DEADLY AGENT IS DISCOVERED FOR DANDELION

Spray of Iron Sulphate Said to be Efficacious in Eradication of Weed Pest

Of special interest and importance to Twin Falls lawn and garden owners in the present trying fight with the dandelion is the statement from the east that the New York agricultural experiment station at Geneva, N. Y., has developed a spray which is called a "rather simple means of eradicating the dandelion."

The spray is prepared by dissolving some one and a half to two pounds of iron sulphate, also known as coppers and green vitriol, in one gallon of water. A wooden or earthenware vessel is used for mixing.

A gallon of the solution will cover about 375 square feet of lawn. The best results have been obtained when the solution is driven down among the foliage in a fine mist by a spray, preferably with some type of compressed air sprayer. However, fairly satisfactory results are reported to have been obtained by the use of a sprinking can.

Four or five sprayings are usually required, the first being made before the dandelion blooms; one or two additional applications at intervals of three or four weeks; and, finally, one or two sprayings in late summer or fall. The lawn may become blackened after each application, but this need cause no alarm if the grass is growing vigorously. During hot, dry weather in mid-summer it is thought advisable to discontinue spraying. It is suggested that spraying be discontinued by the application of fertilizers and by the seeding of grass in the spring and fall. If the proper precautions are taken, it is said to be necessary to spray only about every third year in order to keep the lawn practically free from dandelions.

The officials of the Geneva station caution those who contemplate using the spray against permitting it to come in contact with walks, building foundations, and clothing, as it leaves a more or less permanent brown, rusty stain.

SURVEY TO DETERMINE ACREAGE FOR WATERING

Engineer to Draw Lines of the New Marquette Irrigation District

A survey to determine the actual acreage to be reclaimed under the irrigation system to be installed by the Marquette Irrigation district comprising lands situated between Hansen and Burton, is now in progress, according to the statement today of H. T. Henderson, Denver, civil engineer, retained by the district to supervise this work. The results of this survey, which it is estimated, will require about six weeks time, are to be submitted to the state engineer for his approval before bonds can be issued by the district. The field work is in charge of H. B. Henderson, son of H. T. Henderson.

Mr. Henderson yesterday returned from Denver where he was in conference with financial interests who are expected to finance the proposed irrigation system construction. He said that a representative of these interests would be here about June 1.

Mr. Henderson is estimated that if the proceeds from new bonds without interruption the proposed system will be completed and in operation at the end of two years. It is proposed to start the water for 50,000 acres of land under this project.

TESTS POLITICAL CHIEFS BY CHURCH'S STANDARDS

Garfield is Held Up as Ideal—Lloyd George and Champ Clark Fought Wanting

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (AP)—Three great political leaders, David Lloyd George, British prime minister; James A. Garfield, late president of the United States; and Champ Clark, late speaker of the house of representatives were weighed in the balance of their church at the annual congress of Disciples of Christ here Wednesday and two of them were found wanting by Professor Frederick Ewing Maister, the university, Dr. Moller, in, in his address on "the contribution of the Disciples of Christ to Christianity. Both Premier Lloyd George of England and former Speaker Champ Clark, Prof. Maister declared, fell short of "that high content of Christian idealism."

Mr. Clark was a political leader first of all, he said, and he died as he had lived. He had the tragic experience of just missing the goal of his ambition when that goal appeared to be surely within his grasp. He had possessed a higher degree of moral firmness and idealism he might easily have become president of the United States at one of the most momentous junctures in our national history. "David Lloyd George is still living and his biography incomplete. He has acknowledged his indebtedness to the Disciples of Christ. Nobody whether friend or foe, disputes the sagacity of the Welsh statesman who never falls except upon his feet. Beyond any question David Lloyd George will rank one of the supreme political leaders of his age. Whether his name will be regarded as synonymous with the highest type of modern statesmanship remains dubious and yet, who thinks of Lloyd George as a great spiritual or moral interpreter—a Frances A. Cromwell, Tolstoy, even a Glaston of his age?"

The declaring that "personal loyalty to Christ" was an outstanding discipline characteristic, Professor Maister said that the other loyalty which was back of Garfield's devotion to his church, which the speaker termed the outstanding virtue of his life, and of Champ Clark's piety and religiousness, was that of a former President Garfield earlier in the address, the professor said, "personally indistinct; personally clean; and personally holy."

BISHOP'S CONSECRATION TAKES PLACE AMID POMP

Dr. William T. Manning Takes Office as Executive of Episcopal Diocese of New York

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Reverend Dr. Wm. T. Manning Wednesday was consecrated fourth bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York amid pomp and splendor. Only about three thousand clergy and laymen were allowed into the cathedral by the able to witness the ceremony in the cathedral, a crowd of several times as large watched the procession file into the edifice.

Office of the largest gatherings of clergy in the history of the Protestant Episcopal church in America formed a pageant of rich color. Garbed in the rich vestments of their high rank, more than 450 churches, including 33 bishops, marched with slow and solemn steps into the great house of worship.

Assembling in St. Paul hall a few yards from the cathedral, the prelates were led in the procession by a crucifer carrying a large gold cross.

Twenty-seven bishops of the American church marched in the procession, with a half dozen bishops of the eastern Orthodox church and a long line of Protestant clergy and two rabbi Sarason also were in line. Among the laymen were J. P. Morgan, a trustee of the Episcopal fund, Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university. Near the head of the procession walked honorarily the six stars and stripes and Bishop Thomas Gailer of Tennessee delivered the consecration sermon.

IRISH DOMINION LEAGUE ESSAYS MEDIATOR ROLE

Encounters Chief Difficulty in Finding Common Ground for Parleys Between Government and Dail Eireann

DUBLIN, (AP)—Efforts are being made to find a basis on which the divergent interests of Ulster and southern Ireland may be harmonized. Impetus has been given this movement, which is regarded as an essential preliminary to any negotiations between the government and Sinn Fein, by the Irish Dominion League whose executive committee is charged with ascertaining the sentiment of both sections with a view to reporting its findings to the British government.

Prospect Seems Bright.

It is understood there have been sufficient modifications of the views of politicians as well as business men of both Ulster and the southern counties to inspire confidence that their conflicting aspirations can be reconciled. The chief difficulty in the path of peace, it is believed, is to discover a common ground for discussion between the government and Dail Eireann. The refusal of the Dail to announce its minimum terms has given a setback to the attempt to bring the government and Sinn Fein together.

The general feeling here appears to be that Dail Eireann will stand pat on its demand for a republic and will accept definite proposals from the government.

Military authorities take any but an optimistic view of the situation saying the forces now available are entirely inadequate to do more than hold their own while the Irish republican army leaders boast of continued improvement in the work of their organization.

Comments on Funds Exhaustion.

It is understood that the military is awaiting the exhaustion of republican loan funds as the only certain means of gaining the upper hand. They admit, however, that much time must elapse before even that hope is realized.

Up to the present about $3,000,000 have been subscribed to the republican loan, of which approximately $5,000,000 came from the United States. Dail Eireann is under heavy expense, the cost of propaganda alone running into big figures.

Only about $500,000 of the loan remains, it is asserted, hence energetic efforts are now being made to increase the amount by subscriptions at home.

WOULD LENGTHEN LEASE ON INDIAN ZINC MINES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (AP)—The office of Indian affairs was requested to adjust short-time leases on zinc property owned by Indians in Oklahoma, on the plea they worked a hardship on mine operators on account of their short tenure. It is a resolution adopted at the annual convention of the American Zinc Institute which ended here Tuesday night.

E. H. Wolff of Peru, Ill., was re-elected president of the organization. Reports from four sections of the country, presented at the convention, showed production 50 per cent normal in the Tennessee district; 60 per cent normal in the western fields, and 35 per cent normal in the Wisconsin district.

METHODIST MINISTER'S AVERAGE SALARY $1,154

Church Official Reports Increase in Stipend of Sect's Preachers

CHICAGO, (AP)—The average annual salary the Methodist Episcopal church pays its ministers is $1,154, according to a statement made by Dr. Joseph B. Hingelcy, corresponding secretary, at the annual meeting of the board of conference chairman of the church Wednesday. Three years ago the average salary was $889, he said.

"This has been the best year for preacher's pensions in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church. Total money paid for pension in 1920 was $2,010,070," declared Dr. Hingelcy.

"The average annually authorized by the church," he continued, "was $11 for each year of active service, but the average paid was $10.67. The highest amount paid per year of active service was in the Colorado conference, which paid $23, and the lowest was paid by the Lincoln conference (Colorado), which was $1 for each year of active service."

CHARGES CONSPIRACY TO RUIN AMERICAN SHIPPING

Seaman's Union Executive Offers to Prove Plot Existence to Congress

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seaman's Union, declared Wednesday that he would prove to congress, if granted a hearing, that the stand taken by the shipping board and the American ship owners in the present wage dispute with marine workers was a part of an international plot to destroy American shipping.

"I have tried to get an international hearing on this international plot," he said, "and have been shut off."

In a printed statement, which covered 55 pages, Mr. Furuseth said that it was remarkable that the shipping board joined the ship owners in their demands.

"The emergency fleet corporation has gone to the extent of becoming members of the American Ship Owners Mutual Protection and Indemnity Association, Inc.," he said.

"This organization is a younger brother of an English organization of a similar kind."

"The mutual protection and indemnity association insures its members against every loss that is not covered by ordinary insurance. While its by-laws do not specifically state in so many words that it is an insurance against strikes, yet that is how it has been used in England, and unquestionably it will be so used in America. The emergency fleet corporation, controlling about three-fourths of the American tonnage, there as a member, pays its share of the costs in fighting the American laws in the courts and fighting such labor organizations, including, of course, the seaman's organizations, as may seek to influence wages and working conditions on American vessels at sea or in harbors. This association should, therefore, have no hesitation in bringing about a stoppage of maritime commerce. About three-fourths of the cost and loss will be paid by the emergency fleet corporation and the part of the expense of the shipping board, all of which comes from the American taxpayers."

WEST VIRGINIA BATTLE SCENE

State's Witness in Matoman Murder Trials in Reputed Victim in Fighting

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., (AP)—A general view of the West Virginia-Kentucky border in the vicinity of Merriman and Sprigg, adjacent mining towns, was reported by Sheriff Flinn of Mingo county today.

CITY ADMINISTRATORS STATE NO ACTION Will Be Taken Upon Engaging in Power Company Property Survey Scheme Until Roy Black Decides Upon Legal Status of Municipality Contributing Funds for Such Investigation

Whether the city of Twin Falls will participate in the proposed investigation of the Idaho Power company's inventory of physical property, recently filed with the state public utilities commission may depend upon an opinion of the state's legal counsel.

A Costly Coat. In his book on helmets and body armor in modern warfare, Dr. Pearson Dean says: "A shirt of mail in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art contains a quarter of a million hand-made and tempered rings, each carefully formed and each separately riveted. If you estimate that a skillful armorer might make and weave together two hundred and fifty of these links a day, you can see that this mail would have cost the maker working every day, almost three years' work—a low estimate for making this particular mail. If you allow the maker six dollars a day for a thousand days, such a shirt would therefore have cost the purchaser in round figures at modern prices, six thousand dollars!"

Only Fault They Don't Have. We have moments of depression about our dear old ladies in the electric limousines, as they lumber down the wrong side of the street and toggle the wheels in their own independent way. When we feel that we can conscientiously say for them that, so far as we know, they never drive when under the influence of liquor—Ohio State Journal.

Balley explained that his client had paid under protest taxes covering 60 feet of paving when his property measures only 50 feet frontage. An investigation has been ordered by Alderman C. F. Howles made a semi-official report on investigations of a ditch line, planned to serve water to about 60 acres at the west end of Main avenue. Complaints have been lodged by water users in the section designated that water in sufficient amount is being furnished. Mr. Howles reported that the line apparently is constructed on too fine a "hairline" grade to carry the required flow to the end of the ditch. Further investigation will be ordered, and the possibility is that an engineer will be engaged to survey a line that will properly serve the pipe.

RAILWAY LABOR FAILS TO PROVE BASIS OF CHARGE

Confesses Inability to Establish Authenticity of Alleged Letter

OHIAHO, (AP)—Railway labor to day formally admitted before the rail road labor board that it had failed in its efforts to prove authenticity of a letter, the origin and authorship of a Pennsylvania railroad official ordering "defamation of labor organization if necessary" in obtaining desired information and requests permission to withdraw the letter from the board's records.

Denies Writing Letter

I. W. Geer, general manager of the South end division of the Missouri Pacific line with headquarters in St. Louis, today denied before the railroad labor board that he had ever written a letter, as alleged by the railway labor unions, charging supervisory employees to resort to "defamation of all labor organizations if necessary" to obtain information desired by the roads concerning labor's attitude on wage reductions.

"The first I know of this letter," Mr. Geer said, "was the St. Louis office of the Associated Press told me it had been presented before the board on that day and asked if I cared to make any statement concerning it. I promptly looked through all the office files, but could find no trace of it."

News to Workers

T. B. Farrington, master mechanic at Columbus, Ohio, and William Stubbins, general foreman of the engine house and repair department at Bradford, Ohio, testified they had no knowledge of such a letter.

Sun's Effect on Glass Palace

It has been found impossible to give accurate dimensions of the Crystal Palace, London, during the construction on the building undergoing reconstruction today. In the case of the palace, the approximate length of the main structure of which is 1,302 feet, a measurement taken at noon would fix the dimension which would be given on a reconstruction in the evening, when the "reconstruction," consequent upon the absence of heat, as the result of the sun having set, would have taken place. The difference at times amounts to as much as six inches.

Gladiator's Umbrella

Gladiator's umbrella is a catch phrase for the Glaxo infant policy. When in September, 1885, Mr. Glaxo issued his manifesto to the Mothers' Association, it was said that he "opened his umbrella." His ministry was said to shelter under his umbrella, and that is why in caricature he was frequently shown with a "pamp" under his arm.

One ounce of corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury) dissolved in 12 gallons of water will control any grasshopper and turnip plants a few days after the plants come up through the ground, promises to be an effective remedy for maggots which burrow into the roots of the plants according to information given out by Ralph H. Smith, entomologist of the University of Idaho. This treatment for the grasshopper and turnip maggot is a quite recent discovery in this country and much will be learned as to the proper dilution of corrosive sublimate to use and the best time and method of applying the poison. The poison may be applied with an old syrup bucket or any large tin can by driving a hole through the bottom and allowing the poison to run out on the plants. The surface soil about the roots should be wet with the poison.
