H. F. ENSIGN SUSTAINS METER CASE DECISION

Jurist Again Decides in Favor of City in Much Argued Court Matter

Sustaining himself in a decision rendered some weeks ago Judge H. F. Ensign of the Fourth judicial district yesterday decided again against the plaintiffs in a suit brought to restrain the city of Twin Falls from interfering with public water services in case property owners declined to pay for water meter installed by the city. Judge Ensign took on a review of testimony in this case yesterday, and rendered a decision identical with the original ruling. The rehearing was argued by counsel for the plaintiffs in claim that Judge Ensign had an jurisdiction in the matter. The case was heard when Twin Falls county was a part of the old Fourth judicial district, but decision was not announced until after the session had been made putting Twin Falls in the Eleventh district. After hearing arguments by Hon. C. M. Hays for the plaintiffs yesterday, Judge Ensign ruled in the matter, and rejected the decision denying a permanent injunction against the city in the meter matter.

Complete Understanding Is Sought on Details in Carrying Out General Plan on Which Both Nations Agree

GERMAN NOTE PROVES NO HINDRANCE TO DISCUSSION OF MILITARY MOVE

GERMANS EVADE ALLIED DEMAND

Neither Agrees Nor Refuses to Transfer Gold Reserve; Makes New Offer

PARIS (AP)—Germany, instead of either agreeing or refusing to transfer the gold reserve of the Reichsbank to occupied territory in the Rhineland, as the allied reparations commission had demanded, has offered to agree to export or permit the exportation of gold from Germany before October 1, next.

Claims Allies Protected

Germany's note in reply to the reparations commission, delivered to the commission today, in which it offers to transfer, says the preferred agreement would adequately protect the allies, who had demanded the transfer because the second paragraph of article 248 of the treaty of Versailles prohibiting the exportation of gold becomes inoperative May 1.

Argues Commission's Point

The transfer, the note contended, would not serve as a guarantee for reparations payments, as the commission seemed to think, as the depreciation in exchange growing out of it would result in a general economic weakening of Germany.

Earthward Bound Comet Is Increasing in Brightness

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., (AP)—Winckler comet, the periodic which, according to Dr. Crommelin, a British astronomer, will approach the earth, will be seen by the naked eye. The comet is increasing gradually in brightness but is still much too faint to be seen with the naked eye. When it is observed at the Harvard college observatory from Professor A. O. Leuchner of the students' observatory of the University of California. "The only way the phenomena will affect the earth will be in the form of a meteoric shower, which should be somewhat spectacular," he said. "The visitation is due late in May or early in June but will not be apparent to the earth until this shower occurs. The comet returns every five and a fraction years. "The present visitation will give us a much better opportunity to observe the comet than the last one, when but a small meteoric shower was visible. Professor Leuchner said that it is completing an orbit of calculations and observations which will place the proximity of the comet to the earth.

SINKING VESSEL MAD RIOT SCENE

Shipmates in Oriental Waters Attack Each Other as Boat Goes Down

PEKING, (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Blinding of the steamer Heng Koh, bound from Singapore to Amoy with approximately 1100 Amoy and Swatow Chinese and 20,000 bags of rice aboard, just outside Swatow, precipitated a panic in which the passengers fought each other with knives, axes and hatchets for places in the boats, according to consular advice from Swatow. About a thousand passengers and most of the native crew were drowned or killed in the rioting. The Heng Koh was struck 20 feet of water when she approached Swatow. A pilot went aboard but refused to bring her into port because of insufficient water over the bar at the harbor entrance. The Swatow Chinese were told that they must go on to Amoy and return. They threatened a riot, but the captain and officers fled for action with firearms and a hot water hose and the trouble was averted for the time being.

When the vessel struck the rocks, the boats, according to consular advice, were washed away. The boats and rafts that could be handled were swamped from overwhelming waves. The Swatow Chinese were rescued by the heavy swell. The captain, Harry Holmes, was drowned, but the other officers, who were foreigners, escaped. The steamer flew the British flag.

Scoffs at Trotsky's Threat Against Poles

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Leon Trotsky's threat of a possible war of revenge against Poland, reported to have been made by the Bolshevik leader in address to Congress at Moscow military academy, is not taken seriously by Polish representatives in Washington.

M. Smulski, president of the National Commission of America scuffed at Trotsky's threat.

"I have been advised by James C. White, who for two years has been our representative in Poland, and who has just returned, that the uprisings in Russia, while individually minor in size, as yet are so numerous and widespread that the Moscow authorities are more concerned in holding what they have, rather than in adventuring into new fields."

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Orders to remove federal prisoners, who numbered less than one year, from the Platte county, Missouri, jail were issued Friday by Judge Van Valkenburg after hearing complaints that life at the jail was a long round of pleasure.

Wool Growers Slow to Claim Government Fund

Federal Officials' Experience
Difficultly in Getting Rid of Surplus Money

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government, which lately has been having difficulties in getting money, also occasionally encounters difficulty in getting rid of it. The latter difficulty faces the agriculture department's bureau of markets which is trying to distribute half a million dollars among wool growers and distributors. The job has been dragging along for months without coming to an end.

Under various price regulations, the government bought all the wool produced in the United States, fixed the commission to all dealers and buyers, and undertook to sell the surplus wool at the exact amount due them on their entire flock growth. In view of the tremendous weight of wool handled, small mistakes in weights and estimates accrued during the two years the system was operated, and in the end the audit of the joint accounts showed that dealers had $656,013.38 on hand plus their allocated profits and commissions. This, it was decided, should go back to the producers, in accordance with the amount of wool they furnished to the government that it has proven easier to decide the problem than to work it.

The government to date has distributed $401,506.02 to 34,550 wool growers. Most of the acres that are irrigated in the territory east of the Mississippi river, where small sheep flocks are somewhat of a side line for farmers, have been included in the most recently accounted for.

The government thus is up against the job of paying the money out to some 100,000 producers, and it wants to do so. Also, it has been discovered that while 3000 country buyers took out proper licenses and came under regulation, 1500 stockkeepers, bankers and others bought small lots of wool, but didn't handle enough to acquaint themselves of all the requirements. The balance of the half million will have to be in the treasury for indefinitely as a consequence.

IRISH LEADERS RELATE DETAIL
IN AMBUSCADES

Fenians' Accounts of Death
Traps Laid by Republican
Army for Crown Forces in Erin Come to Light

LONDON, (AP)—Inside stories of the ambushes laid by the Irish republican army to trap and kill squads of British constables in Ireland are disclosed in the reports from Irish brigade commanders which have just been given out at the headquarters of the volunteers in Dublin. Most of these attacks have been reported by the British but the Irish accounts are now given for the first time.

Several Desperate Fights

They give the details of desperate fights in which, sometimes, the little British commands have been decimated and at other times the Irish have been driven off with severe losses. For the Irish volunteers occasionally ran into a counter trap and flung themselves exposed to the withering blast of a machine gun.

These reports show the methods employed to carry on the guerrilla fighting, the hurried calls to assemble the Irish attackers, efforts to surprise the British constables in some isolated spot and tell of the use of mines to block the passage of motor cars so that the attack can be delivered with greater execution.

Describes Typical Ambush

A typical ambush is described in a report of the commander of the East County Clare brigade. Thirty-five men, five acting as scouts, attacked a police lorry containing a district inspector and nine constables at Glanvally, Belvoir, killing all but four who escaped. Twenty of the attackers, it is stated, were armed with rifles and ten with double barreled shotguns. They were concealed on one side of a road near a stream.

"As in a previous ambush," the commander reports, "the main body was divided into three parties. The position which was occupied at 7 a. m. was not very favorable, but we counted on the element of surprise and the concentrated fire of the rifles and the ten shotguns in the first volley to make up for shortcomings and in this we were successful."

Wait Long for Victims

They waited, it appears, until four o'clock in the afternoon before the lorry came in sight. "When it came into the center position," the report continues, "it was raked with the fire of the 24 guns, most of the police were cut off the car and to a dead stop. Some of the police when they got on the road made an attempt to put up a fight but the second volley which included all the rifles, wiped them out."

What is termed "an exceedingly risky operation as we were half the enemy strength" was the attack on County Donegal on a military train from Derry. According to the brigade commander's report the attacking party numbered 26. Information was received at 9:30 a. m. of the report says, that the special train was to leave Derry at 3 a. m. the next morning.

Train Takes Ditch

"Little time was left to choose a position and get settled, but the train was laid, giving us three-quarters of an hour to get ready. We chose a cutting, on a slight curve on a level with the carriage windows. At the ends of each side we placed bombers and rifle men and between were placed the remaining riflemen and the others differently placed. Two large boulders were placed on the rails and the wire fences at each side were pulled up to afford a safe exit. The ambush built in a short distance away was taken possession of and a green light displayed."

"There were seven carriages on the train and it was traveling at a great speed when it struck the stones."

"Fire was opened from both sides and bombs were hurled through the windows. The fire was returned from the cab of the engine, where a Lewis gun was in position. Our riflemen at the rear end of the train got down on the line for enfilading fire, but after about ten minutes, I was forced to retreat to effect the safe escape of our men. Eight bombs were thrown, two of which we are certain landed in carriages."

"In the retreat one of our two parties was surrounded twice but fought its way through on each occasion. One of our men is missing and we believe has fallen into the hands of the enemy. No other casualties were suffered on our side, and, despite their denial, we have every reason to believe that at least ten men were either killed or wounded on the enemy side."

The Meter Question

We favor insuring the City a SUFFICIENT SUPPLY OF FILTERED WATER of all times.

The present filter plant is inadequate to do this unless we can stop useless waste of water during the hot summer months.

There are two ways by which enough filtered water can be supplied during these summer months:

First: We could install a clear well at a cost of $65,000, wrap the meters and have no control over the waste of water. Or,

Secondly: We could retain the meters, stopping the waste of water.

We believe it unwise to scrap the meters and then turn around and invest $65,000 in a clear well.

But we do believe that the entire cost of the meters should be paid by the water-system and not by individuals and that all those who have paid for meters should be reimbursed.

We believe in adjusting all rates to the meter system in August of this year, in a way that will not cost the average consumer more than the present flat rate.

The statements in this advertisement are simply brief summaries of what we have already specifically set forth in previous advertisements in both daily papers during the past 10 days. We want the people to know where we stand and in order that we may be clearly understood, we take this occasion to emphasize our position by repeating what we have already said.

Today's Markets

PRICE OF WHEAT HOLDS ITS OWN ON EXCHANGE

Country Offerings Remain Light in the Session and Close is Called Fairly Steady

CHICAGO, (AP)—Grain trading started dull and practically unchanged, turned heavy toward the end of the first hour and wheat, corn and oats futures all sagged. May wheat leading the movement and dragging the other options with it.

May wheat opened steady at 1.31 to 1.30 1/2, moved up momentarily on buying by Northwestern connections but receded quickly when eastern houses started selling July. At the end of the first hour May was $1.07 and July was $1.07 as compared with its last closing at $1.07 1/2 to 1-4.

Fairly persistent buying by commission houses and a generally steady cash market served to firm up the market better. Country offerings remained light. The close was fairly steady with May at $1.01 to 1.30 3/4 and July at $1.01 1/2 to 3/4.

Corn and oats reflected wheat conditions generally. May corn started 1/4 lower at 60 1/2, moved up 3/8, then settled to 60 7/8. July opened at 62 1/2 to 1/4 and was at virtually the same figure an hour later. In oats the July option started unchanged at 39 1/2 and was generally steady until near the end of the first hour when it lost 1/4.

Sales to the seaboard and cash market conditions generally gave corn a strong undertone throughout the session. At the end May was 61 3/8 to 1/4 and July 63 5/8.

Provisions were firmer with hogs. There was some buying by packers and brokers but offerings were generally light. July had early sold at $10.30 as compared with $10.22 at yesterday's close.

SPENDING IS CHARGED

Complaint was filed in the municipal court this morning by H. E. Brown, motorcycle policeman, against W. D. Walters, who is alleged to have operated an automobile at an excessive rate of speed in the city of Twin Falls yesterday afternoon. Defendant has been cited to appear for hearing Monday.

Social Notes

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 596

Among the delightful affairs of the season was the reception tendered their new pastor and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Burke, by the congregation of the Christian church. The auditorium of the church was beautifully decorated with potted plants, ferns and spring blossoms in the rear of the line were Rev. and Mrs. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Will Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Parish. The following splendid program was given with Mr. D. W. Uppgraft presiding: Two solos by Miss Martha Andrews "Benedicere Stream" and "Spirit of Spring", an address of welcome by the Rev. G. H. Young, pastor of the Baptist church, two songs by a quartet composed of Mrs. George Harvey, James Hall, Lloyd Patrick and Mr. Johnson, "Gentle May We Sing to Thee" (Parry), and "A Negro Love Song" (Parker). An address by Hal G. Blue, vocal solo by James Hall "The Daughters of the City" (Baranaty), and as an encore "In the Dark, in the Dew", addressed by Charles W. Burke and response by the Rev. M. Burke, the quartet then sang two numbers, "Hush, Hush, Hush" (Griggs), and as an encore "Perfect Day" (Funch) and wafers were served during the evening.

A table covered with a daisy cloth and decorated with spring blossoms, and presided over by Mrs. C. E. Evans, Mrs. W. B. Amelny, Mrs. H. W. Farrar and Mrs. Frank Baldwin. About four hundred guests were present.

Bible and Missions" The audience voted to give $20 from the Union Missionary fund to the Chinese Famine Relief Fund.

Members of the cast of "The Garden of the Shah" which was so ably presented by the high school some time ago, enjoyed a banquet in the private dining room at the Hotel Egerton Friday evening. A canopy of streamers in colors of green, rose, orange and blue was placed above the table, and hand painted place cards, and nut cups in the same color of the streamers, added to the beauty of the tables. A few toasts were given and a number of songs were sung by the assemblage before closing. Covers were laid for 35. Following the banquet the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. Moses Stearns was hostess to the Blue Lake Boulevard club Friday afternoon. Each member responded to roll call with a poem on birds. Carpet rags were moved and a general social time enjoyed. Mrs. D. F. Biggy, Mrs. W. M. Rice, Mrs. D. D. Elder, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. J. F. Deany, Mrs. George Darrow, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Coxen and Mrs. E. E. This is the first of the three afternoons number, about 35. Mrs. Glatteli is en route to her home after spending the winter in California.

NEBRASKA FARMERS UNITE

Various Organizations' Representatives Decide to Form One Union

OMAHA, Neb., (AP)—Representatives of Nebraska farm organizations here last night decided to form one union May 6 to work for mutual cooperation. A committee to perfect the plan will meet on that date. One reason for the move, assigned by J. J. Shorbill, manager of a state co-operative grain and livestock association, was because "multiplicity of farmers' organizations had reached a point where there is danger of alienation through too much organization."

VOTERS, A ATTENTION!

To the Voter of Twin Falls: I opposed being nominated for Mayor for reasons given the committee prior to my nomination. I have not withdrawn for the reason that the sentiment of the Taxpayers seems to me to be decidedly against the installation of Water Meters at this time, and because this meets my personal views, and for the reason that if I did withdraw it would leave this class without a representative candidate for Mayor. It is only justice to you that I state that my personal plans for the future are not mature, and if elected and my personal plans interfered with the duties of the office, I would resign, whether that was one day or one year after election. If elected I would use my influence to abandon the proposed water meter system with a minimum loss to the city, believing a reasonable lump sum loss at this time preferable to the continued burden that would be assumed by the Taxpayers and Water Users for installation, inspection, reading, repairing, destruction by freezing, increased cost to user and extra office and accounting force unnecessary by the system. I would use my influence to see that as many of the present city departments were abolished as would be in keeping with good business management and that as many of those remaining as possible were left under the supervision of one man. Many ordinances now in force are not formulated in accordance with the best interests of our people as a whole and I would use my influence to see that all ordinances regulating the business conduct of our citizens and management of the affairs of this city that are not in keeping with the best business interests of a growing community such as ours, were repealed and more suitable ones instituted. (Signed) T. O. BOYD.

Judge Ensign on yesterday ordered the injunction to restrain the city from shutting off consumers' water for non-payment of cost of meter be dissolved. This means that the next administration will enforce the meter charge against your wishes by shutting off your water. Each consumer of water will be required to pay $20.00. Our Ticket Will Not Require You to Pay For One Meter. All Money Already Collected for Meters Will Be Refunded. The other tickets, if elected, are pledged to enforce this court order. THINK IT OVER. If you have $20.00 you wish to pay for a meter to measure your OWN water on each lot you own, vote accordingly. If you believe the meters should not be retained, and you believe you can use $20.00 to a better advantage, vote for Mayor—T. O. BOYD (X) City Clerk—KENNEDY PACKARD (X) Treasurer—H. C. ALEXANDER (X) Councilmen—Ward One: FRANK CAUDLE (X) CHAS. W. SIMPSON (X) Councilmen—Ward Two: S. G. MCAULEY (X) HARRY DAVIS (X) Instruction—We cannot carry out our program unless you elect our mayor and entire ticket. The mayor is helpless if the council insists on the present meter program. If you believe our position is right on the meters, vote for every man on our ticket. You cannot vote a straight ticket for us, but you must put an "X" opposite the name of each candidate on our ticket. Forest Fires' Havoc: The United States forest service has compiled some statistics of the damage done by forest fires

Opinion: The United States forest service has compiled some statistics of the damage done by forest fires that illustrate vividly the enormous losses

Opinion: It requires no vivid imagination to comprehend that if we are burning our forests at this rate, it will not be long until we have none

Opinion: From this it may be discerned that an average fire would not need to be very extensive for the total loss to reach a staggering figure

Opinion: The cause of fires are many and most of them are preventable. Carelessness is responsible for no small part of them

Opinion: A forest may possess great value, yet the owner must insure the risk himself. He can get no insurance against fire

Opinion: If there is no timber from which to draw, there is hope that conditions that have prevailed in the past are not to be tolerated in the future

Opinion: Many states have taken steps to eliminate the causes of fires, but safety gained only at the price of eternal vigilance. We are now far beyond the larger line in forest depletion

THE NEWS' SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By CHARLES GLENN BAIRD, M. A. Rector, Church of the Ascension, Episcopal

THE SPIRITUAL KINGDOM St. John 18: 36: "My kingdom is not of this world"

In no respect was the Master Christ so universally misunderstood as in his conception of His Kingdom

What kind of a kingdom was Jesus trying to establish in the world? What kind of kingdom did He believe that He held? What was to be the secret and the source of His power, and who were to be His subjects?

The Master had been building up His kingdom all along, during His ministry and before, but no one seemed to realize it

Nothing was so easily different than the world had ever known before, that no one recognized it

In the course of the Master's trial before Pontius Pilate, that high official of the Roman government asked frankly of the Master, "Art thou the King of the Jews?"

"Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end I was born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth"

Later in the conversation the Savior said, "My kingdom is not of this world"

The Kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ was to be a spiritual kingdom, founded on spiritual authority, building on spiritual foundations

We hear a great deal today about the physical side of church life—large and costly buildings, institutional devices

San Francisco Chronicle: "There seems to be a general European propaganda in this country to induce our people to accept most of the burdens of the European people"

It was most important of all to him. If all the "small muscles" in the hand were atrophied—so that the fingers went out of the faces of those, you know them, who help us turn the dark clouds aside—so that the gold in the world could be taken high enough to make a compensating light

THE SERVICE MEN'S TICKET and The City Manager Plan

WHAT THE CITY MANAGER PLAN IS: The governing body is a Board of Commissioners of five members

The City Manager, who is appointed by the Board of Commissioners, is the administrative head of the city government

His duties are: To have general supervision over the business of the city; to see that the laws and ordinances are executed

THE SERVICE MEN'S TICKET BELIEVES IN THIS PLAN: IT HAS GIVEN YOU THE REASONS FOR ITS BELIEF: IT WILL GIVE YOU MORE IF IT IS ELECTED

But bear this in mind: You are not voting at this election on whether or not this plan shall be adopted. The adoption or non-adoption of the plan can only be voted upon at a special election

You are neither voting for or against the adoption of the City Manager Plan if you vote for or against this ticket on Tuesday, but if you do vote for it you are voting for men who believe in the plan

These men are not candidates for Commissioners, and will not have the slightest thing to do with the ultimate selection of a City Manager should the plan be later adopted

You may have a fixed idea in your mind at this time that you are against the City Manager Plan. What of it? Is there anything in that objection which should prevent your voting this ticket?

Decidedly not. If you are against the City Manager Plan, and if you are later not susceptible to argument, you may still vote for this ticket with perfect safety, and vote later against the adoption of the City Manager Plan

And if you are convinced that the City Manager Plan is feasible and necessary, then you should most certainly vote for this ticket, for THIS IS THE ONLY TICKET THAT PROMISES YOU THAT YOU WILL LATER GET A CHANCE TO VOTE ON THIS QUESTION

THESE MEN WILL MAKE THE CHANCE FOR YOU. THE BEST THAT ANYONE ELSE PROMISES IS THAT IF THE NECESSARY PETITION IS FILED THE ELECTION WILL BE CALLED. THIS TICKET WILL SEE TO IT THAT THE PETITION IS FILED. THESE MEN HAVE MADE GOOD ON THEIR PROMISES BEFORE AND THEY WILL MAKE GOOD NOW

Seniors Add 32 Points in Second Day of Interclass Joust—King Elected Captain

INTERCLASS track activities were practically ended yesterday when athletes representing the various schools added 32 points to their total, the juniors adding four and the sophomores two.

Two events, the pole vault and the high jump that could not be done due to the wetness of the field, they will be decided Monday afternoon.

The mile race was won by Phil King, who made the distance in 6:12. Hubert, a junior, took second, and Jerry Bailey, another senior placed third.

Seniors took all three places in the broad jump, their best being first with 19 feet and seven inches, Eppler second with 19 feet three inches, and Newman third with a long five feet and ten inches.

After the end of election for track captain was held which resulted in the selection of Phil King. King came out for track last year and was first in the mile and half mile events in the Hurley meet.

His steady work and hard training are factors which enable him to cover the grueling distances mentioned above with ease. His election is a fully deserved honor for, not only is he a track man but he has played both football and basketball.

SERVICE MEN GET STAND ON PROBLEMS CONFRONTING CITY

Captain McRoberts Tells Audience of 500 Persons, Veterans' Candidates for Municipal Offices Make No Promises Unless Absolutely Certain of Fulfillment—Speakers Stress Absence of Real Issue

Absence of any issue to be settled in the municipal election next Tuesday other than the choice as between candidates for the several municipal offices to be filled at that time, was the burden of addresses delivered by several speakers before an audience of about 500 persons in the high school auditorium last evening at a public meeting held to present the claims for support of the service men's candidates to the citizens.

The speaker invited Captain J. W. McRoberts, the Service Men's candidate for mayor, was Captain C. L. Longley, a veteran of the Civil war, and E. J. "Bud" and W. O. Chapman, who are not service men. Taylor Cummins, presided as chairman of the meeting.

Service Men's Views. These arguments were presented by several speakers. The installation of water meters does not constitute an issue in this election for the reason that the meters will be very largely installed when the new administration takes office, and for the reason that the city already is obligated to pay for these meters; that question as to the use to be made of these meters and as to the manner in which they will be paid for made for them cannot be determined in advance of thorough study and investigation of the situation as it is presented by the new administration.

morals of the community." Taken in connection with the campaign waged "around the city in the alley," Mr. Chapman said, this statement constituted a "despicable attack" upon the service men's morals and regard for law. "I have heard that this is a 'hard' ticket," Mr. Chapman said, "but I refuse to believe that any church is behind any candidates or their backers in an attack upon the morals and integrity of these young men to whom you entrusted the honor of this nation, supported them with your dollars, sustained them with your prayers and sent them forth to fight the battles for civilization. I don't believe they are going, as officials, to violate the laws they have respected and upheld as private citizens."

City Safeguarded. Mr. Chapman said that his investigation of the questions raised with respect to paying and running had shown the city amply protected by contractors' bond covering repair and construction according to contract specifications. "I cannot see any consequence in the position of a campaign manager promising to do something to do something that already has been done," he said.

Some One Must Pay. "Some one has got to pay for the meters for which the city has obligated itself," Captain Longley declared after characterizing discussion at this time of the decision to install meters as a "post mortem." The position of the political groups who were agitating this question he said, reminded him of the situation of the colored people who were asked to receive a pulp because, although it was not desired that he could and did "argue and squint" in a matter to meet all requirements, he failed to show "the verities." Without attempting to express an opinion on the most desirable methods of dealing with the meters, Captain Longley declared, "I know that a well established reputation for good judgment, honesty, responsibility and backbone are worth more in any candidate for public office than any campaign slogan that could be made." He declared the service men's candidates met these requirements and bespoke for them support on the ground that they were the "contenance, confidence and support" of citizens generally.

Gives Soldiers' Motives. Tracing the origin of the idea which resulted in the presentation of the service men's candidates and platform, Mr. Hornbrook asserted that four former soldiers early in February had entered upon discussions which led to their conclusions that it was up to them to exercise their rights as citizens and that had not been impaired by their military service, and take a hand in the affairs of the city to the end that an existing disturbed situation might be brought to a peaceful and cleared. He pointed to the fact that for two weeks after the service men had announced their platform and ticket there had been no indication of opposition but a general indication of satisfaction. He did not question the right of other candidates to enter the field, but was interested in their motives in so doing. He had found, he said, an explanation for the entrance of the Citizens' ticket in its published statement that "everybody wants to know what Tom Warner thinks." He deemed that personally was interested in what Warner thought, and characterized this statement as a revelation of monumental conceit.

He closed with an appeal against neglect of an opportunity to express gratitude to the service men and declared that "Twin Falls" reputation would suffer if this opportunity were neglected.

Seeks Opponents' Motives. Pursuing the quest for motives acting "impulsively" against the service men's ticket, Mr. Chapman who spoke in the absence of his associate, Judge J. R. Howell, said that so far as the "Taxpayers' ticket was concerned, he was convinced that their real motive in presenting "false issues to catch votes" was "to get in." The "Taxpayers' campaign he characterized as one of diffidence and evasion that was unequalled for and not justified because present administrative officials were not candidates for reelection. The campaign slogan, "The Citizens' ticket," he said, had been free from personalities and misleading until the publication of its statement that "Citizens' ticket candidates believe that the responsibility for keeping the city clean morally rests upon their shoulders."

Resents "Moral Censorship." This statement Mr. Chapman interpreted as the ousting of "self-appointed, self-appointed and self-appointed guardians and custodians of the
