Serious Disorders are Narrowly Averted in Connection with Demonstrations Throughout England

LONDON, (AP)—Demonstrations by the unemployed were held throughout England yesterday and in several cities serious disorders were narrowly averted. An ugly spirit was in evidence at Bristol, where a crowd attacked the building occupied by the board of guardians and clashed with the police. Banners were broken and a red flag was captured by the police. Finally, the gates before the building were opened and a large body of constables charged upon the crowd, which was dispersed, but the windows in a hundred shops were smashed by the manifestants.

Liverpool Mayor Yields.

Exciting scenes were witnessed in Liverpool, after an encounter with the police, unemployed workers presented a 100-man council in ten-minute intervals, threatening that in the expiration of that time, they would not be responsible for the consequences. The lord mayor advised the leaders in the demonstration that a plan would be formulated for finding work.

Take Road in Wales.

One of the notable demonstrations occurred in Wales, where 4000 people marched across the mountains from Aberllyrry to Tredgar, a distance of 12 miles. A similar manifestation in Sunderland, culminated in an attempt to force the gates of the workhouse. Falling in line, members of the crowd entered the guardhouse buildings, but the police ejected them.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS WILL EXPRESS OPINIONS

Resolutions on Disarmament and Bonus Questions to Come Before Minneapolis Convention

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., (AP)—More than 6000 delegates from every state in the Union will attend the annual national convention of the United Spanish War Veterans here, September 12 to 15. It is announced by the national headquarters, organized in an attempt to charge of the arrangements for the meeting. Resolutions on the disarmament and bonus questions, will come before the convention.

National officers will arrive September 10 and establish national headquarters at J. K. Witherspoon, Seattle, Wash., commander-in-chief of the veterans organization.

STANDARDIZES AERIAL TERMS

Government Prescribes Official Nomenclature for Use of Army and Navy

WASHINGTON D. C., (AP)—Standard aeronautical terms, devised and compiled by the national advisory committee for aeronautics, have been officially announced for use in the army and navy. Hereafter, the new order states the officers of the two air services will use the regulation nomenclature.

Ever so often, aerial experts point out, aviators have been calling anything that traverses the air an "airship," whereas the word "aircraft" should be employed. They say, that all balloons, rigid and non-rigid airships, or lighter-than-air craft, are constantly being termed "blimps," a slang word now obsolete, but originally used to designate a non-rigid airship, driven by an engine installed in an airplane fuselage slung beneath the gas bag. The word "hydroplane," has often been misused in referring to a scaplaner, "hydro" designates a vessel, which places on the surface of the water, but does not take the air. An airplane has been called an "aero," which, it is explained, is as wrong as calling a boat a "water." The words "aeroplano," "hydroaeroplano," and "dirigible," have been done away with and "airplane," "scaplaner" and "airship" have taken their places.

Aircraft Defined.

According to the recent published report of the national advisory committee, "aircraft" constitutes any form of craft, designed to navigate the air and is divided into "aerostate" and "airplane." "Aerostate" comprises the lighter-than-air craft, embodying a container filled with a gas lighter than air, such as hydrogen, and sustained by the lift of the gas. "Airplane" includes "airship" and "balloon."

The word "airplane" has now used to designate craft heavier than air, obtaining their support from the action of the air by screw propellers. "Tractor" are airplanes having their propellers in front; "pusher," having them in the rear. Usually airplanes are equipped for land work with wheeled landing gear, but when fitted for alighting on water with a boat or pontoon, the term "float" is used. "Airships," as the craft formerly known as lighter-than-air are now called, are divided into three types: "rigid," whose form is maintained by a metallic frame within the gas bag, or envelope; "non-rigid," whose envelope is kept taut by the pressure of the contained gas, and "semi-rigid," which has a light or jointed framework and also by gas pressure. These three types are all propelled by gas engines located in a hull or car, or in individual engine houses suspended below the supporting envelope, and controlled by means of rudders and fins.

Distinguishing Balloons.

"Balloons," the second division of the aerostat class, have no power plants or means of controlling their horizontal flight. They include "free," or flight balloons of the old style spherical type; " captive," secured by a cable to the earth; "strapped," captive balloons used in forcing an aerial barrage against airplane attacks; "kite," elongated captive balloons such as the Canot observation balloon, which has fine lines to keep it aloft; and the "dam," "gauge," a small, heavily fabric, inflated balloon used for storing gas and filling service balloons; and "pilot" and "rescue" balloons employed in securing meteorological data.

The heavier-than-air types of aircraft now officially termed "airplanes," are divided into several classes according to the number of planes or wings, which are usually symmetrical; namely, monoplane, biplane, triplane and multiplane. There is also the Langley-type of airplane, which is still called the "lander" from the arrangement of its double set of wings on approximately the same level.

"Scaplanes," airplanes designed to rise from the water, are classified in two groups: "boat-scaplanes," having a central hull not unlike a boat, and "float scaplanes," whose landing gear consists of one or more floats or pontoons.

Among the new and often misunderstood terms are the following: Aerostat—The pilot of an aerostat (airship or balloon). Airfield—A landing field equipped with hangars and other facilities. Aviator—The operator or pilot of heavier-than-air craft, such as airplanes and aeroplanes.

Bank—To incline a plane laterally in turning to prevent skidding. Ceiling—Maximum height, which an airplane or airship can climb. Fuselage—Body of an airplane, including engine and passenger seats. Glider—An airplane without a power plant. Helicopter—An aircraft deriving its support not from wings but the vertical thrust of propellers.

Parasite—An aircraft, used with landing gear, also on lower wing tips, as a protection. Skidding—Sliding sideways away from the ground on a bank, opposite to alighting. Sear—To fly on a level without any power. Spin—An aerial maneuver in which the wings descend rapidly, vertically, while turning rapidly in the form of a corkscrew. Taxi—To run an airplane over the water, under a scaplaner over the water, under its own power, without taking the air.

WAGES SCIENTISTS TO ESTABLISH CHEMICAL WARFARE PROHIBITION

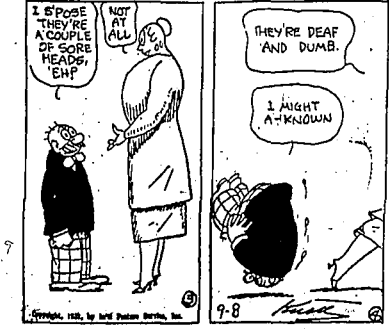

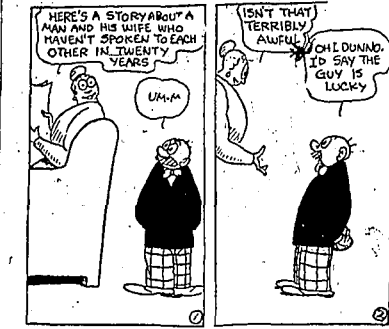

EDINBURGH, Scotland, (AP)—Protest against chemical warfare were uttered in the opening address at the meeting of the British association here last night. The address, written by Sir Edward Thorpe, president of the association, was read by Sir A. Ewing and appealed to scientists men "not to employ their talents in developing means to develop and perpetuate a mode of warfare which is abhorrent to the higher instincts of humanity."

ORDER GREEK AUTHORITY ASSESS EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS

ATHENS, (AP)—Authorities of the Greek orthodox church press sole authority to send bishops and priests to America to administer the Greek churches there, it is stated—by the synod of the Ecumenical patriarchate. This decision was reached in accordance with the synod's decree of 1903, regarding the administration of Greek orthodox churches abroad. If being held that the decree is applicable to America.

TO RID POULTRY YARDS OF UNPRODUCTIVE BIRDS

Farm Bureau Executives Will Conduct County-Wide Culling Campaign

A county-wide poultry culling campaign will be conducted under direction of the farm bureau during the week ending September 24. This announcement is officially made by H. E. Powers of the farm bureau.

In connection with the proposed culling campaign Mr. Powers makes the following explanatory statement, addressed largely to poultrymen and owners of poultry flocks:

"While this is not the most ideal season in which to cull, it is one which has an economic appeal to all, in that it gets rid of the "boarders" at a time when their riddance means much to those who are supplying the feed. Two weeks after the culling work is done a marketing program will be staged. This interval will afford an opportunity to get the calls into more desirable marketing condition.

"Several buyers have already expressed a desire to bid on whatever amount may be ready for sale and pay cash on delivery of fowls at loading station. This is a much better plan than the one followed last year as it will eliminate any misunderstandings as to weights, etc.

"Not everybody can be reached by personal letter so all who are interested should watch the papers for definite announcement as to place and time of assembling poultry which they desire to market. In all probability the receiving points will be Buhl, Elletts, Twin Falls and Kimberly and the receiving day will be Tuesday, Wednesday, day, Thursday and Friday, October 11 to 14, for the respective places. If you do not receive definite information, communicate with the farm bureau.

Tell Story, Anyhow.

"In the old days," related the truthful bachelor, "I knew a man named Travidin who had a remarkable dog." "So this is to be the story?" interrupted the true salesman. "Yes. That dog went everywhere Travidin did. He was so smart he'd follow Travidin into a saloon and, after his master had taken six drinks, would slip him on the back of the leg as a warning that it was time to go home. Do you wonder that Travidin erected a monument to that faithful brute when he died?" "No, I don't," said the traveling salesman. "And I wouldn't wonder much if you told us the said memorial was as tall as the Washington monument." — Brimingham's Arc-Herald.

Morocco Dispatches Tell of Disaster Attending Efforts of Moors to Make Use of Abandoned Airplanes

MADRID, (AP)—Disaffection over the probable adjustment of the Spanish offensive against the rebellious Moorish tribesmen near Melilla, is apparent among the people here.

Diapetates to newspapers here from Morocco state the efforts of the Moors to utilize airplanes abandoned during the Spanish retreat from Nador have been frustrated. Several moorish aviators have been killed, and their machines destroyed. The Spanish flier had time to detach vital parts of the motors before abandoning the machines, it is said by war correspondents. Abd-El-Krim, commander of the tribesmen has been trying to engage foreign pilots, but is said to have been unsuccessful.

ESCAPED BANDIT STILL ELUDES PRISON GUARDS

Fifty Men Enlisted in Man Hunt on McNeil Island Fail to Take Gardner

M'NEIL ISLAND, Wash., (AP)—Ray Gardner, train bandit, who escaped from the federal prison on this island Monday while the convicts were watching a baseball game, is still on the island, Warden Thomas Maloney said today. The warden admitted, however, that the more or less definite signs that Gardner is hiding on the west side of the island which covers 12 square miles, have failed to end in the apprehension of the bandit.

The vigil for the escaped prisoner was maintained last night. Four power boats encircled the island and kept their searchlights sweeping the water and the shore line.

Warden Maloney said that Gardner had not escaped to the mainland which is more than a mile from the island and believes he is hiding in the dense shrubbery.

THREE BIG GRID TEAMS ARRANGE WORK TOGETHER

Maryland, George Washington and Delaware Eleventh in a Practice Agreement

COLLEGE PARK, Md., (AP)—What is believed to be a unique experiment in the history of the gridiron sport will be tried out during the early practice season this year by the football squads of the University of Maryland, George Washington university, and Delaware college. The two latter teams will join the Maryland squad here this week under an arrangement whereby all three will practice together until about October 1.

By this arrangement they will pool their football wisdom and each team will gain an advantage whereby all three will practice together until about October 1.

Brief Bits of Sport

Spug Myers of Pocatello gave Al Nelson, Boise lightweight, a beating in the Junction, city the fore part of this week.

Reports of the fight indicate that Nelson fought a good defensive battle.

Ray Rose, Nelson's featherweight challenger, is not fighting in this state just now. The boxing commission will not permit him to.

Ample arrangements are being made for a big crowd at Hall next Sunday for the Boise-Twin Falls game.

On Monday another contest will be played between these teams but will be staged on the home grounds. Time has been set for 2:30 o'clock in order that the Boise team can get an early start for home that night.

Manager Orwig is confident his bunch can reverse the decision handed at Boise last Sunday and Monday.

Reports from Fort Worth, Texas, indicate that Sammy Langford displayed little of his old-time stuff in the Labor day battle with Gene Anderson, the former fighter-champion of the heavy division.

It is expected Bruce Watson will be able to fight in position at third base for the All-Stars in the tilt with Boise next Sunday and Monday.

Watson's business prevented his traveling with the team last Saturday.

Considering the odor emanating from the Wilson-Bowman Labor day bout, in Jersey City, Mike Gibbons says he does not feel that to make a match with the title claimant at this time would be of advantage to his own reputation.

Sound's reasonable.

Coach Evans is rounding up all the available gridiron material in the high school. Soon the welkin about the football field will ring with orders and yells for plays.

Vandals in the off-season tore up most of the workout paraphernalia employed by the coach in last year's conditioning process.

Early in the spring somebody cut off all the canvas covering from the Wilson rack. This material will have to be replaced.

Weight, apparently, is going to be made a factor in the building of the 1921 high school grid outfit.

Speed will probably develop as the season goes.

President Bill McCarthy, of the Pacific Coast league, says there are some troubled players in the circuit. He has started a crusade which is expected to end in the cleaning out of this material.

McCarthy does not fix guilt upon any individual, but says he has his eye on several men.

Bill did some guessing of this order last year and the guesses resulted in banishment for several players, mostly from one team, which was wrecked as a result.

One Thousand Guests at Wedding Ceremony

BELLAMY, Ala., (AP)—Alabama is talking today about a most unusual wedding. The minister who started to tie the knot was in an airplane which crashed into a tree. A list from a sister at a lumber plant announced the arrival of the wedding party at the altar; a thousand wedding guests were seated at a table in a frame church hall for the ceremony and the table was so long that those at one end could not hear speakers at the other. Those who didn't dance were entertained by motion pictures.

Miss Kathryn Allison, daughter of the president of the Allison Lumber company, was the bride, and Allen Crawford of Wetum, was the groom. The Rev. Henry M. Edmonds, of Birmingham started to fly to the ceremony but after the accident found himself unable to reach Bellamy in time.

Frank Willie Barnett representing the Birmingham Age Herald is an ordained minister so he stepped into the breach and performed the ceremony. It all happened last night and the guests said a pleasant time was had by all.

Carbon, a Chemical Element.

Carbon is one of the chemical elements. It forms more compounds than any other of the elements. Its compounds are found in every plant and animal, and the branch of chemistry that treats of these compounds is called organic chemistry. With oxygen it forms carbonic oxide, or carbon monoxide, and carbonic acid gas. With hydrogen it forms an extensive class of compounds known as hydrocarbons, which differ widely in their chemical and physical characteristics. The various carbonates occur very abundantly in the earth's crust.

STEAMSHIP LINE APPLIES FOR SHIPPING BOARD AID

Green Star Corporation Bondholders Ask Revision of the Purochase Contracts

NEW YORK, (AP)—Declaring the Green Star Steamship corporation is in danger of being thrown into receivership, 2000 of its bondholders have signed a petition to the United States shipping board appealing for a revision of the contract under which the line purchased line vessels, it was learned today.

Alvin W. Kreeb, president of the Equitable Trust company, made public the petition, which shows that the shipping board holds first mortgages on the vessels for $13,743,331. The petition declares that if the board forecloses a receivership proceeding will be brought by the Equitable and possibly other banks among which the Equitable distributed an eight million dollar loan fund.

The petition asserts that the Green Star, through "an error in judgment" contracted to buy the shipping board vessels at more than double their present market value. Its rescuer at declared to have been so depleted by the falling off in ocean commerce that it is unable to meet payments due the vessels.

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, makes the following announcement:

"We are making another reduction in the prices of Ford Cars and the Ford Truck, effective September 2nd. The new prices average $70 under former prices, and are the lowest at which Ford cars and trucks have ever been sold. List prices, F. O. E. Detroit, are now as follows—

	New Price	Old Price	Amount of Reduction
Chassis	$295.00	$345	$ 50
Runabout	325.00	370	45
Touring Car	355.00	415	60
Truck	445.00	495	50
Coupe	595.00	695	100
Sedan	660.00	760	100

"This is the third price cut during the past twelve months. On September 22, 1920, the price of the Ford touring car was reduced from $575 to $440; June 7th to $415, and now to $355, making total reductions in this type of $220, or 38 per cent. The same proportionate reductions have been made in all other types. One year ago the price of the Ford sedan was $975; today it lists at $860 with the same equipment.

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products in order that we may give them to the public at the lowest possible price, and by doing that, we feel that we are doing the one big thing that will help this country into more prosperous times. People are interested in prices, and are buying when prices are right.

"The production of Ford cars and trucks for August again broke all previous high records with the total reaching 117,696. This is the fourth consecutive month in which our output has gone over the hundred thousand mark, the total for the four months being 463,074, which has gone a long way in making possible the present reductions. June this year, with an output of 117,247, was the previous record month.

"One noteworthy feature of our sales is the increased demand for Ford trucks and cars for salesmen. This class of commercial business has been gradually increasing the past sixty days and we interpret it as a very good sign of improvement in general business.

"No reduction has been made in the price of the Fordson tractor, and none is contemplated."

Go over these new prices. See how little it costs to become the owner of a Ford car or a Ford truck. Can you really afford to do without one any longer?

Market Close Shows Prices Unchanged to 2-1/2 Cents Higher Than the Opening Figures

CHICAGO (AP)—Weakness in cotton at the close yesterday and at the opening today resulted in rather general selling of wheat at the start of trading on the board of trade today with prices off 1/2 to 3/4 from yesterday's finish, with May leading. Trading was fairly active and price changes rapid. There was a good deal of buying on the break. September opened at $1.27 1/2; December at $1.20 1/2 to $1.21 1/2 and May at $1.35 1/4 to $1.37 1/4.

Trading was rather dull and while lower early with wheat rallied later with the grain. The close showed corn 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 higher with September at $4 7/8 to $5 1/8; December at $4 1/2 to $4 3/4 and May at $5 1/4 to $5 3/4. The close in sympathy with other grains, opening 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 higher with September at $3 3/4 to $3 5/4; December at $2 3/4 to $2 5/4 and May at $3 3/4 to $3 5/4.

The market suffered a slight slump at the very finish. Provisions were lower owing to free local selling and spot orders. Cash Quotations

FRUIT GROWERS WARNED TO PLAN FOR THE FUTURE

Apple Men Gather Here for Discussion of Marketing Situation

Fruit growers of the district met last night in the offices of C. A. Robinson and conducted an informal meeting for a discussion of the general situation as it affects fruit men hereabouts.

With respect to an alleged serious condition confronting this class of producers, said to be largely due to a disposition to hold back until picking time rather than to make provisions safeguarding home interests, packing and storing was urged. It was pointed out that while the fruit market in the east is on the upgrade local crop offers have been on a low basis. The apple crop of the country, it was shown, is about 100 per cent larger than in 1920. "Whole sections of the east and central west having been frozen out, and there can be no doubt of the fact that fruit, particularly apples, will be extremely high before long. The grower of the fruit is entitled to a share of the profits but will get it only if he gets busy and protects himself by making arrangements for boxes and storage, so he can hold his crop for a few weeks until the glut of marketing is over," was the statement made at this session.

Recommendation was made that all producers pack their apples and hold until buyers are disposed to offer what is considered a reasonable price for the fruit.

OTHER SOUTH AMERICAN NATIONS MEET QUITE LEAGUE

BUNOS AIRES, (AP)—Rejection by the assembly of the league of nations of amendments to the covenant of the league proposed by Argentina may be followed by the withdrawal from the league of certain American republics.

It is feared here in reliable sources. Belief is expressed that Chile will be among them. Argentina withdrew from the first assembly when her amendments were not accepted.

Die Cast for Argentina

Reports from Geneva stating that the committee on amendments had rejected the one proposed by Argentina, providing that all sovereign states should be members of the league unless they voluntarily abstained from membership undoubtedly meant, Foreign Minister Pueyredon said last night, rejection of that resolution amendment by the assembly. Such action would result in the absolute and permanent separation of Argentina from this league, he declared.

Declares League "Dead"

Senator Pueyredon declared the league was "dead" explaining he did not believe it could survive under the present undemocratic system of organization in which there is an equality of duty, but not an equality of power.

"The possibility of a new world association of nations growing out of the Washington conference for a limitation of armaments depends upon the United States," he continued. "That country holds the key to the situation."

SINY FEINBERG DISCLAIM

"I HAVE NO CONNECTION WITH THE DUBLIN, (AP)—The Sinn Fein leaders have been showing some irritation at what they call misrepresentations in the British and American press of their position in the negotiations. The elaborate arguments in their work and in the Irish bulletin, they declare were not intended to convey the impression that they had rejected dominion status and insisted on separation. Their willingness to enter the British commonwealth on satisfactory terms they say they consider to have been plainly indicated.

The substitution of direct verbal arguments, face to face with the British ministers, for exchanges of notes would be welcomed, the Sinn Fein leaders declare.

Mr. De Valera, and other Irish republican leaders, arrived at the Mansion House earlier than usual. Shortly afterward a statement was issued saying:

"Neither President De Valera or the cabinet know anything of the American committee which is stated to be proceeding to Ireland. We are quite certain all our American friends whilst naturally anxious, realize that this question, affecting as it does the lives and fortunes of the people of Ireland, is one for the people of Ireland themelves to determine." (No announcement made here by any American committee going to Ireland. Harry Boland, Mr. De Valera's secretary, and Frank Walsh, his American legal advisor, are in Dublin at present.)

FAIR WEEK AT HAND

The coming week is fair week in Twin Falls county, and popular interest in this connection turns first to Kimberly where on Friday and Saturday next the whole town will call a halt on business and devote its entire attention to enjoyment of educational and entertainment features offered at Kimberly's Booster Fair and to exercise of virtue of hospitality to its guests on the occasion.
 Then beginning on Tuesday and continuing throughout Friday of next week, comes the sixth annual County Fair at Filer. The County Fair has become in Twin Falls county an established institution and it is sufficient comment to assert the fact that all indications point to the Fair this year being the biggest and best since the establishment of the institution.
 Attributes of Fairs such as are to be held at Kimberly and Filer that make for better spirit of fellowship and co-operation and encourage a healthy rivalry as between communities or producers are so familiar as to require no elaboration at this time when the atmosphere of the Fair is getting a good firm grip on most everybody hereabouts. Fair time is here. Let's all go.

MAIN LINE OR SIDE TRACK

Plans looking toward the opening, or, rather, reopening, of another and shorter road route from Twin Falls to southern California are so plainly to the advantage of this district that by common consent any practicable undertaking in this direction should have the hearty and active support of each and every citizen and resident of this district.
 An opportunity to give practical expression to this sentiment is presented in the project outlined in the report of a party of Ely, Nevada, business men whose attention had been drawn to the fact that a considerable number of tourists were passing through Ely from Montana and Idaho bound for southern California, and whose interest in the situation led them to make a trip recently over the road for the purpose of logging the old Sunshine highway and awakening a new interest in this route from Twin Falls to Las Vegas, Nevada, a distance of about 500 miles.
 Their conclusions are that the establishment of a road that will be open practically all winter, extending south from Twin Falls through Contact and on to Wells, Nevada, is a feasible undertaking and one that will yield immense dividends on the investment required to put it in proper shape.
 The alternative, and the one now most commonly resorted to, is a long and tedious trip to and from Twin Falls by way of Salt Lake from which point the Arrowhead highway leads through Nevada.
 The crux of the proposition that comes from Ely is simply that the Sunshine highway offers a shorter and better route from Twin Falls to southern California and intermediate points. This is of advantage not only to people already here who may have occasion to travel overland in this direction, but it offers tremendous possibilities in the way of diverting tourist travel through Twin Falls. Without such an outlet Twin Falls is isolated, calling for a side-trip so far as most of the travel to southern California is concerned. With it Twin Falls takes its place on a main road for travelers from the east bound for the Yellowstone and southern California.

THE COLLECTIVE INSTINCT

The weariness of Nikolai Lenin, reported to have been confessed in a private letter that a Paris paper has got hold of, is not surprising. The admission is imputed to Lenin over the complete failure of his communistic experiment based on theories born of the densest ignorance of human nature. He is quoted as writing, "our young bureaucrats have completely inherited the errors of their predecessors. Our gambles on the collective instinct, which ought to hold together the members of the party, was a mistake. The collective instinct of the peasants and workers has never justified the hopes we placed in it and has completely failed."
 There is no such thing as the collective instinct that Lenin envisaged. The collective instinct of communities, small and great, is selfish and expresses itself in uses, customs and laws that have common acceptance for the common benefit. The collective instinct is for a species of co-operation through the recognition of common rights that will enable individuals to work out their own destiny. Governments have been developed responsive to the necessities of the people. Their highest function is the protection of common and individual rights. The one thing which human beings desire above all else is something of their own. The Russian communists overlooked that entirely. They sought to abolish private property, the right of man to possess the fruits of his labor. It seemed good to the Russian peasants and workers that those who possessed much more than they did should be deprived for the benefit of the less fortunate. That being accomplished they were satisfied until they discovered that in reality they got nothing. Property held in common advantaged nobody. Their collective instinct was for a system that would permit the individual to own something.
 The Lenin experiment failed for the reason that it gave man no incentive to struggle. There can be no interest in a satisfied life. Lenin, steeped in his fatuous theories, thought that all men would be content could they be sure of food and shelter. They never will be.

 The Russians may retain the framework of government that the communists have given them. But the fundamental principles of socialism will not survive. They are not practical. They are opposed to the collective instinct.

HORSE VS. AUTO

For pleasure driving, and to a large extent for the hauling of freight, the automobile has superseded the horse. Many millions of horses continue in use, however, and according to a statement issued by the Pennsylvania state department of agriculture there is no danger of their being abandoned as beasts of burden, for it finds that for short hauls the animal is more reliable and economical than the machine.
 The director of the bureau of animal industry says it has been found that for distances of less than 20 miles a day the horse costs less than the automobile. The animal's period of usefulness is placed at 10 years, but it asserts that the average life of the gasoline driven automobile truck will not exceed seven years. Continuing, the report says: "Horses can be fed today at 65 cents per day; automobiles do not feed so cheaply. Horse repair bills—that is, veterinary bills—are a negligible item; automobile repair bills are not. The investment in a team of horses and a wagon is certainly no more than 25 per cent of that in an automobile of like capacity."
 So long as work can be done with a horse more cheaply than with a gas engine the animal will survive. Improvements will come in automobiles, however, which will reduce the cost of operating them and will lengthen their life. When that comes there will be no further need for the horse and it will pass out of use.

OPINIONS REPRINTED

ELECTRICITY EXCEEDS GOLD VALUE

The value of the electrical energy produced by hydroelectric power plants in the mountain and Pacific states during 1920 was greater than that of the gold produced in these states in the same period, by over two times, according to Alexander T. Vogelzang, former assistant secretary of the interior.
 The kilowatt hour production of water power, by public utility plants in 1920, as shown by the geological survey report, was: Montana, 1,118,000,000; Idaho, 588,978,000; Wyoming, 2,271,000; Colorado, 184,074,000; New Mexico, 828,000; Arizona, 105,527,000; Utah, 212,243,000; Nevada, 22,000,000; Washington, 1,154,135,000; Oregon, 370,807,000; California, 2,658,541,000, making a total of 6,840,459. As it is estimated that about 80 per cent of the developed water power in these states is in public utility plants, the total production of electrical energy from water power would amount to about 7,325,000,000 kilowatt hours. At one cent per kilowatt hour this production would have been worth $70,000,000, as against the estimated gold production for the same states during the same period of $36,000,000.
 When power production in these states is properly encouraged and fully developed, the annual return from this source will far exceed those figures. This value comes from the same mountains which produce gold, but unlike gold the streams which produce power will not become exhausted, but will continue until the laws of nature are themselves repealed.
 The tremendous hydroelectric power possibilities of the west are its greatest assurance of a wonderful industrial future.—Pocatello Tribune.

THE MOVIE HERO AND THE GIRL

By S. E. KESER
 I'd I could look as wistful,
 Let's say, as Conway Tearle,
 And daily dream of a fistful
 Of quarts, little girl!
 Perhaps you'd learn to trust me
 With sweets that I'm denied;
 Perhaps you would not thrust me
 Impudently aside;
 I might become the setting
 While you became the pearl,
 If I were screened and gilded
 As much as they are letting Loose of to Conway Tearle.
 I'd I were half as lucky,
 Let's say, as Wallace Reid—
 A handsome dog, and plucky!
 You might not, when I plead,
 Refuse to heal or hear me;
 You might consent to say
 A word or two to cheer me
 Upon my lonely way;
 Perhaps you'd cease to chide me,
 You might be glad, indeed,
 To know that you could thrill me,
 If they would only film me
 As they film Wallace Reid.
 I'd I were Thomas Meighan
 You might relent, I think,
 You treat me as a Pagan,
 And cause my heart to sink!
 I often hear you sighing
 When he comes on the scene;
 He's handsome—no denying—
 At least, upon the screen.
 Ah, you're to the milk and honey!
 Your beauty makes me think—
 You say: "Pass onward, sonny,"
 But if I got the money,
 You might relent, I think.

PLANET DESTROYED BY HEAT

Possibility That Our Own World May Meet the Same Fate Through the Rays of the Sun.
 Worlds, with probably millions of human beings like ourselves, have been destroyed and turned into glowing gas by a stupendous conflagration in the heavens.
 The sun to which these worlds belonged must have rusted into a mass of heated gas and have had its atmosphere set on fire.
 It was toward the end of last summer that the vast outbreak was first seen, but it was only lately that astronomers realized its awful significance. Now it is known that the star which caught fire had its heat increased by no less an amount than five hundred thousand times in the course of a few days.
 Can anyone imagine our own sun filling the sky with its blue and sending forth a heat hundreds of thousands of times greater than it does at present.
 Humanity would be withered as a leaf dropped into a white-hot furnace, and the earth itself would melt with fervent heat.
 Yet there are those who predict such a fate as that for our planet.

 The volcanoes of Hawaii, whether dead or alive, are working for, or are going to be made to work for the people. Honolulu has just reaped the exact crater of Paio, overlooking the city, and is getting therefrom 2,000,000 gallons of drinking water daily. Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, is raising a fund to tap the active volcano Kilauea, and utilize the tremendous volume of gases there for industrial and other purposes. ALPINE MOUNTAIN PEAK
NOW HEROES'S MEMORIAL

Thousands of Italian Veterans and Families Make Pilgrimage to Monte Grappa

MONTE GRAPPA, Italy, (AP)—This mountain, 5000 feet high and rugged crags of the Alps, has seen the scene of a vast pilgrimage, 500,000 veterans of the world wars and children, who for days have been climbing to reach the summit where the statue of a Madonna and child was erected in memory of the Italian heroes who fought in these mountain fastnesses.

The road to the summit is 18 miles in length and winds through passes, skirts the edge of bottomless ravines and rises finally to giddy heights, where to the south one sees the plain of the Po and to the north the outline of the snow-capped Alps. It was thus that during the war, the army that occupied Monte Grappa controlled the plain. It was the mountainous battle-ground of the Italian and Austrian armies and the changing of hands during the course of the war, is the story of the whole campaign.

The Madonna which has now taken her place on the summit was placed here in 1910 by Cardinal Sarto, patriarch of Venice. In May, 1918, while the stronghold was in possession of the Italian, an Austrian bomb struck the pedestal on which the statue rested. A captain of engineers and handful of men left their dugouts among the rocks and in a terrific bombardment lifted the statue and took it to a place of safety. On a convenient day, it was taken down from the mountain and carried back to the rear to remain until the end of the war so that it could be erected with safety.

For the ceremony of replacing the Madonna, which has just taken place, the king was represented by the Duke of Bergamo who delivered an address on the sacrifices made by Italian troops in the defense of Grappa. Former Premier Orlando made the principal speech, in which he recounted the heroic exploits of the Italian army in overcoming the seemingly insurmountable difficulties of the mountain strongholds. There were special commissions at the ceremony from the senate and the chamber of deputies. After the address, a mass was celebrated. The arrival of Venice with five bishops of the Veneto affiliated in the religious ceremony.

General Giordano, known as the "Defender of Grappa," received a gold medal from the city of Treviso. While the ceremonies were performed a huge Italian flag floated over the mountain heights signaling to the mountain villagers. It also carried a message to Grappa from the city of Venice, which read as follows: "The bulwark of the air salutes the bulwark of the mountains."

COUNTY FAIR CARRIES BIG INTEREST FOR LADS AND LASSIES OF DISTRICT THROUGH ITS PROMISE OF IMMENSE STOCK EXHIBIT

Club Leader A. L. O'Reilly Tells of Keen Business Instinct Developed Through Influence of Banks in Making Possible Procuring of Full Blood Cattle

"The county fair this year will be an event of moment to many boys and girls in Twin Falls county; not because of the sidshows, merry-go-rounds, balloons and other amusements which have characterized county fairs from the time when fairs began, but because of the opportunity that will be there to show what they are doing to build a bigger, better and more stable prosperity for Twin Falls county," said County Club Leader A. L. O'Reilly.

Two years ago the Idaho State bank financed the Purchured Registered Shorthorn club, which started with 12 head in all, and one cow to each member. Through purchase and the natural increase, this club now has 39 head of registered stock which will be on exhibition at the county fair. Some of the original club members have dropped out, selling their stock to the other members, some have moved away. In every instance the club members have proven themselves good embryo business men and met their obligations at the bank in a satisfactory manner. This year the same institution for their further encouragement of their progress offers special prizes aggregating $20 in all to be distributed among the members of the club. Frank Hankins now owns 6 head; Milo Davir, 6; Vernon O'Hara, 3; Gordon Diehl, 3; Roy Landreth, 3; Lester Diller, 2; Morris Harris, 2; Ballard Ticker, 2.

The boys have not found that their business progress with an abnormal smoothness. There is the inevitable attendance of ill luck that is found in all enterprises. While the Shorthorn is a hardy strain and is reared with as little risk as can possibly attend the stock raising business, yet there has been the anxiety of illness in the precious investment, and the tragedy of the sudden death by drowning of a little calf. At Mortuagh there are four boy owners of Shorthorns: Willie Walton, Otto Walton, William and John Silvers, with a total of 10 head to their credit.

The American Shorthorn Breeders' association in this year offering printed ribbons and $1 for each head owned by the club.

The Twin Falls Bank & Trust Co. has similarly financed the Purchured Jersey club which has been on the roster of the county clubs for the past two years, and is one of the most successful of all the organizations. A good Jersey will pay for herself in a year, according to the statements of dairymen, and thereafter all the income and increase represent a large profit on the original investment. That there will be a satisfactory showing of this breed is also assured, though there is not, as in the case of the Shorthorns, the additional incentive of special prizes.

California Officer Says 95 Per Cent of Drivers are Mentally Incompetent

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. (AP)—Careless or inexperienced automobile driving has caused 42 deaths and 1038 injuries in San Francisco since January of this year, according to Captain Henry Gleason, chief of the police traffic squad, who recently addressed the Commonwealth club. He advocated small fines for minor offenses and suspension of licenses of offenders.

Nine out of ten automobile drivers are insane, was the statement of August Vollmer, chief of police of Berkeley, Cal., who has become well known by applying psychology to the detection of crimes and criminals.

"Ninety-five per cent of all people suffering from some form of insanity, which makes them wholly unfit to qualify as drivers," he said. "Most people who, invariably 'blow up' in a crash are suffering from psychic epilepsy and temperamental confusion when action to prevent accident is immediately necessary."

Corner T. W. Leland of San Francisco said that the majority of accidents were to pedestrians, 73 of the 90 persons killed in automobile accidents in San Francisco last year having been on foot.

Nine out of ten drivers are incompetent and a menace to safety, according to the statement of Chester N. Weaver of the Automobile Dealers' association.

BOLSHEVIKI PUT 61 TO DEATH AS PLOT SUSPECTS

Official List of Persons Executed for Alleged Participation in Recent Petrograd Affair Includes 16 Women

RIGA, LETVIA, (AP)—Sixty-one persons have been executed by the bolsheviks, being charged with participating in the recent Petrograd plot, according to the official list printed in the Pravda of Petrograd. Among those put to death were 16 women, most of whom were accused of renting rooms to, or otherwise sheltering male participants in the plot.

Others executed included Prince Constantin Danmanoff, aged 29, and Prince Sergius Oukhomov, aged 35, both of whom were accused of springing or sending information out of Russia. Six on the list were described as "American spies or couriers," one of them being Professor Vladimir Bugautsky, aged 31, the alleged head of the entire Petrograd organization. Count Sergius Scholnburg, aged 31, was executed on a charge of having aided an "American courier."

daily section. The exhibits here were mostly of the Jersey strain and many would have won Tibbons anywhere. In the absence of Mrs. Packard, the arrangement and care of the needlework department devolved upon Mrs. T. O. Boyd and Mrs. Davis and the exhibit is pronounced by these ladies to be second to none in the quality of workmanship shown. Perhaps the fine arts display reflected more than any other department in the culture and refinement that is inseparable from the sort of people who have come to make their home in this section. Mrs. M. J. Sweet is in charge of the department in charge. Mrs. J. Packman and her assistant wrought the flower exhibit into a marvel of frisky beauty. Mrs. H. W. Glouchev and Mrs. G. J. Idaho accomplished wonders with the educational exhibit in the very short time allotted. There were very complete exhibits in all the livestock classes with the exception of sheep which seem to have not yet been introduced by the farmers.

TO BRING TOGETHER PIONEERS OF STATE

Although the fall semester at Gooding College is just opening today, Field Secretary J. Wesley Miller and President Charles Wesley Tenney are busy arranging plenary celebration program and banquet for the students that will mark an epoch in the educational history of Idaho. The meeting will be held early in November and the plan is to have present the men and the women who actually did things for the state of Idaho.

Each of these men will tell the story of the early times as he saw them, and an expert stenographer will be on hand to see to it that not a single item escapes landing in the historical files of Gooding college.

An old-fashioned noonday meal, an elaborate evening banquet, first-class music, selected readings and a game of football will be interspersed amongst the historical addresses.

Among the numbers already selected are:

Address of welcome—Mayor Anson Thompson, Gooding.

Response—Dr. W. W. Van Duard, Boise.

Growing up in the West—Hon. J. G. McLain, Salt Lake City.

Musical selection—Madame Saug Collins, Gooding.

Conquest of Idaho—Hon. Miles Cannon, Weiser.

Fighting the Indian—Hon. Peter Peuce, Payette.

Educating the Indian—Hon. E. A. Doud, Blackfoot.

Pay Dirt in the Boise Basin—Hon. W. A. Coughanous, Payette.

Transforming Sagebrush Plains into Fertile Fields—Hon. C. C. Moore, St. Anthony.

Reading, selected—Eather Hope Jacoby.

Roughing It on the Trail—D. J. Gillilan, Blackfoot.

Miscellaneous reminiscences, by various pioneers.

Early Administration of the Law—Hon. James Hawley, Boise.

Idaho Today—Governor D. W. Davis of Idaho.

Looking into the Future—Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, of the Helena, Ariz.

Presiding officers, Dr. H. W. Barker, Nampa, and Rev. G. E. Helman, Baker, Oregon.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN TWIN FALLS

Taken at random from The News files this date in year 1906

It has been found necessary to provide five wagons this year to transport the pupils from their homes to the Twin Falls schools. Buhl citizens are considering the same system of centralizing their school.

D. W. Brank has sold this week the new five-room plastered house that was just completed in the east part of town. This is the best built property on the townsite and is listed and plastered throughout.

Blue Lake's spring water is now being bottled and sold in Twin Falls. It will be delivered to all parts of town in a few weeks so it would seem that the water problem for Twin Falls is settled.

Two years ago there were two farm homes on the Twin Falls tract and the entire population exclusive of engineers and workmen was less than 50. Today there are no less than 7000 people on the project. There are 2884 living outside the town, and in Twin Falls alone there are at least 3000. Buhl has a population of 250. Filer of 150, Kimberly 100, and a total of 160 in the villages of Hansen and Milner. This is considered a phenomenal growth for a virgin territory.

Architect James H. Richardson left just evening for San Francisco, where Mr. Richardson believes there is a good field for architects offered by the rebuilding of the city.

The school trustees of Buhl formally hired teachers last evening to take charge of the school for the coming year. Mr. E. A. Wyatt and Miss Winifred Evans will take the school in hand as soon as the necessary furniture arrives.

The county fair which has just closed is considered to have been a phenomenal success from the point of view of exhibitors' and attendants. That so young an agricultural country could make so marvelous a showing of agricultural products is considered most extraordinary. In every respect the arrangement and showing of products was very acceptable. James Fitzgerald deserves and received the highest encomiums for the management of the
