United States to Ignore League on Mandate Question

Direct Negotiations with Japan Bender Action at Geneva Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The American government, it was learned today, does not contemplate participation in the deliberations of the council of the league of nations, which convenes tomorrow at Geneva for consideration of problems arising out of the allocation of mandates. A suggestion that the United States be represented was made by the president of the council after the United States had protested against the award of mandates.

Since the United States and Japan have undertaken a settlement by direct negotiation of pending issues between the two countries, continuation of the mandate by the council is regarded here as unnecessary.

President Obregon made no comment on the protest, asserting he would pass it to the cabinet.

SENATORS LINE UP FOR BATTLE ON POKER BILL

Fight Narrows Down to Contest Between Proponents of Senate Measure and House Proposal as Vote Nears

WASHINGTON, (AP)—As the senate approached a vote today on poker regulatory legislation the fight narrowed to a contest between proponents of the senate agriculture committee measure and advocates of the house bill.

Both sides predicted victory. Those supporting the senate bill claimed to have the assurance of 33 votes with 28 against and 12 doubtful. Advocates of the house bill professed to have a majority of ten votes against the senate measure.

McGovern Finds Flaws. Senator McGovern, republican, Illinois, opened the day's debate with an attack on the senate bill.

Senator Keayon, republican, Iowa, in urging support of the senate bill defended the federal tax on crockery of the house bill as comparable to the authority possessed by officials under the consular regime of Russia or the autonomy of Germany.

Keayon Urges Action. "If those reports be true, and I have no doubt they are," he asserted, "then it is time something be done in the interest of the people of this country."

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR LABOR LEADERS URGED

Federation Convention is Asked to Indorse Plan to Raise the Standards

DENVER, Colo., (AP)—Labor universities to train leaders for the organized labor movement were proposed in a resolution submitted Wednesday to the convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The resolution, submitted by the labor assembly of Palestine, Texas, provided for a referendum vote on the proposal. The institutions would be financed by a 50-cent per capita assessment on every member per year for five years. A fund of $10,000,000 would be provided for five universities, four in the United States and one in Europe.

After the capital had been raised the institutions would be maintained by a yearly 25-cent per capita assessment. Membership in the fundamental principles of the organization is multiplying with greater speed, in proportion, than trained leadership, the resolution said.

Outside the window ledges and convenient trees were filled with people, whose shouts were directed to annoy the court until a deputy was ordered to disperse these people and restore order.

IRISH WITHHOLD INDORSEMENT TO CECIL'S SCHEME

Suggestion of Parliaments at Dublin, and Belfast with Ad- ditional House of Estates Seems Unappreciated

DUBLIN, (AP)—No section of Irish public opinion has endorsed Lord Hugh Cecil's latest suggestion of a settlement of the Irish question. The Cecil plan included the establishment of two small parliaments, one at Belfast and the other at Dublin, with an additional "House of Estates" of 100 members. Ireland was to have "complete fiscal autonomy" and an army of its own, but no navy.

The nearest approach to approval comes from the Freeman's Journal, which says that Lord Hugh "has got the root of the Irish problem in his grasp, but he is afraid to go boldly for the solution without hedging conditions." The hedging condition is held to be the necessity for Ulster agreement, and this, it is argued, means the maintenance of "the Ulster veto" which "can always be relied upon to wreck any plan that would satisfy four-fifths of the people."

The real crux remains in Ulster. The majority in the northern council is attracted to the Cecil plan. The picture of Queen Victoria occupies the walls of the houses of Belfast artisans or Astrin farmers, the place of honor reserved in New York at houses to pictures of Robert Emmett and other leaders of revolt against British rule. According to the Ulster section, no agreement will ever be possible with the rest of Ireland which implies separation from the British empire.

DENIES OIL FIELDS OF MEXICO NEAR EXHAUSTION

Mexican-Petroleum Company Head Replies to Statement of Representative in House

NEW YORK, (AP)—Development and production of oil in Mexico will be going on 30 years hence, said E. L. Dehon, president of the Mexican Petroleum company, in commenting Wednesday on the report made public in Washington by Chairman Porter of the hours foreign affairs committee, which alleged that production in Mexican oil fields was declining.

Mr. Dehon said that this report, which was made in connection with a shipping board report, to Rear Admiral Benson, former chairman of the board, "was made as the result of a cursory trip through the oil fields many months ago."

"Since his short visit to the fields, 145 wells have been drilled and are in progress of drilling," Mr. Dehon continued. "Many of these are completed and it is a well known fact that wells completed on Totece and Nanceo Chapattis open up a new territory more than three times the 10 square miles which is the only territory alluded to in the reports in this morning's papers, and which Mr. Phelan reported as largely exhausted."

FACTS AND FIGURES SUBMITTED IN CONTEST OF STATE AGAINST DEMAND FOR INCREASED TARIFFS

Statistical Review of Costs of Production of Fruits and Vegetables Presented to Utilities Commission, Expected to Prove Big Gun in the Final Defeat of Railroads

The following statistical statement, compiled by the Idaho State Farm Bureau for presentation in connection with, and as an argument against, railroad application for revision of existing rates on Idaho fruit and vegetable, is expected to be a prime factor in convincing the state public utilities commission that the demand for higher freight rates governing this district are unjust and unnecessary:

"In presenting this matter for your consideration we assume that the railroads will recognize that it is of primary importance that the fruit and vegetable industries of Idaho be maintained upon a reasonably prosperous basis and that freight rates will have to be made that will allow the average producer to cover his cost of production."

"An important factor in determining, as set forth by all of the old railroad men who have had to do with the making of the freight rates in Idaho, has been 'what the industries will bear.' Up to the time of government control of railroads, this factor was considered in the making and adjustment of rates on nearly all commodities in interstate commerce. Since that time, the rates have been advanced upon a percentage basis, and in spite of the opinion that proper consideration had been given to the effect that these advances have on our agriculture.

"To illustrate this point, the following compilation based upon average average yields of Idaho products as established by the college of agriculture, University of Idaho, co-operating with the office of farm management and farm economics of the United States department of agriculture, in their bulletin No. 123, together with various other careful compilations of average average yields in all the principal producing districts of the state:

- Apples, 200 boxes;
- Potatoes, 125 boxes;
- Beans, 1200 pounds.

Rates Idaho Industry.
We have applied the increase in freight rates, including the 25 per cent increase of June, 1918 rate, and 33 1/3 per cent increase of August, 1920, together with war taxes, to the yields to show on an average basis how these additions in freight rates are affecting the Idaho agricultural industries. These show that the increases were not made upon a scientific basis, nor at all in conformity with the principles of rate-making that have hitherto been considered by the railroads.

"It will be seen that the total increase in the rates on potatoes applied to a good yield, which competent men may hope to obtain, of 125 cents per acre, or 13,750 pounds, is: 1920 rate Texas points—$1.22 per acre; total freight investment per acre, $107.15. 1918 rate Texas points—60 cents per acre; total freight investment per acre $94.87 1/2; total $72.57 1/2.

Capitalized at 7 per cent, $1041. "This advance capitalized is equivalent to placing a 7 per cent mortgage of $1041 per acre upon the potato lands of Idaho in that class of production, and nearly any of them can be purchased for one-fourth of $1041 per acre; in other words, the advance in freight rates has taken four times the value of these properties.

"In the same class of apples for the acreage producing 200 boxes per acre, the figures are as follows: 1920 rate Chicago—Per box 83 cents; total freight investment per acre, $166. 1918 rate Chicago—50 cents per box per acre, $100; capitalized at 7 per cent, $60.

"This advance capitalized at 7 per cent equals $857.14, or considerably more than the amount the land can be purchased for at the present time. This is equivalent to putting a 7 per cent mortgage of $857.14, upon all the average apple producing lands of this country.

"In the case of beans, the acreage producing 1200 pounds, the figures are as follows: 1920 rate Missouri river—Rate per acre, $1.02 1/2; total freight investment per acre, $123. 1918 rate Missouri river—50 cents per acre, $75; total, $51. Capitalized at 7 per cent, $298.00.

"This advance capitalized at 7 per cent equals $723.90, mortgage per acre upon the average bean land of Idaho, and nearly any of them can be purchased for one-third of that amount. This shows how the rates are affecting the bean business, which has been during the past ten years one of the most profitable agricultural industries in Idaho.

Sworn Statements.
"We would direct your attention particularly to the excessive burden placed upon industries of high yields per acre and whose freight charges are a large proportion of the selling price of the product, compared with industries located within short distances of their consuming markets. In order that you may have authoritative, accurate information as to the cost of producing potatoes, apples and beans under conditions more normal than now, and probably as nearly normal as we may hope to obtain for some years to come, we file with you accurate statements averaged from sworn production costs collected from all the principal producing districts of Idaho.

"Taking the cost of $1.10, as shown in exhibit 'A,' as the average below which it is not probable that the industry can produce potatoes, and adding the present freight rate and war tax of $1.22 per acre, and the result is:

Cost f. o. b. cars.....	$1.10
Present freight rate, including war tax, Texas common points.....	1.12
Total.....	$2.22

"The yearly average price is 95 cents. With the $1.22 added, makes $2.17, which, subtracted from the above $2.22, shows a loss to the industry of 15 cents per acre. This should be conclusive proof that the railroads absorb more than the profit of the industry and that the potato growing industry cannot exist under these conditions. The same may be dotted out for the other fruit and vegetable industries of the state, and will conclusively demonstrate that the advances in the railroad rates alter all the profits of these industries.

"In conclusion, we submit for your most favorable consideration that the railroads cannot afford to allow present rates on Idaho fruits and vegetables to stand, as the industries cannot live under these freight rates. We are willing to concede that the railroads under the existing conditions are entitled to all the freight rates that the industries can stand, but surely it is not in the interests of the railroads, their stock holders, or their bondholders, that rates be maintained that are prohibitive to industries and under which they cannot exist. The principle of a percentage increase cannot be maintained as it is a matter of tonnage producing industries so seriously that they will be forced out of business."

Boise Man Tells Chicago Conference Needs of Sheep Raisers are Urgent

CHICAGO, (AP)—Bankers of Chicago and the middle west conferred Wednesday on a proposition to finance western stock raisers. The financiers were called together by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, under the leadership of John D. Mitchell, of the federal reserve board.

Chicago bankers expressed the opinion that the proposed plan was a financial venture. "Banks cannot gamble," David B. Morgan, head of the National City bank, said, adding that one of the difficulties of the proposal was that the collaterals offered by cattlemen were usually not liquid.

Frank F. Johnson of the Boise City National bank, Boise, Idaho, declared the needs of sheep-raisers was urgent. The need for long term loans, he said, would prevent bankruptcy and crisis in the sheep raising industry.

CONTRACT FOR HARNESS ANNULLLED BY PRESIDENT

Authorities are Convinced of Purpose of Army Officers to Lino Own Purses

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—On advice of the attorney general, President Harding has annulled war department contracts with the United States Harness company for disposal of surplus harness. Mr. Daugherty held these contracts to violate criminal code sections prohibiting participation by government officers or employees in such transactions.

Secretary Weeks in a statement said the attorney general had concluded that certain former temporary army officers intended to benefit by the contracts with the harness company and that the war department actually had followed the advice of the attorney general.

Secretary Weeks said the case now was in the hands of the department of justice for each action as deemed proper. He believed, he said, it would be made a part of the general investigation of war contracts ordered by Mr. Daugherty. The only other war contract case transmitted to the department of justice, Mr. Weeks added, was that known as the "salmon case."

SOVIET BANS RELIGION IN STORY COMPICTION

LONDON, (AP)—All religious or mythological subjects are banned from competition for the best short story written for Russian children who has been organized by the Moscow soviet commissariat for education, says a dispatch to the Morning Post.

Additional notices for competitors as published by the soviet newspapers are that the children's tales must be devoid of all elements of superstition, and must contain no mention of angels, fairies and evil geniuses. Kings and princes must be described as oppressors of the masses, "such as they are in reality."

As suitable subjects are suggested the future of mankind, the achievements of science, technical skill and industry, while tales describing the life of the working masses will be especially welcome.

DEMPSEY STARTS HARD TRAINING AGAIN FOR BOUT

After Four Days' Layoff Champion Takes Up Hard Work for Two Weeks

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—After a four days layoff, Jack Dempsey resumed training today with the prospect of continuing his grind without further interruption until the windy two weeks from tomorrow.

Dempsey's sparring partners have taken advantage of the champion's layoff to prepare themselves for the strenuous two weeks ahead of them.

Martin Burke, the lanky heavy weight from New Orleans will no longer be available as a sparring partner because of a badly swollen ear. Burke will undergo an operation in New York, but will return to camp at Dempsey's guest for the balance of the training.

The threat of the New Jersey boxing commission to annul the referee today whether Kearns attended the meeting or not, brought a sharp reply from the champion's manager.

"The fact that the commission names a referee doesn't necessarily mean that he will referee," said Kearns. "In my opinion the New Jersey commission is overstepping its authority when it attempts to fetter any one candidate on Richard, Dempsey and myself whether the selection meets with our approval or not."

"I know nothing about the capabilities of Harry Eric, who it is said to be the commission's popular choice, and I do not care to risk the world's championship held by Dempsey in a fight refereed by a man whose ability has not been proven to me."

SPEND HUGE SUM ON STADIUM FOR CHAMPION BOUT

Sum of $256,000 Expended on Arena in which Dempsey and Carpentier will Fight

JERSEY CITY, N. J., (AP)—The bowl shaped wooden arena for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight here July 2, will be finished next Tuesday, says Allen O'Brien, the chief engineer of the construction work. It will seat 60,000 persons and will cost approximately $256,000 dollars. More than 2,000,000 feet of lumber have been used.

Grading of the ground was begun April 27. The city has put up extra hydrants and water mains for protection against fire. There will be 20 exits.

A portable ring of steel construction will be used for the battle. The work of installing the ring in the center of the arena will be started within the next few days.

The ring will measure eighteen feet square and the ropes and will have a two-foot extension on all sides.

The jadding will be covered with a tightly stretched canvas.

Swinging stools for the boxer will be provided. A hinge in the arm will permit the seat being dropped below the floor level during the periods of boxing.

Brief Bits of Sport

They postpone ball games in big leagues, too, because of rain and wet grounds.

The I. D. S. and the "Yeiks" may meet this evening; and they again they may not.

An eastern sports writer, trying to be charitable toward the flatie champion of the world, says Dempsey finally wanted to waive exemptions and go into the service.

The Salt Lake man was prevented from carrying out this alleged scheme because of bad advice from managerial headquarters.

Said eastern writer admits that Dempsey did not have strength of character to resist Kearns' arguments, and then came the shipyard stunt with all those pictures of the fighter wielding a sledgehammer while wearing his peaked-hood, patent leather, cloth topped shoes, new striped overalls and a winning smile.

Nevertheless Dempsey stands convicted by thousands of men who served overseas and in training camps of "shirkery," regardless of a court's verdict.

Having ample the ouija board an actual expert somewhere near Boston sends forth the message from the spirit world, of course, that Dempsey will not survive the second round.

The ouija expert names the moment and exact spot when the Salt Lake scrapper will get his "a" in the mitts of Georges Carpentier.

That's comfort for some very weary folk who have worried a lot about the outcome of the big July 2 battle.

The secret is out—the secret which for six months had been jealously guarded by Louis B. Mayer in connection with the First National picture, which was directed by John M. Stahl and which, until very recently, had no name.

Everybody now knows (but the name selected for this big picture which will be shown for a week at the Gem theatre, beginning today, is "The Women in His House." But everyone does not know this how particular this happened to be chosen.

An Indispensable Service

More of us than is ordinarily supposed depend directly or indirectly upon the chief constituent of petroleum—gasoline. Don't think for a minute that motor vehicle owners are the only ones who depend on gasoline. Motor transportation is a vital factor today in the life of almost every American community—particularly in supplying the so-called "perishable" foods.

The problem of furnishing gasoline for the 9,000,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States is by no means a simple one. The Continental Oil Company is responsible as a public servant for maintaining a dependable supply of petroleum products in the six states which it serves at all times. And this responsibility is not an easy one to meet. It calls for a large amount of equipment, including tank-trucks, fleets; storage depots, properly maintained service stations, etc., all involving the investment of a large amount of capital. In other words, it is a decidedly big task and must be handled in a big, progressive way.

This company is always striving to be of the greatest possible benefit to the greatest possible number. It feels that the gratifying success it has attained is but an indication of the effectiveness with which its policies have been administered and the degree to which they have been of service to the public at large.

Largely as a result of the service now being rendered by the Continental Oil Company, motorized farm equipment is kept well supplied with fuel and oils of reliable and uniformly high quality; the motor truck fleets of industry and business in the large cities can obtain their full requirements at all times; housewives are always able to purchase pure, clean kerosene, paraffin, household lubricants and many other household necessities, all of which will usually be delivered at their doors. And, of course, every motorist is assured of high grade gasoline and motor lubricants by simply stopping at any one of the hundreds of Continental soldier signs—they are symbols of superior quality and supreme service.

Don't go shopping for your gasoline and motor oils. Get a supply of Conoco Coupon Books and carry them in your car. You'll find them a decided convenience on the road.

He formerly was a member of the senate.

When 10 years old he began teaching in the public schools. He began the study of law. Moving to Chicago, he was admitted to the bar in 1872, and was identified with the legal profession here for more than forty years. In 1873 he was married to Edith White of Des Moines.

In 1870, he was elected to the general assembly, to the state senate in 1881; to congress in 1887, was defeated for re-election in 1892 and was elected United States senator in 1897. In 1910 he was elected representative at large from Illinois.

In June, 1917, Representative Mason attracted considerable attention in the house of representatives when he proposed that he would offer a bill to repeal the conscription law of amendment it so as to provide that conscripted troops should not be sent abroad without their consent.

Seven grown children and the widow survive. One of the sons, Lowell B., was associated with his father in the law business here.

Today's Markets

WHEAT PRICES FALL LOWER

Heavy Selling Offsets Effect of Adm. Report on Crop Exports; Cane in Weak

CHICAGO, (AP)—Bullish crop reports led to sharp upticks today in the price of wheat. According to a leasing expert, the prevailing conditions in South Dakota were such as would be likely to make the black rust plague develop. Another well known authority reported that the wheat crop in Ohio and Indiana showed huge areas that had suffered permanent injury. Demand was also varied by a decided advance in foreign exchange. The opening prices which started from 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 lower, with July $1.30 3/4 to 1-1/2 and September $1.21 1/2 to 1.22, were followed by a rapid rise much above yesterday's finish.

Reports of black rust in Minnesota counted later as an additional bullish factor, but subsequently heavy selling on the part of big longs caused a sharp break in prices. The close was weak, 1-2 to 1-4 c net lower, with July $1.28 1/2 to 1.29 1/4 and September $1.21 1/2 to 1.21 3/4.

Corn advanced with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1-4 c lower, including September at 62-3/8 to 62-3/4, the market showed a material advance all around.

Report business tended later to check declines. The close was firm, at 3-8e to 1-2 net advance, with September 81-3/8 to 81-3/4.

Oats were stronger in line with other cereals, starting 1-8 off to 3-8 c, September 68-3/4 to 68-7/8, and then continued to harden.

Provisionary sympathized with grain, despite lower prices in the hog market.

GERMANS BUILD SCANT HOPES ON SOVIETS TRADE

Business Interests and Press Evince Skepticism Over Value of Preliminary Commercial Agreement with Reds

COLOGNE, Germany. (AP)—German business interests and the German press are extremely skeptical about the value of the preliminary trade agreement entered into with the Russian soviet republic by the German government and frankly declare there is little reason to hope for immediate trade with Russia on any considerable scale.

Big Barrier Imposed.

The fact that the soviet republic still insists upon monopolizing all import and export business and had the preliminary trade agreement written with that object in view confuses German business men who profess to be unable to comprehend the document.

While the soviet republic takes to itself the rights and functions of a business corporation, it also holds to the well established international principle that a government cannot be sued, but endeavors to reassure business men who desire to do business with it by including in the preliminary agreement a stipulation that dealings between the Russian government and German firms and individuals in Russia must be controlled by an arbitration court.

Warns Against False Hopes.

In discussing the agreement the Cologne Gazette says: "This is the first step toward readjustment of business relations, the first step being still far in the future. Nevertheless, it is toward and others must necessarily follow. The new agreement means that the two business delegations—in Moscow and Berlin—must be constantly exchanged and clothed with more authority. An urgent warning should be issued against false hopes of great commercial advantage. "The German business men who put their faith in this agreement can have no guarantee of personal or property security, for the interpretation can be as distorted by the mental gymnasts of the red republic as it is distorted by its purpose. There is insufficient security offered for German life and property, which will in every instance be the mercy of Bolshevik commissars."

FRENCH RESUME DRIVE ON TURKS

Advices from Smyrna Say Nationalists Suffer Reverses in Syrian Operations

ATHENS. (AP)—Reports that the French have resumed hostilities against the Turkish nationalists in Syria and in subsequent press have been received in Smyrna says a dispatch from that city published by the Politien. General Gouraud, there reports arrest, in marching to Aleppo, and crushing the opposition by artillery fire.

ously mentioning the union wage standards of all union workers throughout the northwest territory," said the resolution, which was adopted.

W. M. Short, of the Washington Federation of Labor, in supporting the resolution said that men are being shipped from the cities to lumber camps at a wage of $2.35 a day and forced to pay $25 a week for board.

He declared that 80 per cent of the workers in the lumber industry have belonged to the employers' labor organization and that thousands are dissatisfied and ready to join the American Federation of Labor.

Stagnation Fatal.

"To be fossilized is to be stagnant, unprogressive, dead, frozen into a solid. It is only liquid currents of thought that move men and the world," Wendell Phillips.

Miss Frick Plans Art Library

Miss Helen C. Frick, daughter of the late Henry C. Frick, who served in the American Red Cross in France during the war, and who now lives in London, has decided to carry out her father's wish to establish a similar library in connection with the Frick $3,000,000 foundation of old master paintings in the family mansion in New York.

Miss Frick is collecting photographs and prints to found an art reference library in New York. Mr. Witt and other art experts of Europe are assisting her.

STATE REVEALS LINES IN CHAIN

proached him for a loan of money. He was not in condition to spare much money but Meyer insisted that the need was urgent. He said that he had bought an auto from the Johnson Auto Sales company, that she had given a promissory note for the balance due on it; that she had not realized that this was a promissory note, and had sold the car, and that there was trouble about the matter. Witness went with Meyer and wife to the Johnson Auto company house, and there gave his check for $500, and signed a note with Meyer and wife for $700 additional. Meyer and wife also raised questions which they attempted to clean up the obligation. At that time Mrs. Meyer signed the note Lydia McHaffie. Meyer explained this to witness with the statement that she did not want it generally known that she was married. Mrs. Meyer in the talk leading to his helping them out, witness said, declared that she would have $10,000 on September 1, and for this reason the note to the Johnson people was made to mature September 10. Mrs. Meyer said that she would have the money out of the sale of 10,000 either in Montana or Canada.

On cross-examination by W. P. Guthrie, leading counsel for Mrs. Southard, witness stated that Mrs. Meyer complained of being sick from symptoms similar to those of Meyer at the time he was taken ill, and that Squires also was similarly afflicted, but in mild degree.

Gives History of Case.

Dr. Coughlin, recounted the history of the case after he was called. Mrs. Meyer, witness said, called him to the house at the address of Mrs. Meyer on August 23. He had found Meyer suffering from violent purging. Patient was very weak and suffered intensely. He had an degree of fever. Patient did not improve during the next few days, and on Tuesday, he was removed to the county hospital, where a special nurse was employed. After the removal to the hospital patient's temperature was abnormal, and he did not improve. Feeling that possibly his diagnosis of the case as pneumonia might be in error, Dr. Coughlin called in Dr. Alzakow for consultation. Patient of opinion did not follow the consultation, and the symptom treatment was continued.

Relapses Follows Nurse's Leaving.

After the lapse of about a week, patient showed marked signs of improvement, and witness said that he discussed with Meyer the advisability of letting the special nurse go, as a matter of economy. It was decided to let the nurse go the following day. At that time about 10 o'clock witness received a hurried call to the hospital, and found Meyer suffering a serious relapse. He was purging violently and his symptoms were identical with the attack characterized by his earlier illness. Dr. Coughlin said that he then called Dr. Bieler, pathologist, and blood samples were taken for examination. Dr. Bieler reported the presence of typhoid bacilli. Witness said his mind was not cleared by this report, as typhoid fever is almost always attended by very high fever, that he had never encountered a typhoid case unattended by fever. And Meyer's temperature was then abnormal, and had been ever since he was brought to the hospital. Patient did not improve, but he gradually worse till death the next day, September 8.

Orders Post Mortem.

The day of death, witness said that he ordered the body opened and portions of vital organs removed for examination by Dr. Bieler. Dr. Bieler again reported the occurrence of typhoid bacilli. The following day a second post mortem examination was conducted at the undertaking morgue. This was conducted by Dr. Bieler. Dr. Wilson reported the presence of typhoid bacilli, interrupted to announce record till 1:30.

During the entire hearing Mrs. Southard sat quietly between her parents and her counsel. The pallor of her face intensified by appearance of excitation. She entered the court with an air of confidence but modesty. She greeted her father who had been led for her to come down the stairs from the jail with her mother, who went up with the sheriff to accompany her.

During all the hearing she did not speak, even to her parents but sat with her face to the bench of her fourth husband. There was no evidence of her feelings in the expression of her face. Intermittently she would look up the face of a witness, but only for an instant. And there was no sign showing thought or view. It was but a look of inquiry, and wholly without the shadow of resentment.

Southard on Way Here.

Just before the hearing, W. J. True blood, her aged father, had received a letter from the state of Washington, the husband whose name the prisoner bears, saying that he will be in on the noon train tomorrow, and sending his love to an audience in his wife. The wire was from Salt Lake.

which point he had reached on his journey.

Mr. Trueblood showed the telegram to his daughter just before she entered the courtroom. She smiled brightly then taking the arm of her mother she walked quietly into the courtroom.

A Man for the Ages A Story of the Builders of Democracy By Irving Bacheller

Copyright, Irving Bacheller CHAPTER VIII Wherein Abe Announces His Purpose to Be a Candidate for the Legislature, at Kelso's Dinner Party...

Harry Needles met Kim Belsco on the road next day, when he was going down to see if there was any mail. She was on her pony. He was in his new suit of clothes...

"You look like a walking check-book," said she. "This is my new suit," Harry answered, looking down at it. "It's a three-piece suit," said she impatiently. "I've been playing checkers on it since I caught sight of you. I've got a man covered in the king row."

"I thought you'd like it," he answered, quiet seriously, and with a look of disappointment. "Say, I've got that razor and I've shaved three times already."

"Don't tell anybody," he warned her. "They'd laugh at me. They wouldn't know how I feel."

"I won't say anything," she answered. "I reckon I ought to tell you that I don't love you—not so much as I did, anyway—not near so much as I only love you just a wee bit."

"Harry's face fell. "You—you—love—some other man?" he asked. "Yes—a regular man—muscled, six feet tall and everything. I just tell you he's purty!"

"Is it that rich feller from St. Louis?" he asked. She nodded and then whispered: "Don't you tell."

"The boy's lips trembled when he answered. "I won't tell. But I don't see how you can do it."

"Why?" "He drinks. He isn't respectable."

"That's a lie," she answered quickly. "I don't care what you say."

"Bini touched her pony with the whip and rode away. Harry staggered for a moment as he went on. His eyes filled with tears. It seemed to him that the world had been turned. On his way to the village he tried and convicted it of being no fit place for a boy to live in. Down by the tavern he met Abie, who stopped him.

"Howdy, Harry!" said Abie. "You look kind of sick. Come into the store and sit down. I want to talk to you."

Harry followed the big man into Ours's store, flattered by his attention. There had been something very creepy in the sound of Abie's voice and the feel of his hand. The store was empty.

"You and I mustn't let ourselves be worried by little matters," said Abie, as they sat down together by the fire. "Things that seem to you to be as big as a mountain now will look like a mole-hill in six months. You and I have got things to do, partner. We mustn't let ourselves be flustered. I was once in a boat with old Cap'n Clues on the Illinois river. We was bound to the rapids. It was a narrow channel in dangerous water. They had to keep her headed just so or we'd have gone on the rocks. Suddenly a boy dropped his apple overboard and began to holler. He wanted to have the boat stopped. For a minute that boy thought his apple was the biggest thing in the world. We're all a little like him. We keep dropping our apples and calling for the boat to stop. Soon we find out that there are many apples in the world as good as that one. You have all come to a stretch of low water up at your house. The folks have been sick. They're a little lonesome and discouraged. Don't you make it any harder by the next party a little while."

"I know it's possible that the apple will float away from the still water where you can pick it up by and by. The important thing is to keep going ahead."

This bit of fatherly counsel was a help to the boy. "You're not a book here that I want you to read," Abie went on. "It is the 'Life of Henry Clay.' Take it home and read it carefully and then bring it back and tell me what you think of it. You may be a Henry Clay yourself by and by. The world has something in it for every one if he can only get it. We're all searching—some for gold and some for fame. I pray God every day that He will help me to find my work—the thing I can do better than anything else—and when it is found hold on to it. I know it will be a hard and dangerous search and that I shall make mistakes. I expect to drop some apples on my way. They'll look like gold to me, but I'm not going to lose sight of the main purpose."

"Then you'll go home to see Sarah sewing by the fire, with Joe and Betsey playing by the bed. Samson had gone to the woods to split rails."

"Any mail?" Sarah asked. "No mail," he answered. "Sarah went to the window and stood for some minutes looking out at the plain. It was grassy, protruding out of the snow, hilled and bent in the wind. In its cheerless winter colors it was a dreary thing to see."

"I don't like to see you so gloomy," she exclaimed, as she resumed her sewing by the fire. "Little Joe came and stood by her knee and gave his old repeated blessing."

"Did help us and make His face to shine upon us."

"She kissed him and said: "Dear comforter! He shines upon me every time I hear you say those words."

"Would you mind if I called you mother?" Harry asked. "I don't believe she'd be any more to you if it gives you any comfort, Harry," she answered.

"She observed that there were tears in his eyes. "We are all very fond of you," she said, as she bent her task.

"Then the boy told her the history of the morning—the talk with Bini, with the razor and the feller from St. Louis."

"Well, Harry, if you're such a fool, you're lucky to have found it out so soon," said Sarah. "She does little but ride the pony and play around with a gun. I don't believe she ever spun a ball of yarn in her life. She'll get her teeth cut by and by."

"Then fell a moment of silence. Soon she said: "There's a bitter wind blowing and there's no hurry about the rails I guess. You sit here by the fire and read your book this forenoon. Maybe it will help you to get your work done."

So it happened that the words of Harry's morning found their place in the diary which Sarah and Samson kept. Long afterward Harry told the substance about the matter.

CLUB WOMEN ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY BETTERMENT

Department Chairman Makes Interesting Report to Salt Lake Session

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (AP)—County conferences of women in every county in every state, at which community needs may be discussed, are being urged by the Department of Applied Education of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. J. H. Dickinson Sherman, Chicago, chairman of the department, declared in an address here today at the Great Salt Lake council of the federation.

Conferees will help women to see for themselves why own home and community needs and how they may be developed, Mrs. Sherman said. "Our program is based upon facts rather than theory, and actually functions in the lives of women of the communities."

One aim of the department, Mrs. Sherman added, is to arouse public opinion to the need of education that a substantial public sentiment will be created for better schools and that the standard of rural schools will be raised so country children may have educational opportunities equivalent to those in the cities.

Statewide campaigns for kindergarten education are urged, she said. The kindergarten is the place of places where Americanization should begin, and yet only twelve per cent of all children of kindergarten age in the country begin their school life in the kindergarten.

"In short it is the aim of this department to build up in every community constructive influences to counteract the effect of destructive influences now abroad in the land," Mrs. Sherman said. "It is essential that the right mental attitude surround the child, outside of the schoolroom as well as within, in order that he may develop into a rational, loyal American citizen."

"Each phase of the subject of food, in study outline, has been given the club women and every club in the country is being urged to take a definite stand on the subject of clothing. We expect the club women to convince manufacturers as well as there is a demand for a standardized group of certain fabrics that have a preponderating use."

"We are all very fond of you," she said, as she bent her task. "Then the boy told her the history of the morning—the talk with Bini, with the razor and the feller from St. Louis."

"Well, Harry, if you're such a fool, you're lucky to have found it out so soon," said Sarah. "She does little but ride the pony and play around with a gun. I don't believe she ever spun a ball of yarn in her life. She'll get her teeth cut by and by."

"Do You—Love—Some Other Man?" He Asked.

The Silent Policeman

Picture yourself in dire necessity of the strong arm of the law! You dash out of your house, in the night to call a policeman. But, alas, he is nowhere in sight.

That is not always the policeman's fault. He has a good deal of ground to cover, and he may be at the other end of his beat.

But, each night, there is a silent policeman standing at your street corner. There are thousands of them in your city. They are the street lights operated by the big electric light and power company of your community.

Crime cannot exist within the circle of their protecting radiance.

During the war, several cities, in their efforts to assist in the saving of coal, ordered the reduction of their street lights. In one great city, the Mayor ordered that all such lights, outside of the central business section, should be extinguished at eleven o'clock.

Within an hour after the order was put into effect three murders, a score of hold-ups and innumerable robberies, including the theft of the Mayor's own car from in front of the City Hall, were committed. Before the night was over, the Mayor ordered the street lights turned on again.

It is due to the faith of some 1,450,000 investors in the securities of the electric light and power industry that these silent policemen stand at your street corners.

It is authentically declared that 1,500,000 homes, 500,000 factories, 5,000 churches, 60,000 apartment buildings, 15,000 theatres and 5,000 public schools must be built immediately in this country.

Many of these must be supplied with electric service. New streets will be developed and these streets must be guarded as your street is—with silent policemen. This means that, with public understanding and support, one billion dollars a year will be invested to develop the electric light and power industry during the next four years.

Improvement Shown in Gem State School Attendance Record

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—According to the census of 1920 there are 68,108 children 7 to 13 years of age in the state of Idaho and of this number 65,102 or 95.6 per cent were reported as attending school. In 1919 the percentage attending school was 87.4, thus indicating a gratifying improvement in regard to school attendance between 1919 and 1920. Of the children 14 and 15 years of age in 1920, 91.9 per cent were attending school and of those 16 and 17 years of age 82.3 per cent.

The percentage of children attending schools was practically the same in the cities as in the country districts, the percentage for children in the urban population 7 to 13 years of age being 92.4 and in the rural population 85.5. "Urban," according to the census definition, includes all towns or cities of 2,500 population or more.

COAST TENNIS PLAYERS IN BERKELEY TOURNEY

Championship to be Decided in Thirty-third Annual Tournament of California Association

BERKELEY, Cal., (AP)—Tennis championships of the Pacific coast for 1921 will be decided at the thirty-third annual tournament to be held here from June 14 to 25 under the auspices of the California Lawn Tennis Association.

Several national stars will be entered. Among them will be former world champion, and Davis cup holder, Clarence (Derk) Griffin, San Francisco, who, with Johnston, holds the national doubles title; William Davis, San Francisco, present Pacific Coast champion; Roland Roberts, San Francisco, who defeated Johnston several weeks ago for the Central California championship at Sacramento; and who, with Davis, ranks No. 2 in the national men's doubles, and Howard and Robert Kinsey, San Francisco, who rank No. 4 in the men's doubles.

Miss Mary Strong, Los Angeles, who has twice held the national women's championship and who, incidentally, won the Southern California golf championship recently, will be one of the prominent entries among the women on her. Helen Baker, San Francisco, holder of the California state and Pacific coast championships, and Eleanor Tennant, Los Angeles, who is No. 3 on the national ranking list of women, also will enter.

Officials of the association say they expect the tournament will be one of the kind ever held on the coast. More than 250 entries in all are expected, with at least 100 in the men's singles.

Reservations have been sent to Maurice McLaughlin, former world champion, and Fred B. Alexander, two prominent Los Angeles players.

Entries have also been received from associations of other western states, including the Pacific Northwest Association of Portland, Ore., and the International Tennis Association of Salt Lake City. At Salt Lake City a lake reclamation project that it might send a team.

ALL METAL PROPELLER'S BLADES ARE REVERSIBLE

Pittsburgh Concern Delivers to Government Device Making Innovation in Aeronautics

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP)—An all-metal propeller for airplane engines capable of having the blades reversed, has been delivered to the government by a local company.

According to officials of the company, the propeller is made of reversible blades in its first test as stepped in a distance of 280 feet by means of the new device. Under the old system a plane could not stop before traveling at least 700 feet. It is the plan of the company to so perfect the new blades that a stop can be made, after landing, within 100 feet.

The design of the new blades was made at McCook field, while the mechanical details were worked out in Pittsburgh.

The blades, which are made of steel and of varying section and thickness, without welding, except to close the extreme tip, fit over the two arms of the hub. They are held in place by means of rollers and ball bearings. The rollers are said to greatly reduce the friction of the rotation of the blades about their center axis. An angular development of 45 degrees can be obtained in a matter of a control which extends to the cockpit.

SOVIET RETAINS SUMMARY POWER

Touted Reforms Do Not Extend to the Extraordinary Commissions

RIGA, Latvia, (AP)—Newspapers in the Baltic states say that, regardless of reforms recently made in Russia by the Bolshevik regime, the power of the "Tokevevniks," or Extraordinary Commissions to combat counter-revolution, continues to grow until it has become a menace even to the foreign trade relations of Russia.

This organization, commonly known as the "Cheka," acting independently of all other government departments, is credited by the papers here with the power to throw suspected persons into jail without preliminary trial, and even to order their execution with little or no hearings.

"In regard to the relations between the soviet government and foreign countries," says the Riga Rundschau, "the Extraordinary Commission continues to act with supreme power and even with the right to oppose the plans of soviet Russian government institutions, all the trade and other treaties concluded between Russia and the west can lead to no definite or regular results."

"If the Extraordinary Commission would confine its arbitrary activity to internal affairs only, we might overcome the existing difficulties, but it is exactly in regard to the fulfillment of peace treaties and other agreements, that the arbitrary institution interferes with impunity. It is not necessary to enumerate here the various cases which justify this assertion. Hundreds of war prisoners, who by virtue of the peace treaties should be released, are kept prisoners, by order of that body. Dozens who are eligible for repatriation cannot leave Russia. Trains with refugees are held up by order of this institution, revision is made and many persons ordered to leave the train."

ATTRIBUTES GROWTH IN MUSIC IN U. S. TO WAR

Club Women at Salt Lake Hear Views of Federation Music Chairman

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (AP)—Music has become a force and not an adjunct in the life of every American citizen, Anna Oberlander, Oberlander, Chicago, national music chairman of the General Federation of Women's clubs, declared in an address here today at the federation's Great Salt Lake Council.

"We Americans have had the wrong attitude regarding music for so long that it is difficult for us to grasp quickly the full realization of its power," she said. "As a nation we have treated music as a thing apart from, instead of a part of, our daily life. It is not so many years ago that the average American business man was all but ashamed to acknowledge a love for music."

"Now a change has come. If we re-stated the pages of musical history we will find that the greatest growth in music always follows some great war. The pre-war status of music in America will never return."

Mrs. Oberlander urged daily music hours in the homes during which the folk songs of America will be sung. Music memory contests should be started in every community, by women's clubs, she declared. The speaker declared many large industries, which started community sings for employes during war times, were forced to forbid the singing of "jazz" music in their factories. "Jazz" music, she said, "in its original form was used as accompaniment to the Yiddish grammar."

Tuberculosis and stomach. Tuberculosis surely attacks the stomach, and the reason for this is explained by Dr. Wilhelm Ostzner of Berlin in describing one case in Berlin Klinische Wochenschrift. He says the gastric juice, acted by the active movements of the stomach, kill the germs of tuberculosis before they get a chance to take hold.

SEES NEED OF TARIFF IN FOREIGN TRADE REVIVAL

San Francisco Packager Gives the Credit Men His Views on Situation

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Unless the United States, in the great credit nation, establishes credits and credits investments to restore the buying power of foreign nations, now prostrate as the result of the war, American credit will have no substantial improvement in the market for their products. C. H. Bentley, San Francisco, vice president of the California Packing corporation, declared in an address at the twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men here today.

Europe needs many American products, Mr. Bentley said, but unable to pay for them or give satisfactory credit, and to the absence of foreign markets can be blamed the present general depression in the United States.

"Pending tariff legislation will determine largely the success of our foreign trade," Mr. Bentley continued. "Tariffs on imports are needed, if, for no other reason, in order that we may have something to trade with in negotiating commercial treaties or reciprocal trade with other nations."

"We shall be deeply involved in foreign economic adjustments for generations to come and our government should adopt a foreign policy. It seems inconsistent for us to grant appropriations for foreign trade development and also incur the hostility of nations most likely to trade with us by proposing legislation of an extremely protective character. With a consistent, well-considered foreign policy, our foreign trade will tend to cease peace and prosperity throughout the world."

Munitions for Irish Seized in New York

NEW YORK, (AP)—A quantity of machine guns and munitions believed by agents of the department of justice to have been destined for shipment to Ireland was seized Wednesday by customs officers aboard a steamer tied up at Hellgate.

The custom officers refused to discuss their seizure, but officials of the department of justice admitted, that they were investigating a report that the arms were to have been shipped to Ireland.
