

ZIONIST LEADER DEFENDS POLICY

Judge Mack Will Demand Vote of Confidence at Annual Convention

NEW YORK, (AP)—Judge Julian W. Mack of Chicago, president of the Zionist organization in America, and others who are supporting him will demand a vote of confidence of their fellow members at the annual convention of the body scheduled to be held in Cleveland on June 5, says an announcement from that organization.

It is expected that one of the main issues at this meeting will be whether the majority faction of the national executive organization, led by Judge Mack, are to be sustained in the demand that in collecting money in this country for the Palestine Foundation fund, adequate safeguards shall be taken similar to those of trust funds or the fund of municipalities.

It is the contention of Judge Mack and his followers that a budget must be provided for the Palestine work that all expenses for the publishing of the future Jewish homeland must be in accordance with this budget which is to be met monthly. They also contend that the World Zionist organization should publish each month, a financial statement showing the condition of the budget.

Another point they propose is that contributions from the Palestine foundation fund for purposes not covered by the fixed Palestine budget shall be in such sums as shall from time to time be determined by the president of the World Zionist organization and the Zionist organization in America.

The controversy arose soon after the arrival in the United States of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist organization. He is said to have taken the stand that the Zionist organization in America, as a subordinate body, is bound by the resolutions adopted by the World Zionist organization held in London last year, which did not include the safeguard now sought.

Judge Mack contends he is carrying out the mandate of the last convention of the American organization held in Buffalo in November, last year, which unanimously voted for the appropriation of investment and donation funds for Palestine and protection to contributors so that their gifts would be applied to the specific undertakings ordered by the donors.

The head of the American organization also replied to Dr. Weizmann that the London conference resolutions provide that details of the fund should be arranged in co-operation with the federations and that his aspirations are not in contradiction to the London meeting's orders.

Curie, discoverer of radium, is here to receive from the hands of President Harding a gram of radium purchased with $100,000 supplied by Americans through a fund raised by women of this country who admired her work. The significance of the gift is better appreciated when it is known that there is but five ounces, or 141 grams, of radium in the world. Mme. Curie is accompanied by her two daughters, Irène, twenty-three, and Eve, whom all France knows as "Petite Curie," sixteen. The mother and her two daughters were escorted here by Mrs. William Brown McVey, of New York, chairman of the Marie Curie Radium Fund.

POLAND TO BRING BACK TIME HONORED RELICS

Arrange to Return National Keepsakes Sent to Switzerland in 1772

WARSAW, (AP)—The Polish government is arranging to return to Warsaw about 150,000 national keepsakes removed to Switzerland in 1772 to prevent their falling into enemy hands.

When the partition of Poland between Russia, Prussia and Austria became imminent, patriotic Poles began to transfer collections of national relics to Repperswil, Switzerland, where they have been preserved for nearly 150 years.

Individuals who managed to get articles of particular historical interest out of the country, made valuable additions to the collection from time to time, even long after the Russians were in control of what is known as Congress Poland.

Among the relics of older times is a signet of one of the Polish kings. The keepsakes are to be added to the national museum in Warsaw which has been established now that Poland has regained her freedom.

SOVIET EDITORS TROUBLE BERLIN

Publication of Rote Fahne Continued Despite Successive Suppression

BERLIN, (AP)—Repeated efforts of the Rote Fahne; Berlin organ of the soviet, to incite German workmen to another revolt against the government have caused conservative newspapers to protest to the administration against the continued publication of the paper as inimical to law and order.

The Rote Fahne has been suppressed a number of times, some of its issues confiscated, part of its presses taken away by the authorities, but it has always been able to issue succeeding editions in a manner which its opponents assert is confusing and mysterious.

Since the March uprising in middle Germany, the Rote Fahne has conducted a campaign against the government and the special courts which President Ebert appointed to try the workmen who raised the red flag in Saxony and the Ruhr. It has urged the workmen to prepare for another uprising, which it has recently said should now be launched.

PUGET SOUND'S OLDEST BUILDING IS RESTORED

DuPont Powder Company Reconstructs Pioneer Trade Post Used by the Hudson Bay Company

TACOMA, Wash., (AP)—Buildings at Fort Nisqually, which, it is believed, are the oldest standing in the Puget Sound country, have been restored to the state they were in when they were used by the Hudson's Bay Company as a trading post more than 75 years ago.

Fort Nisqually is located at Dupont, near Tacoma, and the buildings were restored by the Dupont Powder company, which operates a plant there. Dupont is not far from Camp Lewis. The company intends to maintain the old fort as its restored site.

The fort was established by the Hudson's Bay people in 1833 and the oldest building now standing on the site was constructed in 1845, according to local records. Until recently the structure was used as a storehouse, its historical importance not being realized.

Many marks of age are on the building but its hand-forged hinges still hold the floors and windows securely. Ceiling slabs from nearby forests were used in the construction.

What pioneers say was the first building constructed by white men in the Puget Sound country was also at Nisqually but was torn down years ago.

Nisqually was established by the old trading company as a half-way post between Fort Vancouver, on the Columbia river, where Vancouver, Wash., now is located, and Fort Langley in the Fraser River country of Canada.

He was arrested here last Friday following alleged attempts to roll his tracks.

PICK GEORGES TO WIN ON DOPE SAYS 'J' ORACLE

Cycle of Important Letter is Complete in Dempsey-Carpentier Next Champ

STUDY of the names of heavyweight champions dating back to John L. Sullivan, reveals a cycle of winners which might be termed "J" cycle champions. In all the names of the champions—littleholders, except Robert Fitzsimmons, the letter "J" appears. And the naming of that letter "J" cycle favors Georges Carpentier to be the next heavyweight champion of the world. Following Paddy Ryan the letter "J" appears in John L. Sullivan's name and in Jake Kilrain's (Kilrain was never champion, but he was challenged by Sullivan and lost his fight); twice in James J. Corbett's (Robert Fitzsimmons, the exception to the cycle comes in here); three times in James J. Jeffries'; twice in Jack Johnson's and once in each of Willard's and Jack Dempsey's names, thus completing the letter "J" cycle. Georges Carpentier, with no "J" in his name, is now coming up. Carpentier's name at the close of the "J" cycle champions checks with the name of Paddy Ryan, which started it off. A flyleaf from the record book follows:

P. Ryan beat Joe Goss in 87 rounds and claimed the title in a battle at Collier Station, Va., May 30, 1880. J. L. Sullivan knocked out Paddy Ryan in 9 rounds at Mississippi City, Miss., February 7, 1882.

Kilrain was challenged by Sullivan and beaten in a 75-round fight at Hichburg, Miss., July 8, 1880 (the last large-knockout championship heavy weight fight).

J. J. Corbett defeated Sullivan in 21 rounds at New Orleans on September 8, 1892. (Robert Fitzsimmons, the exception to the "J" cycle of champions, defeated Corbett March 17, 1897, in 14 rounds at Carson City, Nev.)

J. J. Jeffries beat Fitzsimmons on June 9, 1901, at Coney Island, N. Y.; in 11 rounds. In 1905 Jeffries retired and gave his title to Alvin Hart. By then, Jack Johnson, the negro, had climbed to the top of the heap in the heavyweight division.

J. Johnson knocked out Jeffries in 15 rounds, July 4, 1910, at Reno, Nev. Jeffries was trying to come back.

J. Willard knocked out Johnson in 20 rounds at Havana, Cuba, April 6, 1915.

Will Name Winner of Carpentier - Dempsey Bout if it Goes Limit

Because of the possibility of the Carpentier-Dempsey championship bout going the limit of twelve rounds Tex Beard has decided on a plan to officially name the winner of the bout in spite of the New Jersey laws providing a referee's decision. Beard will ask Jim Jeffries, Lord Louisa and Jim Corbett to act as judges in case of necessity. It is probable that the principals in the great bout will agree to abide by the decision of the judge should there fail to be a knockout. The judge's decision will not serve to decide the thousands of wagers on the battle.

Now let's see how much royalty knows about it.

Mrs. Ty Cobb, says that since becoming a manager Ty talks in his sleep, cursing his players in his dreams, telling them how and where to play and calling out loudly his instructions. PERSHING GIVES VIEWS ON BUILDING OF ROADS

Declares Money Appropriated for Construction Without Provision for Maintenance is Wasted
WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—General Pershing, speaking from experience gained in France and the Philippines told the senate post roads committee Monday that money appropriated to build roads for which maintenance was not provided was money wasted. He added that the United States might well take lessons from the French in the upkeep of roads.

The general said, that in his opinion a central body under the federal government such as the highway commission provided in the pending Towns and Soil bill was necessary to co-ordinate highway construction.
Replying to questions from Senator Ohioan, Franklin, he said that it is established that transcontinental highways should be un-tilken at once as a defense measure in event of hostilities in the Pacific. General Pershing said he could see no great need for such roads in view of the existence of four great transcontinental railway lines.
He minimized the suggestion that in event of war enemy spies might put those railways out of commission, remarking that "spies didn't blow up our railway bridges in France."

GREAT STORM
DRENCHES CITY
IN SHORT TIME

Torrential Downpour of Last Evening Believed to Mark New Rain Record

Approximately half inch of water fell during the 45 minutes of storm here yesterday evening. The downpour constituted one of the most torrential visitations in the history of Twin Falls as a city, according to those who have lived here longest, and who have been close observers of weather conditions.

While the storm seems to have been general over the Twin Falls district, it apparently concentrated its direct endeavor against the city. Fifteen minutes after the floodgates opened the streets were flooded and water was pouring from the roof of the main traffic arteries to a depth of several inches.

—Shoebone Flooded

This condition was especially true of Shoebone north and east. Extending from Main avenue to the lake backed over all crossings and most of the walks, covering the latter at the First National bank corner, and again at the Methodist church, corner of Shoebone street and Fourth avenue east. From that point to Sixth avenue water accumulated in a great lake, backed up when the sewer at Sixth overflowed from the excess of flow from north, west and east.

Front of and at the side of the high school streets were closed to pedestrians for some time after the storm subsided. On the unpaved streets, especially on the north side, water was equally high, though the drainage is better in that district. Dirt roads soon became quagmires over which it was almost impossible for motor vehicles to travel.

—In the downtown sections many basements flooded early, and today some merchants are busily engaged making damage estimates.

Since the storm period opened on Sunday, May 15, precipitation has amounted to 2.17 inches. On only one day in that period has there been a trace of rain. Yesterday's storm was the hardest and provided the most water in one day's fall. The next high record was Tuesday, May 17 when the precipitation was 1.84 inches of an inch. Two days later, the mark was .56.

Canals at High Tide

J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company reports storms all along the company's system, but expresses the belief that the worst was concentrated in Twin Falls. No damage has been wrought to the canals in any of the districts. This fortunate condition, Mr. Wheeler attributes to the fact that in the past few days the company has held the canal flow to about 50 per cent. When the flood came the canals were able to take care of the water, although the mark of the flood in these reached two feet higher than ever before.

C., national headquarters of the legion announced here today.

Captain Rickenbacker hopes to reach Chicago Thursday evening, it was said, passing in the first two days of flight over Reno, Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha and Indianapolis. The message of the legion's national commander will be dropped over California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

—Not "Playing the Game"

Too many men will play the game their own way or not play at all. Such men are either suffering from egotism or are not inclined to play fair. Especially is this the case in the industrial world. Yet no man is necessary in everybody's game.

AN INFAMOUS PROPOSAL

As if Twin Falls had not already suffered full measure of woe and affliction, comes now the proposal for a "lecture" to be given here some time in the near future by Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare...

Whatever else may be said of the proposal to bring Kate Richards O'Hare here to address a public assembly, it cannot be regarded as other than a deliberate insult to the former service men of this community...

Mrs. O'Hare is not a stranger at least to those persons who are now most interested in bringing about her return here. Under the auspices of the socialist "local," which about that time took on a decidedly Teutonic complexion...

These sentiments were repeated once to Mrs. O'Hare and following her trial on information filed after she had delivered herself of those opinions...

That her opinions in general warrant no reformation during her period of detention and that her notions now are the same as during the war is indicated by reports coming from Mrs. O'Hare's literary or her present tour.

It is in view of this record the manifestation of any disposition here to seek Mrs. O'Hare's return must be considered as a revelation of an altogether unworthy element in the community life.

Farm Life: When things go wrong our natural inclination is to look for somebody who has been at fault, and upon whom we can place the responsibility.

The truth is that in one is to blame. Parallel conditions exist in all countries. We, and all so-called civilized world have been and are in the grip of economic forces too strong for any government to avoid.
