Thousands Gather at Potsdam to Witness Funeral Services for Former Kaiserina, Forming Vast Pilgrimage

POTS DAM, (AP)—Amid the tolling of bells, funeral services for Augustina Victoria, former German empress, were held today in this, the royal residence suburb of Berlin.

Over the simple coffin in the mausoleum or Antique temple in the Potsdam palace grounds had been raised the familiar yellow standard of the ex-empress, and at its foot stood the four sons of the former royal couple who were free to attend the services.

At the hotel, flying the flags of American republics as far south as Cape Horn, the president met the secretary of state, Charles E. Hughes, Dr. E. Gil-Borgese, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs and many other Latin American diplomats.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Renewed bonds of friendship among the American republics, with a renunciation to peace and liberty as an example for a war-weary world, were pledged by President Harding today at the unveiling ceremony of a statue to Simon Bolivar, the South American patriot.

In the example of a prosperous family that is living in peace on the Western hemisphere, the president declared the old world might well find inspiration and courage in the example of the industry and its politics along the lines of progress and amity. To that reconstruction, he said, the American republics must contribute by giving of their strength and resources to aid their stricken sister nations across the sea.

Resting the Monroe doctrine, Mr. Harding asserted that it never meant a policy of selfishness or unrequited favor, but was a charter of American independence to maintain which the United States was "willing to fight, if necessary."

Warms Against Alcoholism. He added that the policy of the American republics must not rest on the side of too great abstemiousness and that in the present world chaos Pan-Americanism must mean "sympathetic and generous cooperation."

Each wrought an empire of freedom and built more valiantly than he dreamed. Measure as Presented Closely Follows Text of Bill Given Pocket Veto

Chairman Johnson estimated that the number of alien immigrants admitted annually under the proposed law was 35,341, more than half of whom would come from northwestern Europe. Immigrants from that section are considered by members of congress as the more desirable class.

The report estimated that the total immigration for the year ending next June 30 would be 750,000 to 1,000,000. It was stated that only 2.8 per cent of the immigrants arriving last year perished in the farmlands, the bulk flocking to cities already congested with population.

OPINION SPLIT ON RE-NAMING SOUTH DAKOTA

Adverse Effect of Economic Experiments in Sister State is Cited as Reason for Re-Christening of Commonwealth

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., (AP)—A campaign recently has been inaugurated by the chamber of commerce of Mitchell, S. D., to have the name of South Dakota changed to Roosevelt. A similar movement, started several years ago received only little public support and consequently was dropped.

The time, however, officers of the Mitchell Chamber of Commerce claim they will wage the campaign until it is brought to an issue. The scheme to diversify the name of the state between North and South Dakota has brought forth considerable comment in the editorial columns of the state's newspapers. One opinion is divided, but the majority of the editors disapproved the plan, it is believed. The Mitchell Evening Republican backing up the campaign of the chamber of commerce, says, editorially:

North Dakota Color.
"By all means, the names should be changed to that of Roosevelt. . . . The one great reason why we should get a new name for our state, is that, since the name of South Dakota is neither state is responsible, South Dakota, must, so long as so named, be regarded as a sort of extension of North Dakota.

The transcendent line runs through North Dakota, with one new one, skirting the border between the two states. Travelers back and forth across the continent go either through Nebraska or North Dakota. They never see South Dakota. They take it for granted, therefore, that this is exactly the same kind of a state as North Dakota. . . . There is absolutely no way by which this state could get fair publicity to which it is entitled, as by changing its name to that of the popular president who spent years of his early manhood in North Dakota.

Both Names Good.
The Alexandria Herald, opposing the plan, said editorially:
"The proposed name is good, and would carry nothing but dignity and honor to it. . . . The name of South Dakota should not be cast aside in favor of a new name. South Dakota is good enough for The Herald, and unless there is a general sentiment in favor of the changing of the name, this writer favors letting well enough alone."

The Vermillion Republican said in its editorial column:
"We are willing to take our chances, for the good old name of South Dakota is good enough for us for a while yet, at least."

None of the passengers suffered to any great extent although some became quite hungry before they were rescued.

What You Will in Hats

HATS that range all the way from the simplest, most practical and substantial of matters to the most elegant and unsubstantial of millinery and hat brands, are presented in this spring's millinery showings. "Unsubstantial" is not to be taken as meaning fragile or perishable, because some of the most elegant and most of materials can stand endurance tests that wreck their heavier competitors.

The great variety of hats in the displays promises a season of becoming millinery, since all types and all occasions can be suited. In the group pictures above hats appropriate for street wear have been chosen and the "airy nothings" of millinery, the sheer dress hats of lace, hair braid or malines—that is the more picturesque styles—have been omitted.

The plain-banded sailor at the top of the group always has an array of admirers and when it appears in flou rather soft, miln with a well proportioned crown and brim, it is sure to crown many a discriminating and aristocratic head. Here it finds itself in the company of a smart smart and the group always has an array of admirers and when it appears in flou rather soft, miln with a well proportioned crown and brim, it is sure to crown many a discriminating and aristocratic head.

Japan Standing Pat on Mandate
Adoption of Passive Attitude is Forecast by the Japanese Newspapers

TOKIO, (AP)—The foreign office stated Monday that it was still considering the note from Secretary of State Hughes on the mandate question and that in the meantime it would during the day give out for publication the correspondence with the United States on this subject to clarify the situation.

Passive Attitude Likely.
Most of the Japanese newspapers seem to think that Japan is likely to adopt a passive attitude in dealing with the mandate issue. The Japan Times in an editorial today calls attention to the position of the Japanese foreign office in meeting the American claim with a steady refusal to accept the matter as an issue between Japan and the United States and with an equally steady insistence that the issue was one between the United States and the powers which first pledged their support to Japan's claim to all the German islands north of the equator and later when the mandate idea came into being handed over the island of Yap to the jurisdiction of Japan.

To Reply on Publication.
The Times says it understands Japan will not issue any particular defense of her position but will reply upon the publication of the correspondence to make Japan's case clear to the world.

The Tokoku news agency today prints a further interview with Prof. Hayashi, councillor of the foreign office, in which it quotes him as expressing the opinion that President Harding in the latest proposal on the mandate question, simply desires to insist upon what is in his mind without considering its effect and possible result, which is "a characteristic common to all Americans."

ISLAM MOURNS TALAAT PASHA

Funeral Services for Assassinated Former Grand Vizier Draw Immense Crowds

BERLIN, (AP)—Mohammedans from every important Islamic country attended the funeral of Talaat Pasha the former Turkish grand vizier, who was assassinated in Berlin by Solomon Tevlarian, a young Armenian, who declares his act avenges the death of his parents and hundreds of thousands of other Armenians who died as a result of the deportations and massacres ordered by Talaat Pasha.

Give Clear Title.
Bitterly as most of the Christian world has reviled Talaat and his policy of exterminating the Armenians in Asia Minor, Islam gave him a clear title in immortality.

The funeral of the Turk, who rose from the position of milk carrier to grand vizier and was even a more important figure than the sultan in Constantinople during the war, was held in his apartment in the west end of Berlin, where he had been living under an assumed name for two years. After the ceremony at the house his mummified body was taken to a cemetery where another service was held before the body was placed in a vault to await final interment in Turkey.

Challenges Denial.
"Mehmed Talaat Pasha, who lies before you was a man of high virtues, a servant of God. Is there anyone among this assembly who denies it?" the hojja demanded.

In chorus the strange circle of believers answered "No, no, no." The hojja then pronounced Mehmed Talaat "great and pure," and delivered a long funeral oration.

At the cemetery there was another ceremony. The hojja again called for the prayer for the dead and held the coffin while the hojja of the Turkish justice and the faithful affirmed in chorus. Eulogies were then pronounced by the Turkish poet, Abdul Kadir, and many other Islamic leaders.

CHINESE BALK AT INCOME TAX

Traders United in Opposition to Payment of Levy, Delay Collection

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Chinese commercial interests of the province of Kiangsu through the first weeks of the new year were unitedly opposing payment of an income tax levied by the Peking government. . . . No reply had been received in the first part of February from the Peking government to a notification that was served upon Peking early in February by the Associated Chinese Chambers of Commerce of Kiangsu. The government was informed in this notification that unless it complied with eight conditions which were given the new tax would not be recognized in the province of Kiangsu.

Among the eight conditions laid down were: "The funds raised must be utilized for improvement of the police system and other social betterment." "The government must declare openly that it will not be offered as security for any foreign loans." "A yearly budget must be published by the government to show the proposed use of the tax."

Brief Bits of Sport

Han Johnson, presy of the American league, says there will be corruption in baseball as long as certain club owners are permitted to carry on the way they are without being restrained.

Since Banke is only at outs with Charlie Comiskey of the White Sox, Harry Frazee of the Red Sox, and Huston and Stoneham of the Yankees, we just sort of wonder who he can have in mind.

Also Comiskey avers that the petty larceny gamblers who put up the ball players to all this crookery should be punished more than the players themselves.

And how about the owner who catches gambling on games in his park? Should he be allowed to go scott free?

And there's Comiskey, too. The owners of the White Sox who told he fore the 1919 world series that there was something wrong in his club, and he declined to take action because to attack the menace would disrupt his club and lose him game receipts.

Seems as though there are many more elements in this baseball scandal than merely the crooked and the corrupted players.

Slim Slatyer, sagebrush sage, says:

suspension from baseball would be a good thing in the case.

Gamblers are such philanthropical gazooks, anyway.

TWIN FALLS NEEDS AN EXPERT FOR MAYOR

One who can guide the city's affairs through the next two critical years, Tom Warner can do it.—adv.

Let the Water System Pay For Meters

Meter Question is Issue of Today Citizens' Party Offers Solution

Except insofar as it relates to the financial situation, the history of Twin Falls meters has no place in the city campaign. The people of this city are confronted with a practical problem demanding immediate solution.

These Facts Can Not Be Denied:

The total cost of installing meters in this city will be approximately $50,000. On this sum about $34,000 has already been expended or contracted for and a scrapping of the system at this stage would mean a loss of that amount. Whether the meter idea was wise or otherwise when conceived does not enter into the matter now.

While the water system of Twin Falls is adequate for the needs of the people, it is undeniable that during the summer months the filtering plant is inadequate to furnish the people a sufficient supply of water properly filtered without a degree of conservation, not now practiced, and the city is confronted with the problem of either inducing greater conservation or installing a clear well below the filtering plant at a cost to the people of about $65,000. It is conservatively estimated that the installation of the meter system will save 1,000,000 gallons a day on an average, which will mean that there will at all times be an ample supply of properly filtered water available for the use of the people. It costs about $15 a million gallons to filter water. In one year, therefore, the city would save approximately $5,500 on the filtering of water alone.

Economically administered, the water system of Twin Falls can pay for meters and their installation, and refund to users, who have paid for those already installed, without raising the cost of water to the average consumer.

Pledge of the Candidates

Therefore, the Citizens Ticket Candidates believe that it would be unwise for the City of Twin Falls to scrap $34,000 worth of meters already purchased, and, as a result, be compelled to spend $65,000 for a clear well, but believe that sound business principles demand that the meter system be completed and that the entire cost thereof be borne by the water system and not by individuals; and pledge themselves, if elected, to the carrying out of this idea; adjusting all rates to the meter system in August of this year on a basis which will not cost the average consumer more than the present flat rate.

SHEDS LIGHT ON WOUNDS SHOCK

Recent Discoveries Bring Forth New Evidence Regarding Strange Condition

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., (AP)—Discoveries made by Dr. Walter B. Cannon of the Harvard Medical school and other American, British, and French medical officers toward the close of the war have brought forth new evidence regarding the cause and nature of the strange condition known as "shock," a condition that led to innumerable deaths in war time and frequently has a similar result after accidents in time of peace.

"Shock, or wound shock as it is often called, has long baffled the medical profession," Dr. Cannon said today to the Associated Press, on being asked to describe the results of his important work in France.

"This condition, which by the way should not be confused with shell-shock, an entirely different phenomenon, usually develops some hours after a serious wound or accident. It frequently followed grave shell wounds in the war, and often occurs after a person has been seriously hurt in an accident in time of peace, for example, he has had a limb crushed in a railroad accident.

"A man in a state of shock usually lies perfectly quiet, his skin is cold and moist with sweat, his pulse is rapid and thready, his arterial pressure is much reduced, he breathes rapidly and superficially, and although not paralyzed he has little energy and his mind is dulled. He often complains of being cold and thirsty. This condition may be followed by death or by gradual recovery.

"There have been numerous theories of the nature of shock. Some doctors hold that shock resulted from nervous collapse, others that it came from a clogging of blood vessels by fat from wounds, some that it was due to paralysis of the nerves controlling the arteries, others that the adrenal gland was somehow affected so as to do the mischief, and so on.

"Our work in France gives us opportunities to study shock in the utmost detail. One by one we threw out the theories advanced in former years.

"We finally tested and established the fact that the condition results from the tearing or crushing of muscles or other tissues by missiles moving with terrific velocity. The damaged or dead tissue soon becomes toxic or in other words acts like a sort of poison. This toxin causes an increased permeability of the smallest blood vessels, the capillaries and thus there is lost through their walls quantities of the fluid portion of the blood which should be in circulation. The result is somewhat similar to that of great loss of blood from the body.

American, British and French medical and surgical officers co-operated in the investigations, some of which were made at Bethune in 1917, some in London and others at Dijon in 1918 in a laboratory of the American expeditionary force under Dr. Cannon's direction.

"Toward the end of the war we had learned much about methods of treating such cases; finding that it was helpful to keep the patient amply warm, to give him quantities of water, and if necessary to transfuse blood into his system from somebody else's," he said.

"The mass of information about shock which was collected during the war and will ultimately be published is going to prove useful in times of peace, for the condition often develops after accidents of various kinds in which there is extensive tearing or crushing of tissues, and physicians will now be able to handle such cases more effectively than ever before."

Dr. Cannon is now engaged at the Harvard physiological laboratory in studies along the functions of the thyroid gland, following his discoveries in recent years concerning the adrenal glands.

EXPORT SALES HELP TO CHECK WHEAT'S DECLINE

Price Advances after Touching Lowest Level for July Delivers Yet Reached This Season

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat declined today to the lowest price yet which the July (delivery has touched this season. Big receipts northwest and improved weather conditions were the chief apparent reasons. The market showed little power to rally. Opening quotations which ranged from 84 to 2 1/4 lower with May $1.22 to 1.23 and July $1.03 to 1.04 1/2, were followed by moderate further losses.

Subsequently, export sales estimated at 2,000,000 bushels helped to check the weakness. Prices closed unsettled, 2 to 3 3/4 net lower, with May $1.21 3/4 to 1.22 and July $1.02 3/4 to $1.03. Corn sympathized with wheat. After opening 1-8 to 3-4 lower, including July at 60 to 60-1/8, the market continued to sag.

Later the market hardened as a result of export business.

The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/8 lower, with July 60 5/8 to 65 3/4.

Oats also were depressed starting 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-2 down, July 37 1/2 to 37 5/8, and then dropping still more.

Provisions averaged about steady, the

 NEW YORK, (AP)—The trend of today's dull and narrow stock market was mainly downward, oils and coppers proving the only noteworthy exceptions. Sales approximated 475,000 shares.
 Oils were again the outstanding feature at the uncertain opening of today's stock market. Gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points were registered by General Asphalt, Houston, Shell Transport, Royal Dutch and Standard Oil of New Jersey in the first few transactions. Otis Elevator, California Packing, International Paper, Famous Players and Hecla Manufacturing also improved with several of the rails.  Call money's decline to six per cent later exerted no perceptible influence. Steels and equipments continued to decline and some of the oils foreboded part of their gains. The closing was irregular.

GEORGIA'S WARS GAIN ATTENTION

Brief but Eventful History as Nations Come to End with Bolshevik Attacks

CONSTANTINOPLE, (AP)—The Georgian republic, which ceased to exist as an independent, home-controlled government at the outbreak of the Russian revolution, was a result of attacks directed from Moscow, made a considerable stir during the three years of its freedom. One of all the states that have broken away from great Russia, such as Poland, Armenia and the Ukraine, none have won more real sympathy from visitors. In its capital of Tiflis, the chief of the Georgian committee, beside the little river Kura, there was always a hearty welcome to strangers. Like all the provincial capitals of old Russia, the city was delightfully domestic and free from the sober restraints of more highly organized and commercialized communities.

It was the center of the Georgian central club house, its pleasure grounds, its old fashioned national costumes and dancers, both men and women. It had its society of princes and princesses and courtiers and courtesses, who lived in their town houses and extended hospitality almost to all comers, as in the south "before the war." Russian themselves, however, and since the great war, loved to visit Georgia, because of its climate and its verdant richness. The czar and nobles of Petrograd and Moscow hosted the wealthy people of their cities, their hunting lodges, and summer resort places scattered through Georgia.

One cause of the occupation of Georgia by the Bolsheviks was the fact that this was the last portion of Russia which still retained some of the old Russia's vast treasures of art, old paintings, of tapestries, rugs, silks and goldware, of arms and armor with precious metals and jewels, of silver-ornamented harnesses, of diamonds and valuable oriental stones. The very name of which is hardly known in western countries.

A most general cause of the occupation by the Bolsheviks has been the systematic attempt of Moscow to incorporate into Russia its old provinces. During its three years of independence, Georgia had on paper 100,000 troops and 100,000 men, all to protect frontiers. All of these newly formed republics in Europe occupy some strategic transport position which their neighbors feared, and this generally brings on trouble.

Georgia held the railway up from Batum on the Black sea to Baku, the oil center and also one of the ways into Persia. The Bolsheviks go said to have wanted Georgia as a base for their campaign into Persia and to give a better control of Armenia and the purpose of attacking the British, and also for a closer contact, either offensive or defensive, with the Turks.

The attack of the soviet army was made on February 18. The flight about the city continued until Friday, February 25, when the Georgians were obliged to flee. The intelligence service was dead, there was no lubricating oil for their brand new airplanes, everything went wrong. The looting of the city began from the inside. When the Bolsheviks came more of a rabble than a soldiery, they were permitted to loot, after the manner of armies in this part of the world. The allied and American missions and officials got away by train, together with the Georgian population. Officially President Jordani and his government will continue at Constantinople, hoping for another chapter to open in this struggle for freedom.

Because of lack of unity and sympathy among the people of the republic of the Caucasus, the Bolsheviks were able to play them one against the other. The Armenians and Cossacks who helped over the Georgians had been fighting for national freedom in their republics. The Bolsheviks who formed the soviet government at Tiflis have proclaimed that now Georgia is free to work out her destinies, without imperialistic influences.

HARDING CITIES UNITY

out of the liberations wrought by Washington and Bolivar grew the republican constitutional system which is America's gift to mankind. "It is fine to be able to say that new world temples of liberty were not wrought in destruction of the old. We speak historically of revolution, when in reality we mean sovereignty and freedom for evolution. The world isn't calling today for destruction, it needs reconstruction, where the test of justice is applied to the things which were as well as the things which are to be done."

Part of Supreme Scheme.
"Perhaps the miracle was in the divine plan, and the new world market was an inevitable part in the supreme scheme for developing civilization.

"The doctrine proclaimed under Monroe, which ever since has been jealously guarded as a fundamental of our own republic, maintained that these continents should not again be regarded as fields for the colonial enterprises of old world powers. There have been times when the meaning of Monroeism was misunderstood by some, perverted by others, and made the subject of stirring propaganda by those who saw in it an obstacle to the realization of their own ambitions. Some have sought to make our adhesion to this doctrine a justification for prejudice against the United States. They have falsely charged that we sought to hold the nations of the old world at arms length, in order that we might monopolize the privilege of exploitation for ourselves. Others have protested that the doctrine would never be enforced if it should involve us in actual hostilities.

No Dream of Exploitation.
"The history of the generations since that doctrine was proclaimed has proved that we never intended it selfishly; that we had no dream of exploitation. On the other hand, the history of the last decade certainly must have convinced all the world that we stand willing to fight, if necessary, to protect these continents, these sturdy young democracies, from oppression and tyranny.

"If we could consult our Washington and our Bolivar today and if they could advise us out of their wisdom and experience, they would tell us to go forward in firm confidence that ours is the right course. I believe they would admonish us to cling to that which has been tried, to hold fast to the policy of non-interference, independence, of gradual but sure progress."

AT THE THEATRE
"Mr. and Mrs. Jaffes" known in the confines of the dailies all over the country as Jiggs Mahoney and his ever ubiquitous wife, Maggie, the creation of that resourceful and mild cartoonist, George McManus will be the guest of honor in an entirely new play on the stage, "Bringing Up Father at the Theatre," at Loring's theatre, April 20. The action of the offering which is divided into three amusing and side-splitting chapters, is sprinkled with a liberal arrangement of lively song numbers, dancing, acrobatics and surprises and enough action to require the services of an excellent chorus and a considerable cast.

ADVERTISING AND THE CHURCH

Advertisement that a church in New York City is to erect a big electric sign on Broadway, calling attention to its service, is likely to cause some surprise.

Advertising has come to be generally recognized as a legitimate function not only of commercial concerns but of all organizations which seek the patronage of the public.

It is a gratifying indication that the churches are living, growing institutions, abreast of the times and in sympathy with the modern currents of thought.

THE FIGHT FOR PAPER

Lord Beaverbrook, publisher of the London Daily Express, is in Montreal to take part in the fight which British publishing interests have begun to obtain control of the Canadian paper pulp industry.

The attention makes it no more than prudent that the United States should develop its own pulp wood resources to the utmost.

BOLIVAR'S CAREER IS THRUST IN LIMELIGHT IN MEMORIAL UNVEILING

Statue of South American Patriot, Given by Venezuelan Government to United States, is Dedicated in New York; Stands as Monument to Man who Gave Life and Fortune to Bring Liberty to New World and in Token of Friendly Relations

NEW YORK, (AP)—Mrs. Sally James Farnham's design for the heroic equestrian bronze statue of Simon Bolivar, a gift to the city of New York by the government of Venezuela, was chosen from a long list entered in competition for one of the city's most august sculptors several years ago.

The statue, taking the place of a former one of the same name, erected in 1885 as a gift from Venezuela and later removed to make way for a better one, together with the design of the other artists, chosen by the American Art commission, all three went to Caracas where Mrs. Farnham was selected as the final choice by a commission appointed by the Venezuelan government.

Depicts Mounted Figure. It stands 15 feet high above a 20-foot pedestal and depicts the "liberator," who wrested from Spain the independence of five continents—Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia—sitting erect on a spirited horse. The animal's neck is curved by the reins holding him in check, his main flying in the wind and the left foreleg extended in the act of charging.

Photographs of the statue were made for the unveiling ceremony in order that it might be displayed in newspapers in South America on the same day the figure is unveiled here. Venezuela is a government of free men and women, age, in token of further friendship toward the United States, gave the name of Washington to an important avenue in Caracas and directed that the center of the new park to be called Washington Park in which a statue of George Washington is to be placed.

Unique in History. The efforts of two continents, sponsored by two sovereign nations and perpetuating the memory of great men, are unique in the history of Pan-American relations.

War to Death. Bolivar participated in 1810 in the first rebellion of South America which he commanded a small troop. He fought the Spaniards for two years and in 1813, the head of 300 men, by an audacious move captured the Venezuelan capital, Spain sent more troops and Bolivar was driven out whereupon he started a "war to the death" and rallying many thousand adherents within a few years freed the whole territory of the Spaniards.

When 18 years old, Bolivar, after visiting France in 1801, married Maria Teresa Toro. She was only 16 and died at the end of a year. The next seven years Bolivar passed in Europe and the United States.

Law Says WEEDS MUST GO Canadian Thistle, Bind Weed, Dodder, Quack Grass and Buckhorn Must Be Eradicated. The County Commissioners have named the above weeds in their declaration designating the county as a weed district and ask your co-operation in cleaning them up.

Control methods are governed largely by the conditions under which the plant grows. No one hard fast rule will hold good for all. In general it may be said that persistence of effort is necessary if positive results are to be obtained.

(a) WHEREVER POSSIBLE digke around the infested spot, after having clipped the weed as near the ground as possible. Be sure the dyke is outside the farthest root. Keep the dyke covered with water so that the weeds stick above and let the water become a stale as possible.

(b) SALTING—The important feature in controlling bind weed is to eradicate the small patches which first appear in the field. Unless such patches are eradicated, the plant will eventually spread over the entire farm, often times rendering the land valueless.

(c) Plow up the land and keep plowed for a year or two. It should be plowed and then spring-toothed in order to soften the roots and bring them to the top of the ground.

DODDER: The time to kill dodder is the first time an area is located in a field. If one puts off killing it a few days, it costs more to control and it may be too late to prevent re-seeding.

QUACK GRASS: First, re-plow in the fall, that is, double-plow—let one plow follow behind the other in the same furrow. Plow one shallow furrow, follow this with a deep furrow; follow this with a shallow furrow dropping the earth over into the trench left by the deep plowing; and ending on top of it, the earth from the next deep furrow.

Among many other harmful weeds, Hoary Cree (White Cap), Quail (sour or yellow) Dock, Bull Thistle, Poverty Weed and Wild Onions are deserving of special mention. The plan suggested for the eradication of Canadian Thistle is also applicable to Hoary Cree, Dock and Bull Thistle.

The habits of wild nuts make it extremely difficult to eradicate and the only course to pursue to completely eradicate this pest is to prevent it from ever coming in the soil into germination as rapidly as possible and then destroy the seedlings as soon as they appear.

Highway Districts, Railroads and Canal Companies Will Have to Clear Their Rights of Way Also

Southern Idaho is an ideal place for seed production at present. If these weeds get a serious start we will be able to produce no more seed.

During his life Simón Bolívar received many honors from abroad. In 1826, the family of George Washington, for whom Bolívar had great admiration, commissioned General Lafayette to present him with a portrait of the great American, together with some of his medals, a lock of his hair and a number of letters from Washington to his wife.

The "liberator" then began his campaign to free other South American provinces and his success resulted on June 20, 1821, in his election as president of Great Colombia, a union of Colombia and Venezuela. In 1828 he began his warfare against the Spaniards in Ecuador, his lieutenant General Sucre, winning the battle of Pichincha, which freed that country. The Peruvian congress in 1824 elected him dictator and in the battle of Ayacucho his troops conquered forever the "liberty of South America."

Bolivar planned in 1824 to create a confederation of states formed by Mexico, Colombia, Ecuador, Venezuela, Peru, Chile and Argentina. He called a congress which met at Panama, said to have been the first congress of nations ever assembled in the world.

Bolivar then went to the region east-

SCHOOL BOARD STANDS PAT ON ATHLETIC PLAN

Boxers and Wrestlers Must Confine Activities to High Building

There is to be no deviation by the school board in the matter of restricting high school athletes to endeavor under the roof of the high school building. The board last night strengthened this position when proposal to let some of the boxing and wrestling stars, developed in the high school, appear on a program before a fraternal club was rejected.

Last December the board received a resolution denying school athletes the privilege of appearing in bouts before private or local organizations. Last month the board received a suggestion that some of the stars of the athletic classes, for the purpose of luring them to the stage and embarking them in the field of big crowds, be permitted to give a program of bouts before a local fraternal club on Thursday night of this week. The board announced that the program might be held in the high school and the club members and others, invited to witness it. The club will not be permitted to perform outside of the high school building and retain their amateur rights.

Money Due

The school board has received word from Lewis S. Lewis of the federal vocational training department, that the annual allotment due the local high school for vocational training in agriculture, will be forwarded in a short time. Mr. Lewis explains that a delay has been occasioned in the federal department in forwarding the usual allotment. The amount due the local school is $400. In addition, according to information obtained by Dr. L. Bovey, instructor in manual training and certain branches of athletic education, there is due from the state athletic fund for boxing and wrestling, the sum of $500. This amount, to be applied on the general athletic fund will be forwarded from Boise as soon as it is paid.

Representing Charles H. Kaufman, architect, W. Orr Chapman made a request that no further movement be made in favor of Burton E. Morse, architect, on claims against the board for work done in connection with the construction of the intermediate school building. Mr. Morse has a bill against the board for approximately $3000. Mr. Kaufman claims an interest in this bill as a partner of Mr. Morse when the work was done.

Pending in Court

A case is pending in the district court to decide the status of Mr. Kaufman's claims against Mr. Morse for equal partnership. The action will be tried during the coming term of court. Since Mr. Morse's claim was not before the board for consideration last night announcement was made that no official action could be taken in favor of Mr. Kaufman. The chairman, however, gave personal promise that no payment would be made on the bill until the court action is settled.

The board received a communication from Donald Moran, manager of the Western Farm Development service, opposing curtailment of operation in the high school agricultural and the domestic science departments. The communication received no official action.

The session adjourned at 12:35 this morning.

INVESTIGATE SANCHEZ

Appearing at the instance of attorney for the defense a commission of medical men this morning conducted an informal examination of the mental condition of Francisco Sanchez, accused of murder. The man who several weeks ago fatally stabbed George R. Ackerman is believed to be mentally unbalanced. The examining committee was composed of Drs. D. Weaver, H. W. Cline and W. F. Pike. Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan was present.

EMPLOYMENT OF SUPERINTENDENT FOR SCHOOLS FURTHER DEFERRED

M. C. Mitchell's Final Proposal is Rejected by Board on Ground of Inconsistency with Economy Scheme — Trustees and Candidate Far Apart on Salary and Terms Questions—Many Applications on File

Although the board of trustees of Independent School District, No. 1, last night spent considerable time and effort to engage a superintendent of schools for the coming year the effort failed because of differences of opinion between the board and the only candidate considered on salary and other terms' issues.

The candidate considered was M. C. Mitchell, present principal of the high school. Mr. Mitchell asked a salary the board did not regard as consistent with its avowed policy of retrenchment and economy. Mr. Mitchell asked, as his final proposal, a two-year contract entailing a salary of $3850 for the first year; $4250 for the second.

The only proposal submitted by the board on the salary question was a flat $3850 per year. Mr. Mitchell's full offer of refusal of the position the second year, at that salary. This offer was rejected by the candidate.

Mitchell Endorsed

Candidate of Mr. Mitchell for the position vacated by Hal O. Blue as directing head of the local schools, has been stoutly supported by a number of civic bodies and individuals both by oral recommendation and in petitions addressed and submitted to the board from time to time. In fact, it was primarily because of receipt of a communication, in form of a resolution from the Federation of Rural clubs, endorsing Mr. Mitchell for the superintendency that the candidacy was taken up for consideration last night. The resolution also recommended to the board that there be no elimination of important departments now operating in connection with the schools.

The communication was presented and read by A. J. Bequa, of the board, into whose charge it had been given. It bore the signatures of the officers of the club together with those of the committee chosen to make draft of the resolution.

Superintendent Blue made an urgent recommendation that the board take immediate action toward employment of a school superintendent as a means of clarifying a situation having direct bearing upon the employment of teachers for the coming year. He urged so ardently that a motion to leave the matter over for another week was lost on a vote.

Many Proposals Made

Several weeks ago Mr. Mitchell submitted a salary proposal of $4000 for the first year and $4500 for the second year on a two-year contract. This proposal at the time was rejected on the ground that salaries at this time can not be materially increased. This proposal carried with it no scheme involving the district in expense either for automobile maintenance or for attending educational conventions. The present superintendent's salary is $3900 with an allowance of $250 for automobile maintenance, and expenses for attendance upon certain conventions.

As a compromise Mr. Mitchell last night first asked $3750 for the initial year, and $4250 for the second, with an expense allowance for three important conventions, one of which will be in Iowa. The board took no official action on this proposal, but by cursory canvass obtained a negative vote. The result of which was communicated to Mr. Mitchell, who thus made his final offer, which was rejected.

Mrs. C. B. Scott, clerk of the board, announced that she had on file more than 200 applications for the position of superintendent of schools of district No. 1. This will probably be submitted for consideration at the next meeting of the board.

COUNCIL HOLDS BRIEF AND PROXY CONFERENCE

Sprinkling Ordinance and Allowance of Bills About All Business of Session

The city council last night held the shortest and probably the least interesting session conducted during the present administration. The meeting which was called to order at 8 o'clock adjourned an hour later and most of the members repaired to the executive quarters of the board of trustees of the school district for a social call, apparently.

The principal business considered last night had to do with street sprinkling for the coming season. The city attorney submitted the usual form of improvement district ordinance declaring certain areas within the limits for sprinkling, and the council, by unanimous consent, adopted the ordinance.

In addition the administration voted favorably on bills for current expense of the municipality amounting to $2,700. These were ordered paid by warrants.

Mrs. Bertha E. Morse and Stuart H. Taylor were officially reappointed as members of the city library board to succeed themselves.

SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT

In the court action brought by D. M. Denton against D. F. DeWeller, Elmer Aman, L. G. Hill, S. N. Plutko, J. A. Cron and others, a second amended complaint has been filed in the district court. In this complaint judgment of $200 is asked against the defendants. Plaintiff claims that for the transfer of 4,800 shares of stock in the Times Printing and Publishing company he was to receive the sum of $13,000. Of this amount he says there is still $2,000 due.

WINN SENT TO PRISON

Winn has been sentenced to serve an indeterminate term of from one to 15 years in the state penitentiary. He is wanted here for an alleged similar offense, together with charge of issuing fraudulent checks.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The regular meeting of the H. Y. club will be held Wednesday evening. Closer co-operation with the other clubs in the school and especially with the Blue Triangle club will be discussed. At a recent meeting of the girls' club it was decided that a paper should be written to the H. Y. giving the girls' opinion of the boys. This will be on hand soon and every effort should be made to present at the next meeting.

The end of the senior play, "David Harum," is waiting based on the production which will be given the latter part of May. Two periods a day are being spent on the work so that Miss Mary Gibbons, who is coaching the cast, may better work on the individual parts.

The senior pins and rings which were ordered some weeks ago have arrived. They are of hammered gold with the high school seal on them, making a fine class memento.
