

FAMINE HOLDS VOLGA REGION IN IRON GRIP

Pen Pictures of Desolation and Misery Come Out of Stricken Russian Districts; Many Children Perish

SEMYAYENKA, Russia, (AP)—Desolation is written large on the rolling prairies which stretch away on every side of this little village in the heart of the famine region of the Volga. Cattle and horses have cropped the sparse herbage until the very grass roots have been eaten, and the hot winds that blow across the waste raise great clouds of dust from the parched fields.

The winter wheat must be sown as soon as the soil permits. There has been any preparation for the fall seeding. It is the general practice for the farmers to sow their wheat by September 15, but that date will find the fields lying fallow, for there are no horses to plow the ground and the people are unable to secure seed for the next harvest. The leaves are gray, and even the peasants look gray, being clad mostly in khaki uniforms and grain and wearing sandals made of birch bark.

This village formerly had a population of 1000, but 100 per cent of the people have left. The houses that have been numerous, the peasants say, but there are no detailed figures available.

Peasants here are pessimistic over the coming of relief. They say that aid will reach them too late. Pure rye seed costs 3000 rubles a bushel, and only a few of the wealthy people are able to buy.

Everywhere the Associated Press correspondent has traveled, through Samara province, he has seen mangled women and children gathered in groups discussing the famine. Food is the sole topic of conversation. They are busy hauling loads of tree boughs for use as fodder for their starving cows and horses.

SYZRAN, Russia, (AP)—There was a time when Syzran was the most colorful city along the Volga, but that time is gone. Today it is crowded with destitute people who have been driven into gray masses in their search for food. Even the laughter of children has been silenced in the despair that has taken the heart of the thousands, who sit, crossing themselves and wait for what seems to be the inevitable.

Misery's Reign Widespread. Pictures of misery seen here are duplicated in Samara, Saratov, Stavropol, Transilvania and every other city in the famine-stricken valley of the Volga. Docks and railroad stations are piled high with the belongings of the refugees, who were driven from their lands by the drought and the clouds of grasshoppers that destroyed even the meager crops that had been the heart of the terrible summer now drawing to a tragic close.

Markets have sprung up, mushroom-like, here and there about the refugees camps, where they are selling bread, flour and meat. They are surrounded by hungry people, who have no money to offer, but who exchange wedding rings, fur coats, caps, leather pans, boots and other small possessions. Large peasant families arrive in a state of exhaustion, their carts being dragged by mangled and starved horses. In the carts are samovars, talking machines, concertinas and American sewing machines, which are bartered for food or for coffee. Some markets are under armed guard, but this appears to be unnecessary as the peasants are too weak and passive to take violent measures.

Infant Mortality High. Miss Anna Falnes of Philadelphia, a worker for the friends Relief organization, is in Samara and last week tall the mortality among children here and three years old is very high and that nearly 90 per cent are already dead. She told of four persons dying on a station platform in Samara the other night, while they were waiting to be transferred to some other town.

In Spain a system of aerial fish transport is about to be put into operation whereby the inhabitants of Manila will be assured of a fresh supply of fish, shrimps and shelled oysters. A new takes 24 hours to reach the capital from the nearest by rail but the airplane service will deliver the goods in three hours.

IDAHO PRESS ASSOCIATION FATHERS SCHEME FOR CONSTRUCTIVE DEVELOPMENT IN STATE

Ambitious Program of Progressive Endeavor will be Launched at Meeting to be Held in Pocatello This Week—Industrial Leaders Invited to Present Views—Statesmen Also Invited

BOISE—What is proclaimed by the leading men of Idaho to be one of the most constructive development programs yet outlined is fathered by the Idaho Press association, representing a large majority of the publishers of the state.

This program will be launched at the annual meeting of the press association at Pocatello on Saturday, September 10, 1921.

In a word, it is to be a state-wide survey of business conditions in Idaho. Leaders are invited.

Leaders of every branch of principal industry and actively in Idaho have been invited to attend this conference with the editors to the end that a better understanding of the respective situations be obtained and closer cooperation secured as to essential.

Why no uniform program will like to be adopted, each editor left to his own analysis and action, it is felt the results of the conference will be of wide-spread benefit to the state. It will in no wise be a controversial conference, it is announced, but wholly informative, for the editors and the others present, so that each may have a clearer view of the problems of the others and be in position to extend aid as to fundamentals of moment to the entire public.

The conference will include industrial, educational, financial, commercial and, as to industrial legislation, political subjects. It will be informal and a clear view of the situation.

Representative Outlining. It is expected this will be the most representative gathering of Idaho editors in the history of the state. Among those invited to meet with the publishers are the following:

- Governor Havin; Attorney General Black; Secretary of State Jones; State Auditor Gallet; State Treasurer Barber; Ethel L. Lockwell, superintendent of public instruction; Senator Willard E. Rorah; Senator Frank B. Gooding; Congressman Addison T. Platt; Congressman Byron L. French; William Hall, commissioner of public works; D. P. Olson, commissioner of highways; David Burdell, commissioner of agriculture; J. C. Franke, commissioner of finance; O. H. Barber, commissioner of immigration.

Dr. W. F. Howard, Pocatello, president, Idaho Refinement association; J. E. Lockwell, Bellevue; Will H. Gilson, Mountain Home; P. C. Meredith, Buhl; C. C. Moore, St. Anthony; J. M. Thompson, Caldwell; Barry Dibble, manager American Falls project.

Agriculture. W. W. Dent, Nampa, head of State Grange; C. Ben Ross, Pocatello, president State Farm Bureau; Miss Anna Traritan, head of the Idaho Agricultural Association; W. D. Kjosness, Boise, state club leader.

Horticulture. L. Leo Traux, Idaho Horticultural Association; C. K. Maesy, Boise.

Livestock. Frank J. Hagenbarr, Spencer, president National Wool Growers' association; John W. Hart, Monart; L. L. Dillingham, Mackay, Idaho Cattle and Horse Breeders' association; Hugh Bryant, Boise, Idaho Wool Growers' association.

Lumber. J. T. Hamblin, Sandpoint; C. A. Barton, Boise; Huntington Taylor, Coeur d'Alene.

Women's Activities. Mrs. L. B. Green, Mountain Home president Idaho State Federation of Women's clubs; Miss Sophia Boehler, Boise, president State Federation of Business and Professional Women; Mrs. S. J. Ewen, Boise, president of Idaho Parent-Teacher association.

Labor. J. A. Parke, Boise, president Idaho State Federation of Labor; and others to be designated.

Mining. Harry L. Day, Wallace; James P. McCarthy, Wallace; Stanley Eganon, Kellogg.

Banking. J. W. Robinson, Boise, Idaho State Bankers' association; P. F. Johnson, Boise; J. M. Maxwell, Twin Falls; Miss I. N. Anthes, Pocatello; Judge W. Stumpe, Boise; and Mrs. V. A. Fattine, Pocatello; John Thomas, Gooding.

Railroads. H. M. Adams, vice president Union Pacific; Gen. B. S. Spencer, Boise, Laker, general passenger agent; O. S. L.; J. A. Reeves, Salt Lake, general freight agent; O. S. L.; Joel I. Priest.

SNAKE "GRAND CANYON" STIRS UNIVERSITY MAN

Prof. Lacey Spends Summer in Classic Stream's Wonderlands

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow (Special)—Full of enthusiasm for the scenic wonders of "The Grand Canyon of the Snake," Dr. F. B. Lacey, professor of geology, has returned from a summer's work along this canyon and in the Seven Devils mountains. He brought with him a large collection of photographs, taken by A. M. Piper, assistant geologist of the state bureau of mines and geology, to be used by the Idaho Development association in the scheme for Idaho publicity which is being fostered by commercial clubs throughout the state.

"There is nothing of its type comparable to it in the United States," said Dr. Lacey, speaking of this canyon. "From the tops of the surrounding peaks, it is deeper than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. It is more rugged than the Colorado canyon. The colors are more subdued, but they are marvelous—colors of purple and sage, with the greens of several kinds of trees and purple willows. The whole is overgrown with a bluish haze, like the indescribable bloom on a grape."

This canyon is the bed of that part of the Snake river that forms the boundary between Oregon and Idaho along the border of the northern half of Adams county and of Idaho county to the south of the Salmon river. It begins due west of Coeur d'Alene, which is one of the points from which the canyon may be reached by pack train. One may also pack out from Homestead, Ore., which may be reached by railroad from Huntington or by auto from Baker.

"Most people do not know there is such a canyon here," said Dr. Lacey. "One of our packers was a rancher and buckaroo who has lived in this canyon for years. He was so enthusiastic that he rode back over the trail, more than 50 miles, to get his wife to show her the scenery. He said it surpassed anything he had seen either in the Yellowstone or in Glacier National park."

"The roughest part of the canyon is just west of the Seven Devils range. The top of the Ho Davis is perhaps five miles in a straight line from the river and its altitude is 9,600 feet. The elevation of the water surface is probably 1,800 feet, so that you have a rise of more than 8,000 feet in five miles. Rises of from 4,000 to 6,000 feet in four or five miles are quite the order of things."

"On Monday night there will be a service in Trinity church at 8 o'clock. Bishop Howard Touret will be one of the speakers at this service. At 9:30 a public reception will be tendered Bishop and Mrs. Touret, and to the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. L. Chandler, by the church people and friends of Pocatello and vicinity."

"On Tuesday, the 13th, there will be an early celebration of the holy communion at 7:30 a. m. at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. the regular sessions of the conference will be held. The subjects as per notice of August 15.

The following leaders in church work will deliver addresses at these conferences: Bishop Touret, Archbishop Chambers of the Oregon, the Rev. Thomas Jenkins of St. David's, Portland; Mrs. Wilson Johnston, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese of Oregon; Mrs. T. W. Kydd of St. Mark's church, Seattle, a prominent leader in women's work in the northwest, and Mr. J. W. Lethaby, financial secretary of the nation-wide campaign for Oregon. These speakers are all prominent church workers of the Pacific northwest and we are especially favored in having them present at this conference."

Two typical southwestern products are to be perpetuated when a huge bronze with spirited figures of cowboy and hawhorn after it placed in the state house grounds at Austin, Texas. The old time cowboy is now nearly extinct and fat Herefords have replaced the longhorn.

UNIVERSITY HOLDS POSITION OPEN TO GENERAL WOOD

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., (AP)—Unless an emergency arises regarding his continued services in the Philippine Islands, Major General Leonard Wood will assume his duties as head of the University of Pennsylvania on September 1, 1922. It was announced Tuesday by Dr. C. C. Harrison, chairman of the board of trustees of the university.

This understanding was confirmed by General Wood in a telegram received today by Dr. Harrison.

VOTERS CHANGE COMPLEXION OF SCHOOL BOARD

Four New Members are Chosen Out of Five Truities Places to be Filled

James Fitzgerald, K. S. Peters, O. B. Keith, W. E. Foster and D. W. Updegraff were returned victors at a school election held here yesterday. A light vote was cast with a majority favoring the second ticket placed in nomination all down the line of candidates. The vote by individuals was:

Fitzgerald	114	24 Ward	114
Keith	80	24 Ward	80
Peters	83	24 Ward	83
Updegraff	120	24 Ward	120
Foster	141	24 Ward	141
Norris	83	24 Ward	83
Updegraff	120	24 Ward	120
Dobbs	72	24 Ward	72

The ballots have been filed with the clerk of the district, Mr. C. R. Scott, for certification to the county superintendent of schools. Mrs. Scott is the only holdover member of the board. Elections were made yesterday and vacancies caused by resignations during the past year. Installation of the newly-elected trustees will be made at the next monthly night's regular meeting, at which time the board will also organize for the year. D. W. Updegraff elected yesterday to the one-year term over Mrs. Dobbs, is at present president of the board, having been appointed to that position when W. V. Parish resigned last spring.

BOISE'S TEAM IS COMING HERE FOR TWO GAMES

Return Engagement Will Be Played on Twin Falls and Bull Hall Fields

The Boise baseball team will come to Twin Falls next Saturday evening and on Sunday afternoon will play a game of ball against the Owl Falls All-Stars on Paris field, Bull. On Monday the same contenders will perform on Lincoln field, Twin Falls. Arrangements for this return series were completed by Manager James Orwig today, and plans for conducting the series were carried out with a view to making the affairs a playing and financial success. Manager Gove of the Boise club expects to bring the same team as formed the lineup when Twin Falls was defeated at Boise last Sunday and Monday. The Twin Falls team will be practically the same. Cooper is scheduled to twirl the first game with Steele or Oliver ready to take a turn in the second. Since the games in Boise this week considerable interest has developed here, and it is now believed that a record crowd will attend the games, both at Bull and on Lincoln field.

BONDING PROPOSITION DEFEATED AT HANSEN

Voters Turn Down Proposal to Issue $10,000 for Completion of Building

HANSEN—Election of the Hansen independent school district Tuesday voted down by vote of more than two to one the proposed issuance of $10,000 worth of the district's bonds to apply on completion of the Hansen school building. The vote was 26 for the bonds and 80 against. Opposition to the issue arose principally from the fact that the proposed bond issue, which was limited by the valuations of the district's property, would have been inadequate to complete the building. George Pledger, retiring clerk of the board, stated today that the increased valuation made effective this year would permit of the issuance of bonds in the approximate sum of $25,000 which would be sufficient to complete the building. He predicted that the issue thus increased would carry at next year's election. Frank Brewer and Willis Sampson were elected trustees for the three year term succeeding Mr. Pledger and Lloyd H. Millson.

IDAHO FALLS PREPARES TO GREET AUTO CARAVAN

Welcome Addresses by Governor and Bannocks Figure in Plans

Committees are being appointed and plans are being outlined at Idaho Falls for the meeting and entertainment of the members of the auto caravan on their way from New York to Bull, Idaho, to make their home. There are 28 cars with trailers in the party which is made up of 90 people. They are expected to arrive in Idaho Falls about the 10th or 12th and will spend the afternoon and night here, says the Idaho Falls Times-Register. Idaho Falls is the first formal stop in Idaho on the part of the members of the caravan and it is expected that the official greeting to the state of Idaho will be made to the travelers by Governor Travis and others. Frank W. Brown, secretary to the governor, and Frank Emshere, head of the state constabulary, are with the auto tourists, meeting them at Coaly, Wyo., and will guide and accompany them here and on to Bull.

No formal plans have been made as yet but so far as announced include having a mounted escort of Round-up members, the riders to impart as much local color as big hats and boots will give, to meet the caravan a few miles up the road and escort the party to the auto tourist park on the Central school grounds. After the cars are parked and the tourists "washed up," a barbecue dinner of roast meats and vegetables, sandwiches and coffee will be served. No attempt will be made to serve a community dinner. The reception committee will act as hosts at dinner. After the meal is served a public reception is being planned at which the governor is expected to give his address of welcome. Then the city, county and other officials. Dinners from Port Hall in full regalia will possibly be secured, to give a war dance exhibition around the camp fire and a welcoming address in "Bannock." A street dance with music by the municipal band to which all are invited will probably conclude the program.

ELECTIONS—Elections of trustees for the Filer high school district and for Filer Independent school district held here Tuesday were marked by little public interest. There were no contests for the positions to be filled and a light vote was cast. In conformity with the amended state law, the Rev. D. L. Graybill was elected as the sixth member of the rural high school district board of trustees. There have been but five members heretofore. Guy H. Shearer was re-elected, his term of office having expired on this date. J. M. Penny and H. K. Dillingham were elected as trustees of Filer independent school district for three year terms. Dr. J. M. Goode was elected as successor to E. H. Snyder.

School Refrainers on Opening Day 2,370

In the high, intermediate and third grade schools 2,375 pupils registered yesterday, the first day of school. This does not include beginners, who are registering with the overflow of a nursery consideration of the general athletic subject. The girls of the Blue Triangle club were all wearing Blue Triangle tags yesterday to distinguish themselves from the freshmen girls. The club girls acted as guides to the freshmen girls and helped these find their classes during the day.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the student body met for the first time this year. Superintendent M. C. Mitchell introduced Principal A. E. Karnes who, after a few words of greeting, requested Coach Glenn W. Evans to make an announcement. Coach Evans said that those football men who meant business should meet in room 201 immediately after school. Mr. Karnes then outlined the changes in the school regulations for the coming year. The school will take up at 8:50 a. m. instead of 9 o'clock, as before. The library is to be closed except from 8:30 to 9 o'clock, from 1 to 1:45 clock and from 4 till 4:30 in the evening. This week Miss Constance Fago will handle the exchange of books in the library. A new system of giving final examinations was introduced by Mr. Karnes. All students who have an attendance record of 100 per cent and also have their grades above 75 per cent are exempt from examinations. Those who have only three tardy slips and two absence slips for a semester and have an average of 87 per cent are exempt. Those who have an average of 94 per cent are exempt no matter how many absence slips are held against them. Coach Evans met with the young men who are going out for football, immediately after school yesterday afternoon. Sixty-seven turned out for a cursory consideration of the general athletic subject. The girls of the Blue Triangle club were all wearing Blue Triangle tags yesterday to distinguish themselves from the freshmen girls. The club girls acted as guides to the freshmen girls and helped these find their classes during the day.

The islands of the lonely Pacific—seductive and languorous—lull mind and heart into a living dream—and the wanderer, cursing their drugging spell, can never forget the impelling call.

ADOLPH ZUKOR PRESENTS A GEORGE FITZMAURICE PRODUCTION "Idols of Clay" with MAE MURRAY and DAVID POWELL

Life had mocked at their dreams—and tumbled them into the depths. What was left to them now? Come, see what love can do! Under warm skies on a tropical isle. In pleasure resorts of the rich. In underworld dives of London.

EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES... George B. David Co., Inc., 117 Madison Ave., New York...

AS OTHERS SEE US... From Ely, Nevada, came an argument for Twin Falls support of the proposed railway...

The building of this proposed railroad will not only mean a great industrial development at Contact, but it will also materially enhance the property and population of the town of Wells...

It is to be regretted that apparent sentiment here regarding the railway project should furnish basis for the Nevada editor's not altogether flattering estimate of Twin Falls attitude toward an enterprise so indispensable to its well being...

TOURIST TRADE PAYS... North Idaho has been taking stock of its resources and finds what is undoubtedly true with respect to most Idaho communities—that the auto tourist trade is a live commercial asset that pays big dividends...

The question was brought up by a discussion of whether or not it pays to maintain tourist camps and extend courtesies to the traveling motorists. In order to ascertain the facts the commercial club of a north Idaho town of average conditions, invited its merchants, hotels, garages and other places of business to keep a record so far as possible of the money spent with them within a given week by automobile tourists...

The result of the inquiry was the report that tourists spent a little more than $5,000 in that community that week, and the question was answered to the satisfaction of north Idaho mercantile interests that the auto tourist is an asset and that his presence and business should be encouraged by the establishment of parks and good roads...

There is no similar compilation of the financial advantages accruing to a southern Idaho community through patronage of the motor tourists, but it is not to be doubted that the result of a similar investigation herabouts would not be far different than that of the Panhandle inquiry...

North Idaho's investigations reduce to definite figures and concrete facts the notion that has been gaining ground in most communities that are favored by the visit of motor tourists, and should serve to emphasize the necessity here for establishment and maintenance of parks, good roads and adequate and trustworthy publicity that will bring them here...

A DISADVANTAGED PEOPLE... While as a nation we believe it a duty to give aid to backward peoples, giving a government to the Philippines and sending missionaries to all parts of the earth, we have disadvantaged people right at home. Among them are the inhabitants of the Blue Ridge and Cumberland ranges of mountains in Kentucky and Tennessee...

President Hutchins of Berea College, an institution that has carried much light to the mountains, says there are 3,000,000 of these backward people on the slopes and in the valleys of the Southern Highlands. The ancestors of these people went into the mountains through poverty or exploration and the hills have held them ever since at about the same level. There are no roads worthy of the name, the soil is not capable of producing enough to give proper support to a family, and markets cannot be reached...

manding money doubtless contributes to the belief in its deseculences. This situation is of concern not alone to the states that claim these people as citizens. It is a problem for the whole country. People who do not progress go backward. No doubt our land has exulted as a nation in illiteracy is augmented by these people. They are of good stock but have succumbed to environment, and it is among such that blood feuds exist, though possibly they do not prevail with the intensity of other days. An infection of one member is of influence on the whole body. It might be well for us to give a bit less attention to the backward people on the far side of the earth and take a little more interest in lifting out of ignorance and the seclusion of the hills some of our own people who need help to reach the average of American intelligence.

MOTION PICTURES IN SCHOOL... The old philosopher who told the king there was no royal road to learning, that is to say, no smooth, conventional highway to avoid the rocks and ruts of the customary path, lived before the days of motion pictures. Some recent experiments indicate that before long this invention will be generally utilized to make education more efficient. In New York 500 pupils of the seventh grade, divided into three groups, were tested. One set was given a prescribed lesson orally, the others through motion pictures. The latter received marks averaging 23 per cent higher than those of the orally instructed.

In Detroit two groups of scholars, equal in standing and intelligence, were elected for the comparison. A certain film was shown twice to the first group, the time occupying 15 minutes. The teacher did not explain the pictures while they were being shown nor did she prepare the children for the lesson intended to be conveyed. They identified lists of questions were given the two groups to answer. Those who got their lesson through the eye instead of through the ear made average better marks over three per cent. Four weeks later an impromptu review test on the same lesson was sprung on both sets of pupils and those who had learned through the pictures scored a four per cent higher mark.

There are subjects, of course, in which pictures can never be substituted for good, hard digging in the books. Nor would it be desirable to dispense with the mental discipline which comes through vigorous, continued exercise of the mind. The main object of education, despite Mr. Edison's theory, is not the accumulation of a mass of facts, but to train the mind to reason from facts and to learn where to find valuable information when needed.

While wisely recognizing the natural limitations of motion pictures, educators are coming to utilize them more as they perceive their practical possibilities in the school room.

One probably does not have to get into line right now for a passport to Russia.

OPINIONS REPRINTED

Childish News: People do not become rich through saving. They may become wealthy, but they will never become rich. People who become rich, unless a fortune is left to them, do so by their desire to build something. Say a railroad or a department store or something else. The grand idea is to create something of good or benefit growing under their influence and then some day they wake up rich. The institution has simply got to grow, for behind it is someone that is carrying the idea in his mind and giving it his whole working thought. He makes an improvement here and he makes one there. He sees nothing but the success of his undertaking and he works to the end of accomplishing his ambition. His success makes him rich.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE SANCTITY OF THE LAW

By M. E. KISER... 'BE calm,' counseled others when... 'Hold fast to reason, fellow men, let no one lose his head... Remember that the law is made... The women who seemed wild before, Fought a while to scorch; They pleaded for revenge no more, But listened to his speech... THEN one of those who lingered said: 'The victim is YOUR child... The wise man who had kept his head... Down from his box he leaped and led... The mad mob on the run, Foam on his lips, and seeing red... Until the job was done.'

Department Urges Porto Rico to Save $3,500,000 On Its Hogs

Forage Crops Recommended as Means of Increasing Growth of Swine Herds

From Porto Rico there comes into the United States each year a large contribution to the sugar, fruit, vanilla and tobacco supply. Coffee is extensively grown, but little of it reaches the states. The report for 1920 of the Porto Rico agricultural experiment station, under the supervision of the United States department of agriculture, at Mayaguez, indicates agricultural improvements which should benefit owners, laborers, and ultimately, the consumer in this country, who pay higher prices when the cost of production is increased by wasteful or costly methods.

The prosperity of the island for five centuries has been dependent upon agriculture. There is no coal, no water power, Porto Rico never will become a manufacturing country. In climate and scenic beauty the island is ideal. Living conditions here are being improved, although there is not command a living wage under present methods.

Land Kopt Too Long in Sugar Cane... It is difficult to induce Porto Rican planters to grow rice and other crops which are profitable to the island.

It is difficult to induce Porto Rican planters to grow rice and other crops which are profitable to the island. Because of recent high prices for sugar, the lands have been kept in cane too long. Specialists in living conditions here have warned planters to prepare for a fall in the price. Rice cultivation is unprofitable because special machinery must be installed and such as the velvet, clean and sump pumps give proper rotation crops with ease. The tobacco industry is thriving, and capable of great expansion, with less attention than other agricultural products.

TECHNICAL INSTITUTE OFFERS ADVANTAGES FOUND IN UNIVERSITIES, SAYS PRESIDENT

C. R. Frazier, Head of Pocatello Educational Institution, Tells of Curriculum of His Establishment and the Opportunities Offered Through Training in Technical Subjects

'So many people fail to recognize that the state of Idaho has made good provision for high school graduates wishing to continue their studies, states President C. R. Frazier of the Idaho Technical Institute in an interview with the Pocatello Tribune. 'Essentially, that is the institution or agencies which are maintained in the state, there have been provided the State University and the Idaho Technical Institute, offering equal opportunities to continue their studies. His statements stressing the equality of the two institutions, so far as freshman and sophomore college work is concerned.

'From the facts enumerated in the interview with President Frazier, it would seem to be entirely unnecessary to dwell in any detail on the advantages of the Idaho Technical Institute over the State University. The advantages are perfectly clear in their statement regarding the collegiate nature of the work completed by the holders of the certificate, and if a student, after a few years of adjustment in the high school work, completed by these applicants before they were admitted to the Idaho Technical Institute, they shall allow the applicant due credit for the period spent in their collegiate courses.'

'Business assurances have been received from Harvard and during the last two years the Tech has had two students accepted without examination for admission to the United States military academy at West Point and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

'The confusion, where it exists, undoubtedly arises from an effort to present standpoints of commercial subjects for recognition in technical or engineering course. This, of course, cannot be done anywhere, or from any school.

Home Sickness Detrimental... 'Home sickness is usually regarded as a joke, but it has played havoc with the health of many a sturdy young person going a long distance from home for the first time. In this connection the advantage of a junior college is that the student may visit home occasionally, if such ends is apparent. 'It is suggested that citizens of Pocatello and southern Idaho contemplating sending their children away from home should first thoroughly investigate the opportunities offered by the Technical Institute. The Tech is drawing students from great distances at the same time that some of our own people turn their backs upon it and go long distances to schools that offer not one bit better opportunities than are offered right here. This is a case for the application of common sense. How much is it worth to parents to keep such of their young people at home for another year or another two years at the expense of their young people are now finishing their high school work?'

ROCK CREEK

ROCK CREEK, Idaho.—Miss Nona V. Finley spent the week with Mrs. Magnus Larsen. She returned to Twin Falls Thursday and will attend school at Allow this winter. Mrs. H. P. Lorenz entertained the 'Rock Creek Ladies' club Friday and served a jolly lunch with a good many of the members present. Mrs. Ellen Brown and children of Twin Falls was visiting for a few days with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Larsen. 'Rock Creek' will have a high school automobile strike it with such force that it was thrown into a ditch. The machine was not overturned and the occupants were unhurt.

'Post Laureate' of England. The post laureate of England has been an officer of high honor since the days of Geoffrey Chaucer, but it was not until the reign of James I that a royal patent was granted by which the post laureate became an officer of the crown at a salary of about $500 a year, with a third of an annuity from the royal cellars as perquisite. Ben Jonson was the first post laureate under royal patronage (1616-1637), but many 'Verniflorators,' 'Versifiers' and 'Laureates' had preceded him, among them being John Gower, the author of 'Confessio Amantis,' and Edmund Spenser, who was, however, styled 'Court Poet' in 1579. From 1810 to 1822, the post was filled by Southey, Wordsworth and the late Lord Byron.
