Spokesman for Western Grain Men Presents Figures in Argument for Reduction of the Railroad Freight Rates

CHARGES $200,000,000 FUNDS ARE COVERED UP

Alleges Juggling of Reserve Accounts and Depreciation Charges Result in Appearance of Nominal Earnings

WASHINGTON, (P) — Western railroads, by expenditure of reserve accounts and the setting up of exorbitant depreciation charges against their properties, have concealed profits amounting to nearly $200,000,000, Clyde M. Wood, chairman of the Kansas public utilities commission and spokesman for the western grain men in their fight to get reduced railroad rates testified today before the interstate commerce commission.

"On the basis of an analysis of the accounting returns of 19 railroads in the west, operating 89,855 miles of track, or 65 per cent of the mileage of the western district, Wood testified that their profits during 1920, which, he said, generally had been considered insufficient to meet the government guaranty of their earning power, in fact, had been the greatest in their history. He charged that propaganda in favor of maintenance of transportation rates had misled not only public opinion but also the official bodies charged with the duties of regulating rates.

Cities Increased Profits

The profits of the 19 railroads as shown by their official reports were $97,534,470 in 1920, Mr. Wood said, while in 1919, the lowest year previously recorded, he added, they amounted to $52,377,753. In addition to this, the roads had on December 31, 1920, a fund of $29,079,000 in reserve for "accrued depreciation of equipment." In 1915 the total reserve as held was $144,094,325, he said, adding that the roads in 1920 had added to the fund $43,800,000, which was carried as "operating expenditure."

A further example, he said, was an operating reserve account, which amounted to $35,114,445 in 1920, while in 1915 the fund was $7,343,551. These amounts were set aside from railroad earnings, he said, and without detracting that the normal expenditures were made up of maintenance equipment and roadbed. Producing statistics in the amount of $100,000,000, he asserted that there had been no failure to provide usual maintenance.

Names Roads Cited

Among the roads included in the summary were the Atchafalpa, Spokane & Santa Fe; the Chicago & Rock Island; the Great Northern; the Minneapolis & St. Louis; the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; and the Chicago & Great West.

VISITING MINISTERS ARE GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Former Twin Falls pastor heads delegation of visitors at weekly luncheon.

The desirability of having as many Twin Falls citizens on hand as possible at the meeting of the Twin Falls highway commissioners and the Jerome highway commissioners at Jerome tonight was strongly urged at today's meeting of the Twin Falls Rotary club by members who have interested themselves in the proposed project.

Tonight's meeting is expected to result in the adoption of a definite plan for the improvement of the Blue Lake grade by the highway districts of both counties. Estimates of cost will be submitted to the commissioners as well as figures intended to show the advantages to both sides from a business standpoint. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock and it is believed that a strong Twin Falls citizen showing would be highly advisable.

MILITARY RULE IS INVOKED IN BELFAST RIOTS

British Troops Assume Control of Ulster Capital in Response to Urgent Request of the Lord Mayor

FOURTEENTH DEATH FROM FIGHTING IS RECORDED

List of Casualties Goes Un-counted while Sinn Feiners and Loyalists Engage in Fierce Battle

BELFAST, (P) — The military, it was learned at mid-day, will assume control of Belfast within an hour as a result of representations by the lord mayor as to the urgent necessity of enforcing the city protection in view of the fierce fighting in progress. By mid-day, with the fighting still proceeding in some areas near the Ulster loyalists and Sinn Feiners, the total death toll since Monday night had reached 14. Scores have been wounded, but the exact number was not known.

Mayor Calls for Help

Early today Sir William Costa, the lord mayor, made strong representations to General Carter-Campbell, commanding the British troops in Ulster, and Chief of Police Gelson concerning the need for protection of the city's citizens.

Left night Ulster special constabulary, nearly all former soldiers, were in action in the Stanhope street area. Shipping is carried out on the most approved lines, glass planes being used by the snipers.

Troops Restore Quiet

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the city was comparatively quiet. The military had taken to street duty, although they had not gone into Royal Avenue. Traffic had been restored in York street. The severity of the York street fighting this morning led to dismissal of the employees of the great glass spinning works. When employees reported for work the plant entrance was in the line of fire. A hole was knocked in the factory wall on a side street.

Mary McCracken was shot in the arm as she crossed Nelson street. Henry Bowers, 28, who was killed last night, was shot and a companion was wounded as he lighted a cigarette from one held by his companion.

WIA Excitement Belongs

Fierce revolver fighting between Ulster loyalists and Sinn Feiners continued here this morning, causing scenes of the wildest excitement. Some of the city's main thoroughfares. The staffs in the hospitals have been strained to the utmost spring for those wounded in last night's rioting. The rioting and sniping yesterday culminated at 9 p. m. in the appearance of a party of men armed with rifles, who entered Stanhope street, took positions on the ground and opened a hot fire. Pedestrians stampeded from the footpaths. Many who were near enough to see the men doing the shooting declared the rifles they carried were new. It was the most audacious incident of the fighting since it broke out on Monday.

Zone of Fire Spreads

The exchange of shots between the outlying parties began early in the morning, and gradually spread over an extensive area with increasing intensity.

Groups of detachments in armoured cars, the military forces of the government have not interfered in the rioting.

HUGE AMERICAN AIRSHIP BURNS

Disastrous Blaze Results from Unexplained Explosion of Gasoline

NEW YORK, (P) — Dirigible balloon D-6, the largest American naval aircraft of its type, the blimp H-3 and the kite balloon A-P were destroyed by a fire which also razed the hangar today at the Rockaway Point naval station. An explosion of gasoline, from an unknown cause, started the blaze. Although a number of men were in the hangar, only one man was slightly burned.

Great tanks containing thousands of cubic feet of hydrogen were located near the hangar and the burning played tons of water upon them to prevent possible explosions.

The D-6 was 188 feet long, carried a crew of four and had a speed of 60 miles an hour. She was used to patrol the coast.

Secretary Denby recently ordered all activities at the air station to cease tomorrow. It was understood the D-6 was being prepared for transportation to the new hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., built to receive the ill-fated ZR-2, recently destroyed in England.

WASHINGTON LEARNS OF LOSS

WASHINGTON, D. C., (P) — The loss without casualties of the naval dirigible D-6, which was burned after an explosion in her hangar at the Rockaway Point air station, was reported today to the navy department. The D-6 was of the non-rigid type and 110,000 cubic feet capacity.

DEATH SUMMONS JUSTICE OF ARIZONA SUPREME COURT

PHOENIX, Ariz., (P) — Albert C. Baker, justice of the Arizona supreme court, died this morning at Los Angeles, according to advices received here.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (P) — Reports reaching the office of Governor Morgan this afternoon indicated that firing along the Boone

Logan line, held by state police and deputies against bands of armed men, had become quite general. Following the killing of Deputy John Crow, on Blair mountain this morning, the governor was informed at 1:30 p. m. that a mine had been killed and a deputy sheriff captured in the skirmishing along the Boone county line today, authorities reported that armed bands were advancing westward over Spruce Fork ridge. The invaders were within four miles of the Logan county line and within six miles of Pack's mill, where state headquarters have been established by the state forces, the officers said. Surgeons and nurses have been sent to Pack's mill.

BLAIR MOUNTAIN PATROL

LOGAN, W. Va., (P) — The border patrol on Blair mountain was fired up on this morning by a party of men from the east slope. The fire was returned and the attacking party driven back by the Logan county deputies holding this sector. Sheriff Don Chaffin said the casualties had been reported. Quiet was reported from the fronts today by the McDowell and Mingo county forces.

Planes Scatter Proclamation

Airplanes today distributed copies of President Harding's proclamation in this district. Thousands were printed here last night and for all the received the pamphlets containing the president's command that all persons engaged in "insurrectionary proceedings" disperse and return to their homes at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, September 1. Flying against the planes crossed Boone and parts of Kanawha counties dropping the circulars.

At least the Spruce Fork guard reported "all well." There was no fighting during the night; no attempt was made to scale the eastern slope of the hills.

Town on Alert

In Logan the night was one of great anxiety. "Conferences between state officials and county authorities were held; rifles were cleaned and stacked in the court house corridors and a thousand "defenders" held themselves in readiness to march. Many of them were former soldiers. Women served coffee and food. In the meantime dozens of men surrounded the court house, drivers at the wheels, awaiting a call from the watch across the river. But the call did not come.

Sherriff Chaffin this morning announced that overtures for the release of prisoners now held in Mingo county in return for the freedom of four Logan county officers held by the armed bands in the Boone side of the border, had been made him, the terms being ten prisoners for one deputy. It was not thought such an agreement would be entered into by the Logan authorities.

Harding Urges Liberal View Toward Questioners of Law

CINCINNATI, O., (P) — A liberal attitude toward those who question the laws will lead to better safeguarding "the goal we possess and rightly shaping the measures of progress that we must have," President Harding declared in a letter of greeting to the American Bar association, which formally opened its forty-fourth annual convention today.

President Harding expressed regret that he could not attend the convention, but praised the association for upholding "the highest ethics of a noble profession." The president's letter was read by Hampton C. Green, acting president of the association, who presided at the opening session.

The members of the American Bar association have lighted the way to legislative advancement administration.

The government added that one company of infantry already had been mustered into service. The war department on receipt of the information ordered Colonel W. B. Shaw, United States army, to report to the governor for duty as an independent instructor for the West Virginia guard.

Recalls Reconstruction Days

Officers in the legal department of the army recalled today that martial law as such had not been declared by the federal government in any state since reconstruction days. Should the troops be ordered to West Virginia, their use, it was said, would be as "federal aid in lawless domestic disturbance" rather than a declaration of martial law.

MEXICAN COURT UPHOLDS CLAIM OF OIL CONCERN

Enjoins Department of Commerce and Industry from Denouncing Rights to Lands Held Prior to May 1, 1917

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Officials of the Mexican department of commerce and industry have been enjoined by the supreme court from denouncing rights to oil lands held by the Texas company prior to May 1, 1917. This decision, handed down last night by a unanimous vote of the court, probably sets a precedent for the court's action in dealing with nearly 120 cases calling into question the effect of article 27 of the Mexican constitution.

Indicates Definition. The Texas company appealed to the court for an amparo, or preliminary certificate issued to the holder of a land claim, pending the issuance of pre-judgment papers. This action was taken to prevent the government from denouncing claims held by the company. If the other oil companies which have brought similar actions are victorious, it is generally believed that the decision will constitute the court's definition of article 27, and its interpretation of that article as being non-retroactive in its effect, and that claims to oil lands held before May 1, 1917, cannot be questioned.

Justice Adolfo Arias prepared the decision, in which his colleagues concurred. When court opened yesterday and discussions were begun, Justice Arias was the first to speak and he emphatically championed the Texas company's contention, asserting that the denouncement in question was in direct violation of article 14 of the Mexican constitution. This article states that "no law shall be given retroactive effect to the prejudice of any person whatsoever." He also was emphatic in stating that the nationalization of petroleum deposits under article 27 of the constitution must not be made retroactive so that it would apply to lands legally acquired under the mining laws in effect previous to May 1, 1917. That law declared that oil was a part of the soil wherever found.

Arguments by the justices during the day were mainly in support of this position.

Oil Men Cautionous.

Newspapers here generally believe the decision handed down last night is of far-reaching importance, and virtually establishes a ruling by Mexico's highest judicial tribunal as to the non-retroactivity of article 27. Several local oil men declared they would withhold their opinion until careful reading disclosed the exact phrasing of the court's decision regarding subsoil rights on lands held both in fee and by lease.

An appeal for an injunction in a case similar to that brought by the Texas company was taken up by the court today; the Mexican Gulf Oil company being the plaintiff in the action.

Heads of American oil companies who are conferring with government officials here declined last night to comment on the decision. President Obregon stated last night in his conversation with the oil men was brief and extremely cordial.

Overturn Carranza's Decree. The suit decided yesterday was brought by the Texas company in 1917 following the denouncement of rights held by that company on a parcel of land at Zacamitlan, south of Tampico. Orders for such denouncement had been issued under the provisions of a decree issued by President Carranza on August 8, 1916, which called upon all companies to manifest their holdings. The Texas company failed to make such a manifest and the land was declared forfeited.

North Dakota Mayor and State's Attorney Parley with the Gang Leaders

GRAND FORKS, N. D., (AP)—Members of the I. W. Mayor William Stranger, State's Attorney Grimsom and B. E. Egge, of Langdon, advised the leaders of the I. W. W. that any advance on Langdon in a body would be considered an invasion and that the leaders of the men would be held responsible for any trouble which might result.

Leaders of the I. W. W. said they would announce their decision later in the day.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., (AP)—Mayor William Stranger and State's Attorney Grimsom of Langdon, N. D., arrived in Lakota early today to confer with leaders of a gang of several hundred I. W. TERCENTENARY IS CELEBRATED BY NOVA SCOTIA

Anniversary of Granting of the Charter by King James to Founder of Province is Occasion for Festivity

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N. S. (AP)—Sixteen years before the Mayflower with bristled sails cast anchor off the Plymouth Rock, the Blou de Monts sighted the Annapolis Basin from the stern deck of another ship, the Acadia, and landed to form the first settlement of white men north of the Gulf of Mexico.

Today Nova Scotians celebrated the three hundredth anniversary of the granting of the charter of (New Scotland) Nova Scotia, by King James I, to Sir William Alexander, in 1621, the point of origin of the sturdy Scottish pioneers who laid the foundations of settlement and government in this province three centuries ago as well as in the French Canadian provinces where the settlement of 1604 makes this town second only to St. Augustine, Florida, in point of age, in North America.

Three Tablets Unveiled

A tablet was unveiled by the government of Nova Scotia commemorating the grant to Sir William Alexander and the Scottish foundation of Nova Scotia, and another honoring the 200th year since the establishment and the signing of the first charter administering English Common Law in what is now the Dominion of Canada. A third tablet is in honor of Thomas Chandler Haliburton, the eminent Nova Scotian statesman, journalist and humorist who as creator of "Sam Slick," the Yankee clockmaker, won fame as the father of the Canadian novel. Judge Haliburton was admitted to the bar of Nova Scotia a century ago, and his famous book "The Clockmaker, or Sayings and Doings of Sam Slick of Slickville" appeared in 1837.

The Annapolis Valley afforded a singularly appropriate setting for the impressive ceremonies. The quiet, old-world town perched on the bluffs called the Monts, Port Royal is a lovely spot for the beauty of its environment, but later named Annapolis Royal by General Nicholson in honor of Queen Anne, overlooks the crowded basin where imagination readily conjures a picture of a three-masted, high-pooped vessel with square mainsail; of Champlain and de Monts and their followers in their stockaded dominions. The old French powderhouse, lined with stones brought from France especially to keep the powder dry still stands inside the fort built by the British in 1604 among the first erected on American soil. With first the fleur-de-lis and then the British lion flying from the peak, the fort was the scene of thirteen sanguinary battles during the French and Indian Wars. An army and navy brigade commanded by General Nicholson was dispatched from Boston in 1710 and for the last time the flag of Louis XIV. of France was hauled down. Moss Grows Over Cannons

The cannons were taken to England and supplanted by blanketed, old barrels that still poke their ugly snouts from the most grown ramparts and bastions.

The officers' barracks built by the Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, have been converted into a museum where the idle tourist may gaze on relics that would-if they could talk-tell many a fine tale of adventure and romance of the early days when America's history was told on few pages.

SALVAGING EXPEDITION SEEKS SUNKEN TREASURE

Trawler Sets Out for Submerged Wreck Containing Millions in Bullion

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bound on a quest for more than a million dollars in ransom treasure, the steam trawler Ripple was plowing south today, headed for Cape Charles, Va., and the submerged wreck of the Ward line steamer Merida.

The little trawler's decks were littered with equipment for the salvaging operations when she sailed from here late yesterday, and her crew included Frank Crilly, one of the best known of deep sea divers, and two assistants. George W. Nordstrom, chief officer of the Merida when she went down, also was aboard to aid in locating the wreck.

The Merida was sunk in about 35 fathoms of water on May 19, 1911, in a collision with the steamship Admiral Farnagut. Her cargo included gold and silver bullion valued at from one to two million dollars which was transported from Havana to New York. The Ripple's salvaging expedition is the second undertaken. The first effort was made in 1916 and was reported to have been financed by James A. Stillman, banker, and Percy Rockefeller.

BRITISH STEEL MAKERS OBJECT TO IMPORT DUTY

Plead for Readjustment of Rates Fixed by Fordney Bill Schedule

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—British makers of high speed steel appealed to the senate finance committee Tuesday to have them from what they termed "the prohibitive" import duties carried in the Fordney tariff bill. They pleaded for readjustment of the rates so that they, the Englishmen, might be allowed "to live, to work and to pay you what we owe you."

The British representation was made by Arthur Balfour, heading a delegation from the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce who pictured the consequences to the business of his home land should the Fordney steel rates be retained.

"We know," he added, "that the peace of the world depends on you and us. We want to do nothing to disturb, disorganize, or destroy the harmony which has so long existed between our countries."

"We ask for no favoritism. We never have dreamed of any retaliatory measures. We contemplate no threat cutting. All we ask is that we be allowed to live, to work and to pay you what we owe you. And the only way we can pay you is to trade in goods. That, we are very, very anxious to do."

The American valuation basis of levying duties as provided in the Fordney bill also was objected to by Mr. Balfour. Such a method of laying import taxes, he said, would "absolutely" cut off any trade connections and create an element of uncertainty dangerous to trade.

"No customer, however old his business relations may be, is going to send us an open order," he continued, "when he can't tell and we can't tell what the duties are going to be. It is upon the duties that the prices depend."

ROOT SETS HIGH MARK FOR LEGAL PROFESSION

Tells Bar Association Aiding Rule of Democracy Offers Highest Public Service

CINCINNATI, O., (AP)—Declaring that public opinion required institutions for public expression, Elihu Root, former secretary of state, today addressed the American Bar association convention Tuesday night, telling the rule of democracy was the highest public service which the legal fraternity could perform.

Mr. Root, together with many prominent bar members from all parts of the country, began discussion at the means of furthering respect for the law and extending the influence of the American Bar association.

"Let me one think that these meetings are a performance," said Mr. Root. "Like our own country, the whole world is coming under the rule of democracy—and democracy depends on enlightened public opinion. The people in each country, rule the world to day."

It was one of fifty world war hero dead to arrive and was met by a large delegation of relatives, friends and others who assembled about the flag draped casket to do honor to the man who took Berggold's place. Gross was killed in action in France before he had been over the ten nine times. The body will be buried with full military honors.

ECONOMIST DRAFTS PLANS FOR RAILWAY CONSOLIDATION

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Tentative plans for consolidation of the nation's railroads into a limited number of systems, authorized under the Transportation act, were understood Tuesday to have been completed by Dr. W. Z. Ripley, the Harvard university economist who was directed by the interstate commerce commission to make a study of the question. Dr. Ripley's report, if war said, probably will be made public by the commission within about ten days.

TITLE HOLDERS ENTERED.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (AP)—The championship cup to be contested at the United States lawn tennis singles (the tournament, beginning Friday at noon) at the Germantown Cricket club, contains the names of more title holders than any trophy of the sort contested for in years. These cups, first offered in the early eighties, must be won three times for permanent possession. Richard Norris Williams II, and William M. Johnston already have won two legs on the cup and need but one more victory for permanent possession. Victory for either would mean a new cup in 1922.

A Chicago fight expert says Jack Dempsey will drop some of these days under the power of a punch to his right jaw.

AGRICULTURE TEACHER GETS POINTERS HERE

Professor Edmonds of Indianapolis Studies Farming Methods Here

John C. Edmonds of Indianapolis, who is in Twin Falls for the past few days, investigating the alfalfa fields and the methods of farming in the northwest, is here to study the alfalfa industry in the Jackson academy in Kentucky, and has spent the summer in the northwest states getting acquainted with the alfalfa business. Because of its value as a soil builder, Mr. Edmonds is alive to the importance of alfalfa in a regular crop rotation, and says that he came to the states of Oregon and Idaho because of their established reputation of raising the finest quality of alfalfa that is placed on the market.

"I was told that in the Twin Falls district I would find the crop in its best aspect," said Professor Edmonds, "and I agree that it is the best that I have found anywhere both in quantity and quality. I find the yield here to be unequalled by that of any other locality I have visited. I am unable to understand why the dairy business is so retarded here, however, as it is always found to be highly profitable in alfalfa regions. I have found the most successful crops of alfalfa in those fields where the farmer followed the plan of sowing the ground in the early spring. That is the secret of a 'good yield'."

Sniper's long last night's chief glory was an attack on Creek street, Bigham avenue. A party of Blain's began firing on the crowd, which, after a run along Bigham avenue, turned into the street and Old Lodgepole road. Many were trampled.

Later Stan Palmer fired from Stange street into Lino street and Old Lodgepole road. Although the rioting and occasional shots were heard and a night was declared to be the worst the city's history.

Maintain Your Best Face.

You are unfair to yourself when you neglect your possibilities to the other side of your face. You are not bound to it by handicaps. It may be the nicest thing to go as slowly as matter, but that's merely a matter of convenience and doesn't represent in capacity. Let your own inner voice be the compelling force that leads you to your best face. You can't be happy dragging along when I should be speeding. Besides this, things at slow rate demands more energy than should be used for operation. To do the work right should be insured in it so that it give you whole thought to thing you do. The fact that every man is a new challenge keeps you to your best and assures your best. To see things being done that best skill and ability is the call that answered by still better effort.

PARISHIONERS AT FILER BID MINISTER FAREWELL

Rev. Father George DeStoop
and His Successor Guests of Honor

According to an official announcement, the Rev. Father George DeStoop, pastor of the Catholic congregation at Filer, has been relieved by the Rt. Rev. Daniel M. Gorman, D. D., L. L. D., bishop of Boise, of his present charge and after a month's vacation about Filer will be assigned to a new place in the diocese.

During the four years of his incumbency the Rev. Father DeStoop has made many friends in Filer and Filer, and in Twin Falls as well.

Besides the record of a faithful administration he is credited with the erection of the most mission church at Filer.

Last night the Catholics of Filer and their friends tendered a public reception to Father DeStoop at the home of Mr. Leonard. After a brief musical program, the Rev. Father DeStoop, who was among the invited guests, was called upon to voice the sentiments of the Filer congregation upon the departure of their loved pastor and to bid his reverend successor, upon his further labors in the ministry.

To this address the Rev. Father DeStoop replied with grateful recognition of the many acts of kindness on the part of his parishioners, praising them for their devotion and their ever-readyness to support his efforts. Foreboding the future by the experience of the past, his reverence drew a picture of the coming growth and extension of the church in Filer and felt happy under such propitious conditions to introduce his successor, the Rev. Father Stephen Schatz, to the congregation.

The Rev. Father Schatz had just arrived from Boise where Bishop Gorman gave him his assignment to Filer and the missions. Having been introduced to the congregation of Filer by the retiring pastor, Father Schatz expressed his satisfaction at being appointed to labor amongst a people so appreciative of a priest's work and voiced the hope that the cordial relations which had existed between the Catholics of Filer and his predecessor might continue during his administration.

WOMEN SEEK FUNDS TO DEFRAY GIRLS' EXPENSE

Federated Clubs to Conduct a Food Sale in Fushing Championship Plan

The Federated Rural clubs will open the campaign for funds to meet the expense of sending the girls' championship teaming club to Spokane to compete for the northwest championship, by holding a cooked food sale at the Majestic pharmacy on Saturday, September 3.

The women's clubs have assumed the financial responsibility for this excursion and express the warmest desire to give the young girls the opportunity to add to the distinction that they have already won along this very practical line.

"We appreciate the incentive this is to our young people, and what it means to them to feel that we are all interested in their success," said Mrs. C. E. Covey, president of the Federated Rural club. "We always know what a great advantage it is to be well trained for our work, and we mean to spare no effort to give the coming housewives every encouragement to be experts at their work. That it is perhaps the most important work in the world, that of being a successful homemaker, no one attempts to deny. This work of training housewives for success ranks with the highest form of civic endeavor. The benefit from the present effort will not end with the particular group of girls who receive the immediate result, but will add to the enthusiasm all along the line wherever girls are working for honors in domestic training."

AN IMPORTANT STEP

With the announcement by the Twin Falls Elks of the perfecting and adoption of the plan for the financing of the new Elks' building in this city, Twin Falls witnesses the beginning of what promises to become a new and better era in the development of the industrial and business life of the city.

For some time now the Elks' building program has been before the local Lodge. Times were when hope almost gave place to despair, but the undiminished faith in the eventual success of the undertaking never faltered, and always, all the time, there was not lacking the faithful few to keep the project alive, bolster up the morale of the wavering and work for the development of a plan whereby the building might become an actuality.

But by and beside the credit which is due the Elks and the members whose special business it was to forward the project of the building, the Lodge itself is not the only institution to profit by the erection of the building. In a sense the Elks' building has constituted a sort of keynote to the building activities of the city as a whole. Others intending to begin construction upon various projects have based their programs to a very considerable extent upon the commencement of work on the Elks' building. "When the Elks' building starts" has been a frequent reply for months past to questions as to the date of the beginning of work upon other projects, and "when the Elks' building starts" has come to define the opening of a definite program of building, a part of which has been held up for many months.

In all likelihood the beginning of work upon the structure may be accepted as the signal for the commencement of building operations generally. Possibly the general program will almost reach the proportions of the splendid period of building trades prosperity which began several years ago and has never really closed at all, although for the past year it has shrunk to a point about which the least said is the soonest said, in comparison with former activity. There are many reasons why this should prove to be the case and very few in favor of a continuance of the stagnation of today.

General trade conditions throughout the country warrant the belief that, speaking generally, the low point in the industrial development of the country has been safely passed. Local conditions lend strength to the conviction that recovery from this time on will be rapid and that never again will the Twin Falls country witness a period of as acute depression as that now drawing to a close.

If the new Elks' building should stand as the single piece of building construction in the city for the entire year Twin Falls will still be the guinea. If it should prove to be the beginning of a return to normalcy in the building game it will mean the biggest single step forward in the progress of the city since the let-down of two years ago.

FIFTEEN CENTS AN HOUR

That the present plight of the western farmer is in a large measure due to the high freight-rates on hay and grain products, is the conclusion alike of local farmers and business men and of economists and financiers. It is stated by F. W. Peck, director of the agricultural extension department of the University of Minnesota, that the farmer depends for his profit upon his labor, and that grain producers were receiving an average of 15 cents an hour for their labor. We should all share the burden of readjustment and it is evident that the farmer is taking less than a reasonable revenue. Any decrease in freight rates is added directly to this 15 cents an hour and is a material increase to the farmer.

If there is on the part of any individual in the Twin Falls district an apathy towards the work that is being done looking towards a reduction of the discriminatory rates that have so adversely affected our prosperity, that must be an individual of very narrow vision. We can none of us prosper save as the farmer prospers. It is through the returns of his labor that we all build our business. When he loses, we all likewise lose. The manner in which many of the citizens of Twin Falls have aligned themselves with the farmers in the effort to obtain a fair adjustment of the rates is proof that there is no town and no county issue, but all for the Twin Falls district. Which is as it should be.

TO LOOK BACK 10,000 YEARS

With the granting of official permission investigators are to begin excavations on the site of the Biblical city Beth-Shan in Palestine. This work is to be carried on under the curator of the Egyptian section of the museum of the University of Pennsylvania.

Beth-Shan is one of the most important of historic cities. It is in the Valley of the Jezreel, just west of the Jordan and not far south of the Sea of Galilee. At various times it has been the scene of battles, because it was the strategic point of vantage to any military leader in olden times who might aspire to world domination. Most of the builders of ancient empires sought at one time or another to conquer Beth-Shan. Among foreign invaders Greeks, Romans and Arabs in turn have held it.

Aside from its significance as the scene of many battles Beth-Shan offers inducements to the investigator atforded nowhere else in such abundance. It is fairly certain that here are lodged the relics of seven and perhaps even nine distinct civilizations. Beth-Shan, it seems, comes in layers, each succeeding city in turn built on the ruins of the old. When successive waves of invasion swept over it there came to be reared in time a new Beth-Shan on the ruins of the old.

The relics which will be brought to light through this excavation will tell a unique story of progress of early days covering a period of more than 10,000 years.

POEMER KAISER'S POVERTY

One might pity the sorrows of a poor old man if it were other than the former emperor of Germany. He avers that he has barely enough income on which to live and laments that for 100 Gogman marks he receives in exchange but four Dutch guilders, worth 40 cents each in American money.

While we have no pity for the Hohenzollern because his present condition is far better than he deserves, without doubt the sting of his fallen estate has penetrated his soul. He has life but no longer has he power. He may have a few sympathetic followers still about him, but he no longer hears the "hoops" of the crowd. He is not heroic in exile because there never was anything heroic about his character. He was a seventeenth century monarch in the twentieth century. His swashbuckling is ended, though, despite his complaints of poverty, he is vastly better off in possessions than ninety-nine hundredths of those he once ruled.

It is the contrast only that makes him poor and that is the punishment he is getting. There was a demand for his life. We believe that he is being punished more severely than were he executed. His is a condition that will cause no envy.

"Let's go" is suggested as a slogan for the country by Postmaster General Hays. And when the country decides to adopt it, it will find that the postoffice department is already on the job.

It is not startling, not even surprising, that Germany is not satisfied with the terms of the treaty proposed by the United States. We'd know there was something wrong if she were.

A so-called gentleman from South Carolina called Joe Fordney a liar on the floor of congress the other day, but as he didn't intimate that Joe is a low tariff man, he's still alive.

Commercial organizations in all parts of the country report that a better tone is appearing in the business world. Wonder if that will make the pessimist change his.

Germany the other day celebrated the second anniversary of the German imperial republic. It has endured longer than many predicted.

Going after Mr. High Tax with a sharp ax, as is being done these days at Washington, is a heartening exhibition of good statesmanship.

It is proposed to increase the income tax exemption to $400 for each dependent. Bless their little hearts.

Postmaster General Hays wants criticism of the department. Bureaucratic get them without asking.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE MORALS OF MEN

By S. E. KISER

BILL SIMPKINS wouldn't steal a dime, However hard he might be pressed; He thinks that theft's the blackest crime A villain ever has confessed. But Bill would have no hesitation, Nor let his conscience give him pain, If by well-screened provocation He might have anything to gain.

DAVE HAWLEY thinks the man who tries To cheat another in a trade Is very sinful and unwise— A trickster of the lowest grade. But Dave will hide an ace while dealing The pasteboards in a friendly game, And thereby get the money, feeling No touch of guilt or twinge of shame.

JOHN GUDGEON thinks that any wretch Who beats a horse or kicks a dog Should dance to his neck would stretch Or meet his end in a mortal fog. But, free from any dark misgiving, He robs his tenants and deprives Their children of the joy of living, His profits squeezed from human lives.

AL SNIGGERS would not, for any price, Be crooked in a business deal, And they, he thinks, are not a dime apart Who disregard the common weal; His heart is touched by children's crying He helps the beggar on his way, But he would not be slow in trying To coax his best friend's wife astray.

DECLARES LAWLESSNESS INVADES MANY SPHERES AND MAKES AGE OF SHAM

Solicitor General James M. Beck Tells American Bar Association Revolt Against Tradition and Authority Shatters Morale of State, Arts and Commerce, and Sets Human Advancement Back a Thousand Years

CINCINNATI, Ohio, (AP)—Revolt against tradition and authority has sprung up not only against the political state, but in music, art, poetry and commerce until the age has become "a complete age of sham and counterfeit," James M. Beck, solicitor general of the United States, declared before the American Bar association today. He spoke on "The Spirit of Lawlessness."

"The statistics of our criminal courts in recent years show an unprecedented growth in crime," Mr. Beck said. "But this revolt against authority is not confined to the political state. In music its fundamental canons have been thrown aside and discord has replaced harmony. Its culmination—jazz—is a musical crime."

"In the plastic arts, the criteria of beauty have been swept aside by the futurists, cubists, vortecists and other aesthetically indecent. In poetry, beauty of rhythm and nobility of thought have been replaced by exaltation of the grotesque and brutal."

Age of Sham.

"In commerce," the revolt is one against purity and standards and the tendency of business men. Who can question that this is preeminently the age of sham and counterfeit?"

"Two of the oldest empires in the world—China and Russia—are in a wolver of anarchy," the solicitor general said, "and in even the most stable governments, the underground rumblings of revolution may be heard. But of still greater significance to the welfare of civilization is the complete subversion during the world war of nearly all the international laws which have been built up. This force war of extermination has put us back—temporarily, let us hope—a thousand years."

The morale of our industrial civilization has been shattered. Work for work's sake, the most glorious privilege of human faculties, has gone. The overton to work is the great evil of the world today. The whole history of the mechanized era is a persistent struggle for more pay and shorter hours and today it has culminated in world-wide ruin. In my judgment, the economic catastrophe of 1921 is far greater than the politico-military catastrophe of 1914."

Accompanying the indispodition to work, the solicitor general continued, has been a "mad desire for pleasure such as has not been seen within the memory of living man."

Dance at Venge of Ahyas.

"Man has danced upon the verge of a social abyss, and even the dancing has reverted to the primitive forms of unbridled conditions," Mr. Beck declared.

Speaking of newspapers, he deplored the increase in "the ephemeral and the classified."

HEAVY ENROLLMENT IS PRESAGED AT VARSITY

Already Oredentials Have Been Received from 225 Prospective Students

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—Prospects for a heavy enrollment at the University of Idaho this fall were indicated today by the announcement that already 225 new students had sent in their credentials from high schools or from other institutions from which they were entering. This number not only is greater than the corresponding number for last year but also is in excess of the number that have been received when the university opened last fall, according to an announcement from the office of Miss Ella Olsen, university recorder.

"Whether this means an unprecedented increase in enrollment, however, would be only a matter of guesswork," said Miss Olsen. "The university has made a special effort this year to see that credentials were in early."

Last year, on the first day, only 150 credentials had been received, but the hands of the university officials. By the close of the first week freshmen enrollment had grown to 330. For this year, it was 255. A proportionate increase this year would produce a freshman class of 410. University officials indicated, however, that a proportional increase this year was not expected.

Thirteen new students from Twin Falls already have indicated, either by sending in their high school credentials or by asking for room reservations, that they expect to enter the university this fall.

"Students should see to it," said Miss Olsen, "that their credentials are sent in before they come. Otherwise they may have to telegraph home for their credits. At best they can be admitted only provisionally."

From the office of President A. H. Upham it was learned that 135 students had applied for work to help them through the year. More than half of these, it was said, were new students. The university and the chamber of commerce, co-operating, have listed all the jobs in town and on the campus that will be available for self-supporting students.

NEVADA WORKING HARD ON HARD SURFACE HIGHWAYS

Governor Boyle Believes Road Building Important Feature of State's Activities

That the construction of hard surface roads throughout the state of Nevada is the biggest and most important feature of the entire executive program is the statement of Governor Boyle in a review of the session's operations in the matter of road building contained in the Carson City Appeal of a few days ago.

As is usual, Governor Boyle regrets the delays occasioned in various ways which have interfered with the rapid prosecution of the state's plans. However, he is quoted as saying that the peak of the activity has been reached and that from this time on there will be more actual building of roads and less time spent in plans, estimates and preparations.

The Helenecke Construction company and its work come in for warm commendation at the hands of Governor Boyle, who says:

"The Helenecke Construction company has been a revolution to many who have had an interest in road building. This outfit came prepared to lay concrete and asphalt on the work. We have not heretofore been that out of the way of something they did not know about. The result was delays and small profits, but now these contractors at an extremely high price. One inspection of the Helenecke outfit and a few hours watching the work will show anyone that they are not only doing the job but they are doing it right. We have set a mark that other contracting firms will have to keep up in the future."

Money Is Limited.

"The limited amount of money which Nevada can raise for road building is the big reason why we have literally reached the limit and while it will slow down work to some extent, I firmly believe that the federal assistance that will come out of the roads when the population of Nevada is considered and the work already performed is surveyed I am satisfied that the state will have no trouble in making the biggest gain in Nevada today and in making progress."

SECOND SCHOOL TRUSTEE TICKET PLACED IN FIELD

New Lineup Is Prepared to be Submitted for Approval at Tuesday's Election

K. Keith, of Murtugah addition, and W. E. Foster, rancher and owner of the Paper mill, for the two-year term; D. W. Updegraff, present chairman of the school board, for one year.

Reuben D. Thacker, justice of the peace, presided at last night's meeting with Mr. Stevens acting as clerk. The ticket was filed with Mr. Scott immediately following the caucus by E. P. Walker.

EASTERN CHURCHMAN STRESSES ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF BOARD ON REVENUE ENLARGES AT CONVENTION

The Rev. Dr. R. J. Wade Delivers Appealing Lecture Depicting Widening of Churches Work Scope at Home and Abroad Inaugurating Thirty-eighth Annual Methodist Conclave of Idaho

With an address in which he summarized the work performed by the centenary board of benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal church of Idaho was officially inaugurated in the First Methodist Episcopal church last night. The church contained a capacity audience.

The address was delivered by Dr. R. J. Wade of Chicago, who is secretary of the centenary board of benevolence. In this lecture the speaker depicted the operations of the board, which has headquarters in Philadelphia, demonstrating by figures an extraordinary broadening of the scope of the church's functioning and a tremendous increase in the future of the church throughout the homeland and in foreign fields.

Illustrates Activities

Dr. Wade's lecture was accompanied by views illustrative of the centenary board's line of activities; what that board has already done and what it proposes for the future. He told of the collection and disbursement of vast fortunes for the propagation of Christian knowledge at home and abroad, and the carrying on of work in the future. Dr. Wade left this morning for Denver where he will conduct a similar campaign in the interest of centenary benevolence.

Dr. Wade used as his subject, "Methodism Helping Re-build the World."

Many Delegates Present

There are more than 200 delegates and visitors attending the convention, most of which were opened yesterday afternoon in the reception of candidates for clerical orders. Later a report was rendered on examinations of those candidates, but it is not a public affair. The evening session was inaugurated at 7:30 with a half hour organ recital followed by a song festival by the choir. The address of welcome for the evening was given by Alderman C. P. Bowler, responses kindly made by the Rev. Ira R. Altshuler, pastor of the Methodist church, Cascade, Idaho, was appointed to represent the Methodist report, the official church paper, Ministerial, of the First Methodist church in Twin Falls, was chosen secretary of the convention. The Rev. H. B. McDonald, pastor of the Methodist church, Cascade, Idaho, was appointed to represent the Methodist report, the official church paper, Ministerial, of the First Methodist church in Twin Falls, was chosen secretary of the convention. The Rev. H. B. McDonald, pastor of the Methodist church, Cascade, Idaho, was appointed to represent the Methodist report, the official church paper, Ministerial, of the First Methodist church in Twin Falls, was chosen secretary of the convention.

Alderman Bowler's welcoming address in the nature of a prayer or P. W. McRoberts, was short, pithy and couched in well chosen language and phrases. He complimented the Methodist conference, saying the "biggest thing done in the world today was done by the churches." The speaker welcomed the conference "because of the spiritual awakening that is sure to follow this meeting, and the splendid vision it must bring of Christian life, of Christian sacrifice and of Christian service."

Alderman Bowler dealt briefly with the purpose of the convention and extended a hearty welcome in the name of the "best and cleanest little city of the west" and predicted for the meeting a week of fruitfulness both within the body of the convention and through the outside social activities.

The conference sermon was given by the Rev. J. A. Glendinning of Boise, at 8:30 o'clock.

Bishop Burns Speaks

Devotional services opened this morning, at 8:30 in charge of Bishop Charles Wesley Burns. The inspirational singing of the age old hymns of devotion followed the prayer, led by the Rev. W. A. Winter of Eagle, Ore., and the Rev. P. W. Manning of Hannan, Idaho.

The address to the delegates by Bishop Burns centered about the text from the gospel of St. John 10:17: "And he, bearing his cross, went forth."

Bishop Burns said, in part: "To feel the weight of his ambassadorship, one must first feel the weight of his cross. Our griefs and our trials, our sorrows and our disappointments, when rightly understood, are our best power. When we read that 'the prophetic word was not without effect, but it was fulfilled in us and for us, and we have not yet forgotten God.'"

Is Your Boy Ready?

Just a few days more and school starts. Son will be hurrying off to classes with the other boys.

"Will he be as neatly dressed as they are? We don't mean as expensively, for a boy can be neat and clean, without being expensively dressed. Prices are much less for fall than they were a few months ago. And you'll find that qualities are better. Any of the following items you will find require only a small investment.

HAS FAITH IN TWIN FALLS

Dr. H. W. Dr. Parker states that the contrast with which he was approached the new territory has deepened into an unbounded faith in Twin Falls and all that it stands for.
