IRELAND WAITS FOR REPORT ON PEACE PARLEYS

Course of Events in Emerald Isle Seems to Hinge Upon the Attitude of Republican Parliament at Dublin

DE VALERA MAY CONFER WITH ULSTER'S PREMIER

Embodiment of "Two Nation Idea" Seen by Sinn Fein in Lloyd-George Conference Arrangement is Protested

LONDON, (AP)—The meeting between Eamon de Valera and Premier Lloyd George tomorrow will probably be their last before the return of the south Irish representatives to Dublin. Following their return to Ireland a meeting of the Irish republican parliament will in all likelihood be convened to give the republican leader an opportunity to review and take fresh counsel on the new complexion which the Downing street parleys may have placed upon the old questions, and to formulate a policy regarding such issues as may have originated during these talks.

It is problematical whether Mr. De Valera will then go to Belfast for a meeting with Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, which was suggested this morning in some quarters as a probability, whether he will resume what he has termed his "long range bombardment" with Mr. Lloyd George, with the view in Dublin and the other in London, or whether the southern Irish leaders will signify the belief that the continuation of the parley will be unlikely to produce any desired results.

The "last conference," however, is still considered as the least probable of the three alternatives.

Object to Proceed.—One point upon which Mr. De Valera will be urged by his colleagues to make representations to Mr. Lloyd George before the return of the south Irish delegation will be that the republican leaders' attitude regarded as unfavorable the background created by the British premier's maintenance of the "two nation idea" by meeting Mr. De Valera and Sir James Craig separately.

"Some members of our party see in this a desire on the part of the premier to hold before the world the familiar picture of two separate entities within Ireland, which contradicts the virtual essence of our case," said a man who enjoys the confidence of the southern delegation.

Object Equality Claim.—"In view of our refusal to sit at the conference table with Mr. Lloyd George and the Ulsterites," he continued, "it would seem that our objections on this point were unjustifiable, but what we desire to have made clear is that conversations such as have occurred here do not imply any recognition on our part of the Ulsterites' equality."

The probability of a meeting in Belfast between Eamon de Valera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, is foreshadowed in some political quarters.

These ducks quack when you and he would not." The case was continued while the magistrate investigated ducks.

AMERICAN INTERVENTION IN SILESIA IS PROPOSED

London Advises Indicate Attempt to Involve United States in Situation Alive with Trouble

ALLIED COMMISSIONERS CALL FOR STRENGTHENING OF ARMED FORCES

LONDON, (AP)—It was stated in authoritative quarters today that informal suggestions have been made for American intervention in the upper Silesian trouble which it is feared will threaten open hostilities.

The American government's policy with respect to the Silesian and similar disputes concerning the fixation of boundaries, it is pointed out, has been one of non-intervention unless the situation was held to be such as to threaten an outbreak of European war. It is understood now that representations are being made from certain quarters interested in the Silesian situation that such a break is an immediate possibility.

There seems good reason to believe that the menace to European peace, which it is held the Silesian question presents is the real cause for the postponement of further action on the "high question" and other matters of moment.

The Silesian question, it is stated, is causing grave anxiety to all the governments of Europe.

Important developments in this connection are expected within the next 48 hours.

General Exodus of Orientals Follows Deportation of Mongolian Laborers by Melon Pickers Union

INCENDIARISM THREATS ALLEGED BY OFFICERS

Mob Works Silently and Methodically Under Moonlight; Provides Motor Transportation to Deportees

TULOKO, Cal., (AP)—A general exodus of Japanese field laborers and their wives from this district is taking place today following the deportation to Keyes, five miles north of 55 Japanese male workers by members of a union of fruit pickers to burn and Japanese hotel and Japanese restaurants in the district. The union is composed principally of white laborers.

Japanese here who witnessed the enforced departure of their countrymen, complained to the police that they were roughly handled and in some instances were robbed.

The Japanese lease holders were not disturbed.

Quote Incendiary Threats

The authorities said that the members of the mob, which numbered 75, threatened to burn and Japanese hotel and two Japanese restaurants in the district to hasten the departure of their countrymen.

The Japanese were taken from the grounds in a bare town, and while men and women, various other properties. The police expected to arrest some of the mob leaders today.

The Japanese here today are giving all directions, but the district number are headed for Stockton, Keyes and Modesto.

Deportees are Submissive.—The police were notified that a number of Japanese taken to Keyes by the train, placed on board a freight car, and were taken to the Japanese detention camp in Stockton, where they will remain without even a repast.

The Japanese had been brought into the district, and contacted with white ranchers to pick the fruit and melon crop. They were being picked sixteen cents a crate, whereas white workers were getting 25 and 30 cents, and this given as the principal cause of the trouble.

Livestock Sale Proceeds.—The deportation followed a few days a similar deportation of Japanese workers from the Livingston, Merced county, fruit district. In the former instance the Japanese were arrested at the Livingston region, were held to be responsible for the enforced departure of the Japanese. The mob worked silently and was aided to some extent by the chamber of commerce, which supplied and were given a certain time in which to dress and collect their belongings and were then ordered on to motor trucks and driven away. Wives and children of the deportees were not assisted.

Raid Follows Protest.—The act of the mob followed a protest by the Tulare chamber of commerce yesterday by the Fruit and Melon Pickers union and the refusal of the chamber to take a resolution upholding the protest. The chamber issued a statement, however, criticizing white farmers who brought Japanese workers into the district.

JAPANESE CONSULATE HOLDS UP ACTION ON SITUATION

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Action on the Tulare situation is being withheld by the Japanese consulate here until all detailed affairs are received from the Japanese consulate in Berkeley, Calif. Japanese consular general here said today.

PERU COMES IN TO ATTRACT ATTENTION ON ANNIVERSARY

Celebration of One Hundredth
Year of Independence Brings
South American Republic Before
World's Gaze

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Peruvians are celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of their Independence Day on July 28, and on behalf of the United States President Harding has sent an ambassador to Lima to take part in the festivities. In connection with the celebration of the anniversary the National Geographic society has issued from Washington, D. C., headquarters the following bulletin on Peru.

"Most countries, unless they are continental in extent," says the bulletin, "are not content with a small range of climatic conditions, but Peru, occupying less than a tenth of South America, has every climate under heaven together with many of the products that grow on them. It has the sand dunes of the Sahara; the fertile, sun-bathed, irrigated valleys of California; the gray grazing lands of Australia; the productive mountain valleys and uplands of Ecuador; the snow peaks of Switzerland; and the tropical jungles of Central Africa and Brazil.

The Country Shaped by the Andes.
"Much of Peru is occupied by the towering Andes, with few passes less than 15,000 feet high, and with numerous peaks exceeding 20,000 feet. These great ranges are chiefly responsible for the diversity of Peru's climatic conditions. They precipitate the moisture of the Atlantic winds and so create the tropical jungles that stretch from their bases toward the interior of the continent; thrust slopes and plateaus up into the cool regions of the upper air; and cut off the Pacific coast from the western foothills of the Andes, so that the interior is largely desert, many streams from the mountains traverse the region, and the relatively narrow valleys, irrigated by these streams, are devoted to the fertile land of the country. There grow cotton, sugarcane, corn, pineapples and olive trees; various fruits and practically all other products of the semi-tropical regions. From the most remote part of Peru, on the east side of the Andes, come the products of the country which Americans buy—rubber, guano, quinine, coca, wool, and copper.

World Over a Third of U. S.
"Isolated on the Pacific coast of South America, before the building of the Panama canal; and because of the world war yet receiving the full benefits of the great waterway, Peru is not well known to the people of the United States. In many cases, no doubt, it is looked upon as a small patch of territory. In reality it is only a little less than one-third of the area of the United States exclusive of Alaska and is larger than the latter territory. It has a sea coast of approximately 2,500 miles, practically as long as the Pacific coast line of the United States south of Canada.

"If Peru were laid down on the surface of the United States so that its southernmost point coincided with the southernmost projection of Texas its northeastern corner would lie near Kentucky, Ill. and its northwestern extremity near Chicago, Wis. The rough triangle would cover practically all of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas, half of Nebraska, parts of Illinois, Missouri, Colorado, Iowa and South Dakota, and fragments of New Mexico and Wyoming.

"Peru, no less than the United States, contains a mixture of races. The total population is not accurately known, but is probably more than 3,000,000. The chief numerical element in the population is made up of the civilized Indians, numbering about 1,800,000, of whom the most are in the upland plains and on the mountain slopes. The number of wild Indians in the tropical jungle is not accurately known. In addition to the Indians there is a large number of mixed Indian and Spanish stock. These together with the relatively few inhabitants of pure Spanish descent, have largely controlled the political fortunes of Peru.

Last to Become Independent.
"The complexity of the racial make-up of Peru has been increased by the importation in the past of large numbers of negro slaves and of the Chinese coolies. These have intermarried with each other and with the Indians, bringing about the existence in parts of the country of unusual hybrid types.

"Peru was the last of the South American colonies to throw off the yoke of Spain. Lima was the seat of government for the administration of the entire continent. The viceroys maintained there a court which was a faithful copy on a minor scale of the court of Madrid. It kept many of the Spanish nobility about him. Monarchical sentiment was strong and the few patriots who wished to follow the examples of other colonies and establish their independence were unable to make headway. Finally San Martin, an Argentinian general, persuaded his own countrymen and the Chileans that their independence could be made secure only by driving the Spaniards from Peru. He spent many years in his labors to liberate the Peruvians. He succeeded in entering Lima with his army on July 28, 1821, and on July 28 issued the Peruvian proclamation of independence. He was made protector and served until a Peruvian congress was elected."

PLANS PRODUCTION OF
LEPROSY REMEDY HERE

Government Botanist Brings
Seeds of Chaulmoogra Tree from Tropics

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Introduction in the United States of the chaulmoogra tree to secure a permanent supply of the oil for the treatment of leprosy is planned as a result of a trip through Siam, Burma and Assam by Professor J. F. Rock, formerly of the University of Hawaii.

Professor Rock has just returned to Washington after an extensive exploration into the jungles for the Department of Agriculture's branch of foreign seed and plant introduction. He brought back with him several specimens of the "karakotogone" tree, the seeds of which have been sent to various experiment stations of the department in Florida, Maryland and California for germination.

Within eight years, it is believed, enough fruit will be borne from these plants to include a domestic source of supply of chaulmoogra oil.

With the possible exception of a man named Kor, an amateur botanist, Professor Rock is said to be the first white man to invade the region of Siam where he obtained his specimens. Natives of that country for many years have obtained the karakotogone forest by visiting enough of the oil to meet their domestic needs, but they made these trips only every three years for fear of the beasts that inhabit the wild country.

While chaulmoogra oil has been used scientifically for only a few years, Professor Rock says the natives of that part of Asia which he visited have been using the native properties of the karakotogone tree for hundreds of years, but in such a crude way as to be unable to derive its complete benefits.

"The Buddhist histories that date back 1,000 years there are mention of this tree," Professor Rock pointed out, adding that "the crude oil of the tree was taken internally by the natives and the legends say it was effective."

"It was not until 1859 that the active principle of the oil from the seeds of the karakotogone tree were isolated with success. This was done by Dr. Frederick B. Howard, now connected with the Department of Agriculture here, after extensive scientific experiments made in England in 1856 resulted in the discovery that the white tree was being used for extracting the chaulmoogra oil.

Application of results obtained in local flowers' research by Dr. A. J. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, and others has led to a widespread use of the oil in leprosy cases.

Signs of Trade Slump
ON ALL SIDES IN CUBA

HAVANA, (AP)—Signs of Cuba's business and financial depression are evident to the most casual observer. Three of the four principal branches are closed. The parks are full of idlers. Stores are blazoning what they call "bargain sales," with the usual "one dollar" and "two dollar" signs as five per cent from mid-war prices, which is the Spanish merchant's idea of scuffling profits.

The papers are full of the governmental plans for buying 1,000,000 tons of surplus sugar at a price that will save producers and dealers from ruin, for re-establishing banking facilities that will relieve the present scarcity of currency, for cutting the cost of running the government from $104,000,000 to about $60,000,000 a year and for reducing the cost of living.

Politicians within reaching distance of the political plum basket are dogged day and night by swarms of job hunters. Hundreds of strike galloping, the constant labor from across the Atlantic, are struggling in from the sugar plantations and walking the streets, waiting for ships to take them back to Spain.

Tenants, with Latin enthusiasm, are organizing "Don't Pay Rent" campaigns until landlords come down to the 1918 scale, and the government forces the cost of primary necessities down a couple of hundred per cent.

Out of the nooks and corners where they have lived on the bounty of relatives since the war went sugar sky high and started a flood of gold into Cuba, they are coming—tapping canes, propping, wheeled chairs, following dogs, being led by children or hopping on crutches—the beggars are coming to town.

Appliances in their flight to the oil fields of the North so ignored the Indians that it was with difficulty they could be prevented from shooting at the "dove birds." At one settlement the entire populace took to the woods.

MYSTERY STILL ENSHROUDS DEAD MAN'S IDENTITY

Conflicting Testimony is Adduced at Second-Day of Inquest Over Headless Body Found in Oregon Dentist's Car

ROSEBURG, Ore., (AP)—Crowds gathered at the courthouse early today for the second day of the inquest over the headless body found in the wreckage of Dr. R. M. Brumfield's automobile last week. Several witnesses repeated details furnished to officers who have caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Dr. Brumfield on a charge of murdering Dr. Dean Russell. Others reported the testimony of Mrs. Brumfield who yesterday testified that she was positive that the body was that of her husband.

Swears Hat Was Russell's
M. H. Shelton and H. Hargis last yesterday told of finding a buttoned hat, a pool of blood and 30 calibre cartridge on the Pacific highway near the Booth ranch. Hargis declared that he had known Russell for more than a year and that Russell always wore the hat which was found on the pavement. W. H. Hawman said that on Wednesday night he saw the Brumfield car go around the car and it started, he said. "Dr. Brumfield was the driver. I started to speak to him when he started up and he stepped down the front end of me. I saw legs dangling out of the front door as he drove down the road ahead of me."

Sees Russell Fall
Kenneth Rank told of being with Russell at the time the latter picked up the hat and the cartridge. He saw him use the clipper at that time, he said. He heard the shots near the Booth ranch and took of the painting of the two cars, one speeding and the other traveling at a slower rate of speed. He also testified of visiting the spot from which the sound of the shots emanated and finding blood and pieces of hair and scalp. Millard Meredith, a nephew of Dr. Brumfield by marriage, declared that the body is not Russell's but Brumfield's.

Police at Franklin were notified following a fruitless search for the man, turned in the report that he had left in an automobile, accompanied by a man and woman through Oil City, in the direction of Erie. BASEBALL TRIAL BRINGS CROOKED DEALS TO LIGHT

State's Star Witness Testifies Accused Victim Sox Players Became Sick of Bargain When Cash was Held Up

DOUBLE-CROSS BRIBERS BY WINNING THIRD GAME

Defense Successfully Opposes Attempts to Get Story of Alleged Conspiracy's Inception into Record

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago White Sox players, after agreeing with a clique of gamblers to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati for $100,000, became sick of the deal when they were not paid the bribes as arranged and at a meeting before the third game decided to play their best and win the series, Bill Burns, accomplice in the alleged deal and the state witness testified today in the baseball trial.

Urged by the alleged "fixers" to win the third game to improve the betting odds, the players said they tried to lure the gamblers to Chicago and Williams—would not win for a "busher," Dick Kerr, Burns said. Then, feeling they had been crossed by the gamblers, they double-crossed their backers by telling them they would lose the third game, but instead won it three to nothing, with Dick Kerr pitching.

Attempts of the state to have Burns tell the entire story of the deal in a cotto in New York where the state claims the alleged conspiracy was formed failed when Judge Friend sustained a defense objection.

Bisberg Sticks to Bargain

Sweden Bisberg, the White Sox shortstop, agreed to "go through" with the game throwing, the state testified. Repeated attempts to persuade the players to throw the rest of the games failed and Burns then gave up his efforts to again bribe the players, he said.

Burns said he was forced out of his share of the spoils by "Chick" Gandil, who refused to pay him, the witness testified, adding that he told Gandil that he would "squawk" and expose the whole deal.

Names Conspiracy Leaders

Burns related further details of meetings in Cincinnati hotels at which he said the gamblers and players discussed throwing the series testified. He named the conspirators as David Zelig, of Des Moines, Iowa, a defendant, and the leaders of the alleged gamblers and "Chick" Gandil headed the party, according to Burns.

Burns said Atell refused to pay the $20,000 promised the players after each game. He persuaded Atell to give him $10,000 after the second game, which was given him in cash.

A St. Louis man volunteered to put up $10,000 to have the fourth and fifth games thrown, but the players turned him down, Burns said. He did not know the man's name, but said Joe Goetz, of the St. Louis Americans, who was released after the grand jury probe, was present at the time the proposition was made.

Volunteers Testimony

Burns then told how he conferred with Ben Johnson, president of the American league, and John Tyrrell, assistant state's attorney, about the deal, and how he came here voluntarily to testify and had received no promise or compensation other than his expenses, which were paid by Johnson. Burns then was turned over to the defense for cross examination.

IRELAND WAITS FOR REPORT

ters and several newspapers this morning.

Credit Given Smuts

General J. C. Smuts, premier of South Africa, who re-entered the negotiations yesterday, doubtless is largely responsible for this and similar optimistic speculations which have survived under great difficulty since Monday, when the Ulster premier dropped suddenly for Belfast, after making the forceful statement on the basis of self-determination as it applied to Ulster.

This seemed for a time to end all hope for an amicable meeting between the two Irish leaders, but the moderating influence of General Smuts, coupled with Belfast dispatches to the effect that Sir James does not regard the peace party as interrupted, have gone a long way toward re-establishing confidence.

To Submit Proposals

Mr. De Valera is reported willing to go to Belfast and meet Sir James after he has discussed with the Dublin followers certain proposals which it is understood Premier Lloyd George will submit to him Thursday.

The British cabinet today will give special consideration to the Irish question.

existence last January when a new state bank law went into effect.

"If the bank, at the time the loan was made, was a legitimate institution which was such an obscure establishment selected as the deposit box for such a huge sum as ten million dollars, and if the treasurer Len Small was serving the interests of the people who were the money lender, it was not for the state, although it was secured by notes bearing 7 and 8 per cent."

Attorney General Grundage asked while the investigation was in progress.

It was started by revelations of E. B. Miller, concerning alleged irregularities existing before his term as state treasurer.

Mr. Sterling is said to have accepted Small's securities on state loans, but he took over the office. Some of these securities were not accepted in the same manner by Mr. Miller, it was said.

CONGRESS MUST ACT OR BEER WILL BE RELEASED

Commissioner Blair Warns Lawmakers Regulations Covering Use of Alcoholics Will Be Signed

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Regulations covering the use of beer and wine for medical purposes will be signed within a few days, unless prohibitory action is taken by congress. Commissioner Blair announced today. The final draft of the regulations is on his desk awaiting signature. Action had been deferred for months, he said, upon assurance of senate leaders that congress would quickly determine its attitude toward medicinal beer, but with the postponing of prohibition legislation in the senate to facilitate passage of farm measures, apparently further delay was in prospect. Unless definite assurance of congressional action could be received within a day or two, the commissioner said, it would be the duty of the bureau to promulgate the regulations.

Cross Country Run Given First High Speed Locomotive

Old 999, Former New York Central Pride, Called from Humble Task

NEW YORK, (AP)—Travelling swiftly and alone, the old New York Central engine, No. 999, proud holder of a record of 116 miles in an hour which has not been equaled in 28 years, reached New York today from the rail road shops at Avon, Pa., where she has been refitted in her original colors for a run to Chicago with the famous old Do Witt Clinton train.

The Do Witt Clinton train, which is to make the trip in state on Saturday, will be exhibited at the Pageant of Progress in Chicago, beginning July 30, as the pioneer American steam passenger train.

The once famous 999 will take up her post nearby as an exhibit of the original high speed American locomotive. Old 999, erstwhile pride of the Central, was refitted in her original colors for the cross country run. After the exhibition is over, she will return to her humble task.

But during her trip to Chicago, she will be her old self. Charles Hoggan of Idaho, who drove the high wheeled, hand-built marvel in her record breaking trip on May 10, 1895, will be at the throttle. The engine will even be taken back to the old for such as the legend "Empire State Express" in gold script on her tender.

GERMANY "COMING BACK"

What has become of the poor mouth Germany made before the reparations settlements became an actual fact? Then the country would go to the bows if the allies made her settle on the banks of the indemnity levied. But now little is heard from the old empire along that line. Everything one sees these days is about how Germany is preparing to regain her lost trade, the extent to which her manufacturing establishments are being developed and the immense earnings some of her industrial concerns report.

Writing in the current number of a national magazine, P. C. Chappell, its London correspondent, points out how some of Germany's industries are growing. He says Germany is largely controlled by a dozen combines, the "Sixteen Trust" alone employing 250,000 men in the coal business. It has a capital of 1,208,000,000 marks, and there are a dozen others almost as formidable. Before the war Germany exported 850,000 tons of pig iron; she is now an importer. The war cost her 40 per cent of her iron ore, but the gap is being rapidly filled up.

The Krupp company, with its capital of 500,000,000 marks, has for two years been very busy putting its house in order and in turning a loss of 30,000,000 marks in 1918-19 into a profit of 79,500,000 marks in 1919-20. The transformation of Krupp's is said to be the most remarkable feat in Germany's industrial history. In less than two years this vast arsenal-city has been turned into a highly successful concern for making machines of peace. Its permanent staff at Essen and its other works numbers 50,000; the factory covers over 500 acres, and it makes all sorts of things. The operatives who formerly made gigantic cannon now produce farm machinery and cementware. It can turn out six locomotives a week and 30,000 cars a year.

Truly, Germany seems to be "coming back" and setting an example of industry to some other countries.

But after all the weapons have been beaten into agricultural implements can we persuade enough men to use them?

A royal decree has been issued in Belgium for the calling of an international congress for the protection of children. The question of establishing an international office for child protection is to be discussed.

Heat the Soapwater.
When it is hot everything is blamed on the heat. "Cray with the heat" is an old slang phrase which has no more apt application than that by which it is attached to those who make excessive heat responsible for everything from the loss of ball game to the birth of triplets. One cannot doubt that there are numerous cases of heat prostration and that some of them result fatally but in many of the deaths credited to heat the excess of temperature is responsible only in an indirect way. Bather seeks the cooling river and is drowned—heat. Someone goes to sleep in a hammock which breaks and the sleeper is perhaps fatally injured—heat. Another suffers an attack of acute indigestion possibly due to eating food that should not be eaten in the vent—heat—bad again.

Heat brings an abundance of discomfort and it is wise to take precautions to prevent serious results following in its trail, but there is no use becoming alarmed because the temperature hovers around 90 for a week or so. It exceeds that for long periods in the tropics and yet people continue to exist there.

Observe custom of living that all know are suited to hot weather. Somebody has said that heat is a state of mind and it is likely that much of the discomfort is more imaginary than real. Of course, a man with sweat streaming from every pore and his clothing clinging to him if it were glued will scarcely subscribe to that sentiment, but if that is the worst one is called upon to suffer, on an otherwise glorious day what cause is there for complaint?

TREATMENT FOR LEPROSY TO BE CARRIED TO JAVA

Chaulmooga Oil Specific and Methods of Use Evolved at Honolulu Placed at Other Bureaus' Command

HONOLULU, T. H., (AP)—The chaulmooga oil specific for leprosy and its method of use, perfected in the laboratory of the University of Hawaii and in the Kailii leper station here, are to be introduced in the leper colonies of Java.

Dr. C. D. de Langen, lecturer at the Netherlands government medical school in Batavia, Java, passed here recently on his way to Batavia after a year of lecturing at the University of Amsterdam. He characterized results obtained, illustrated in the release of scores of former lepers on parole, as splendid.

Dr. de Langen declared that the method of administering injections of the specific developed here had reduced pain to a minimum and thus eliminated one of the great obstacles to successful treatment of leprosy.

RELICS OF PREHISTORIC MAN BROUGHT TO LIGHT

One of Most Comprehensive Finds on Record Yet Discovered in Austrian Cavern

MIXNITZ, Austria, (AP)—One of the most comprehensive and the many finds of relics of prehistoric man in Austria has been discovered in a cave near this place.

The cavern known as the "Dragon's Den" is famous for its enormous deposits of phosphate in the shape of bird lime. In a side-cave some 1,000 yards from the opening the evidences of human occupation in ancient times were uncovered. Great quantities of quartz implements and other utensils and human bones have been taken out.

A royal decree has been issued in Belgium for the calling of an international congress for the protection of children. The question of establishing an international office for child protection is to be discussed.

STATION OF EXPERIMENTS COMPLICATED

Washington Chief Accords Praise for Idaho Department on Work Done

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special).—Success of the Idaho experiment station in meeting the many and varied problems of Idaho agriculture was highly praised today by Dr. E. W. Allen, of Washington, D. C., chief of the office of experiment stations of the United States department of agriculture, who has been investigating the work of the Idaho station for the last three days. Dr. Allen is on a tour of about two months, in the course of which he will visit experiment stations in all the states of the northwest. His last visit to Idaho was made three years ago.

Dr. Allen spent his time here not only in going over the work of the home station at Moscow but in reviewing accomplishments of the 170 acre farm at Sandpoint, operated for a study of farming methods on logged off land; 320 acres at Caldwell, where feeding experiments are conducted and soil experiments made; 80 acres at Aberdeen, farmed for a study of irrigation under conditions prevailing in that section, and a 200-acre farm at Felt, conducted for experiments in farming at an altitude of 6000 feet.

"I have spent three very interesting days here in going into the work of the station in detail," said Dr. Allen. "I think a good deal has been accomplished since I was here in organizing the several departments of the station work and in putting them on a highly efficient basis to study some of the special problems presented here in the state.

"I am impressed with the extent to which this organization of the work takes account of the fact of the varying conditions due to types of farming, altitude, climate, soil conditions, etc., and with the extent to which provision has been made for studying these out in the state where each local condition prevails.

"In my judgment the station is in a position to cover in a very effective way the agriculture of the state. It is in no sense a local institution. It is clear that it is working for the state as a whole and is taking its investigations into the field where its problems lie.

"For the funds at its disposal I think the showing which is made is a highly commendable one.

"The station is one in which the people of the state may well take pride and in which they may feel a large measure of confidence and interest. Clifton E. Morsgret, U. S. meteorologist at Boise, recently stated that Idaho's altitude varies from 700 feet to 12,000 feet and its latitude extends through seven degrees, a range exceeded only by California and Texas, while rainfall varies from less than 10 inches annually in the southern belt to more than 40 inches in the Coeur d'Alene.

The juices of clover and alfalfa are aiding to destroy the tuberculous germ, according to the American Institute of Homoeopathy. Use of the grass juices has aided in fights against the disease in the treatment of former service men of the Alpine sanatorium. The treatment calls for well-selected food, the utilization of rays, energies and vibrations, and for surroundings of a cheerful nature.

PORTO RICAN LAWMAKERS AUTHORIZE BIG EXPENSE

Set Aside $10,000,000 Budget and Equal Amount for Improvements

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Out of a budget of $10,000,000 just passed by the recent legislature and just approved by Acting Governor Jose Benedito, a little more than $4,000,000 is set aside for the public schools of the island. This is $1,000,000 more than the last school budget and the largest amount ever appropriated for education in any one year.

The budget is the largest ever approved. Including bond issues and direct appropriations, the legislature voted expenditures of $20,000,000, but several of the projects involving large sums may be vetoed by the governor. Among the bond issues authorized were those for $3,000,000 for the extending of a railroad around the island; $1,000,000 for an insular bank; $2,000,000 for road extension and improvement bonds and $1,000,000 for rural schools.

A new income tax law provides a normal tax rate of three per cent for both individual and corporate incomes and limits the additional income tax to 15 per cent for individuals and to 20 per cent for corporations.

A commission was authorized to study a proposal that the insular government purchase steamships from the United States shipping board to provide better transportation for the island.

CRIME CHARGE IS DENIED BY SNOW-BRONSON

Men Accused of Holdups are Ordered Hold for Further Hearing

In the chambers of the probate court this morning, Judge W. R. Mallory presiding, Clarence E. Snow and W. B. Bronson, who were arrested by sheriff's forces Monday night on robbery charges, were arraigned and through counsel, entered pleas of not guilty. The men were ordered remanded to the custody of the county sheriff to appear at 10 o'clock Friday morning for hearing.

Two Charges

Both Snow and Bronson are accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nelson, proprietors of a picture show house on Bull on the night of May 14, and are also accused of holding up and robbing Frank Ambrose and Tom Hyland on the night of April 7. The latter offense is said to have taken place at the Twin Falls Canal company barn at the end of Fourth avenue west. Ambrose, it is said, was relieved of $46 and his companion of $20 on that occasion. Other offenders are said to have been implicated in these offenses, Oliver Jones, being one of the men, according to sheriff's office authorities.

These men, it is related by the sheriff, form part of a gang of criminals which has been operating in this district some time.

It is alleged, in addition to two hold-ups on the night which Bronson and Snow were arraigned this morning, they had formulated a program of crime including the burglary of a bank in a small town not many miles from Twin Falls, and they planned the robbery of the residence of a Twin Falls merchant where a number of valuable jewels were said to be kept.

Gang Sentenced

Jones, Ernest Havis, Bronson and Harold Smith were taken before Judge T. Bailey Lee, in the local department of the district court last Friday for arraignment on charges of Wholesale stealing of auto tires and accessories. All pleaded guilty and sentences of penal terms of from one to 35 years in the state penitentiary were imposed by Judge Lee. In his sentences, the names of Jones the offenders, were ordered paroled pending good behavior. Jones is to go to prison. In connection with this case three other men have been arrested. Snow being one and O. B. Kendrick another. Kendrick, with Harold Smith, was brought to Twin Falls a month ago following arrest at Hannerton and made his way from the clutches of a constable at the west door of the courthouse. He was arrested last week at the home of his parents in Buhl. Whether or not he was implicated in the Buhl and Twin Falls hold-ups the authorities do not say, but the impression outside prevails that the entire gang was connected with all the nefarious operations.

Fire escaping notice of wood destroyers, said to have been in the employ of the city street department, yesterday destroyed service pole of the telephone company at the corner of Second street east between Ninth and Tenth avenues. The company is today replacing the support.

Apprehension of a man known by the name of Ed Williams is sought by local authorities, who have a warrant for his arrest on charges of theft of an automobile. The warrant was issued by Judge Mallory of the justice court this morning. Williams is accused of stealing an automobile from Jack Diamond.

SUGAR BEET CROP OUTLOOK IS REPORTED, AFTER INSPECTION, BEST IN HISTORY OF DISTRICT

This Year's Acreage Pushes the Amalgamated Plant Capacity to Nearly Its Limit with Prospects of an Extraordinary Yield from 18,000 Acres Contracted to the Company—Culture Methods Greatly Improved

Unless some extraordinary contingency should intervene the 1921 output of the Twin Falls plant of the Amalgamated Sugar company should be much greater than last season, which was a record breaker for the local situation. This prediction is based upon acreage figures supplied by James Bellamy, manager of the Twin Falls plant. Mr. Bellamy points out that last year's contracted acreage was 14,500 acres, while this year, with more favorable growing conditions, the contracts amount to a total of 18,000 acres.

From last year's 14,500 acres the crop yielded out of the factory of one million bags of sugar, each bag weighing 100 pounds. This was a considerable increase over the preceding year, when the average was smaller and the sugar content of the crop lighter.

Capacity of the Twin Falls factory was nearly doubled last year to handle the season's best harvest. This year, through the efforts of the company's agricultural section, acreage has been largely added to and if acreage contracts next year should be increased correspondingly with the present year the factory will have to be extended again in 1922. The mill can handle about 21,000 acres of beets. Thus the present year's acreage brings the plant within 3000 acres of its limit of production.

Growth Is Made.

Inspection of beet fields made in the immediate vicinity of the factory yesterday reveals an excellent growing situation. All early plantings are showing extraordinary growth, both as to foliage and root. For this time of the year the growth is said to be far in advance of any other season since the factory was started here seven years ago. The beet fields are said to be at least a fortnight ahead of last year, with the late plantings coming along under intensive and improved methods of culture, steadily and gratifyingly.

The outlook, Manager Bellamy declares, is equal to the best ever coming to his attention. Improvement in methods of planting and tending as well as betterment of soil treatment by rotation schemes, is credited to an educational system carried out by the company's agricultural department, and the attention of Manager Bellamy and with L. W. Coleman, field man, directing operations.

Except for a few fields in the extreme north, the company is unable to answer certain questions propounded by J. M. Lamport, counsel for the power users.

Among other things, it was brought out in the testimony which hearing yesterday, that the audiology report contains only one item of development—whereas the valuation contains two items, $1,557,970 for the period, prior to 1916, and $1,729,087 for the period between 1916 and the end of 1919. Mr. Lamport sought to have this discrepancy explained, but the witness disclaimed knowledge of the matter which the valuation exhibits differed from.

SOUTH MAIN STREET IS SCENE OF BURGLARIES

Baker Rooms and Japanese House Raided by Nocturnal Visitor Early Monday

Burglaries were committed at the Baker rooms on Main avenue and at a small residence in the immediate vicinity of the Baker place early Monday morning. Suit cases were stolen in both instances, according to reports. The residence mentioned in a small affair located on Fifth street south and occupied by Japanese cafe workers. This place was entered twice, apparently by the same burglar. The Baker house was entered once and a suitcase with clothing taken away. They rip was found discarded with some goods apparently not shared by the thief. It is said that further burglaries attempt were made last night in the same vicinity, but that a call for police led to a stop to operations.

It is alleged that shortly after 12:30 Sunday midnight a man entered the Japanese residence and carried off a suitcase recently purchased for $50. The man is said to have been observed emerging from the house, and to have seated himself on a lawn. He opened the grip and took from it a shirt and a belt of shoes. He measured the length of the shirt sleeve for a fit for himself by stretching the sleeves across his chest and along his arms. The shoes he threw into a neighboring yard, together with a book. The suitcase was carried away and the intruder went over to the Baker rooms leaving that place with an apparently well-laden grip. This he is said to have stashed on a lawn near the Japanese residence, and when he was satisfied with what he had re-entered the Japanese place. He evidently hid the house on all four sides and appears to have made some noise which disturbed an inmate. The latter sprang from his bed and kicked the man, who fled, but stopped long enough in flight to seize the grip he had stashed from the residence. He got away clear and no clue has been picked up.

Modern Apartment House Displacing Homes in Cottages

Government Report Shows Old Fashioned Single-Family Dwelling is Passing

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The old-fashioned American home—the single dwelling with a front and back yard—was giving way even in the smaller cities of the United States, to the modern apartment house. This is revealed in a report on 1920 building operations, issued today by the United States Chamber of Commerce. The report, compiled in conjunction with the federal bureau of labor statistics shows that last year 70 per cent of the families provided with new homes, were single-family dwellings; 11 per cent, two-family dwellings, and 19 per cent, a multi-family dwelling. The same figures show that the proportion of multi-family dwellings provided last year, was largest in the small cities.

Night's Mercury Establishes New Temperature Mark

No more torrid nocturnal period than that of last night has been experienced in this community this season, and, as a matter of fact, as far as cursory scrutiny of records reveal, last season did not produce its equal.

The low temperature of the night was 62, regular corn belt weather, where they sweeter and sweeter while the corn crop is maturing through the important period of "making."

Temperature of the day, too, constituted a pretty fair sort of record, though not quite reaching the extreme top for the year. The mercury reached 90, just two weeks below that of a couple of weeks ago, when the record of this and last year was established.

Cooler weather may be expected tonight, according to the maker of conditions, climatic, who tells of generally fair things for tomorrow except in the mountain regions, where, according to prognostications, there will be some thunder showers.
