Soldiers' Bonus, Tariff and Tax Bills to be Subject of Executive's Formal Statement to Congress

INDICATES PURPOSE TO STRIKE BALANCE SHEET

President Reviews Legislative Program at Informal Conferences with Leaders of Both Parties

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—In expectation of an early message from President Harding urging temporary postponement of the bonus bill greater speed with tariff and tax legislation, senate leaders today believed they already had garnered sufficient voice to lay aside the soldiers' measure.

No effort to recommend the bill to the finance committee, however, as proposed by President Harding was planned until receipt of the expected message. It was not certain when the message might be sent.

Minority leaders said they did not expect concerted opposition to recommend.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—President Harding plans to address congress in a formal way soon, probably by July 15, and the legislation, senate leaders today believed they already had garnered sufficient voice to lay aside the soldiers' bonus legislation and also the tariff and tax bills.

During an unannounced visit Thursday to the capitol, the president was understood to have told senators he would supplement his conferences today with a message on the bonus legislation. The president was quoted as saying that he would supplement his conferences today with a message on the bonus legislation. The president was quoted as saying that he would supplement his conferences today with a message on the bonus legislation.

Coloquies with Mellon.

President Harding was said to have told senators that while he favored bonus legislation, he felt, like Secretary Mellon, that now was not the time for its enactment. The president was said to feel that the bonus bill should be deferred until after passage of the tariff and tax bills and a balance sheet could be struck between the two.

The president spent two hours at the capitol, occupied with luncheon with senators and conferences with republican senators on the subject of the bonus legislation and the possibility of a senate recess. The question of the recess was said to be favored by the president as a means of speeding up the tariff and tax legislation.

Agricultural Bloc Urges Views.

Members of the agricultural "bloc" of the senate who talked with the president told the executive that they would give any recess or adjournment of the senate until legislation was passed for the relief of farmers. They were said to have insisted upon enactment of agricultural export financing legislation, passage by the house of the senate bill to increase the interest rate on bonds of joint stock land banks from five to five and one-half per cent, and enactment of proposals to give the secretary of agriculture or some representative of agricultural interests membership on the federal reserve board.

The agricultural bloc were said to have urged increase from ten thousand to twenty-five thousand dollars, the maximum of individual loans to farmers under the farm land bank system.

In conversation with Senator Borah, the president is understood to have said that he already had taken some steps toward a statement agreement and desired to discuss with the senator later at the White House what further steps should be taken.

Canal Zone Youngsters to Give Swimming Exhibitions

Twenty-five children from the Panama Canal zone are in New York to take part in the opening of the world's largest indoor swimming pool at Madison Square Garden. The youngsters, familiarly known as the Red White and Blue troupe range in ages from seven to twelve years. All are expert swimmers and divers. The photo shows the Bernardi sisters, members of the troupe. They are left to right: Helen, Vivian and Margaret. Their father is a member of Uncle Sam's forces in the canal zone.

STERLING DAIRY PRODUCTS FACTORY MAKES IMPORTANT FORWARD STRIDES IN THE LOCAL WORLD OF INDUSTRY—PLANT RUNS CAPACITY

Business is Built Up from Small Start Decade Ago to the Point Where Expansion Becomes Necessary—Institution Operated on Modern Principles and by Approved Processes

From a lowly start made in the year 1910 the Sterling Dairy Products company has grown in proportions that class the plant as one of the most important of its sort in this section of the Intermountain country. Its business is a case of competition for the stiff order since the company's organization has grown apace, and continues to grow until expansion of the plant and facilities has become a necessity.

The Sterling Dairy Products concern had its inception in a small organization started by H. J. Youngs in a small building on Main street at its north, a location now occupied by the Kingsbury Printing. Business prospered from the beginning and it was found advisable to form a company, of which Mr. Youngs is the president. The company factory is located immediately across the O. S. L. railroad tracks from the passenger station, the executive office being on the second floor of the plant.

Has Modern Processes.

The company thus far has confined its efforts largely to the production of butter and ice cream, products known throughout the district for their excellent quality. Modern processes, supplemented by high sanitation science are employed in these manufactures, which are directed in operation by branch experts of established efficiency.

The company operates a modern sterilizer and late style pasteurization machine in handling all its milk, and cream. Its cooling device is a most approved system. The cream ripening vat has a capacity of 600 gallons, the plant making about 2000 pounds of butter per day. All processes are automatic, human hands scarcely coming into contact with the product at all from the time milk or cream is received until it is ready for the consumer.

Gold Storage.

For the storage of butter and cream a department of considerable capacity is maintained at a temperature of 30 degrees Fahrenheit, while the "hardening" room temperature is held at from 2 to 7 degrees above zero. In the latter place can be ice cream and bricks of the same product are stored until ready for the market.

Two large freezing machines are employed in the manufacture of ice cream at the Sterling plant, each machine having a capacity of 50 gallons of cream at a time. In plant operation at this time of the year the company uses from three to five tons of ice daily. Of this supply the company's freezing plant has a capacity of about one ton per day.

Parcel post business of the company is increasing every year, postage paid on these shipments amounting to as high as $500 per month. All utensils employed in manufacturing processes at the plant are sterilized with live steam and dried with hot air blast.

Churning cream is received daily from farms, is weighed and sampled for butterfat test and paid for on butter fat basis.

At the end of a day's receipts cream which has accumulated is placed in pasteurizing and ripening vat and pasteurized by heat by means of steam coils to 140 degree Fahrenheit and held in sealed vat 30 minutes, then cooled down and held over night before churning.

The combined churn and worker requires about an hour for its operation—butter is tested for moisture and when standardized is placed in 90-pound boxes and set in cooler to harden, then put through cutting machine and cut into pound prints, which are cartoned in the Sterling cartons and are ready for the consumer—sold in seven states.

Ice Cream Department.

Cream is received sweet from selected dairies and standardized to 20 per cent butterfat cream; sugar and flavorings are carefully proportioned and mixed, then put through pasteurizing and emulsifying machine which perfects the thoroughness of the mixture. Mixture is then set away in cooler for 24 hours to ripen and intensify the aroma.

It is then brought to the freezing point and when beaten up to the freezing point the new process of carbonation is added, driving out all the ordinary air cells and replacing with carbonated air. This is a process on which the Sterling owns exclusive rights and which adds much to the flavor texture and keeping quality of the finished ice cream. The ice cream is then ready to be drawn from the freezers and is caught in can of various sizes as the trade requires. A large and growing demand for bricks and sanitary original packages which may be passed to the consumer in the same form as taken from the freezer without being opened or touched by the hand.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION INTO NORTH DAKOTA EXPRESS RATES

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—An investigation to determine whether rates maintained by the American Railway Express company within the state of North Dakota are prejudicial to interstate commerce was ordered Thursday by the interstate commerce commission. The date and place for hearings were not announced.

The inquiry grows out of a petition filed by the express company, charging that the North Dakota railroad commission had denied the company's request to increase its rates for state traffic to the level of those in interstate traffic.

STAGE SET FOR LEGION SESSION IN KANSAS CITY

Missouri Metropolis Lays Plans for Entertainment of World War Veterans Assemblage in Convention

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—The stage is being set in Kansas City for the biggest national convention the American Legion has ever seen when the veterans of the A. E. F. assemble here October 31.

Conquerors from Montana arrayed in "chains" and "sashes" will march through the streets on cowpats provided by the Grover Street post of the legion here, composed of local veterans. Next will be the performance of stunts upon the streets by the Kansas City Flying club, which are to award prizes. Legionnaires from Iowa are scheduled to arrive in "side cars Pullmans" bearing the famous "40 kommos, 8 chevrons" legend, so well known to veterans of French troop trains.

Heading to Attend. Also, among those present will be President Harding, General John J. Pershing, late "O in '07" of the A. E. F.; Marshall Foch and Admiral Sir D. B. Beatty, hero of the battle of Jutland.

A delegation of five Legion men is scheduled to arrive from Canada and a similar contingent from Panama. Thirty-five highly accredited delegates in all are expected. A much larger number, from the territory adjacent to Kansas City, will be on hand for the parade opening the "big day" convention. Many towns in Missouri and Kansas have sent word that they will have large delegations down for the parade.

Fifty-four men, holders of the congressional medal of honor, the highest decoration for bravery that the country bestows, will be invited to attend the convention with their wives as guests of honor, all expenses being paid by the legion.

Plumbers to Be Paid. It is planned to make temporary tracks and run Pullman cars into the heart of the city, where they will be "parked" for the accommodation of delegates during the three days' convention. In addition to the American Legion convention, various divisional and unit reunions will be held at the same time. Members of organizations desiring to hold such reunions being urged to communicate with the registration division of the legion convention here.

A war department exhibit of war materials, used and captured, is also to be shown.

Illnesses and Constipation. "For years was troubled with ill health and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my weight and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today if I had not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally." writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.—adv.

Widow of British Captain who Came Through the Sarabhan Tragedy

Buchanan, an aviator irrigation officer, who was killed in the riots in Mesopotamia nine months ago, came through danger of death and worse and after a painful imprisonment of some weeks in the hands of Sheik Majid before she was rescued by a British relief column under Brigadier General F. E. Cunningham. The story of her experience at Sarabhan during the rising is a thrilling story of British bravery and calm resolution in defiance of terrible odds and reflects the wonderful courage of the women who stood by her husband during the siege of the Quahlah and, to use her own words, "put up a fight on our own," when the Arabs managed to enter the building. Her husband was killed and she was carried off.

RUSSIAN PRESS REVEALS FLAWS IN RED REGIME

People Starving on "Model" Farms and Factories Turn Out Less than Five Per Cent of Pre-War Production

REVAL, Esthonia. (AP)—Those who have the idea that bolshevik newspapers printed in Russia say only things about the country could quickly be disillusioned by perusal of the papers themselves. During the past few months, the principal Moscow and Petrograd newspapers have been startlingly frank about some of the conditions that communism has produced.

The Moscow Economic Life not long ago wrote the following description of conditions on one of the communist "model" farms:

"The farm presented a picture of complete desolation. For years there have been no repairs. Windows are broken, walls are falling in, and some of the buildings are in ruins. Workers live in terrible dirty rooms, black from smoke. In one of the rooms there lives a calf, placed there by the foreman edict of women tenants.

"There are neither potatoes nor vegetables for the workers. In the summer no one has bothered to store them. People are starving, cattle are starving. In the fields there are 32 persons, of these six are officials.

The old program of the bolshevik government called for an increase in the number of these "model" farms. The new program by which the peasants are given nine days' tenure of their land, practically does away with them.

No less frank were more recent admissions in the Moscow newspapers of the economic state of Russian factories, some of which were shown to be producing less than 5 per cent of what they produced before the war.

Harvest Help Reported Plentiful in Wheat Belt. "Advice received by the department of agriculture from its agents in the field indicates that there will be no general shortage of labor for the wheat harvest. In those same areas there will be a decided surplus.

In Kansas where the harvest begins about June 15 in the southern tier of states, the supply of labor is already in excess of demand. In that district wages for shuckers do not run over $3 a day without board and lodging.

At Texas, where harvest is actually in progress, there seems to be labor enough to meet all demands, with the possible exception of the Panhandle district. In Texas harvest wages run from $4 to $5.50 a day.

In the northern wheat states the situation has not yet developed sufficient to make possible reliable estimates as to demands for outside labor, but it seems probable that the labor market will be comparatively even to most localities, with the prevailing wage not over $4 a day.

CANOEING GETS LIFT AS SPORT BY SALT LAKE

Utah Resident Suggests Extended Adoption of Light Craft for Streams. Canoeing on streams and lakes of the intermountain country, a sport and for recreation, is feasible and should be developed. R. H. Lowe, a resident of Salt Lake believes. Mr. Lowe in a letter to R. H. Peterson, advertising agent for the O. S. L. railroad is an enthusiastic canoeist, and has enjoyed the sport in territories of the east.

Recently Mr. Lowe conferred with Mr. Peterson on the project of arousing an interest in canoeing among the sportsmen of this section of the country and suggested during the course of this conference that the O. S. L. take up the project in its advertising scheme for the country through which its rail line traverses.

Following is a letter addressed to Mr. Peterson on this subject, outlining the many claimed advantages of the canoe as a lake and stream craft:

"Referring to canoeing yesterday in regard to the neglected opportunities for outings by canoe upon the streams and lakes reached by the Oregon Short Line."

Recreation Neglected. "One of my first impressions upon taking residence in this section of the country, was the utter neglect of this delightful means of recreation. In the Adirondacks, in Maine, on the Pacific coast, in the lakes of Canada, in the northwest, at resorts throughout the country, one finds the canoe in use in great numbers. It is a light, easily transported, sturdy craft, of considerable carrying capacity, and at the same time of very shallow draft so that it will go, as someone has expressed it, 'wherever it is damp.' It has been well called, because of its low cost, the poor man's yacht.

"There is a common impression that the canoe is unstable and dangerous. While it is true that a craft can be capized more easily than a row boat and might for this reason be considered dangerous in the hands of a novice or a very swift stream, the general use of the canoe by thousands of devotees throughout the country is sufficient testimony of its staunchness. As a matter of fact, the canoe can, with success, be used in which no other craft could live.

Utah General Use. "A more general use of the canoe upon water contiguous to the Oregon Short Line would add greatly to the enjoyment of sportsmen and pleasure seekers in general. Particularly, it would add to the ease of fishermen, who could reach in and comfort water inaccessible to the sportman depending upon waders.

It has been my experience that boats of any kind are seldom, if ever, available, and it seems to me that sportsmen are overlooking a good bet in the canoe.

The light weight of this craft permits of its ready transportation by express to the destination, as is done throughout the country. By means of this convenient form of transportation long water trips are made available, the outfit being transported by rail to the water and waded home by rail from a convenient point of embarkation many miles down stream, according to the preference of the pleasure seeker. A portage or transfer route may be encountered, but that is part of the game of river rafting, and if the route is well chosen, does not detract from the pleasure of a trip of this kind.

"Years for greater enjoyment of the outdoors."

WOULD REMOVE LIMIT ON ILLITERATES' SCHOOL AGE

National Education Association is Advised to Call International Congress

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—Illiterates and foreigners of whatever age must not be exempted from school attendance if illiteracy is to be eliminated and Americanization advanced, J. M. Gwynn, superintendent of schools at New Orleans, La., said here Thursday at a general session of the National Education Association.

Continuous education of all up to approximately 19 years Dr. Gwynn held essential for citizenship training.

"Ways and means must be established for a continuous survey showing those present in the community who are illiterate and foreign and not trained for citizenship," he said.

"The city schools and the whole industrial, commercial and civic life of the community must co-operate to secure these objectives.

"The qualities of a good citizen must be made clear and all who have to do with making ideals, teachers, prelates, clergymen, etc., should be required to come up to the standard and the good American citizen.

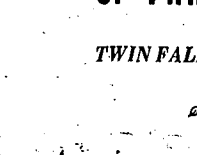

"Foreigners should not be permitted to teach un-American ideals, civic and governmental—whether in press, pulpit or schoolroom.

"All needed kinds of school and classes must be operated day and night, and all the year round—full time and part time."

HOUSE FIRM IN DISAGREEMENT

Vote to Insist on Stand Against Senate Amendment to the Naval Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The house agreed today to another conference with the senate in an effort to reach an agreement on half a dozen amendments to the naval appropriation bill in which the house has declined to concur.

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Another disputed item in the naval appropriation bill was passed today by the house, which voted to insist further in its disagreement to a senate amendment authorizing acquisition of a tract of land near Camp Kearny, Cal., as a site for a higher than air aviation station.

Again before Senate. The annual navy appropriation bill was before the senate again today as well as several amendments pertaining largely to construction. Among the items which are holding the measure up are those authorizing acquisition of a tract at Sand Point, Wash., for a naval aviation base, construction of pier extensions at Puget Sound and construction of two airplane carriers.

Midnight Clash Throws Belfast in Mad Disorder

BELFAST, (AP)—The Union street and Kent street areas of Belfast were the scene of wild excitement at midnight last night, heavy fighting going on for 20 minutes. A constable was mortally wounded and the Sinn Fein engaged in the best hand-to-hand combat to have suffered heavily. Many dead bodies are said by the police to have been carried into houses nearby.

The trouble started when a police searching party called at a house in the district.

premier, this morning in an audience which lasted half an hour. While nothing was obtainable regarding the subject of their talk it was noted that the Irish situation was discussed. Sir James refused to make any statement after his audience.

English political writers in this morning's newspapers seemed to believe the prospect of an agreement at Dublin today should be regarded more with hope than with despair. Many were giving little occasion for optimism.

Do Valera Holds Key. This view was based largely on the belief that Eamon de Valera, leader of the Sinn Fein, adhered unalterably in his demand for the establishment of an Irish republic and that the British government, as well as Ulster, took its stand upon dominion rule as provided in the recently promulgated Irish act. It was stated that Eoin Dillon had taken to the conference an intimation that any settlement must be in harmony with the Irish act, in accordance with which the Belfast parliament was dissolved.

Where, in the face of such an attitude, Mr. de Valera would accept the prime minister's invitation to London was regarded in many quarters as extremely doubtful. Where the more hopeful view was taken, however, it was believed that Mr. de Valera might reply with a counter proposal, taken to the conference and received by the Associated Press from Belfast, insisting that the form of Mr. de Valera's invitation to the government "put its cards on the table" before disclosing his own hand.

Sinn Fein Under Strain. Another view held in Ulster was that the Sinn Fein could not stand the financial strain of promoting the conflict and, therefore, would be compelled to terms. In this event, however, it was contended, a serious difficulty might arise with the Catholic church in Ulster, which according to many negotiations that would place the power to legislate upon educational subjects in the hands of the north Irish parliament.

In view of the great diversity of reports, it might be significant that the Sinn Fein parliament last night issued an announcement warning the public against "unauthorized" and "sensitive" reports connected with the situation.

BROWN FORCES' CASUALTIES

FOR WEEK BELOW AVERAGE

DUBLIN, (AP)—The official review of happenings in Ireland, issued by the authorities in Dublin last night for the week ending July 4, says the crown forces suffered 40 casualties, which was slightly below the average. Fourteen policemen were killed and 20 wounded, the review says, while one soldier was killed and five wounded. There were 25 ambulance, and eight numbers of civilians attributed to the Sinn Fein. Arrests numbered 66 and there were 61 courts-martial. Those now interned number 3288.

To Soften Skins.

There are two simple ways of softening leather and raw skin. One is to rub in thoroughly neat-foot oil. The other is to dissolve three ounces of alum, seven ounces of salt and one and one-half ounces saleratus in sufficient hot rain water to saturate the skin. When cool enough not to scald the hands scrub the skin in for 12 hours; wring out and hang up to dry. When dry repeat this operation two or three times until the skin is sufficiently soft.

Snow Banner.

This is a bannerlike stream of snow blown into the air from a mountain peak, often having a pinkish color and extending horizontally for several miles across the sky.

Teaching the Blind to Typewrite

The German government is, instructing many soldiers blinded during the war in the use of the typewriter, thus enabling them to earn their living. Several machines for the use of the blind have recently been invented, but the blind men are also taught to operate a regular typewriter through the touch system. The above photo shows a blind war veteran operating a typewriter, receiving dictation from a dispenser.

TARIFF DUTIES IRK SHEEP MEN

Wool Schedule is Called "Monstrous" by Livestock Association Spokesman

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Discussion of the Fordney tariff bill got into a hotting today on the "truth in fabric" bill. Former Representative Buckner of Colorado, representing the American National Livestock association, described the plight of wool growers, who he said, relying on the republican party for protection from foreign wool, had received only the "monstrous" bill of the wool schedule of the Fordney bill.

"Well, the tariff bill will be over on the senate side in two weeks," said Sen. Wilson, of Indiana, a republican member of the senate finance committee. "Then the days of reconstruction will begin."

Chicagoans Join Wool Growers. Plans for enactment of the "truth in fabric" bill were presented to a senate committee today by retail clothing and wool growers. The bill would require that the pure wool content of fabrics be plainly indicated. George E. Briggs, New York, representing the National Sheep and Wool Growers' bureau, said such a law would "drive to heaven despising unscrupulous manufacturers of textiles."

WHEAT AT HIGHER MARK

Canadian Crop Damage Reports Lead to Advance; Net Gain 3-4 to 2c

CHICAGO, (AP)—Downturns in wheat prices resulted today from opinions current that the government crop report would be only moderately bullish, as the deterioration of the spring crop would be offset in a measure by the advance in the par basis for the month. July delivery, however, showed relative strength as rains were said to have delayed threshing in Kansas and Nebraska and country offerings were only fair. Opening quotations, which varied from 3-4 lower to 2c advance, with September $1.19 3-4 to 1.21 and December $1.23 1-2, were followed by a setback all round to well below yesterday's finish.

New York Stock Market NEW YORK, (AP)—Specialties were shipped out for pressure in the stock market today, their reactions being causing general decline of 2 to 6 points. Sales approximated 650,000 shares. The feature of the stock market at the daily and heavy opening of today's session was United States Rubber common, which fell 3-4 points to the low price of 49 as a result of the post-announcement dividend action. Mexican Petroleum, American Sugar, American International, United Fruit and Bethlehem and Crucible Steels comprised the other backward issues with several of the motors and affiliates specialties. A few obscure issues made slight gains.

In the final hour when call money rose to 6 per cent future depression of market, oil, equipment, tobacco and rails being especially vulnerable. The closing was weak.

GOLDEN STREAM OF WHEAT GOES FROM GALVESTON

Long Continued Breakdown of Europe's Agricultural Production Causes Unusual Demand for American Grain

GALVESTON, Texas, (P)—The long continued breakdown of agricultural production in Russia largely accounts for the golden stream of middle wheat from that country which is flowing through this port to Europe at the rate of several million bushels monthly, according to shipping men and grain exporters here.

Italy, Germany, Greece and other countries which formerly depended upon the cereals of the Ukraine now are declared to be placing virtually all their grain orders in the middle western United States.

Since July 1, 1920, a total of 65,224, 713.27 bushels of wheat has been exported through Galveston. In May alone 7,440,382.50 bushels were lifted from foreign ports.

Italy, with 3,182,000 bushels, was the middle west's best customer in May. Great Britain came next, taking a total of 2,903,379 bushels, while Germany was third with 1,123,685 bushels.

Washington's Religion. There has been considerable controversy over the extent to which religious belief entered into Washington's character. His own chronicles show that most of his business except during the presidency, when he felt obliged to set an example, he spent in answering letters, going over his accounts, hunting or doing any business that those with whom he was negotiating had no objection to his choosing a partner to work for him he set up no barriers of creed, judging men on the standard of honesty, industry and ability.

High Flyer. It is no rare occurrence for the condor to soar to a height of four miles.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned. The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must save nine dollars in order to get ten dollars in return.

Buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars' output later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.

FUME CHANGES OPINION ABOUT AMERICAN CONSUL

Wants Official, Once Rejected, to Re-open His Office Again

ROME, (P)—The United States consul, Wilbur Kehlberger, who was refused permission to reopen his office in Florence in March last, would now be welcomed to that city, says Professor Riccardo Zanussi, head of the autonomist party of Fiume, which was victorious in the recent elections in that little state.

"It was a grave mistake when Consul Kehlberger was sent away," said Professor Zanussi. "We want him to re-establish his office in Fiume so that America can do business through that port."

(Mr. Kehlberger attempted to reopen his office in Fiume in March last. He was instructed to inform the provisional government of that city that his presence did not constitute recognition of the new government. The Fiume government in turn refused to recognize the American consul until the United States recognized the independence of Fiume.)

"Her Husband's Wife"

will be played at the Lavering theatre Friday and Saturday, July 8 and 9, by the Varsity Players of the University of Idaho, proves conclusively that non-professional performers, when properly directed and producing a live, modern play, can successfully compare with professional productions and, in fact, surpasses the average shows put on by road aggregations.

Members of the Varsity Players are selected from the large university student body on three points—experience, training and ability and fitness for the roles they are to interpret. In this way the very cream of the university talent was secured for "Her Husband's Wife."

The play is one of the most popular comedies of today. It was played in New York by Henry Miller and his company and recently has been produced in many other large cities of the country, always with phenomenal popular success. The Varsity Players pay $500 for the right to produce it on their present tour.

The plot is that of a foolish little wife who fears she is going to die and seeks to find a "suitable woman" to take her place when she passes away. By various laughable means she manages to get a woman to take her place, and before she is through with it she has everyone, including her brother who is engaged to the "suitable woman," in a hot water. The comedy which her husband pays attention to the woman of her selection adds much to the troubles of the little wife when she suddenly decides to change her plans.

The Varsity Players are making a seven weeks' tour of the northwest, playing the principal towns of Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon. Members of the cast are Mike Thompson of Twin Falls, leading role; Ben Kimmel, Virgil Bodwell, Professor J. H. Argham, Camille McDaniels and Donna Eggen.

TWIN FALLS CONTRACTOR OFFERS COUNTY LOW BID

Fred James May Be Awarded Contract for Heating Plant at the Hospital

Yesterday afternoon members of the board of county commissioners considered proposals for the installation of boiler equipment to serve as a new heating plant for the county hospital.

The bids will receive further consideration today with a view either to acceptance of the lowest or rejection of all.

In all five concerns submitted proposals covering this work, which include the placing of two new low pressure boilers for heating the main and annex sections of the hospital structure...

Other bids are: Ballantyne Plumbing & Heating company, Twin Falls, $5,974.00; E. P. Swanek, Twin Falls, $6,002.25; Reynolds Brothers, Elmer, $6,782; Gooding Plumbing & Heating company of Gooding, $7,250.

The James route is remodeling of the hospital heating plant which in its present form has been found inadequate to the purposes required of it...
