MEXICANS AGAIN SEEK SOLUTION OF OIL PROBLEM

Washington Sees Desire to Find Basis for Diplomatic Relations with United States in Mexican Congressional Move

DATE FOR CONSIDERATION OF QUESTION ANNOUNCED

Suggestions for Settlement Includes Declaration that Nationalization Measure is Not Retroactive

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Consideration of article 27, of the Mexican constitution, which nationalizes petroleum deposits, will begin in the Mexican congress on next Monday.

The project submitted contained six fundamental points upon which legislation relative to oil might be built and the president expressed the opinion that it might be reduced to only three, one of which would state that article 27 was not retroactive in its effect.

It is understood the liberal-constitutionality will urge co-operation on the part of the socialist-democratic bloc, and, if necessary, will open an indefinite session, which will not be concluded until the work is finished.

WASHINGTON DISMISSES EFFORT TO WIN AMERICAN APPROVAL WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Determination of at least a part of the Mexican congress to institute a new oil law has been filed with the United States.

The proposed legislative declaration that article 27 shall not be construed as retroactive was of peculiar interest here, since it was not the policy of the United States chiefly interested in its suggestion that a treaty of amity and commerce be signed.

PEASANTS RESIST SOVIET'S EFFORT TO LAUNCH FOOD TAX COLLECTION

LONDON, (AP)—All the American prisoners in Moscow and Petrograd will be sent across the Russian border by Monday at the latest, according to a message received here today by Walter L. Brown, European director of the American relief administration, from Leo Kamenoff, chairman of the Russian relief committee.

"All Americans detained in Moscow, Petrograd, in prisons and the camps will be sent across the frontier tomorrow, or by August 8 at the latest. The delay is due to unavoidable formalities connected with granting free passes. The central authorities are unaware of any Americans being interned or in prison in provincial places, but orders have been given for the release of Americans if there are any.

The arrangement for the meeting should be unsatisfactory to Mr. Brown, the message suggests that he "please suggest to M. Litvinoff some other time."

The departure from Russia of American relief workers is expected to end yesterday afternoon. The hospital car operated by the American Red Cross, however, went to the frontier to meet the relief workers.

The beginning of the food tax collection by the Russian soviet authorities was marked today by the execution of a group of wealthy peasants in the Marzopol district of south Russia, who had concealed their grain and were trying to dodge their tax.

TOMATO BLIGHT HITS HARD BLOW THROUGH STATE

Farm Bureau Agent Hears of Widespread Damage to the Promising Industry

That tomato blight is widespread and disastrous in this section this season is information contained in the many statements reaching the office of the local farm bureau from farmers and other growers in country contiguous to this city, says H. E. Powers, farm bureau agent of Twin Falls.

Extensive Condition

"The condition extends far and wide, and is not confined to the Twin Falls district alone," Mr. Powers stated in a News representative today. He says that far and near distress calls are reaching his office, all announcing the existence of some form of disease, bug or blight ravaging tomato plants. Investigation, Mr. Powers states, reveals the fact that the cause of complaint is found in what is designated as the western tomato blight. The disease has for some time caused severe losses to growers and in certain sections has forced them to give up what would otherwise be a very profitable crop. It is apparently confined in distribution to that region of the northwest known locally as the "Inland Empire," according to the local authority, who further speaks as follows on the subject:

Cause of Disease

"The cause of the disease is a species of fungus, a common soil fungus.

This fungus attacks the roots from below the surface of the soil and causes a root rot. It also enters the conductive tissues of the plant, where it spreads and plugs the vessels so that the water supply is prevented from reaching the top and as a result the plant withers.

"As regards control measures little of value can be recommended. There is some hope in combating this disease by the development of resistant strains or races. Not a great deal has, however, been accomplished as yet along this line.

"F. S. Robinson found that by spraying affected plants three or four times with Bordeaux mixture an increased yield of two to two and one-half tons per acre was obtained.

"In the July 28 issue of the Idaho Farmer, E. H. Healy of Parma writes as follows:

Healy's Experience

"I have not had a single failure of a tomato crop in the last 18 years. I do not plant them in paneboard boxes, nor do I grow them in new soil. I simply plant them in the ground and use care in watering the crop.

"If the land is too dry when watered the plants are much more liable to blight than if given a moderate watering in close intervals.

"I also take precaution to make three different plantings at intervals of a week or ten days. In this way there is less danger of a frost catching the whole crop.

"Mrs. Healy believes in thorough cultivation and in keeping the vines pruned back so that the entire growth is given to the tomatoes which are already set on. The ends of the vines which are constantly growing new blossoms are cut back so as to avoid excessive growth and a waste of energy. This, however, is done after the vines have obtained considerable size and a goodly number of tomatoes have formed.

"Although other varieties are grown Mr. Healy feels that the best results have been obtained from the Earlians and Stone varieties.

"The plants are not stacked, but allowed to spread as will upon the ground, so as to make their own shade and protect the fruit from the sun."

MODERATE TEMPERATURES FAVORABLE FOR NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys, Northern Rocky Mountain and Plateau regions: Moderate temperature and generally fair.

Southern Rocky Mountain and Plateau region: Normal temperature and generally fair except for local showers in elevated districts.

TRIANGLE IS DISCLOSED BY YOUNG WOMAN'S SHOT

Miss Stone Learns of Fatal Effect of Her Attack Upon Guy Kinkead

NEW YORK, (AP)—Miss Olivia M. P. Stone, a graduate nurse, formerly of Cincinnati, was told today that she killed Ellis Guy Kinkead, attorney and former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, when she fired six shots into his body near his home in Brooklyn last night.

The young woman was too hysterical last night to be told that Mr. Kinkead was dead and the police told her the bullets she fired had taken effect in his legs. She swooned after the shooting into the arms of a detective who rushed up to disarm her.

Miss Stone, according to the police, admitted the shooting and declared Kinkead was her common law husband and that he had deserted her to marry another woman.

Mr. Kinkead had lived here since 1910 with the former Miss Marie Louise Gormley, of Covington, Ky., with whom he married in Cincinnati.

TWO HARNESS EVENTS TO FEATURE GRAND CIRCUIT

Big Fields Entered for Opening at North Randall Track Next Week

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—Two "great fields" of harness horses will contest for the chief attractions at the Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall opening next Monday. These events are the $10,000 free-for-all trot, which will name the trotting champion of the harness world in the biggest race of the 1921 Grand Circuit, and the $12,000 championship steeple stakes for three-year-old colts and fillies of the trotting species.

Among 28 entries in the free-for-all trot are Periscope, E. Colorado, Greywold, Jennette Rankin, Anita Guy, Arion McKinney, Baron Cegallie, Brusloff, Charley Rex, Comit, Gall Curd, Millie Irwin, Peter Coley, Nedda Walnut, Pisco, and McGregor the Great.

E. Colorado won one division of the Ohio stake with ease from a good field in the opening Grand Circuit meet at North Randall the week of July 4, while Jennette Rankin, during the same meeting, won the Tavern "stake" about as easily. Both repeated their triumphs in stakes at the recent Toledo meeting.

Periscope won the trotting award stakes at the July North Randall meeting, setting a season's mark, and repeated at Toledo, Peter Coley standing second in both events. Greywold won a race at North Randall in July but lost in Toledo.

In the championship steeple stake, Tommy Murphy's entry, Bert Scott and Eunice Bell, are well thought of. Rose Scott was the champion two-year-old of 1920, while Eunice Bell on her racer at North Randall and Toledo this season, looks like a formidable contender.

Other entrants are Equiano, Mingo the Great, Gers, Peter Election, Miss Willoughby and Peter Pilot. Altogether there are some 60 eligibles in this race.

Mildred Smoked Long Ago. Smoking among women started when Sir Walter Raleigh offered the "divine weed" to Queen Elizabeth, but he almost paid the penalty with his life. So very sick did the few whiffs of tobacco make the royal lady that courtiers whispered Master Raleigh had poisoned her, and dark looks were his portion. Her business recovered, however, and took a truly Elizabethan revenge by making the countess of Nottingham and all her maids smoke out a whole pipe among them.

SCORES POLICY OF AMERICANS TOWARD JAPAN

Returned Missionary Says Persistence in Present Attitude Means Continuance of Trouble Cloud in Orient

CHICAGO, (AP)—America's policy toward Japan is one of unfair and un-Christian discrimination, the Rev. Dr. Frank Herron Smith, a Methodist missionary in Japan for 16 years, declared here today as he left to return to the orient.

As long as we persist in our attitude, just that long will there be a dark cloud of possible trouble hanging in the Oriental sky," he added.

"The Japanese have not met a challenge to fight. I was sent to America by our mission and by the Japan Methodist church to tell you that Japan does not want war but a square deal."

Suggests Limited Immigration.
Dr. Smith suggested that the solution of the question might lie in the decisive limitation of all immigration and in requiring all who come to the United States to become truly naturalized, honest, peace-loving citizens.

The missionaries faulted the endorsement of Manchuria and Siberia, a movement which has disturbed American thought.

Christianity Final Remedy.
The final remedy for all friction, Dr. Smith said, will be in Christianizing Japan. He said the way for missionary effort was especially clear there.

Opium Ring Threatens American Consul's Life.
Adams Defies Powerful Interests Back of Illicit Drug Traffic in China

PEKING, (AP)—Courageous action by American Vice Consul Walter A. Adams at Changchi, in Hunan, which resulted in the breaking up of a nest of opium dealers operating under the American flag, caused threats to be made against his life necessitating a guard of American soldiers in the consulate.

Knowing that the highest municipal and government officials were promoting the traffic, Adams went to a subordinate police official and got him to detail a squad to accompany him to the premises, which incidentally were next door to the consulate.

Inconsistency.
As a Christmas present a wife will give her husband a pipe with enough brass trimmings on it to start a foundry. And then she will say that her husband doesn't swear off smoking on New Year's day just because the man next door has decided to swear off.—Arkansas Thomas Out.

ANTLERED HERD FAILS TO HOLD AGAINST BATTERING ATTACKERS ON LEGION TEAM—SCORE IS 7-2

Bailey Starts Pitching for Fraternal Folk but is Driven to the Environs in Less Than One Round, "Ots" Neuman Finishing with Credit for Himself and Mates — Zienke Twirls Well for the Soldiers

WITH Zienke twirling the Legion team last evening defeated "Pat" Patton's herd of Elks, 7 to 2. Three of the Legion's counters came in the first inning with "Bill" Bailey in the box. Bill besought Neuman a tough job when he yielded the box to the first baseman, Ostrander, by the inning with only one run scored during his term in that round. The round is counted officially against Bailey, who left a man on base for Neuman to dispose of.

Kieffer Called In.
The Elks presented a somewhat new, an apparently untried battle line, opening "Sib" Kieffer of the I. D. S. and star shortstop of the legion in at short field. "Sib" proved a tower of strength for the brotherhood, at least in defense, and was a worthy some sort of gent at bat. Zienke had a lot of bother with the star infielder, walking him a brace of times. The first pitch was hit by Kieffer in the lead-off of the Elks' fourth inning.

Following this gratuitous offering Manager Patton, taking advantage of a wide open area between the right and center fielders, slammed the ball into that unattended territory, for three bases, scoring "Kieff." Legals fanned but reached first base on a passed ball and then stole. Patton ribbed home on the battery error. "Bobby" Reed to Ostrander who doubled. Bill Logan at second. Francis, hitting cross-handed, rolled a grounder to Kieffer.

Bad Start.
In the opener Bailey walked Ostrander and Bilox hit a smashing liner into the center field debris, for a home, giving the soldier clasp two runs. Bailey tickled Morley's hip bone and the sturdy pitcher-outfielder first baseman stole second with Zienke at bat. Clarence launched a hard grounder off Neuman's shin, the ball going into right field, Morley scoring. That filled the center of the picture position for Bailey, who yielded the glove to Neuman and went to the outfield himself. Lavender taking first base. Krensch, unnerved by the Legion from the Elks for this tilt, was thrown out at first base by Patton and Brown popped to Lavender. Bob Whitzel made a had throw of Benoit's bobber and the latter was safe, Zienke scoring the fourth run.

Matters and things raced along at good tempo from that time on, with "Ots" Neuman holding the soldier well in hand until the seventh, when "Sib" Kieffer pulled off the unusual for him. "Kieff" erred on Dwight's smash after Rush had been thrown out.

Brief Bits of Sport

When a couple of players from the Twilight (legion) team called on the official scorekeeper and attempted to feature him in the art and science of keeping score favorable to their aid official turned in the book.

Consensus of opinion among the fan population, despite Goldwater's assertion under a nod de plume, are that Twilght has the edge when comparisons are made in the twisting ability of Morley and Oliver.

I. D. S. players, in some instances, discount the Morley wig over Oliver on Thursday night, declaring that Morley had the weaker team to pitch to.

Last night's contest was worth seeing, except for the first inning, in which Bailey, evading pitching role for the Elks, was forced to retire in favor of "Ots" Neuman.

Neuman finished the tilt with honor to himself and his company. The game ended 7 to 2 for the Legion.

Tomorrow the Twin Falls All-Star outfit, headed by Manager Jim Orwig, will go to Buhl for the second game with that team. Morley is slated for the pitching job.

"Red" Bell was out of the Legion lineup last night and Krensch, of the Electric, played at third base. Bell's hitting was missed.

The Elks presented "Sib" Kieffer at shortstop, and sent Bailey to left field when he failed as a twister. Lavender ending going to first base in place of Neuman.

Kieffer again played a star infield game, but was weak at bat.

Eastern fight commissions are beginning to display symptoms that prove their eyes are opening to the faulty of both wrestling and boxing games. Several states, of late, have banned certain boxes and their bouts, and are taking initiative action against some of the abusive efforts to bring present ring stars together with down and outers of the squared circle. Most of the actions are directed against the pursors for matches between Dempsey, Johnson and Willard.

The Banks and Electric play at Lincoln field next Monday night.

The Parsons franchise of the Southwestern league has been transferred to Coaling, Okla. Financial difficulties and alleged mismanagement caused dissatisfaction and poor patronage at Parsons and the fans quit cold after the team lost eight or nine straight games to start the second half.

MYSTERY VEILS FATAL SHOOTING OF CALIFORNIAN

Woman Companion of Los Angeles Broker, Killed at Door-step to Cottage, Says He Was Shot from Behind

LOS ANGELES, Cal. (AP)—John B. Smith, 29, Los Angeles insurance broker, was shot and killed late last night as he was entering his summer cottage at Beverly Hills, an exclusive residential suburb. Mrs. Madeline Osburn of Evanston, Ill., who was with him, was held as a material witness.

Mrs. Osburn, who said she was formerly the wife of R. Osburn, attorney of Chicago, said she was divorced, told the sheriff's deputies that Kennedy was shot from behind. She said she afterwards saw a man roughly dressed and disappearing in some bushes. The shooting occurred shortly before midnight, but no report was made to the county authorities until early today. Deputies found the track of Kennedy's foot had been blown off, apparently by a shot from a shotgun.

Mother Opposes Marriage

Mrs. Osburn in a formal statement to Deputy Sheriff Cronin, said she was 20 years old, the daughter of John and Emma E. Smart of Los Angeles. Her father's name was Connor, she said. Her former husband, she said, had been paying her $10 a month alimony. "Our home was really broken up from my love for Mr. Kennedy, the statement continued. "Mr. Osburn was willing for me to obtain the divorce if it would make me happy, but said he would willingly take me back. "I would have been married to Mr. Kennedy long ago but he could not overcome the objections of his mother, who he told me, killed me. I have known Mr. Kennedy five years and was to marry him, but for some reason I married Mr. Osburn. My relations with Mr. Kennedy have always been of the best. Nothing of an improper nature ever occurred.

"He came to my room at the Alexander hotel the other night. He kept pleading with me to marry him and tell him so he would leave California and go east with me. I finally induced him to leave the room and he said he would go to the room with me, then he telephoned. This I did yesterday. I don't know who shot him anything more than I have told."

Mrs. Osburn in an informal statement, said she and Kennedy motored to a beach resort early in the day, returning late in the evening. They had planned to dine at a country club, but finding it closed, went to Kennedy's cottage. They stopped, she said, at an entrance, while she looked for a truck parked, she said hurried there, as she went searching for the coin of the street.

Mrs. Lizzie Bentley, a neighbor, told to Beverly Hills police she heard two shots, followed by the screams of Mrs. Osburn. She said she saw an automobile disappearing down a driveway to the cottage.

Examination of Kennedy's clothing showed he had a number of important papers, and a wallet containing $50. Several articles of jewelry worn by him had not been disturbed.

Police records here show that Kennedy was attacked and beaten on the street about four years ago by two men who he said were strangers to him.

MISSING CHICAGO BANKER REPORTED IN CHIHUAHUA

Informant Claims Knowledge of Spurgin's Whereabouts; Awaits Further Word

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, (AP)—Warren C. Spurgin, missing Chicago banker, who arrived in Chihuahua City July 25, is in hiding not far from here, according to M. E. Clinton, who declared here today he knows the whereabouts of Spurgin, but is waiting for word from Chicago before assisting in his apprehension.

After registering at a hotel in Chihuahua City on July 22 under the name of W. C. Scott, Spurgin met Clinton, a discharged soldier, who is said to have resided in border towns and at one time to have lived at Marfa, Texas. Spurgin disappeared from Chihuahua City the next day, returning July 29 and was seen on the streets several times during the day. He seemed entirely unconcerned, but read a number of papers carefully, according to persons who had him under observation.

When questioned, he said he came from Des Moines, Ia., and intended to purchase a ranch and to make his home in Mexico.

Two residents of Chihuahua City, by having this story, showed him property. He is known to have made a trip to Minera, during the time he was absent from Chihuahua City.

CHICAGO, (AP)—A federal warrant for Warren C. Spurgin, missing president of the closed Michigan Avenue trust company, charging violation of the prohibition laws was issued today following the confiscation yesterday of $10,000 worth of wines and other liquors in the bank.

Copies of the warrant were forwarded to San Antonio, Texas, with a request that Spurgin be apprehended if possible. He is believed to be in Mexico.

Picture of Dempsey-Carpenter Fight Successfully Transmitted in First Test of Invention

ANNAPOLIS, Md., (AP)—Transmission of photographs and written documents in facsimile across the ocean has been accomplished. Two recent successful tests of this epoch-making invention have been made at the powerful naval radio station here, a photograph and a written message having been sent to Malmstrom, the French radio station.

Two French government engineers are now in Annapolis preparing for further tests which they believe will prove the invention a complete success within a very short time.

The first test of the invention was the sending of a photograph of the recent Dempsey-Carpenter fight from the Annapolis station to France for reproduction in Le Matin, Paris newspaper.

While the reproduction was said to have been fairly good, it was not as perfect as the engineers wished it to be. So Thursday another test was made.

This test was the sending of a facsimile written message from W. Van And, managing editor of the Paris New Times, to Le Matin, the Paris newspaper. Word came back that the message was reproduced almost perfectly.

Today's Markets

WHEAT MAKES SLIGHT GAIN

Encouraging Export News and Weak End Evening Up Steadily Market

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat started practically unchanged from yesterday's close but advanced when local traders bought on the strength of higher prices at Winnipeg. A house with seaboard connections also did some buying. Initial prices $1.18 1/4 to $1.18 3/4 for September and $1.21 1/2 to 1.22 for December. The early buying died down after advances of 12 to 3-4 had been reported but prices held fairly well on records of hail damage in Saskatchewan and Belgium.

Encouraging export news and weak-end evening up steadied the market. The close was steady with September $1.10 1/2 to 1.20 and December $1.25 1/4 to 1.23, the net gains being around a cent.

Beardish sentiment prevailed in corn. A half million bushels stored in Chicago were poked as rotting, and there was some selling in consequence. September opened at 50 3/8 to 50 5/8 and December at 51. September sold down to 50 1/8-1/2 then turned up and met December at 50 3/8 at the end of the first hour.

Near the close week-end trading caused a rally. The close was uneven with September net unchanged at 50 5/8 to 50 3/4 and December 1-4c lower at 50 3/4 to 50 7/8.

Trade in oats was light with the opening unchanged to 1-4c lower. September opened at 35 3/8 to 1-2c and closed to 35c.

Provisions were generally higher with lard leading.

New York Stock Market
NEW YORK, (AP)—Favorable comments by the mercantile agencies as to the business outlook failed to sustain the flagging bull interest in the market and reactionary tendencies became more pronounced in the second hour. Dealings were unusually contracted because of the absence of many traders over the week-end.

The paucity of the outside demand and the fact that the successive bear drives against special stock failed to elicit any support made the bears confident of their position. Chemicals, Coppers, Famous Players, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies preferred and Retail Stores were depressed 1 to 2 1/2 and International Harvester preferred 3 1/4. Railroad were sluggish but lower. Dow Jones, Lackawanna and Western long 5 1/2 and Union Pacific, Delaware and Hudson and Texas and Pacific one point. Foreign exchange rates were substantially higher, Sterling gaining a cent. The closing was heavy. Bales approximately 150,000 shares.

Sales by discouraged holders and operations on the short side of the market were again effective in depressing prices at the opening today. Prospects of continued tight money, the extreme weakness of copper metal and predictions of further dividend cuts weakened speculative confidence and enabled the bears to undermine the market. United Drug, Baldwin Locomotive, California Packing, Cerro de Pasco Copper and Texas and Pacific yielded 1 to 1 1/4. Mexican Petroleum, General Electric, Bethlehem, Steel, Ohio Copper, Central Leather and Norfolk and Western gave way 1/2 to 3/4. Foreign exchange rates were steady.

Nation's Police Form Organization for Co-operation in Operations

Correlation of endeavor and for the cooperation of all police departments throughout the nation is the primary principle of an organization recently effected in New York city known as the National Police Conference.

The conference elected E. McDermott, police chief of Boise, managing director for the institution in Idaho, and in that capacity Chief McDermott has addressed a letter to John B. Beck, head of the Twin Falls police department urging that official to become a member of the national organization, and lend his support to all of its principles and purposes.

Explains Cause Explaining the nature and the aims of the conference Chief McDermott writes as follows: "Having been appointed managing director for Idaho of the National Police Conference, a combination of chiefs of police of the leading cities of the United States, I am writing you to enlist your aid in this work and to explain the plan as outlined at recent meetings of the national conference in the city of New York.

"At the conclusion of its deliberations the conference resolved that an organization should be formed and entitled the National Police Conference, the aim of which is to secure more public and congressional support of the measures that it evokes and to correlate its endeavors to improve and increase its facilities for cooperation with all police departments throughout the country.

Wants Memberships "I am enclosing copies of the bulletin issued by this conference and also a draft of the resolutions adopted at the meeting in New York. If you wish to enter your department name on the membership roll, I also wish you would see that this matter is given publicity in your newspaper as I would like the sheriffs of your county and surrounding counties to become interested in this and feel that they have a right to be heard on the matter. I am sure that I have been appointed director for the state that some of them will get in touch with me and I can make my monthly report to headquarters and show that Idaho is not lacking in the spirit of co-operation with her brother officers over the entire United States. If you will be so kind as to get this through in good shape as possible and send me clippings of the newspaper stories so that I can send them to New York I will greatly appreciate it."

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

The Southern Idaho Traffic Association which came into being yesterday to fight the battles of the shippers and consumers of this district for revision downward of freight rates, is an organization born of necessity for relief from existing freight tax and of confidence in the attainment of this relief through its agency.

No question at all exists about the necessity for relief in this quarter, and reliance upon the agency selected finds justification in recent developments that stimulate confidence by their increasing numbers and significance.

One of these developments is the recent advice given by a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission to Representative Addison T. Smith and W. C. Larson of Paul, when they personally urged that the hay and grain rates hearing set for August 15 be expanded to include potatoes as well as a hope of getting a permanent reduction in the rates on this commodity.

This implies recognition of the importance of the movement for rate reductions that has grown to such proportions as to command official attention, and from which, it may be confidently expected, more will be heard later.

Southern Idaho is not a moment too soon in identifying herself with this movement and in lending her support and co-operation to its purpose.

In no other way and through no other agency could southern Idaho make her influence felt so effectively toward attainment of this objective than through the organization which has come into being here in response to the dictates of an imperative demand.

BOBAY'S MILITARY SCHEMES

Schemes for further reduction in the personnel of the army and navy of the United States such as are urged by Senator Borah and others among his colleagues may be questionable policy in advance of any guarantee such as may be expected to result from the forthcoming Washington disarmament conference, but it hardly seems possible that there can be two minds about the desirability of the early withdrawal of American troops from Germany which the senior senator from Idaho is demanding.

Expenses of about $1,000,000 monthly are incurred for maintenance of these forces. These expenses are chargeable to Germany but are actually borne by American taxpayers, because Germany is making her claim of inability to pay stand up.

A MOMENTOUS DECISION

Result of the election next Monday when electors of the recently formed Minor Law Life Irrigation District will vote for authorization or rejection of a $60,000 bond issue for purchase of an existing irrigation system and of additional water rights to assure the reclamation of now arid lands, comprehended in the district, is a matter of concern not alone to the holders of these lands but to every citizen and taxpayer of Twin Falls county.

A COMMENDABLE COURSE

Selection of Senator Gooding by his colleagues in the senate to take the leadership in the fight for better tariff rates on wool is certain to be a matter for gratification not only to his friends and supporters in the Gen. State but to everyone who has the interests of the wool producing industry at heart.

The Prince of Wales is reported bored by the duties of his position, and it is not intimated that he is contemplating resignation.

OPINIONS REPRINTED

HOUSE-CLEANING

General Daves, as director of the Budget Bureau, has ordered a survey of surplus equipment, supplies and material in government possession. The property not wanted goes to the General Supply Committee of the treasury.

These and parallel operations in other branches of the service mark the purpose of the government to economize and to reduce the blight of "spandermania."

Washington is doing what every thoughtful householder feels called on now and again to do. Governments, like domestic establishments, need a periodical housecleaning.

But while Uncle Sam and Aunt Columbia are up attic under the eaves and down cellar among the rumblings let them be reminded that in their prospective rumblings and their will to well-to-do, it is a matter to be considered also. There are obsolete clerks as well as obsolete battlehips. Let the clean-up include them, also.—Philadelphia Ledger.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

During the fiscal year ending with June, 1921, the total imports of foreign merchandise into this country amounted, in round numbers to $3,054,490,000, as against $2,335,352,000 for the fiscal year 1920. The total domestic exports were valued at $6,385,036,000, as against $7,949,309,000 for 1920.

While the imports are less in value than during 1920, they are still too high, for every dollar's worth of competitive imports displaces no less than double its value in volume of domestic products.

Non-competitive imports we must always buy, but it is a double economic loss to import vast quantities of foreign products similar to those which we are exporting in even greater quantities. That is true of wool.

AS YOU WOULD BE DONE BY

A farmer may be better understood one of the controversies that has arisen between the railroads and the government railroad administration if he will consider the principles involved as they would affect him.

Suppose, for instance that a farmer loaned a thirteen-hundred pound horse to his neighbor at a certain wage per day, with the agreement that the horse be kept up to its normal weight.

When the horse is returned, he is forty pounds underweight. Will you require of the owner a lot of feeding to get the horse back to normal working condition. If the owner protests, will it be a sufficient answer for the borrower to say, "After I took your horse, the price of feed went up, and I spent as much money for feed as you did have been necessary to keep him in good flesh at normal price?"

No horse owner would accept that kind of an answer—he would insist, that the borrower supply enough additional feed to bring the horse up to normal. That is what the railroad owners ask of the government.—Krook (In. City).

More Truth Than Poetry

THE ROCKY ROAD

By S. E. KIBER

The flintiest rock is sure to break if you hammer it hard enough and long; It all depends on the care you take To direct your strokes and to make them strong!

And always between your hopes and you He bravely says that your aim is true, And hammer away, son, hammer away!

The easy ways are the ways that lead To the common things that have little worth; They are made for men of the coarser breed Who exult a while and go back to earth.

But the rocks are big in the ways that wind To the higher levels where efforts pay; Look up with courage, leave doubt behind, And hammer away, son, hammer away!

The first rock broken and cast aside Is the mere beginning; a thousand more That will test your courage and prove your pride—Obstruct the way to the open door!

To the door where fame has been waiting long To give you greeting and bid you stay; Let your aim be true and your purpose strong, And hammer away, son, hammer away!

AN OVERWORKED GOATGOAT

Blame it on the farmer when the price of meat is high, Blame it on the farmer when they boast the cost of bread.

Blame it on the farmer when there is no milk supply.— Let the farmer take the consequence when every trace is dead!

Blame it on the farmer when you pay too much for coal, Always blame the farmer for the trouble that his flint is; He can stand the racket; he is used to it, poor soul!

Always blame the farmer—when you do not need his vote.

THE NEWS' SUNDAY SERMONETTE

By CHARLES GLENN BAIRD, M. A.

Rector, Church of the Ascension, Episcopal

THE HOLY EARTH

Psalm 24:1: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof."

In these summer days a great many men and women are going to the seashore or to the mountains or to some quiet inland cottage to spend their vacations.

These days are very important to us, for they are days of recreation, when we try to give nature a share in our activities, to build up a right to give a better body and a better mind—in general, a better equipment with which to meet our duties and responsibilities in practical life.

"To look to nature" is a popular slogan these days, and many of us know one and knows the logic of it. It is the reasonable thing to do. We must have some direct contact with the earth. The more we deny ourselves this contact in our daily work, the greater becomes the necessity for it when vacation time comes.

But there is even a better way than this to use our vacations, and that is, while realizing the mental and physical benefits of an outing, we employ our vacation days in studying nature, not as the car of the artist. It is to appreciate the beauties and the glories of nature. It does not mean that we must all be painters, or poets, but that we strive to see nature as it really is, and not as the poet has, and that we enjoy the things which he enjoys.

Of course we all love nature. But are not most of us prone to enjoy nature in the most superficial manner, and ourselves in sports or amusements, or even sheer idleness.

There are many men and women in the world who with the artist's intuition toward the earth. They may be painters or poets or travelers, but more often they are just the common people out of the great crowd of workers from city and village, who would not paint their impressions on canvases, or put them into verse, but who do carry them in their hearts and minds as among the greatest satisfactions which the world affords.

But there is still another and a better way to establish a contact with the great outdoors, and that is to do it with the religious attitude. And poetry do much for the individual, and they are not to be depreciated, but with some individuals these things are an end in themselves. We do not all ways find God simply through a love and study of the natural world. We can find God in nature if we have the religious attitude toward the earth, and that attitude may include all the others. At any rate it doesn't exclude them.

The religious man may be thinking of his bodily health; he may choose a place with ample facilities for play and recreation; he may take a gun and a fishing rod along with him; but down deep in his heart he wishes most of all to go where he can get the nearest to God, where he can give his soul more chance for intimate touch with his Maker, where he can replenish himself with the things of the spirit.

He, too, has the mind of the artist but for him nature is not just a series of beautiful objects to be appreciated and interpreted for their own sake. Nature to the religious man includes the very revelation of God. It can be to him as much the word of God as the bible which he reads at home. To him this great, beautiful, and wonderful world is every evidence of God's love; God made it all and called it good.

We talk much about communing with nature; that is the language of poetry; it is not the language of religion. The religious man would say that there is no such thing as communing with nature; nature is but the telegraph through which we talk with God. God is not in the trees and rivers and rocks; as the poetist would say; they are the means by which God communicates with His children and makes His presence real. The man with the religious attitude says: I send my bible, and God reveals Himself to me there; I go to church and worship Him and I realize His presence there; often I find His presence in the countenance of some dear friend; but now I am out in the woods alone, and even the trees and the wild flowers interpret God to my soul.

We hear a great deal of talk about closed churches and scanty church attendance during the summer months. The fact is often times discouraging to us, if not actually depressing. But let us not take the fact too seriously. You can no more keep a religious man or woman from worshipping God than you can keep a hungry person from the table. A man with God in his heart is worshipping Him somewhere, somehow, all the while. Such a man has a right to say that he can worship God in a church building, and he can worship Him also among the trees. But the man who says that he prefers to worship God in nature instead of coming regularly to the parish church to join his prayers with a congregation of Christian people—that man's religion is very seriously to be questioned. There is something very solid and limited about his worship. He forces gets that fellowship is a very large part of worship.

To realize the presence of God is the great aim of religion. The religious man, the Christian man, looks forward to his vacation days as a great opportunity to make God's presence more real and vivid in his life. He is not going to put off his religion and leave it at home with his winter clothes, feeling that now, for a few weeks he will have a relief from all church duties and religious responsibilities. He is going out to seek God's greater revelation, to find Him, if he may, in the quiet places. He has been worshipping God in the temple; he has found Him in the crowd; now he seeks Him out on the hillsides. And we know that the Master Himself would often withdraw from the crowds that eagerly followed Him, that He might have the blessed communion with the Father, which even He needed in His moments of trial and labor. And why should we not follow the Master's example? The religious man says to himself that he is going out into the Holy Land—not the Holy Land of Palestine, but the holy land of the hills and mountains, or it may be the farm where he was born and reared. The great danger in the ordinary
