CLUSTER'S VIEW PLAYS PART IN PEACE PARLEYS

Lloyd-George Concludes Preliminary Conferences with de Valera and Calls Sir James-Craig in Consultation

NOTHING IN NATURE OF DEADLOCK IN EVIDENCE

Crowds Repeat Ovation for the Irish Republican Leader, and Kneel on Streets in Prayer for Success

LONDON, (AP)—Another meeting between Eamon de Valera and Premier Lloyd George took place today, this discussion of the preliminaries of a peace settlement lasting about an hour and a half. At its conclusion it was announced the British premier returned late, probably not Monday.

Another Two-Man Talk The conference was again a two-man talk. In an adjoining room, however, Sir James-Craig and Sir George Paice, secretary for Ireland, Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, Mr. O'Brien, president of the Gaelic league in London, and Robert C. Hoell, of the Irish delegation, were on hand should their presence be desired.

On leaving Downing street Mr. de Valera said there would not be any further meeting today and that "all I hope for" there would be a meeting Saturday.

A number of Mr. de Valera's party gave definite assurances that nothing in the nature of a deadlock or a breakdown of conference has occurred at any time. Meanwhile Sir James-Craig, the Ulster premier, arrived in London today from Belfast, announcing on his arrival that he would see the premier this afternoon.

Asked for an expression of opinion on the Irish situation, Sir James replied: "The less said now the better." He added, however, that he was hopeful.

Communique De Laemie The official communique on today's conference, issued shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon, read: "A further conversation between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. de Valera, taking place in Downing street and will be resumed at a later date, probably Monday."

Those in close touch with the situation believed the preliminary conference between the prime minister and the republican leader had been worked out and that the next step would be consultations between Mr. Lloyd George and Sir James-Craig, the Ulster premier, these probably occurring this afternoon.

At the Whitehall entrance to Downing street today, to those of yesterday were witnessed at the meeting between the British prime minister and the republican leader in progress. A large crowd of British and Valera and cheered him as he entered, repeating the ovation as he and his companions left at the close of the talk with Mr. Lloyd George. As the conference proceeded in the afternoon, the men and women kneeling and reciting the Rosary.

SOLDIERS BALK JAPANESE DOCK WORKERS' AIMS

Troops are Called to Restore Order after Thousands of Strikers Charge Police in Attempt to Seize Wharfs

SEIZURE OF DOCKYARDS THREATENED BY WORKERS

Example of Italians who Took Over and Operated Metal Plants Has Strong Influence on Strikers' Demands

KOBE, (AP)—Troops were called out today after thousands of striking workers in the dockyards here had charged a police cordon in an attempt to take possession of the dockyards and carry out a project for their control by workers after they had been dispersed and wounded and the ringleaders of the movement were arrested.

COCKYARDS CLOSED. All the dockyards have been closed for ten days and demonstrations have been prohibited. The strike leaders yesterday threatened to employ the methods of the Italian workers who took over and operated metal and other plants in Italy and the American workers also threatened to do this.

Demand Joint Control. The strikers in the Kawasaki dockyards here, the largest in Japan, issued a manifesto today in which they declared they wanted joint control of the shipyards. The manifesto proposed control of the dockyards by an industrial commission, the hour of labor to be six daily.

GUARDS FOR GOVERNMENT PROPERTY AT ROBE ASKED TOKYO, (AP)—Admiral Kato, minister of the navy, today requested a detachment of gendarmes be dispatched to Kobe to guard army department property there in conjunction with the local gendarmes, because of the situation caused by the strike of dockyard workers.

The Yomi-Irui Shimbun, insists that the striking workers have occupied a pair of the Kawasaki dockyards in Kobe, appointing guardians for the plant. Other newspapers declare the initiative of the strikers has not gone beyond the lines of the industrial dockyards themselves with the aid of workmen's committees unless their demands are granted.

AMERICAN CONCEPTION OF DISARMAMENT CONCLAVE IS REVEALED BY JAPAN

Definition Is Intended to Overcome Hesitation About Participating in Conference

OFFICIAL CIRCLES REMAIN FIRM IN CONFIDENCE OF FULL ACCEPTANCE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States has informed Japan of its ideas on the scope of the disarmament conference.

This action is intended to meet Japan's desire to know the extent to which the Far East affairs are to be discussed before she goes further in considering an invitation to participate. It is not now possible to state the extent to which the American conception has gone into details, but it is understood the communication is sufficient to afford material for a close study of the proposal by the Japanese foreign office.

Officials Confident. Official circles here continue to evidence great confidence that a complete acceptance of the American invitation eventually will come from Tokio. The information the American government has now sent to Tokio gives the foreign office material for making its next decision.

No purpose to lay down any hard and fast rules for the discussion of the subject marked the American invitation and Japan was held to be quite within her right in wishing to know something of the nature of the program. Compliance with such desire, it was indicated, would not be incompatible with the spirit of the conference. If consideration of any subject not resting wholly within the scope of the conference should be deemed it could well be gotten at in framing the program, in the American view.

What was characterized as a "reasonable hope" is entertained that every nation invited to attend in an effort to arrive at a common understanding of principles.

"Despite misunderstanding that arise from time to time, the Japanese people in general have the kindest feelings towards the American people. They wish only the warmest and most enduring friendship between the United States and Japan.

"Buddhism is commonly misunderstood by Americans," the abbot continued. "The American people do not seem to know that the Buddhist teachings constantly are exerting a pacifying influence in Japan. Our religion is a religion of peace, opposed to militarism, violence and strife of all kinds."

While here the party will dedicate the new Soto temple in Honolulu. The monastery of which Abbot Sukuzen Araki is chief is one of the two principal monasteries of the Soto sect in Japan and is said to have been founded in 1213 by D. REDS' CAPTIVE MAKES RUSSIAN PRINCESS BRIDE

Hungarian Count, Held Prisoner by Bolsheviks, Overcomes Formidable Obstacles to the Wedding Ceremony

WARSAW, (AP)—News of the marriage in Moscow at Count Szeczhny, a lieutenant in the Hungarian cavalry, who is still being held a prisoner by the Bolsheviks, to Princess Gollcy, a member of one of the oldest Russian families, has just been received here. Count Szeczhny is a cousin of Count Rade Steczynski, who married Miss Gladys Vanderbilt of New York.

At the beginning of the war he was a lieutenant in the Hungarian cavalry and was taken prisoner by the Bolsheviks on the Galician front in 1915. He is about 27 years old.

Details of the wedding were brought to Warsaw by Dr. Signard Jankowski, formerly a student in Detroit, Mich., who served in the Polish army, was captured by the bolsheviks and released from the Mowcow prison early in this spring.

The romance having had its inception prior to the war while the young woman was visiting in Constantinople, never where Count Steczynski's father has a palace and a vast estate. Princess Gollcy returned to Russia several years ago, upon learning that Count Steczehny was a prisoner and since he was endeavoring to aid in gaining his freedom and sending him food whenever possible.

It is no easy matter to arrange a marriage in a bolshevik prison. Month after month the soviet authorities refused to give their consent. When it was obtained the ceremony was first performed by a soviet commissar and afterward a religious marriage was performed in a Greek orthodox church in Moscow. Although the count has many friends among the prisoners, none was allowed to attend the wedding.

Instead of a friend as best man, there was a bolshevik soldier guard. The count's best man, an old soldier of his platoon, was allowed to attend the wedding. When he met his bride attended by several good friends. The count was marched back to prison, his bride accompanying him to the prison gates. The next morning the bride was permitted to visit her husband and, with the count's prison friends, sat down to a wedding breakfast—a wedding breakfast of black bread and imitation coffee and hot water.

Twenty Hungarian officers, including Count Steczehny, are being held by the bolsheviks as hostages to secure the safety of ten soviet commissars imprisoned by the Hungarian authorities. The Hungarians were sent to Siberia in 1915 and were on their way out when reattached by the bolsheviks.

Member Audit Bureau of Circulations

LET'S GO!

If there is one feature that stands out more than another in connection with the freight rates situation it is the fact that no relief whatsoever may be expected except in return for intelligent and united effort eventually applied.

A splendid start in this direction has been made in the presentation to the State Public Utilities Commission of information that establishes beyond question the inequity of the continuing situation and the imperative necessity for relief. But it would be folly to let the matter rest here. The Commission has been involved in this fight for re-adjustment for freight-rates for a period of several months and it frankly admits that it has gotten nowhere yet. It is to be expected that the Commission will continue its efforts to the limit of its ability and eventually perhaps, measurable benefits may come through its campaign. But the coming of these benefits is certain to be hastened and their scope enhanced if the several complaining interests—which includes most everybody hereabouts—do not quit the fight now that they have sold their troubles to one of their agents, but stay with it at least until some of the objectives have been taken.

This community in particular can render no more effective service in this fight to secure readjustment of freight rates than through some such organization as was lately proposed at a luncheon-meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Let's hear from the committee named at that time to carry this project through.

A WAR CRIMINAL CONVICTED

The sentence of two years' imprisonment imposed on a German major, charged by the French government with ordering troops under his command to take no prisoners and to kill the wounded adversaries who fell into their hands, and found guilty by the German supreme court sitting at Leipzig, is wretchedly inadequate. And it is plain that the only reason for his being punished at all was the Germans feared that to let him go set free, as the lieutenant general from whom he alleged he received his orders was permitted to do, would dangerously arouse French anger.

There may be those who may say that it would have been better not to have held the trial than to allow it to become a farce. And yet, though the punishment falls so far short of what the crime calls for, a good purpose has been served. The major would not have been convicted, we may be sure, if the evidence against him had not been overwhelming. And if there have been any Germans who doubted the truth of the atrocious charges made against their troops by the allies, they must now be convinced. And out of this may grow repentance for their country's misdeeds and a desire to make such amends as are possible.

REAL SERVICE

No more effective service can be rendered by the Farm Bureau organization than that of giving out authoritative information respecting the marketing of crops. The organization here under the direction of County Agent H. E.
Powers has contributed in large measure to the profit and welfare of the community through advice given this week to apple growers, of whom, in some cases, advantage has been taken by buyers who seem to be actuated rather by motives of immediate financial gain than by desire to deal in accordance with dictates of strict honesty.

It is a good rule for any seller to inform himself as fully as possible about market conditions before letting go of his wares. The farmer has been too long without adequate sources of this sort of information. It is highly encouraging to find in the Farm Bureau a capable agency to supply this lack.

ORE SHIPMENTS SHOW FALL OF METAL OUTPUT

Mine Operations First Half of Year Far Below Proportions of Last Two Years

The shipments of ore and concentrate from the mines of Idaho during the first six months of 1921 show a decided decrease in the metal output of the state, according to C. N. Gerry, of the United States Geological Survey, department of the interior. The decrease was especially noticeable in May and June, after the Hercules, Tamarack & Custer, and Gold Hunter mines were closed. The mines of the Coeur d'Alene district, however, have not suffered as much as those of other western states, the ore containing much silver, for which a high price is paid. The mining companies were embarrassed by the reduction of freight rates on ore in January and on bullion in June.

Gold Output Reduced.

The gold production in Idaho in 1920 was valued at $455,000, a large decrease from the output of 1919. As the output in 1920 was unusually low and as most of the gold comes from gold ore mined at Quartzburg in Blaine county and from dredge operations near Murray in Shoshone county, no further decrease is expected for 1921. The amount of gold derived from lead ore and copper ore will probably be less.

The production of silver in Idaho in 1920 was 7,326,704 ounces, valued at $7,956,235, a large increase over the production of 1919. A decrease of output in 1921 is about certain, as six of the large producers of silver are idle. Much of the silver in the lead ores is refined in Idaho and purchased at the mine at a price of slightly less than $1 an ounce. Several of the large mines, notably the Bunker Hill and Hecla, have been able to continue operations, which they certainly could not have done if they were dependent on their income from lead alone.

The output of copper in Idaho in 1920 was 2,535,390 pounds, valued at $467,065, a decrease from 1919. This output will probably not be reached in 1921, as the copper mines in Shoshone county are idle and production from Custer county has been curtailed. The Enterprise Copper company at Mackay, is shipping at the rate of about 800 tons a month in 1921 instead of 1200 tons a month, as in 1920. The copper mines near Salmon in Lewis county may produce some copper later in the year, though the price of copper and market conditions are not encouraging.

Lead Shows Increase.

In 1920 the mines of Idaho produced 249,000,976 pounds of lead, an increase from 1919's 221,496 pounds in 1919. Notwithstanding the low price of lead, 5,012 tons a month in May, 1921, the Bunker Hill, Morning, Hecla and some smaller mines continued to operate. The idleness of other mines, however, will necessarily lessen the lead output of Idaho for the year. The Hercules and Tamarack & Custer were active during the first three months of the year only. The Callahan Zinc-Lead company continued work to development, and the Gold Hunter Mining & Smelting company made but few shipments. At Gilmore, in Lemhi county, production was unusually small. The Latest Out mine was idle, and shipments from the Pittsburg-Idaho were reduced to about 100 tons a month. Later in the year the Idaho Continental Mining company, in Boundary county, may ship considerable lead concentrate to the Bunker Hill smelter at Bradley.

The output of recoverable zinc in Idaho increased from 15,904,229 pounds in 1919 to 27,932,229 pounds in 1920. During the first six months of 1921 no zinc ore or concentrate was shipped, on account of the poor market for zinc and the expense of shipping to eastern smelters. The future of the zinc industry in Idaho, however, is not without hope, as the Bunker Hill Mining & Concentrating company is planning the erection of an electrolytic zinc plant, designed to treat the lead-zinc ore of the Star mine in the Hunter district and custom ores from other mines in the Coeur d'Alene district.

Dividends were paid in the early part of 1921 by the Federal, Bunker Hill & Sullivan, Hecla, Tamarack & Custer, and Chelidonia companies.

Wood Averts Evil

There are numerous curious or superstitious beliefs regarding fragrant woods, says the American Forestry Association. The Barncue have-a-go-pine, that is made of balsam should be made of the Thuja or price of woods (Podocarpus nortoli), while a peg of it driven into a house post or boats will avert evil.
