FOREIGN TRADE ASSERTS CLAIM TO GOVERNMENT

President and Secretaries of Treasury and Commerce Meet with Prominent Financiers to Discuss Policy

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The administration's policy of granting concessions as a means toward restoration of normal business conditions was discussed at a White House dinner last night attended by Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, J. B. Morgan, Paul Warburg and a number of other prominent financiers. President Harding was said to have talked over the whole subject with his guests.

It was understood that while no hard and fast program was decided upon, that the discussion served to cement the belief of administration officials that one of the best remedial measures available would be active co-operation between the government and business men for revival of export trade.

It was also indicated that the administration policy would turn toward some sort of aid to the financial situation in Europe as a part of the effort for general trade stability.

Other conferences likely. The dinner is expected to have an echo in numerous conferences in the near future between the president and other financial leaders.

Others attending the dinner were James A. Alexander, of the National Bank of Commerce, and Charles A. Sablin of the Guaranty Trust company of New York.

It is understood that one of the president's chief purposes in calling the dinner into existence was to discuss the contemplated loan of American private capital to foreign governments and the effect of such a loan on the resumption of trade on the American export trade.

Mr. Harding had an engagement to day with Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, and although no announcement was made, the assumption was that he was consulted on the same general subject.

Mr. Schwab is understood to have discussed with the president the problem of rehabilitating the American merchant marine, holding that radical steps must be taken if the large tonnage constructed during the war is to be kept under the American flag.

FARMING SHOWS BIG CHANGES IN PAST TEN YEARS

Agricultural Authorities of Middle and Southwestern States Report Transformation in Methods and Crops

CHICAGO, (AP)—The face of agriculture in the middle and southwest, the chief farming section of the country, has undergone some remarkable changes in the past ten years. It is shown by reports from state agricultural authorities gathered here.

The trends indicated are one of the most momentous that have passed over American agriculture. Improved methods of farming are given credit for much of the transformation.

In some states production of their old-time crops has fallen off as attention focused elsewhere. Meat production per acre has increased while other states, by advancing their own acreage, have helped to wipe out a slack that might otherwise have resulted. Now crops have sprung to the fore here and there. In several states the character of farming has almost been made over.

Texas Forges to Front

Texas has forged to the front until its agricultural chiefs claim more wheat grown there than in some other states where they are well-nigh the principal crop. They declare their wheat production has increased in the Rio Grande valley, equal to the best.

In wheat, Kansas, which holds the lead, has increased its acreage nearly 100 per cent in the last ten years. The increase is 4,100,000 acres. Oklahoma, which last year stood fourth in wheat production, meantime has increased its planting by 1,334,000 acres. Iowa, the former corn state, enlarged its wheat crop 58 per cent.

On the other hand Minnesota, which stood second in spring wheat last year, cut its wheat production 30 per cent in the ten years. North Dakota, which stood first in spring wheat in 1910, also recorded a reduction to make way for other crops.

Kansas Drops Corn

White Kansas was nearly doubling its wheat acreage, it dropped 3,063,000 acres from its corn planting. Oklahoma, which likewise saw greater advantages for itself in wheat, cut its corn acreage by 2,632,000. Nebraska, which stood third in corn production last year, slightly reduced its acreage in the decade, and Missouri, which stood fourth, cut off 1,385,000 acres.

Meantime Iowa was enlarging its corn production 12 per cent, Minnesota, which led the corn states in 1910, cut South Dakota made one of its chief advances in corn production.

Wisconsin it reported changing its acreage from a grain growing state to a leading dairy state.

Michigan made notable strides in the livestock industry, as did Iowa, South Dakota, Indiana and other states.

Adopt 2 Months Basis

Many farmers have been enabled to go on a basis of 12 months' production instead of only through the growing season. It is reported for instance from South Dakota, where diversified farming, as in Arkansas and elsewhere has made great progress in ten years.

Among other developments of the decade might be noted that Kentucky has almost quit raising hemp. South Dakota farmers are paying less attention to flax. Sugar beets have increased 700 per cent and alfalfa 76 per cent in Nebraska. They made great gains in Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Nebraska and elsewhere.

Kentucky raised three times as much tobacco, while Ohio cut its tobacco yield 50 per cent. Oklahoma's acre in crops increased nearly 2,000,000 acres.

Greeks Loose Mirth Over Princes' Son

ATHENS, (AP)—The Greek newspapers found much diversion in the news here by airplane of young William B. Leeds, son of Princess Anastasia. They are calling the youth, who is soon to marry Princess Xenia, the "Prince of Greece," and it has been suggested that the king may confer a dukedom on him in return for the fortune he may inherit.

References are being made to him in the newspapers as "the Duke of Piraeus" and "the Prince of Teleda."

"The boys" says a humorous writer in the Athens, "that the young prince will dispose of his millions as charitably as his mother. It is a wonderful thing to be a prince or a duke, but it is better to be a millionaire. Let us hope that the national assembly, with its usual liberal opinions, will vote a bill by which Mr. Leeds will become an official Prince of Greece, but only on condition that he give us all his money."

ROYAL SOJOURNS
LAY CLAIMS TO HISTORIC PLE

Younger Princes of House of Bourbon-Parma who Fought with Belgians in War, Assert Ancient Rights

PARIS, (AP)—Efforts by two princes of the House of Bourbon-Parma to recover possession of the celebrated Chateau de Chambourcy, which was sequestrated by the French government during the war, is one of the most interesting aftermaths of the great conflict.

The chateau is more than 400 years old and is one of the most striking and established of ancient France. It was one of the most magnificent of these great residences of the valley of the Loire close to the town of Blois and has about 15,000 acres, part of which is enclosed by walls extending for 20 miles. The building is about 200 feet square with famous chateaux towers at the corners and a double spiral staircase leading to the double lantern, which dominates the center tower.

It was built about 1520 and for two centuries was a royal residence. Louis XV gave it to Maria Theresia and Napoleon presented it to Maria Louise, Duchess of Parma, who later became the possession of the Duke of Parma.

Elisa Forstella claim. At the beginning of the war, it was owned by Prince Elisa of Bourbon-Parma and was sequestrated because he was serving in the Austrian army as an attaché of the Austrian general staff. Prince Elisa is a brother of Zita, wife of the former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, who is attempting to regain his throne as king of Hungary.

After the war Prince Elisa attempted to recover possession of the estate, although his claim is not recognized. He does not settle the question of its ownership, for Prince Sixtus, also of Bourbon-Parma, brother of Prince Elisa, has put in a claim to the ownership of the chateau. Prince Sixtus does not suffer the disability of Prince Elisa, as Sixtus and his brother Xavier both were officers in the French army, where they served as stretcher-bearers under fire. Their bravery in this service was afterwards recognized in a French citation.

Figures in Famous Incident. Attempts will identify Prince Sixtus as the man who received the will was still in progress, the famous letter from Emperor Charles of Austria in which he bequeathed the chateau to France's aspirations to recover Alsace-Lorraine and that in his opinion Belgium should be restored to Germany. Prince Sixtus, however, has never to President Polignac and its publication by Premier Clemenceau created consternation in Germany. The Emperor Charles denied its authenticity.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul President Praises Work of Employees Co-operating with Carriers for Results

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Railroads of the United States are being operated efficiently, H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, said today in the course of his examination before the Senate interstate commerce committee, which is inquiring into the transportation situation. He praised the details of operation of the employees who are endeavoring to all the carriers in obtaining better results. "It is to be regretted," Mr. Byram said, "that the attitude of some of those who speak for railroad employees of the country does not tend to promote good service. It is greatly to the credit of the rank and file of employees of the railroad companies that they have not been misled by false doctrine, as is shown by the general willingness to co-operate with the management of the railroad in bringing about the necessary efficiency and economy in their operation which prevails at the present time. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company for several years, and particularly of late, have been carrying out the principle of co-operation and study mutual interests in finding and using better economies and improved methods. Committees have been formed of officers and employees on every division to study the details of operation. Mr. Byram presented a table to show that increases of from 50 to as high as 110 per cent in the amount of bulk commodities and merchandise being handled by the company employees at various points had resulted from such co-operation."

ARDUOUS JOB

White Sox Fans Need Patience, and Club Management Much Perseverance

By I. E. SANBORN. PATIENCE, perseverance and wisdom are the chief requisites in building up a major league baseball team that has been wrecked for one cause or another. The owner and manager must possess these, and the rosters must have the first two.

Just now some of the south side fans of Chicago are beginning to feel restless about the low standing of the White Sox, unminimally of the fact no team in baseball's history ever got a harder bump than the Chicagoans did last fall, when eight stars, "who would have brought in cool million dollars in cash, if they had been placed on the market, were put out of baseball for good by the confessions of three of their most valuable players.

Such Stars Unrecoverable. A million dollars could not replace these eight players, because men of their talent on the diamond cannot be purchased from their club owners, and men of their mental and moral caliber are not wanted in professional baseball at any price.

Sixteen major league clubs had a small army of scouts combing the minor leagues all last year for promising prospects, and there was no curb on any of the scouts as to features. In the merry scramble it was possible for any club owner to dip up only a possible two or three budding stars even if he was lucky.

Conspicuously of the White Sox unearthed at least three youngsters that look good, but these three cannot begin to fill the places of the eight that were out of business by the gamblers who fixed the 1919 world's series. They cannot fill the holes left by even three of the diamonds, because it takes years to train a rookie in major league style.

Get Bessoming in Play. The only way to drill a recruit is to drill him on the field. It cannot be done with any degree of celerity on the bench or on the farm. And Kid Gleason is taking the quickest and best way to find out what is in his new men, particularly the pitchers. With a string of veterans to use regularly any manager can get along with a rookie on the bench, using him for relief work and instructing him in the wise plays of the slab.

That is a slow process, but with veterans to depend on, it can be done without injuring a team's showing in the pennant race. With only a couple of regulars, as Gleason now has, it is necessary for him to teach the kid batters as much and as fast as possible, and that is why, when the rosters yell "Take him out!" the White Sox boss turns a deaf ear.

Schooled to Bad Breaks. A green pitcher will learn more, if he has brains and nerve, in nine innings of rest, but on a slab than he will acquire in nine weeks of watching from the bench. Consequently, when the rookie starts going badly, or the hits begin to whittle past the outfielders, no good can be served by taking him out, possibly breaking his leg, and sending an equally green and nervous pitcher to replace him.

By leaving the kid pitcher on the slab to work out his own salvation, with the aid of good advice and support, he often gains a new confidence in himself and in his pal, and profits by it rapidly. Only when a youngster begins to show lack of nerve by forcing runs across the plate, instead of making his opponents hit them in, is it the part of wisdom to take him out.

Italian Lads Travel Half Way Around World as Baggage.

Control Is the Big Asset. Removing a pitcher at such a juncture is an object lesson that control is the prime factor in major league pitching. For all the slab goods in the world will not avail a man anything if he cannot tame his staff. The clubhouse are the place for wild men, where batmen are not so particular, nor so eagle eyed.

Dempsey Is Idle Because Weather Becomes Unruly

Champion Takes Rest on Account of Rain and Cold—Staff Augmented

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—Foreed into a day of idleness because of the rain and cold weather of the day, Jack Dempsey today resumed training activities eagerly with a full day's work ahead of him. Dempsey planned to go on the road for a six-mile run if the rain and cold were proved sufficiently dry to make the going comfortable. His regular program of bag punching, shadow boxing and work with the gloves will be carried out tonight.

The champion's staff was augmented today by the arrival of Joe Benjamin, a Pacific coast lightweight and Bull Montana, a middleweight wrestler, from Los Angeles, Cal. Benjamin was scheduled to do his first boxing with the champion today. He is training for a bout Saturday night. Montana intends to wrestle with Dempsey every day.

Sparing Partner of the Frenchman Has Giant's Build

Paul Journee Is a Second Guy Rulin in Physical Proportions—Growth Shakes Camp

MANHASSET, N. Y., (AP)—Paul Journee, French heavyweight and sparring partner of the blonde Georges Carpentier, captured in the world's heavyweight boxing title, looks, beside Georges, like the elder of the Grand canyon to a burro. His great hands, reminding one of the choice picnic ham hanging almost to his knees. Paul has to stoop to pass through an ordinary doorway, and his shoulders are so broad the rest of his body seems to hang. He brings on a lady's dress. He never smiles, this gladiator of scowls. Every now and then he growls whereupon the camp abnks.

Fight Seat Sale Crack All Marks; Now Reach $525,000

Clamor Constant for Places in Arena for the Dempsey-Carpentier Bout

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Dempsey-Carpentier fight for the world's heavyweight championship already has broken all box office records. With the date of the bout five weeks distant, Promoter Tex Rickard today announced that the receipts had reached $525,000. Receipts of the Dempsey-Willard battle, promoted by Rickard at Toledo, O., July 4, 1919, constituted the previous record of $452,522, nearly twice as much as the high mark which had been established by the Johnson-Jeffries battle at Reno, Nev., in 1910, when Rickard gathered in $270,755.

Shipping immigrant children to the United States by express is a novelty in immigration tricks. Little Venanzio Favre, nine, and his brother Almo, eight, arrived at Ellis Island, New York, from Italy tagged by the American Express company through to Carbonale, Colo. Half-way around the world as baggage, the youngsters created a sensation on Ellis Island, where surprises are rare. Everything had been arranged in advance for the admission of the boys by their father, Venanzio Favre, a well-to-do real estate agent and land owner in Colorado. The boys, with their pockets tagged so that they can't be mislaid, are en route across the country en route to Carbonale, where they will be cared for along the route by express company agents during the four day trip. The photograph shows the Favre youngsters and a reproduction of their "shipping tag."

Brief Bits of Sport

Perhaps it was the lure of the popular price that drove more than 1000 folk to the ball park last night. We'd rather think, though, that it was the native urge for the good old national game. It was a fair broad of baseball the teams played to, with better things to be hoped for.

The league management is going to put up a score board. Then the bushy fan will be able to see for himself what the count is without annoying the official keeper of records and scale for information every time a play is made. Three necessary reforms must be instituted if the league is to be a success. One is a new and more efficient screen for the grandstand back of the plate, another regulation of the population that insists on being on the field

Instead of remaining in the stand, and the third STARTING THE GAMES ON SCHEDULE TIME.

Fans pay money to see baseball played; not to watch practice and other pre-game antics.

The Louisiana constitutional convention has adopted an amendment forbidding transmission, publication and circulation of information concerning horse races.

Should have made it apply to racing too. Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion Jock Chip last night, but he made it an entertainment for the fans, Jock striking 10 rounds.

The Legion and Elks play on Lincoln field tomorrow night; time 6 o'clock.

Aunt Liza's former mistress was talking to her one morning, when suddenly she discovered a little pickaninny standing shyly behind his mother's skirts. "Is this your little boy, Aunt Liza?" she asked. "Yes, miss, dat's Precipriation." "Goodness, what a funny name suits for a child! How in the world did you happen to call him that?" "An simply calls him dat becuz ah has sech had wuk getting him filled." —Empeco News.

RICKENBACKER BEGINS FLIGHT CROSS COUNTRY

American Ace Takes the Air at Redwood City, California; Hopes to Arrive in Washington Tomorrow Night

BENO, Nov. 27.—Eddie Rickenbacker passed over Beno at 11:15. He was flying at an altitude of about 17,000 feet.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., 27.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, left here at 8:32 a. m. on a flight which he hopes will take him to Washington, D. C., by tomorrow night. It was his second attempt to get away today, the first having been stopped by fog.

Rickenbacker started the field a few times before winging off in a northeasterly direction. The fog had cleared and air conditions seemed ideal for the start.

Bad Start Delayed.
On the first attempt he went as far as Martinez, 35 miles northeast of here in an air-line. The fog became thicker as he progressed, and was so heavy over the Sacramento river crossing at Martinez that all visibility was lost. He picked his way back to the field here after having been gone one hour and 32 minutes.

Before leaving the second time, Rickenbacker expressed a doubt that he would reach Washington tomorrow night. There is some chance of his doing so if he can reach North Platte, Neb., tonight, he said. He planned to make the flight to North Platte, 1200 miles air line from here, without stop.

Will "Bomb" Cities.
He expects to "bomb" the cities over which he passes with copies of the Memorial day address of the national commander of the American Legion. The real purpose of the flight is to enable him to attend a banquet given by the Metropolitan club in Washington on Saturday.

Rickenbacker is flying "light," with the machine parts and accessories down to an irreducible minimum. This enables him to get away with 23 gallons of gasoline and 30 gallons of oil, enough for a 14-hour flight.

HOUSE VOTES FUNDS FOR DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

Deficiency Appropriation Bill Carrying $100,000,000 for Prohibition Agents is Adopted

WASHINGTON, 27.—The $100,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $200,000 for prohibition enforcement until July 1 was passed today by the house. It now goes to the senate.

Except for addition of the prohibition enforcement item and the elimination of a provision for a first assistant secretary of treasury at $10,000 a year, the measure went through virtually as framed by the appropriation committee.

Major items in the bill include $1,852,000 for the shipping board, $15,000,000 for rehabilitation of former service men, and $87,710,000 for medical and hospital services for war veterans.

DUHL SHRINERS WILL BE HOSTS

Elaborate Entertainment Culmination in Mammoth Dance Staged by Club

June the fourth is the date set for what promises to be one of the biggest and most successful dancing parties in a large scale ever held in these parts. The event will be given by the Shrine club of Duhi. Members of the Shrine clubs of Twin Falls, Burley, Idaho Falls and Pocatello will all receive invitations to the entire patrol and band of El Korah Temple of Boise will be on hand during the entire day and evening of the festivities.

The Boise Shrine will give a minstrel performance in Duhi during the afternoon and be the principal guests at a banquet to be held at 6 o'clock. Following this will come the dance, which will be held in a mammoth ball room three miles out of Duhi to which hardwood floors, electric lights and every other convenience has been added and which will be decorated for the occasion in elaborate style. A buffet supper will be served during the evening and lavish preparations have been made by the Duhi club in the interests of a general good time for all concerned.

All disaffecteds disposed of and all the proceeds of the minstrel performance will be turned over to El Korah Temple, to be used by that institution in strengthening its bond and patrol in preparation for the coming annual session of Shrinism which will be held in Honolulu.

The entire program will be in charge of the Duhi Shrine club, which will defy all expense of every kind, and whose ambition is to have the biggest informal gathering of Shriners and their ladies ever gathered together in this part of Idaho.

Twin Falls Elks club has pledged its cooperation 100 per cent strong and it is expected that at least a hundred couples from Twin Falls will make the trip and take in at least a part of the day's entertainment. The entire program of the day is of course the dance and it is expected that this will set a new record when it comes to dances, Shrine of any other kind.

MEXICANS WILL INQUIRE INTO BORDER VIOLATION

Oregon Orders Investigation of Alleged Crossing of Frontier by American Posses

MEXICO CITY, 27.—Thirty American men are reported to have crossed the international boundary at Vega, state of Coahuila, on Tuesday, in pursuit of Leonardo Soria, a Mexican charged with violation of United States laws.

AFTER a recent arrest, Soria was captured and went taken back across the border, it being alleged that he was dragged across the boundary line by his captors. President Obregon has ordered the foreign office to make an inquiry with a view to making representations to the United States government.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., 27.—Burning moonshine whiskey, which became an issue here today, caused painful injuries to six bystanders, in a closing County Attorney G. D. Milligan.

A SIGNIFICANT EVENT.

A milestone in the lives of one hundred and sixteen young people is to be reached this evening when certificates of graduation from the Twin Falls high school are distributed among forty-two young men and seventy-four young women composing the class of 1921.

The occasion is significant both to the young people themselves and to the community at large. Some of the graduates will go from here to enter institutions of higher learning, while others will enter at once upon the work in home or industry to which they will devote their lives. In either event the results of the years already spent in school, as a foundation or background, are certain to play a vital part in their future careers.

So far as the community is concerned there is but one test of the value and efficiency of the public school system—and that is in its product, the graduates. Viewing, in the light of lately quickened popular appreciation of the Twin Falls school system, these new accessions to the long list of alumni of the institution, the community cannot do other than pronounce it good.

OPINIONS

Expressed

Idaho Statesman: The difference between our president and our former president is not that one has higher ideals than the other has. It is that Mr. Harding has chosen his highest goal and is now beginning the hard fight to attain it by practical means. Mr. Wilson appeared to have convinced himself that our nation and the whole world, in fact, had already reached the objective and had set to enjoy eternal peace. This, when it amounted to a delusion, let the nation and the world go blindly into the pitfalls of extravagance and mistakes.

Porello Tribune: It is a safe assertion that no one will be more pleased than the railroad managers when conditions will permit the reduction of freight and passenger rates. But they are not responsible for the expensive system of operation Mr. McAdoo turned over to them—a system which they are not at all likely to change. The owners of railroad stocks are entitled to a reasonable return on their investment, and the rates are fixed with that end in view. Rates apparently cannot come down until the expenses of operation come down. The railroad labor board found that some kinds of service are being paid for, under the McAdoo rules, without services being rendered.

Farm Life: Farmers were the first to take the long hike back to normalcy. It is true that they were not altogether willing travelers. They were not anxious to be deflated and readjusted, but now that they have been forced back into the region of normal prices, they expect their old neighbors, Industry and Business, to join them. They find it a bit homesome down in the valley of low prices. The high water mark and the profits on the surrounding peaks are holding their places with some difficulty, it appears; now and then one of them slips a little, but in the end they have got to come down out of the rare heights. If business intercourse is to resume its wonted way, people must meet on a level. At present things are described as "topsy-turvy." Trade in the deflated lines is fairly good, but where war prices prevail there cannot be many exchanges of commodities. Undoubtedly the farmers have fallen too low. If they can go back up about half way, while the others

Four of 'Em—Count 'Em—With Total Weight of Twenty Pounds

Baltimore Sun: The United States Department of Agriculture officials attention to the floods and famine of China as a tragic example on a stupendous scale of the results of human ignorance and wastefulness. The Yellow river, which drains the famine district, was once a normal stream and carried off the excess rainfall without destructive overflows. But through thousands of years the Chinese have been cutting the forests which lay on the hills whence its waters are derived, and in the past few hundred years the deforestation has progressed to a point where throughout the vast watershed of the Yellow river there is practically no resistance to the rapid runoff of storm water. The forests with their porous floors have disappeared, and the torrential rains no longer seep into the soil, but spill down into the streams, which, unimpeded, lift the river far above its banks and carry destruction to the crops in the lower valleys.

A similar practice of deforestation without replanting is widespread in the United States, and it is well to heed those who point out its dangers.

Alaska Repeats Early Experience of Idaho
Alaska's white population decreased more than 23 per cent in the decade between 1910 and 1920, declining from 70,400 to 53,283 and J. L. McPherson, a civil engineer who has spent 23 years in the territory, told the house committee at Washington last week that unless development is stimulated deforestation will reduce its inhabitants to Indians and eskimos. This witness declared that it was impossible to administer Alaskan affairs from Washington and said it was virtually impossible for white settlers to get possession of Alaska lands or resources without consulting one or a dozen of the 32 different conflicting and overlapping federal bureaus.

ANCIENT HISTORY.
He was the only one of all the wedding guests who did not appear in a happy frame of mind. He only adored the wall, and looked lugubrious. "What's the matter?" he chided upon an exuberant young man. "Have you kissed the bride yet?" "Not lately," he said with a gulp. In a class election at Harvard, 917 seniors cast 605 ballots. So much for the advantage of a higher education.—Honolulu Times.

COPENHAGEN, (AP) — A Helsinki dispatch to the Bellske Tidende today says the Petrograd workers are demanding that the Russian government be transferred to a body representing all political parties. The soviet government, the dispatch says, has prohibited the newspapers from mentioning strikers or other signs of unrest.

BOLSHEVIKI AND REMALTES OFFER EAST "AMALGAMATION"

ATHENS, (AP) — Soviet Russia and the Turkish nationalist government have agreed to a treaty based upon mutual aid for the "emancipation of all peoples of the east, and the abolition of self-determination," it is announced here. The treaty demands all peace or conventions imposed by force upon Turkey. The protocol signed by representatives of the two nations on January 20, 1920, which disposed of territory along their frontiers, was made effective, it is said. Bismarck was given Georgia and Azerbaijan made an autonomous state. The soviet government has released Turkey from all economic engagements entered into by that country with Russia during the czarist regime.

TO KONO WE COMES SEATTLE MISSION

Americans and Japanese Exchange Compliments in the Oriental Capital

TOKIO, May 25.—As reported by radio, the Tokio Business Men's Delegation, which arrived in the beloved home of Watanabe, were guests of honor recently at a luncheon by the Tokio Chamber of Commerce and were later received by Marjorie Okuma, who gave an informal talk and showed the visitors his beautiful gardens.

President R. Fujiyama presided at the chamber of commerce luncheon and Vicecons Shibusawa made a welcome speech. Responding for the visitors, Captain J. S. Gibson of Seattle explained that they had come as a commercial mission from the Pacific northwest to the United States shipping board steamship Watanabe which is inaugurating an American passenger service with Japan. Their object was to meet and extend the hand of friendship to the "great people of Japan" with whom our relations have always been so amicable and peaceful and to cement this friendship which means so much to both nations.

Convicts' Friends' Messages.

Captain Gibson continued: "It is to be exceedingly regretted that we have not with us such men as Judge Thomas Burke and Mr. J. D. Lowman who are from the Pacific coast, such as Mr. Vandellip and Mr. Alexander, who have visited Japan on many previous occasions and are well known to some of us. It was impossible, therefore, to accompany us on this time but they desired us to convey to their affectionate regards. They, as well as many of our other prominent citizens, were friends of Japan and have been honored by the personal friendship of some of our distinguished men, whom they have met in Japan and entertained in our own country."

"Former exchanges of visits by the commercial bodies of this country and ours have demonstrated how important it is for us to maintain close and friendly relations with each other. We need the products of your industries and you need the products of ours. Our mutual trade conditions are always being more direct than those of any people in the United States. You have opened up and developed a great system of steamship service with our country and while our people long to build up an equal steamship communication, it will be one of friendly and honorable competition."

"There never has been a man of any nation who stood higher in the estimation of our northwest district than that great transportation genius who all around, that great man of faith in the future relations between our countries. We all miss him, but we are delighted to again meet him and more direct than those of any people of Japan, who has done more than any other man in promoting the friendship of the two nations."

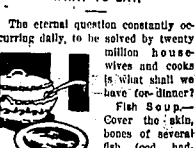

Vicecons Shibusawa through me made an impromptu talk which was received with enthusiasm. After fifteen, the business men, as guests of the chamber of commerce, were taken to the grave of Baron Komodo, head of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Steamship company, who died recently. Captain Gibson, on behalf of the delegation placed a wreath on the grave as a token of respect and affectionate remembrance from the people of the Pacific Northwest because of the great service of the late Baron Komodo in establishing the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line to Seattle 25 years ago.

To produce the body of a murdered man in court as evidence, a Canadian Northwest Mounted Police officer "mushed" by dog team four hundred miles south to the nearest justice's court on the grave as a token of respect and affectionate remembrance from the people of the Pacific Northwest because of the great service of the late Baron Komodo in establishing the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line to Seattle 25 years ago.

The Maine blue-sky law is so strictly enforced that many companies which have no difficulty in securing licenses to offer their securities in other blue-sky states have to resort to the help of the mails to transact business in that state.

The KITCHEN CABINET

If we looked for people's virtues and their faults would we find what a pleasant, cheerful, happy place this world would be.

WHAT TO EAT.

The eternal question constantly occurring daily, to be answered by twenty million housewives and cooks.

What shall we have for dinner? Fish Soup—Cover the skin, bones of several fish (cod, haddock, flounder or lake trout) with cold water, add an onion, half a carrot, half a cupful of celery, three branches of parsley, chopped and fine, one-half cupful of fat; let simmer, closely covered, for half an hour. Strain off the liquid and to a quart of the soup or broth add one-third of a cupful of minute tapioca cooked in a pint of milk until transparent; add a teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of paprika; one cupful of cream and half a pound of fresh raw fish cut in half-inch cubes. Let cook over boiling water ten minutes and serve with tines.

Greens Stew.—Take one pound of leaf beet or a substituted fowl, two cupfuls of tomatoes, one cupful of carrots, one cupful of chopped sweet peppers, one-half cupful of rice, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped onion, one teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of oil. Cut the meat in pieces, melt the fat, add the onions, peppers, meat or chicken; brown in the fat. Put in the cooking vessel, with the seasoning, rice, vegetables, and one cupful of boiling water; steam for one-half hour, then put into the cooker for three hours without the lid. With chicken and okra instead of the meat and carrots, this is a favorite southern dish.

Dried beef prepared by scalding and draining and used as the chicken with macaroni, makes another good hot dish for supper or luncheon.

Apple Gelatin.—Soak two table-spoonfuls of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water. Cook six raw apples with half a lemon rind, or use a tin amount of seasoned apple sauce. Boil for three hours without the lid. Put through a sieve and add the juice of a lemon, the softened gelatin and pour into a mold. Serve with cream, whipped or plain.

PARADE AND MAYOR'S TWIRLING FEATURE BALL LEAGUE'S OPENER

Moose Club Defeats I. D. Store Men 11 to 5 But That is a Mere Incident in the Formal Doings Connected with Twilight League Inaugural—Big Throng Witnesses Ceremonies

More than 1000 died in the usual baseball field a fair share toward making the inaugural of the Twilight Baseball league a conspicuously momentous affair yesterday evening. The crowd was bizzarous, joyous through out the proceedings, and gave the opening party a consistent semblance of big league stuff. Incidentally the Moose ball club whaled the I. D. store outfit, 11 to 5.

Formalities connected with the opening just included a neat little parade through the business section, in which business men, ministers, authorities, baseball executives, players and fans participated. There was music aplenty and the strains of the parading motorized fire engines added much toward making the walk-in ring on this night full occasion.

Crowd Gets Nervous. At the park Mayor P. W. McElzabeth, after a bunch of camera fiends had snapped the patience of the "vast herds," essayed the role of pitcher. This performance was well received, but merely formal, and unemotional, but the skipper of the municipally's destinies, by virtue of last month's election, showed more than a common amount of baseball acumen and aimed the ball straight across the plate with Z. Jarman up as batter. The pitch was a strike, all right, but the batter let it go by, but, in a second, all observers felt the mayor has a keen windup, and everything.

These formalities concluded Empire dignitaries announced batteries and the audience announced it was "time to go," and away they went.

The contest was a pretty thing to look at until the third inning with the teams even up. In the third, however, the Mooseers took the lead in their teeth and went into the lead with four runs. They added three more in the next, driven by Hester Hughes as retirement. Exeter, however, representative of the big store, went into the box, but the fraternal chaos industriously kept on getting runs, until their final count was 11. In a second inning, another side scored, and that ended the ball-batted conflict.

For the I. D.'s counting started in the third, two markers being set down for the Merchants. Another was added in the fourth, but the store totters defaulted in the fifth. The sixth was polluted of two runs, and that was all.

Not Twirler's Fault. Although L. C. Hughes was eliminated from the third part of the picture in the third, owing to the opening "fraters" was not due entirely to weakness of arm. Four glowing errors accounted for three of the four runs chalked against the store players. True it is seven hits were accumulated; off Hughes' delivery, but sharp and accurate feeling should have kept the store down lower. Exeter's 11 to 5 score, however, only three hits the rest of the party, but he got some rather weak support.

Davis, hurling for the Moose, displayed a lot of something that effectively baffled the Merchants. Five hits only were made off his delivery.

and he heeled throughout the conflict. He was as good at the conclusion as at the start, apparently. The sixth was his poorest session, giving three hits in that round which, assisted by bobbles, yielded a brace of tallies. Except for that round the tougher frat man kept the blows well scattered. One of the features of the contest was the deliberate abandon displayed by the fraternal folk in burlesque forays. They arched seven bags off Frank Kieffer, while the Merchants were able to successfully get away with but one.

The game, while won by the Moose, is protested and may have to be played over. The reason—four frames with Husted on first base by virtue of an error by Davis, Beckwith, T. D. right fielder, popped a fly to the inner works. Davis missed it and the umpire called the batter out on his interpretation of the "infield fly" rule. Referring to the book of instructions the Umpire's captain found support for the deliberate abandon displayed by Exeter's fly is operative only when two bases are occupied. The next game will be tomorrow.

The Score.

LAND NEAR KIMBERLY INVOLVED IN ACTION

Selling Company Asks Court to Return Property Originally Sold to Summers

In the district court today a jury is hearing evidence in an action brought by the Idaho Land Improvement company and others against W. R. Summers and others. The action involves title to 50 acres of land located in what is known as the Albert tract, adjacent to the Kimberly townsite.

The plaintiffs seek restoration to them of land formerly sold on contract to Summers on the ground that the terms of the contract have not been complied with. The defendant, on the other hand, resists the action claiming fraud in representation of the quantity of land sold him. Summers alleges the acreage is short.

Taylor, Cummings, W. C. Chapman and Shilo H. Houghton are for the defense, with H. Richards of Boise, and H. E. Haines of Payette for the plaintiffs.

Yesterday afternoon the jury impaneled in the Iphelon and Michigan
