and South America, it has been found by actual test that many of them return to the same localities and sometimes even to the same nest.

Results of inquiry in the middle west and south covering a number of years are reported by Frank Smith, professor of zoology at the University of Illinois, in the annual Illinois Arbor Day and Bird Book.

Facts were obtained by trapping birds, placing small leg bands on them, and letting them go. Here are some of the things Professor Smith records:

A catbird banded near Cleveland, O., in 1914, was retaken in the same locality the following year. Two catbirds banded in 1916 were retaken in 1917, and one of them was again taken in 1919. Catbirds winter as far south as Panama.

A chimney swift banded in 1916 was retaken in the same chimney the following year. Chimney swifts winter wholly south of the United States.

A white thrush was banded in 1915 by using the same nest and found to be occupying the preceding year, in rearing its second brood that summer. House wrens winter in the South Atlantic and Gulf states.

Tests at Thomaston, Va., with birds classed as "winter residents" because they fly into the northern states during the winter.

Eight chipping sparrows banded in 1916 were all retaken in 1917. Three chipping sparrows were retaken in 1917 that had been banded in 1915.

Several myrtle warblers and white throated sparrows banded in 1916 were retaken the following year.

WICKEDEST AGE SINCE HERODIAS AND PONTIUS PILATE

Prominent Eastern Minister Charges

Charging that smart society is shameless and that the horror of evil is written everywhere, the Rev. Dr. Charles Wadsworth gave a scathing denunciation of present day life before the Ministerial Union of Philadelphia last week. vulgar dancing, indecent movies, the wickedness of men and women flaunted in bold type in the newspapers, and a multitude of other things came in for their share of bitter denunciation.

As might be expected, the next day's papers were filled with requests, some approving, some condemning Dr. Wadsworth's sermon.
