CRIM EXPECTS DE VALERA WILL MEET PREMIERS

Lloyd George's invitation to Conference Designed to Bring About Settlement of Issue Causes Sensation

VIEWED AS INDICATION OF SIGNIFICANT CHANGE

Refusal Would Entail Energetic Preparations to Suppress Sinn Fein Activities, According to General Opinion

LONDON, (AP)—Belief that Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, will accept Premier Lloyd George's invitation to come to London for an informal conference with the government and Premier Craig of Ulster designed to bring about a settlement of the Irish problem, is expressed in the majority of reports reaching this city from Dublin.

Lloyd George's invitation caused a profound sensation in Dublin.

May Attach Conditions.

Sources predicting that De Valera will accept are agreed that he probably will attach strict conditions to his acceptance, one being that more binding guarantees than were contained in the premier's letter must be given for the safety of Dublin.

The prime minister's letter was regarded here as indicating a significant change in the attitude of the British premier.

In the event that De Valera refuses the premier's invitation, it is generally believed that the government will make energetic preparations for a vigorous campaign to suppress Sinn Fein activities.

Trouble will be avoided for this purpose are considered as being necessary to Ireland except Ulster is known to have been considered for some time.

Moderate View Accepted.

Moderate Sinn Fein were represented as being extremely anxious that they accept the invitation. They can see no possibility of ending the conflict under present conditions and they fear terrible results if an intensified military campaign is begun as a result of rejection of Lloyd George's overtures, it is declared.

An authority anonymously quoted by the Daily Mail in Glasgow writes: "It is believed that De Valera has agreed to permit Ireland to govern herself, excluding only matters pertaining to foreign relations."

Other strategic considerations, and if the six northern counties were granted by the rest of Ireland such measures of self government as De Valera has indicated, his willingness to concede, within the limits of an autonomous Ireland. Such a settlement, however, this authority pointed out, would solve numerous of the demand for complete independence and might for that reason be repudiated by the extremists.

MOTIVE IS REGARDED WITH SUSPICION IN SOME QUARTERS BELFAST, (AP)—In a message from Paris, where he is acting for Irish republican interests, Sean O'Connell, secretary of the Irish republican parliament, says:

"Mr. Lloyd George's invitation to explore the possibilities of a settlement, independence is not included, and undoubtedly receive the earnest consideration."

SETTLEMENT OF BRITISH GOAL STRIKE FORECAST

Minors are Reported to Have Abandoned Demands for the National Wage Pool

LONDON, (AP)—The conference of the coal mine owners, the striking miners and representatives of the government, in another effort to reach a solution of the coal strike commenced this morning. Newspapers predicted confidently that a settlement of the dispute would result.

It is unofficially stated that the miners have abandoned their demands for a national wage pool, which long has been the main object of the strike. The government has renewed its offer of a subsidy of ten million pounds, provided a speedy agreement is reached.

The coal owners presented virtually no new proposals, but they did incline to accept providing the government restores the ten-million pound subsidy. If they may be believed, they believe the subsidy will be removed, in which case there will be a difficulty in bringing negotiations to a satisfactory conclusion.

RAILWAY LABOR BOARD EXTENDS SLASH IN WAGE

Makes Reduction Order Effective to Practically Every Large Carrier in Country Involving All Employees

ESTIMATED SAVING OF $400,000,000 REALLY

Indications Point to Acceptance of Lowered Scale on Part of Unions—Date for the Conference is Set

CHICAGO, (AP)—The United States railroad labor board today extended its wage reduction order, effective July 1, to practically every large railroad in the country. No change from the average 12 per cent reduction granted 104 carriers on June 1 was made by today's decision. The new order affects 210 roads.

Make Possible Saving.

The new decision will make a reality of the estimated $400,000,000 annual savings estimated by the board.

The decision, drawn as an addendum to the reduction order of June 1, adds practically every railroad in the class 1 division to the original list of 104 roads authorized to make the 12 per cent reduction.

Following the 12 per cent reduction, which was generally un satisfactory to the roads, the carriers returned with added insistence that the 1920 wage award be wiped out. The board, however, would not change its scale.

Will not dictate returns has been announced from the railroad union being named for reduction of 50 per cent on acceptance or rejection of the 12 per cent cut, it was expected that conferees here on July 2 would agree to accept the board's decision.

The new order involves practically all classes of employees. The reduction made by today's decision is in the case of some mining workers at eastern ports.

Adds Other Employees.

About one-third of the roads included in today's decision, from the original decision, the duplication resulting from the fact that many roads did not include all classes of employees in their first petitions.

Rate of reduction for several miles classes of employees were added to the order today.

Chefs and restaurant workers, dining car employees, laundry workers, and others were named for reduction of 50 per cent of the increases granted since the roads were returned to private control on March 1, 1920.

MORAL DECLINE THREAT IS HELD UP TO BAPTISTS

Dr. Padelford Voices Fears Based on Present Death Candidates for Ministry in American Colleges

DES MOINES, Ia., (P)—The present death of candidates for the ministry, and America's serious danger of raising up a generation of men and women who know nothing of the ideals or the sanctions of religion," were emphasized here today by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Padelford, D. D., at the 14th annual convention of Northern Baptists.

Dr. Padelford who is the executive secretary of the board of education of the Northern Baptist convention, and as such is in closer touch with the denominational institutions as a whole than any other Northern Baptist in the country, declared that all denominations are suffering alike from a dearth of candidates for the ministry.

Seminaries Stand Idle
"The situation needs to be faced seriously and immediately," he said. "Not only is the attendance in our seminaries at a low point, but there are few ministerial students in our colleges. Not for a long time has the number been so small. Institutions that have usually had large groups of ministerial students, had at present scarcely any at all."

Dr. Padelford declared that the church had "a very serious problem in education here in America."

"We have not a system of education in which religion can have no part," he said. "The church cannot afford for a moment to abdicate its efforts to permeate the whole system of education with the spirit and power of Christianity. Without a rapid development of Christian schools, we shall be hopelessly lost."

Decade Marks Advance

The past decade has witnessed the greatest advance along educational lines by Northern Baptists in their entire history, Dr. Padelford stated. For the first time, he said, Baptists of the north have assumed a definite responsibility for the education of the nation during the last ten years. The number of students in Baptist institutions has increased from 21,074 to 34,733; the number of Baptist university pastors from 2 to 34; the number of churches of Baptist institutions from 1,289 to 10,977; the value of the land and buildings of Baptist educational institutions from $21,800,000 to $41,717,000; and the endowment for Baptist institutions from $3,222,392 to $40,825,098. In the same length of time the assets of $60,040,818 has been added to the assets of our schools. Today Northern Baptists have one student in their denominational schools for every 95 members of the Baptist church.

SEEKS GROWING INTEREST IN MISSIONARY TRAINING

Baptist Leader Traces Advance Made by All Denominations in the Field

DES MOINES, Ia., (P)—Interest in missionary education gained by leaps and bounds during 1920, W. A. Hill, secretary of missionary education, reported to the Northern Baptist Convention here today. This development was general, he said, other denominations being joined in similar work, through the missionary education movement.

"Groups included in this department showed marked gain," the report stated. The World Wide Fund, an organization of young women, increased 40 chapters during the year, and has 3,275 chapters now. These include bands organized among American, Indians, Polish, Hungarians, Roumanians, Greeks and Japanese in America, also in the Philippines and Idaho. Another junior organization, the Children's World Crusade, has 1,653 bands, two being among Indians. Other groups are one among Chinese youth, twelve traveling libraries are used by these bands.

"Twenty-four states have secretaries specializing in the training of mission study, through institutes and assemblies. These co-operate with the Baptist State Conventions. Incomplete reports show 4,400 groups studying mission subjects, 1,300 other groups holding the same type of material. Organizing entire churches into 'schools of missions,' 200 schools of this sort were held. The institutes and conferences were held at 111 centers. The department supplied teachers at 20 summer Baptist assemblies and at eight inter-denominational conferences.

"Other work is being done through co-operating with the American Baptist Publication Society in the latter's division of summer assemblies, correspondence study division, in daily work during the year, through the production of other literature."

Humane Society Bans Ducking as Motive to Study

Induces Mother to Adopt More Approved Educational Methods

BOSTON, (P)—Threats of a ducking in the river may be an effective method of compelling children to learn their bible but it does not meet the approval of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Agents of the society have recently induced a western Massachusetts mother to adopt more approved educational methods.

Investigators sent out in response to protests from neighbors learned that it was the woman's custom when any of the children failed to give strict attention to bible study, to place the offender in a burlap bag, throw it over her shoulder and march down to the river bank. Dangling the bag over the cold water with threats of immersion usually brought quick acquiescence in her demand for closer pursuit of the commandments and beatitudes.

The plan apparently had been in operation for some time for several of the other children in the large family were found to be able to recite long passages of scripture without hesitation. It was the application of the potato bag treatment to the youngest member of the family, a five-year-old, that resulted in the system being brought to the attention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. No court action would be taken, officials said, so long as the mother kept her agreement not to repeat the performance.

Her Description.
A bright seven-year-old girl, whose father was addicted to amateur photography, attended a trial at court the other day for the first time. This was her account of the Judge's charge: "The Judge made a long speech to the jury of 12 men, and then sent them off into a little dark room to develop."

EMPHASIZES NEED FOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Spokesman Before Northern Baptist Convention Sounds a Note of Warning

DES MOINES, Ia., (P)—Emphasizing the need of Christian education, Dr. Gilbert N. Brink, of the American Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia, speaking before the Northern Baptist convention here today sounded a warning.

"That unless the nation is to pay dearly for neglect in developing character, the church must be as efficient in religious education as the state is in secular education. "That the church must take its part in solving social unrest and acute industrial questions, by expressing Christ's spirit of brotherhood and confidence."

Two billion pages of Sunday school literature, in addition to bibles printed and sent to 10 foreign lands, were among the society's work for the year, Dr. Brink reported.

"Religious education is gaining rapidly," the report says, "nearly every state in the Northern Baptist convention is training workers in summer assemblies and institutes. Through correspondence courses, too, efficiency of all types of church workers has been raised, and this will be extended."

"In 1920 there were 160 vacation bible schools in northern cities, the enrollment being forty thousand. Chicago alone had 62, with 1038 teachers and 10,500 children enrolled."

"Week day religious education is being undertaken in 20 cities—mail more trained workers and financial aid support are urged for Baptists to keep pace with the movement. Provision is made that another decade will see this step vastly more important."

CULT INFRINGES UPON MONARCHY

Revelations of Japanese Investigators Indicate Probable Crime Record

TOKIO, (P)—Revelations concerning the Omotokyo, or the "great fundamental religion," whose leaders have been put in jail after a raid on their headquarters, show that the directors of this cult were pretending to exercise some of the prerogatives of an imperial Japanese family. An account of this raid and some of the discoveries made by the Japanese police were carried by cable at that time.

It is charged that the adherents of the organization refer to their religion as "God Administration Era." This is regarded in Japan as an indignity against the throne, because the designation of names of eras is a right that belongs only to the emperor.

Charge Less Majestic

As a result of this and other discoveries less majestic in one of the charges which have been preferred against Watanabe Dagechi, the leader of the movement who with others were taken into custody by the authorities at Kyoto after the raid about May 10.

It is probable that exaggerated designs are being attributed to the religion, but the newspapers charge it with numerous crimes, including murder.

One of the discoverers made in the course of the raid was a secret apartment beneath the golden-roofed center of the headquarters of the sect. The authorities say that, judging from the papers confiscated, this secret cell was designed to confine a "certain person" when the Omotokyo leaders and followers launched operations they are said to have contemplated. It was so constructed as to be readily flooded with water from a pond in the garden of the headquarters so that the prisoners could be drowned.

Another Subterranean Cell

Near this cell was found another secret underground room devoted ostensibly to special religious functions. The newspapers have charged that this cell was intended to contain women prisoners.

Omotokyo taught the reconstruction and reorganization of the Japanese state and purported to prepare the way for a social upheaval which, in its turn, was to give Japan dominion over all the earth. Part of its scriptures were contained in a book entitled "The Volume of Fire," the contents of which have not been made public.

CURB ASSOCIATION ENDS LONG NOMADIC PERIOD

New York's "Outside Market" Moves Into Spacious Quarters on Fringe of Wall Street

NEW YORK, (P)—After several decades of nomadic existence along the main highway of the financial district, the "outside market," corporately known as the New York Curb association, today moved into its own spacious quarters on the western fringe of Wall street.

For the first time in its long and picturesque history, "the curb," to quote one of its ablest officials, "will come to have the sky as its roof and will find shelter within its own four walls."

The new building of the New York Curb market was completed at a cost of about $2,850,000.

Of the entire membership, estimated at 400 to 600, almost 25 per cent of the veteran members have threatened to hold aloof and continue their operations in the roadway of Broad street, provided the police do not interfere.

Ernest Lawrence is Accused of Slaying Ten Persons at His Farm Home

MAYFIELD, Ky., (P)—County authorities today were working on the theory that Ernest Lawrence murdered ten persons in his farm home near here Saturday night, drenched the house with oil, set it on fire and then killed himself.

Lawrence, a number of years ago was dubbed by a policeman, friend, Ed Sheriff McCain, and since had suffered from "spells" which led the officers today to reiterate his belief that Lawrence, some time ago, suddenly had developed into a fit of insanity during the course of which he wiped out his own family, the family of Pitta Drew, his brother-in-law and Drew's brother, Delmer Drew.

The charred bodies of the dead, two women, three men, five infant boys and one infant girl were so badly burned that physicians were only able to guess how they were slain.

DEMPSEY IS FIT, MANAGER KEARNS SAYS FOR CHAMP

Hard Work for Defender is Over, He Will Take Things Easy This Week

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (P)—Hard work is over for Jack Dempsey until he enters the ring at Boyles Thirty Acres next Saturday afternoon to defend his title.

Members of the champion's camp are well satisfied with his condition and their critics are hoarse of contention. Manager Kearns and Trainer Hayes believe that Dempsey's hitting power and speed are at the proper edge and that he will enter the big melee in the pink of condition.

"He could go in there tomorrow and fight," Kearns said. "He never was in better condition. I never felt more confident of a victory fish I do now."

ELECTED CAPTAIN
PHILADELPHIA, (P)—Lairy Brown, of Seattle, captain-elect of the University of Pennsylvania track team left here today for Pasadena to compete in the National A. A. U. championships. Brown will represent Pennsylvania in the half mile run, and will be the institution's only entry, as the plan is to send a team of six or eight men to the through.

LEAVE FOR OAST
CHICAGO, (P)—The Chicago A. A. team consisting of ten men and the director leaves today for Pasadena to compete in the National A. A. U. outdoor track and field championships to be held July 1, 2, 4 and 5. Six men will compete in the junior championships on the first two days and the team later will go to San Francisco to compete in an open meet.

Tex Rickard Believes He Is the Busiest Man in World

Tex Rickard, promoter of the world's heavyweight championship bout, was too busy to pose for the camera man so the O. M. snapped him as he answered the phone for the one hundredth time that morning. Tex believes without a doubt that he is the busiest man in the world.

RECORD FIELD.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (P)—A record breaking field, in point of numbers, started play today in the intercollegiate lawn tennis tournament at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford. Fifty-six players, representing 21 institutions, were entered.

Leland Stanford, the University of California, Yale, Princeton and Harvard are regarded as principal contenders for finalist honors.

Get a Bargain.

Brief Bits of Sport

There appears to be a sympathetic chord existing between the White Sox and the Salt Lake Bees. Every time one loses the other follows suit.

Also Georges Carpentier has again gone into mysterious communication with himself back of his training barn.

Dipatches say the European fight champ is pulling off something in his daily training programs of which the public is not to know—not at present, anyway.

Bottling in at least 3 to 1 on Dempsey, with a tendency to be on the short-order to wait for better odds.

Most of the wagering is on how long Georges will last, which will depend upon his foot agility.

Dempsey isn't saying a word, but his eloquent mentor, Jack Kearns, tells the interested public that the affair will be over inside of five weeks. He adds that his man will walk out of the ring first, unless his admiring friends hold him for congratulations so long that his opponent has had time to revive.

That's either extreme confidence or rank bull.

The Salt Lake Bee management has been promised a lot of good playing talent by a couple of major league clubs. But the promise has not been of the present aggregation much.

Jerome Kelly, for 17 years groundkeeper for the Boston American League club, got huffy because some of the players criticized the condition of the grounds and up and resigned.

Now it is denied that Ray Fisher, Cincinnati's suspended pitcher, has signed with the Franklin, Pa., outlaws. Fisher wants to get back into organized baseball if he can make it.

Meridian in the Mississippi State League has still another manager—the fourth since the season opened. Catcher Frank Kohlbocker now succeeds Oldie Mills who was too old to play regularly.

Manager Fred Mitchell says the Braves would win the National League pennant if they had two more winning pitchers. Yo pods, what team would it be a pennant with two "mame" winning pitchers, even if two were all it had!

When Babe Marquard beat Dutch Ruether on June 24 he brought his pitching up to 500 for the season, while the defeated Ruether back to 500. So that the Brooklyn-Cincinnati trade takes all around has been about a 50-50 proposition.

Threats are heard in South Atlantic League circles that unless the Augusta fins quit making life miserable for the umpires the franchise of the club will be taken from Augusta and transferred to some other city.

Down in Anson, Tex., the other day a spitup pitcher named Willet pitched a perfect game, no batter reaching first base. He struck out 10 men. They must be using baseballs of the 1918 brand around there.

The veteran Edgan Willet, once of the Detroit Tigers, is the manager of an independent team at Ogden, Utah, having succeeded Elmus Gieber, who resigned. For a couple years past Willet has been playing independent ball in Idaho.

One of the "rumors" around New York is that the Chicago White Sox may swap Eddie Collins to the Yankees. The Chicago Club would get, according to the New York story, Anton Ward to play second base and Pitcher Jack Quinn and Tom Shohan.

AMERICAN POLO PLAYERS ARE RECEIVED BY KING

Victors Over British Team in International Matches Receive Cup at the Hands of Monarch

LONDON, (P)—King George today received in Buckingham palace the members of the American polo team, which decisively defeated the British representatives in the recent international matches for the world's polo championship. The king presented the Westchester cup, emblematic of the championship, to Devereux Milburn, captain of the American four. His majesty congratulated the winners and complimented them on the sporting spirit they displayed during the contests.

Captain Milburn, in reply, paid a tribute to England's sporting spirit and thanked the king for his personal interest in placing the royal stables at the disposal of the Americans for housing their mounts.

More Gumshoeing Going On Around Frenchman's Camp

Georges' Minions Swing Around of Guards Around the Training Place

MANHASSET, N. Y., (P)—Training at the camp of Georges Carpentier took on a mysterious aspect again this morning. Such after Georges came in from the woods the police guards were thrown about the camp and things began to hum behind the barn.

Manager Desamps as usual refused to tell what has happened. He said, however, that Carpentier was working hard and had been let loose.

GABINET QUILTS FLYERS START POST IN ITALY

Resigns as Result of Vote in Chamber of Deputies on Foreign Policy

ROME, (AP)—The cabinet today decided to resign as a result of a vote yesterday in the chamber of deputies on the question of confidence in the government, which was regarded as unfavorable.

The expression from the chamber followed debate on the reply to the speech from the throne, in which the government's foreign policy was attacked in some sections and was warmly defended in others.

The vote was 234 to 200 in favor of the government, but the cabinet considered the majority too small to justify continuation in power.

The chief opposition was expressed against the Jugo-Slav treaty of Rapallo. Deputy Turati, the socialist leader, moved the resolution on which the cabinet voted. It read: "The chamber, affirming itself fully opposed to the government's attitude toward the resolution on which the chamber voted, in foreign as well as internal, economic and social policy, intends to the order of the day."

Premier Giolitti stated that the government regarded the motion as a matter of confidence. That part of it affecting the government's foreign policy was defeated by a vote of 234 to 200. The remainder of the resolution was thrown out by a big majority.

KELSO'S CELLAR WIELDS WHISKEY

Officers Make Sunday Raid on Colored Man's House and Get Bonded Booty

Facing a felony charge Bert Kelso is in the county jail. He was arrested yesterday noon by Deputy Sheriff H. S. Hamilton and Chief of Police John H. Kelso.

Kelso's arrest followed a raid conducted against his residence, 210 Sixth avenue north, when between four and five gallons of bonded whiskey was found at the basement of the house. The liquor was confiscated and is held as material evidence in action to be brought against the colored man.

Constable has been directed against Kelso for some time, but conditions for the ferry did not ripen until yesterday, according to members of the sheriff's force. The search yielded a large number of pint-fats of old-fashioned whiskey secreted in the cellar. Kelso was taken in charge and lodged in jail. As soon as an information can be prepared he will be arraigned on the preferred charge.

This is the third arrest of Kelso on a whiskey charge. On the other two occasions he served terms in the county jail and also paid fines. The first of these brought him a 30-day sentence and a fine of $100; the second 60 days in jail, and $200 fine. The law provides that the third offense shall be considered a felony for which a penitentiary sentence is provided as punishment.

THAT AIR-SEA BATTLE

The bombing of the radio-controlled battleship Iowa, to take place June 28 off the Virginia Capes, will not be an altogether exciting event. Under the conditions of the experiment when the Iowa is to set out on her perilous voyage, there will be no living being on board; her movements will be controlled from the battleship Ohio, which will not get within five miles of the Iowa.

Seven airplanes and four ships will start in pursuit of her, and these will do their deadly work of dropping bombs on her as soon as she has put 30 miles between her and the shore. So cautious are the promoters of this experiment that even the battleship Ohio will have orders to make for the shore at full speed as soon as the airplanes get in their deadly work.

The crews of the airplanes and airships will be of course be safely out of harm's way, since there will be no one on the Iowa to work the guns. The experiment will undoubtedly convince even the most skeptical that if you drop enough bombs on a battleship she'll sink.

It is quite likely that if the world shall engage again in a serious bombing contest it will be equipped with battleships which will make bombing a more hazardous occupation than it is in the case of the little undertaking off the Virginia Capes, in which the Iowa plays the part of the victim.

On the whole the bombardment of the Iowa must strike the average citizen as not a very informative undertaking. Obviously it cannot be staged under the natural rules of the fighting game; and it is inconceivable that much that is practicable or useful can be got from the experiment.

YOUTH, AND JUNE, AND WAR

Why do vacationists shy away from June? The city man prefers to wait for his holidays until July, August or even September. Yet June, month of roses, of weddings, of ripening strawberries, is instinct with loveliness. James Russell Lowell caught the spirit of the month and crystallized it in the precision of beautiful words. Since time began poets have loved June as a full-grown sister of the fledgling spring.

June should call the souls of men to brotherhood, for never is the world fatter, more radiant, more suggestive of the celestial vistas than man was not meant to miss. War, bloodshed, the crushing of the weaker by the stronger, should be unthinkable in June. For all nature now is instinct with kindness, and in its higher representatives, the birds and flowers, carries that kindness into a lyric of passionate love expressed in blossoming flower and gaily carolled song. The flowers bloom on to the richer, deeper, intenser hues of midsummer, but long before July has passed most of the birds have muted their melody. Their songs have been first wooing and then mating songs; the raising of their feathered families provokes no such poems of majesty, half-delirious praise.

As summer days march by in stately procession to the rich maturity of autumn the freshness that was June's dearest, to the lover of innocent and quiet aspects of nature the increase in depth of color, in richness of bloom, is only partial compensation. Heavy, tropic, opulent days follow, like the maturity and course of middle age after the glorious exuberance and almost ecstatic buoyancy of youth.

For, if spring is childhood, June is youth. And the world needs Youth—needs its generosity and freedom from tradition, its vision and its faith—if it is to wipe away the stain of those crimes' June's of war. Youth is the first to fall when money-loving old men quarrel and Youth should be the first to write the spirit of June into the international treaties of the world.

We have complained because Europe has lumped so many undesirable on us, but we have evened up a bit by letting Bergdall and Haywood escape to Europe.

OPINIONS

Legislation Tribune: Tax and relief reductions are secondary to considerations of equity and of honor. If there is a valid and a proper claim upon the state to make no mistake in providing the form of relief for them; in regard to other large numbers, they neither need nor want this gratuity. There ought to be some standard of differentiation adopted, whereby the national solvency, with its reaction on commerce and industry, will not be impaired by taking large sums from the newly interests to swell already bulging pockets, in order to confer a worthy reward on a comparatively few. Several states have had honor grants set up to them by referendum, and these have been heavily sustained at the polls. The same unmercifully exact and the same undemocratic procedure for this grant, it should be voted in other states, separately by collectively, if put up to them. Congress has ample warrant for voting the bonus and if it does not do so, the people are interested, and the people to be found in sounder compass than those represented by vox populi.

CORNWALL REVIVES OLD CEREMONIAL FOR WALES

Prince is crowned with Empanification of Feudal Titles on Visit to Capital of Cornwall

LAUNESTON, Cornwall, Eng. (AP)—Festive feudal ceremonies of 600 years ago were revived here when the Prince of Wales, who is also Duke of Cornwall, paid a visit to the old-time capital of his duchy. Launceston has been a royal borough since about 1038. The ceremonies included the presentation of rent and offerings of fealty in kind, according to ancient custom. The mayor presented to the prince 100 shillings and one pound of pepper on a silver dish.

To Sir Hugh Moleworts, St. Aubyn fell the duty to offer a brace of greyhounds. According to ancient usage, they should be pure white but the nearest obtainable approach was a well-matched plebeian couple. Another duce tenant tendered a pair of gilt spurs, and another presented a pound of cumlin, a salmon spear, a faggot of wood, a pair of white doves and a rook.

Stranger of all these curious tokens of tenure is one requiring the representatives of the mayor of Swansea and St. Mary Weck to present themselves at the ducal court clad in mantles of postkins. This present-day incumbent, Bethuel Hutchings, statelyly entered this attire over his ordinary clothes on a brilliant hot day. His appearance suggested a blend of a modern county tourist and Robinson Crusoe.

The prince, much amused at the variety of gifts, solemnly confirmed all the loyal tenants in their holdings.

PHOTOPLAY EXHIBITORS TALK BETTERMENT PLAN

Scheme for Conducting Americanization Work Through Movies is Discussed

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Censorship problems, better and cleaner picture, plans for conducting Americanization work through the movies and a dispute between exhibitors and producers who have entered the exhibiting field, are questions marked for first consideration by delegates to the second annual convention of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America, which opens a three day session here today.

Several prominent speakers are on the program including United States Senator W. B. Kenyon of Iowa; Governor Samuel R. McKee of Nebraska; Sydney S. Cohen, of New York, president of the organization, and James J. Davis, secretary of labor. One important plan for consideration will be the developing of the vocational guidance idea in all American theaters. This is the outgrowth of a plan laid before President Harding recently by the executive committee of the owners whereby all theaters would be thrown open to the public, free of charge on Saturday mornings for educational films. The subjects would include child welfare, domestic science, various phases of the arts and science and would be in effect, a correspondence school for which no fee would be charged.

CHAPTER XV

Wherein Harry and Abe Ride Up to Springdale and Visit Kelso.

Illinois was growing. In June scores of prairie schooners, loaded with old and young, rattled over the plains from the East. There were many Yankees from Ohio, New York and New England in this long caravan. There were almost as many Irish, who had set out for this land of golden promise as soon as they had been able to save money for a team and wagon, after reaching the new world. There were some Germans and Scandinavianians to the dust clouds of the National road. Steamers on the Illinois river scattered their living freight along its shores. These were largely from Kentucky, southern Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. They traveled far and kindly lands had called far and streams of life were making toward them, to flow with increasing speed and volume for many years.

"People in Sangamon county had been to taste of the thriving village of Chicago in the north. Abe said that Illinois would be the Empire state of the West; that a new era of rapid development and great prosperity was near. Land was in great demand and there were many farmers of title. Abe had never surveying to do than he was able to accomplish that summer. Harry was with him for some weeks. He could earn two dollars a day with Abe, whereas Samson was able to hire a halcyon for half that sum. Harry made a confidant of his friend, and when they were working at the northern end of the county they borrowed a pair of horses and rode up to Kelso's house and spent a Sunday there.

"Dim next dawn the road a mile or so from Hopedale. She, too, was on the back of a horse. She recognized that it was a wonderful girl, said Harry "we and Abe were riding along together. "She is very modest and gentle hearted."

"As they passed to look at the flowery meadows," Abe answered. "I have promised to stop there a few minutes to see down the road Harry found Abe standing between the horses, holding the runaway by his forelock. The latter was saddled and bridled, while the buggy went on ahead.

"That is a wonderful girl," said Harry "we and Abe were riding along together. "She is very modest and gentle hearted."

"It is possible to stop there a few minutes to see down the road Harry found Abe standing between the horses, holding the runaway by his forelock. The latter was saddled and bridled, while the buggy went on ahead.

Next day a letter came from Doctor Allen, telling him that Ann was far gone with a dangerous fever. Both Abe and Harry dropped their work and went home. Ann was too sick to see her lover.

"Where Are You Going?" She Asked. "I have promised to stop there a few minutes to see down the road Harry found Abe standing between the horses, holding the runaway by his forelock. The latter was saddled and bridled, while the buggy went on ahead.

"Where are you going?" She asked. "To see you and your father and mother," said Harry. "I had a look come into her eyes. "I had a stone I would throw it at you," she said.

"Why?" Harry asked. "Because I have to get used to being miserable, and just as I begin to be used to it, you come along and make me happy, and I have it all to do over again."

"I hadn't thought of that," he said with a sad face. "It isn't fair to you to let it be that selfish."

"Why don't you go to Drimstead?" Dim suggested. "A beautiful girl over there is in love with you. Honestly, Harry, there isn't a sweeter girl in all the world."

"I ought not to go there, either," said the young man. "Why?" "Because I mustn't let her think that I care for her."

"So it happened that Harry went to visit Dim and Abe to the little house to Hopedale. They put on the horses. The girl came and sat on her father's knee Harry sat down by the side of Abe on the grass in the oak's shadow. "It's a joy to have the little girl back again," said Kelso, as he touched her hair with his hand. "It is still as yellow as a corn tassel. I wonder it isn't gray."

"Rude to look at with a name: 'My boy, it was Leonardo da Vinci, who said that a man could have nothing greater than a few moments of his own; or, himself. I hold that, if my young man are to be trained to tyranny in a lot of little nigger kingdoms, our democracy will die."

Abe made no answer. He was always slow to come to a conclusion. "The North is partly to blame for what has come," said Samson. "I guess our Yankee capitalists brought over most of the niggers and sold them to the planters of the South."

"There was a demand for them, or these Yankee planters would have brought the niggers," Harry answered. "Both seller and buyer were committing a crime."

"They established a great wrong and now the South is pushing to extend and give it the sanction of law," said Abe. "There is the point of irritation and danger."

"I hear that in the next legislature an effort will be made to endorse slavery," said Kelso. "That is a dangerous subject," Abe answered. "Whatever happens, shall not fall to express my opinion of slavery if I go back."

"The time is coming when you will take the bull by the horns," said Kelso. "There's no fence that will keep him at home."

"I hope that isn't true," Abe answered. "Soon Mrs. Kelso called Dim to set the table. Mrs. and Harry brought it out under the tree, where, in the cool shade, they ate their many dinners. "When the dishes were put away, Percy Drimstead arrived with his sister Annabel in their buggy. Dim went out to meet them and came into the dooryard with her arm around Annabel's neck.

"Did I ever see a lovelier girl than this?" Dim asked, as they stood up before the dinner party. "Her cheeks are like wild roses, her eyes like the dew on them when the sun is rising," said Kelso.

"I had heard of her when she was passing. I'll start on with Parsons and the pony and read my stint afore. You come along in a few minutes. By the time you overtake me I'll be ready to get into the saddle."

"Half an hour or so after Abe had gone, Harry's horse, which had been whinnying for his mate, bounded out of the stable and went galloping down the road, having slipped his halter.

"The will not stop until he overtakes the little man," said Harry. "You can ride with us," Annabel suggested.

"So the young man brought his saddle and bridle and put it under the seat of the buggy and got in with Annabel and her small brother. Within two hours they were back. Harry found Abe standing between the horses, holding the runaway by his forelock. The latter was saddled and bridled, while the buggy went on ahead.

"That is a wonderful girl," said Harry "we and Abe were riding along together. "She is very modest and gentle hearted."

"Where are you going?" She asked. "To see you and your father and mother," said Harry. "I had a look come into her eyes. "I had a stone I would throw it at you," she said.

"Why?" Harry asked. "Because I have to get used to being miserable, and just as I begin to be used to it, you come along and make me happy, and I have it all to do over again."

"I hadn't thought of that," he said with a sad face. "It isn't fair to you to let it be that selfish."

in that solemn hour save the two-one of whom was on the edge of starting and the other was ready to speak of it. The only record of that hour is to be found in the face and spirit of a great man.

Years later Samson wrote in a letter: "I saw Abe when he came out of the tavern that day. He was not the man we had all known. He was different. There were new lines in his face. It was sorrowful. His steps were slow. He had passed out of his young manhood. When I spoke to him, he answered with that gentle dignity, he was so familiar to all who knew him. From that hour he was Abraham Lincoln."

Ann passed away before the month ended and became, like many of her kind, an imperishable memory. In her presence the spirit of the young man had risen such a height that the beneficent, joking thought of her, he was to love purely and all cleanliness, and no Harry who came to his feet with tears and olivina was ever to be turned away.

CHEAP SPORTS

PLEASURE of reading the descriptions of the various sports which are available at such a low price. It is a pleasure which is not to be despised. The price of the book is only a few cents. The book is a must for every man who is interested in sports. It is a book that is well worth the price. It is a book that is well worth the price.

"Last fall about a thousand women came to town as delegates to some sort of a talkfest, and the citizens were asked to furnish them with board and lodging during their stay. These delegates were lodged out in purple and blue lines and bespangled with precious stones, and most of them had money in every pocket, yet not one of them thought of going to a hotel and paying her way like a little man. The delegates were the wives of bankers and laundresses and editors, and other notoriously wealthy citizens, and they were such poor sports that they were willing to accept a handout rather than loosen up pockets here at the carnival."

"There were six of them who were lodged out at our house. Aunt Julia goes the limit when it comes to hospitality. When she first heard that the women of the town were expected to take care of the delegates she said she would take care of two of them. She was so generous that she would take care of two of them. She was so generous that she would take care of two of them.

"The six women arrived on time and the look of them gave me chills and fever. They were fierce old relics with hair like steel. They were as hard as iron. They were as hard as iron. They were as hard as iron.

"I was expected to live in the cow stable during their stay, and before they came I protested bitterly, but after seeing them I was perfectly satisfied with the arrangement. Aunt Julia actually gave up her comfortable bedroom and slept on a cot in the kitchen. She had been busy for days fixing up things so the women would be comfortable."

"You should have seen those six women when they came down for breakfast the first morning they were there. They looked as sour as though they had just been given ten days on the rocks and put them down. They were as hard as iron. They were as hard as iron. They were as hard as iron.

"Another old hag said the bed she slept in kept her awake all night with its creaking and groaning. It evidently needed oiling. She didn't believe that any woman with any respect would let a guest have a bed so uncomfortable. Aunt Julia listened for a while, and I could hear her teeth grinding like a coffee mill. After a while she went upstairs and gathered all the handbags and other trappings belonging to the women and put them in the porch, and when the women were all gone she led them out and stored them their junk, and invited them to go down to the railway yards and find lodging in a box car."

RUSS PEASANTS BATTLE REDS IN VOLGA DISTRICT

Returning American Missionary Reports Sanguinary Clashes Between Bolshevik and Dis- affected Subjects

TRIA, (AP)—Irregular fighting between Russian peasants and red troops is continuing along the Volga river in the vicinity of Saratov, according to Daniel Isaac, a Seventh Day Adventist missionary of Parker, S. D., who has arrived at Riga with his wife, formerly of Brighton, Kan., after a sojourn of many years in Russia.

Mr. Isaac said that the peasants, led by Antonoff, Kabanov, Waskull and other irregular leaders whom the Bolshevik term "bandits," are constantly oppressing the red contingents in the Volga villages, although they are mostly armed only with pitchforks and scythes.

"Fighting began in January, when the commissars seized sheep, cattle and grain to lighten food, leaving only 50 pounds of grain per man to support the people through the winter," said Mr. Isaac. "A hundred or more villages in this district which I have inspected by German soldiers, are threatened with starvation. The fighting, however, is only a question of 'whites' and 'reds' alternately driving each other in and out of the devastated villages."

Mr. Isaac left the village of Watanburg on the Volga, where he had a church early in May. At this time, he says, Antonoff and about 4000 irregulars, whom the Bolshevik could not catch because they were mounted on fast horses and able to harass the enemy and afterward retreat. These irregulars, he said, had been killing a number of Jews in the Volga territory.

Mr. Isaac said he arrived at Moscow May 15, being held prisoner by the Bolsheviks in company with Leticia of Wales. They spent a week in Moscow, where he found that a number of the towns had been opened partially to the irregulars, but some still held white bread, eggs and milk, all of which were available, although prices were high.

Mr. Isaac brought the news that A. Roberts, of New York, pastor of the Adventist church in the Volga territory, died of typhus February 28, leaving a widow and a ten-year-old daughter, although she still lives in the vicinity of Leopold, near Saratov. They are unable to leave because they are Americans.

"Conditions in Russia here worse in this country than in the cities," said Mr. Isaac, "for there is a shortage of even bread and potatoes." However, the opponents of bolshevism seem to have lost all power of organization and there does not seem to be any chance of a real rebellion in the near future."

BRITISH LORD ADDS TO HIS GIFTS TO NATION

Donates Several Farms in Addition to His Country Residence for Bene- fit of Agriculture

LONDON, (AP)—Lord Lee, who recently donated to the nation his beautiful country residence, "Chequers" in Buckinghamshire, as a residence for the prime minister, has now considerably enlarged his gift. He has added to it several farms, aggregating about 700 acres, and some 600 acres of woodland.

The farms are fully equipped with livestock and up-to-date farming machinery, buildings, hoes and growing crops, and include seven cottages just completed. With the woodland goes a new steam sawmill. The ministry of agriculture will be the custodians of the property.

The ministry of agriculture hopes to utilize the gift not only to help educate farmers but also the prime minister, whenever he may happen to be.

MOTION PICTURE HOUSE OWNERS IN CONVENTION

Censorship and Attempted Ad- verse Legislation on Pro- gram for Discussion

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (AP)—Prominent owners of motion picture playhouses throughout the United States will meet here today in convention when members of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America assemble for a three-day gathering.

More than 3,000 moving picture proprietors are expected to attend according to A. W. Steffen, of this city, president of the Northwest Theatrical Protective league and a member of the national executive committee. About 1,500 women, many wives of the theatre owners, will accompany the delegates, he said.

Many important questions of vital concern to the playhouse proprietors will be taken up at the meeting, Mr. Steffen said. Among these will be the following:

Attempts by legislatures of various states to enact adverse legislation to the motion picture industry.

Censorship, both state and federal.

Uniform contracts for films between the producer and exhibitor.

Effects of the producer entering the exhibit business.

The music tax, and the 5 per cent federal film tax.

Such states as South Dakota, Kansas, Pennsylvania and New York, are attempting to make laws to detriment of the motion picture business, Mr. Steffen declared, and the theatre owners will make plans for organized opposition to these tactics. In some states many of the attempts were fruitless, but nevertheless the organization as a whole will combat them, he said.

Effects of censorship as practiced in several states and the probability of censorship being extended to new states will be another outstanding point for the playhouse proprietors, according to Mr. Steffen.

Among the prominent public officials and theatre owners who already have announced their intention of attending the convention are:

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, Marcus Loefer, New York, Charles Miles, Detroit, and Alex. Pennington, Los Angeles.

During the convention of the national organization of theatre owners, the Independent Producers' association will hold a joint convention. Many of the prominent independent producers of the United States will attend both meetings.

Child of Eleven Faces Second Murder Trial

After a 24-hour debate over the fate of 11-year-old Cecil Burkett, charged with the murder of his playmate, Bonny Slavin, at Knox, Ind., 12 weary jurymen told Judge Pentecost that an agreement by a verdict would be impossible, and they were dismissed.

DETROIT GREET'S WOUNDED 'VETS'

Tribute to Colonel Galbraith's Feat of Disabled Service Men's Session

DETROIT, Mich., (AP)—Detroit today hung out the "welcome sign" to American soldiers returned in the world war.

From every part of the country, veterans were arriving to take part in the opening sessions tomorrow of the first meeting of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

Perfection of the national organization, discussion of questions vital to the welfare of wounded soldiers, and selection of next year's convention city, were among the matters to come before the gathering before the final adjournment on Thursday.

Today was devoted to registration of the several thousand delegates and to issuance of credentials. Tonight the wounded men will be guests of the border cities of Canada at an entertainment at the Windsor Jockey club.

Tomorrow afternoon addresses of welcome will be given by Governor Alex. J. Groves and James Couzens, mayor of Detroit. The report of Judge Robert E. Marx of Cincinnati, national president, also will be given.

Among the speakers on the program tomorrow morning are Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, and Captain Michael Aronson of Baltimore, who will speak on "Victory Over Blindness."

The afternoon tomorrow has been set aside for a uniform parade of all the wounded soldiers. Features of the parade will be a float drawn by six jet black horses, in honor of the nation's soldier dead, and a jet black horse with inverted boots and a crepe cascade on the saddle pommel, escorted by a detail of six men with inverted boots, in memory of Colonel Frederick Galbraith, late commander of the American Legion, recently killed in an automobile accident. Colonel Galbraith was to have taken a prominent part in the convention.

Speakers for Wednesday include Ralph Horn of Seattle, Wash., who will speak on "The Disabled American Veterans in the West, Their Problems and Achievements," and Charles H. Miller of Imperial Valley, California. Uel Lambkin, director of the Federal

Board for Vocational Education, also will speak.

The business session on Thursday, the last day of the convention, will be confined to adoption of a constitution, selection of a permanent headquarters, and the next convention city, and election of officers.
