SOVIET ADOPTS PLANS TO SPEED UP PRODUCTION

Bolshevik Government in Extremity Tries Many Schemes to Increase Factory Output to Trade for Food

PRIGIA, Latvia, (AP)—Many experiments are being introduced in the management and supply system of Russian factories in an effort by the Bolshevik government to increase production in order to obtain products to exchange with the peasants for food.

Some time ago a piece of work was introduced in the hope that this would incite individual workers to increase output. According to a Moscow dispatch, all factory managements have been ordered to carry it into effect urgently and immediately.

In many industrial concerns a collective rationing plan has been substituted for the old system of granting individual rations. Under the new method a whole factory is granted a monthly allowance of foodstuffs and money on the condition that it turns out a stipulated amount of goods.

If the factory is able to produce this quantity with a smaller number of workmen than allotted, the surplus foodstuffs and money can be distributed among the workmen as a premium.

The All-Russian Council of Trade Unions has issued a circular pointing out that increases of wages in money payments are inadvisable at this time because this would necessitate an increase in the output of currency which the government is even now unable to print in sufficient quantities. The government is said to have been printing until lately about two hundred billion rubles of paper money a month. This amount has been increased to the maximum possible output of the printing machines.

Pittsburgh Bulls Must Lay Up Their Jitneys

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—City police will not be permitted to ride to or from their stations in their own individual automobiles, hereafter, according to an order issued today by Superintendent of Police Thomas Carroll. The order stated that there would be no objection to the patrolmen riding in machines other than their own. It is understood the rule was made to save parking space.

SMITH WOULD ELIMINATE FALL RIVER FROM PARK

Idaho Congressman Introduces Bill to Settle Dispute Over Yellowstone Project

WASHINGTON, (AP)—In order to settle the controversy over the Fall river high reservoir site in the Yellowstone park Congressman Smith of Idaho is preparing a bill which will take that section out of the park proper and restore it to the state of Idaho so that the reservoir site and the water of that section of the park may be used to irrigate lands in the Upper Snake river valley below Ashton, Idaho, and in Fremont and Madison counties, that state.

The bill to use the waters of the park by creating a reservoir and water introduced by Congressman Smith of Idaho and while the park received the recognition of the federal reclamation department there was so much objection on the part of the people throughout the east and such a decision of protest was launched by people through magazines and newspapers that the bill was killed by the senate.

A number of eastern people, including a committee of Boston people, lecturers and newspaper writers, are viewing that section of the park in order to make a report.

They are to be taken into the park by a delegation of business men, of Ashton, Idaho.

SITS ON HER BANK ROLL; SAVES IT FROM BANDITS

Chicago Woman's Presence of Mind and Ability to Scream Saves Her $1,000

CHICAGO, (AP)—Miss Rose Yore, secretary of a dairy company, has a novel plan to outwit bold bandits. She was stopped by robbers yesterday on her way to a bank with $1000 in currency. Dropping the money on the sidewalk, she sat down on it and screamed. Efforts of the bandits to pull her over were futile and they fled as she approached.

BRITISH TRADE MISSION READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Takes Six Weeks Supply of Food and Extra Railway Car on Trip into Bolshevik Russia

LONDON, (AP)—A British trade mission of 17 members, headed by R. M. Hodgson, formerly British consul at Vladivostok, has left London for Moscow, where quarters have been secured to house them.

They took with them six weeks food supply and large stores of office and household furniture, including tables, brooms, pails, dusters and even pens and ink.

"We don't know what may happen to us," said Mr. Hodgson to a reporter, "so we are going prepared. We are taking two cars, in case we find the railways on strike. We are taking up, but we are not carrying any arms."

AMERICAN RELIEF WORK IN AUSTRIA CURTAILED

Survey Indicates Diminishing Need Among Children of Central European Nations

VIENNA, (AP)—A new survey of economic conditions has caused the American Child relief to make a drastic cut in its charity in Austria. It is proposed this summer gradually to reduce the number of children fed to 200,000 and these will be confined largely to Vienna and other cities where no work will be found during the coming winter.

The general improvement in the rural regions is illustrated by the action of the American in closing 68 of their clinics in Upper Austria alone in one week. All children of parents in fair financial circumstances are excluded under the new program as well as children of farmers. In other words, American relief will be confined to those in actual need.

Opens Gates for Rum Shipments to Yukon

DAWSON CITY, Y. T. (AP)—The United States government has lifted the embargo recently imposed on liquor shipped through Alaska to the Yukon, the territorial government announced today.

Yukon authorities had asked the British ambassador at Washington to request the concession, which prohibition officers had refused, as the only freight route from other parts of Canada to the Yukon crossed United States territory.

PROFIT SHARING MEETS DISFAVOR IN VERA CRUZ

Business Men Protest Against Law Giving Workers Share of the Gains

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—A law recently passed and promulgated in the state of Vera Cruz to permit workmen to share in the profits of any industry in that state has met with much protest and threat to make that if there is any attempt to carry it into effect a general paralysis of industry will result.

The law calls for the establishment of a commission of seven, three employers and three workmen and a chairman selected jointly, in each municipality in the state which, at least once annually, shall call for the books of all industrial concerns and, after a careful audit, shall name the share of the laborers. The workmen are to receive not less than 10 per cent of the total net profits. No maximum is stipulated.

The chairman is to be named by the president of the municipality if his selection cannot be mutually agreed upon by the employers and the workmen. It is pointed out by those who oppose the law that this will almost always result in the naming of a workman inasmuch as virtually all the presidents of municipalities are laborers.

The profits to be divided, according to law, "will be understood to be the net earnings realized in the business after taking into consideration the interest and the amortization of the capital invested. The interest will not exceed six per cent per annum and the amortization will be adjusted according to the nature of the capital, but must never exceed 10 per cent of the capital of the immovable estate."

One of the principal objections made to the law is that it is retroactive. In February 5, 1917. An elaborate system of embargoes and fines is provided in case the employers fail to comply with the orders of the commission or are discovered attempting to evade any of its findings. Goods and properties may be sold at public auction to secure payment.

Merchants and exporters, almost as a unit are opposed to the law and are supporting the industries in their attempt to have federal action taken against it. Congressmen representing the chambers of commerce have conferred with President Obregon who is now considering if relief measures are possible. Legislatures in other states have given indications that similar laws are contemplated there.

Soda Springs Store is Robbed of Silks

SODA SPRINGS, (Special to The News)—Burglars entered the B. D. Whitman dry goods store at this point some time last night. Several hundred yards of Caribou county, proprietor of the establishment, upon opening this morning found that the store had been robbed and about $1000 worth of valuable silks were missing. No information could be obtained as to time the thieves entered but it is presumed from their operations that they were working the building some time, searching everything carefully.

To Raise $30,000,000 to be Loaned Farmers

CHICAGO, (AP)—A bond issue of $30,000,000 at 6 1/2 per cent will be issued at once as a result of action taken here at a meeting of the American Association of Joint Stock Land Banks yesterday.

This issue, with others to be floated before December 1, will make a total amount of $150,000,000 loaned to farmers by banks this year, officers of the association said. Guy Iluston, Chicago, was elected president.

Noted Publisher is Dead in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—J. S. Crowell, former owner of the Crowell Publishing company, Springfield, O., publisher of the "Woman's Home Companion" and the "Farm and Fireside," died early today in a hospital in this city. He had been ill for many months with cancer.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR MCLURE'S MAGAZINE

Assets Exceed Liabilities But Shortage of Cash Causes Strain for the Publisher

NEW YORK, (AP)—Receivers, in equity were appointed today for McClure's Magazine, Inc., on complaint of Marcus B. Behrman, who claims $12,335 due on notes.

Federal Judge Maston appointed John R. Johnston and Myron D. Walsh under bond of $50,000. The complaint stated that the company's liabilities exceeded $250,000, that assets were in excess of this amount, but that the company was short of funds for expenses and that a receivership was necessary for the protection of creditors.

"Out of the Chorus"

A drama of love and sacrifice, which proves that character does not depend upon aristocratic birth.

Crazed by jealous doubts of his beautiful wife who had once been a chorus girl, Ross Van Beekman rushed home one evening unexpectedly, and found another man's hat and stick on the hall table. He found his wife alone, but to make sure he fired five shots into the closet door and rushed from the room.

Later a trail of blood was discovered leading from the closet door to an open window. This is the climax to one of the most thrilling and heart-stirring photoplays seen at the Idaho in many a month. ALICE BRADY plays the part of the chorus-girl wife with all her emotional fire.

THE U.S. USCO TIRE

Here's the U. S. Usco with a long-established record of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to safety. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S., the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependability which is not easily equaled anywhere else in the class.

THE U.S. ISCO TREASURY

Here's the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other treads in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

IN all of modern merchandising the biggest conundrum is the fabric tire situation.

Around 70% of all car owners

Their instinct for quality is as strong and insistent as any one else's.

Why, then, are they offered such hodge-podge stocks of "discount tires," "odd lots," "seconds," "retreads" and other so-called bargains of uncertain origin?

Sooner or later the public always seeks out quality. As a matter of self-protection—if for no other reason. The out-and-out opinion in favor of U. S. Fabric Tires has spread more this year than it ever did.

People have gotten very close to the U.S. policy. Felt it. Benefited by it. And passed the word along.

It's a policy settled to one standard for all U.S. Tires. Whether fabrics or cords. Small sizes or large.

WATER CASE TO BE CARRIED TO SUPREME COURT

Rights of Interior Secretary to be Tested in Sanderson Suit Against Salmon Company

The case of Thomas Sanderson against the Salmon River Canal company, wherein claim is made by Sanderson for delivery of irrigation water to his lands excluded from the Salmon River project under provisions of the Reclamation Act, was argued by the canal company to the supreme court of the United States, the way to this proceeding being paved by Chief Justice McBride of the Idaho supreme court Tuesday when he signed an order for a writ of certiorari after listening to arguments of both plaintiff and defendant.

The application for the writ was filed by J. R. Botwell and T. E. Hackman of Twin Falls, legal representatives of the company, and the application was resisted by E. M. Wolfe of the City of Boise, John Wade, Twin Falls attorney, representing the original plaintiff, Richards and Haga of Boise, appeared as friends of the court.

Mr. Botwell said Tuesday night that the case was one of the most important in the history of irrigation suits, in that it will controvert the rights of the secretary of interior to exclude from project lands which was once under a project. The case was originally brought by Sanderson, a settler on the Salmon River project, south of the South project near Twin Falls. He asked for a writ of mandamus, compelling the canal company to deliver water to him. The state supreme court held for Sanderson, irrespective of the decision of the secretary of interior, who had excluded Sanderson's holdings, along with others, from the project on account of the insufficiency of water for all the land irrigated.

Project Had 72,000 Acres
The project, started by the Twin Falls-Salmon River Land & Water company, originally consisted of 72,000 acres sold to settlers. It was found last that there was insufficient water for all settlers to develop their land sufficiently to secure patents, and the secretary of interior excluded all but 35,000 acres.

According to Mr. Botwell, the canal company, now controlling the water, is composed of water users of the project and they have agreed to comply with the decision of the state court.

The land and water company has a $375,000 fund with which they have been paying damages to the ranchers who lost their projects, and now, if they are accepted, the project, and most of them have accepted.

Will Test U. S. Rights
The case is especially interesting in that it will test the rights of the secretary of interior in similar cases, of which there have been several in the northwest. Judge Dietrich has had three such cases, and the circuit court of appeals has handed down three separate decisions in cases of like nature. Mr. Botwell said.

BULL KEEPS AT IT

Directors of the Buhl, independent school district and those citizens who are standing with them in their fight for continuance of Buhl's schools and acknowledgment of the district's honest debts are to be congratulated upon their determination to persevere in their efforts toward this end irrespective of two reverses at the polls.

The facts in the case are so plain that the directors and their adherents would seem to be justified in their hope of being able eventually to convince a sufficient number of electors to authorize the additional tax levy without which Buhl's schools cannot be opened this fall and without which the integrity of the Buhl district must remain under a black cloud.

It is with sincere sympathy that the people of neighboring communities look upon Buhl's efforts to extricate herself out of the tangle into which she has been plunged. This sympathy is not more genuine anywhere than in Twin Falls, where a similar situation was presented and solved a few weeks ago.

So long as Buhl keeps trying to overcome this obstacle she is entitled to all the sympathy and admiration in the world.

OUR SOUND BASIS

The foundations of American prosperity are as sound as ever, they were. Right now the principal food crops, harvested or growing, approximate 5,783,000,000 bushels of wheat, corn, oats, rice, flax, potatoes, apples, peaches, buckwheat, barley, etc. There is the substance of our living and it is far from a famine outlook that is presented. More, it is the basis of the gigantic industry and commerce that pulsate and flow throughout our land from one end of the year to the other.

Whatever the relative scarcity may be, however slack general business may appear, there is no stopping business. There enormous crops of themselves make a prodigious demand for every article of commerce which we know. Their growers must be supplied with a multiplicity of things. Though the farmers be not lavish in their expenditures, they cannot close up their purses entirely. They do not pretend to do so. And the greater proportion of these crops will be consumed far from where they are produced. They must be hauled, most of them, by railroad or steamboat. Their distribution from primary points and the transformation of the grains at least into consumable form will provide work for millions.

All this should and we may have confidence that it will give impulse to every factor of business, reluctant as some people may be to move until the irresistible tide sweeps them along. "There is nothing doing" is the prevalent expression. Is that so? Not by any reasonable test that may be applied. The United States Steel Corporation reports a falling off of unfilled orders for July amounting to $27,544 tons. If this figure represents the product delivered last month there was something doing in the mills. Quite likely there would have been a better showing were human beings less prone to act on suggestions.

The person who says "there is nothing doing," not only is not likely to strive to start anything, but he will deter others. Mark Twain once said, "I dislike work even when another person does it," which may, because it is the habit of men, cause a lot of foolish ones to shirk work until they are driven to laboring. There is a great deal being done. There would be a great deal more if all the people would take the farmers for their models and keep going. The farmers assure us, food, but we cannot live satisfactorily by farmers' labor alone.

WHO HAS THE SOLUTION?

Have men fallen behind in the progressive procession or have women always been further advanced than any except themselves know, supposing the women themselves know? Are men to guide the larger affairs of the social side of life or will the women grab off the job and take it over for complete remodeling? Or have the women already taken it over?

No one who even notices the constant hubbub here, there and everywhere—especially along Main street and all around the public square—about the length of women's skirts, the length of their hair, the height of their heels, can escape certain questions. Perhaps if the tempo tempest is observed long enough one may be brought to unpleasant conclusions. One of these questions is have men degenerated unnoticed or have they just started into degeneracy. Are they making themselves less of men with out becoming something better? Certainly they have no claims as women. As they stand they are not genuine, full-blooded men, while as women the real women can't hide their snickers at them.

There is something out of mesh, somewhere with the man who wants to tell women how to dress or who is enough concerned with women's dress to be able to detail a description. Among men of the traditional type there was never anything but a grin or a word culled from strong language for the male being who fussed about women's clothes. By common consent there is something wrong somewhere. Men who before complained that their office girls spent too much office time fixing their hair now hide their modest faces because the office girls come to work with short hair. The man who means or fuses around because women's clothes don't suit him is either a stammer or a mollycoddle or is about to become one. The difference is negligible.

The agricultural sections of the nation are realizing that this administration has kept faith with them. Within four months it has increased by over $100,000,000 the amount of money specifically available for loans to agricultural interests and has been largely instrumental for the reduction of interest rates on all agricultural paper. It has done all this without embarking the federal government in the dangerous business of opening the doors of the public treasury and playing the role of a philanthropist.

"All we've got to do is to get out of overbearing pessimism and quit saying everything is going to the dogs," is the way Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, characterizes the present situation. Everything substantiates his opinion. Despite the fact that July and August are the dull months of the year, business and industrial conditions showed marked improvement throughout July and equally good things are expected of August.

What has become of the youth who used to sprinkle gunpowder on his handkerchief when calling the first time to make her think he owned a car?

CHRONOLOGY OF TARIFF BILLS

WASHINGTON.—There is considerable speculation regarding the length of time it will require for the Senate to act upon the Fordney Tariff bill which passed the House July 21st. All estimates are merely guesses. There is only one way to approximate the time the Senate will require on the tariff and that is by comparison with the length of time it has taken previous tariff legislation to go through the Senate. For all who are interested in this, the following chronology of the tariff legislation of the past thirty years may be of interest.

McKinley Tariff: reported to House March 18th, 1890; passed the House May 21st; referred to Senate Finance Committee May 23rd; passed Senate September 10th; approved by the President October 3rd, 1890.

Wilson Tariff: reported to the House December 10, 1893; passed House February 1st, 1895; referred to Senate Finance Committee February 2nd; passed Senate July 3rd; became a law August 15th, 1894, without the signature of President Cleveland, who refused to approve it but did not veto it.

Dingley Tariff: reported to House March 18th, 1897; passed House March 31st; referred to Senate Finance Committee April 1st; passed Senate July 18th; approved by the President July 24th, 1897.

Spanish-American War Tariff: reported to House March 25th, 1898; passed House March 29th; referred to Senate Finance Committee May 2nd; passed the Senate June 4th; approved by the President June 12th, 1898.

Payne-Aldrich Law: reported to House March 17th, 1899; passed the House April 9th; referred to Senate Finance Committee April 10th; passed the Senate July 18th; approved by the President August 5th, 1899.

Underwood Tariff: reported to the House March 21st, 1913; passed House May 8th; referred to the Senate Finance Committee May 16th; passed Senate September 9th; approved by the President October 3, 1913.

Kilglin Law: reported to the House July 1st, 1915; passed the House July 16th; referred to Senate Finance Committee July 11th; passed Senate September 5th; approved by the President September 8th, 1915.

War Revenue Tax and Revenue Bill: reported to House May 11th, 1917; passed by House June 20th; referred to Senate Finance Committee September 21st; passed Senate December 23rd, 1918; held without President's signature until his first return from Paris when he approved the bill, February 24th, 1919.

The chronology of the Fordney tariff bill to date is as follows: reported to House June 29th, 1921; passed the House July 21st; referred to Senate Finance Committee July 23rd.

The delivery of his car in her last, bitter battle. His little girl, crippled—with pain in her back—Goes wearily hobbling about on a crutch.

And what was the cause of the course that he took?

Oh, nothing much—Merely a woman.

PAULING has fears that deprive him of rest.

He jumps at each sound and looks guilty and quakes;

Something is whispering, deep in his breast.

That they watch, and are counting the dot late he takes!

But daily he adds to his crime, and is quick to squander the money he gets in his clutch;

What has induced him to play a fool's trick?

Oh, nothing much—Merely a woman.

DRAYTON, the millionaire, fired a shot.

Yesterday afternoon, piercing his heart;

There are men who will mourn him, but others will not.

He won by hard work from a very poor start.

He was wise in his way, and farseeing; in fact, There was something like magic, it seemed, in his touch.

And what was the cause of his foreshadowed act?

Oh, nothing much—Merely a woman.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN TWIN FALLS.

Taken at roughly from the time this date in year 1906

The Twin Falls public school building will be formally opened on Friday, August 24, with an appropriate program. Hon. William B. Rankin of Boise will deliver an address. The program will contain several numbers and the children will be given an opportunity to display their talents. The new building is in harmony with the progressive spirit of Twin Falls, being sanitary, well lighted, spacious and impressive.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hanson of Rock Creek were here, visitors Wednesday. Mr. Hanson is preparing to open a general merchandise store in a short time.

A most successful entertainment was the reception to the public held in the new Kimberly depot, opened to the public last evening. James McMillan was a most successful master of ceremonies and about 100 guests from Twin Falls were present. The amusement of the evening was dancing and the Twin Falls band made acceptable contribution to the evening's entertainment.

The Rock Creek Infants and the Twin Falls Stars played a spirited game of ball on the local grounds last Sunday which resulted in a victory for the Stars by a score of 3 to 2. Carl Houshore pitched for the visitors and Jay Abbott for the Stars.

J. H. Day returned from Contact Nevada, and stated that the copper camp contained some of the finest showings that he has ever seen. The people of Contact, said Mr. Day, would like to establish communication with Twin Falls, which is their nearest rail way point. The journey from here to Contact can be made in ten hours, being about 65 miles. At present Contact mail comes from Toconoma, Nevada, a distance of 99 miles.

The Twin Falls cemetery has been fenced and the arch and the gates placed in position. It is the intention to play it and seed to lawn grass.

R. W. Jones is building a handsome brick residence on Seventh street. The brick is to be shipped from Salt Lake City.

E. G. Bishop has purchased the interest of his partner, M. Reicher, in the Bishop & Reicher studio.

Three buses for the Twin Falls school are being built by the Twin Falls Manufacturing company. Each vehicle will hold 12 children.

J. R. Hinton is in the city from Hansen. Mr. Hinton has already sold a carload of food equipment from the Twin Falls store, and has several additional orders in sight.

The water reservoir is completed in Buhl and work on the pipeline is being pushed as fast as men can be found to do the work.

J. A. Cron of West Lake, Idaho, was in Buhl Saturday on business. He sees a great future for this place when the railroad is built.

On August 17 the Martingale school district will vote on the proposition of issuing bonds for the amount of $2,500 for the erection of a handsome new building.

W. H. Griffith, whose ranch lies about three miles west of Buhl, marketed a load of watermelons this week. The largest one brought the producer as high as 25 and 30 cents.

AMSTERDAM

AMSTERDAM, Idaho—Mrs. Ed Pas and family were entertained at Mrs. Minna Dintman's home on Wednesday.

A Garblon is hauling potatoes to Regeron.

Miss Ruby Slaggar was a business visitor in Regeron on Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Young and family were guests at the home of Mrs. Minna Dintman on Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry Malmgren and children and Gilbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Dean motored to Twin Falls Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Young and family were guests at the home of Garrett Peters Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin Knudson was in Twin Falls several days during the past week.

Mrs. Minna Dintman, Janet and Margaret Peters drove to the home of Gay Peters, near Hollister, Friday, where they spent the day.

Mrs. Mrs. Dale Kunkel and Miss Lillian Harshman were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dean on Sunday.

Charles Trueman and family paid.

Mrs. J. B. Trueman of Boise, Mont., spent Sunday at Gilbert Hall's ranch, east of Hollister.

Miss Jesse and Miss Julia Kunkel motored to Hansen on Saturday. Mrs. Autesty and sons motored to their home at Twin Falls Saturday afternoon returning to their work on the Caldwell ranch Monday morning. The Rev. Mr. Young and family were callers at the Chas. Trueman home Monday.

Woods caused a jam in the canal Sunday, the water was turned off while workmen are busy removing the woods.

In Earlier Days

In former times, when the town butcher or farmer himself dressed and cured the meat for the community, he could not always tell how it would turn out.

His methods were crude; partly traditional, partly guesswork. His tests were few and inconclusive.

Meat packing of today, as carried on by Swift & Company, has changed all that. It is scientific. Nothing is left to chance; nothing taken for granted.

The most painstaking care and attention are given to every step. Processes are worked out on a large scale with minute exactness. Methods are continually revised and improved. Cleanliness is insisted upon. Drastic, incessant inspections are the order of the day.

Swift products are uniform, graded according to quality.

Take bacon, for instance.

Swift & Company set out years ago to make a delicious, savory bacon which should be uniformly excellent.

The result is Swift's Premium Bacon, always the same, always famously good. Today this bacon, wrapped, sealed and branded, has circled the world.

Swift & Company's system of distribution carries it to places which the "town butcher" or the farmer could not reach.
