HOUSE STRIKES OUT PROPOSED DUTY ON OILS

Vote Conforms to President's Views on Subject Expressed in Letter to Chairman Ford—now Made Public

CANVAS SHOWS 187 FOR ELIMINATING SCHEDULE

Harding Suggests "Bargaining Provision" in Lieu of Fixed Charge to Guard Against Retaliatory Moves

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—The proposed duty on crude and fuel oil was struck out of the Fordney tariff bill today by a vote of 187 to 105.

The hours resumed today consideration of the proposed oil tax in the Fordney tariff bill, and by a vote of 65 to 49, fixed a limit of three and one-half hours for debate.

President Harding's letter of June 30 to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee, opposing imposition of a duty on crude petroleum and fuel oil and suggesting a bargaining provision to guard against the levy of duties against sugar, was presented to the committee by Mr. Fordney.

"I understand that your committee is very soon to decide whether to include a protective duty on crude oil in the tariff bill to be reported to the house," I cannot refrain from expressing the hope that your committee will take note of the foreign policy to which we are already committed, under which the government is doing every consistent thing to encourage the participation of American citizens in the development of the oil resources of many foreign lands.

"No levy a protective tariff on crude petroleum now would be at variance with a policy which has been done to safeguard our future interests."

"I am not unmindful of the oil industry within our own borders and most cordially believe in its proper consideration."

"Would it not be practical to provide for such protection in some bargaining provision which may be placed in the hands of the executive, so that we may guard against the levy of duties against us, or the imposition by other nations of export tariffs which are designed to hinder the oil industry in which is essential to our welfare?"

"In the matter of crude oil, as in the case of lumber, considering which is one of our main exports, the stronger if the tariff levy is omitted and authority is given the executive to impose a duty inappropriately stated circumstances, I hope your committee will find it consistent to give consideration to these suggestions."

The handling of the funds of the association was said to be the chief matter discussed at the morning session. The conference went into session for open discussion of questions regarding plans for suggested legislation to help reclamation in the west.

COAT OF TAR AND FEATHERS GIVEN WOMAN

Finger of Suspicion Points to Activities of Secret Organization in Epidemic of Attacks in Southern States

DALLAS, Texas, (AP)—Authorities in widely scattered sections of the southern states today are taking cognizance of a series of attacks in which the victims are tarred and feathered, apparently by widely organized secret groups. The instances now number a score or more within the last three months and indicate the existence of a secret organization similar to that of the Klu Klux Klan of reconstruction days.

The latest attack was the first ever reported as made against a woman. Mrs. Joseph Johnson was last night taken from a hotel porch at Tomba, Texas, striped and tarred and feathered. It was said that the woman was a bignamist. The attack was said to have been made by men wearing white masks.

Driving up to the hotel with a display of firearms, they are said to have taken the woman into one of their motor cars and to have proceeded several miles into the country. Mrs. Johnson's clothing was removed and she was given a coat of tar and feathers. She was then placed in the automobile and returned to her home.

"I am not unmindful of the oil industry within our own borders and most cordially believe in its proper consideration."

"Would it not be practical to provide for such protection in some bargaining provision which may be placed in the hands of the executive, so that we may guard against the levy of duties against us, or the imposition by other nations of export tariffs which are designed to hinder the oil industry in which is essential to our welfare?"

"In the matter of crude oil, as in the case of lumber, considering which is one of our main exports, the stronger if the tariff levy is omitted and authority is given the executive to impose a duty inappropriately stated circumstances, I hope your committee will find it consistent to give consideration to these suggestions."

ATTACKS ON THE SALMON RIVER RIGHT TO WATER

Salmon River Canal Company Contends Contracts Sold after Available Supply was Exhausted are of No Worth

That the Salmon river water contracts held by Thomas Sanderson and his associates were purchased water rights from the Salmon River Canal company after rights had been sold for water up to the limit of the available supply is the contention of the company. The company is originally sold to E. J. Finch of Twin Falls. The company's contention is set forth as follows:

A hearing on the amendment to the answer has been set for Wednesday next. If the contention raised in the amendment is not sustained the court will then hear arguments in the case on its merits.

In a recent ruling in this case the court indicated that Sanderson, as the holder of a valid water contract, would be entitled to delivery of water. The canal company in the amendment to its answer now denied the validity of the Finch contract. The Sanderson company is originally sold to E. J. Finch of Twin Falls. The company's contention is set forth as follows:

The defendant is further informed and believes and further alleges the fact to be, that at the time said Twin Falls Salmons River Canal company executed said contracts and pretended to sell or lease to said E. J. Finch a water right for said lands and premises, the said Twin Falls Salmons River Canal & Water company had sold all the available water in said irrigation system, and by reason thereof said E. J. Finch, predecessor in interest of said plaintiff, acquired no interest whatsoever in or to the water available for distribution from said irrigation system, and no water or water rights were ever conveyed to said lands and premises or were acquired under said contracts, or otherwise, for the irrigation thereof.

The Canal company's amendment to its answer was filed by its attorneys, R. B. Rothwell and T. K. Hackman.

MEMBERSHIP OF G. A. R. BELOW 100,000 MARK

More Than 10,000 Civil War Veterans who Attended 1920 Encampment will be Counted Missing at Next Reunion

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—When the Grand Army of the Republic holds its annual reunion this year, more than 20,000 of the Civil War veterans who attended the encampment in 1920 will be counted among the missing, as the ranks have been depleted to this extent through the last year.

The total membership of the G. A. R. today is 93,155, while its membership in 1920 was 103,233.

The total membership is scattered among 444 posts in every state. Ohio, with 10,241, has the largest membership, with Pennsylvania second with 9,122; New York third, 8,935; Illinois fourth, 6836; Indiana, fifth, 5949; Massachusetts sixth, 5325. No other state has 500 or more members.

Owns Much Property
Property owned by all posts is valued at $22,076,927, including real estate worth $802,841.

Members in the old confederate states total approximately 2200.

The G. A. R. was organized in Illinois in the spring of 1865. Who were its originators is a matter of tradition rather than record. It is reported that Colonel H. P. Stephens, of Decatur, Ill., was one of the prime movers," says Chipman's report. "Being recognized as such, he organized the first post at Decatur, Ill."

By July, 1865, there were 40 posts in Illinois, representatives of which met in convention and organized the state department. Stephens was by common consent the provisional commander-in-chief, and posts were organized in other states, resulting in the first national encampment being held at Philadelphia, Nov. 1865.

Insurance Scheme Proposed
At the 1869 encampment mutual life insurance scheme was proposed, it being said then that the G. A. R. had 240,000 members. It has been said that the state department was organized to represent a membership of over 200,000. But there is no authentic record of the number for the early years, the insurance proposal containing estimates of 100,000, and the 70 estimate being regarded as the number of union soldiers living in the jurisdiction of the state departments represented at the convention. For instance, the adjacent general's report at the 1870 encampment, when there were 39 departments, says it is "absolutely impossible for me to furnish any reliable or correct report of the present membership."

In 1869, however, reports taken as authentic state that the membership was 400,259, the highest mark recorded. From 1869 to 1920 the growth was rapid, being from 12,000 to 85,000 annually. Since 1880 the decline has been constant, except for a 3,000 gain in 1908 said to be due to preparation of pension legislation. Subsequent enrollment figures from the time the G. A. R. reached its zenith to the present time follow:

1880	407,781	1900	235,823
1881	407,810	1901	235,932
1882	397,223	1902	225,167
1883	369,639	1903	220,607
1884	357,639	1904	213,901
1885	340,010	1905	203,410
1886	327,810	1906	192,345
1887	309,639	1907	180,257
1888	287,918	1908	171,335
1889	270,612	1909	159,863
1890	260,570	1910	149,440
1891	249,639	1911	140,931
1892	250,510	1912	130,916
1893	247,340	1913	110,357
1894	232,465	1914	102,535

Claims to be Youngest Member
The 1920 national encampment voted to meet every year as long as a single member survived. Brig. Gen. John L. Clemm, address Army 6, Navy club, Washington, D. C., claims himself to be the youngest G. A. R. member. He is thought by G. A. R. officials here to be 71 years old, having enlisted as a drummer boy at the age of 11 years. The notion of who is the oldest member always brings up hundreds of claimants and no reliable record has been obtained.

The smallness of the moon, as compared with the earth is found by a mechanical journal's correspondent to be little appreciated. BALTIC PRESS INDULGES HUMOR AT REDS' EXPENSE

Order for Handpainted China Set Credited to Soviet Envoy Stris Risibles

RIGA, Latvia, (AP)—The comic press of the Baltic states has recently indulged in much humorous sarcasm regarding the reported order by M. Ganitzky, the soviet Russian minister to Latvia, of a hand-painted china set for his use on state occasions to cost 500,000 rubles. This is equivalent, at present rates of exchange in Riga, to something more than $1,200.

The dinner service, according to reports widely circulated in Riga, is to be painted by hand, with each piece representing "a scene from balahevic life."

One of the comic papers depicts in cartoon, Ganitzky seated at a table, surrounded by this spectacular china, but pushing away the plates and asking for something to eat.

In all of the Baltic states, where the soviet government has legations, the ministers and their aides live in luxurious contrast to conditions said to prevail in Moscow and Petrograd, says the Baltic newspapers. Each of the ministers here has a large automobile and summer villas at the seaside have been engaged for the Riga legation personnel. Some of the ministers have also bought elaborately furnished town houses. Their legations are housed in large hotels in Helmsingfors, Rovani, Riga and Kaunas the entire buildings having been taken over for them.

Between Riga and Moscow, and Riga and Petrograd, luxurious saloons and sleeping cars are operated for the benefit of Bolshevik officials, while all other passengers must crowd into unheated, packed, third-class cars. The newspapers here and in other Baltic states, frequently point to these conditions and contrast them with communistic ideals.

REVENUE COMMISSIONER ISSUES FINAL WARNING

July 31 is Last Day for Filing Returns for Capital Stock Taxes

The following statement, issued by the collector of internal revenue, warns that July 31 is the last day for filing returns of the capital stock tax.

The statement, issued by Commissioner Blair, of Boise, reads:

"July 31 is the last day for filing returns of the capital stock tax. To avoid penalty, the returns must be in the hands of collectors of internal revenue on or before midnight of that date.

"Blank forms are available at the office of collector of internal revenue, Lewis Williams, Boise, Idaho, and at the branch office in Pocatello, Idaho. Form 707 is required for domestic, and 708 for foreign corporations.

"The capital stock tax is a special excise tax imposed on corporations with respect to 'carrying on or doing business' of other persons than officers, directors or stockholders. The tax is $1 for each $1,000 or so much of the fair average value of its capital stock for the preceding year ending June 30, as is in excess of $5,000. Foreign corporations are required to pay a tax at the rate of $1 for each $1,000 of their capital employed in the transaction of business in the United States without the benefit of the $5,000 deduction. The tax is payable in advance, returns filed in July of this year covering the taxable year beginning July 1, 1921, and ending June 30, 1922.

"The Bureau of Internal Revenue estimates that approximately 325,000 such returns will be filed, and that the amount of revenue collected from this source will be approximately $40,000,000.

"Returns are required of every domestic corporation regardless of the par value of its capital stock, and of every foreign corporation irrespective of the amount of capital employed in this country in the transaction of its business. Certain corporations not organized for profit are exempt from capital stock tax. The class of organizations entitled to the exemption is described in regulations 60, revised, copies of which may be obtained at the following offices: Boise, Idaho, and Pocatello, Idaho.

"Corporations claiming exemption are required to file returns setting forth their reasons for such claims, accompanied by evidence in support thereof.

"If, because of lack of complete data of other reasons than those of absence, it is impossible to file a complete return on or before July 31st, a tentative return may be filed, reporting the approximate fair value in order that an initial assessment may be made, thus avoiding penalty.

"The penalty for failure to file a return within the time prescribed, is an added assessment of 25 per cent of the amount due, unless it is shown that the failure was due to reasonable cause and not to neglect.

"In addition to the added assessment a fine of not more than $1,000.00 is provided for failure to make a return on time. For willful refusal to make a return, willful evasion of the tax, willful refusal to supply information required by the commissioner, or attempting in any way to evade the tax and payment when due, the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

"With a view to the prompt collection of the capital stock tax, and for the convenience of the taxpayer as well as of other persons, it is suggested that corporations submit checks with the returns for the amount of tax due. This method is appealing to corporations as it lessens liability to penalty."

"If any farmer finds a new weed on his place, or any poisonous or unusual plant, the department of botany of the university will be glad to tell him what it is if he will send a specimen for identification," said Professor V. H. Young, today.

Attention is called to the free service maintained by the botany department of the university for the identification of all plants," said Professor Young. "This service is open to the county agents, farmers, and all other persons interested in plant problems.

"The department is especially interested in new or noxious weeds, poisonous plants, grasses and forage plants of the range and any other rare or unusual plants and would be glad to receive specimens of them for identification.

The botany department is also glad to lend its assistance in determining species of mushrooms and toadstools.

GREAT CARE TAKEN IN PREPARATION OF FAMOUS FOOD DRINK

We are reminded of the waving fields of barley and wheat, and of the nutrition and richness of pure milk, whenever we see the name "Horlick's."

Their great care taken to obtain milk in its original purity, from healthy cows with a proper sanitary environment and under hygienic conditions, is commendable. So also, the possession of their own natural spring water, derived from a perennial spring, furnished the proper liquid to be used in making the grain and growing the barley malt, which is done in their own malt houses.

In taking a glass of Horlick's Malted Milk, therefore, with its refreshing and invigorating qualities, one is assured also that he is drinking that which is pure and wholesome as well as delicious.

STATE POTATO CROP SUMMARY GIVES INCREASE

Idaho's Yield, on July Showing, Should Be 8,500 Carloads; Country is Short

The Idaho potato crop for this year will show an increase of at least 3,400 carloads over the yield of 1920, while the spud crop of the country at large will show a decided decrease, according to a summarized check of conditions in the potato fields this month, made by Julius H. Jacobson, state agricultural statistician.

U. S. Crop Decreases

In a report, copy of which has just been received by The News, the statistician observes a decrease in the potato crop of the United States as against 1920 of approximately 55,000 bushels. Following is the report: "Based on July conditions, the carlot movement of Idaho potatoes this season will total 9,500. This compares with 7,100 cars moved from the entire state last year. The above estimate depends on the ability of the railroads to furnish cars, the continuance of present favorable growing conditions and the progress of the Idaho crop in the large producing states in the east.

Output of States

New York has 83,586,000 bushels this year, compared with 48,250,000 bushels last year. Minnesota has 31,833,000 bushels, against 28,000,000 bushels last year. Wisconsin has 29,829,000 bushels, compared with 25,824,000 last year. Michigan, 25,829,000 bushels, compared with 25,700,000 bushels last year. The state aggregate in the United States for 1921 is 12 per cent to 15 per cent larger than last year, but it is reported 7 per cent to 10 per cent less in most other places in New England. The potato crop in Maine is placed at 20,754,000 bushels, compared with 22,140,000 bushels last year. Pennsylvania has only 24,406,000 bushels, against a 30,450,000 bushel crop in 1920. Drouth and hot weather during June have been severe on the crop in eastern states, and production estimates will show further declines if weather conditions do not improve.

The United States crop is estimated at 377,000,000 bushels, compared with 430,000,000 bushels last year and 371,400,000 bushels, the average for the past five years.

PAPER MAKER OFFERED NEW FIELDS IN SOUTH

Scientists Promote Pine of Southland Suitable for Paper Makers' Use

MADISON, Wis., (AP)—Establishment of paper mills in the southern states is all that is needed to utilize much southern pine for the manufacture of book paper, the forest products laboratory here announces. The experiments are said to have determined that pulp made from one variety of pine is suitable for this purpose. Southern pine has often been suggested as a possible supply of material for pulp purposes, but experiments met with failure until the latest laboratory, working with loblolly pine, successfully turned out book paper by the sulphate process. Further experiments will be made here with other varieties of southern pine to determine whether they will be equally adaptable to the manufacture of pulp. What work has been done with other woods from the south—black and tanoak gum, swamp maple and other similar material—shows that they are all essentially as well suited for the purpose as the loblolly pine and the red gum, the engineers say.

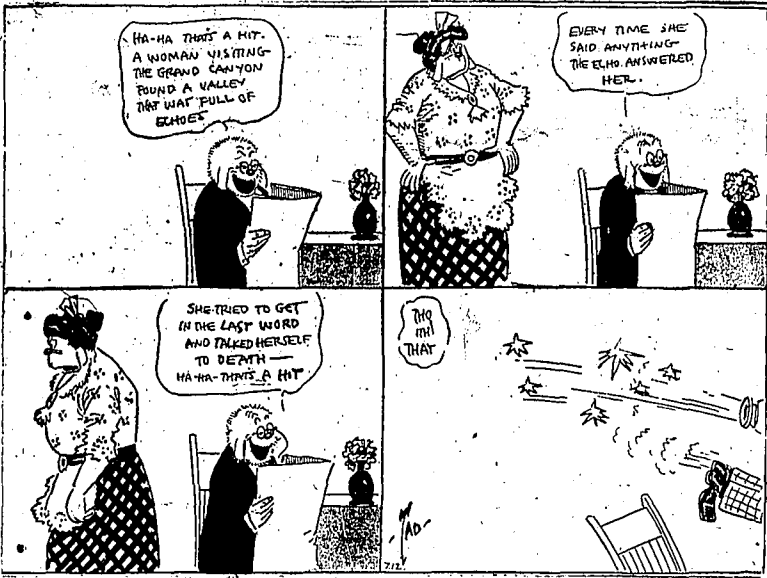

For Cleaning Leather.
A very good leather dressing is composed of equal parts of glycerine and sweet oil. After slight admixture with a cloth, it should be left on the leather for 20 minutes after which the leather must be wiped dry. Ordinary soap and water makes a good "cleaner" for leather; the soap being applied with a sponge and wiped off with a chamolite skin.

The Life Immortal.

WHITNEY NAGS HOLD AN EDGE FOR WINNINGS

Ross, Bradley and Hildreth Stables Trail in Season Performances

BY O'NEIL SEVIER.
It is improbable the Harry Payne Whitney stable will be displaced this year from the leadership of the money winning stables of American racing, a distinction it assumed last year mainly through the success of the 2-year-olds, Upeet, John P. Otter, Dr. Clark, Damask, and Wildair, and the 3-year-olds, Tryster, Prudery, Moody and Exodus. Last season these horses and some others of lower abilities carried under the Whitney silks somewhat more than $270,000, a greater sum than had been accounted for by the winners of a single American stable since the opening years of the first decade of the century and considerably better than the annual average of that fine but poor period.

Ross Stable Supplanted.
The runner up last season was the stable of Commander Ross, which the Whitney stable supplanted after two seasons of pre-eminence. The Ross outfit won $250,000 in 1920, a bigger sum than it earned in either of its years of leadership.

With the season of 1921 not yet half gone and the biggest purses yet to be raced for, the Whitney stable has amassed more than $100,000 in earnings, notwithstanding Dr. Clark, Upeet, Damask, Tryster, Prudery, Exodus, Moody, etc., are doing little or nothing in the way of winning. But the runner up so far this season has not been the stable of Commander Ross. The establishments of Edward R. Bradley and Harry F. Sindler have shovelled it aside, temporarily at least.

Promising Two-Year-Olds

As with the Whitney stable, reserve two-year-old strength will tell in the race for second place and the Bradley and Ross stables have in this direction something on the Racoonas outfit of Samuel C. Hildreth. Hildreth seems to have first rate youngsters in Little Chief and Kai Sang, but three good colts are hardly enough. William A., a recent purchase, may prove an asset. Bradley has half a dozen or more aboutly bred and highly tried filly Hour youngsters for the big racing of the impending Saratoga meeting and the Kentucky and New York meetings that will follow it. Bradley showed only a few of his most precocious colts and fillies on Kentucky courses in the spring and early summer.

Born Youngsters Bounding Too

Commander Ross' backward youngsters have been going well over the private training courses at the Ross Farm of Howard county, Maryland, and are fast coming to hand. Henry McDaniel expects to have seven or eight in winning form at Saratoga and more ready for fall racing in Maryland and Kentucky. In Calamity Jane, Balance, Carmencita, Peasant, Olympus, Broome, and one or two others Whitney brought to racing in the early weeks of the season two-year-olds of better than average merit. Bunting, Pauley, Meadow Mist, Whirlaway, and Brainstorm are other comers. And there is a highly thought of little colt, Prudish, an own sister of Prudery.

Brief Bits of Sport

Supporters of Mike Gibbons, in his challenge to Johnny Wilson for a mid-summer crown battle, declare the St. Paul phantom has a lot more stuff than he has been showing lately. Supporters of George Carpenter said the same thing about the Frenchman when the latter fixed up for the fight with Dempsey.

Tonight the Banks and Legion teams will entertain the usual gathering of hill and hat fans at Lincoln park.

The White Sox won against the Red Sox yesterday, but over in Salt Lake the stinging Red lost a brace of games; winding up the hebdomadal series with the Tillamacs.

William Harrison Dempsey will referee the McKay-Sommers bout to be staged in Lagoon next Friday.

Sommers stayed 11 rounds with Mike Gibbons recently, but was beaten. He has been whipped McKay once, and should be able to repeat the offense.

Freddie Welsh, former lightweight champion of the world, has signed to fight Freddie Forbes of Seattle in Calgary during August.

Freddie has a notion he can come back and win the lightweight title again. Supporters of George Carpenter said the same thing about the French-league made up of towns in Missouri and Kansas adjacent to Kansas City are Clara Hendrix and Ad Brennan.

The Dakota league may be compelled to drop Huron and Madison, because of poor attendance in those towns, and continue the season with six clubs. Outside of the two towns mentioned President Gatchell reports the league in good shape.

The first half of the Piedmont league season closed July 4 with Greensboro beating out Raleigh by two games. These two clubs were the only ones in the race and had been fighting it out for a month. No other club of the six had as good as 500 percentage at the end of the first half.

The veteran Doc Jay Andrews has resigned as manager of the Huron team of the Dakota league and Troy Brown succeeds him. The team, largely recruited by Andrews from the St. Louis job, played some good ball, but was on the losing end of too many games to satisfy the club directors.

Lindale's victory in the first half of the Georgia State league season, was won after a hard race with Griffin and was not settled until Lindale put over a victory on the second game of the Fourth of July double header. Earline Herndon is manager of the Lindale team.

Jimmy Wilcox, shortstop of the Bristol club of the Appalachian league, recently sold to the Detroit Tigers, must have become dizzy over his luck. He promptly jumped the Bristol team and went to his home in Pittsburgh, where, according to report, he planned to out-law himself with an industrial team.

For one day last week Tris Speaker, by virtue of a hit in one time at bat, nosed ahead of Harry Heilmann for the American league batting leadership, Heilmann getting but one blow in three tries, but Heilmann slapped the ball on the nose sufficiently hard in the double header of July 7 to regain his leadership, with points to spare.

Former Middleweight Champion to Get Test of Ability Before Gotham Fans

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP)—Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middleweight boxer, and Mike Collins, his manager, plan to leave tomorrow for New York where Gibbons will meet Augie Ratner on July 25 in a 15-round decision fight.

or what we are willing to give in exchange. Not health, not honor, not homo. When home becomes an office arena, where the talk is all of gain and loss instead of peace and rest and high ideals, then you are struggling to maintain a house but not a home.

The cave man who laboriously piled stones together into a rude hut, did it for the preservation of his most precious possession, the sacred fire.

A real home is a place where the sacred fire of peace and love is fed by every member of the family. If the altar is alight it does not matter whether the shelter about it be a single room or a mansion. It is essential only that the fire be sheltered and fed. Whether you have a home or a house is for you to determine, and squarely upon your determination rests the future of your children, and upon that, the future of the nation.

PRESIDENTS ACT APPLAUDED

The overtures made by President Harding to the principal allies and associated powers toward obtaining a reduction and limitation in armaments is a practical step to minimize the danger of resort to war in settlement of international disputes as well as a movement for the relief of governments overburdened by debt in the effort to maintain the building peace.

The manner in which the movement is greeted abroad shows the longing for a workable plan that will reduce expenditures without menacing national safety. The London Times regards the proposed conference as "fraught with greater possibilities for good or evil than the Paris conference," while the Daily Mail says, "It is practically an appeal to the human race to lay down with arms."

The initiative thus taken by President Harding hardly can fall to receive a favorable response from all the nations concerned, and in this leading he is fulfilling the promise he made to take steps for an association of nations founded on justice and good faith.

It is a great honor to lead in a movement that has such a vast potentiality. That the great nations have conceded the leadership to the United States is evidence of their confidence in our disinterestedness and good faith in the movement.

President Harding's plan is that the nations shall spend their money on things more useful than weapons and ammunition. Then we shall hear a lot less about the high cost of living.

If Bill Hayward is coming back it rather tends to confirm the report that everybody in Russia has been told to get to work.

COURT DECISIONS

Decision Rendered by Idaho State Supreme Court in Case of Sanderson Against Canal Company is Given in Full

What is regarded as one of the most important decisions handed down by a court in the long continuing Salmon river controversy is the decision of the Idaho state supreme court in the case of Thomas Sanderson against the Salmon River Canal company wherein the claim of Sanderson to water for his land outside the patented area is declared valid and effective unless the company can make certain showings of fact. The text of the decision in full is as follows:

Allegations of Fact. Plaintiff filed his affidavit for writ mandamus in his case against the defendant, the Salmon River Canal Company, in the county court of Idaho, on the 15th day of July, 1919. The complaint in said case set forth in substance the following facts: That the defendant, the Salmon River Canal Company, was organized and operated in violation of the laws of Idaho, and was not entitled to water for its land outside the patented area...

Grounds of Jurisdiction. Defendant demurs both generally and specially, also on grounds of non-jurisdiction. The court overrules the demurrer and grants judgment in favor of plaintiff. The court finds that the plaintiff's case is supported by the evidence, and that the defendant's demurrer is without merit. The court also finds that the plaintiff's case is supported by the evidence, and that the defendant's demurrer is without merit.

GET MORE DESIRABLE FRUIT BY TOP-WORKING OLD TREES

Grafting Must Be Done During the Dormant Period, But Budding is Practiced in Midsummer, Especially by Nurserymen, for Propagating Young Trees

As competition in the fruit industry becomes more intensive it is necessary that growers give more heed to the choice of varieties of fruit in their orchards, especially adapted to the local soil and climate, and to the requirements of the market at the time of planting the orchard, and there is no more profitable than to top-work the old trees in the orchard, so that they will produce a crop of more desirable fruit.

When the operation is properly performed, and the condition of the stock is such as to insure a good budding, it will secure the best results in his work in citrus trees, also in certain species of deciduous trees, such as peaches, apples, pears and plums, and will secure the best results in his work in citrus trees, also in certain species of deciduous trees, such as peaches, apples, pears and plums.

There are different methods of accomplishing this result. The important thing is to determine the character of the trees in the variety list are undesirable, either from the standpoint of the variety or from the standpoint of the individual tree, and after having determined which are the "hard" trees, in the language of the nurseryman, the orchardist should have them removed or replaced by more desirable trees.

With citrus fruit, particularly oranges and lemons, the process is even more simple than it is with apples, pears or plums, because it is possible to graft the new variety into the old variety in the head of a tree of rather mature trees by this process. It should not be inferred, however, that because budding is recommended for the transfer of new varieties into old trees, that they are not capable of being grafted. Such is not the case, but the budding method is more economical of space and time than the grafting method, and since it gives good results it is, for these reasons, preferred by growers.
