Encircling Movement Cuts Retreat of Nationalists Toward Angora from Railway Junction Lately Captured

ESKI-SHEHR DEFENSE LINE IS PRISON CAMP

Unconfirmed Reports at Athens Tell of Paois's Reign in Kometite Capital with Population in Full Flight

SMYRNA, Asia Minor, (AP)—An important encircling movement by the Greek right wing is reported here to have cut the retreat of the Turkish nationalists toward Angora from Eski-Shehr, the railway junction point captured by the Greeks in their sweeping offensive Tuesday.

The Eski-Shehr defensive line is declared to be completely isolated and the Turks within the area are considered to be virtually prisoners. The number of Turkish prisoners actually in Greek hands was reached at thirty thousand, it was stated here today.

Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader, is said in Greek quarters to have escaped the encircling movement and to be fleeing toward Angora.

ATHENS HEARS POPULACE IS FLEEING FROM ANGOZA

FOUR THOUSAND WORKERS BLOCK OIL FIRE'S SPREAD

Strenuous Efforts Seem Likely to Hold Amatlan Field Blaze in Check

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP)—Four thousand men, working at top speed in six hour relays, are striving to prevent further spread of the oil fire which since Wednesday has caused damage amounting to several million dollars in the Amatlan oil field of Mexico, according to advices received by Pittsburgh companies operating in the field. "The evidence is that the fire will not spread beyond the confines of lot No. 102 where it started," one manager said.

Morrison well No. 5 is wide open, according to another dispatch, and is making 30,000 barrels a day. Most of the oil is being consumed in midday, and there is very little drainage, thus lessening the danger to adjoining properties.

FLYER EXTRICATES HIMSELF AND PLANE FROM CRATER'S PIT

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—When his engine suddenly stopped 15,000 feet in the air above remote Crater Lake, Ore., Thursday, Raymond Fisher, forest service pilot, was forced to land on a tiny island in the lake, which is in the pit of an extinct volcano with walls one thousand feet high surrounding it, forestry officials announced here today. The lake is credited with having greater depth than any body of water in America.

Of equal importance was Fisher's success in winning his way off the island and out of the crater.

The plane was not damaged in the descent and Fisher upon examination found four of the spark plugs of the engine broken.

Using the wireless set with which the machine was equipped he succeeded in getting in touch with another forest service plane on duty in the vicinity. This second flyer hastened to Madford, Ore., with news of Fisher's landing on the island and obtained necessary plans for Fisher's machine. Arriving back at the lake, however, the rescue pilot found it impossible for another plane to land on the island or approach it with the plugs to Fisher. Other forest service planes came up and sets of spark plugs were sent to earth by the means of parachutes. Working with a torch during the night Fisher found one of the parachutes and yesterday repaired his machine and "took off" from the island, reaching the forest service air base back at Madford safely.

POLICE SEIZE LIQUOR CACHE ON BOARD BOAT

Schooner Believed to be Missing Link Between Gairrie and Shree Yandu Cargo of Scotch

NEW HAVEN, Conn., (AP)—The auxiliary schooner, laden with Scotch whiskey and believed by the police to be a connecting link between the mysterious liquor carrier and the shore, was boarded at Lightship point early today, her crew seized and 250 cases of whiskey confiscated. The vessel seized is the Jennie T. said to be owned by residents of New Britain.

Federal officials are endeavoring to determine if the cases of whiskey, most of which bear markings that indicated they came from Bermuda, had formed part of the British schooner Enterprise, which left Nassau, Bahama Island, with a large quantity of liquor consigned to Canada, but put in at Albany a few days ago with part of the shipment missing.

ILLINOIS AWAITES COURT DECISION IN SMALL CASE

Three Days' Intermission is Interposed in Sensational Political Drama

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (AP)—Illinois today began her three-day intermission in the greatest political drama of her history—the Small-Steinbock Curtis incident for embroiling and fraud growing out of the Sangamon county grand jury's investigation of the state treasury. Until next Tuesday at least the case remains in status quo.

The case is regarded by legal authorities as one of the most important in political jurisprudence in American history, involving, as it does, the vital and fundamental question of the relations of the constitutionally equal and independent judicial and executive branches of government.

The governor has said he will not submit to arrest. The present contents that his position as chief executive of the state gives him no immunity.

WINTER TO BRING CENTRAL EUROPE CLOTHING CRISIS

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—People in central Europe are "wearier and sicker than at any time since the Napoleonic wars," according to reports of observers, manufacturers and by the Red Cross headquarters. The situation it was added, would reach a climax this winter.

Food conditions are reported improved. The depreciation of currency, the summary says, requires a university professor in Vienna to walk three months to buy a suit of clothes and a year of shoes in Poland cannot be bought without bringing home to the average family for a month.

"So desperate is the situation," the summary added, "that babies are born with no provisions made for clothing them and the sick in hospitals are dependent upon paper bandages."

MOB LYNCHES PRISONER IN SHADOW OF GALLOWS

White Man Convicted of Blaying Woman is Hanged in Courthouse Yard

HATTIESBURG, Miss., (AP)—Casey Jones, white, recently convicted of the murder of Mrs. J. S. Mosely and sentenced to be hanged July 18, but whose case was pending on appeal before the state supreme court, was taken from the county jail by a mob early this morning and hanged in the courthouse square.

Shirley W. H. Edmondson and Deputy Joe Gray, and J. P. H. McKee were sitting on the back steps of the courthouse when they saw the mob heading down on them. They were immediately surrounded by armed men and ordered to surrender the prisoner. McKee refused to surrender the keys. The mob broke down five doors between it and the prisoner.

Not a shot was fired but the prisoner put up a desperate struggle, seeking possession of a razor and wounding one man and hitting another with a chair. A blow on the back of the head ended the struggle and he was carried down to a tree.

FISCAL AUTONOMY OFFER FEATURES CONCESSIONS

Position of Ulster is Ample Secured in Proposed Terms, According to High Authority in London

DUBLIN, (AP)—The impression is growing here that the Irish peace offer made by Premier Lloyd George to Eamon de Valera, the republican leader, will swing out in a settlement. The terms of the offer are being held in the strictest confidence.

LONDON HEARS PROBABLY AUTONOMY OFFERED HAIN

LONDON, (AP)—The outstanding feature of the government's Irish peace proposals to Eamon de Valera, a concession of fiscal autonomy, it was stated in high authority here today. The position of Ulster is amply secured in the proposals.

Sinn Fein Plans Move. A meeting of the Sinn Fein, for the purpose of considering the British offer is looked for next week, but Sinn Fein leaders here appear to feel that ten days or more will elapse before any definite negotiations can occur. Meanwhile publication of the proposals is not anticipated unless Premier Lloyd George and Mr. De Valera reach an agreement to that effect.

Two important points which seem to have considerably bearing on the negotiations are, first, whether another meeting between Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, and Eamon de Valera, leader of the Irish republicans, is an amendment to the present house rule will be satisfactory to the Irish republicans, should such a solution be advanced.

A comprehensive statement covering the entire negotiations is expected to be made by Mr. Lloyd George in the house of commons next week.

AMERICANS HOLD LEAD IN GAMES

Yale-Harvard Composite Teams Capture Fifth Set from Oxford-Cambridge

HARVARD STADIUM—Cambridge, (AP)—The combined Harvard Yale team this afternoon captured the fifth set of the field and athletic games from the Oxford-Cambridge team of England. The victory puts the international series score at 3 to 2 in favor of the Americans.

The meeting was marked by a new world record of 35 feet 3 inches, by Edward O. Gourdin, of Jacksonville, Fla., Harvard's ace athlete, in the running broad jump. Gourdin's leap to the edge of the pit was the longest of which there is any record, professional or amateur. The best previous performance known was 24 feet 11 3/4 inches, made by Walter O'Connor of Ireland, some years ago.

A new record for the games in the 16-pound hammer throw was made by M. C. Nokes, Harvard's husky hurler. The record of 137 feet 3 inches, the last and chain flying 156 feet, 1 1/2 inches. The previous record was 152 feet, 2 inches, made by the late Tom Shillington, Yale at Queens club, England, in 1901.

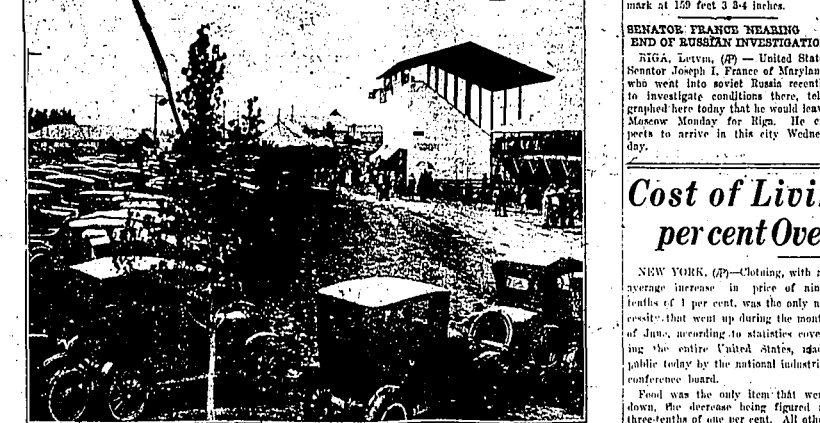

Nokes' record effort was itself surpassed a few minutes later by that of J. P. Brown of Harvard. He set the mark at 159 feet 3 3/4 inches.

PROPOSED BILL PROTECTS SEED MEN OF IDAHO

Measure Now Before Congress Regarded as Important for Gem State Growers

That the new tariff bill now before congress carries an import duty on alfalfa, the clovers, timothy and sugar beet seed was indicated in a wire received from Representative Addison T. Smith, according to D. F. Sheehan, state seed commissioner.

"The passage of the new tariff bill which includes an import duty of two cents per pound on alfalfa three cents on red, white and black clover, two cents on timothy and one cent on sugar beet seed will be a real protection to Idaho small seed growers," said Mr. Sheehan.

Smith Backs Bill

"Idaho's representatives in Washington have been especially fortunate to have inserted in the new bill import duties on these seeds. Our state is especially adapted to the production of some of the finest quality seeds to be found on the market. Small seed production is one of the farmer's most profitable industries. However, we could not hope to compete with the seed growers of France, Italy and Germany, who have been able to buy their seeds in our ports cheaper than our growers can produce.

"With the low exchange rate there has been a natural incentive for these foreign countries to ship large quantities of their seeds to the United States. As a consequence there are today large quantities of foreign seeds. The import duty in the western seed grower's only protection and our Washington representatives have been very fortunate to secure this protection."

BOLSHEVK PRESS PICTURES FAMINE

Moscow Paper Tells of Terrible Sufferings of the Russian People

NEW YORK, (AP)—The official bolshevik newspaper, Pravda, of Moscow, under date of June 25, telling of the terrible sufferings of the Russian people, says that "as a result of the drought and the crop failure, famine is raging among a population numbering about 25,000,000."

This announcement, given out by A. J. Sack, director of the Russian information bureau in the United States, who represents the Russian anti-bolshevik forces in this country, confirms recent cable dispatches which have described the widespread famine conditions prevailing in Russia.

The famine territory, Mr. Sack said, embraces eight provinces surrounding Perm, and the northern Caucasus, from which the population is fleeing in terror.

"The situation," he said, "is made more catastrophic by the fact that due to destruction of transport and the shrinkage in area under agricultural cultivation, the other regions of Russia are unable to help those affected by the famine."

CANAL COMPANY COMMENCES CAMPAIGN AGAINST EXISTING NOXIOUS WEEDS IN DISTRICTS TRAVERSED BY WATERWAYS

BY J. C. WHEELON.

In response to the action of the county commissioners in an effort to combat noxious weeds in this county, we are on the second year in the work of eradicating the Canada thistle from the canal company's canals and laterals.

The work has extended from Milner to Coatsford and more or less thistles are found on some 200 miles of the system.

If all the small patches were condensed they would aggregate about one acre of solid thistles.

The results of our work may be condensed in the following:

1. Cutting the plants off with a shovel at the crown and applying a handful of salt giving three treatments per season.

2. Cutting the plants as above and applying gasoline to the stump, giving three treatments per season.

The failures are probably due to the fact that the underground root system is such that the plants are joined together by a horizontal root system that is equipped with many dormant joints or buds from which new sprouts are grown when the parent plant is killed, and thus perpetuates the growth.

The process that seems to offer the best promise of success is:

1. Use "gas oil," a product heavier than gasoline and can be sold for about 19 cents per gallon.
2. Spray the plants as they stand without cutting, using a common garden sprinkling can, and taking care to spray the soil between the plants as carefully as if plants were growing there, giving three treatments per season.

The success of this process seems to be due to the fact that when the dormant "joints" or "buds" sends up the young sprout it comes in contact with the gas oil and dies and then all the "root buds" are exhausted the plants and root systems die out.

Quantities.

It requires for each treatment approximately one gallon to 23 square feet of ground, or one barrel to 1600 square feet, or 23 barrels per acre.

We expect it will require three years of this treatment to complete the killing process. We find however, that we are getting over the same areas this year with much less material than the quantities mentioned above, and it is possible that the third year may require little less.

Injury to Soil.

This process, of course, kills all other vegetation as well as the thistles, and it may cause the soil to be non-productive for several years. We find one case where a patch extended into a field and outside of our right of way, this patch was treated last year three times. We find about half a stand of potatoes on this ground this year with a very few sickly thistle plants. This would indicate that the danger to the soil is not permanent.

Conclusion.

We do not by any means intend to say that we have solved the "Canada thistle" problem, but we hope has been so gratifying that we believe the processes are worthy of notice.

Prince William, son of the king of Sweden, has trapped, single-headed, twenty-four gorilla, fourteen lions and many other animals which he is taking to the Stockholm museum.

CAPTAIN FIX YANKS TWIRLER IN NICK OF TIME AND THUS SAVES TIGHT CONTEST FOR BANKS

Twirler Petzold Goes Bad in Final Frame of Twilight Contest Letting Mosemen Tie the Count 3-3 "Speed" Newman Gives Exemplification of Ready Rescuing and Puts Banking People on Solid Ground Again

That there is in this world such a thing as a nick of time, was amply demonstrated by Captain "Fix" Fix, of the Banks' ball team, in a twilight game against the Moose at Lincoln park last night. Fix came in the nick of time to yank Petzold and insert "Speed" Newman. It proved a timely yank for the Banks, too.

Petzold, he is major public, is a left-hander twirler picked up for last night's game by the management of the Banks' team. Where he came from or who he is those who know won't tell, and those who don't know in the nick of time to care today. The pitcher, who seemed to have nothing at all, but managed to get away with it until the seventh frame, went along rather well, but he went bad—real bad, and just for that he was pulled out. "Speed" Newman stopped the Moose and saw his own team win the game in the final moment of play.

The Active Seventh.

It was like this, you see. The contest at the opening of the seventh was all in favor of the Banks, the count being 3 to 1. Petzold got Catcher Hickey first up for the Moose in the last inning, got a hit over second, then came an error at third base which gave the next batter, Riley, a life-guard put Hickey on second. Riley Miller, pitcher, came on a flipping hit to left which counted Hickey. Newman was inserted into the picture and during his tenure the count was tied through the agency of base runner wilded by Petzold. Hyberger struck the ball into left field for a sacrifice fly on which Riley scored. Miller was cared for at third base by Yecken's chuck. Hickey out ended the demonstration for the Fraters, but the Banks faced a knotted count and went into the last half to finish it.

Newman was thrown out at first base on his hard chance to L. Jarman and "Shorty" Gwiler followed out going ahead on a runner to second. Reliable Jake Yecken, however, erased the dose, and smote a two-base blow into left. Jake reached third on the catcher's bad chuck to nip off his safety and Hickey scored him on a short hit to shortfield.

Fraters' Hard Luck.

For four rounds Petzold got along very nicely, the Fraters falling to score. They managed to accumulate two hits in those rounds, and might have counted had it not been for bad fortune on part of two base runners. In the fourth with two out, G. Jarman on third and himself on second, Whitman ran into a batted ball and, according to established precedent, was out. That ended the chance to count—there in the fifth, Riley, first man at bat, batted the ball after he had dumped it in front of the plate, and was out for the interference. It so happened that a good hit made by Hyberger later on would have counted the unfortunate player. Miller fanned immediately after Riley's performance but "Fix" summed the ball for article

Brief Bits of Sport

"Fix" Fix, star twirler of the Bankers, is in a bad fix. The hurler suffered a split thumb in the game last Monday.

Radlogram from Bull to The News—"The umpire robbed us."

"Spud" Moreley went into the box against Bull handicapped by an extremely sore chest, the result of a collision with "Moore" Jarvis' of the Electricians on Wednesday night.

There was absolutely no cause for discussion about that fight last night Thursday night. The ball dropped at least two feet outside of fair territory. There might have been justification for contention over a called foul in left territory when a Twin Falls man was at bat, but not a word was said, and the decision was a lot closer.

It was the Nash roadster that beat the telegram from Salt Lake into Malad and had time to observe the traffic rules in Ogden and to stop at Five Points to direct a woman, who had lost her road.

It was the Nash roadster that started on high gear, drove the speedometer to the end of its sweep and came in on its own power at 45 miles an hour from a round trip of 428 miles.

RECORD TRIP TO SALT LAKE AND RETURN ON TUESDAY

Nash Roadster Makes A Great Trip While Seated in High Gear

A Blackfoot automobile went to Salt Lake City and back the same day. It went on its own power and on high gear. It did not stop for fuel or for intermediate, and it made the whole trip both ways in daylight.

D. A. Jenkins and Harry Cooper rode the package of energy that made this trip a Nash Roadster, on the Three-Garage on North Main street. They made the round trip of 428 miles in ten hours and thirty minutes actual running time, or an average speed of thirty-nine miles an hour over the steep plains, through canyons, through cities and towns and over mountain ranges. They ran from Blackfoot to Salt Lake without a stop.

They passed through more than 200 miles of the Portneuse canyon, they crossed over a spur of the Wasatch range into the Malad Valley, and they descended the steep slope along the Malad Valley into the Bear River. They camped at Fielding, where they had to ascend a steep, crooked grade to get upon the bench land again. On this very steep grade with a rise of about fifty feet in the perpendicular were several sharp curves where they had to reduce the speed to ten miles an hour to keep from going over the grade at the turn. So it brought the car down to honest plain.

The Nash roadster made this trip on twenty-four gallons of gasoline and two quarts of oil added during the run, totaling eight gallons per gallon of gasoline and doing all its climbing of grades on the high gear.

Fan Belt Broke

On the return trip the fan belt broke at Ft. Hall and the motorist indicated while it looked as if it would break. It stopped working. Jenkins said down the speed to forty-five miles an hour (they were making sixty), and Cooper crawled out on the side, lifted the hood and poured more oil into the engine, closed the hood and got back into the car still speeling at forty-five miles an hour. They came on into Blackfoot without the aid of the fan.

Car Beat the Mails

The Nash car beat the mails, and for while it looked as if it would beat a telegram. They left Salt Lake City at 12:30 and a telegram sent to the Three "A" Garage at Blackfoot, Idaho, announcing their departure on the return trip was not delivered till they were on the Malad summit within two hours' ride of home, having covered more than half of the distance.

No Shifting of Gears

The Nash roadster made the round trip of 428 miles without the use of the shift lever. Before the car left Blackfoot it was put in high gear, the lever taken off and the shift sealed with wax so that it had to stay in high gear and run in that gear until the morning, or remained at Blackfoot throughout the day and the Nash roadster with its passengers registered at the office of the Pacific Nash Motor Company at Salt Lake at 10:20 in the morning, after having left Blackfoot at 5 a. m.

How It Came About

This trip was the result of a challenge. D. A. Jenkins is a happy believer in the Nash car, and he bought this roadster and made the best that he could drive it to Salt Lake City on high gear. He also boasted that he could drive it to Salt Lake and back between breakfast and supper. Of course, nobody believed he could do it unless he avoided all the steep hills and ate a scandalously early breakfast and a fashionably late supper.

Harry Cooper, the mechanic at the Three "A" Garage, shared Jenkins' belief that the Nash might do the trick and he undertook to help make the trial. They left the Three "A" Garage at Blackfoot at 5 o'clock in the morning and got back at 7 minutes after the same day.

A Superior Engine

Jenkins' car has the wire wheels, weighs 2,800 pounds, and is equipped with front fenders that are cast and fire that are 352, this oversize giving greater speed at the expense of power. Mr. Jenkins believed that the engine in the Nash might do the trick and he could place it at this much disadvantage as to pulling power and yet climb the Pooking grades out of Bear River canyon, and he was right. They did not have to stop to change the grade nor get out and push. It carried both men every foot of the way.

Observe Traffic Rules

Of course, they had to observe the traffic rules. At Blackfoot they could not cross a street or round a corner at more than eight miles an hour, and most of the towns and villages along the way have the ten to fifteen mile speed limits. Those who saw their heavy Blackfoot are said to have turned their backs. Those who saw them going through some of the other towns did not see clearly just what it was, so they might as well have had their backs turned. Coming back through Ogden they watched the speedometer because there was a speed cup watching them. At Five Points, just above Malad, a woman in the road signalled them and they stopped. She wanted some information about the road and they gave it to her.

They Said "Hello"

At Malad they stopped thirty minutes to pour some oil and also get the Three "A" Garage on the phone. Robert Osborn answered the phone and he said they had received the telegram announcing them out of Salt Lake on the return trip, Robert replied that they had not, but in about twenty minutes such a telegram was delivered. They were then on the top of the range coming over into Marsh Valley and in another two hours they stood in the Three "A" Garage at Blackfoot.

The Air Was Light

One interesting feature of this trip was that the front tires were given up, forty-five pounds of air and the rear tires, the over-sized ones, were given only thirty-five pounds. They had no tire trouble on the trip, and did nothing to the car at Salt Lake excepting to look it over and give it oil and gas. They did not test the air. It seemed to be standing up all right, the tires were not too hot, and it carried them back with no accident excepting the breaking of the fan belt, which Mr. Cooper said had run 6,000 miles. They had a new one in the car, but were no near home when the break came that they did not want to lose any time putting it on.

If You Doubt It

If anyone doubts that these gentlemen actually made the trip to Salt Lake as represented, they can get a two to one bet by calling at the Three "A" Garage, where Jenkins and Cooper will take you on and do it again.

BERGDOLL CASE HEARING COMES TO STORMY END

Session Breaks Up after Kentuckian Makes Pass at Draft Dodger's Brother who Called Him "Liar"

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Bergdoll investigating committee's session broke up suddenly today after Charles A. Braun, a witness, had called Representative Johnson, Democrat, Kentucky, of the committee, a "liar," and the latter made an attempt to reach the witness.

Unsatisfied by answers he received to numerous questions, Mr. Johnson finally rebuked the witness in the eye and said:

"You know you are not telling the truth."

Storm Breaks

"You are a liar," Braun replied, the rest of his statement being lost in the uproar that followed.

Kentucky plunged toward the witness. Braun said something about being "persecuted" as the sergeant at arms hurried him out of the room to board the first train for home, exasperated by the chairman from further appearance.

"I would like to get hold of your brother," somebody shouted in the confusion as he went out.

"Is this committee going to let that hater of the American flag get away from here without being punished?" Representative Johnson demanded, paying no heed to efforts of Representative Fives Flood, Democrat, Virginia, to quiet him. The confusion was so great that the chairman announced adjournment without fixing a time for further hearings.

Called by Campbell

Braun is a brother of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, escaped draft dodger, and was called as a witness by Major Bruce B. Campbell, against whom Mrs. Emma Bergdoll of Philadelphia, the mother of the draft dodger and Braun, who changed his name because of the family trouble, has charged that he accepted $5,000 to aid in her son's escape.

SNOW AND ACCOMPLICES BOOND OVER FOR TRIAL

Heavy Bonds Required by Judge Mallory in Pair of Robbery Actions

Clarence R. Snow has been bound over to the district court for trial on two separate complaints charging robbery by holdup operations. Bonds of $7,500 were being fixed in each instance. The case is in jail awaiting trial, which will be held during the September criminal term.

Snow, with W. B. Bronson and Oliver Jones, is charged with the holdup and robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nelson at Buhl on the night of MAY 14, this year, and accused with Bronson of robbing in a similar manner, Frank Ambrose and Tom Hyalson on the night of April 7. Snow was given preliminary hearing on the former charge yesterday before Judge W. A. Mallory, in the probate court chambers, and this morning on the second charge before the same presiding officer and in the same court this morning. Bronson appeared as a witness for the state against Snow, and Jones having waived preliminary examination. The latter two were bound over to the district court for trial, bonds being fixed at $500 each.

On the witness stand Bronson told in detail a story of the Buhl holdup, supporting in every essential the statements made by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson on the stand yesterday. He explained that Snow robbed Nelson of a small amount of money, and then took his gold watch. The latter article was not located until yesterday when Deputy Sheriff's Ormsby and Hamilton, armed with a search warrant, investigated the E. J. Lynch residence at Hamilton. The watch was discovered in the house. Mrs. Lynch is said to have told the authorities that Snow presented her with the timepiece, soon after the robbery at Buhl.

Before the state had concluded its testimony in the second case against Snow this morning counsel for the defense waived further examination and the defendant was ordered remanded.

NEW YORK LUMBER CUT DOUBLED IN VALUE— INCREASE IN QUANTITY IS BUT 25 PER CENT

New York cut 411,000,000 feet of lumber in 1920, valued at twenty million dollars, or nearly double the value of the 1918 cut. This remarkable increase was due primarily to the great post-war increase in lumber prices, which reached its peak in March, 1920, together with the fact that the quantity of lumber sawed increased 25 per cent in two years. The number of mills cutting 50,000 feet or more increased from 1023 to 1200 in the same period. The average valuation of a mill of the lumber cut was $48 per foot—the highest point on record. This is a preliminary statement of the forest service, United States department of agriculture, cooperating with the bureau of the census, United States department of commerce, and with the state of New York, in the census of lumber production in 1920.

Hemlock retains first place in quantity, closely followed by maple. Both hemlock and spruce lumber were less in quantity than in 1919, the decrease in spruce being probably due to the demands of the pulp mills for this species. The only continuous increase for the two-year period are shown by maple, beech, birch and chestnut, though more white pine and oak were cut in 1920 than in either previous year.

Hemlock and beech are the only species reported at less than $40 per foot, and ash is, as usual, the most costly native wood, at $57.74 per foot.

Although the peak of lumber prices was reached during the forepart of 1920 the average valuation of lumber in New York increased 15 per cent more in 1920 than in 1919. This was due to the fact that prices were sustained at an increasingly high level throughout 1919, while in the latter part of 1920 they fell far below the peak.

INVITATION TO CAMP IS ACCEPTED BY PRESIDENT

Harding to be Guest for Night of Firestone, Edison and Ford on Outing

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—President Harding left here by automobile today to join the camping party of Harvey S. Firestone, Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison on Licking creek, near Parkersville, Md., 17 miles from Hagerstown. He expected to spend the night under canvas and return to Washington late tomorrow.

Mrs. Harding did not accompany the president, having decided not to accept the invitation. The president's schedule called for luncheon at the camp and an afternoon in the Maryland and West Virginia hills. Besides Mr. Firestone, Mr. Ford and Mr. Edison and their wives will find Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist Episcopal church, an old friend and Mrs. Anderson at the camp. There was something of a memorial to the late John Burroughs about the occasion as Messrs. Firestone, Ford and Edison just years frequently were in company with the naturalist in one of dozens trips of the same kind.

AMERICAN LEGION SAILS ON HER MAIDEN VOYAGE

New Shipping Board Passenger Liner Leaves New York for South American Ports

NEW YORK, (AP)—The new shipping board passenger liner American Legion, manned by a crew composed almost exclusively of members of the American Legion, sailed today for Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires on her maiden voyage in the South American service.

Frank C. Mussen, her managing operator, estimated she would reach Rio within ten days—two days under the present sailing record.

The American Legion, originally built for army transport service, but altered at the close of the war into a first class passenger liner, is one of the largest ships ailing under the American flag. She is 635 feet long and has a tonnage of 18,000.

SMALL HOPE'S HELD OUT FOR LOWER TARIFF

Railroad Department Official Sees No Chance for Potato Rate Reduction

Although officials of the U. S. L. railroad have announced that the probability of lower freight rates covering potato shipments from this district has diminished until they are practically nil, Twin Falls business men have not given up the fight for a tariff reduction. The battle will be carried from this place until positive defeat is recorded for the movement or victory is won.

To Keep Up Fight. This, in text, is the decision reached by the traffic committee of the chamber of commerce, which met yesterday in the chambers of the club for a consultation and discussion of the potato tariff situation as it relates to the potato crop of this year. Figures introduced at this meeting showed conclusively that while southern Idaho will produce a record crop yield shippers will lose on the crop if compelled to pay present freight rates to get the nearest market. What plan or policy the chamber of commerce tariff committee will adopt in carrying on the fight in favor of the farmers, business men and the district generally has not been announced, but it is understood that a new appeal will be made to the officials of the company freight department, as well as to certain commerce commissioners having jurisdiction over freight rate matters. Jerome is expressed that adjustment of the question may be obtained before movement of the 1921 production becomes general.

Hope Is Slim. This hope, however, appears of a rather forlorn character in light of information coming to this section from railroad officers indicating a belief that the need for the producer is not a reduced freight rate but a better market for spuds. These officials have expressed the opinion that Idaho will produce more than one million bushels of potatoes, most of which will be subject to shipment. Joel L. Priest, of the Idaho freight department at Boise, has written, saying his department cannot hold out any hope at this time for a rate reduction on this commodity, but also stating that the freight department is in close touch with all angles of the situation and shall continue to compile daily freight information which will enable us to determine at the proper time what, if anything, should be done as a measure of relief. It is expected the local tariff committee will hold executive session again next week.

TWIN FALLS COUNTY LAND MAKES WORLD RECORD FOR BEET YIELD

Forty Tons of Root Crop is Taken from Sandmeyer Acre at Buhl, Yielding 11,200 Pounds of Sugar, Together with Valuable By-products—District Sustains the State's Mark

To E. T. Sandmeyer, a Twin Falls district farmer, goes credit for last fall establishing a world's record for production of beets on a single acre of land. The acre, located in the Buhl section, produced 40 tons of beet-yielding 11,200 pounds of sugar, including tops, pulp and syrup. The harvest received 100 per cent for his beets. The beets yielded 11,200 pounds of sugar. These figures are contained in a summary of production from Twin Falls district land, being made by C. D. Thomas, at the request of J. C. Moore, and to be used by the traffic department of the C. & N. railroad company in advertising this section of the country.

Mr. Thomas' compilation will contain considerable informative data having relation to the crop bearing ability of the land in the Twin Falls district, and covers, especially, a total of 100 acres of the Sandmeyer farm planted to sugar beets last year. The entire 100 acres averaged, in yield, 22 tons to the acre, for which the owner was given the sugar company's check for $25,000. Compared with the national and European record is an minor matter, the best yield from an acre never best acre being 4800 pounds of sugar.

The average yield of corn in southern Idaho, Mr. Thomas says, is 40 bushels per acre from 45,000 planted last season. In the years 1918 and 1919 Idaho produced a record of all the states in sheep population and wool production. In the first year its wool production was 15,500,000 pounds, in 1919, 22,145,000 pounds and in 1920, 21,022,000 pounds.

The state of Idaho, the statistician says, stands among the leaders of all the states in average production per acre. In the years 1918 and 1919 Idaho produced a record of all the states in sheep population and wool production. In the first year its wool production was 15,500,000 pounds, in 1919, 22,145,000 pounds and in 1920, 21,022,000 pounds.

In the production of wheat, the statistician shows that the state of Idaho yielded the state of Idaho with 2,548,880 bushels last year. Idaho ranked first in alfalfa and clover seed; second in potatoes, barley and hay; third in wheat and wheat and second in corn as compared with all the other states of the Union.

Idaho is said to lead all states in "poor" yield of wheat. The average of the country at large is 1.8 per acre. In yields per acre of alfalfa Idaho yields with 3.5 bushels, while the average for the Twin Falls district in 1920 produced on one acre 32 bushels and two pounds of alfalfa seed, and on a potato acre the average yield was 29 bushels and 55 pounds an acre. This county also leads the state in livestock population with 17,580 horses and 820 mules.

DEFENSE DEMURS TO COMPLAINT IN INSURANCE CASE

Attorney Snow Lodges General Exception to Claims of Lyda Meyer Southard

General demurrer has been filed in the district court by the defense in an action brought by Lyda Meyer Southard against the Idaho State Life Insurance company. The demurrer is written and submitted by Edwin Snow, insurance company counsel of Boise.

The complaint to which Attorney Snow for his clients, demurs, was prepared in an action brought by Mrs. Southard to recover $10,000 which he had on an insurance policy covering the life of Edward F. Meyer, whose death occurred last fall. The woman had sought to stand trial on charge of causing the death of Meyer by administering poison to him, said to have been extracted from another party. The action brought to recover the $10,000 on the Meyer policy was instituted by Attorney W. P. Guthrie and Henry Miller, who are representing the accused in the district court. The following statement, credited to Attorney Guthrie, is said to have been given while the lawyer was in Boise recently.

"The state has filed no information and it is my opinion we shall have to get out a writ of habeas corpus asking for information. Application was made for the defendant's bail Monday and no action has been taken upon it. Mr. Southard is in poor health and has been in jail now for two or three months without the state filing information sufficient to keep the court from granting bail. He should not be held there until trial. "Mrs. Southard is not worrying and does not act like a woman who is guilty of such a crime. Her father and mother are standing by her because they believe her to be innocent. She has now given all the attention possible by her father and is receiving good treatment. Her husband, who is attached to the navy has been in Twin Falls about six weeks, returned to San Diego where he will join his command. He will return to Twin Falls at the time of trial."

FARMERS AND THRESHERS MEET TO ARRANGE PRICE

Joint Discussion of Tariff to Govern Season's Operations Being Held

Scores of farmers and threshermen of the district are assembled in Twin Falls today for a general discussion of threshing prices to prevail this season. The convention was called for 2:30 o'clock in the city park, but did not get underway promptly. H. E. Powers, of the county farm bureau, is in charge of the meeting.

Joint conferences between farm producers and threshing-operators are annual affairs, and are called for the purpose of discussing matters having to do with the cost of producing wheat and other grains. On such discussion is based the price to be charged for threshing these grains. Last year the price for threshing a bushel of wheat was 7 and 8 cents. This year a strong effort will be made to get the price reduced at least two cents per bushel. The meeting was called by Carl D. Irwin, president of the Twin Falls county farm bureau.

HIGHWAY BOARD GETS ROAD BUILDING BIDS

Commissioners Considering the Proposals Covering 7 Miles of Construction

Members of the highway district commission met this morning in regular session, to check up routine business and to allow such bills and claims as have accumulated against the district since the last regular session.

This afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, the board opened and scrutinized proposals covering construction of seven miles of highway in the Twin Falls district. Three miles of this construction is along Addison avenue, and about four miles in the Kimberly section. Up to 2 o'clock five bids had been received. Almer H. Wilson, chairman of the board, is presiding.

At 3:15 this afternoon announcement was made by Chairman Wilson of the district board, that the contract award will probably be given to C. H. Hall of Twin Falls. His bid is $40,130, while that of the Holmbeck construction company, next low, is $40,745. There were seven bids submitted.
