SAN FRANCISCO PLANS TO SPAN WATERS OF BAY

Inadequacy of Ferries to Carry Crush of Travel Brings Forth Project for Bridge to Peninsular City

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., (AP) — San Francisco's "Chinese Wall" as some have called the waters of San Francisco bay which separate this peninsula city from the continental mainland of Alameda county, is to be crossed, according to plans announced here tonight. All the plans call for a bridge across the bay, with one scheme proposing a tube to Yerba Buena island, half way across, and a bridge the rest of the distance.

Bridging the bay would, it is explained, bring closer together the city of San Francisco with the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and other points on the continental side of the metropolitan area. Daily hundreds of thousands of people, who live across the bay cross over the ferries, and generally, on Sunday and holidays, the ferry system cannot keep up with the crush of automobiles seeking passage across.

Engineers are discussing the type of bridge to be built. The proposal to utilize Yerba Buena island calls for a tube from the San Francisco side, a railroad around the island and a suspension bridge to the end of one long ferry pier already built. Another scheme is to cross the bay with a bridge over the shallow waters leading to the lower sections of the harbor. Gustav Lindenthal, widely known eastern engineer, has drawn a set of plans for a proposed bridge, it was announced here, and A. J. Barb, San Francisco financier, has declared that the money for the bridge proposed by Lindenthal can be raised without difficulty.

Chambers of commerce on both sides of the bay, together with the San Francisco Motor Car Dealers' association, are supporting the proposals.

CHAMBERLAIN DISAVOWS ALLIANCE AGAINST U. S.

British Government Leader Gives Views on Anglo-Japanese Treaty Issue

LONDON, (AP) — Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the house of commons declared in the house Friday afternoon with regard to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty: "Although I do not in any way wish to pre-judge the action of the imperial conference, it is right to say at once that we shall be no party to any alliance directed against America, or under which we are called upon to act against America."

Mr. Chamberlain made this statement during debate on the agenda for forthcoming sessions of the conference. "I think it will be found possible," he continued, "to reconcile our desire for a perfect understanding and close cooperation with the people of the United States and the continuance of our close and intimate friendship with an ally who acted so loyally on the occasion when the alliance became operative and rendered such valuable support to the empire during the war. That, after all, must be the object of any British cabinet, any British ministry or any government of any of the dominions or India. Surely it must be their object to secure such confidence, such an understanding and such co-operation among the great Pacific powers as may prevent that new competition in armaments of which mention has been made, and to secure the peace of that great ocean and the land adjoining upon it."

Mr. Chamberlain, replying to the argument that the conditions which he resented in the Anglo-Japanese alliance had passed away, said he agreed to this, but that it was necessary that new regard to conditions in the future. He refused to believe, he said, that the alliance had given rise to any real misapprehension or misunderstanding in America, except among people who were misinformed, but in any case, he declared, there was no reason for such apprehension. He said that Great Britain's determination to maintain friendly relations with her American kinsmen.

POPULARITY OF LENINE LENDS REDS STRENGTH

Bolshevik Dictator is Still Most Popular Man in Russia, Says Florida Man who Escaped from Moscow Prison Camp

RIGA, Latvia, (AP) — Lenine's personality and the faith that most Russian peasants and workmen have in him, despite their dissatisfaction with conditions under which they are forced to live, is perhaps the one big factor that holds the Bolshevik regime in power, says Captain M. C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who escaped from a prison camp near Moscow. Captain Cooper is flying for the Polish army when made prisoner in July, 1920.

Everybody for Lenine. "Lenine is still the most popular man in Russia," said Captain Cooper, "much more so than Trotsky. I found that the majority of peasants and the workmen, even those in prison, believed in him. They are terrorized by the Tcheka, or counter revolutionary committee, which really is running things in Russia. But I believe that if the Tcheka were abolished practically everybody would be for Lenine."

This, said, Captain Cooper, is not hard to understand, for Lenine's pictures have been distributed everywhere. Travelers in Russia will see two of his pictures for every one of Trotsky.

Regarding the "Tcheka," which with its manifold branches and subdivisions that stretch out like the tentacles of an octopus into every village, forming a combined supreme court, detective department and spy system, which has powers of life and death to "combat counter revolution," Captain Cooper said:

Further Fears Children. "The Tcheka has every one terrorized. The saying is that one in every four persons is a member of it or some other sort of a spy. One of the Russian officers with whom I was intimate and who has been informed that he was to be released told me he was afraid to go home, as he had four children, and was afraid one of them might be a spy."

WEAK PITCHING GIVES MOOSE SUBSTANTIAL LEAD BUT BANKS SNEAK UP AND WIN, SCORE 11-7

League Leaders Retain Position by the Dint of Mighty Slugging after Giving Opposition a Running Start—Day is One of Twirlers Eliminations—Larson and Larkin Offensive Stars

APPEAR staking the opposition to a substantial, and apparently commanding lead the Bankers last night, 'snuck' up on the rejuvenated Moose and treated the muck-manned, stragglers to another handsome beating. The score at the conclusion of play was 11 to 7.

Weak pitching in the fourth frame nearly spilled disaster for the "men of means" for in that span the frazzled troupe of "Stomachies" Eaton and Jensen forced him to the show-ers. Eaton never showed a thing, unless one might designate his very presence a free of noisome offensiveness, during his term of servitude. His chucking was merely a pleasure for the Moose, and had he remained on the hillcock it would doubtless have been turned into a joy forever.

Eaton is a big cuss, but did not introduce any bursts of speed such as might be expected of a man of his construction. He might have had a lumber or two, but they were not given to him. He was not so good as a pitcher as he is as a catcher. The Moose might have got to him earlier than the third round had it not been for a very apparent disposition to "hit the pill". They routed him, however, in due time.

Shortstopper Gwinn replaced Eaton and was worse than his predecessor, demonstrating without further trial that as a pitcher he is the goods at shortstop. Gwinn lasted a single round and yielded four hits, four runs, three wild pitches and certain other things not mentioned in the official statistics. "Pill" six took up the Bankers' burden in the fifth and there after the Moose were as lambs led to the slaughter.

Some Starters. To the Moosemen, Jeffries' Larkin led his offensive against the Bankers, being ably assisted by third baseman Cheshoro and first baseman Howard. The latter two got a brace of flows at opportune times. Cheshoro smacking one of Eaton's offerings for a circuit. He also got a double, several runs and a home run. Larkin was the mightier hitter, conducted the double play; Thomezet 2 innings; hit a single; Larkin 1 hit, 4 runs in one in; Gwinn 3 hits, no runs in 2 innings; hit a single; Thomezet 2 hits, 1 home run in 4 times at the plate, but the ball went over the fence for a circuit.

The Moose tallied all their runs in three innings, the second, third and fourth. One run was registered in the first-named round, two in the third and then came Gwinn's decrease as a twirler in the fourth. The Bankers were backed in by the financiers in every round played, all on hits.

thing that had fazed on it. No inning passed without both hits and runs, the last being the most notable solo. In that season every batter on the team faced Moore hurlers, finally driving Riley Miller out of the picture. Davis took his stand, and finished the inning, taking up the job with none out, after Riley had been ranned for three runs off an error in right field, a single and a homerun; the latter by Fitz. One hit was made off Davis but by a run.

JACK TO DEVELOP SPEED FOR MATCH AGAINST GEORGES

Dempsey Gets Down to Training Again to Nimbly Up His Wits, Arms and Legs

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—Win Jack Dempsey back in his training camp will be greatly cut down. The crafty Georges Carpentier is the chief aim of his handlers. Dempsey will be called upon to engage boxing with smaller and lighter sparring partners as he advances into the final two weeks of training, and "smelling" with the heavyweights in camp will be gradually cut down.

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, plans to bring some of the fastest middleweights and light heavyweights in the country into the game. Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, who assisted Dempsey in training for the match with Billy Mabe in Benton Harbor last Labor Day; Mike Gibson, the St. Paul middleweight, and the Jamaica Kid probably will join the staff of sparring partners.

Although Dempsey plans to enter the ring at "Boyle's Thirty Acres" July 2 weighing about 190 pounds, he may be lighter than this, Manager Kearns said. If the weather becomes hot in the country late in the summer, the title holder scaled 184-pounds yesterday, according to Kearns.

Dempsey, it became known today, was most to two hungry and footsore strangers at a hot meal at his camp yesterday. They had walked here from Philadelphia and neither of them had sufficient funds for a meal.

"I've been in the same fix many times, hungry and hungry," Dempsey told them.

Jeffries Favored for Third Man's Job at Champ Go

Bob Edgren, Final Arbiter, Announces Probable Selection of Referee

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—Robert Edgren, stakeholder and final arbiter of all disputes between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, and Tex Rickard, promoter of their match at Jersey City, on July 2, favors the selection of James J. Jeffries, former world's champion, as referee of the championship contest.

Edgren made this announcement after another conference with Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, on the referee situation over which there is controversy because of the desire of the New Jersey boxing commission to appoint a New Jersey referee as the third man in the ring. Edgren probably will continue his conference with Kearns today in an effort to adjust the dispute. Kearns is opposed to the selection of John Britto, city marshal of Jersey City, who is unofficially said to be the choice of the commission. William F. "Boss" Sullivan, the veteran trainer of Harvard athletes, expressed the opinion today that hard work for the next two weeks would place Dempsey on edge for the defense of his title. He declared, however, that the champion would require the services of some high class sparring partners to reach the top of his form.

PERSISTENT YANK WANTED TO WIN REWARD FOR K. O.

Doughboy was Offered $100 to Put Down Georges for the Count—Out Himself

"MANHARSET, N. Y. (AP)—Memories of an exhibition bout with an American doughboy in an American camp in France and the solution of a puzzle in connection with it were provided Georges Carpentier today by a telephone message from an American colonel of infantry.

"Remember how he kept punching your head and when he paid no attention to your cautioning you had to knock him out with a right to the jaw?" inquired the colonel.

"Yes," replied Georges, "but why war he so persistent?"

"Why we gave him $100 and told him to knock you out."

Georges laughed heartily and then in perfect slang said:

"Well, I'll be blowed!"

Brief Bits of Sport

Last night's Twilight ball game demonstrated once more that 'twit' to let well enough lie.

The Bankers' club management now knows that "Pill" Fix is the only reliable pitcher on the team.

With games as far apart as they are in this league it should be possible for Fix to twirl every contest and give his best service. Pitching is his job; not second basing or shortfielding.

The Moose presented a new lineup last night, under a new management. Dave Graybeal has assumed the managerial position and got away last night to a fairish sort of start.

Umps Whitel called one of the Banker chaps for smoking on the beach.

Pitcher Riley Miller, Mooseman released by the I. D. S., is a deliberate chap in the box. He consumed so much time last night that one fan wittily, albeit truthfully remarked: "Waitin' is his job."

Atlantic City, N. J.—Jack Dempsey, training here for his heavyweight championship fight with Georges Carpentier, two weeks from today at Jersey City, did not take seriously the report from Pawtucket, Ohio, that he had been named as a co-respondent in a divorce suit. He said he had never heard of the woman and had never been in Pawtucket.

Duluth, Minn.—Spanishes Zhyzak, world's heavyweight champion several times, last night defeated John Fieberg, Chicago, in straight falls. The first fall came in 30 minutes, 16 seconds and the second in 4 minutes 18 seconds. The champion took both falls with a ten hold.

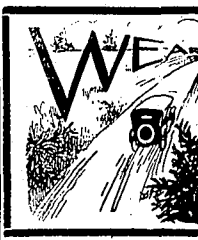

Chicago—The western collegiate golf tournament will be held June 21-24, at the Indian Hill club as originally planned.

Enthusiasm Waxed
The contest, witnessed by a brilliant attendance, was no exception to usual such excitement.
The result was naturally a disappointment to the English followers of the sport and there was little enthusiasm after the fourth period. Changes in the British team are considered likely before the next game, Wednesday.

Not only the Americans' play but also their ponies were superior in today's match and the British missed numerous chances for goals.

Social World Attends
Two hours before match time the grounds were filling with a fashionable crowd for the sport opening event. The majority of the men wore silk hats and black coats, while the women grouped about the field, appareled in colorful frocks.

A concert by the mixed bands of four regiments of the guards followed the waiting period. More than 200 members of the marching band and down the green field, a jase body in scarlet coats and bearskin hats.

The teams lined up as follows:
America—Louis Elmer, No. 1; T. O. Hiltcheck, No. 2; J. W. Webb, No. 3; Devesee Milburn, back.
England—Lieutenant Colonel Tomkinson, No. 1; Major Barrett, No. 2; Major Woodhouse, No. 3; Major Lockett, etc.

The spectators stood as they approached from the polo grounds, a great cheering outside the grounds at 3 o'clock preceded the arrival of King George and Queen Mary. They entered the royal box in the center of footmen and riders. The band lined up before the royal box and played "God Save the King" and then "The Star-Spangled Banner" before the assembly at that time numbering nearly 10,000, stood unexcited.

Boy Scout Leads American
The next preliminary, after the eight plays had been presented and had shaken the king and queen into a parade of the ponies. A Boy Scout, carrying the Stars and Stripes, headed the American contingent of 27 animals. The Union Jack was led by the British squad of 25.

The British players wore blue jerseys with white blue-banded helmets and the Americans wore white jerseys and the Americans wore white jerseys.

Today's Markets

WHEAT PRICE DECLINES

No Support is Shown as Market Sags; Close Nervous, 1 to 3-4 Lower

CHICAGO, (P)—Forecasts for generally unsettled and cooler weather turned many of yesterday's wheat buyers into sellers on the Chicago board of trade today. At the start the market was nervous but initial trades were at $1.32 1/2 to 1.33 1/2 for July and $1.28 to 1.29 1/2 for September, these figures being advances of from 1 3/4 to 2 1/2 cts. over the market of a cent lower at $1.32 1/2 to 1.23 3/4.

Corn, which started practically unchanged with July at 65 3/8 to 1-1e and September at 65 1/8 to 66e, reacted with wheat, influenced by scattered selling.

Eastern houses sold corn and the declines were unchecked. July finished at 63 1/4 to 1-8e, a net loss of 1 3/4 to 2c, with September at 64 1/2 to 1 3/8 at 64 1/2 to 64 3/8.

Oats were stronger than corn at the opening, September being 1-2c higher at 40 7/8 to 41e. The general sag, however, dragged it down to 39 7/8 in the first hour.

Provisions were dull but prices were a shade higher because of a firm hog market.

FARMERS' FIRST DISTRICT JUNKET PROVES SUCCESS

Many Present on Inspection of Farms and Livestock Herds in This Section

Reports of the farmers' district tour conducted under direction of the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau yesterday, indicate extraordinary success attained upon the junket. Seventy-five persons participated in the tour at one time. There never was less than a dozen, according to H. E. Power, bureau agent.

The tour started from Buhl at 8 yesterday morning and concluded at the William Cleveland dairy south of Twin Falls, last evening. Refreshments were served at the Cleveland farm. The first place visited was the W. H. Rambo farm near Buhl, where the Rambo Duroc Jersey ewe herd was inspected. Then followed calls at the H. J. Hatfield Shorthorn cattle farm, the Blanchard Hereford farm, the W. T. Hardin Hereford place, George Child's Jersey and Henry Schick's Guernsey places. At the latter milk and cake was served the members of the party. The Sanclinger cream factory at Buhl was visited and the tour then ordered continued to Filer where lunch was served by the ladies of the Catholic church. Butter, cheese and cream were supplied by the Lincoln Produce company, the Bandmeyer cheese factory and the Sterling Creamery company for the lunch. Following lunch a program of addresses was carried out with L. B. Otto as chairman. These speaking were: Guy C. Smith, marketing expert of Swift & Company, Chicago; E. F. Salmon River Water in Reservoir Lower

A reading this morning of the gauge at the Salmon River reservoir showed the first fall in the water level since the beginning of the spring run-off, although irrigation water deliveries have been in progress for some weeks. The water level as indicated by the reading, stood at 73.6 feet, and the available storage water was 101,480 acre feet.

This is a drop for the week of 4 feet in gauge height and a decrease in storage of 1000 acre feet. The draw-off for the week has been approximately 9000 acre feet, according to reports to Manager G. M. Hall of the Salmon River Canal company, which indicates that the run-off has been holding up. It is expected from now on, however, that the draw-off will exceed the run-off, with resultant decrease in the amount of water in storage.

The front claws of the crab are each fifty-five inches long, which is longer than the entire length of six year old Blue Bogan, shown in the photograph. The monster is on exhibition at the Nicholas Restaurant, 178th street and St. Nicholas avenue, New York City. The giant crab was caught in the Yellow Sea last winter.

Not long ago Senator Johnson said, "As a public speaker Peter Clark MacFarlane has few equals and no superiors. With rare oratorical power he unites rare eloquence, and with these he has the happy faculty of describing and illustrating. I have been with many of those who are considered orators and great speakers but there are none I would rather listen to than Peter Clark MacFarlane."

Advertisers Offered Censuses Papers Space

LONDON, (P)—A new departure in government transactions is the disposal for a cash equivalent, of advertising space on census papers; a proceeding which the official mind formerly have looked upon with horror.

Even now, a proposal of an enterprising advertising agency to pay the government 11,000 pounds for the use of the books of eleven million forms to be used in the forthcoming national census, was at first summarily rejected by Dr. Christopher Addison, the health minister.

Sir Alfred Mond, first commissioner of works, and a keen business man, saw the advantage of drawing revenue from this source and persuaded the minister to consent to the innovation.

Some time ago, the same advertising firm offered 50,000 pounds for the use of empty space on ration books, but the authorities would not listen to the proposal.

Every time Liberty bonds are mentioned some people dolefully express the opinion that "the government couldn't do it again", meaning that Uncle Sam's credit with the people is not exactly gilt-edged...

But those who get the impression that in a pinch the United States Government would have hard work to borrow money of its citizens have no more guess coming...

CHAPTER IX.

In Which Blm Kelojo Makes History, While Abe and Harry and Other Good Citizens of New Salem Make an Effort to That End in the Indian War.

In the midst of springtime there in Vermont, a letter to Sarah from her brother, which contained the welcome promise that he was coming to visit them and returned to be in Beardstown about the fourth of May...

"Don't feel up," he said mournfully. "I've given them up—I don't believe we'll ever see them again," said Sarah, as they were walking toward the door...

"You've got to let the truth," Samson rejoined. "There'll be a rail-road coming through here one of these days and then we can all get back and forth easy."

"I don't care what you say," said Samson, as he sat down to his supper he said: "I saw that slaver, Biggs, got off the boat with his bag of money. There was a drakey following him with an eye on the money."

"Good land!" said Sarah. "I hope he isn't coming here. Mrs. Ostrot told me today that Blm Kelojo has been getting the word from him."

"She's such an old little critter and she's been so long out of the way, she can't see that," Samson reflected. "She ought to be looked after pretty careful."

"I will," said Sarah. It was nearly two o'clock when Samson, having fed and watered his horses, put out the lamps and went out to do his chores...

"I'm over to Beardstown to do the dinner for the party," said Harry. "I'll be back by dark."

"I'll be back by dark," said Harry. "I'll be back by dark."

"I'll be back by dark," said Harry. "I'll be back by dark."

"I'll be back by dark," said Harry. "I'll be back by dark."

"I'll be back by dark," said Harry. "I'll be back by dark."

"Mr. Biggs is stopping at the tavern. He brought a new silk dress and some beautiful linen for Mrs. Kelojo. He tells her that Blm has made a new man of him. Claims he has quit drinking and gone to work."

"I don't believe he'd do that," said Sarah. "I hope he has turned over a new leaf and become a gentleman."

"They saw and without much delay the background of his pretensions. For when he was within the woods, and he rode away and did not return. Soon a letter came from Blm to her mother, mailed at Beardstown. It told of their marriage in that place and said that they would be starting for St. Louis in a few hours on the Star of the West."

"You'd better let it," said Sarah when Mrs. Waddell, who had come out with her husband one evening to bring this news, had finished the story.

"This is kind of a sorry piece of news," said Mrs. Waddell. "I wish I could break his heart. His wife is alone now. We must ask her to come and stay with us."

"The Allen has taken her in," said Mrs. Waddell. "I'll go down there tomorrow and offer to do anything we want."

"When Mr. and Mrs. Waddell had gone Sarah said: "I can't help thinking of poor Harry. He was terribly in love with her."

"We'll have to get over it—that's all," said Samson. "He's young and the woman will heal it."

"It was well for Harry that he was out of the way of all this, and entered upon adventures which absorbed his thoughts."

"With no knowledge of military science, Samson managed to abandon his wounded horse, he swam a river under fire and under the observation of three of our officers, through whose help he got back to his command, bringing a bullet in his thigh."

"When the demoralized volunteers were mustered out late in May, Kelojo and McNeil, being sick with a stubborn fever, were declared unfit for service and sent back to New Salem as soon as they were able to ride. Abe and Harry were sent to the company of Independent Rangers and a month or so later Abe re-enlisted to serve with Captain Early, Harry being under a surgeon's care."

"This company was chiefly occupied in the moving of supplies and the burying of a few men who had been killed in small engagements with the enemy. It was a band of rough-looking fellows in the costume of the frontier farm and stock-raising country."

"They had a long day of comfort in it current with a good store of bread meat and other things, and they were all in good luck. The morning of a bright day started down the Illinois river."

"Have you heard from Bob?" Abe asked as they padded on. "No," a word," said Harry. "You're not expecting to meet Blm Kelojo?"

"That's the best part of getting home for me," said Harry, turning with him to more to St. Louis and live on his big plantation in a house new to his rent-free."

"I've got a letter from James Rutledge that I want to read to you. There's a big lesson in it for both of us—something to remember as long as we live."

"I don't believe he'd do that," said Sarah. "I hope he has turned over a new leaf and become a gentleman."

"They're all buried in sleep," said Abe. "I'll get up the shakedown somewhere."

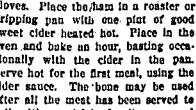

His loud rap on the door of the tavern signalled more than a desire for rest in the weary travelers. For just then a cycle of their lives had ended.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

"The one who wins is the one who works... Who neither labor nor troubles either; Who uses his hands, his head, his eyes."

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

The following are a few wholesome dishes which will be enjoyed by the family:

Baked Ham in Cider—Roll the ham until nearly tender, remove and take off the skin, cover with a thick layer of crumbs or a paste of flour and water; stick in a few cloves. Place the ham in a roaster or dripping pan with one pint of good cider or apple sauce. Bake in the oven and baste with the cider in the pan. Serve hot for the first meal, using the cider sauce. The bones may be used after all the meat has been served to boil with cabbage, split peas, etc.

Any leftover bits of fat should be carefully saved, fried out and used to fry potatoes.

Ham Pie—Roll, mash, season and beat enough potatoes to nearly fill a baking dish. Butter the dish well and put in a layer of the potato an inch thick, cover with a four-inch layer of the hot ham, sprinkle with egg and cream over the ham and one-half of a clove of garlic finely minced. Cover with another layer of potato. Smooth the top and mix off in squares with a silver fork. Dot with bits of butter and bake in a good hot oven until brown.

Pigeon Cutlets—Cut pigeons in halves, through the breast and the back; let simmer until tender; press under a weight, first removing any bones which disturb the shape; retain the leg bones, sprinkle with salt and cream and cook in hot fat. Sprinkle with boiled onions, carrots or canned peas. Make a brown sauce of the broth, adding if it currant jelly. Dried mushrooms may be cooked with the pigeons, instead of the onions.

Union Sandwich—Lay thin slices of southern onion in cold water to crisp, then wipe dry and cover with a highly seasoned salad dressing, let stand ten minutes and place between slices of buttered bread. Serve at once.

Livestock vs. Dead Stock

Were it not for the fact that the Upper Snake River valley is a peculiarly resourceful and rich section of the country it would not be able to withstand the continued rain caused by the incessant "dead stock" water.

"By 'dead stock,' is meant the investment in securities and stocks of a very doubtful character as to their value."

If current stories are to be depended upon hundreds of thousands of dollars have gone out of this valley into the pockets of different stock speculators, leaving the "livestock" men weary and fat with the loss of their money and how many stock issues floated in this section for promotion schemes have never paid dividends to others than the promoters.

On the other hand the money invested in "dead stock" has not only failed to pay dividends, but has actually lost its value. The "livestock" men have been left with the loss of their money and how many stock issues floated in this section for promotion schemes have never paid dividends to others than the promoters.

Uncle Walt's Story

THE FIRST TIME

"I CONFESS that the thought of a death always raises gooseflesh on me," said the melancholy boarder.

"That's what makes it so unpleasant," observed the star boarder. "If a man died at regular intervals, say once a year, he'd soon get used to it, and regard it as part of the day's work."

"The first time we are up against anything disagreeable is always the worst. We can get used to anything, and enjoy anything, if we have enough of it. We are born optimists, my dear Mrs. Jkgers, always looking around for a grain of comfort, and manufacturing one if there is none in sight."

"I'll never forget the first time I went to see the dentist on professional business. I had been entertaining a rip-roaring toothache for several days. The agony was so great that it would take the pike of a Dunno to do justice to it."

"Thus turned adrift into the temple, the first man I met was a dentist, and he simply friend me to his parlor. He was a friend of the family and wouldn't take two for an answer."

"Since that experience I look upon the modern dentist as a public benefactor, and my own teeth is that I can't drop into his office every day or two and have a few teeth pulled. But all my original teeth were extracted by the painless process long ago, and the ligament vices teach I am now wearing are stragglers to aches and pains."

"The first time I was married he is so exact that he forgets the wedding ring or the key for the preacher, or some other essential. For days before the great he is in such a fever that his friends have trouble holding him down; and when at last the fatal hour arrives he doesn't seem like a responsible human being. I always feel sorry for a young bridegroom, he looks so rattled, and he has such a strong resemblance to a total loss."

"But the next time he gets married he is as cool as a cucumber as though he made a practice of acquiring a bride before tea every day, and if he goes to the altar three or four times in the course of his useful career, marriage seems to him no more interesting than receiving an automobile catalogue by mail."

TO MAKE PARK A CONVENIENCE FOR TRAVELERS

Committeeman Finch Plans Innovations in City's Tourist Area

Notable innovations are to be established at the Twin Falls tourist park this year if the plans of E. J. Finch, committeeman in charge, work out, according to schedule.

Our first year was merely an experiment and while the park was an unqualified success its equipment lacked many a feature essential to a well managed park of this class.

The committeeman plans installation among other modern devices, of a telephone booth, through the medium of which requests of the park may get into touch with business houses without the necessity of walking or driving to town.

Mr. Finch has in mind the installation of various such conveniences and plans to place about the park equipment to aid in keeping the area sanitary. A local business house has arranged to place waste cans throughout the park to catch such waste.

The Twin Falls Commission Finch proposes to have set up a large sign board bearing a list of scenic attractions to be viewed in territory contiguous to the park.

ELKS ARE IN ACCORD WITH LEGION ACTION

Fraternal Organization Opposes Plan to Bring O'Hare Here for Address

Characterizing the statements made by Kate Richards O'Hare on a former visit to Twin Falls as "scurrilous diatribes," the Twin Falls Elks, 1383 S. Second street, denounced the proposal of a certain local element to bring the woman here again for another speech, planned for an early date.

Protective Order of the Elks and formally adopted by the lodge at a session held during this week and give unanimous support to the action taken by Twin Falls Post American Legion 1032, which has already, in a scheduled date cancelled. The resolutions read:

"Whereas, the scurrilous diatribes delivered by this woman on a former occasion in this city, and the adoption of resolutions by the woman, scheduled date cancelled. The resolutions read:

R. and American Legion Post of this city in protesting against the appearance of Kate Richards O'Hare in this city, and further,

"Do It Resolved, that this lodge give unqualifiedly any aid that may be necessary in order that this woman may make their protest effective."

RAPID GROWTH MADE IN WEEK BY SATE CROP

Advance of Vegetation Rapid with Fruit Coming Along, Report Says

In a weekly summary of weather and crop conditions for the state of Idaho, issued by the U. S. department of agriculture, Clifton E. Norquist, meteorologist, says: Conditions were ideal for the rapid growth of all vegetation. There was plenty of bright sun, and heat and moisture conditions were very favorable.

Mr. Norquist adds: The range is especially favorable for this work. Sugar beets are doing remarkably well in every district; good headway is being made in thinning and cultivating the crop. It was fine corn growing weather and this crop is rapidly ripening.

The weather was entirely favorable for all farm activities and satisfactory progress was made along all lines of field work.

HEALTH MENACE FOUND IN CASTLEFORD LAKE

Stagnant Pool Discovered by Officers at Edge of West End Village

County Physician C. Q. McGinnis and County Health Officer H. G. Jackson returned last evening from the Castleford tract, where they spent the day on county affairs.

The water, it is said, has become green and putrid, being fed by a ditch bank which formed a dyke. Arrangements were made to open the ditch and let the water through to find a way to a natural water course.
