

MUTINIES CAUSE GENERAL ALARM ALONG YANGTZE

Menaced Communities Adopt Own Defense Measures while Government at Peking 'Deliberates on Policy'

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Following upon outbreaks of mutinous soldiers in which several hundred Chinese were killed, fighting, with millions was destroyed and large portions of two important cities were burned, a wave of general alarm spread swiftly through all the length of the great Yangtze valley in the month of June, and with it a host of various kinds were being discussed at Peking, communities along the Yangtze were adopting measures to defend themselves.

More or less unrelated to sinister political conflicts that were brewing in widely separated parts of China the first detection of Chinese troops took place in the province of Anhui, at Ichang, a city of about 40,000 inhabitants located a thousand miles from the coast. Six months before, in November last, the Ichang garrison mutinied and after an attack on the city in which about 60 Chinese were killed the soldiers looted a part of the city and burned down portions of it.

Loot and Burn City
In the second outbreak, which began on the night of June 4, more than a hundred Chinese were killed by the soldiers, virtually every Chinese home had been looted and a determined effort was made to destroy the city. The looting and burning of foreign business establishments were looted and burned and an attack was made upon the residence of the Japanese consul.

The outbreak of last November developed, according to reports, because the soldiers had been unpaid for a period of months. Reports from up the Yangtze say that the recent uprisings grew out of conflicts between opium raiders and soldiers who have been trafficking in the drug.

Two American companies that suffered loss in the recent uprising are the Standard Oil company, whose agencies were looted, and the Robert Dollar company, whose offices were wrecked after they had been looted. All the government offices of the port were sacked and the buildings occupied by the Ichang branch of the Bank of China and Young Brothers Banking corporation were burned after they had been looted. It was estimated that property losses will run considerably over $2,000,000.

Gunsboats Find Quiet
Though American, British and Japanese gunsboats were dispatched to Ichang in the last reports of the outbreak were received, it was reported that there was little for them to do after they arrived, as the disturbances had then subsided. So far as is known none of the fifty foreign residents of Ichang suffered injury.

The second mutiny of Hupuh troops followed closely upon that at Ichang and was also an act of the mutiny at Wuchang, capital of the province, which is located directly across the Yangtze from the important city of Hankow. Orders for the disbandment of the Wuchang garrison had been issued by Wang Chuan-yuan, military governor of the province, are said to have displeased the soldiers and this led to the outbreak.

Though Hankow across the river has a large foreign population with many foreign commercial interests, there is little to no foreign activity in Wuchang. In the uprising at Wuchang mint was wrecked and looted of everything it contained, including a large number of gold and silver bars, but no attacks were made upon the quarters of the military governor. Hundreds of shops and homes were stripped and a considerable portion of the city was swept in the numerous fires that were started.

Depot Mutinies
On the second day after the outbreak when a semblance of order had been restored in Wuchang, Chinese authorities set about dispersing troops that had been active in the mutiny by loading them onto trains and sending them to distant points from the city. The authorities deemed it the part of wisdom to permit the soldiers to take their loot with them. The first train load, however, proceeded only to Shoukan, a short distance north of Hankow. After it had been sidetracked at this point a battery of machine guns manned by forces that had been encamped along the tracks sprayed the coaches with fire and it is thought that every soldier on the train was killed. According to reports of the incident a number of soldiers who sought to escape from the coaches were bayoneted or shot down. It is estimated that 350 were killed. Another trainload of troops sent out of Wuchang was halted at Sinyangchow in Honan and the soldiers were stripped of all the booty they had carried away from Wuchang by Honan troops.

On the day after the Wuchang uprising, by orders of the military governor, a force of 12,000 was dispatched to the troops in Hankow and they were placated with gifts and concessions that were granted to them.

Alarm Spreads Quickly
The alarm that was felt in Hankow quickly spread to Nanjing, capital of Kiangsu province, and even to Shanghai, as it was reported that back pay due to the Kiangsu troops amounted to $2,000,000 and that they were showing signs of unrest.

Though no fears were entertained of disturbances at Shanghai a significant incident that followed the outbreak in the Yangtze valley was a call by sed by the French Consul-General at Shanghai announcing that the Volunteer Corps of the French Concession, which has been inactive since before the war, would be reorganized. In calling for volunteers A. Wilden, the consul general, said that the corps would function like the Shanghai Volunteer corps of the International Settlement of Shanghai and would supplement the police department of the French Concession.

BERLIN'S "STREET OF MANY FAKIRS" DOOMED

Popular Protest Centers on Varied and Questionable Commerce and Demands Clean Up

BERLIN, (AP)—"The Street of Many Fakirs"—the section of the Friedrichstrasse between Unter den Linden and Koch streets—may soon lose the right to its exotic title, won by virtue of the varied and questionable commerce which thrives upon its sidewalks and crossings, for an agitation has been started to "clean it up."

Every article from jumping jacks to fine Oriental rugs may be purchased from the vendors who infest the street, eternally crying their wares. The chief complaint against the character of the street, however, is that thieves use it continually as a clearing place to market their "bauls." Not infrequently a ragged, unkempt man will offer most expensive imported fabrics for nothing, in old boot holes, at ridiculous figures. Much of this stuff, the police feel certain, has been stolen, but it is difficult to fix the crime on the street vendor.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR SAYS TROUT IS FINICKY

Advocates Planting of Game Fish in Streams where Diet is Their Mating

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., (AP)—"Thousands of trout are in the wrong 'boarding house,'" declares Professor F. A. Mottowick, of the University of Idaho, who is here trying to figure out a carefully selected diet for each species.

Certain types of trout should be planted in streams where the bugs and insects are to their liking, he believes. And, because they are not so planted there is a waste of thousands of fish each year.

"Trout" are particular regarding what they eat," he says. "If we can select the right place for the right fish there will be a marked decrease in the number of trout that die. My work is to determine just where various varieties of trout should be and this is based on what bugs and insects they are fond of."

LOGS YIELD GAS WHEN COAL SUPPLY DWINDLES

Wood Product Holds Place Won During Emergency Until Price of the Mined Fuel Comes Down

LONDON, (AP)—Gas made from old logs is now being applied successfully to the inhabitants of Steyning in Sussex. Other towns are rapidly following suit. It is claimed that this wood gas has practically the same heating and lighting properties as coal gas and its use means a saving of more than half a dollar per 1000 cubic feet to the consumer.

The Steyning gas works is being threatened with closure owing to the prohibitive price of coal, about five pounds a ton, the combination of wood was resorted to as an experiment with the result that wood gas has been definitely adapted as an illuminant and for power.

GOSSIP NAMES SAITO AS NEXT PREMIER OF JAPAN

Governor-General of Korea is Considered Likely Successor to Hara as Cabinet Head

SEOUL, Korea, (AP)—Admiral Saito, the governor-general of Korea, is talked of here as a likely successor to Premier Hara, as the head of Japan's next cabinet.

Governor Saito is regarded as an adherent of the Selyukal or dominant political party in Japan, and his friends hold that his successful record in Korea make him a fitting candidate.

The police say that conditions are quiet throughout the peninsula. From other sources it is gathered that there is considerable suppressed discontent among Koreans over police methods which are still considered irritating. Many changes have recently been made among the minor officials and it is believed that these changes have been made to soothe popular irritation.

WINDICATES INDUSTRIAL COURT UPON ITS RECORD

Governor Allen Says First 18 Months Trial Proves Value of Institution

TOPEKA, Kan., (AP)—After a year and a half of operation, the future of the Kansas court of industrial relations seems assured, Gov. Henry J. Allen declared in a statement today.

"Each of the twenty-eight orders and judgments of the court rendered thus far has been accepted by both sides of the controversy, excepting the last, which is now pending on appeal before the state supreme court," Governor Allen said. "Employers and employees alike are coming to regard the court as an up-to-date method for settling industrial disputes."

"The result in the coal mining district has been most striking. Under conditions created by the industrial court last year, the miners were enabled to work 30 per cent more than the year before, with the resultant increase in production of fuel for the public and wages to the miners."

"Interest in the Kansas remedy for industrial war is becoming world-wide. The pressing need for similar legislation in other states has become apparent, and many are preparing to follow the lead of Kansas in providing for justice in labor troubles."

You May Think This Was Made in Paris, But It Comes from Germany

Atlantic City, New York, and then to say nothing about Paris, have been setting the fashion for bathing togers. Now comes Germany, with a bathing equipment that outdoes anything Paris, New York or Atlantic City has ever produced. Look at the picture and see for yourself. Of course, the outer part is the costume, which is of fine net lace, is not worn when going in. Rather it acts the part of a mantilla, to be worn before and after. Nevertheless, this "X-ray" garb is some garb.

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—The reply of Haiti to the list of questions regarding the white slave traffic sent to all members of the League was to the effect that such a thing as "white slavery" was unknown in that island, had never existed there and consequently Haitian officials had nothing to offer in reply to the questions.

If you were buying a horse and he was just a horse, you would have to take for granted the things the owner said, and then wait for experience to show if he had spoken the truth.

But, if you bought a horse of blooded stock that had a pedigree, you would not need to take the man's word for it. The pedigree would show his ancestry and race and give you an idea of the animal's capacity for speed and endurance.

It's the same in buying advertising space. Some publications sell "just a horse" and you have to take their circulation statement with a pinch of salt.

THE NEWS is blooded stock. An A. B. C. statement is the pedigree that tells you what to expect in the way of speed and endurance.

SPANIARDS FALL IN TRAP SET BY REBEL MOORS

Lack of Caution on Part of Leaders of Expedition is the Cause Attributed for the Military Disaster

MELLILA, Morocco, (AP)—Personal narratives of participants in the disaster of Mount Abarran and Tossaman indicate that the lack of precaution of the officers in charge of the operation was responsible for much of the damage done to Spanish prestige.

On June 2, according to eye-witnesses, Mount Abarran was occupied by Spanish troops without any organized resistance. It is a position covered with the thickest kind of vegetation among which large numbers of men could find cover. No attempt was made to reconnoiter the ground after the camping place had been chosen but detachments of men were told to lay barbed wire around the camp while all the officers sat down to a meal.

Moors Spring from Bushes.

A short time afterward the surrounding bush appeared absolutely thick with Moors, who opened fire on the group of officers, then penetrated the encampment, where they were joined by the numerous Fifteenth company of native police.

Numerous acts of bravery were done by both Spanish and faithful native troops, but the surprise was so sudden that it was impossible for the garrison to save the guns, which were carried off by the Moors. Then both Spanish and native troops fled precipitately abandoning rifles, bayonets and baggage.

The casualties—comprising killed, wounded and prisoners—numbered over 300 and if the landing detachment of a warship and forces from Ceuta and Mellila had not intervened to support the fleeing garrison, it is possible the Spanish would have lost both Sidi-Dris and Tossaman.

Use Modern Tactics.

The Moors apparently were acting under the guidance of foreign instructors for their tactics were quite modern. Information has since come in that their ranks are strengthened by deserters from both the Spanish and French armies.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars a year later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.—adv.

Handcuffed in "Black Hole" of Prison Ship, Girl Seeks $100 Prize

Handcuffed to a ring bolt on the sliding side of a 'box cell' in the 'Black Hole' of the English convict ship Success, now anchored at New York, Miss Jennie Duffray, an 18-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., school girl, is attempting an endurance test which no other woman has voluntarily undertaken. Many women died in the cell while confined there under sentence for women prisoners outside of Melbourne, Australia. Others went mad or became blind. Miss Duffray, one of the most than one thousand women who volunteered for the test, is trying to remain in the cell 24 hours. If she succeeds she will win $100 offered by the vessel's commander, Capt. Smith, and will donate the money to a younger brother's education. The convict ship Success, which has been exhibited in all parts of the world, is the oldest vessel afloat, having been built in British East India in 1793. She is the last of the dreadful fleet of "Ocean Hell" which carried convicts from England to Australia.

'HITLESS WONDERS' UPSET TALENT WALLOPING PURPLE AND WHITE 5-4 AFTER GAME SEEMS ALL LOST

Elks Have a Long Edge for Five Innings, with Newman Twirling Major League Stuff, but in an Attack Led by Captain Purdy, of the S. A., the Fraters Flop and I. D. S. Pulls Home Winner by a Neck.

SPOTTING the Purple and White four runs to nothing in the first six innings the I. D. S. last night overcame the lead and won out in the initial encounter of the week on Lincoln lot. The final count was 5 field.

Just what influenced it was that flogged rampant Elks, or that brought the litters members of the league to the fore, is a question for open discussion. It might be that "Ois" Neuman, twirling for the catenoid P & W shot his wad in the opening rounds and weakened so much that the Merchants found his right-arm offerings easy of negotiation; it might be the Marshall Brown, flinger for the I. D. S., had more stuff than the opposition could give credit for; it may be that a new fighting spirit was injected into the revamped Merchants; may be that the presence of an ecclesiastical clump on the I. D. S. roster, or a "come forward and bowler" influence, or it might be all of these influences jointly and collectively contributed to the downfall of the Elks, but whatever it was it was sufficient and effective.

Looks Good

"Ois" Neuman looked by a grooving Alexander for five innings and during that period he set back the Merchants with only one hit. He looked good to go the distance, seven innings, at that point, but he did not. "Ois" was forced into extra session, and then lost out. Neuman sort of spooled defeat for himself in the sixth frame after having fanned Kieffer, first man fanning him. Hughes was walked and Selek's single into the right meadow put him down to second, whence he stole over, scoring a minute later on D. Liville's how to centerfield. With Liville and Selek on second, the former having stolen on Patton, Kennedy added a gloomy time to things for the I. D. S. when he made the second out by fanning. But hope springs eternal and Captain Purdy, master of the Salvation Army, strode forth, a mighty cheer burst from the throats of frantic fans rooting for the business folk. The elder had formerly cracked out a hit, but he was choked off with another chap in a double-play engineered by Bob Whitlow, Bill Bailey and Chapple recorder. But this time he delivered in good shape, and, with a ringing two-bagger into right he cleared the paths of all encumbrances. The score was then 4 to 3 for the Elks, who came in smilingly confident of victory in the ultimate.

Beginning the seventh Groe was safe on an error by McGuire and Patton sacrificed him to second. Two successive outs happened then, Neuman rallied to Selek and Hannak giving Kennedy a run for his white ally in center to 4.

Same Old Stuff

"He ain't getting a thing; not a thing," the Elks' batters told each other as they came back to the bench after failing to negotiate Brown's stuff successfully. But the complacent smile was gone, and when the Merchants landed the tying count in, their half of the seventh the confidence announced by the fraters gave way to evidence of disorientation, if you get our meaning.

McGuire started matters wrong for Neuman in the seventh, ringing up a healthy smack to center of right field. The runner stole and Long Brown was out at first base on a chuck by Neuman. Marshall Brown took occasion at this juncture to tune up and help his own game as much as possible. He unceremoniously hit to right that first count 4-1. Kieffer and Hughes could not help any, being easy outs.

With the score all knotted the Elks faced forth to untie the tangle in the extra inning.

"Let's get a few scores!" Clint Evans urged.

"Knock this guy out of the box!" Bill Bailey roared.

"Smatter you fellows; dead!" demanded Captain Patton and he commanded that his merry gents go out the and do bloody mischief.

Starting the Finlay

"The batters' out!" shouted Umpire Gollwitzer, as Clint Evans had missed three. Then Bailey shot a loudly long one into right and Purdy proved that he is just as good a snapper of the ball as he is of sinners. He took in the floating ball with much ease and abandon. Cliff Fir, star twirler of the high school last spring, landed a single to right of centerfield and stole second. "Chapple" Lavender, in a desperately determined effort to bust the ball into the right meadow, fanned.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

LABOR OPPOSES COOLIES COMING

Federation Committee Charges Conspiracy to Lift Barrier at Hawaii

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Efforts to pass legislation permitting the importation of Chinese coolies into Hawaii, is a "conspiracy" that has behind it, their "eventual admission into the United States," the legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor charged in a report made public today.

Representatives of the sugar interests of Hawaii, the report said, have advised sugar men of this country not to interfere with the enactment of a law permitting Chinese coolies into Hawaii.

"It is the catering wedge; if we get them, we will have no trouble to get them into the United States," the report said, was the actual wording of a statement made to sugar men in America.

"Admission under bond of fifty thousand coolies," the report continued, "intended to shackle them to their jobs ostensibly for five years, is one of the greatest legislative crimes of the century."

WHEAT MAKES SLIGHT GAIN

Export Demand Offsets Increased Selling Pressure

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat displayed considerable firmness today owing to group that exporters were buying. Lessening of arrivals here from at Kansas City tended also to favor the bulls. On the other hand, bearish Canadian crop reports attracted some attention. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1/2¢ higher, with September $1.23 1/2 to 1 1/4 and December $1.27 3/4, were followed by numerous fluctuations within the initial limit.

Subsequently, selling pressure increased, and prices underwent a sag, but export demand here and at the seaboard led to a fresh upturn at the last. The close was steady, at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/4¢ higher, with September $1.23 1/2 to 1 1/4 and December $1.26 1/2 to 1 1/4.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ up, including September at $1.58 to $1.54, the market showed slight general gains.

Prospect of showers eased the market later. Prices closed steady, 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ to 7 1/2¢ net lower, with September $1.61 to $1.58 and $1.54.

Oats were governed by the action of other cereals, starting unchanged to 3 1/2¢ higher, September 59 7/8 to 40¢, and then making something of a general advance.

Higher quotations on hops helped to lift provisions.

RETROSPECT AND THE FUTURE

Standing on the site of the old Fort Hall which played a prominent part in the early history of Idaho and which is destined to be lauded with the completion of the American Falls dam...

Americans throughout the nation on this occasion will for the moment turn with the people of Idaho to look back over the path of civilization to the days when Fort Hall marked one of its outposts...

Fort Hall was the beginning; the American Falls dam marks a gigantic step, and thousands of new homes made possible through its building will bring to a fruition the dreams and hopes of those who have gone before.

HE A GOOD SORT

This is the time of year and almost any hour the time of day when every attractive shady nook and lane far from the highways becomes the site of a picnic or lunch party.

Thanks to nature and in some cases to kindhearted owners, these spots are inviting clean, tidy—and so the picnic folk, whether they toddle out of a motor or trolley car, about their pleasure at the discovery and take possession.

You see the point now, you can't see it until you've been there. If nature or some person made the place attractive for you, why not leave it attractive for others who may feel low? In other words, why not clean up, burn up the litter, taking care to extinguish the fire before you leave, or collect the refuse and cart it away with you to a regular dump?

Consideration for others is one of the finest of human assets. "Hid up," as the colloquial goes, "the picnic and BE A GOOD SORT."

A MATTER FOR PRIDE

ALASKA, LOOMES LARGE

Before the end of the present administration at Washington the country is likely to see a great change in the development of Alaska.

Hearings are now being held in congress on a bill that seeks to unify under one commission control of federal property in Alaska, and it is thought the measure will be a potent factor in administering the affairs of the territory.

AN OLD STORY

They have discovered that Holmstrom had a new complaint all in. In China, that's the oldest civilization of any nation with a continuity of history back of it, they tried that foolishness out in the third century and again in the eleventh century.

It didn't work, and the best thought of Chinese statesmen is that China's mass of Mongols learned the lesson well, and that is no far as China is concerned there is no danger of the measure breaking out again—for some more centuries to come, at any rate.

BORAH WOULD POSTPONE ALLIED DEBT REFUNDING

Idaho Senator Proposes Use of Financial Club to Attain Disarmament

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Postponement of allied debt refunding until after the proposed disarmament conference was urged by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho.

If the foreign governments are unable to agree with the United States on a disarmament program, he said, "the American people will be justified in insisting that they promptly meet their debts and interests also."

The debt question, Senator Borah said, "will play an important part, molding the shaping policies, whatever it is mentioned or not."

If the governments are to continue to spend vast sums for armament, it would cause the United States to adopt an entirely different policy in case they fail to agree on disarmament," Senator Borah continued.

France was the "most militaristic" nation at present, Senator Borah said, adding that her army of eight hundred thousand men was excessive.

The leading doctor nation, the senator continued, were amply able to pay the interest, when it was necessary to defer the principal. He cited a recent look by red Britain to Argentina.

MOSCOW CLOSES SUMMER SCHOOL

Enrolled Forces Numbering 131 Scatter to Homes after Six Weeks of Study

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—Small boys and girls on the street corners and by-ways and in the homes of Moscow residents breathed a sigh of relief today as 131 summer school folks, most of them school principals, superintendents and supervisors, returned to disperse following the completion of their six weeks of summer school work.

Twenty-one of these 131 students had, they estimated, a course under Professor J. W. Barton of the department of psychology, which required each of them to test the mentality of eight young boys for juvenile subjects recently.

Professor Barton predicts that the 21 will go back into their own schools, with a desire to test every pupil, if they find any abnormal minds, however, he advises them to keep the information to themselves.

Total enrollment for the summer school was 184, according to announcement by Dean J. F. Messenger. The remaining 60 are completing the nine weeks of work which a new state law requires of applicants for first or second grade certificates.

"While the enrollment may not seem large," said Dean Messenger, "it should be noted that the work offered in the six weeks course is primarily attractive to high school principals, to superintendents, and other administrators. This was the first year in which the university has offered the nine weeks course for applicants for advancement of grades of county certificates."

The state law requiring that high school teachers hold certificates of college or university degree is compelling many teachers to plan for a continuation of their university work.

If these will enter the university in the fall, but more will teach another year, for financial reasons, and will enter the university in the fall of 1922."

Tom Sawyer and d'Artagnan Are Still Favorites

Boston Librarian Says Time-Tested Adventure Tales Hold Their Own

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—The adventures of Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, Tom Sawyer and the other favorites of a half century standing are still eagerly read by the children in spite of the "razz" literature that has swamped the field, Miss Alice I. Hazlitt, supervisor of the children's department in the St. Louis public library, in addressing the fifth-annual institute of librarians held here recently, said the well-thumbed tomes in which a dozen generations had sought guidance as to piratical habits were still read with the growing avidity and concentration that leads not the dinner bowl.

She added that moving pictures had no evil influence on the children's reading; in fact, many children every month were coming to visualize the greatest adventures of all time between the covers of a book.

She advocated a more widespread introduction of the history stories for children and advised that they be taught to read stories and biographies of American life.

SOLDIER-FARMERS HOLD MUCH OF CANADA'S SOIL

Aggregate of Holdings Would Make Giant Farm of Five Million Acres

OTTAWA, Ont., (AP)—If Canada's soldier-farmers were to pool their holdings they would have one giant farm of five million acres, dotted with grain fields, cattle, hogs, patches of fruit trees, also and many study houses and farm buildings.

Population of this one big figurative farm, according to a report on the work of the soldier settlement board, would be more than 120,000, estimating an average family of five to each settler.

The actual number of ex-servicemen who have been placed on land through government aid is 25,449. Short courses have been held in idle months and all phases of mixed farming, scientific dairying and purebred cattle raising given intensively, according to the report.

DIARRHOEA AND CONSTIPATION

IS BABY IMPEDIMENT TO CAREER? NO! SAYS PRIMA DONNA

"Is motherhood an impediment to a successful career as a prima donna opera singer?" This question, which was asked of Mme. Holec Stangley, brought this instant reply: "Certainly not. There is not a career which can compare with the joy of having a baby snuggling in the curve of your arm. It's the one thing on earth worth while. And I think it is every one's moral duty, if they haven't a little one of their own, to contribute in some way to the happiness of little children."

Mme. Stangley further declared that if she had to choose between her profession and the joy of motherhood she would choose the latter without hesitation.

Decision to engage in an investigation of matters connected with the public utilities' hearing of the inventory question was reached last night, and resulted from a prolix discussion of many features connected with the question of alleged prohibitive increase of electric current and power rates throughout the state. Question of what the city intended to do in the matter of adding in carrying on a fight against acceptance of the power company's inventory which shows $22,000,000 as the valuation of the company's property in Idaho, was placed squarely before the council by Asher B. Wilson, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. He stated that in his opinion the city should take a hard line in the fray, expressing the belief that such action means benefit not only to all electric consumers of the state, but particularly to those of the city and Twin Falls districts. Mr. Wilson headed a delegation of business men including C. A. Robinson, A. L. Swain and T. J. Woods. All these gentlemen spoke in favor of the city entering the utilities commission discussion.

Recommendation of Alderman C. H. Krueger, Mayor P. W. McElberts and Assistant City Attorney Benoit were authorized to make a trip to Boise for a complete discussion of the moot matter with members of the public utilities commission and others interested in the various ramifications of the problem now attracting wide attention.
