Another special venire of 40 men is now being sought for jury selection in the case of the accused, Lydia Meyer Brown, D. G. Thompson, and a defendant and an aid and experiment police officer was named by the court as collector to secure the talismen this morning and instructed to have the men in court at half-past 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The 40 talismen ordered brought into court this morning were on hand at the opening of the day's session but as a result of a blanket challenge of the entire 40 by the defense all were discharged and adjourned for the 40th day. The expense of being the 40th day in Twin Falls figured at $1 per day and mileage is estimated to amount to between $325 and $350.

Surprise is Sprung by Defendant's Attorneys on Opening of Court for Fourth Day of Trial

Prosecutor Attorney Stephen H. Clark opened this morning with the defendant and her husband in their chairs together with Mrs. Southard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Trueblood. The challenge of the special venire was brought in at once and upon the suggestion of Attorney Mills the special venire was excluded from the court room. E. O. Denny and John H. Hill, both members of the bar, were present.

Prosecutor Attorney Stephen H. Clark said that the record be made to show exception to the challenge by the state. The challenge was based upon the fact that the venire was not selected by Sheriff E. R. Sherman was the original signer of the complaint against Mrs. Southard filed originally in prolate court, that he had formed and expressed definite opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and that his subscribing to the charges contained in the complaint of fact indicated a bias on his part.

Sherriff Takes Stand

Sheriff Sherman on the witness stand in the case which could not be stayed by actual evidence. That his present opinion was not fixed and unqualified and that to the best of his recollection he had no definite opinion whatever on the subject of the guilt or evidence of the defendant.

Sheriff Sherman was subjected to an extended examination by Judge Walters for the state during which he stated that the signing of the complaint was a matter of official duty. That he had no method of selecting defendants and the defense and advantages to the state; that he had decided the case to some extent but had read very little about it and that he was not at all prejudiced against one side or the other. Sheriff Sherman's evidence was offered as an exact rebuttal of the allegations of the defense.

Challenge is Allowed

Attorney Homer O. Mills, however, stated that the defense would not care to go to trial before a jury consisting of 40 men of the same profession and the challenge was allowed.

The name of P. H. Herliem, former deputy sheriff was mentioned for the position which has been vacated by Thompson at the position was announced. Judge Fitzgerald who yesterday presided over the trial in the afternoon after that his state of health was not such as to warrant his undertaking to serve as jurymen throughout the case was formally discharged by Judge Babcock.

The work of selecting the jury will be resumed upon the convening of court tomorrow afternoon and may not be completed until early next week.

General Understanding Among Republican Senators to Hold Proposal in Abeyance Temporarily is Rumored

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—A general understanding was said to have been reached between republican senators today to hold in abeyance, at least until after disposal of the tax bill and the peace treaties, the proposal for a new closure rule to curb senate debate.

The principal immediate task before the group of republicans

advocating the change in the time-honored ancient procedure was said to be conversion of a few republican leaders, notably Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, floor leader.

These are, however, a number of influential senators, including Senators Johnson of California, La Follette, Wisconsin, and Borah, Idaho, who are opposed to the change. Their objections were said to be based on the ground that restriction of debate in majority vote would carry a small minority the power to delay or defeat what they regarded as vicious measures. They were said to have complained that now not many have prevented the long debate and "campaign of education" on the Versailles treaty and almost blocked the successful passage of the "cavalry" cavalry's arrest former President Wilson's armistice ship bill.

JOHN MCGRAW'S BASEBALL CAREER STANDS OUT IN DIAMOND HISTORY

Hustling Manager of New York Giants, One of Most Prominent Characters in Baseball—Has Been in Game Since Days of Short Trousers—Was Figure with Old Champion Orioles

NEW YORK, (AP)—The career of John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, and one of the best known men in professional baseball, stands out as one of the most interesting in the annals of the national sport. McGraw was born at Princeton, N. Y., on April 7, 1875.

McGraw played his first professional game shortly after he discarded his short trousers. He made such a reputation around his home town as a hard hitter and skilled fielder that he was recommended to the Olean team, then in the New York state team and in the spring of 1890 signed his first baseball contract.

McGraw says he never will forget the first game he played with Olean. Although only about 300 fans attended the game he felt more nervous than at any time in his life. In describing his first game the popular leader of the Giants said:

"That first game was one of the greatest events in my life and I will remember it always. I was confident of making good until I went on the field. Then I was bewildered; it seemed that there were enough persons in the stands to populate the state of New York. I hoped that the batter would not hit the ball to me.

"When a grounder did come my way I felt as though I was rooted to the turf. I couldn't move. Finally it seemed like an age to me—I got started and pitched the ball up in my bare hand but threw it over the first baseman's head, in my haste to beat the runner."

The error cost the game for McGraw's team but it did not discourage him. McGraw got $50 a month for playing with Olean.

After one year with Olean he went to the Cedar Rapids club, where the remuneration was slightly better. While with the Iowa team there was a remarkable change for the better in his playing. He performed at shortstop and his playing there attracted the attention of a big league scout, and in August, 1891, he was signed by the Baltimore club of the National league, then last in a 12-club circuit.

Bill Karmy was manager of the Orioles when McGraw broke into the "fast act." John finished the season of 1891 as a bench warmer.

In May, 1892, Ned Hanlon, succeeded Barney and took a fancy to McGraw in spite of his small stature. First he tried him on second base where he showed much speed and skill. He was transferred to third where he played even more brilliantly and there he stuck.

Brief Bits of Sport

"Muggsy" McGraw, Stenbach, and all the other owners of the Giants, can now complete plans for the world as they see it.

The race is practically over, and the Giants have not won the flag in a romp.

And after the big program McGraw will go to Cuba and spend the winter with the ponies on Stenbach's track.

One eastern baseball critic predicts that unless Babe Ruth is jailed and compelled to work on a rock pile all winter he will be so fat in the spring that even a rubber suit won't be of use in the sweating process of adipose retention.

But as long as the bustling bumptkin can hit the pill on the team for homers, baseball owners will find him a place on their teams.

Ruth, has repaid Ruport and Huston many times the amount the Yankees' owners paid the Red Sox for him, and it was a record price at that.

Clint Evans' monster football squad has dug up so much turf in condition, big stumps that the boss had to send a signal to the fire department yesterday to "horry" a fire hose with which to wet down Lincoln field.

The "kids" are learning to dig in their toes.

Babe Ruth and "Banjo" Two Very Important Members of the Yankees

Here you see Babe Ruth and Eddie (Banjo) Bennett, mascot of the New York Yankees. Both are doing much for bringing the Yankees home first in the pennant race. Eddie admits that Babe and the other players are doing great work, but insists that he should not be overlooked when the credit is handed out. Here is Eddie's record: 1910—than Johnny Kilbane but he does not ask for a return bout with the featherweight champion.

Mascot of the Chicago White Sox, winners of the American league pennant, 1920—Mascot of Brooklyn Dodgers, winners of the National league pennant, 1921—Mascot for the New York Yankees, probable winners of the American league pennant. Yes, sir; Ed die must be given credit. It's a record to be proud of.

The Salt Lake Bees are losing us consistently and persistently now as they were winning a couple of weeks back.

The scrap for the Coast league flag is as tight as in the American, with San Francisco and Los Angeles running neck and neck.

New York—The Philadelphia Athletics may be in last place in the American league but they can boast of a "Babe Ruth" in outfielder C. Walker whose total home runs today number 23 for the season. Walker is adding to his string with such regularity that the New York Yankees will watch him closely in their three game series with the Athletics, which begins in Philadelphia today.

American and National Hiters Hit 300 More Four-Basers Than in 1920

NEW YORK, (AP)—With only a few more major league games to be played, the season's record of home runs in the National and American leagues is close to 300 more circuit clouts than were made in 1920.

The present year's total to date for both leagues, is 924 homers against 631 made during last year's entire season. Seven more four-base hits in the remaining games this year, will make an increase of an even 300.

American league players so far this year, have swatted the ball for 470 home runs against 370 last year and in the National league 454 have been hit to date as compared with 251 in 1920.

Woodchuck Living Room.

The burrow of a woodchuck at first descends obliquely into the earth; it then passes nearly horizontally for several feet, rises moderately for the last half of its length to terminate in a gully a section and round chamber which constitutes the "living-room" of the entire family, says the American Forestry Magazine. Such a burrow may be at least thirty feet in length—so long that one never dreams of digging a hole.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

About 200 girls were present at the first dance meeting held last year by the Blue Triangle club, in the dome last night. The girls, who represented the club at the Payette lakes camp last June, provided the program by means of which they tried to share their good time there with the members who could not go.

The program consisted of three talks, the reading of a humorous account of the experiences of the Twin Falls delegation, an original poem written by one of the girls and read by her, which inspired by an incident at camp, and the singing of a group of camp songs by the camp delegation. The program follows:

"The Various Side of Camp Life," Alce D. Witt.

"Our Camp Leader," Edna Duke.

"Inspection," Bonnie Herriman.

"Chronicles of the Deal," Dorothy Irwin.

"Reading," "The Olds Deal Peak Rat," Marguerite Gady.

Camp songs, camp dedication.

IDAHO'S RESPONSIBILITY
Vague rumors of trouble are coming from the Rosebud project where last week more than a score of families, in high hopes, arrived at the end of a highly notable overland trip, to reclaim desert lands and build homes and establish productive farms.
These rumors, vary in detail, but agree in the main that the newcomers feel that conditions have been misrepresented to them and that many of them are sorely disappointed. Pretty generally where these rumors have been divulged, fear is expressed that the state of Idaho is going to suffer from possible blow-up of the widely heralded modern caravan.
There is no reason why this should be. If it is true that the newcomers have been misinformed and are unwilling to hazard spending the next two or three years as the business of homebuilding in their present location, here is no reason why they cannot transfer their interests and activities to lands with which they will be better satisfied, of which there is still a wide range in the early vicinity.
The state and its people ought not to have to suffer through a situation that might develop through misrepresentation on the part of sellers of land within its borders or through lack of adequate preliminary investigation on the part of the buyers. The courts afford ample recourse in such cases, and persons who have been brought under the lure of Idaho's agricultural possibilities will experience no difficulty in finding exactly what they are looking for. It is a matter of concern to every Idaho citizen that hopes and aspirations of incoming homebuilders shall not be disappointed, and it is the proper duty of all Idahoans to lend a willing hand in straightening out the tangle at Rosebud if it develops that there is or has been an offense against the square deal.

MEXICO'S INDEPENDENCE

Mexico is celebrating the centennial of her independence from Spain: What a hundred years it has been! Twice the country has been ruled nominally as an empire, and as a republic the greater part of the time the government has not been more stable. Often its presidents changed with the frequency of the moon. It has been a turbulent century and the last decade was not less so than any that preceded it.

The conditions in Mexico under the Spanish domination were the same as prevailed in other Spanish-ruled lands and under independence they did not improve. A major race, the Mexicans always have had an affinity for trouble, and if that spirit seeps a bit dormant now there is no assurance it will not awake again. How much of the responsibility for the internal dissensions which have characterized the republic are due to misgovernment and how much to the natural liking of the people for trouble may not be accurately determined. However, it is clear that the people have not learned the lesson of yielding to the majority, and the majority has not learned to consider the rights of the minority.

Under the rule of Diaz the government was despotic, yet it may be that such is the only kind for which the Mexicans are at present fitted. It is certain that while there were great abuses of power under the Diaz regime there was order and the nation progressed with great rapidity. Had it been a more benevolent despotism it might not have been succeeded by the turmoil that ensued.

Yet the internal disorder which has marked the hundred years of independence is not surprising when the mixed character of the population is considered. Three-fourths of the people are of Indian blood, either pure or in mixture. Naturally ignorance prevails. Yet the natural resources of the country offer great possibilities. The centennial celebration marks more the lapse of time than great political advancement, though progress commercially has been made, of course. It is to be hoped that entrance on the second century will usher in an era of stability and quiet.

A cessation from revolution and a turning toward industry would make Mexico's second hundred years greatly in contrast with the first.

FOR A SOVIET "REPUBLIC"

A number of high officials of the National Socialist party have just resigned from the organization after issuing a bombastic proclamation of their intention to work for the establishment of "a soviet republic" in the United States.

If their desire is to invite anarchy in the form of a ride in the patrol wagon or some other phase of "persecution" by "the minions of capitalism," they will have to become more torrid than in their manifesto to the American people. For so long as they do not advocate the overthrow of our existing government through violence they are quite within their rights; their announced program is legal, though ridiculous.

There is no law to prevent any organization of men from making fools of themselves. That is their inalienable privilege, and it is one which many take full advantage of.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN TWIN FALLS

Taken at random from the files that date to year 1906

Corey brothers have been awarded the contract for building the Short Line extension to Buhl and work will begin next week. As many farmers as present themselves will be given a stretch of 17 miles to build and it is now certain that Buhl will have a road by the first of the year.

Although no admission fee was charged, no concession were sold the Twin Falls fair not only paid expenses but the management turned over a surplus to the Farmers' federation. This was due to the fact that everyone helped and gave of his and her time freely. Through the liberality of the merchants the fair was made possible. Checks will not be out till the prize winners next week.

The requirement of 18 months residence in the county as one of the qualifications of a candidate for the state legislature, made it appear for a while that the democratic county convention that Lawrence Haazen would have to run for all the offices on the ticket, being the only delegate whose citizenship had sufficiently matured. Judge Stockinger was appealed to by telephonic and stood by the constitution. By nominating a few republicans and some who have not yet declared their politics, a good ticket was put up.

Miss Elva McCullough entertained a company of young people at a high-five party Friday evening. Miss Nellie Hulles won first prize and T. J. Woods, the consolation.

E. J. Ashton, A. H. Nibart, Irving R. Darrow, J. E. Stenour, E. A. Miller, B. Morgan Nesbit, Walter J. Galkins and William H. Weaver of Twin Falls have made application for final proof on their claims.

O. T. Cheney and O. J. Iulonen are operating a sorghum mill on the tract. Several growers are bringing their cane to Mr. Iulonen's place and the result is said to be highly satisfactory.

The Oregon Short Line has announced a rate of 30 cents on grain from Twin Falls to Salt Lake and Butte, the rate to become effective on October 23.

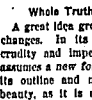

George F. Sprague will occupy the S. T. Hamilton residence during the absence of that family in Colorado Springs.

M. H. Page is building a home for the John Castello family. It will be one of the finest homes on the tract.

Whole Truth About Genoa. A great idea grows like a flower. It changes. In its evolution it leaves crumpled and imperfection behind. It assumes a new form, more pleasing in its outline and more striking in its beauty, as it is molded into a thing of deathless energy. An idea which is different to all else is a thing of wonder—if it is true. It is original thought, and this is all that genius is.

Much Virtue in the Ontep. CONFERENCE AT LINCOLN FAVORS WATERWAY PLANS

Agricultural and Commercial Organizations of Nebraska Endorse Project

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP)—Resolutions endorsing the proposed Great Lakes-S. Lawrence waterways project, designed to create a system of water routes from the middle west to the Atlantic seaboard, were passed at a conference here yesterday attended by delegates from agricultural, commercial and chambers of commerce clubs from all parts of Nebraska. Charles P. # VOLCANO GIVEN PLACE ON LIST OF ATTRACTIONS

Kilauea in Action May Be Seen by Delegates to World Press Congress During Sessions at Honolulu

HONO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., (AP)—One of the world's greatest spectacles of nature—demonstrations of volcanic activity by Kilauea volcano on this island—will very possibly be witnessed before the eyes of delegates to the forthcoming World's Press congress sessions in Honolulu in October, according to L. W. DeVla-Norton, secretary of the Hawaiian Volcano Research association and an authority on the Hawaiian volcanoes.

The lava column within the vast fire pit of Kilauea has been rising steadily according to reports from the Hawaiian volcano observatory on the rim of the great crater directly overlooking the volcano. The molten lava lakes within the great fire pit are increasing in size and are rapidly taking the shape of lava rock islands which were conspicuous objects upon the lake's surface and are disappearing and by one on the molten flows overwhelm them.

Two Days at Volcano.

The itinerary for the press congress delegates calls for their arrival here on the evening of October 12 and it has been arranged that the next two days will be spent by the delegates at the volcano among the wonders of America's latest national park. All indications point to a culmination of Kilauea's activities about that time, the observatory reports and if these conditions materialize the delegates will witness a scene of marvelous and awe-inspiring brilliance, Mr. DeVla-Norton said.

Many strange things are transpiring in connection with the rapid upward swell of molten interior of the earth within the vent of Kilauea, Mr. DeVla-Norton said. A gigantic mass of rock is being forced steadily up from the depths and is already rearing its crest high above the white hot torrents that lap its base. The continuous movement of the lava along the top of these cones is causing heavy avalanches to rush down its sides. The result is that it has taken off until the rock masses has scaled form of an extremely sharp pinnacle-towering high above the lake.

Pit Swallows Avalanches.

Another phenomenon in evidence is causing considerable comment. The great subsidence that occurred after the eruption of the night March 18th has caused heavy avalanches to fall from the walls of the great fire pit. These, crashing down to the depths of the lake, which become covered with debris from above. During the past few days a series of remarkable spouting lava springs have broken out at intervals along the top of these cones, showing that an irresistible torrent of lava is forcing its way up within them, Mr. DeVla-Norton said. The various points of emergence are high above the lava lake and every few moments, glittering and spectacular cascades of molten fire and flame roar down over the slopes to the lakes below. "It is through the top of the rapids at Niagara Falls had been turned into flame" and the spectacle is especially striking at night, Mr. DeVla-Norton said.

Throughout Canada from 1,000 to 1,500 moose are killed annually, but the game are protected and are hunted under certain restrictions that are rigidly enforced, so that there is no fear of their extinction.

NEWBERRY CASE IN SENATE FOR FINAL DECISION

Party Lines Divide Opinions Expressed in Committee Reports on Michigan Senatorial Election Contest

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Opinions conflicting along party lines were presented today by majority and minority members of the senate privilege and elections committee on the Newberry case in a senatorial election contest from Michigan.

The majority report cleared Senator Truman H. Newberry, the republican candidate, of all charges and recommended that he be re-elected. The democratic members on the contrary asserted that Senator Newberry was elected by "corrupt and illegal means and practices" and recommended that his seat be declared vacant.

Up for Final Decision. With the filing of the reports the case now goes to the senate for final decision. It is expected that the senate will not meet for several weeks. In the meantime, it is understood, Senator Newberry will not attend the senate session.

On only two major issues were the republicans and democrats in harmony in the reports filed today. They agreed that Henry Ford, the democratic contestant, had not been elected and was ineligible for the seat from Michigan. They also agreed that too much money had been spent in the Michigan primary.

The democrats, however, contended that the republican was responsible personally for the expenditures while the republicans held he was not.

Recommendations of the majority report submitted by Senator Spencer, republican, who conducted the committee investigation and report, were: 1.—That the contest of Henry Ford against Truman H. Newberry be, and it is hereby, dismissed.

Would Seat Newberry. "2.—That Truman H. Newberry is hereby declared to be a duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the fourth day of March, 1921.

3.—That his qualification for a seat in the senate of the United States to which he has been elected, has been established and he is hereby declared to be a duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1921, and no recommendation, therefore, that his seat be declared vacant."

Charge Law Violation. "4.—That the irregularities complained of do not relate to the general election but to the primary. Henry Ford did not receive a plurality of the valid cast-at-the-general-election. Therefore, find that the petitioner, Henry Ford, was not elected and is not entitled to a seat in the senate of the United States.

Charge Law Violation. "5.—That the facts and circumstances of this case, corrupt and illegal methods and practices were employed at the primary election and that Truman H. Newberry violated the corrupt practices act and primary act of the state of Michigan, and that by reason thereof, he ought not to have or hold a seat in the senate of the United States and that he is not a duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the 4th day of March, 1921, and no recommendation, therefore, that his seat be declared vacant."

Agree on Newberry's Election. Both majority and minority members agreed that it was established conclusively that in the general election Senator Newberry had received a majority of the votes. Mr. Ford's charges of bribery, illegal voting, undue influence and intimidation of voters in the general election were declared by the majority to be without foundation.

College Possibility. In Heywood Brown's article in the Boston Herald concerning in our college, he mentions that when he was at Harvard "there was a pretty general opinion that life was a sham and a delusion." Apropos, we recall, albeit vaguely, a remark by Doctor Jewett, who said, as nearly as we can remember, that while he was at Oxford the students were fond of referring to themselves by the Greek term of "Amoete," overlooking the fact that its Latin equivalent is "Immoratus."—Boston Transcript.

Deadly Germs on Bank Notes. When one of the one-frank notes, used as currency in Paris, was subjected to microscopic examination, the chemist's report showed there were more than 230,000,000 germs attached to it, the accumulation from dirty hands and untidy treatment while it was in use. Consequently they marched up to the mayor and offered to do the job at a nominal figure. The mayor liked the idea. He also liked the split of the boys and took up the offer, arranging that the work should be done.

BOY SCOUTS

MADDOO FIRST CLASS SCOUT

Scout law as practiced at the 18 camps of Kanawhake lake in the Interstate Parklands park, was the subject of an earnest study made one day in August by Hon. William G. McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo and a distinguished company of guests who visited the camp at the invitation of Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the Greater New York Scout Council. Other members of the council who extended the invitation were James G. Blaine, Jr., William S. Kies, Samuel M. Greer and Barron Collier.

Almost the only scout feat that Mr. McAdoo failed to test was being rescued from drowning and resuscitated. That he was content to watch. All the rest that was going on he entered into. He whanged a baseball for the benefit of Brooklyn scouts, not to mention the movie men who busily clicked their cameras. He was bound up by a scout skiff in administering first aid to the wounded. He and Mrs. McAdoo received instruction in the art of tying various knots, and finally he was the recipient of a walking stick made from hop horriden taken from the branch of a tree of the lake and carved by J. A. Brunner, chairman of the camp committee of Central Union Council of New Jersey. The cane was carved with the emblem of a first class scout surrounded by an American eagle, and was presented to Mr. McAdoo on behalf of all the scouts of the summer. About 18,000 people of the camp in an evening the gift Mr. McAdoo remarked that he hoped it did not imply that he had reached such advanced years that he was compelled to lean upon a staff. He wanted the boys to understand he said, that he never intended to grow so old as that, but if he did that would be the staff upon which he would choose to lean.

The visit constituted a full dress inspection of the Lake Kanawhake camps, at which there are for nine weeks in the summer as many as 2,000 boys. They could be tried as many, Mr. McAdoo was informed by Barron Collier, who did the honors of the camp, if the resources of the organization permitted. The boys camp for not less than two weeks and in the course of the summer about 40,000 of the camp is in excess of 18,000. The visitary party was invited by Franklin D. Roosevelt and other members of the Greater New York scout council on account of the deep interest which is being shown by numerous prominent business men of New York in the scout organization.

SCOUTS REPAIR CITY SIDEWALKS

There is only one scout-troop in Lind, Wash., but that one is up and doing as is proved by a recent example of thrift and enterprise. It seems the scouts noticed that the wooden sidewalks of the summer school at Lind were rotting. Consequently they marched up to the mayor and offered to do the job at a nominal figure. The mayor liked the idea. He also liked the split of the boys and took up the offer, arranging that the work should be done.

ALSACE BEGINNING TO LIVE

Writer Finds a Feeling of Relief pervading the People of the Province, With Reason.

It is a strange, yet stimulating experience for anyone who is interested in the relations between peoples to visit the much-contested strip of land known as Alsace. The last time I was in Alsace was more than twenty years ago. It was the day after Blismarck's death, and everywhere, the black-white-red flags were hanging out at half-mast in honor of the man who had made the two provinces a Reichland—part of the new German empire.

Today Blismarck's work is undone; gone, even from Germany itself, is the black-white-red flag; gone are the Prussian officers and officials, the railroad station masters, and all the other paraphernalia of imperial German rule. The older-order survives but here and there, in the great official buildings erected and arranged on the grandiose German (or, as the Germans now call it, Wilhelmian) scale. In the familiar square blue German letter boxes in the neat blue street signs which have been left standing with a neat new French sign adixed above or beneath. No doubt the minor officials have been but little changed.

The village station master and the postman have not differed their German loyalty to don their more easy-fitting French equivalent. But if the men are the same, the faces, as well as the uniforms, are different. There is a feeling of relief, of detente in the air. One has the sense of a people that has returned to the normal. At last, after a long ordeal, they can be themselves. They are free to settle down and to begin to live.—Alfred B. Zimmerman in the Manchester Guardian.

Inconsistent.

It is one of the inconsistencies of man that he will make laws to protect the deer, surround the partridge with game regulations; compel the faberman to respect the small fish, and yet allow the ruthless destruction of the home in which there wild things live.—American Forestry Magazine.

A Compromise.

No college man is as good as he tries to make his professor believe he is, nor as bad as he tells his girl he is.—Fester.

GO HEAVY ON SOFT DRINKS

People of the United States Consume Annually a Vast Amount of Sweet Concoctions.

That more than $1,000,000,000 is annually spent in the United States for soft drinks is the conclusion reached by experts in the revenue bureau, who base the figures on the tax returns from the sale of 10,000,000,000 glasses a year at an average of ten cents a glass. This vast sum, according to a chemist in the health department, is paid for sodas and other drinks composed largely of coal tar products of value under the protective cloak of "imitation" and "artificial," which exempts manufacturers from punishment under existing statutes.

Orangeade, if orange, is glucose, sweetened water, and glucose without any artificial coloring. The imitation orangeade, according to the chemist in the New York city department of health, is a combination of oil or orange coloring, sweetened with saccharine that comes in bottles. Saccharine is a coal tar product 600 times sweeter than sugar, and of no food value, which is considered injurious to health by medical authorities if taken in excess of four glasses a day.—P. Q. Fay in New York World.

Minds of Lower Animals.

It is generally known that many animals possess in a greater or less degree the same senses that we ourselves have, sight, hearing, smell, touch, temperature, and so on, and that many of them experience such emotions as fear, anger, grief and joy; but it is not quite so certain that they even have the elements of reason as we understand that term. Their minds are like ours only in the degree of their intelligence.

Uncle Charlie's Whistle.

Anna and her mother often go to see her aunt and uncle. Her uncle plays a clarinet, of which she is much afraid. When she sees him reach for it she takes hold of her mother's hand and says, "Come home, mamma. Uncle Charlie is going to blow him's whistle."

The Sowers.

While young men are busy sowing wild oats, older ones are growing sage.—Ashland (Mo.) Eagle.

Boxes of Green Lumber Wreakers.

Fading boxes made of properly seasoned lumber are found to resist rough handling six to ten times as well as those made of green lumber. The reason as demonstrated by the forest products laboratory, is that the fibers of the green wood shrink away from the nails as the stock dries, and so lose their grip.

Could Dare Anything.

"According to an authority, 'oolous contain more calories than some meats and make an invigorating soup for convalescents.' After nibbling at a few scallions, eating onion soup and sipping off with steak smothered in onions, the most delicate invalid should have a heart for any fate.

English Mercy for Criminals.

In England a sentence of life imprisonment is always reviewed at the end of 10 years, and if the prisoner's conduct has been uniformly good, he is usually released. This is particularly the case where a prisoner has been sentenced for murder, for murderers are said to be usually well-behaved prisoners.

Checkers Played by the Ancients. The game of checkers is very ancient, being known to the Egyptians, Greeks and Romans. It was played in Europe in the sixteenth century. An old form of checkers is known in China as "the game of circumvention."
