Irish Republican Leaders Call Results of Initial Meeting Between Lloyd-George and Valera Satisfactory

CROWDS RECITE PRAYER AS CONFERENCE OPENS

Prospect for Peaceable Settlement of Issues Involving the Emerald Isle in Bloodshed is Viewed with Optimism

LONDON, (AP)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, has been summoned to London to confer with the prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, on the Irish situation. It was announced here this afternoon. Sir James is at present in Belfast.

LONDON, (AP)—Eamon de Valera, premier of the Irish republic, conferred for more than two and a half hours today over the question of an Irish truce. The republican leader arrived at the prime minister's official residence in Downing street at 4:30 p. m. and left at 7:10 p. m.

At the conclusion of the conference Mr. O'Brien, president of the Gaelic league in London, stated that it had terminated "amicably."

As has been agreed upon, a communique regarding the conference will be issued later.

Satisfied with Results. One of the men who accompanied Mr. De Valera to the conference with the premier said tonight:

"We are satisfied with the results of the initial conference."

The communique issued stated that a free exchange of views took place between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera, and their relative positions were defined.

The conference will be resumed at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The republican leader's appearance at the prime minister's official residence was unusual to the minute. Mr. Lloyd George was awaiting him, and their conversation over the peace question were begun immediately.

Crowd Recites Prayer. "Notwithstanding a drizzling rain," a great crowd which had gathered at the entrance to Downing street, waited patiently for some announcement from the momentous meeting. Shortly after Mr. De Valera entered the prime minister's house the crowd knelt in Whitehall and began to recite the Rosary.

The Irish republicans gathered directly from the hotel in Buckingham palace road used as headquarters by the Irish delegation to Downing street in a motor car. The car accompanied Mr. De Valera, president of the Gaelic league in London, and Robert C. Barton, a member of the Irish delegation. A large crowd, mostly women, which had gathered about the hotel, swarmed around the automobile as it departed, cheering and waving. Sinn Fein flags.

De Valera is Optimistic. The outlook for a lasting peace in Ireland is brighter than it has ever been in history, declared Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader, who was about to enter conference today with Mr. Lloyd George, the British prime minister, in an attempt to

SENATORS HEAR WEST VIRGINIA MINERS' LEADER

Investigating Committee Opens Hearings to Determine the Facts on Disorders in Mingo Coal Fields

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—A senate committee today began investigation of disorders in the Mingo coal fields of West Virginia, which have recently to declaration of martial law by the governor, Nell Barkman, representing the United Mine Workers of America, being the first witness called. "The trouble was due, he said, to a 'lockout' of union miners by the mine operators."

Miners had been evicted from company houses and "terrorized by gunmen," Barkman asserted, 15,000 miners and their families having been housed in tent cities by the union.

"There people are 92 per cent American-born," he said, "and the mine operators are employing Spaniards, Italians, Greeks, and every type of foreigner they can get to take the places of the locked out miners."

Operators Blame Union. L. Taylor Vinson, for the operators, said Barkman's statement would be "refuted by evidence."

For 50 years, he said, miners and employers "lived in peace" under a scale of wages that permitted "an efficient man to earn from $400 to $700 a month" and that "this condition persisted until the United Mine Workers sought to get control of the field."

"I propose to show that the United Mine Workers up to 1912, was straight labor union, but that in this year it adopted principles which have turned its membership into a band of robbers," Vinson said. "These are strong words, but what they have done is to declare that they will never remain satisfied with any return for their labor that is less than the full value of the coal that is mined."

"Every murder and every riot in West Virginia can be laid to the policy of the United Mine Workers' effort to monopolize and then to own the mines."

"Where do you get that interpretation of that term of moral value?" Chairman Kenyon asked.

"From the mouth of their officers and delegates," in the words of their own official records," Vinson replied.

Calls Upon "Bobby." "It's issue is one of robbery, pure and simple," Vinson continued. "It's not an open shop question."

Vinson said 27 men had been killed in Mingo since 1920, "five of them officers of the law, shot in the back from ambush."

"The United Mine Workers has picked in assassins," he said, "gunmen planted for their work. Out of 15 men in jail the other day, arrested in this territory, only four were citizens of West Virginia. In spite of this intimidation, we are getting out 90 per cent of normal output. We have here the petitions of 5000 men and 800 women, working in the mines, asking you to protect them in their right to work."

Honolulu Publishers Take Exception to Labor Leader's Remarks on Conditions

HONOLULU, (AP)—An invitation to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to visit the Hawaiian islands and observe the conditions of labor there was forwarded to him today by Lorin Thurston, president of the Advertiser Publishing company, publisher of the leading morning newspaper of the territory. The invitation is the result of statements by Mr. Gompers before a house immigration committee Monday in opposition to a resolution proposing to authorize the president to permit Chinese labor to enter the islands.

Mr. Thurston's communication sent by radio, follows:

"Associated Press dispatches report that you state labor conditions in Hawaii are bad, and that laborers are exploited and oppressed. You have been misinformed. Hawaii leads the world in welfare work for laborers, provides the best food, the best medical care and pays the highest wages under the freest and most liberal conditions of any farm labor in the world. I invite you to enter the islands on any condition for yourself, in your own way, at your own time—the sooner the better—as the guest of the Advertiser, at our expense. If you request, I make it that you inform the Advertiser of the result of your investigations, which we will publish in full."

BURLESON PESSIMISTIC ABOUT EUROPEAN TRADE

Former Postmaster General Sees Little Hope of Developing Foreign Market

BERLIN, (AP)—S. Burleson, former United States postmaster general, who has returned to Berlin after investigating the commercial, industrial and financial conditions of Poland, Austria and Czechoslovakia, is of the opinion that there is little hope of selling Europe large quantities of cotton and other raw materials until Germany and other countries of Central Europe balance their budgets and make definite arrangements to discontinue the issuance of paper money and to stabilize currency until its volume is only three times that of their gold reserves.

"I can't see any indication that the statement of Central Europe are facing these problems frankly and trying to formulate plans which get at the fundamental problems and might insure the resumption of the industries and the removal of the export trade," said Mr. Burleson. "It is not reasonable to talk about foreign loans to Central Europe as long as the printing press continues to pour out paper money without any gold guarantee or any prospect that it will be retired."

"Germany is in far better condition than the other countries of Central Europe, and if persons in power there may could improve its exchange situation very speedily if it would stop issuing paper money and levy a tax for a period of ten years to guarantee the retirement of the currency of a larger gold reserve. Foreign bankers want to see definite plans before they take a chance on the countries of Central Europe."

METHODISTS SHOW CRIME LESS UNDER DRY REGIME

Beard of Public Morals Issues Police Statistics Tending to Show Benefits of Prohibition

CHICAGO, (AP)—Police statistics tending to show a reduction of crime since the advent of prohibition were issued Wednesday by the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

In the latter year 235 persons were arrested on robbery charges while the figure in the first dry year was only 72.

"Liquor offenses," says the report, "during the first year fell off 84.5 per cent in the first year." Total arrests for drunkenness in Peoria, Ill., in the last wet year were 1,753; first dry year 325. Total arrests in Peoria for all causes last wet year 5,600; first dry year 2,937.

GERMAN ADMIT DENIES WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Gompers' Remarks Prompt Tentative Workers to Issue Indignant Reply

BERLIN, (AP)—German organized labor, which has just received the text of the address delivered at the Denver convention of the American Federation of Labor by President Samuel Gompers charging that German labor was responsible for the war, gave out Wednesday through its general commission an answer to Mr. Gompers' charge.

"The German workman," says the reply, "has as little cause to hide his face in shame as the American workman. The contention of Mr. Gompers that the German workmen could have prevented the war by the sacrifice of a few thousand lives before a surprising lack of understanding of European conditions. By such a course the German workmen would have opened the way for the Russian army to march on Berlin. A peace worse than that of Versailles and a fearful enslavement of all Europe would have been the consequence."

"The German workmen participated in the war only to prevent the complete overthrow of Germany and the victory of the entente capitalist imperialism. Their purpose was to secure the quick ending of the war through a peace of understanding. During the war we strove— we admit with insufficient success — to prevent the worst horrors. We vainly opposed the opening of the ruthless submarine warfare. But on the other hand we succeeded in stopping the Belgian deportations."

"Recently we caused Germany to accept the terrific burden of the ultimatum in order to open the way through colossal sacrifice for the reestablishment of real peace. We are combatting the nationalistic policy of revenge and we are working for democracy and true peace."

"We would be happy if the American workman would renounce unjustifiable reproaches, let bygones be bygones, and extend us the hand of comradeship in our common endeavor."

PROTECTION OF LAW IS LIFTED FROM FUR SEAL

Once Flourishing Industry in Alaska and British Columbian Waters Returns

VANCOUVER, B. C., (AP)—Fur seals in Alaska and British Columbian waters which suffered for many years because of decimation of the herds through indiscriminate killing has returned and thousands of animals are expected to be taken this year.

Off the west coast of Vancouver Island and alone Indians are expected to capture 2,000 of the fur bearing animals, and the total catch for the year may reach 100,000, it is estimated. Last year the waters along the Washington coast produced 1,200 skins.

The story of the Alaskan fur seal herd is an interesting one. When the United States acquired Alaska from Russia, the herd was estimated at 2,500,000. Then, through pelagic sealing with its indiscriminate slaughter and attendant waste of life as well as through lack of international understanding on the question of conservation, the seals all but disappeared, the industry fell off and their capture became illegal.

The decline of the seal herd was pitiable. Shot at sea under this method five or more bodies were lost for each one recovered. There also was great waste due to starvation of pups in the shore. Under such conditions in 1911 there were but approximately 125,000.

Of prolific tendencies, the seals, however multiplied rapidly after closed seasons were instituted for their protection.

IRISH LANDMARK FALLS PREY TO MARTIAL MOVE

Attempt is Made to Burn Traditional Birthplace of National Hero "Cuchulainn"

BELFAST, Ireland, (AP)—An attempt has just been made to burn Oastlowtown Mount, the ancient castellated building near Dundalk which tradition says was the birthplace of the "Cuchulainn" (meaning the Hound), the Irish hero and leader of the Red Branch Knights.

Members of the Archaeological society were in the building, which is used as a museum, and they had to jump for their lives.

Military forces were to occupy the place shortly and this is believed to be the reason for the attempted burning.

INDIAN WOMEN BECOME ADEPTS IN DRESS FORMS

An interesting reversal of the usual order of things occurred recently in a county near the "Six Nation" reservation of Indians in New York State. The home-demonstration agent, working cooperatively with the United States department of agriculture and the state agricultural college, had been giving dress-form lessons on the reservation.

There was no demonstration agent in the next county, and no available local leader could be found, so finally one of the Indian women went over to that county and successfully demonstrated the making of a gummed-paper dress form to her "white sisters."

ELKS STAGE A ROVING ROMP AGAINST MOOSE LODGE CLUB IN GLOAMING PASTIME EVENT

Patton's Efficient Workmen Submerge Other Fraters During Seven Inning-Tilt Staged as Part of Twilight League Schedule—Important Pitchers Avail Naught Against Hillsmen Introduced by Opposition

Becarried some more until the bleachers recognized the team only by the legend on the uniform the Moose team last night hit dead, and lots of it, before the on-rushing Elks. There was no moment in the proceedings when the L. O. M. had even a respit, although an alleged star twirler was imported for the occasion. At the end of the demonstration the score board read: Elks, 18; Moose, 5.

There wasn't much to the game except the Elks. In fact, the Moose fraters were so badly submerged that only once in a great while did they come up for air, and then only to sink into the stygian depths immediately. The Elks on several occasions tried to get out but the opposition declined to be thus honored, insisting upon the batter reaching first base at least. Several ten hits of various denominations were rung up by the Elks, as against 8 for the Moosemen. The latter compiled a marvelous record in the matter of errors, setting a season's mark for this league, and probably for this district.

In the matter of duplication of hits the Elks stood out like a sore thumb, with Whitzel, Neuman and Clinton W. Evans shining with particular lustre. The genial Robery Whitelot slammed the pill on three official occasions at the plate, one of these whams being good for passage all around the circuit. "Ots" Neuman tramped up six times and got four blows, two landing him on third base. Clint Evans reached up four times, got one walk, fanned once and on the other occasions drove the ball either and you for a total of six bases, each blow being good for two. Providence had a fairish bit to do with one of the two-baggers. Hanak, too, got into the extra-base hit column with a three-bagger in the sixth. The Elks started off feeding with particular gusto off the offerings of Whitney, a Moose import from somewhere. The chap looked good in the preliminary warmup, but it soon developed that his forte was not setting back boisterous batters like "Pat" Patton's finished workmen. He lasted one round and could, with advantage to his fellows, have been removed earlier. Four hits for as many runs, together with a walk, constituted his sacrificial gift in that one round.

In the first frame Whitney led the performance with a gift to Bob Whitelot. Neuman beat out an infield bunt and all hands were safe. Cree fanned but Hanak slammed a hit into left field that counted Bob. Patton's summation Moose hit Neuman, and after reaching third when Evans registered his initial long blow Hanak was sent across the plate a walk. Evans was safe at third on Bailey's short single and counted on an error by the catcher. Bailey died at first, Francis flying to L. Jarman.

Jones took Whitney's place at the opening of the second round and, despite a brace of bingles, he got past without a score. In the third inning, too, he got by, and fans solaced back expecting a rare tilt between pitchers. Hanak was tossed out in the third inning getaway, and Patton got his ribs roughly tickled. An error by the pitcher gave the manager of the L. O. E. club second base, and Evans walked. "Pat" went over to third but got no further. Evans being thrown out stealing and Francis going out on a ground-up to second base.

Four singles, with a balk, after one man was out, yielded the L. O. M. three more in the fourth, Whitelot, Neuman, Cree and Patton doing all the hitting. With two gone in the fifth Jones walked Phipps, Whitelot summed a circuit clout to the corner of centerfield fence, Neuman tripled through the also doors of the old charred barn and Cree doubled into right field. Hanak fanned.

The sixth yielded about everything imaginable for the Elks against their opponents. In this station four clouts of considerable calibre added by two stolen bases, a passed ball and six errors, gave Patton's workers six scores.

Clint Evans made trouble right off for the Moose beginning the last stanza of the seventh. He bounced a hopper over G. Jarman's coco ab short and then stole third. Bailey fired to right and Jones hit Lavender, who had been inserted to take the place of Francis in left field. Phipps fanned but Whitelot, the rollicking bludgeonist, whaled the ball into right, counting two runs. Neuman tried to bat from the north side of the plate and succeeded in fanning. The Moose made their first score in the fourth, a hit by Whitney, a base on balls to Hytanger and a single by L. Jarman, sending the score across. All this was done with two men out.

In the next Davis, sent in to take the place of Miller, singled to right and scored on Jones' long double to the same quarter, the ball being overplayed by the fielder who had to make a long chase to run down the fleeing spheroid. One hit, an error, a couple of stolen bases, and a walk added another to the Moose total in the sixth, while two came over in the seventh on a pass, a steal, a hit, a wild pitch and an out.

Brief Bits of Sport

Tonight's game at Lincoln park is for the benefit only of the local Boy Scouts.

You can help the enterprise with your presence.

"Sib" Kieffer is manager of the west and south side team, and Ray Brown manager for the north and east side club.

The park should be packed.

Game starts promptly at 6:30 with Arbieter Goldwater, the original jazz umpire, directing field operations.

Frank Moran, whom folks have named second-best to Dempsey, was late something of a surprise when Bob Martin knocked him out in seven rounds in Gotham Tuesday p. m.

This was Moran's first battle since his return from a triumphant tour of Europe England, and he figured, on the hope, to win handily over the A. E. F. champion.

But the veteran missed his calculation, and was beaten in almost every stanza by the young heavyweight batter.

Tonight's scheduled game between teams of the Twilight league, taken from each side of Main avenue, will be played as originally doped.

The contest is for the Main avenue championship and receipts will be donated to the Boy Scouts of Twin Falls.

A record breaking gathering is expected at Lincoln park for this occasion.

"Babe" Ruth appears to have found his gait again. Two homers on Tuesday were his portion again.

Ruth seems to be battling his homers in bunches.

If Earl Sheely can continue his present hitting streak he will reach the 300-clash inside of the next month. He was hitting .277 up to last Wednesday, and has kept on consistently adding to his count since.

The Salt Lake Bees won only a small percentage of the games they played away from home. But their percentage at home is even more infinitesimal.

A couple of weeks ago the Boos management announced help was on the way for the club. But the help doesn't appear to have helped any.

The Kiltzhamer club is the latest in the Main league to appeal to the fans for help. The officers of the club announced a deficit of over $11,000, part of it from last year's operations. There

These ideals have animated the activities of this company from the time it was organized. The automotive industry in all its many divisions and sub-divisions has developed with amazing rapidity during the last decade. To keep pace with its growth and even anticipate the demands that it was sure to produce has been the task of the Continental Oil Company—and it has not been an easy one.

As a result of the investment of many millions of dollars, the foresight of an efficient board of directors and the cooperation of a loyal force of employees, this company has become an important public servant. And there is no doubt in the minds of its personnel as to how much responsibility this involves. The whole organization is constantly striving to fulfill it with the greatest possible benefit to the greatest possible number of the thousands who use petroleum products.

This service includes the scrupulous maintenance of the quality of products sold by this company. The excellence of each one is unsurpassed, each has become the standard in its particular field of usefulness.

With the great increase in motoring and motor transportation there has come the need for an effective system of distributing gasoline and motor oils. NO BARRIER TO find a basis for an adjustment of the Irish problem.
PEACE IN IRELAND
YET DEVELOPED

Asked what he considered were the prospects of peace, Mr. De Valera replied:

"The outlook is brighter than it ever was in history."

"I am sure," he added, "that the atmosphere in England and Ireland is right for peace. The only thing that is necessary now is for us to get down to rock bottom."

This was the first time Mr. De Valera had spoken for publication since his arrival in London Tuesday evening.

"This is simply a private conference with Mr. Lloyd George, instead of a long range bombardment, to see what can be done on this question," said the republican leader, who was in a bright and cheerful mood, in talking with the correspondents.

"I have been told," he said, "that you have been made to believe in my not talking more freely with you, but I am sure you quite understand the difficulties of the moment. I have come to tell you that I do not wish to say a number of things to the people of Great Britain, but that the moment isn't opportune for it."

England Lacks Facts.

"As far as I can see from your press here, which I have studied very carefully, there is no country in the world which needs more to understand the aspirations of the Irish people and the right logic of their case than your own people here.

"I should be very glad, indeed, to put the case before your people, but as I am putting it before the representatives of the British nation, I think it unwise to put it before your public."

Asked whether he would insist on the discussion in London being given full publicity, Mr. De Valera stated that President Wilson's phrase, declaring he personally was in favor of "open covenants openly arrived at."

It was announced from De Valera's headquarters that this afternoon a conference would take the form of a personal interview between the British prime minister and Mr. De Valera, no one else being present.

Dublin Agreement Reached.

Reports published today that an agreement was reached at the recent Dublin conference between Eamon de Valera and the southern nationalists regarding the terms which would be demanded from the British government at the conference in London was denied this morning by Secretary Childers of the visiting Irish party.

"There was no discussion, direct or indirect, of any such terms," said Mr. Childers. "The conference confined itself exclusively to discussion of Mr. Lloyd George's invitation to a conference and of the arrangements regarding the truce."

The published report to which Mr. Childers referred alleged that the terms of the provisional agreement included, besides the provisions of the present government of Ireland—(1) the following: A Dominion Status for southern Ireland; southern Ireland to be exempt from imperial taxation and have full fiscal autonomy; northern Ireland to remain as it is at present.

Grocery Surrenders Moves

Provisions for today's conference were held in strict confidence by those directly involved.

Mr. de Valera, it was indicated, would enter the conference with no fixed formula or policy, but ready to consider any suggestions regarding a truce parley in which the Sinn Fein, Ulster and the British government might take part. It was considered probable that definite decisions might not be reached until after Mr. de Valera had returned to Dublin and there taken counsel with the Sinn Fein parliament.

Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, who has been outspoken in opposition to parleys between the government and the Sinn Fein leaders, left Belfast last night for London. It was believed he would be ready today to act as spokesman for the north Irish delegation, should he be called on for an expression of opinion.

Gets Word from America.

Mr. de Valera received a cable message from the United States today informing him of the postponement of the meeting in the United States senate on the resolutions of Senator La Follette and Senator Norris in connection with Irish affairs.

The message concluded: "America, with implicit faith in your ability and integrity, earnestly hopes the negotiations will terminate in a lasting peace based on justice." The communication was signed by J. D. Green and by George Klukend, of the legislative committee of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic.

Mr. de Valera also received many other messages from Ireland, the United States and Australia, expressing hope for the success of the conference.

POLLY AND HER PALS

OFFICERS FIND SLIM KENDRICK HIDING AT BOHL

Young Man who Made Dramatic Escape at Prison Gates, Run Down on Farm

After several weeks as a fugitive from Justice O. B. (Slim) Kendrick is a prisoner. Kendrick was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff E. R. Sherman and Deputy Sheriff H. C. Van Ausdalen at the home of his parents, near Buhl, Kendrick is charged, by authorities of Jerome county, to be a member of an organized gang of tire and auto accessory thieves, said to have been planning for some weeks all over the extent of southern Idaho. Kendrick is the seventh man arrested on this charge. All are in the Jerome county jail. Kendrick was taken to the county yesterday following arrest near Buhl.

Organized Gang? Kendrick, with Harold Smith, an alleged accomplice, was arrested several weeks ago at Hanson. The two men were brought to Twin Falls late last night by Constable Marvin Egan, of that place to be lodged in the county jail. No handcuffs or other detaining impediments were used in controlling the actors, as they were fleeing the young man's mother and a sister in the yard. Questions concerning the fugitive elicited responses from both parent and child, as the man sought was not on the place.

Protection Fails While the sheriff questioned the mother the sister broke away and started for the house. Deputy Van Ausdalen followed and entered the home immediately after the girl. The officer explains that his suspicions were aroused by the girl's actions, and he investigated a door leading from a change room through to the entrance to the cellar and as Van Ausdalen closed the door he observed the legs of a man striding toward an outside door. The command to stop was given and the fugitive continued in flight and succeeded in making his way outside before the deputy caught full sight of him. With the young man in plain view the officer and deputy pulled their guns and commanded Kendrick to stop. This time the fugitive obeyed and was placed under arrest.

Deputy W. H. of Jerome took charge of Kendrick last evening.

East is Looking to Idaho for Its Supplies of Seed

Intimation is contained in Letter from Michigan of Demand for Alsiko Alsiko as well as clover and alfalfa seed promises to be in demand through this district this fall. Inquiries are already reaching the office of the farm bureau executives relative to this seed. Agent H. E. Powers explains.

Indication of the demand is found in a letter written by W. P. Nicholson of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, inquiring concerning the present crop and the probable chance of making purchases of the seed in this district. Mr. Nicholson was in the Twin Falls section several weeks ago and made a thorough inspection of all fields. He demonstrated a special interest in alfalfa while here, his letter, received yesterday, reads:

The Michigan State Farm Bureau, from hereabouts, will be shipped in large consignments to his state this fall.

Now is the time to do it. Supply and quality are at their best right now. Berries for canning, 1 crate or 100 crates, $3 a crate. Mail orders promptly filled. Ed Vance, Public Market—adv.

CHERRY BUSHES BEAR CLUSTERS OF RIPE FRUIT

J. A. Waters Has Unusual Variety of Producing Trees Imported from Orient

Bush cherries are to be seen growing at the J. A. Waters place north of town. The fruit is an entirely new variety to this district and more or less of a novelty to horticulturists hereabouts. Scientifically the new cherry is known as prunus tomentosa or oriental bush cherry. The fruit is slightly larger than the ordinary pie cherry, and grows in clusters, somewhat after the fashion of the chokecherry, instead of in groups of two and three. In flavor it is exactly like the common cherry, except that it is slightly sweeter. Mr. Waters obtained and planted the first bushes of the oriental cherry four years ago. Last year he received the first fruit, a small but luscious cherry, more plentiful than most. This year the fruit demonstrates the effect of greater maturity, being of greater volume and larger variety.

This season an unusual incident is noted in connection with the fruit crop. This being the production of a "sport" or variation from the regular order. The sport is a metallic cherry having more the general appearance of a large white currant than a pit fruit. The "sport" is found on the same bush with the fruit of the regular cherry, and the flavor certainly found in the original. Mr. Waters planted 50 of these bush cherry bushes, and only one bears anything other than the usual fruit.

TEAMS OF STARS TO PLAY TONIGHT FOR BOY SCOUTS

Main Avenue Championship Game Will Provide Fund to Assist City Lads

Two teams of star players will line up in battle formation tonight for the championship of Main avenue. The teams are composed of the best players of the Twilight League and have donated their services for this contest in order that benefit might accrue to the Boy Scouts of the city.

The contest is scheduled to get under way at 6:30 tonight, an hour when all Twilight League contests start on Lincoln field. The game itself is promoted by the two newspapers, The News for the south and the west side; The Times for the east and the north side.

The men in the lineup are employed on the sides of the street they represent, and are not chosen with respect to their place of abode. Bill Kieffer, star shortstop of the Twilight League, has chosen the lineup for The News, and will manage the club and captain it during his game, while Ray Brown, of the Legion club, is in charge of The Times team.

An admission price of 25 cents will be charged all persons admitted to this game, all receipts, except what is needed to defray actual expenses, such as government tax and greenkeeper, being paid to the executive board in charge of the Boy Scout movement in Twin Falls. The fund thus acquired will be devoted to the upbuilding of Boy Scout purposes and practices and to aid the youngsters in endeavors of recreation.

District Drawing Upon Water Store Held at Jackson

Canal Company Manager Issues Interesting Weekly Statement of Condition

The total amount of water taken from the Jackson lake storage system for the Twin Falls irrigation system, to date, is 5480 acre feet. Water diverted from the Snake river natural flow and from stored water at Miller, during the week just ended, amounts to 2000 second feet for the former, and 530 second feet for the latter. Seepage waste is 22 second feet.

These figures are contained in a weekly report just issued by J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company, who adds, in his statement, that the Twin Falls irrigation storage supply at Jackson is 6918 acre feet.

The weekly report reads: Water diverted from Miller dam, 3530 second feet; water diverted natural at flow, 2000 second feet; water diverted stored water, 530 second feet; water passing Miller dam as waste, 22 second feet (seepage only).
