RAILROADERS CALL CONFERENCE AS ASSOCIATES CANCEL STRIKE

RAILROAD BOARD DECISION WINS APPROVAL

Carriers' Executives and Labor Leaders Declare Abrogation of the National Agreements Clears Atmosphere

CHICAGO, (AP)—Both railroad executives and labor leaders today declared the decision of the railroad board abrogating the national agreements would naturally advance the effort to arrive at an agreement satisfactory to all parties. The board directed individual reads and their employes to confer and agree upon new working rules by July 1. Labor representatives said many of the 19 basic principles laid down in the board's decision to govern the conference on new working agreements, especially the eight-hour day and the right of the employes to organize and elect their own representatives, include principles they have been fighting for. Railway executives said that the decision recognized their contention that many of the rules should not have national application.

Affects Eighteen Unions

The decision affects members of 13 unions including all the affiliated with railway management of the American Federation of Labor. The decision came just before the terms of three members of the board expired at midnight last night. These men, appointed for one year when the board was organized, are Henry Hunt, Cincinnati, one of the representatives of the general public; W. L. Park, Chicago, railway representative, and J. J. Forester, Washington, D. C., one of the labor members. Their successors have not been appointed.

No Bearing on Wage Factors

Last night's decision had nothing to do with the various wage conferences that have been pending by various railroads within the last few weeks.

Asks Congress to Prohibit the Sending of Munitions to Possible Revolutionists

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Prohibition against the shipment of arms and munitions to any country where they might be used for revolutionary purposes has been asked of congress by the state department. Specifically the department requests an amendment to that of 1918 which prohibits such shipments to American countries. The senate foreign relations committee considered today the department's request, designed primarily, it was said to stop munition shipments to China. Early enactment of an amendment is proposed. Some of the foreign powers, it was explained, have requested the United States to join in the effort to prevent munitions shipments to all countries where revolutions are in progress. Members of the foreign relations committee said, however, that it was not indicated that conditions in Ireland were a factor in the proposed revision.

C., (AP)—Republican senators of the progressive group today, headed by Senator Johnson of California, renewed the attack on the pending Colombian treaty, but administration leaders sent word to President Harding that it was assured of ratification when the vote is taken next Friday. Senator Johnson said he could not understand the "marvelous and overnight change" of many republican senators who opposed ratification in 1917. This treaty, he said, "would never have been ratified during the life of this country." The senator suggested that the $25,000,000 payment provided for by the pact be devoted to the relief of starving farmers facing old age after a life of toil; to soldiers broken in the defense of the nation and to alleviation of the unemployed.

CASHIER FOILS BANDITS' RAID

Only Driver of Car Escapes when Six Men Attempt to Hold Up Bank

CHICAGO, (AP)—S. B. Witowski, cashier of the State Bank of Creve, a suburb, shot up and defeated a gang of six automobile bandits today. He killed one robber, wounded two, captured two and only the driver of the car, who remained outside the bank, escaped. The six men drove up to the bank and five of them entered with drawn revolvers. The leader approached the cashier, who ordered him to the rear of the bank. The other bandits compelled the cashier to open the safe in the bank, including C. C. Stief, vice-president, to follow Witowski. The bandits then opened the vault and forced their captives into it. While the leader of the band stood guard the other three scooped $40,000 from the cashier's cage into a black bag. As they turned to escape, Witowski pushed the door of the vault ajar and fired through the opening. One bandit fell with a bullet through his heart and two more staggered to the floor fatally wounded. Meanwhile the Chicago police had responded to a bank's burglary alarm arriving just in time to fire upon the fleeing bandit who had been waiting outside in the automobile. The other bandit was captured in a running flight of two blocks.

Thomas Announces Recall. Announcement that the railway men's strike set for 10 o'clock tonight had been cancelled was made shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon by J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the railway men's union.

No explanation was immediately available of the railroad men's action, but it was thought in some quarters that it might indicate a split in the union.

The transport workers' strike also has been called off, Mr. Thomas announced.

As far as the railwaymen and the transport workers are concerned the strike is cancelled," he said.

Miners Reject Proposal. Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the miners had refused to reopen negotiations for settlement of their strike on the basis that had been suggested.

The prime minister read a letter from the miners' federation stating that the only condition on which a temporary settlement could be reached was one which must follow concession of the terms of a national wages board and a national pact.

Mine Owners Accept. "British mine owners' and representatives of the National Federation of Miners accepted the invitation extended by Premier Lloyd George to reopen negotiations for the settlement of the miners' strike which began April 9.

The acceptance of the miners, however, was subject to the sanction of the British miners' union, which called a "trial alliance." Their organizations are the National Union of Railwaymen and the National Federation of Miners.

Beach No Decision. The miners executive committee, after conferring among themselves and with representatives of other members of the "trial alliance," today announced about 2 p. m. until 3 o'clock without a decision being reached whether the invitation to re-open the negotiations should be accepted.

ARMED CLASHES MARK POLITICAL FIGHT IN ITALY

Several Lives Lost and Much Property Destroyed in Disorders Incident to Bitter Electoral Campaign

ROME, (AP)—Grave incidents are reported from northern and central Italy, where the extreme nationalists and the socialists have clashed in a number of cities and towns in the bitter electoral campaign. Several lives have been lost and great property damage done during these disorders.

Upwards of one hundred nationalists from Loghorn and Piza marched to the town of Cesina, 20 miles southeast of Loghorn, where they asked a communal club a refusal for a socialist attack upon local nationalists. Upon its return to Loghorn the party attacked the Spartacus club and was driven away by the royal guard, but succeeded in wrecking the chamber of labor. As a protest the socialists proclaimed a general strike, which the printers have joined, and there are no newspapers being published in the city.

A detachment of nationalists from Arezzo went to the village of San Sepolcro, 10 miles east, and wrecked the chamber of labor. The portraits of Mikol Lenin and Leon Trotsky were burned.

Another affair occurred at Parma, where a socialist club was destroyed. A French cabinet meets with military chiefs.

LUTHER'S TRIAL MARKS HISTORIC PIVOTAL POINT

Millions of Protestants in the World Will Celebrate Four Hundredth Anniversary of Diet at Worms

NEW YORK, (AP)—Four hundred years ago, on April 18, 1521, Martin Luther, the German monk and religious reformer, faced the German Diet at Worms (a German village) and refusing to recant his principles of religious freedom, brought about a mighty intellectual and religious revolution. Through the world millions of Protestants will celebrate on April 18 the 400th anniversary of Luther's trial before that Diet. For that reason the proceedings at Worms attract a timely interest to Protestants of the United States.

Causes Tremendous Change
The fact that Luther's stand brought about a tremendous change in the history of the world is emphasized by Professor J. H. C. Philz, dean of the University of Bonn, in a narrative of Luther's actions and his trial. Dean Philz writes:
"The eighteenth day of April in the year 1521 marks the end of the Middle Ages and the beginning of the Modern Era in the history of the world. On that day the emancipation of man from a long period of spiritual, intellectual and political serfdom took place, and there was given to the world that liberty of conscience, that freedom of thought, and that modern civil liberty which we prize so highly and which we trust, shall remain in our inheritance until the end of days."
On the eighteenth day of April, 1521, Luther was on trial before the Diet at Worms; the man and his work were put to crucial test. Shall the Bible be an open book for all, or must it be submitted to that authority of the Church as it has been received by popes and councils; shall the right of private judgment be granted or denied; shall the yoke laid upon the neck of the medieval serfdom be loosened and become more burdensome, or shall the intellect be freed and enter upon an era of new development; shall nations be ruled and tyrannized by religious and civil law; shall the rights of civil and religious liberty be granted?

Great Issues in Balance
"These were the great issues which Luther's answer to the question, 'Whom do you not believe?' should decide."
"All historians agree that Luther's firm stand at Worms in 1521 brought about a epoch-making change in the tremendous change in the history of the world."
"In 1520 the year prior to the Diet at Worms, Luther wrote his famous 'speech-making words: 'To the Christian Nobility of the German Nation,' 'The Babylonian Captivity of the Church,' and 'On Christian Liberty.' In these writings Luther gave a clear outline of his theology."
"In the meantime Eck and Alexander, the papal nuncios, brought the bull of excommunication to Germany. Luther burned it publicly on December 10. Leo X urged Charles V (German emperor) to put Luther under the ban of the empire. Charles was willing to comply, but the German prince insisted that Luther must not be condemned unheard. Accordingly, Luther was summoned to appear before the diet and answer for himself."

Friends Fear for Life
"Luther's friends were uneasy; they feared for his very life; they reminded him of the fate of Huss; they had little confidence in the emperor's conduct. To say that Luther was unshaken is to say almost more than to say that he was human, but his fear was overcome by trust in Him whose battle he was convinced that he was fighting. 'I will give up,' he said, 'though there are as many devils in Worms as there are tiles on the roofs of the houses.'"
"The trial had been set for April 17. At 6 o'clock in the evening Luther was called before the diet. What was the poor monk to be tried for? What had he done? He had written 95 theses against the abuse of indulgences; he had taught that in the church the Bible is the only authority; he had insisted upon faith in Jesus Christ as the only work; he had attacked the doctrines of the papacy. He was not to be tried, he was simply to be called upon to say one word, 'Revoce,' that is, I recant."
"On the following day Luther appeared again, before the diet and gave his answer."
"With this defend all the books acknowledged to be thine (Luther had acknowledged the books to be his on the day before) or at least recant in part? That was the question which was put to Luther in German and Latin."

Replies at Length
"Luther replied at some length. He said that he was willing to recant and cast his books into the fire if he could be convinced by the Scriptures that he had taught error. He replied displeased. He asked Luther to say whether he would say 'Revoce' or not. Luther then replied in these words:
"Since your imperial majesty, electoral and princely graces demand a simple answer, I will give one which shall have neither horns nor teeth. Unless I be overcome and convinced by proofs of the holy scriptures or by manifestly clear grounds and reasons for I believe neither the pope nor the councils alone, because 'It is an open and known fact that they have often erred' and I am not bound to believe in any conviction by these passages adduced and introduced by me, and my conscience is bound in God's word, I can or will recant nothing, since it is neither safe nor advisable to do aught against conscience. God help me! Amen."

Maintains Firm Stand
"Luther maintained his firm stand. He said, 'Father will I lose life and limb that I surrender God's true and clear word.'
"On his homeward journey friends 'took him captive' and for safety's sake, removed him to the Castle Wartburg. It was there that Luther, in December 1521, began his translations of the Bible into that German which became the German literature and speech and which is still spoken and written today."
"Luther was put under the ban of the empire and remained under the ban until the rest of his life. He nevertheless lived on and continued his work until his peaceful death in February, 1546."
"State and church alike are repining at the loss of Luther's firm stand at Worms in 1521. Humanly speaking, the Liberty Bell, with its inscription, 'Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof,' would never have rung out the signing of the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776, and our charter of liberty, the constitution of the United States, would never have been written. If Luther at Worms in 1521 had spoken that one word, 'Revoce,' 'The religious and civil liberty, which we Americans prize very highly, is the result of that independence which Luther maintained at Worms as the birthright of man.'"

Gowns of Distinction

AFTERNOON frocks of canton and other crepes, and those of taffeta silk, occupy so much of fashion's horizon that it takes unusual qualities in others to attract attention. Crepes and taffetas are the rule, proven by such handsome exceptions as are pictured above. These are gowns that employ heavy fancy weaves in silks, which manufacturers vary each year and create with new names. They are highly lustrous with rough surfaces and most effective in two colors or tones, by which means figured, brocaded and changeable effects are achieved.

The gown at the right is almost a straight-line model with skirt arranged in alternating draped and embroidered panels and gathered in at the bottom. Its outlines are misleading; for they convey an impression of simplicity in a model that reveals actual and somewhat intricate drapery in the collar. The bodice features on the shoulder and forms its own grille after the most approved manner for blouses or bodices. Just the right hat and veil are worn with it to finish off a costume of much distinction.

The gown at the left employs a trellis collar with plain gartered and lace to make the most formal of afternoon frocks. The skirt adheres to the mode of tunics with uneven length as an asset, emphasized by wide lace flounces, dyed to match the dominant color in the silk. The bodice opens in a long "V" at the front over a vestee of georgette and georgette also makes the soft, elbow sleeves.

Among new arrivals there are a great many frocks of taffeta made up in combination with cotton fabrics—as embroidered batiste, plain organdy and fine muslin. These are for informal afternoon wear and strike a new note in the adaptability of this perennial favorite among silks.

ZONE RESIDENTS ASK CIVIL RULE

People in Vicinity of Big Ditch Seek Change from Military Government

PANAMA, (AP)—Civilian government of the Panama Canal zone under the department of commerce or the department of the interior and effective suffrage for civilian American citizens residing in the Canal zone are two of the objects sought by the newly formed "Civilian League of the Canal Zone." The zone is now a military reservation.
The league has been keeping in touch with proposed legislation by congress affecting the canal zone, said H. J. White, president, "and it has discovered that parties not connected with the zone have attempted to secure the enactment of bills submitted by the league which would not prove applicable or beneficial to the zone."
A statement issued by the league declares that "the military branch of our government is using its influence to have the canal considered primarily as a military project" and adds:
"The league takes the position that the business interests of the United States demand the fullest commercial development of the canal, that, as far as possible, the same form of government that exists in the United States should apply in the Canal zone; that the civilian citizens of the United States residing in the zone should have a voice in the affairs of the zone; that the zone should be thrown open to Americans who want to own property and settle in it, the same as the District of Columbia; that the army and navy, while permitted to do any and all necessary defensive work for the protection of the canal, should be entirely separate and distinct from the government of the Canal zone."
Specific demand is made that "congress grant the right of suffrage to civilian Americans residing in the zone authorizing them to elect a resident commissioner, to represent them at Washington, in the same manner as the present resident commissioners of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico."

IDAHO FARMERS HOLDING GRAIN

Largest Stocks in History of State Retained in Granaries of State

Idaho farmers hold 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000,000 bushels of oats and 1,045,000 bushels of barley. The farms on March 1 of this year, according to a summarized statement of grain holdings in this state issued by Julius H. Jacobson, state agricultural statistician.

Percentage is High

Mr. Jacobson says that never before has such a large percentage of the previous year's crops been held on similar dates. The wheat holdings amount to 25 per cent, oats 42 per cent, and barley 30 per cent and represents quantities actually on farms and not such amounts as have been moved to public elevators, warehouses, etc. March 1st, last year, wheat 14 per cent or 2,070,000 bushels of wheat; 25 per cent or 1,760,000 bushels of oats; and 14 per cent or 378,000 bushels of barley on farms.

The situation a year ago was almost the reverse when there was a ready market but a shortage of cars to move crops and immense crops this year have had to be stored with a demoralized market and which has generally been regarded as decidedly unprofitable.

Values Decline

In common with most states, land values in Idaho have decreased somewhat the past year. This is not due to decreased productivity of Idaho lands, but rather to a falling off in prices of all commodities and consequent lack of interest in farm lands.

DEVELOPMENTS

William Straker a member of the miners' executive committee, categorically denied the report that had been given circulation that Frank Hodges, secretary of the miners' union, had resigned.

Resignation Denied

Persistent rumors that Frank Hodges, secretary of the miners' union, had resigned were current here shortly after the election. It was said he had relinquished his office because of opposition to his statement before members of the house of commons last night, in which he favored a temporary adjustment of wages.

In his letter inviting the miners to a conference with the mine owners, President Lloyd George said the general impression received from Mr. Hodges' statement was that the miners were now prepared to discuss with the owners on the question of wages without making the controversy a political issue of the national pool of wages, provided arrangements of a temporary character were made without prejudice to further discussion of the proposal for a national pool when a final settlement comes to be dealt with.

Turns Toward Peace

The strike took a sudden and dramatic turn toward peace, at midnight. Members of the house of commons had heard leaders of the miners outline their demands hurriedly in telegrams to the residence of Lloyd George. "The house of commons," said the London Times, this morning, "balked at their demands and took matters in its own hands."

Owners' Case Disappointed

Many members were plainly disappointed with the case of the owners made out. Some frankly declared that the wages proposed for certain districts were too low.

Owners Make Statement

The mine owners in the meantime made public the following statement: "We want, and again invite, the miners' representatives to sit at dinner with us, but naturally and naturally, to see what may be done to improve the wage conditions of those classes of workers who were most directly affected by the wage reduction. Under present conditions, we are ready to sacrifice all claims to a return on the industry and will be content with full circumstances, improve Government control has left the industry bankrupt. We will do our best to place it on a better basis for unskilled workers, and publicly extend this invitation to the miners to meet us and talk things over. What else can the owners do?"

GRAY FOR SPRING

Varying Tones Are Becoming to Nearly All Types.

Milinery and Gowns in Advance Displays Indicate Declined Preference for the Color.

From present indication it would seem that gray is to be the principal color note of spring fashion, and we should not be loath to accept it, for the varying tones are becoming alike to young and old, blonde and brunette. The milinery shops are fitted with chic spring models of gray straw and silks, some showing touches of henna or other contrasting colors, and the modistes have certainly shown a decided preference for gray in the new gowns they are displaying.

An afternoon dress is of steel gray pussy, willow crepe. The neck is rounded slightly and part of it is bordered by a white organdy collar of Quakerish simplicity. The short sleeves are set in, and from the top of each cuff little gray silk balls dangle. More balls appear in a row at the front of the bodice, and a double row of them serve as trimming around the lower part of the skirt. Gray silk crepe streamers are set in on either side of the front of the bodice and pass around the waist to tie in a simple bow at the back. Small pussy puffers on each side of the skirt add a quaintly charming touch.

Another gown is of silver gray satin, with a lustrous mirror-like quality to the surface. The bodice has short kimono sleeves with turned-back cuffs and a rounded neck bordered by a rolling collar. An apron-like piece of satin folds over the bodice, so that the straight upper edge completes the neck, the collar ends extending to each side of it. The lower part of this overbodice is draped slightly in basque effect, and a portion of it rolls back to expose the facing of henna georgette. The sleeves and collar are also faced with it by the contrasting material, and a strip of it edges the apron piece of the overbodice. The skirt has tiers of satin flounces on each side to vary the outline.

A new hat is also of gray, the medium being a flat silk crepe. Combed with it is a shiny straw with pale greenish gray tints.

WHEAT PRICE HOLDS OWN

Profit-Taking Sales Counterbalance Upturns Following Strike Cancellations

CHICAGO, (AP)—Higher prices in the wheat market resulted today from renewed hopes of a settlement of the British coal strike. Besides there were indications of crop business both in wheat and rye. Commission houses and speculators were the chief buyers. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1-2c lower, with May 2.03 3/4 to 2.21 3/4 and July 2.05 1/2 to 2.10 3/4, were followed by a material advance all around and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently definite countermanding of orders for British railway men and transport workers to quit, brought about heavy buying and a sharp advance in price. Profit-taking sales, however, led them to more or less of a setback. The close was nervous, the same as yesterday's finish, July 24.00 to 2.10 1/4.

Scantiness of rural offerings helped to strengthen crops. After opening 3/8c off to 1/2c advance, including July at 59 1/4 to 59 1/2c, the market scored a moderate general upturn.

The market closed unsettled, 3/8 to 3/4c higher with July 59 7/8c.

Oats were firm with other grades starting unchanged 10 1/4 to 3-8c down, July 30 1/2c to 30 3/4c, and then rising well above yesterday's finish.

Provisions lacked sales support.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—Cancellation of the federal railway wage agreement, favorable industrial news from abroad and prospects of easier money rates resulted in gains of two to six points on both a broad stock market. Sales approximated 600,000 shares.

Announcement over night of the negotiation of national agreements by the railroad labor boards came as a complete surprise to Wall street and induced a strong tone to the stock market at the opening of today's session. Within the first few minutes gains of 1 to 4 points were made by all classes of the transportation shares, especially the more popular Pacifics, Grangers and coalers. The rebound extended to oils and industrials, with Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch, General Asphalt, Atlantic Gulf, Republic Iron and Steelmaker as the outstanding features.

Highest prices of the day were marked by oil, rails and steels in the last hour, realizing sales making little or no impression. The closing was strong.

WORK ON FARMS NICELY IN HAND

State Authority on Weather and Drops Issues Gratifying Report for Week

In a weekly summary of weather and conditions in Idaho, Clarence J. Niquette, state meteorologist, makes the following statement:

"We have had a rather mild, open ground did not freeze to a great depth anywhere, and on the mountain slopes the heavy snows of early winter fell largely on unfrozen ground. Reports indicate livestock have wintered well and come through in good thrifty condition. Fall snow grains—wheat, barley, and rye—have suffered no winter damage and are getting a good early start. Fruit also has come through in excellent shape.

Early Opening

"Spring opening early and there has been little stormy weather to delay the work, so all farm operations are exceptionally well in hand. In the earlier districts of the Clearwater, and Boise-Payette valleys and in the Twin Falls section, much early plowing is completed and spring wheat is sown; in fact early snow wheat is already up in many localities. Most sections report ample soil moisture, but there are a few extensive areas where the drying winds of the past few weeks have seriously depleted soil moisture and pastures are dry. Farmers have started, however, to plant corn crops, but these are not advanced enough to be subject to frost damage."

Notes from the Field

Montpelier, Bear Lake county: All farm work held in check by six inch snowfall of last week. Twin Falls, Twin Falls county: Ample soil moisture; wheat coming up nicely; apricot and plum buds unfriest, but other fruit unharmed. Hagerman, Gooding county: Considerable wind; early snow wheat coming through nicely; ample moisture for vegetation; weather mostly favorable for ranch work. Albion, Cassia county: Storm wind from Sunday to Wednesday, about two inches of snow falling, and set farm work back about 10 days. Some losses among stock, particularly young lambs; little damage to fruit.

Boise, Ada county: Snow starts early in the week; interest somewhat with farm work, but the general effect was pleasing at and under the influence of warm winds and sunnier the soil had become very dry. Boise, Ada county: Wheat mostly sown but not coming up yet; pastures starting slowly account dry weather; winter moisture largely depleted by drying winds; upon an entire county rising rapidly; no indication of frost injury.

Ohio was next to New York with Illinois, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Michigan and New Jersey following in the order named. The middle west, which sends thousands of tourists into the coast mountains during the summer was scantily represented.

Of the foreign countries, the Englishman predominated, with the Hawaiian a close second. Australia, Canada, Japan and Java sent large delegations.

Park officials said the chief difficulty encountered in introducing "Yosemite in Winter" was to convince travelers that the valley was as snowed in 20 feet below as its 4,000-foot altitude. Many motorists, wintering in California, believed the valley could not be reached at this season.

HOW BLOUSES ARE TRIMMED

Garments Are Heavily Trimmed, Inset With Jewels and Lavishly Beaded in Duglas.

The newest blouses are elaborately trimmed and embroidered. Heavily beaded, inset with jewels and lavishly beaded in bugles set in close all-over designs, these blouses are made both long and short. The longest models reach almost to the knees. Blue-colored background for embroidery of dull purple and blue and gold are combined with black angles. Inset-colored crepe a short sleeve blouse is embroidered in white silk, and is further ornamented with jewels of ruby color, a heavy antique gold gimp trimmings being used to make a neck fitting.

Imitation supplies stout circles of heavy silver tinsel thread, which is applied in a loose, daring stitch on a black blouse, which is also of short cut, and another of the Watline french black blouse has a design in green and gold trimming.

Crystal bugles in gold color are effective in combination with milk tulle on a long pale gray blouse, trimmings being inset to make a neck fitted, and a similar band treatment is introduced at the shoulder. We forming also a large portion of the sleeve.

A dark blue taffeta silk panel on a tan crepe blouse gradually grows wider as it borders neck to below the waistline, and is tucked into the horizontal rows inset at intervals with white lace; it is graded with dark grayish ribbon.

WORKS ON FLAME-PROOF TYPE OF WOODEN HOUSE

Underwriters' Laboratories, Encouraged by Experiment, Announce Fire Safe Construction

CHICAGO, (AP)—A new type of wood frame house, much less subject to damage by fire than those in general use, is being developed and tested at the Underwriters' laboratories here. The laboratory announced that it appears practicable, even with the ordinary wood joist and studs commonly used for floors, walls and partitions to reduce fire losses and consequent danger to life in houses of this class. Only a few of the danger points need give special attention.

The new system developed is by covering frame of metal lath and plaster held in place by wires surrounding the beams, which continue to act even after the wood beams have started to char. Whaton Clay, engineer and member of both the National Federation of Constructive Industries and the National Congress of the Building & Construction Industry, said that the results of this test, it is practically assured that houses can be constructed with practically no extra expense which will stand intensive fire for one hour and keep the family and property safe from destruction.

The new method is spoken of as fire safe wooden construction, and is a wood frame so protected by metal lath and plaster that the lives of the occupants of the building would be safe against the effects of fire. Thirty minutes of fire, he said, should be allowed for complete safety but a protection of one hour is being sought after by fire proofing engineers.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY IS ENDORSED BY HARDING

President Expresses Approval of Purpose to Acquire Public with Scope of Service

CHICAGO, Ill., (AP)—In a letter to Matthew O. Foley, executive secretary of the National Hospital Day committee, President Warren G. Harding has endorsed National Hospital Day, May 12, when the 8,000 hospitals throughout the country will make an organized effort to tell the public of the true scope of hospital service.

President Harding's letter follows: "The White House," Washington, D. C.

"My dear Mr. Foley: "It is especially a pleasure at this time to express my interest in the work of National Hospital Day which seeks to arouse the largest possible public interest in the very great need of hospitals and similar institutions. I have most properly chosen May 12th, the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, as the day to be celebrated as National Hospital Day. Just at this time those of us who are concerned in the administration of National affairs are having our attention forced to the very great need of expanded hospital facilities, by reason of the requirements of disabled soldiers. I can most heartily extend my good wishes for the most useful results from your efforts.

"Very truly yours," WARREN G. HARDING.

Old Superstitions.

In one of his novels, Walter Scott says it was received as the truth, "that they who are born on Christmas or Good Friday have the power of seeing spirits, and even of commanding them."

He also says that "the Spaniards attributed the haggard and downcast looks of their Philip II to the disagreeable visions to which this privilege subjected him." The well-known lines of Shakespeare indicate that in his day the crossing of the cock at dawn was believed to be efficacious in driving away spirits.

REFORM COMES HIGH

One may hear, upon the streets of Barley this week, that the Rogerson Hotel of Twin Falls is closed.

But newspapers inform their readers as to Twin Falls conditions in maner calculated to create the belief that the schools of Twin Falls are closed, the Highway District dissolved and the Mayor and Council removed from office.

Within a very short time now it will be possible to weigh the benefits of the Twin Falls "reform" program against the evil which has come out of it.

REFORM COMES HIGH

THE MANAGER PLAN

Twin Falls voters will not, and cannot, in the election on April 26, vote on the question of whether or not the city manager form of government shall be instituted in Twin Falls.

The city manager plan as an issue, is foreign to the election to be held on April 26.

The service men, in presenting candidates for the several municipal offices to be filled in the election of April 26, have suggested that adoption of the city manager plan might be expected to go a long way toward solution of problems and difficulties which have beset this and former City administrations.

The only possible manner in which the city manager issue can enter into the election of April 26 is as a question of the attitude of candidates toward the proposal.

This fact, however, is to be borne in mind—the service men, if they are elected to office in the election of April 26, cannot make a change in the form of government. This can only be effected by vote of the people, and the Taxpayers, if they are successful, cannot refuse to accept a decision to adopt a new plan if such now is indicated by the people at an election.

UNCLE WALT'S STORY

Walt Mason

PRACTICE OF ECONOMY

"MR. SKULL, the druggist, is so quill, some wonderful liquid porcelain, and I think we ought to have a bottle," said Mrs. Jamesworthy.

"There are a dozen things about the house which would be proved if examined. The bathtub, for instance, is a disgrace, as most of the white coating has disappeared."

"People who don't like our bathtub don't need to wash themselves in it," retorted Jamesworthy.

"Last summer you had another great scheme for saving our hard-earned doobloons. You palmed the lawn swing and never said a word to me about it. After dark, I took a seat in the swing to rest my weary bones, and when I wanted to leave, I found I couldn't. I stuck to that swing like a two-cent stamp to a darning needle. The neighbors had to come over and pry me loose with spades and things before I could get away. My rabbit was ruined, and it was a suit I had worn only three seasons. You explained to me afterward that you thought you'd be saving money by painting the swing yourself. Four passionate fondness for the kind of economy that involves spending money has brought these gray hairs to my sideburns and made me old before my time."

"There's only one reliable way to save money, Mrs. Jamesworthy. Sell it right now. Put it in a tin can and let the lid down tight. If you go to the druggist and grocers and hardware men, and ask them how to economize, they'll try to sell you something that will put you in a fixy street. I don't buy them for it. They are a business for the purpose of selling things, but no sane woman would accept any one of them as her guide, philosopher and friend, in matters of retrenchment."

"I was the druggist who sold you five gallons of his patent disinfectant, telling you that you might save vast sums of money by having it on hand. There was a contagious disease in town then, and the druggist pointed out that people who had the disease were almost bankrupted by the expense. In case the disease was headed in our direction, all we had to do was to use this disinfectant and we'd be immune. The disgusted malady would turn in its tracks and take away in some other direction."

"Of course, having the disinfectant on hand, we were suffering to use it, and when you heard that a man in the neighborhood had the measles you concluded it was time to get busy. You sprayed the house with the stuff, and you know what happened then. We had to borrow a tent and camp out on the lawn for a week. The stoma festing the house was so strong that the clock stopped and all our precious oil paintings turned black."

"Nobody could enter the house without wearing a sack over his head. It rained all the time we were camped on the lawn, and we all caught the champion cold of our lives. It was a week of unmitigated misery, and it was the result of your determination to save money by overly expensive means. The only comfort or pleasure I got out of the whole business was deriving from seeing the druggist's nose and telling him what I thought of him."

"The grocer told you last fall that you might save fabulous sums by buying several bunches of tomatoes, and eight dozen glass jars, and endless quantities of pickles and vinegar, and making your own ketchup. You made it. We buried it darkly at dead of night, the soda with our bayonets turning."

"Don't think you're smart, don't you," laughed Mrs. Jamesworthy, potently.

THE PROMISING SPORT HAT

Demurely youthful sport hats of this type will be worn by the subber, deb, fapper and matron this summer. Simplicity and clearness of line are the principal features; much depends upon the material used.

TO CHOOSE SIMPLE CLOTHES

Women Who Toll Seek Garments and Footwear Within Means and Not Gaudy.

Those who work for their living must be most conservative in their choice of attire, no matter how opposed to conservatism their fancy may be, and in no part of it more than in the shoes they wear, says Vogue.

Girls, whose poor feet, ill supported on crooked heels, bulge over the thin sole and wobble as they walk, should ask themselves what the man behind thinks of their bending ankles, or, if they have on level boots (for a wonder) the strip of calf showing before their ridiculously short skirts.

When they choose a dress of a conspicuous kind, they should remember how long they may have to wear it, and consider how well it will stand the sort of work they have to do.

Materials that shed easily, that soil easily, that shed beads, that catch scraps of embroidery in the chair arms and door handles, are not suitable. Very brilliant colors do not look businesslike, and, holding the eye as they do, are things people notice too often and so grow tired of.

One very striking street dress of tan wool was built about the demands of ordinary clothes in a condition in which many of us find ourselves. Only a few hours out of the 24 can we blossom forth into the marvelous modic orn south pant for. But we could be terribly smart in plain clothes if we really want to be, and considering that every fashion periodical publishes smart plain ones for smart plain occasions, as well as smart fine ones for the more occasions, it is distinctly our own fault that lead us to purchase determinedly upon the wrong ones for the wrong times.

RIBBON TRIMMINGS ARE NEW

Embellishment Affords Attractive Hand Touch Worth Adding at Home to the Bora Dress.

Ribbon trimmings are rather new and an attractive hand touch worth adding at home to the store purchased dress. One very striking street dress of tan wool was trimmed with black cre ribbon (formerly most used on millinery) one inch wide, that was plaited and laid on each side seam.

The ribbon was arranged so that it showed down at the hem, and this made the silhouette strikingly new.

Flower satin ribbons in Dresden colorings are charming for blading both frocks and slipovers. A gray velours dress seen was solely trimmed around the square neck, short bell sleeves and the plait, with blue and pink Dresden ribbon bound around to make a three-fourths inch banding.

For the colorful slipover or smock, an oriental patterned ribbon with gold, red and green designs on black, is up to date. A pink, a neck line, or to make a narrow sash run through buttonholed slits at the waistline will give the desirable distinctiveness.

FIRST MORTGAGE INVESTMENTS. Arthur L. Spum.—adv.

FASHION NOTES

Undergarments of Shetland wool are very popular on the continent. A smart new feature of the latest millinery is hatspins of enormous size and extravagant character.

Many smart hats are being trimmed with the same sort of fur which trim the coat they are meant to accompany.

Gowns which look to the East for their inspiration are giving place to those newer and smarter frocks designed after the Spanish mode.

The fans of the season are elaborate and of many varieties. One interesting model of curled ostrich has a tiny mirror in the center. Another is made of several swirls of paradise.

There are two alibonettes which promise to be very popular this season. They are the long slender outline and the pagoda effect. The latter has a circular skirt topped by a slender waist and a very plain bodice.

Bristol of Interest to America. Few cities in England have more claim to the attention of the United States than the ancient town of Bristol. It was Bristol that gave the world the Cabots, those daring sailors who discovered the mainland of America, and thus destroyed the belief that beyond the West Indies were undiscovered lands of open sea and the end of the world. Bristol is one of the oldest cities in England. It having been founded by Caesar at the time the Romans swept down on the island and declared it a province of the imperial city. A great wall was built about the place, and portions of it still stand, mute evidence through the centuries of the thoroughness and strength of Roman empire building.

Giving the Effect. A real light is rarely hidden under the proverbial bushel, but some keen men keep a bushel to create the belief that it conceals a light.—Albany Journal.

Where Earth's "Crust" is Weak. There are a great many places on earth where there has been such terrific folding and cracking of the earth's rocky armor-plates as in western South America. There is a range of mountains whose peaks frequently to 20,000 feet in height, lies close to an ocean which sinks to profound depths within a short distance from the shore. Obviously, the earth's crust—"the crust" is not an outcrop term in this connection—is weak and unstable along the Pacific coast of the southern continent, and the frequency of earthquakes there is easy to understand. The explanation is not so clear in all earthquake regions.

Illumination of Manuscripts. The art of painting manuscripts with miniature and ornaments is an art of the most remote antiquity. The Egyptian papyrus containing portions of the Bible or "Book of the Dead" are ornamented with drawings and colored pictures. The Persians, Hindus and Chinese have illuminated manuscripts with great beauty, none of which compete with those of the western nations in antiquity.

The Everlasting Reminder. It's not what a man tells us that annoys us; but it's his "I told you so" afterwards that gets our goat.

Indigestion and Constipation. "Prior to using Chamberlain's Tablets, I suffered dreadfully from indigestion. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I lost flesh and ran down in health. Chamberlain's Tablets strengthened my digestion and cured me of constipation," writes Mrs. George Strop, Solway, N. Y.—adv.

RETURN BODIES OF 20,000 MEN

Work of Bringing Back Remains of Americans who Fell Overseas Proceeds Apace

PARIS, (AP)—Twenty thousand bodies of American soldiers who fell in France have either been shipped to the United States or are now in process of being returned for burial in their native country.

With 102 officers of the American army and a personnel of more than 2000 men working night and day in many sections of France, the graves registration service of the American army has reached a point where it is possible to forward 4000 bodies a month. The work of sending back the 52,311 bodies designated for interment in America will be completed by the end of next October, if present plans are fulfilled.

The bodies of the Americans have been taken from every cemetery in the south of France. The greater part of the effort is now being concentrated in the zone of the armistice—the Argonne, etc. Seventy-seven bodies of American soldiers who were killed will be removed to the United States next month.

The graves registration service now is working in Berlin on arrangements for shipping the bodies of 30 American soldiers who are buried in various parts of unoccupied Germany. This work is being done in order to locate the graves because the location of many of the graves was unknown. An expert has been going over the German burial records in Berlin for several weeks and virtually all the graves have been found. The German government has afforded every facility to the graves registration service.

More than 2000 bodies will be buried in the four permanent cemeteries which the American government will maintain in France. The file arts commission of the American War Department has arrived in Paris for a series of meetings and a tour of inspection of the permanent cemeteries. The commission has in its possession the identification of the cemeteries and will determine the character of headstones to be used and the general decorative scheme. The commission will probably consult with leading French landscape artists.

Prize for the Mingo.
The secretary of the chamber of commerce in Mexico City says that nobody knows the real Mexico until he has eaten a ripe mango in Mexico. And, of course, you can't eat a ripe mango anywhere else, because a ripe mango cannot be moved far. A ripe mango, according to him, is the most luscious, juicy and delicious fruit in the world, and the correct way to eat it is to get in a corner of nature in a park or orchard or forest, or by the seashore, and then go to the mat with the fruit. Enough of the juice and meat will get inside to make you deliciously happy, and then you borrow an ocean or something to wash the juice off the exterior, before it will become stimp. If you have once eaten a ripe mango in Mexico you will understand the low estimate in which the natives hold gold and silver and precious stones and all riches of pale civilization.—Chicago Daily News.

About Venetian Glass.
Across the channel from Venice is Murano, the little island birthplace of Venetian glass. Like a great many "obscure art" manufactures commenced in the Middle ages and developed its full glory during the Renaissance, in 1291 certain Italian glass makers took out a register of an ability, or "libro d'oro," and formed a guild which very carefully guarded the secret process of manufacturing Venetian glass. About the fifteenth century colored Venetian glass was made and in the next century lace patterns and mirrors were created. Plain glass was also annealed and gilded when made into bric-a-brac. Later variegated or marbled glasses were produced.

The Whistling Intrepid

At a studio on a busy street of a Colorado city a pupil was singing the Jewel aria from Faust. It was twilight, says the Boston Herald, and there were many people passing by outside. Suddenly the singer stopped. "Some one outside is whistling the accompaniment," he said. But an investigation failed to discover anyone. As the girl proceeded, however, the whistling began again. Each time the accompaniment came to a legato staccato passage, the whistler followed the higher melody, keeping time with the performer. By closer searching the culprit was discovered, perched upon a tall lamp post. A mocking bird had passed on his homeward way to take part in a performance of Gounod's music. His intrusion disconcerted the studio and attracted a group of listeners in the street, who wonderingly enjoyed the mocking bird's imitation of the pianist's technique.

Legs and Health

According to experts the general health as well as one's state of mind are influenced largely by the way we use our legs. Persons with irritable tendencies invariably acquire the habit of crowding the legs. For them to take part in a performance of Gounod's music, the whistler followed the higher melody, keeping time with the performer. By closer searching the culprit was discovered, perched upon a tall lamp post. A mocking bird had passed on his homeward way to take part in a performance of Gounod's music. His intrusion disconcerted the studio and attracted a group of listeners in the street, who wonderingly enjoyed the mocking bird's imitation of the pianist's technique.

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely," says G. P. Rayder, Patton Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. I want it in the house all the time for if I cured me, I—advise."

TEACHERS GET PAY WARRANTS LONG OVERDUE

School Authorities Issue $26,000 in Vouchers for January Payrolls

Teachers and other employees of Twin Falls Independent School District No. 1, are today receiving the first salary warrants passed out this year. Warrants to the amount of $26,000 have been written in liquidation of salary and wage accounts on payrolls to February 4. The writing was accomplished last night and this morning the clerk of the board added her signature. This afternoon the warrants are being placed in the hands of those persons entitled to receive them. Issue of warrants was authorized at the conclusion of a meeting of the board of trustees of the school district, held yesterday afternoon, when a proposal made by J. B. Russell, representing the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company, to take the first $20,000 of the warrants issued to the extent to a lawyer at a 4 per cent rate of discount. Mr. Russell explained that the offer was made with a view to enabling the board to obtain a more favorable discount rate from any bank making an offer. A previous proposal to take the warrants at a 5 per cent discount was not raised as the result of Mr. Russell's proposal to the board. The offer of the Twin Falls bank is in no sense binding upon the board, it is explained, or upon the holders of the warrants, and does not affect the acceptance of any more favorable offer that might be made by any other financial institution.

In making the warrants, the treasurer, E. Dunlap, is required to work out the amount of discount and add this to the actual amount due to pay. Hence a teacher or wagon driver on a $100 monthly salary will receive a check for $100, the extra 4 per cent taking care of the discount required by the paying institution. This arrangement is said to be in conformity with the law. The board will make another issue of warrants on delinquent payroll accounts as soon as the present one is cared for, according to announcement.

MANAGE OF THE TURK ESCAPED UNDER ESCORT

Mr. and Mrs. Christy Wilson Protected by British Troops from Tabriz

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Christy Wilson, who left Idaho in the fall of 1910 to go to Tabriz, Persia, as missionaries for the Presbyterian church, are informed that in October, 1920, they were obliged to evacuate the mission at Tabriz and reach under the protection of British troops to Hamadan, Persia, where they are continuing their work as missionaries.

Mr. Wilson was Miss Fara Wilson, a student in the Twin Falls high school and later a teacher in the Burley schools. Mr. Wilson was an Idaho Falls resident.

Friends in Twin Falls have not received a letter from them since November at that time letters were written in August. Word of their present whereabouts was received from Dr. E. H. Allen who was here for the Presbytery at the local church this week.

CHURCH WOMEN HEAR ADDRESS ON 'PERSIA'

Returned Missionary Again Addresses Church Women Concerning Her Work

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church concluded its first meeting for the church year Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. D. Barnhart presiding. A short business session was held, and was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. F. P. Brackton. Mrs. Dr. J. Allen, who has been a Presbyterian missionary in Persia, addressed the meeting on the work of the missions among the Armenians in that country. His audience was the largest ever held in terms of the persecutions and sufferings of the Christians in Persia. Among the eight missions built by the church only three are left, all the other having been swept away. The meeting closed with a vocal solo by Mrs. O. J. Davall.

SUCCESS OUTSTANDING IN 'DOLLAR DAYS' CELEBRATION

No Fanfare or Pageantry Marks Occasion but Merchants Report Business of Gratifying Volume on First of Important Commercial Festival—Greater Things Looked For as the Time Wears On

Although the fiscal commercial occasion "Dollar Days," was not ushered in with a fanfare of trumpet, and road and weather conditions proved more or less unpropitious for traveling, the day, from the viewpoint of business men in general, opened with a satisfactory trade, and gathered industrial impetus as time wore on. This afternoon merchants are feeling the force of heavier business than has been experienced for some time, and, regardless of the lines involved, express the belief that even with a continuance of present weather conditions, the "Dollar Days" celebration will prove one of the most prosperous mercantile successes this district has experienced.

All-Participate.
The opening day of the festival was planned by the general committee to be "Down-to-earth" day, but the offerings of the day have been participated in by hundreds of people from the outlying towns on this occasion. It is possible to get into town either by train or machine. The business started not with a great rush, but with a noticeable increase in demand for goods of all characters. "Specials" were snapped up early, the picking of these attractions offers leading to buying of large orders in regular trade.

This afternoon purchasing has been much more spirited than it was in the forenoon, this condition resulting from the additions to the shopping force brought in over the railroad. Auto traffic, too, showed a decided disposition to increase as the hours passed, and townfolk made extra special excursions from home to take advantage of the occasion's offerings. In addition to being "Dollar Day" it is also "Good Fellowship" day, with shoppers and tradesmen alike in a happy frame of mind.

Tomorrow, Too.
Tomorrow has been designated as "Farmer and Rural" day, and extraordinary programs are planned by merchants for display of those commodities most appealing to the people from the districts outside of town. Adding to the festive appearance of the town on this occasion city administrators have decorated the streets with streamers, flags, and bunting. The town is also decorated with attractively trimmed and decorated, with attractive special offers of high grade goods that appeal to the eye of the passer.

Due to unsatisfactory weather conditions the street dance, planned for last night, has been postponed until nine o'clock tomorrow night. One block of Shoshone from Main avenue to Second street north and east, will be roped off for the dancers. Music will be provided by the city band. The same organization will provide a street band which will take part in various prominent business corners.

Today is Dollar Day and to tomorrow.

LINEUP SHOWS MANY CHANGES

Citizens Name Three New Candidates; Taxpayers Lose Two by Withdrawal

Nominations of three new candidates for municipal offices to fill vacancies occurring on the Citizen's ticket were today filed in the office of the city clerk while two vacancies occurred in the Taxpayers' group as a result of the filing of withdrawal by Albert T. Reas an candidate for councilman from the first ward, and of F. W. Dunke, as candidate for councilman from the second ward. Only the service men's ticket seemed destined to remain intact as it was filed. Selection of candidates to fill vacancies in the Citizens' ticket was made at a meeting last night of the executive committee. W. E. Sanger was nominated to succeed C. N. Reedy and C. H. Stinson to succeed R. C. Letcher, both as candidates for councilmen from the first ward. Frank Letcher was chosen as candidate for councilman from the second ward.

J. E. Finney, chairman of the Citizens' committee, today authorized the statement that no formal platform would be promulgated by and for its candidates, but that its candidates were pledged to policies of economy and of protection of the trusts that might be conferred in them by the people. They proposed, the committee said, to meet problems as they should arise, and based their claim for support on their reputations for personal and business integrity.

The Taxpayers were prepared to fill vacancies occurring in their group of candidates, according to the statement today of H. C. Mills, who with Dr. Harry Davis and Dr. Herbert C. Deane is a member of a campaign committee which eventually is expected to be composed of seven members. Mr. Mills this morning announced that arrangements had been made for a public meeting to be held Saturday evening in the high school auditorium in the interests of the Taxpayers' candidates. The list of speakers, he said, had not been definitely determined.

TO ATTEMPT FLOTATION OF SCHOOL WARRANTS WITH THE FALLS BANKS

Denver Bond Firm Withdraws from Market for District Paper when Board's Counsel Renders Adverse Opinion on Proposal to Issue Funding Bonds of Serial Type—Deliver First $25,000 Issue Today

Warrants of Independent School district, No. 1, authorized for issue to meet a treasury deficit, current and future expenses of this year at an estimated total of $100,000, will not be handled by the home bank, The Bowsher, Chantre company of Denver, yesterday withdrew from the field. The warrants will probably be handled by local banking houses from time to time as occasion demands.

The Denver bond house, representative of the Bowsher, Chantre company, at noon yesterday, stands according to the opinion of the company's legal adviser, all warrants issued by the local school district could be legally exchanged for such bonds as the bond company recommended. He also explained that in exchanging the warrants for the bonds the district would be placed in position to have at hand the total sum of $200,000 instead of $100,000 for working capital. The $100,000 is authorized by the 20 mill extra tax levy against the property of the district, the remainder of the $200,000 being paid over by the bond house for the warrants.

Local Attitude.
J. S. Buswell of the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company, was asked by the chairman of the board if local banks would handle the district's warrants. His answer was that the banks could handle the salary paper but would prefer it went to Denver. A discount of 4 per cent was suggested on all warrants handled by the home financial institutions.

Plan Is Offered.
The board, declined to engage in the plan when Shad L. Hodgins, of the Walters, Hodgins & Bailey law firm, counsel for the board, rendered an opinion which suggested possibility of illegality of such a procedure. Mr. Hodgins stated that in his opinion, contended by Judge E. A. Walters, the emergency statute under which the tax levy was authorized does not contemplate the issuance of any paper to be carried beyond the district. Issuance of bonds, as proposed by the agency would mean an extension of the redemption period over a much longer period than that provided for.

Upon advice of counsel the board decided to float the school warrants to

MAGAZINE CONTAINS IDAHO GROWTH STORY

E. V. Wilcox Gives Lengthy and Interesting Description of Development

This week's issue of the Country Gentleman contains a lengthy and interesting article on Snake river irrigation projects and the development of southern Idaho. The article appears under the authorship of E. V. Wilcox, and is entitled "Ten Years from Snake River."

In his story Mr. Wilcox liberally quotes various reclamation authorities in this section of the country and, in general, gives a most excellent view of work done in the Twin Falls section, as well as other districts, since irrigation was first employed to develop agribusiness lands in this country.
