GREEKS FOLLOW UP SUCCESS IN ASIA MINOR

Capture Forty Guns and Take Many Prisoners in Victory Over Turkish Nationalists at Bagdad Railway Center

REPORT SAYS OTTOMAN MINISTERS SEEK PEACE

Revolution Results From Overthrow of Kemalist Authorities at Koniah, Athens Dispatch Declares

ATHENS, Greece, (AP)—The Greeks in Asia Minor, are following up energetically the victory they gained over the Turkish nationalists at Eskisher, on the Bagdad railway. Great numbers of guns and many prisoners were captured by the Greeks according to an official announcement.

The Greeks advanced more than 25 miles to the east of Eskisher, within a short time and were continuing their pursuit of the enemy towards the interior.

A dispatch to the Embros from Constantinople declares the Turkish nationalist leaders have decided to ask recognition for the opening of peace negotiations.

ATHENS HEARS REPORTS OF REVOLUTION AT KONIAH

LONDON, (AP)—Dispatches from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph company say that Smyrna newspapers there publish reports from Smyrna telling of a revolution in the city of Koniah, a railway center about 350 miles south of Angora, resulting in the overthrow of the Turkish nationalist authorities.

JAPAN TO INVESTIGATE TURLOCK DEPORTATION

Mikado's Government to Take No Action Beyond Inquiry Into Cause

TOKIO, (AP)—The Japanese foreign office, it was announced today, will take no action in connection with the deportation of Japanese workers from the harvest fields at Turlock, California, beyond requesting an investigation and a report on the incident from the Japanese consul in San Francisco. Foreign office officials declared they regarded the incident a local affair, and expressed confidence that the American authorities would adopt all necessary measures.

It was added by the officials that the occurrence of such incidents were regrettable and liable to provoke undesirable agitation in the time being, and that the United States were earnestly seeking a mutual understanding. Beyond causing editorial protests in several of the newspapers, the Turlock incident caused no excitement here.

MOB SHOWS IOWA XOWN MAYOR WITH OLD EGG

ACKLEY, Iowa, (AP)—E. M. Brennan, mayor of Ackley, last evening was attacked by a mob of two hundred persons who showed him with ancient eggs and chased him to his office. Brennan is said to have aroused resentment by personally making arrests for alleged law violations and refusing change of venue from his court.

Feeds Optic Nerve Newly Found Serum to Cure Blindness

NEW YORK, (AP)—A serum, which Dr. Erasmus Arlington Pond, Brooklyn eye specialist, claims has cured nine cases of blindness caused by a virus will soon be demonstrated before the Academy of Medicine and the American Medical association, it was reported today.

Dr. Pond, who discovered the serum, said the method of cure was to inject the fluid which nourished the optic nerve. Blindness could not be cured by the serum nor would it be successful unless to the patient. The physician said as soon as he had demonstrated his discovery before the medical profession he would make public the formula that it might be used generally.

COAST GUARDS TIGHTEN LINES ON TRAMP SHIPS

Disclosures Indicating Giant International Whiskey Smuggling Rings Put Authorities on Toes

NEW YORK, (AP)—Federal authorities along the Atlantic coast redoubled their vigilance over tramp ships today following disclosure of evidence indicating the existence of at least two giant international whiskey smuggling rings, one having headquarters in this city and one in Atlantic City.

A list of the many department also was being sought in an effort to build up a rum hunting fleet.

According to Leroy W. Ross, United States district attorney of Brooklyn, foreign and domestic capital aggregating several million dollars is behind the whiskey smuggling conspiracy.

A tramp steamer caught outside the three-mile limit off Atlantic City yesterday, according to reports received here, and taunted federal agents by breaking out punnets saying: "I lay down your money and come and get it." The tramp slipped away as night fell.

STORM SENDS STEAMER ON LAKES SUPERIOR DISTRICT

MONTREAL, (AP)—The steamer St. Louis, plying between Changuay and Lac Seul, was grounded on the banks in the St. Lawrence river last night and the 150 passengers on board were taken ashore in life boats. A slight storm of considerable violence caused the accident.

JAPAN'S DECISION CLEARS DISARMAMENT OUTLOOK

Apparent Acquiescence in American Outline of Conference Scope Removes Most Serious Barrier

PRELIMINARY CONVERSATIONS AMONG POWERS ARE PREDICTED IN LONDON

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Apparent acquiescence by Japan, according to press reports, in the insistent suggestion of the United States that definition of the scope of the conference on Far Eastern armaments and limitation of armaments should not be made a condition of the acceptance of the invitation was regarded here today as removing the most serious barrier to holding the international meeting proposed by President Harding.

Official definition of the character of the latest communication sent by the United States to Japan was withheld, but it is understood that Secretary Hughes, through the American embassy at Tokio, explained that there was no objection in Washington to an exchange of views on the scope of the conference, once the intention of Japan to participate had been made known.

LONDON EDITOR FORECASTS PRELIMINARY CONVERSATIONS

LONDON, (AP)—The London Times, while noting that there will be no meeting in London preliminary to the Washington conference, says it is probable that there will be "preliminary conversations" here within the next month between de-factored representatives of the powers which will participate in the conference.

PLAYERS CLAIM IMMUNITY WAS PROMISED THEM

Cicotte, Jackson and Williams Tell Own Stories of Game Throwing Confessions to the Grand Jury

NEW SCANDALS BREWING IN HUNT FOR DOCUMENTS

Missing Immunity Waivers and Admissions are Reported to Have Been Bought by New York Gambler

CHICAGO, (AP)—Judge Hugo Friend today ruled that the grand jury confessions of Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams made that they were paid to throw games in the 1919 World's series are admissible as evidence in the baseball trial.

The judge, however, informed the state that if the defense presented further evidence which proved that the confessions were not made voluntarily by the players he would instruct the jury to disregard them. Each confession can be used only against the man who made it.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams, former White Sox players, told their own story in the baseball trial today.

Each of the three men declared that his confession had been made only after Judge Charles A. McDonald, who ordered the baseball scandal investigation, Harley B. Spain, former assistant state's attorney who directed the inquiry, and Alfred Austrian, Chicago American League club attorney, had promised them that their confessions would never be used against them and were wanted only so that baseball gamblers might "be tripped under foot."

Cicotte said that he had broken down and cried while Judge McDonald's story and that much of what he did on that day was simply a happy memory. Under cross-examination he said his many questions: "I don't remember."

McDonald Denies Statements. Judge McDonald, chief justice of the criminal court, testifying at the afternoon session, denied virtually every statement attributed to him by the three ball players. He declared he had never in any way discussed immunity with Cicotte or Jackson. Williams he said, had appealed to his sympathy and had made a plea for a trial court "might and probably would take into consideration the fact that Williams was a well known player who had played for many years because he was badly in need of money."

"I told him that a court would give him consideration only if he made a clean breast of the whole affair," Judge McDonald testified he saw Cicotte sign an immunity waiver.

New Scandal Brewing. A new baseball scandal was brewing today as agents of the state's attorney continued their frantic search for immunity waivers and confessions

Famine Prompts Bolsheviki to Meet Hoover's Demands

DEMANDS LIBERATION OF AMERICANS HELD CAPTIVE. WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Immediate release of the American men held prisoners in Russia must be ordered by the soviet government before aid can be rendered the sick and starving in that country by the American relief administration. Secretary Hoover, chairman of the organization, has informed Marvin Gorky at Petrograd in a radio message Sunday night.

"I have dealt with great feeling," the cable said, "your appeal for charitable assistance to the starving and sick people of Russia, more particularly the children. To the whole American people the absolutely one qua non of any assistance must be the immediate release of the Americans now held prisoner in Russia. Once this step has been taken, the American relief administration, a purely voluntary association, together with other cooperating charitable American organizations, has funds at hand by which the assistance for the children and for the sick could be undertaken immediately."

RIGA, Latvia, (AP)—The telegram sent by Herbert Hoover, an head of the American relief administration, with reference to aid for the starving and sick of soviet Russia was handed to M. Gerky, soviet minister to Bolivia, and forwarded to the soviet government this morning. Although the decision rests with Moscow, the opinion is expressed in soviet circles here that Mr. Hoover's terms probably will be accepted.

JAPAN REDUCES NAVAL EXPENSE TO BUILD SHIPS

Minister of Marine Insists on Economy Program to Swell Funds Required for Construction of Warcraft

TOKIO, (AP)—The naval estimate calling for the expenditure of 500,000,000 yen (nominal) about $250,000,000 for the fiscal year 1922-23, is 500 million less than would have been if Admiral Hiranuma's proposals had not been insisted upon economy in the case of maintenance, says the Nichi Nichi.

The estimate is about equal to the naval appropriations made for the current year. It is hoped, by cutting down the cost of the navy's ordinary operations to leave approximately 275,000,000 yen for continuing the program of constructing eight battleships and eight cruisers. This would be equal to the amount spent on construction.

The minister of marine apparently is determined that nothing shall interfere with the progress of the building program.

Strikes at Personnel

The following principles of economy have been decided upon, according to the Nichi-Nichi.

First, there shall be economy in personnel. There are too many high ranking officers in the Japanese navy compared with the navies of other countries. Great Britain has 12 admirals and 22 vice-admirals, while Japan has 15 admirals and 25 vice-admirals. Britain has 120,000 men in service and Japan 80,000.

Maintenance costs are to be cut by reducing the number and size of the standing squadrons. Only one such squadron will be kept. The Third Squadron will be reduced in size and placed on special duties. The remaining vessels are to be anchored as the first step. In result, the number of men on such vessels will be drastically reduced. Fuel consumption will be cut to the lowest possible figure.

Encourages Furloughs

The system of allowing men in service to return home before their time of service has expired will be extended. In this way a considerable amount of food and clothing can be saved.

Coastal vessels will be disposed of. By exercising economy along these lines, the navy expects to cut down the ordinary expenditures to 150,000,000 yen. This would leave a margin for special expenses.

PROGRESS OF OSTEOPTHY TO BE REVIEWED AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Progress made in the holding at the headquarters of osteopathy will be discussed at the 25th annual convention of the National Osteopathic association opening here today. The convention will also participate in the program of the week.

How some forms of golfe disappear when the bones in the neck are corrected osteopathically will be told by Dr. Allen Z. Prescott of Syracuse, N. Y. Dr. William E. Waldo of Seattle, Wash., will preside as president of the association.

HIDE OF BLAOK OTTER IS BROUGHT TO TACOMA

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The hide of a black otter, the only one of which Tacoma furriers have any record, was brought here recently by a trapper from Whatcom county, in the mountain country of Washington. The otter general is brown, but his one eye is jet black on the back and silver colored on the stomach.

Furriers said the hide was worth between $5,000 and $4,000.

ORCHARDISTS WARNED TO ACT AGAINST RAVAGING BUG PEST, MOTIV PLANS YEAR'S CAMPAIGN

State Entomologist Advises Apple Men That Is Necessary in Way of Counter Operation if the Codling Worm is to be Successfully Combated in This District—Caterpillars are Already Assembling Forces

(Contributed by Ralph H. Smith, Entomologist, University of Idaho.)

The regular mid-summer spray for codling moth should be made between August 1 and 10, according to studies that are being made in orchards of Meares, Linden, Ketchikan, Hylton and Hammons. Bury bands were placed on trees in these orchards early in July. The first worms came down in the Linden orchard July 8, and the first caught under the bands in the other orchards were on July 11 and 12. It requires 24 days on an average from the time the worms come down the trees until they are found in the surface of the apple entering the apple. Thursday the summer brood of worms will begin entering the apples at the Linden orchard about August 1 and at the other orchards mentioned which will apply to most orchards in the Twin Falls district about August 4.

WOULD UNITE OBSTINANTLY WITH BUDDHISM TO END WAR

HONOLULU, P. H. (AP)—That Christianity and Buddhism, working together, can end the world's wars, was the main theme recently by Rev. S. Arai, abbot of Sojiji, head monastery of the Sojo sect of Buddhists in Japan who is visiting the islands. Arai said: "Buddhism, like Christianity, is a universal religion. These two are not powerful agencies working for international peace."

RUMOR TRACES MISSING BANKER INTO DOMINION

Spurgin is Believed to Have Fled to Canada with $50,000 in Cash

CHICAGO, (AP)—Walter C. Spurgin, managing president of Michigan Avenue Trust company, which was closed last week, is believed to have fled into Canada with $50,000 in currency. It was reported last week that he was supposed to have $300,000 in securities and cash. The involvement of the bank has not been definitely ascertained but has been variously estimated at upwards of one million dollars.

Spurgin, Don Bonark, chief investigator for the state's attorney, believes may attempt to go abroad and he has warned all ships, scheduled to sail from Canada, by wireless, to be on the lookout.

It developed today that Mrs. Spurgin, the banker's wife, and daughter, Vivian, 21 years old, had fled by motor from Chicago. With $300 they drove to Detroit where they were traced. It had been supposed Mrs. Spurgin had gone to her mother in law, Mrs. M. H. Hylton, in Detroit. Mrs. Spurgin, according to Hylton, before she fled, confessed to her wife that her affairs at the bank were involved and that there was an engagement with a woman.

THREE AGED KANSAS MEN RIDING THEIR HOBBIES

One Writes and Prints Book, Another Collects Bugs and Third Carves Stone

TOPICKA, Kan. (AP)—The vacation period of life-years well along, to work the horizon—has brought pleasant occupations to three aged Kansans men. Having retired from active pursuits, each today is following the bent of his inclinations and declares he is enjoying his pastime immensely—one writing and printing a book, another collecting insects, and the third as a sculptor of stone.

Dr. A. N. See, 80, a retired Methodist preacher who with his wife lives in the Methodist home for the aged in Topeka, has just completed a history of the Northwest Kansas confederate. He not only gathered the historical data and wrote the manuscript for a 200 page book, but also printed the pages on a little hand press and bound the volumes. Dr. See was a pioneer settler in the big Northwest Kansas conference and later for many years was superintendent of the district.

Karl Stecher, 90, of Wichita, retired and collector, chose to pursue what he claims always has been his hobby—collecting insects. An extensive collection of caterpillars, gathered and mounted by Mr. Stecher, recently was displayed at the show window of a Wichita bank. It includes specimens obtained by him on his travels through six countries—Switzerland, France, Italy, Turkey, Canada and the United States. Mr. Stecher was born in Oberlin, Germany. He gained most of his education in Paris, where he resided 20 years, making art his specialty. His collection is confined largely to species of native in the various countries he has visited, including one of Mr. Diane and several of New York. By his brush he gained considerable recognition both in Europe and America. He still paints, having several canvases under way at present. Several of his paintings are dated 1920. Mr. Stecher came to America 45 years ago.

Having made a comfortable fortune farming since he came to this country with his father 56 years ago from his native Belgium, Charles DeLoeve, 80, long-time lumber dealer on the town that produced Jesse Willard—votes much of his time to sculpturing and making unique stone decorations for his home and lawn. Some of these which include a large stone gate arch, a decorative wall, a huge basin arched mounting a stone basin ten feet in diameter. Before of mosaic design on various colored stones set in concrete and decorated with the sculptor's chisel. The decorative wall is 127 feet long and filled with more than 200 kinds of rocks.

"In fact the most difficult job of all was the gathering of the many kinds of stones," said Mr. DeLoeve. "I have been gathering them now for 25 years. Most of them came from within 25 miles of my home, but some came from Colorado, numerous other states and even from Belgium."

In the year Mr. DeLoeve carried out a design common to Belgium. His father was a stone mason and before they came to America they created numerous decorative stone structures, such as arches, public park fountains, crosses, fish ponds, well houses and stone designs on buildings. The gate consists of two pillars a foot square, surmounted by an arch of solid stone, the large keystone being carved to resemble a grotesque skull. In his yard stands a stone edifice seven feet high, the terminals of the standard and the cross-stair being rounded to resemble a gigantic fleur-de-lis. He also has constructed a stone-well house of unique design, ten feet in height, the top of which resembles a Chinese temple with overhanging eaves. In each of the four well house pillars he has incised a glass beer bottle. "They will be considered real relics in a few years," remarked the farmer-sculptor.

SANDPOINT EDUCATOR ON VARSITY FACULTY

J. Stanton McLaughlin Appointed Instructor in English at State Institution

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—J. Stanton McLaughlin of Sandpoint has been appointed instructor in English at the University of Idaho, to take up his duties in September, according to announcement by President A. H. Upham.

Mr. McLaughlin is a graduate of Oberlin college and this summer is at Oberlin working for a master's degree which, it is expected, will be conferred this fall. He is a graduate of Sandpoint high school and has had two years of teaching experience in that school. He attended the University of Idaho, 1916-18, before going to Oberlin.

OVER INDULGENCE

It was a slowly but kind-hearted household when Mr. McLaughlin's birthday present was given. "What shall I give the baby for his birthday present?" asked Mr. McLaughlin. "Oh," returned Pa, not bothering to take his feet from the dinner table, "we might wash the window and let him see the street car go by."

BROADWAY'S OLD TIMERS MOURN REGENT CHANGES

Habitués of Famous District Bewail Passage of Good-Fellowship

NEW YORK, (AP)—The abolitionist soul who does his bit toward the settlement of world problems by writing letters to newspapers has been regaling New York editors with observations on changes that recent years have wrought with Broadway and life along that thoroughfare.

Regard, he says, how the movie shows have shoved articulate actors into the side street. See what has become of the famous old restaurants, the tables under the awnings, the shoe shops and drug stores have taken their places. The table d'hotel resorts where dinner and laughter and liquor kept patrons happily ensconced around the tables until bedtime are now closing at 10 o'clock, and even earlier. The good old crowds have vanished, he writes. Diners cease to regarding eating as a duty. And it used to be an experience, not without an occasional thrill.

One hotel has done away with its jolly hunting room where the boys used to get together, and the spaces has been turned to bourgeoisie merchants. And those villa-club houses were banquets rolled themselves in huge white spreads and fringed over-jay breakfasts are now admitting women to their tables. The midnight shows have closed, and the electric signs lure one only to a white goods sale, cosmetics, a movie show or chewing gum.

And the clubs—oh, how they have changed! The cafe is deserted, the wags have forgotten how to jest and make merry. The stewards say they have as many dinners as before, but only because men want company at dinner. Even the new night time traffic regulations in the theater district together with help bring about a fair and proper municipal regulation of the district which will not be detrimental to business interests, the life and happiness of the New Yorker and the visitor and to perpetuate the name and fame of the world's greatest money-spending center. Their organization was incorporated as the Heat of New York Business Men's association, and includes those whose interests are embraced in the district between Thirty-fourth and Fifty-ninth streets and from Madison to Eighth avenues.

The First National Bank of Twin Falls

The FEDERAL RESERVE BANK serving this district has announced a 1-2 per cent reduction in its discount rate. A reduction in rates always precedes a general improvement in the money situation. The effects of this move will not be felt locally for some time, until bank deposits start upward again. This adjustment period is drawing to a close although there are many needed changes to take place before stability can be assured. The change in rate will tend to hasten this improvement.

EXCHANGE RATE IS TOO FAVORABLE FOR SWISS

Tourists Pass Up Alpine Resorts and Go Where Their Money Buys More

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—Switzerland has reached the acute stage of economic stringency resulting from a too-favorable rate of exchange.

Tourists who usually visit Switzerland during the summer are going to France and Italy en masse.

The crisis arises not only in the absence of tourist trade but in industrial stagnation, a good many workers being already out of employment.

A few weeks ago it looked as if the delegations to the second assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva, 5, would find difficulty in getting lodgings here, hotel keepers hesitating to reserve apartments for them because it would require them to refuse tourists at the height of the season.

It now appears that the hotels will welcome the league delegations unless there is an unexpectedly radical change in the travel situation.

RAILWAY DETERIORATION IS COSTLY TO RUSSIANS

North Seeks Train Abroad while South Tries to Export It

WARSAW, (AP)—Russia's transportation difficulties, because of the general deterioration of the railroads under the Bolshevik regime, according to Moscow reports, have brought about an extraordinary situation.

The railroad situation is said to be particularly bad in central Russia and only recently it was reported that the service between Moscow and Kiev had been reduced to one train a week for freight and passengers.

Russia's metal production is reported to have reached but 10 per cent of the pre-war figures, the coal production about 20 per cent and the oil production 40 per cent.

BOXING ARENA SERVES AS PLACE OF WORSHIP

NEW YORK, (AP)—A boxing arena in Seacliff, Rockaway, Long Island, is serving as a place of worship for thousands of Catholic summer vacationists.

The Rev. Joseph B. Brady, pastor of the parish, obtained permission to use the arena when boxing matches in the summer colony numbered more than 15,000.

And now, after the fistie encounters of the week days, the races are taken from the ring and an altar placed in the middle of the fenced arena.

WORK OF ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION WORLDWIDE

Closes Participation in War Time Emergency Relief with $1,000,000 Gift to European Children

NEW YORK, (AP)—A review of the work of the Rockefeller foundation in 1920, read public today, showed that the organization extended its activities to almost every part of the world.

The foundation brought to a close its participation in war-time emergency relief by giving a million dollars to European children.

A total of three million dollars has been voted to four of the most strategically situated schools in Canada, to insure proper distribution of the 300 physicians which it is estimated the dominion needs each year.

Jack Dempsey's brother comes forward with a lot of defensive material for the champion who is being much used in the east at present.

The brother tells the world Big Jack is the victim of circumstances and not his own vicious inclinations or misadventures.

Anyway the courts of the east want to know how many places of residence the champion knuckle artist claims, since he seems to be dodging taxes in this, that and the other place.

OCEAN LINER IS SWEEPED BY FLAME

Fire Breaks Out on Mauretania Lying at Dock in Southampton

LONDON, (AP)—Fire, which it was feared would prove of a serious nature, broke out on the Cunard liner Mauretania as she was lying at her dock in Southampton this afternoon.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Officials of the Cunard line first learned from press dispatches of the fire which broke out today aboard the Mauretania at Southampton.

The vessel left here July 15, arriving in England on the 25th. She is serving as a transport during the war, carrying in addition to thousands of Canadian troops more than 30,000 American soldiers.

In addition 1,163 Red Cross nurses are on duty with U. S. Public Health Service, largely in connection with the care of disabled veterans of the World War.

LINNEVILLE, Ala.

The East City Company has begun this town. It will soon move into a new home which is a real community home, almost everybody in this town of 1,623 inhabitants having had a part in building it. The house is being constructed on a concrete floor where a hotel once stood, from materials donated by various firms and with labor furnished by the teachers and the boys of the high school. This chapter maintains a loan closet and has a story hour for children, and all of its services is expected to be made more accessible to the public who sit into the new building.

DES MOINES ONLY CITY TO BUILD OBSERVATORY

Iowa Municipality Achieves Distinction in Aid to the Star Gazers

DES MOINES, Ia., (AP)—The only municipal observatory in the world, according to Dean Daniel W. Morehouse of Drake university, its chief promoter, will be opened to the public here on August 1. The city council voted the funds for its erection.

Dean Morehouse was led to work for the public observatory by his experience as head of the department of astronomy at the local university for 20 years, in which he came to the conviction that the great majority of newspaper readers are interested in astronomical phenomena. They desire information in this field upon which they can depend and which will give them a wider knowledge and will be of real benefit in helping them to understand the world in the realm of the oldest and grandest of the sciences, "the dean says."

The observatory building is to be equipped with a fine Dutch equatorial telescope. It is to be under the control of the university and open to the public at least three times a week, and at any other time when occasion may warrant.

"The city of Des Moines has erected one of the most beautiful observatories in the loveliest public park to be found in the entire Missouri valley," said Dean Morehouse. "I know of no other city in the world that can boast of such an institution. There are a few observatories supported by municipal universities and therefore open to the public, but I know of no one that is supported directly by the municipality."

A curious insect of the Malay Peninsula was recently discovered by a member of the London Zoological society. It is called the lantern-fly, and is remarkable for its peculiar legs, made by a curious projection on the front of its head, a kind of crooked nose which, when bent back under the abdomen and suddenly released, sends the insect flying.

ROAD BUILDING BIDS REJECTED BY COMMISSION

District Board Regards Five
Out of Seven Proposals for Construction Too High

This afternoon members of the Twin Falls highway district board are gathered together for further consideration of certain proposals submitted to cover construction of the road in the Twin Falls district. The road stretches in question are along Addison avenue and in the vicinity of Kimberly. In all the districts is slightly more than seven miles.

The bids were received, opened and tabulated on Saturday, seven contractors and concerns submitting proposals of various sizes. The amounts range from $91,116.50 to $120,910. The low bid was submitted by C. H. Mull of Twin Falls, the high by H. G. Gilkerson of Salt Lake.

The board on Saturday decided to reject all proposals submitted except those of Mull and the Hitecke Construction company, the two lowest. The others were rejected on the ground that they were too high. In addition the proposals of Whitney and Murphy were turned down because they were accompanied by bonds instead of certified checks.

The total bids on both proposals are:

- C. H. Mull, Twin Falls, $91,116.50.
- Hitecke Construction company, Twin Falls, $93,340.68.
- Warren Construction company, Post land, $102,229.75.
- D. Murphy, Boise, $104,363.30.
- Glavin & Shafer, Pocatello, $110,196.38.
- C. H. Whitney, Twin Falls, $113,094.60.
- H. G. Gilkerson, Salt Lake, $120,910.
- By single units the bids are:
- C. H. Mull, Addison avenue unit, $40,130; Kimberly district roads, $50,986.
- Hitecke Construction company, Addison avenue unit, $40,747.38; Kimberly district roads, $52,593.30.
- Warren Construction company, Addison avenue unit, $48,000; Kimberly district roads, $45,329.75.
- D. P. Murphy, Addison avenue unit, $44,975.40; Kimberly district roads, $59,450.
- Glavin & Shafer, Addison avenue unit, $40,204.36; Kimberly district roads, $69,100.60.
- C. H. Whitney, Addison avenue unit, $40,867.73; Kimberly district roads, $69,900.
- H. G. Gilkerson, Addison avenue unit, $45,530; Kimberly district roads, $74,810.

LOWER FREIGHT RATE ASKED ON IRON ORE SHIPMENT
CHICAGO, (AP)—The Interstate commerce commission opened a hearing here today on the petition for lower freight rates on iron ore, filed by the Atlantic Mining company and eighty other concerns against the Chicago and Northwestern railroad and eight other lines.

The present rate is $1 a ton. Until 1914, the rates ranged from 25 cents to 80 cents a ton.

The complainants allege that due to changed conditions present rates, which they admit were reasonable in 1914, have now become "unreasonably, unjustly discriminatory and unduly preferential in favor of the United States Steel corporation, through its subsidiary, the Oliver Iron Mining company."

Pickpockets in Chicago are protected by a highly organized trust, who hire criminal lawyers by the year to protect them, according to charges made by the chief of detectives. He states stringent laws in the East are driving the crooks to Chicago, and that it is almost impossible to secure conviction of a pickpocket because of the testimony of their lawyers and their "witnesses" and their ability to obtain bonds at once and escape being identified by their victims.

FARMERS AND THRESHERS AGREE ON YEAR'S SCALE

Five Cents For Bushel Fixed as Price for Threshing Small Grain

At a general meeting of district farmers and threshers, held in the city park Saturday evening, with H. E. Powers of the farm bureau, the following prices for threshing were mutually agreed upon:

- Wheat, oats and barley, 5 cents per bushel, farmer to furnish coal and board men. Where threshers furnish extra charge will be 12 cents per bushel.
- Alfalfa, red clover and alfalfa, $1 per bushel, or $8 per hour where yield is too low for thresherman to make wages at $1 per bushel.
- Alfalfa, red clover and alfalfa, $1 per bushel, or $8 per hour where yield is too low for thresherman to make wages at $1 per bushel.
- Engine men $3 per day was voted down by the threshermen, payment on an ability scale being deemed preferable. Spikemen are to be paid at a rate of $2.50 per day of 10 hours.

signed before the grand jury last fall by Edin Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson.

Information in the hands of Assistant State's Attorney George Gorman last week New York gambler paid $100,000 for the papers soon after they were stolen from the state attorney's files.

Another Paper Missing

Another development of today was the discovery that a signed statement made by Williams in the office of Alfred Austrian, attorney for the White Sox, has disappeared from Austrian's files. This statement, which was made public by Austrian, whom Williams went before the grand jury, the ball player detailed the ramifications of the alleged plot to lure the 1910 world's series.

Gambler Holds Sack

Reports being investigated by the state's attorney include one that the New York gambler who is said to have purchased the stolen evidence, intended to sell it to a New York newspaper when he found there were no particularly damaging references to himself. The newspaper declined to buy and efforts of the disappointed gambler to recover his $100,000 have so far been unsuccessful.

State's Attorney Gorman is preparing to lay evidence in connection with the theft of the records before the grand jury.

GROPING IN THE DARK
TIME was when the purchase of advertising space was a "blind groping in the dark." Advertisers had no means of checking a publisher's statement of circulation and often these figures were unreliable. In six years the Audit Bureau of Circulations has solved this perplexing problem. By a systematic analysis of distribution and methods, this organization is able to supply just the data an advertiser needs. The darkness is dispelled and the bright light of verified facts takes its place. Space buyers no longer find it necessary to grope in the dark. There are no dark spots in the NEWS' circulation. Our records are audited by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

MRS. BERGDOLL'S BRIDE STORY

While anything Mrs. Bergdoll says is to be regarded with suspicion, the direct statement of the mother of the convicted slacker that she gave $5,000 to an officer of the United States army, for use among the "higher ups"
to obtain her son's release, makes imperative a searching inquiry into this new angle of the case.

The officer whose name is mentioned in Mrs. Berg-doll's testimony before the house investigating committee was one of Berg-doll's counsel in the court martial proceedings. In this capacity he was barred under the law from receiving any money for his services. According to Mrs. Bergdoll's declared impression, the money was to go eventually to a member of the court martial.

Bergdoll was convicted, but the circumstances surrounding his temporary release, which he made a permanent one through the stupidity or connivance of those who were supposed to be his guards, or of their superiors, have never been explained. High officials of the war department in the previous administration and officers of the army were astounded in playing the popular pastime known as "passing the buck"
when questioned regarding their connection with the disgraceful affair.

Through whose influence was Berg-doll allowed to leave Governor's Island to hunt the mysterious pot of gold buried in the mountains of Maryland or West Virginia? On this point nobody is any wiser than when the official inquiry began. The investigators have been blocked at every turn. If Mrs.
Bergdoll is telling the truth, the scandal taken on even a slacker has than appeared at first. Something worse than carelessness has been at work.

Mrs. Bergdoll says she was "tortured into believing" that, unless the "higher ups" were paid her son would be shot and that under this stress of mind she gave the bribe. As a plea for sympathy this comes too late. It should have been presented at the time of her own trial which resulted in her conviction. But as a possible indication of how Bergdoll's escape was facilitated the statement is important and should be followed up without delay.

THE "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

There is much discussion of the bill proposing to make "The Star Spangled Banner" the national anthem. Much of the opinion voiced on the subject is beside itself for while the poem is not officially the national anthem it is so in practice. Whether it is made so by official enactment will have much effect on its use. The objection to it is based on the fact that it was inspired by a battle with our late associate in war.

Great productions are usually the result of some stress of spirit. When Francis Scott Key penned the words of the song we may easily imagine that he was anxious as to the outcome of the fight. He was a prisoner but in heart he was elsewhere and he wanted to know whether the flag was still there. That is the thought of every patriot in a crisis. Those who would abandon it because they fear it hurts
the feelings of the British probably are far more worried about the matter than the British themselves. Because we are now on friendly terms with our enemy of 1812-14 is no reason why we should surrender any of our individuality as a nation or any of the patriotic productions that recall events in our national history. In fact, the plea for the abandonment of "The Star Spangled Banner" because of consideration for the British is silly. It is to be hoped that we are not sufficiently Angli-phobic to sink our history in oblivion because it affects the English. The latter would despise us were we so foolish.

There are valid objections against it,
however. It is of lipperty-slipperty meter and therefore difficult to sing.
As ideal anthems would be available
equally for vocal or instrumental use.
Yet to get those conditions along with words that appeal and a pleasing air involves many difficulties. The fact that the air was written for a drinking song is anathema to some, yet it is a trivial objection. "Origin is not important if the air is good.
Despite the faults the song has,
doubtless it will do until we get a better one and such things are not produced to offer. Whether congress puts the official stamp on it, it will remain the anthem in practice and the British will have to stand it. Likewise those Americans who fear lest we hurt the British feelings.

A TRIBUTE TO THE SCOUT
To be sure, the home and the school for the most part are to be depended upon to train the young boys of the country into citizenship, citizenship
which embraces in its practical creed
the duty of consistent, scrupulous lawfulness. There are some other organizations, however, which supplement in a valuable way the efforts of the parents and teachers in teaching the duty of respecting and obeying the laws of the city, state and nation.

A few days ago a New York judge was asked some questions about Boy Scouts. He said: "During my six years as a police judge I have never had a Boy Scout come before me as a defendant." There is something to think about.

Boy Scouts do not get into court because they do not give in their behavior the occasion for officers to arrest them or people to complain against them. The secret is the spirit of the Scout training; there is discipline;
there is education about obligations;
there is inspiration to be manly and brave; there is loyalty taught, loyalty to law and order. The Boy Scout is so busy doing the serviceable, the helpful, the orderly, the lawful thing that he doesn't have time to get into trouble by breaking the ordinance and the laws.

European delegates attending the Washington conference understand, of course, that all guns must be checked
at the door.

A western newspaper boasts a paragrapher who has not yet remarked that Chief Justice Taft will add weight to the bench.

Secretary Hoover says that working and saving will restore prosperity. But both are so commonplace and unattractive.

It seems to slimmer down to the fact that "Lobine, Trotsky and their idea won't work.

Modern fashions for women are a sort of take off on the old ones.

MINERAL PRODUCTION OF ALASKA SHOWS INCREASE
Figures on Output Give Total of $23-303,000, Making Gain of More Than $3,500,000 for Year

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Alaskan mineral production for 1920 amounting to $21,793,000, showed an advance of more than $3,200,000 as compared with 1919, according to a summary issued last night by the geological survey.

The gain in 1920, it said, was due entirely to the increase in the copper output which advanced from $8,753,000
in 1919, to $12,900,000, although only eight copper mines were operated in Alaska in 1920 as against 11 in 1919.
Gold production, however, fell off by more than one million dollars.

MINERAL PRODUCTION IN ALASKA, during 1920 was given as follows: Gold $8-265,000; copper $12,900,000; silver $1-209,000; coal $15,000,000; tin $160,000;
lead $140,000; platinum minerals, $160,000; and petroleum, marble, gypsum and such minerals, $250,000. The value of the total mineral output of the territory during 40 years of mining is $401,474,750, the survey said.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT OF
BISON BRINGS PROBLEM
TO YELLOWSTONE PARK

More Than 500 Animals are Driven from Hills in Spectacular
"Buffalo Run" to Show Officials Seriousness of Situation
Resulting from Increase in Herds

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. (AP)—
The problem of the buffalo has reversed itself.
A few years ago the monarch of the plains was chief figure in the drama of a dying species. The problem today is how to feed and take care of the rapidly multiplying herd.

Yellowstone provides a huge hay ranch for the sole purpose of feeding the buffalo when winter snows have covered the grazing pastures. But so rapidly is the park herd growing that this ranch will soon provide insufficient food.

This ranch is now being taken back to Washington by Edward C.
Finney, first assistant secretary of the interior, under whose supervision come the national parks. Mr. Finney has just ended a tour of inspection here,

accompanied by Park Superintendent Horace Albright. To show him the growth of the herd a "buffalo run"
was arranged and in a spectacular stampede more than 500 animals were driven down from hill and plateau.

There is still another problem.
About 100 young buffalo have made their appearance this year and most of them are bulls. Now bulls are not as popular as cows, and yet, under the present laws, they may not be killed.

Furthermore park officials already have almost run out of places to give them to.

So the secretary has somewhat of a
"pipe is pipe" problem on his hands.

UNRATIFIED TREATIES
SHED LIGHT ON PLIGHT
OF CALIFORNIA INDIAN

Inoperative Agreements Bear Testimony of White Man's Greed Bearing Fruit in Virtual Extinction of Aboriginal Tribes Numbered at 260,000 Souls in 1800

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Existence
of a group of 18 unratified and inoper-ative treaties in the archives of the senate of the United States, and the virtual wiping out of the Indian population of California, estimated at 260-000 in 1800, would appear to the uninformed to have little or no connection.

That the report of the investigating committee of the California State Board of Health, made public recently, established a very close connection.

The unratified treaties explain why Legis. a Digger Indian agitator, succeeded in keeping investigators out of the Big Valley region of Modoc county, stirring up old hatred there that must have been as great as the hatreds of the old massacre days. They explain also why a great number of the 15,000 Indians remaining are compelled to live on sterile lava beds in the northeastern corner of the state, where their horses and cattle drop through great jagged crevices, never to be seen again, and where they are trying with poor success to wring a living from the grudging land.

The treaties drawn up between May 31, 1851, and January 6, 1852, by a special commission of the United States government and the eighteen Indian groups in California, were designed to guarantee to the red man in perpetuity
his hunting and fishing places in return for certain land concessions. It was believed that the senate was favorable to them until it was memorialized
by the California senate in 1852 to oppose them, and certain powerful land interests in California successfully opposed them.

Then, the Indian lands were surveyed and opened to settlement by the whites,
and gradually the red men were banished onto the lava beds of the Lost Creek district of Shasta county, the rock-ribbed expanses of the Big Valley and the sterile strip that extends from above Fort Bidwell in northern Modoc to below the Lassen county line. There was no migration to find better conditions elsewhere, for to the Indian understanding there is no land better than the homeland, and his by bit
the Indians were compelled to loosen their grip on the thriving Pit River valley and the other friendly camping spots.
They moved up on the lava beds and the lava rock country where they could still see the old streams and the old peaks. This passion for the land of their forefathers constitutes one of the principal reasons, according to the state report, why the Indian population fell from 100,000 at the time the treaties were negotiated, to the 15,000 of today.

Under the Dawes act of 1887 the government sought to correct the abuses that such conditions as the un-ratified treaties had brought about,
and allot to each worthy Indian an adequate piece of workable land. But the operation of the law was so faulty,

it was said that many Indians did not accept the allotments, believing the land given them was absolutely worthless.

So thoroughly has the California Indian had to depend on the white man
for his necessities and for the wherewithal with which to keep alive that he has virtually forgotten the religious or tribal ceremonies which were founded on or commensurate of his prosperity. With all their poverty and hardship, however, the Indian pride remains with the "fillesmen still, particularly in reference to the white man.
They will starve to death if they have been refused aid by those who are supposed to aid them. They will rarely repeat a request for food or other relief.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT TO OPEN FIELD STATION FOR SPUDS

Caldwell is to be Temporary Headquarters of Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates to Assist Growers in Marketing Their Crops to the Best Possible Advantage

A temporary field station of the bureau of markets and crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, will again be opened at Caldwell, Idaho, August 1 to assist potato growers in marketing their crops. Homer A. Harris will be in charge of the office, and market reports on loadings, shipments and prices at shipping points and in the principal distributing markets will be issued daily until September 15 when the office will then be moved to Idaho Falls.

"The daily market news reports of the United States bureau of markets and crop estimates are of value in many ways. The buyer shipping organization, as well as the grower shipping his own stock, follow the shipments from Idaho as well as competing sections so as to forecast the supplies on the market. They follow the destinations and diversions of Idaho shipments to see that they do not ship to a market or section of the country already or about to be oversupplied. They follow the shipping point information to keep posted on prices paid in their own and in competing sections. They follow the prices in the markets to determine where to send their shipments for the best returns and to check upon their sales."

Selling Locally.

"The grower who does not ship but sells locally depends on these daily reports to keep posted on local prices and the conditions of the markets in general, say specialists of the department of agriculture. Especially is this true if he is in a remote district where the local market is not well served. The grower that consigs through a local agency uses the reports to check up on his final return. A feature of the reports that was eagerly awaited by both grower and shipper last year was the monthly estimates of production. These were prepared by the bureau of crop estimates and transmitted over leased wires after release for the information of growers and shippers.

"The statement is sometimes made that the dealer receives more benefit than the grower from the market reports. If this is true it is because the dealer makes more use of the market news. The grower who makes a careful study of the reports, noting the balance between supply and demand in relation to prices will have at all times a comprehensive picture of the prevailing marketing conditions.

It is pointed out that during the 1920 early Idaho potato season some 1200 carloads of potatoes were shipped to 146 towns and cities in 21 states. More than one-half of the shipments went to Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. The states west of the Rocky mountains used 143 carloads, while the remainder of the shipments went to the Mississippi valley.

The majority of the early potatoes in Idaho are grown in Canyon county, in the valleys of the Boise and Snake rivers, 2300 to 3500 feet above sea level. A few of the earliest potatoes are grown at Mountain Home. Other shipping points outside Canyon county are Boise, Meridian, Emmett, New Plymouth and Payette. The principal shipping points in Canyon county are Caldwell, Nampa, Wilder, Parma, Notus, Molta and Hinton.

Bringing to Maturity.

The chief problem of the growers in this section is to bring the crop to maturity just about the time that the southern and middle western markets are bare of home-grown potatoes and to market their crop before the early of the late sections begin to ship in quantity. This period is roughly between July 15 and September 1. Because of the difficulty of maturing the crop in this section, it is necessary for Idaho stock to be of equal quality to sell in competition with that of the Kaw valley and Minnesota sections have an immense advantage in cheaper freight rates and it is necessary that Idaho stock show superior quality and condition as compared with these sections to sell at a price sufficiently higher to absorb the difference in freight rates. This can only be done by shipping stock conforming strictly to grade requirements.

It is not necessary to point out the desirability of planting only high grade seed. There were numerous objectionable scattered throughout the district last year in fields showing true strains and disease caused by planting seed of doubtful quality, culls or table stock.

The reports can be had by anyone upon request of Homer A. Harris, Caldwell, Idaho.

man depending on his own crop and digging crowd to lead the crop. This would effect a saving in demurrage charges and by the reduction of time in loading, increase the efficiency of the cars available. Co-operation in loading of cars would reduce the expenses of the local buyers and enable them to pay higher prices on track.

Strict Inspection.

"Continuation of the present strict grading and inspection is necessary to the future success of the crop. The shipments from this section go into competition chiefly with stock from California, New Valley, Kansas, and Minnesota. California stock is of high quality and carefully graded and it is necessary for Idaho stock to be of equal quality to sell in competition with that of the Kaw valley and Minnesota sections have an immense advantage in cheaper freight rates and it is necessary that Idaho stock show superior quality and condition as compared with these sections to sell at a price sufficiently higher to absorb the difference in freight rates. This can only be done by shipping stock conforming strictly to grade requirements.

It is not necessary to point out the desirability of planting only high grade seed. There were numerous objectionable scattered throughout the district last year in fields showing true strains and disease caused by planting seed of doubtful quality, culls or table stock.

The reports can be had by anyone upon request of Homer A. Harris, Caldwell, Idaho.
