WOUNDED MEN TO TELL ABOUT DRENA FIGHT

Grand Jury Investigation of Bloody Clash Between Sher- riff and Ku Klux Klan Awaits Recovery of Victims

CITIZENS IN STATEMENT HOLD OFFICER TO BLAME

Attempted Interference with Parade Results in Clash in which Three Persons Re- ceive Serious Injuries

WACO, Texas, (AP)—Definite announcement was expected here today of the date when the fifty-fourth district grand jury will be called to receive reports for investigation of the fight at the arena, 14 miles south of here Saturday night, following an attempt by Sheriff Bob Buchanan, of McLennan county, to halt a Ku Klux Klan parade, resulting in a fatal wound to three men and serious injury of seven others.

Refuses to File Complaint.

Following a conference with County Attorney F. B. Terry, after the latter had refused the demands of a committee of approximately 100 Loras citizens that he file complaints against Sheriff Buchanan and his deputy, M. Burton, for their participation in the encounter, Judge R. L. Munroe announced that the grand jury would be called without delay. He declared, however, that the inquiry should not be ordered until the wounded had sufficiently recovered to public them to testify.

Several Injured.

The latter two, reported to have been innocent bystanders, were attacked by an unidentified assailant. The sheriff was unharmed, but the pistol ball which penetrated his arm in the encounter, is now being treated in a hospital. It is reported that the grand jury will be called in a few days.

Resolutions Passed.

The resolutions emanated the Ku Klux Klan, saying that they did not intend to violate the law by staging their parade, and asserting that the sheriff was to blame for the shedding of blood on the sheriff.

Speakers Give Vent.

Speakers among a crowd of more than three thousand people who had gathered from surrounding towns and villages to witness the parade, declared that they would support the demand that two of the paraders should be executed.

DALE FOR INVESTIGATION

DALE, Ark., (AP)—The archbishop of St. Louis, Archbishop John A. Leahy, has charged to investigate the tarring and feathering here September 20 of Fred Ziegler, former hotel man, as well as the activities of a group of men in the town which "pretends to take into its own hands the administration of justice" was delivered today to an extraordinary grand jury by Judge Leahy.

Archbishop Calls for Disarmament Prayers

LONDON, (AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, has called for a day of prayer for the Christian churches to meet Sunday, November 6, as a day of prayer for the "divine blessing on the Washington conference" and for the "divine blessing on the Eastern problems, beginning November 11."

Size of Families Shows Decline in Ten Years Period

Census Bureau Figures Indicate Fewer Persons Living in Each Dwelling

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Decreasing during the last decade in the average number of persons in a family and to a dwelling in the United States is indicated by comparative statistics made public today by the census bureau. The 1920 census showed that the nation's population was grouped into 24,551,674 families residing in 20,697,204 dwellings, making an average of 4.8 persons to a family and 6.1 persons to a dwelling.

In 1910 the average number of persons to a family was 4.5 and to a dwelling 5.2. The average in both cases was still higher in 1880—five persons to a family and 5.6 persons to a dwelling—and has risen steadily since.

As shown by the 1920 census, the average size of families is greatest in southern states and smallest in western states. The number of persons to a dwelling was greatest on the North Atlantic seaboard and smallest in western states. Among individual states, the average to a family in 1920 ranged from 3.5 in Nevada to 5.5 in North Carolina, and to a dwelling from 3.7 in Nevada to 7.5 in New York.

RAILMEN DELAY STRIKE ACTION

B. M. Jewell Says No Decision Will Be Reached Before October 10

CHICAGO, (AP)—Railroad unions will take no action on the strike question before October 10 and possibly not for some time after that date. This announcement was made today by B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor following a conference of executives of the 16 railroad labor organizations.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The national council of the women's party decided last night not to seek congressional action on a constitutional amendment to remove local inequalities of woman until the December session.

HOUSTON, Texas, (AP)—Rev. Hooper, traveling preacher of Santa Barbara, California, was slugged and robbed as he was resting at a school house eight miles east here Saturday night, according to a report made to officers here today. Hooper was found this morning. He will live.

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Dying from an overdose of a sleeping powder and with both wrists slashed, Mrs. Paul G. Zukko, wife of a wealthy New York importer and exporter, who had been missing since Thursday, was found Saturday night in a barn on the Zukko estate near Madison. It became known today. Mrs. Zukko died a few minutes after being found.

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Miss Katherine Peterson, 20-year-old girl who a month ago offered to marry a man for $3,000 in order to secure an education and pretty clothes, today announced it was now a question of deciding which man to take. Miss Peterson, unable to achieve her desire by working as a clerk, bookkeeper, saleswoman or nurse, said her one hundred replies came from switchboard, insurance agent, clerk, business man and day laborer.

WITNESSES IN MURDER TRIAL DO NOT APPEAR

Both Sides Lack Important Testimony as William A. Hightower Goes on Trial for Killing of California Priest

REDWOOD CITY, Cal. (AP)—Important witnesses for state and defense were missing today at the hour dawned for William A. Hightower to go on trial for the alleged murder of the Rev. Patrick E. Healin, Catholic priest.

The state witness, whom all the powers of the district attorney's office helped out by the San Francisco police, and from which the state called, was Marie Wendel, who with the priest's housekeeper, Marie Wendel, alone is known to have seen the cleric since an unidentified man, said to resemble Hightower, took him by night from the priest's residence on the pretext that a dying man desired spiritual consolation.

"Dolly" Mason Disappears.

The defense witness who had not been found was "Dolly" Mason, from whom Hightower is alleged to have obtained information that "enabled him to find the priest's shallow grave in the sands of Salinas beach, on the San Francisco peninsula, from which Healin's body was exhumed by lantern light by San Francisco police and newspapermen. The district attorney asserts "Dolly" Mason "is a mythical personage."

Maintains Innocence.

William A. Hightower, itinerant hater and casual laborer, charged with the murder of the Rev. Patrick E. Healin, Colima, Cal. Catholic priest, protested his innocence from the first and maintained that he would be willing to give a full jury of priests sit in judgment on him. The killing of Healin's body was exhumed by lantern light by San Francisco police and newspapermen. The district attorney asserts "Dolly" Mason "is a mythical personage."

Days of grilling and the accumulation of much evidence against Hightower failed to make him flinch. He great was the strain to which he was subjected that he was unable to eat the first few days of the examination and lost some pounds in weight.

Father Healin, who died from his home at Colima, a suburb of San Francisco, about nine o'clock the night of Tuesday, August 2, by a mystified stranger, who from $10,000 to have administered the last sacrament to a dying man. The two roads away is a small town.

The killing, murdering Miss Marie Wendel, the priest's housekeeper, notified the police of the priest's failure to return home, and a search was made that attracted attention to the encounter. Miss Wendel, who identified Hightower as the man who had killed her, for Father Healin.

Letter Brings First Clue.

After a few days the searcher announced that they were "up against a stone wall." Miss Wendel, who identified Hightower as the man who had killed her, for Father Healin.

Rewards totalling $8000 were offered for the safe return of Father Healin or the recovery of his body, and there (Continued on Page Four)

JURY FOR SOUTHERN TRIALS COMPLETED

Selection of Twelve Men to Pass On Guilt or Innocence of Alleged Mur- deress Comes Soon After Recess.

STATE ADDS NAMES OF NURSE AND DOCTORS TO LIST OF WITNESSES

Defendant Is Denied Further Intercourse, with Captain Purdy

Fear of Emotional Outbreak Is Believed to Be Back of Defense Action

Four of an emotional outbreak on the part of Miss Purdy, which might seriously affect her interests in the trial, was the last of the afternoon of an order issued by Sheriff Sherman this morning by J. G. Guthrie, chief counsel for the defense in the Southern case whereby the sheriff is directed to keep local officers of the Salvation Army clear away from the trial.

For some time past Captain Purdy of the Army has been the chief of the only spiritual adviser of Mrs. Southard and the impression exists that Captain Purdy has gotten close to the heart of the woman than any other person who has talked with her, not excepting her own parents.

Of Emotional Nature.

Mrs. Southard is believed to be of a highly emotional nature which trend of mind has been developed rapidly by the circumstances surrounding the position in which she now finds herself. That admissions have so far been made touching upon any vital issue of the case-giving her is not believed to be in her mind, but her incarceration has wrought upon her spirits to an extent which has put her into a frame of mind which might cause her to make statements prejudicial to her interests and with the idea of taking no chances of the sort it was believed better to eliminate the captain's visits.

Prosecutor Frank L. Stenbach, chief counsel for the state, has also issued an order directing Sheriff Sherman and his deputies to allow Miss Purdy to visit the woman's husband only in the jail corridor and during the presence of the jailer. These two moves mean a complete ban on the privileges of the defendant in sharp contrast to the liberty allowed her up to this time.

CROP REPORT OCCASIONS BREAK IN COTTON TRADE

Prices Drop $10 a Bale in New Orleans Market when Final Estimate Appears

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Further decline in the condition of cotton drop in September resulted in a reduction of 500,000 bales in the forecast of production issued today by the department of agriculture which places the total crop at 6,577,000 equivalent 500 pound bales.

Cotton production this year was forecast at 6,577,000 equivalent 500 pound bales by the department of agriculture basing its estimates on the condition of the crop as of September 25 which was 42.2 per cent of a normal indicating a yield of 118.0 pounds per acre.

PRICE FALLS PROMPTLY

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—The sharp report today of the season by the department of agriculture on the condition of the growing cotton crop, cracked the cotton market wide open and in five minutes of trading, following the issuance of the figures of 42.2, prices were 2000 points or $10 a bale off from the highest of the morning, the extreme of fluctuation to one session allowed under the rules of the cotton exchange.

RAIL EXTENSION DECLARED VITAL TO THE COUNTRY

Eastern Banker Tells Rotarians Must Be Helped—Appeals for Fair Deal

Ballroads must be so restored that lines and equipment may be improved and additional mileage built, said Thomas B. McAdams, vice president of the American Bankers' association, speaking at a Rotary club luncheon recently held in San Francisco.

Credit for the statement is accorded McAdams in an issue of the Journal of San Francisco, the speaker dealt with the general subject of extension of the country's railway system and the reduction of operation expenses. Mr. McAdams is a resident of Richmond, Va., and stopped off in San Francisco, with a number of eastern bankers on the way to Los Angeles to attend an important convention of financial men.

"I am not appealing for the capital, but for the country's welfare," he said. "The speaker introduced the subject of railroads by describing his experience in crossing Canada on his way west. He said he was struck by the contrast between the 'splendid condition' of the Canadian Pacific in regard to roads, rolling stock and stations, and the run-down appearance of the rails in the United States. This, he found, was due to the assistance given to the Canadian Pacific by the Dominion government. In the United States, the railroads had been 'made a game of battles and a squandered' by the people.

"Capital, labor and customers should all have a square deal," he added. "Railway rates are not so high, he continued, that 75 per cent of the price of Virginia potatoes delivered in New York goes into freight. In the past five years, Virginia has sent up more road than it has built. At present time 15 of the 100 counties of Virginia are entirely without railway facilities. Land values in these isolated counties are less than behind the land values of the other counties, fertility being equal.

"Our railroads are the industrial arteries of the country," he concluded. "We cannot do without them. We must see that they obtain capital for development. Our country needs other James J. Hils to open up the rich country that is still isolated through lack of transportation."

The question of marketing was taken up by Congressman Frenn who, in the course of an hour, was speaking yesterday. He stated that American marketing systems were declared to be "wasteful and expensive." Few products are marketed more so than cotton. California cotton is sold at a different hands five times before it goes on the market in Washington.

American trade has no distributing system that is still isolated through lack of transportation," he said.

Paris Exhibits High Interest in Series

PARIS, (AP)—Unusual interest in the world's series between the New York National and American league teams is being taken by the American colony in this city, owing probably to the fact that both teams represent the American metropolis. Several wagers were made at the Longchamps race track yesterday, the Yankees were slight favorites, the odds being 11 to 10.

GULFSA, Okla. (AP)—The Texas company today announced a price of $1.20 on Oklahoma crude oil, an increase of 25 cents.

Permits Individual Taxpayer To Deduct Worthless Debts

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The senate today agreed to committee amendments to the tax bill providing that debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within the taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction to individual tax payers.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, objected to a certain under which had commissioner of internal revenue would have until March 3, 1922, to re-examine claims made for deductions for amortization on bonds or other securities. He proposed an amendment under which no further allowance for amortization

SUPREME COURT COINCIDES WITH TAFT ON BEACH

No Important New Cases, but Great Number of Pending Cases Before Nation's High- est Tribunal

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The supreme court reconvened today for the regular fall term. No cases of national importance were placed upon its docket during the summer recess.

For the first time in its history, however, the court was presided over by a chief justice who is not a president of the United States—William Howard Taft, chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward Douglas White.

Anti-Trust Cases Pending

In addition to the 140 anti-trust cases awaiting decision there are pending several boundary and irrigation disputes between states as well as cases between states involving trade discrimination, numerous questions relating to state government operation of railroads during the war, a railroad merger case, several cases testing the rights of organized labor during strikes, as well as its responsibility for losses resulting from acts of violence during strikes, a large number of cases in which railroad and other public utilities seek to have determined their liability for injuries suffered by employees, several challenges by states of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission in maintaining railroad control, the constitutionality of the prohibition tax imposed by the federal government upon child labor, numerous cases arising out of the operation of national prohibition, and many land, patent, admiralty, bankruptcy, immigration, Chinese exclusion and miscellaneous cases.

Other Bill Questions

The court has under advancement and may give its opinion at any time in the Southern Pacific case, involving control of the Central Pacific; the Comstock Wright Building Workers' case, arising out of violence during a strike in Arkansas and involving the liability of organized labor for losses to which strikers and others; the Wilson case, in which 41 other states joined to test the right of the interstate commerce commission to raise their fares with in a state; and the Western Union case, in which the government sought to prevent the landing of a cable at Miami.

Some to Be Reargued

Some important cases are to be reargued before the full bench. These include the United Shoe Machinery case brought under the Clayton act to test a contract prohibiting leases from using other machines in the manufacture of shoes; the American Column & Lumber company case, a proceeding in which the government contends monopoly and restraint of trade is obtained by agreement between the American Column & Lumber case, from North Carolina, testing the act imposing a prohibitory tax on the products of mills in Idaho; the American Steel Foundries and Truxax cases, the former from Illinois and the latter from Arizona, in which the right of labor to picket during a strike is involved; Wyoming's effort to prevent the diversion by Colorado of water from the Laramie river; the Standard Spinning case, involving the question whether a dealer's contract is required by producers to exclusively handle their products; and the Duhoko-Walker Milling company case, in which state laws requiring persons and corporations engaged in business to register are being contested as restrictions to interstate commerce.

Gas Case Heads List

At the close of the term assigned by the court to argue to be held on October 10 is one of the numerous New York gas cases based on increased rates. The next case to be heard by the court, according to schedule, relates to prohibition regulations, in which Charles Cornell and George J. Ohio seek to remove to their homes certain distilled spirits which they have had in bonded warehouses since before the constitutional amendment was adopted. The E. I. duPont de Nemours Powder company case is the third among the agreed cases, presenting the question whether stock issued by a newly created company for distribution among stockholders of the parent company is subject to the federal income tax. It will be followed by the reargument of the American Column & Lumber case.

Remarkable Australian Trees

Among the most interesting trees of Australia are found the flame-trees first-trees to nearly one hundred feet; the fire-tree, the only tree that blossoms scarlet red, resembling a tree or fire; beef-wood, leafless trees with drooping, rigid branches of a color of steel and of the graceful form of a wonderful, lanky tree and brilliant form and brilliant color.

WOMEN'S CLUB ANNUAL MEETING PROMISES WELL

Interesting Program Is Outlined for General Assembly in Report

That the twenty-first annual meeting of the first district of the Idaho Federated clubs which will meet in Rupert next week promises to be one of the most interesting in recent years is indicated by the program which includes presentations of timely subjects by Mrs. Ethelyn Glaser of Boise, Mrs. L. B. Green of Mountain Home and Mrs. M. J. Sweeley of Twin Falls, president of the Mountain States and Pacific Coast federation. Reports will be heard of the committee on health, civics, civil service, education, public health, historical records and legislative movements.

The opening session will be held at 10 a. m. on Wednesday, October 5, and will include addresses of welcome and an address by the president, as well as a musical program. Thursday morning will be devoted to reports of committees and clubs and the afternoon to the addresses by Mrs. Sweeley and Miss Glaser.

For 6:30 Thursday evening a banquet has been arranged which will be followed by a program that includes an address by Mrs. L. B. Green of Mountain Home, state president of Federated clubs. Friday morning will be given over to the routine of committee work, and the afternoon to an auto ride to the points of interest.

MORE INSTRUCTORS ARE NEEDED AT UNIVERSITY

Increased Enrollment at Moscow Creates Demand for Added Teachers

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, (Special)—As a result of approximately a 27 per cent increase in enrollment in the various colleges and departments of the university, the department of student assistant instructors has been made necessary, it was announced today from the office of President A. H. Brigham. Although late registration continues to swell the student body, the number already registered greatly exceeds that of the same time last year. C. E. Coston, formerly principal of the school at Ashton and St. Anthony, Idaho, has been selected as student assistant in physics. Miss Cayle McDaniel, an Idaho graduate in the class of 1919, has been appointed as graduate assistant in the English department. Miss Hess Bernhard, graduate from the physical education department of the Chicago Normal school, will be student assistant in physical education for women.

Unusual demand for courses in the modern languages has necessitated the addition of two student assistant instructors. Domingo Perez Nunez, native of the Canary Islands, who has five years of college education, having taken out his first citizenship papers four years ago, and Delina Bayardo of Capaz, Philippine islands, are instructing classes in beginning Spanish.

AGED WOMAN TO COME HERE WITH JAP DELEGATES

Representative of 500,000 Women of Oriental Empire Brings Message to Disarmament Conference

TOKIO, (AP)—Princess Iyemoto Tokugawa and Vice Admiral Kato, minister of marine, will sail for the United States aboard the liner Kashiwa Maru from Yokohama October 15 to take part in the conference on the limitation of armaments and Far Eastern questions in Washington. Baron Kanda and Tsunetsada Kato, former minister to Belgium, both members of the house of peers, will accompany former Tokugawa as personal advisors. Prince Tokugawa's son, Iyemasa Tokugawa, has arrived from Tokyo, where he was secretary at the Japanese legation, and will accompany his father across the Pacific, being en route to London, to which city he has been transferred.

Appreciates Responsibility

Princess Tokugawa, who will act as head of the Japanese delegation at the Washington conference, has issued a statement to the press, in which she realizes the grave responsibility placed upon him, but wishes to assure the people he will do his best in the cause of the empire.

Understayed by her 80 years, Mrs. Mame Yajima, president of the Japanese Women's Betterment association, which has a membership of 500,000, left Tokyo Friday on her way to America, where she will work in the cause of humanity and peace. She sailed from Yokohama Saturday on board the steamer Etsu Maru, which took the army and navy delegates to the Washington conference.

Mrs. Yajima carries the following message of peace from the women of Japan to the women of the West: "I sincerely wish to express the hopes of the success of the Washington conference, and the dawn of a new epoch of higher and better understanding between nations."

Will Distribute Handbills

On August 14, November 11, she will distribute in Washington 5,000 handbills entitled "The Messenger of the Goddess of Peace." It will declare Japanese women have a strong aversion to war and believe in the supreme importance of the conference. Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, is quoted as saying that the number of Japanese delegates at the conference will not be limited to three, but may be increased, according to circumstances. He said that he could not at present say whether Japan would propose discussion of the emigration question.

"The racial problem may be introduced, but I can say nothing definite," the foreign minister is quoted as saying. "It may not be necessary to submit the question of the island of Yap, even if negotiations with the United States are not completely settled. If the general Pacific mandatory question is settled with America it must be submitted to other interested powers. I believe the Yap and Shantung matters will be adjusted by other means than submission at Washington."

Recalls Old Esteem

In pursuance of the esteem held by the late emperor for George Washington, on Wednesday night, declared the Washington conference would be a golden opportunity for Japan to clear away misunderstandings, and to state frankly and straightforwardly her national aims and aspirations. He declared that the late emperor Mutsuhito kept on a mantlepiece in his study the original of a letter which George Washington wrote to Governor Huntington of Connecticut on Thanksgiving day, 1780, and in which Washington discussed the "Japan mystery." After presenting a photographic copy of the letter to the ambassador, Viscount Kaneko said:

"In pursuance of the esteem held by the late emperor for George Washington, we hope the United States and Japan may place themselves far above the plane of this struggling world, where neither the blackening of the canvas, nor the sickening smell of human blood can disturb the tranquility of the friendship between the two nations, and their countries in our voices names of Washington and Mutsuhito."

HAIR-RESTING PARLOR SERVES TEA AND CAKE

Torsorial Art Is Brought to High State of Elegance in Hotel Knickerbocker

NEW YORK, (AP)—A barber shop and hair bobbing parlor de luxe, where tea and cake are served daily with music from 4 to 6 p. m., have been opened in the old Hotel Knickerbocker on the site where busy men well known along the Great White Way were wont to foregather, put one foot on the King Cole and do things more fashionable by an amendment to the constitution and legislation supplementary thereto.

As another mark of progress a publication in pink specializing in photographs of actresses and actors has no place in this latter shop. It has given way to the highest class of magazines. Caruso used to live in the hotel. Since prohibition it has been turned into stores and offices.

Superstitious Montenegro

The daily life of the Montenegro peasant is full of superstition. He is particularly afraid the manner in which he rises in the morning, about what first meets his sight, how he dresses and washes, and whom he meets, of what food he eats, and the time and manner of serving throughout the entire day.

WOMAN'S LIFE CLAIMED BY SOVIET INQUISITION

Feminine Anarchist Leader and Nine Men Executed in Connection with Moscow Bomb Plot

MOSCOW, (AP)—Panis Barro, a woman anarchist leader, and nine men have been executed by the Cheka or Soviet inquisition, and many others have been imprisoned in Moscow in connection with plots dating back to September, 1919, when bombs were exploded during a meeting of the Moscow committee of the communist party, wrecking the building in which the meeting was held and killing many persons.

On August 16 last, the Cheka alleges, the anarchist plotters effected a military operation to assist in the escape of imprisoned members of their group who killed a commissar and engaged in a street battle in which many persons were killed or injured. Revolvers, printing ink and forged money plates, by which the anarchists made money to carry on their activities, were found in the anarchist headquarters, the Cheka asserts.

VARSITY SQUAD FIXING UP FOR ARMY TEAM TILT

Idaho's Fighting Spirit Being Coached for Coming Strength Test

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special).—With the date of the Idaho-Camp Lewis battle October 8 fast approaching, speculation on the comparative strengths of the opposing elevens is a rife and the Idaho campers are buzzing with reports that the bulk of the Ninth area army team, otherwise known as the Camp Lewis eleven, consists of four novices all-stars, two of whom were picked at different times for positions on Walter Camp's mythical all-American eleven.

Idaho's unassailable fighting spirit being tendered up to the greater pitch for the initial battle, which is in a large way will foretell the "Silver and Gold's" destiny on the gridiron during the present season.

Among those on the personnel of the Camp Lewis squad who are more or less in the limelight at the present time are Major Herrell, coach and quarter, who will play up to the greater pitch for the initial battle, which is in a large way will foretell the "Silver and Gold's" destiny on the gridiron during the present season.

As a preliminary to the Idaho-Camp Lewis game the university "Fiffoosh" will meet the Lewiston high school eleven.

FILER'S ELEVEN STARTS SEASON WITH BIG SCORE

Kimberly Team Is Victim in Opening Football Tilt of the Year

FILER, Idaho (Special).—In the opening game of the season on the home grounds the Filer high school football eleven on Friday defeated the Kimberly team, 74 to 0. The Filer outfit displayed better condition; a more thorough knowledge of gridiron tactics, besides outweighing Kimberly considerably. The home team proved speedier.

LEAGUES FINISH PLAY SCHEDULED; BIG SERIES NEXT

Giants Lose Last Regular Game to Spanghans While Yankees Win from Boston

NEW YORK, (AP)—With the major league baseball season passed into history, the eyes of the sporting world are turned toward the Polo grounds, to the National League and the American League series which will begin their struggle for the title of world champion.

SWATTING KING LAYS HIS PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

Babe Ruth Sets Home-Run Mark at 60 for Season of 1922—One Short in 1921

NEW YORK, (AP)—Babe Ruth, home run king and star batsman of the 1921 American league champions, today announced his 1922 batting campaign plans. Ruth, whose fifty-ninth home run yesterday was one short of the season mark he had set for himself, said he would make another effort to reach the three score total next year.

Brief Bits of Sport

The two New York teams will go to it on Wednesday.

The News, through its wire service, facilitated at the playing park, will provide home fans every detail of play in each inning.

The vital, and perhaps the only real question now is which team can out-hitter the other. The best hitting aggregation will cop the flag.

Neither club can offer much in the way of truly great twirlers, but each has a staff of mound artists that does creditable work.

But it looks like a slugging and a slugger's series, for sure.

The Giants won the National league yesterday by a wider margin than did the Yankees. The best hitting aggregation than the Yankees.

Nothing, though, seems to be in favor of the Giants, which means that the majority of fans do not believe Babe Ruth will be able to demonstrate extraordinary prowess with the bat this year.

A boxing bout between Harry Willis, "Kid" McVey's right fight champion, and Jack Johnson is the latest proposal.

Anything to help the black convict replenish his depleted coffers at the expense of a gullible public.

The vital question is "Does Johnson deserve consideration at the hands of the American white people?"

Anything the White Sox showed something against the win and secure baseball champions last Saturday.

Eighteen bits of White.

A benefit game, played in New York for Christy Mathewson, netted the former star twirler of the Giants $25,000.

The White Sox and Cubs start a city series on Wednesday afternoon for the Chicago championship. The first battle will be staged in White Sox park.

Judge Landis has directed that the price of admission for these games will be no more and no less than the regular fee charged during the regular season.

Proving that the head of all baseball business has an eye to the everlasting fitness of things.

The Boise high school eleven on Saturday defeated the Weidoe team. This was the first grid tilt of importance for the Capital city team this season.

SOME GRID HERO WILL HAVE NAME HEWN ON SHIELD

Distinction to Be Accorded Best Man on Varsity Eleven This Year

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow (Special).—The name of some member of this year's Idaho varsity football team will be on the shield which is engraved on a trophy shield donated by James E. West, '16, formerly of Lewiston, it is announced by Coach Kelly. The stipulations cited by Mr. West are that at the end of each gridiron season the man proving of the best value to the squad will have his name engraved on the shield, which will hang in the athletic building. The "West trophy shield" pictures a player kicking goal after a touchdown. Above the remainder of the team, lined behind the kicker, is a blank space bordered with laurels, in which the name of the honored will be engraved.

FLOCK OF QUAIL MAKE CITY LOTS PLACE OF REFUGE

Feather Game Flew in Fright from Booming of Hunters Guns

Probably for the purpose of seeking refuge from the horde of hunters that prevailed the outgoing district from only hours on Saturday, a flock of about 100 quail, which were within the city limits and spent the entire day on the vacant lot north of the Catholic parish house, making excursions into the rear yard of the Catholic street's home.

While regarding the approach of men with caution the small feathered guests showed little sign of fear, the continuing shot which they have received, having seemingly bred in them a sense of immunity to danger.

BIRD OF PREY IS VICTIM OF REECE'S SHOT

Twin Falls Man Brings Down Eagle Measuring Seven Feet Across Wings

W. R. Reece, residing at 750 Ash street, has on display a great eagle which fell a victim to Reece's gun prowess yesterday. The bird of prey was brought down with a shot through the wing.

Mr. Reece was hunting north of Eden when the monster bird sailed overhead. The hunter raised his weapon and brought the eagle careening to the ground. After a fight Mr. Reece finally subdued his victim and brought it to this city. The bird measures seven feet from wing tip to wing tip.

Fraction of Point Separates Ty Cobb from Batting Title

Own Team-mate, Harry Hollman, Wins Slugging Honors in American League

NEW YORK, (AP)—Harry Hollman, Detroit's slugging outfielder, won the 1921 batting championship in the American league by .8003 of a point, according to unofficial figures made public today.

Hollman's boss, Manager Ty Cobb, gave him a merry chase for the title. They were virtually tied when the season closed yesterday, with .790 each, but the figures when carried out to four percentage points gave Hollman .8003 and Cobb .8001. Ruth, New York, was third with .737; Slater, St. Louis, last year's champion, fourth, .717, and Spinker, Cleveland, fifth, .557.

BANKERS TAKE STEPS TOWARD RUSS REVIVAL

Berlin Commercial Circles Hear Financiers of America, England and Germany Turn Attention Toward Soviet

BERLIN (AP)—American, English and German banking interests have begun negotiations looking toward cooperation in the rehabilitation of Russia, through the financing of industrial enterprises in the soviet republic, according to information which has reached interested commercial circles here. The proposed assistance would not be based upon a recognition of the present government of Russia, but would be extended "with the conviction that the Russian government would respect any contracts which might be made." One of the representatives of the London houses, which is promoting the movement, declared, "It added that negotiations were begun only after it was established that the soviet government was no longer 'red' but had swung to the right, and was aiming at something essentially the same as the goal of other republican nations."

The Russian government is understood to have been informed of the purpose of the American, English and German interests and to have been told frankly there was no intention at this time of making Russia a fourth party to the contract, but only the object of "a solicitous and profitable, move ment."

The Russians are believed to have taken it for granted that the international bankers were planning "a benevolent exploitation" of Russia which would not only yield them profit but would help to stabilize the uncertain economic situation here.

American League. New York, 7; Boston, 6; Washington, 11; Philadelphia, 6; St. Louis, 12; Detroit, 3; Chicago, 7; Cleveland, 4.

Certain Russians here who have displayed lively interest in these negotiations have expressed their conviction that they will accept regardless of whether the present Russian government stands or falls, although it is admitted that at least the majority of the movement has been to secure the promise of a number of individual but strong banking houses in each of the three countries to support the plan. It is evident it offered that the soviet government will give the foreign financiers a free hand.

English Loans Reported.

"A number of foreign banks and particularly English concerns already have placed large sums at the disposal of the Russians and also have done much merchandise, in many instances extending credit for as long as five years," said a German industrialist who has been interested in numerous Russian movements.

"Other foreign concerns have flatly declined to have any connection with the Russian loan movement, but these concerns have been widely advised. The fact of the matter is, and many financiers see it that whatever the Russian loan movement, it is not a valid or not, yet fortunes are waiting in Russia for the men who ultimately must develop the country's latent resources and give a rehabilitation of the present run-down industries."

A Russian refugee here, once wealthy and a member of the old regime, not daring to return while the soviets are in power, nevertheless has decided to devote his efforts to promoting plans to "exploit" Russia at long range, hoping to "share in the profits that will make many Rockefeller's of Russia."

Predicts Radical Disruption.

"I know Russia and I know the Russians and I understand what kind of a government exists there now," this man declared. "This government, which prevailed notwithstanding the perils of its downfall every month for the last four years, will not be immediately overthrown but gradually will give way, on its long giving way, to a less radical and a more reasonable regime."

"The new government will represent the different classes of Russia, and through its agency there will eventually arise the United States of Russia—United States richer in natural resources than the United States of America. This new state, deprived of the ready money by war and revolution, will welcome the advent of foreign capital and foreign experts and I am convinced they will reap profits as they sow investments."

Americans Hold Back.

He expressed the belief that the present negotiations, which he said he had understood were proceeding "secretly," would in a large measure succeed, although responses from America had not indicated the proposal was being considered there as favorably as in England and Germany. The Germans are particularly anxious to cooperate with the English and the Americans, he explained, for even individual commercial alliances represent to them "another link in a friendship which may later result in a new Germany, able again to take her place among the great financial powers of the world."

BUPPET OUSTER PROCEEDINGS RAISE NOVEL ISSUE IN LAW

RUPERT, Idaho.—The Idaho supreme court will be asked, in the suit brought by Prosecuting Attorney H. A. Baker of Minidoka county to oust the mayor and some of the councilmen of Rupert, to determine whether or not the prosecuting attorney has a right to file the complaint on information not coming from a grand jury, according to statement of attorneys for the city officials after their deaurer in district court proceedings had been overruled last week by Judge T. Bailey Lee.

The question will be presented to the supreme court on application for a writ of prohibition of proceedings in the district court.

Remarkable Physical Strength

While the average woman possesses only about two-thirds of the physical strength of the average man, there are plenty of exceptions and there have been women who could rival almost every feat of the strongest man. One of the most wonderful of them all was Miss Kate Roberts, the daughter of a Welsh preacher. Though there was nothing in the least masculine about this young woman, she could lift a full grown man above her head with one arm.

Put it up to the teacher.

It was Jimmy's first day in school and he appeared to be very much interested and was very attentive to everything the teacher said. In one class the teacher asked Jimmy how many fingers he had. The little fellow stuck out his fingers and said to the teacher: "There they are, count 'em."

"THE MONEY CHANGERS"

A Drama of the Crest and Dregs of Humanity An X-Ray of New York Life

You've bought her soul and sold your own. He was the brains of the money changers. He, a society leader, bargained the lives of men and women for gold. And now his fiancee knew all. His traffic in the Chinese palace as king of the underworld. The girl, weak for silks and jewels, whom he enticed into his snare of poppy smoke. The boy from the slums with a prison past who wanted to go straight, whom he framed to do his will. And the boy's sad-eyed mother whose heart he broke. Now she knew why the reporter had cornered him as the man behind the ring. Here is Upton Sinclair's greatest photograph of untold millions and the lure of women. It is a sweeping, pulse-beating human drama. Its kaleidoscope action will haunt you. Its suspense will thrill and grip you. Its climax will amaze you. You'll laugh— You'll weep— You'll think, you'll talk.

Many corporations and business men have been able to weather the late year of strain because of reserves which they had built from previous years. Such a reserve is useless unless it can be turned to account when needed.

The Twin Falls Tract is now harvesting what will probably be the largest crop it has produced. There will be many farmers again in possession of surplus funds. Now is the time to start such a reserve.

DE VALERA NOT ON DELEGATION

President of Irish Republic Will Not Go to London with Sinn Fein Spokesmen

DUBLIN. (AP)—The Sinn Fein delegation to the conference in London, beginning October 11, which will explore the possibilities of the Irish situation with a view to a definite settlement, will leave Dublin next Monday, October 10, it was announced here today.

ULSTER NOT INVITED. BELFAST. (AP)—Reports that Ulster had been invited to attend delegates to the London conference next week on the Irish question, which have been in circulation here, were officially denied today.

IRISH CREDIT BRITON WITH BRINGING PEACE. Under-Secretary at Dublin Castle Brings London and Sinn Feiners Together

DUBLIN. (AP)—Credit for initiating the negotiations for peace between the Irish republican leaders and the British government is generally given by the majority of Irishmen to A. W. Copp. Mr. Copp is assistant under-secretary and clerk of the privy council in the office of the relief secretary for Ireland in Dublin castle. He came here from the Exchequer department in London. It is not often that a Irish nationalist or republican can be found who will trust an English official but Mr. Copp is the exception. The republicans trust him as he has been by the way they speak with him in carrying out the terms of the truce, while the nationalists, and there are still many of these, credit the elimination of their party by Sinn Fein solely upon him as the developer of Ireland.

Incidentally, Mr. Copp's popularity in Ireland just now has contributed to the election of a young man to a horse named "Copp," after him, is likely to win the English Derby in 1923. Many Irishmen are preparing to put their money on the yearling which is owned by Martin Fitzgerald, proprietor of Freeman's Journal and a well-known figure in the business and sporting world. Irishmen seem to put quite as much faith in the name of Copp as in the horse itself.

WITNESSES IN MURDER TRIAL

names were cited by the police as one of the reasons for the appearance of Hightower in the courtroom of Wednesday, August 10, he called at the home of Archbishop Hanna to give information concerning the location of Father Heffley's body. Archbishop Hanna could not be seen, and Hightower gave him information to a newspaperman. Guided by Hightower, police authorities in San Francisco and the counties started late that night for Salinas beach, a short distance south-west of Colma, where Hightower had said he believed the body was buried. Hightower said that the man who had taken him to the beach was a companion whom he knew as Dolly Mason had told him that a drunken foreigner had furnished her with the information that led to the discovery of the grave.

Diggers Recover Body. Hightower told the party that he had investigated a few days on his own account of the location of the body, and had come upon some newly turned earth which he believed contained the priest's body. On arriving at this spot the party quickly uncovered the body. It fully was established by the police found in the pocket. An examination disclosed that the priest's skull had been crushed and that two bullets had been fired into his head.

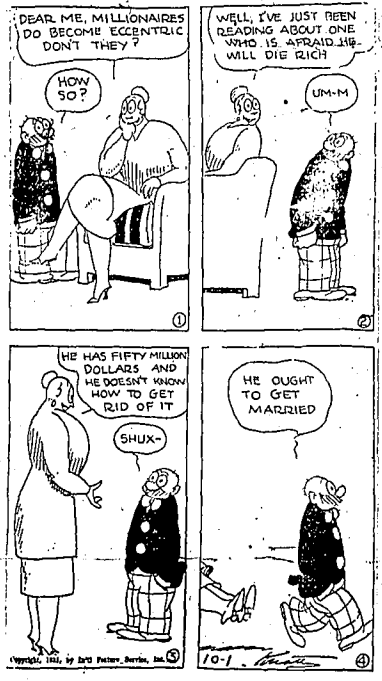

The San Francisco police, suspicious of Hightower's story, kept him in custody and established to their own satisfaction that Dolly Mason was a myth. A woman named Dots Shirley, who Hightower asserted had accompanied him to San Jose from San Francisco August 2, the night of the murder, was located by the police on the same statement, which would have tended to establish an alibi for Hightower. Hightower later admitted that he had been mistaken in the date of the automobile trip to San Jose.

A search of Hightower's room in a San Francisco hotel revealed a tent which corresponded with tent reports on the days before the murder, and a number of rifle shells or cartridges simultaneously, and several scraps of newspaper, the latter of which Hightower admitted ownership of all the articles found, saying he had taken the tent to Salinas beach for a picnic, and that the cartridge contrivance was the rough model of a machine gun.

Coal Supply and Complications. According to a prophecy uttered by Prof. William E. Scott, of Princeton, who the world's coal supply is exhausted, our complications will disappear and we may even become a black-skinned race, says the city professor. He explained that false-skinned maidens are lustful products, not for children in with an eye cannot withstand the spiritual rays of the tropics, to which we must all flock as soon as the last shovelful of coal is thrown into the fire; so runs the prophecy.

Dog Loves Never All Bad. He who loves a dog may not be all he should be in the qualities of manhood, but you may safely bet money on it that there is, nevertheless, something in him that merits respect, albeit sometimes to be searched for. Quater "Religion" Survives. Joanna Southcott, the Devonshire servant girl, who pressed to be a prophetess and who mailed 400,000 papers to her followers, at prices ranging from 12 shillings to a sovereign, each "seal" guaranteed to secure salvation, has still her followers in London. Some of these strange documents still survive, and are now treasured by her words. "The seal of the Lord—the Elect Precious Man's Redemption—To Inherit the Tree of Life—To be made heirs of God and joint heirs of Jesus Christ."

Deadly Duel Between Eagles. Two eagles had a fight the night of the 17th, and were killed. The eagle was a London Daily Chronicle correspondent. Within a few yards of a road a boy, the son of a herd keeper, saw two golden eagles engaged in a fierce combat. He watched the struggle until the eagle of the London Daily Chronicle fell on its back. The other eagle, with "beak fast in the other's throat, then stood triumphantly on the victim's breast.

Royal Speech in Second Place. It is popularly supposed that a new settlement in the British partitioned by the king's speech, but in reality this is not so. Preceding the speech from the throne a "dummy" bill is always presented for first reading—a little fiction carefully preserved in order to assert the independence of parliament in the belief that to read at once to the speech might suggest a too-early preoccupation with his majesty's words.

Today's Markets

WHEAT EARLYS ADVANCE AFTER EARLY DOWNTURN

CHICAGO. (AP)—Bears had an advantage in the wheat market today owing to absence of any sign of improved foreign demand. Besides, domestic buyers showed a disposition to await some decrease in the visible supply. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1-1/4 cent, with December at $1.17 to $1.17 1/2 and May at $1.22 to $1.22 1/2, were followed by material declines all around, but interrupted by one upturn to slightly above Saturday's finish.

A sharp advance took place after midday, on increase in the visible supply, but being smaller than was expected, and there also being a decrease in supplies on ocean passage. The close, however, was unsettled, 1-1/2 to 1 cent lower, with December at $1.18 1/4 to $1.18 1/2 and May at $1.23 1/4 to $1.23 1/2. Large receipts here weakened the corn market. After opening a shade to 3-8 cent lower, including December at 49 to 50 cents, prices hardened somewhat, and then sagged again.

Subsequently the market recovered gains, chiefly as a result of a decrease in the visible supply total. Prices closed 1/2 cent higher, with December at $1.18 1/4 to $1.18 1/2 and May at $1.23 1/4 to $1.23 1/2.

Oats were easy with other grains, starting 1-4 off to 1-8 up, December 36 to 36 1/2, and later showing a slight general decline.

New York Stock Market. NEW YORK. (AP)—The narrow and uncertain movement of prices in today's stock market again found its posing views of professional traders and the absence of public support. Sales approximated 600,000 shares.

Renowned bying of oils, metals and colors marked a noteworthy feature into the stock market at the opening of today's session. Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt, Royal Dutch and such domestic issues as Standard Oil of New Jersey and Indivisible and Junior Oil made large fractional gains. Utah and Chino coppers, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Baltimore and Ohio, and Pittsburgh and West Virginia registered similar advances, and the market for chemical specialties also improved. The list became somewhat unsettled within the first half hour, however, American Sugar showing especial progress, at a loss of 2 1/2 points to a new low record.

Minor domestic oils made further gains later and equipments and tobaccos were firmer, recurrent weakness developing, however, among sugars. The market was irregular. Liberty and Victory bonds held steady, but foreign war issues, especially French and Belgian, were heavy.

Liberty Bonds. NEW YORK. (AP)—Liberty bonds closed: 1-2s $85.02; first 4s $90.80 bid; second 4s $90.62; first 4 1/4s $90.00; second 4 1/4s $89.64; third 4 1/4s $84; fourth 4 1/4s $89.00; Victory 3 1/2s $90.42; Victory 4 3/4s $89.42.

NEED HIGHWAYS TO SET FORTH STATE HEALTH

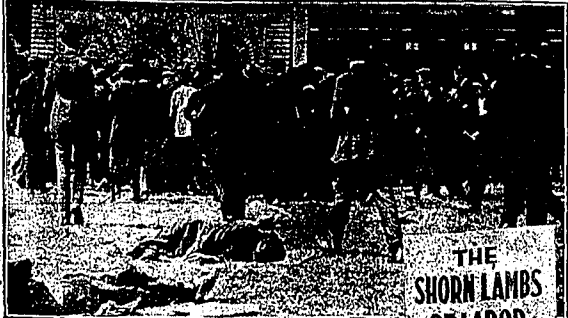

Attorney General Black Tells Kiwanians of Possible Development

Declaring that prior to his removal from north Idaho to Boise to enter upon an official position he had had no adequate conception of the wealth and extent of irrigation projects and industrial generally of the southern part of the state, Attorney General Roy L. Black, speaking today at the request of the Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting, expressed the hope that a greater degree of familiarity with the resources of the whole state might be brought about among its residents. He stated that it might be brought about through completion of the north and south highway.

Discussing the plan and purpose of Kiwanis, Mr. Black, who is himself a member of the Boise club, declared that Kiwanis is not idealism but is a protest that thrives on discontent. "Whenever conditions are so perfect that there is no longer any dissatisfaction, there will be no need for Kiwanis," he asserted. Kiwanis offers a means through which its members may voice their opinions as to what is best for the community and through which they may work toward betterment of their surroundings, he said. Indicating popular recognition of the desirability of Kiwanis, Mr. Black referred to the organization as a club at St. Anthony which was effected within two hours time after the arrival of an official of the organization who went there for the purpose.

Secretary Newell S. Wright, who presided in the absence of President E. J. Ostrander and Vice President M. J. Sweeney, called attention to services from international headquarters of the organization recommending that Kiwanians lend their assistance to the "clean-up" campaign now under way to bring to light and settle the accounts of governmental assistance and relief of former service persons. Another communication advised co-operation on the part of Kiwanians in a campaign being conducted through the American Automobile association designed to reduce automobile accidents by means of a publicity and educational effort, prizes being offered to students who are successful in devising a course of study on this topic.

HUNGRY EX-SERVICE MEN NEAR RIOT FOR FOOD

The hardships uncomplainingly endured by thousands of ex-servicemen and jobless men are visible on every hand in New York city. Every night rain or shine, hundreds of ex-soldiers go into Central park and, superfluous to these men's plight by standing out free doughnuts and meat tickets were discouraged by the New York police, who generally made it unpleasant for any hungry demonstrators.

TRIUMPHANT YOUNGSTERS HOME AGAIN

Twin Falls Juvenile Winners at State Fair Come Back with Many Awards

The Junior Farm Bureau clubs returned home yesterday and today from Boise, bringing with them most of the prizes and trophies which they had won during their participation in the state fair during the past week. In the evening demonstration, the Twin Falls county champion team from McMillan won over the 12 competing teams, with a record of 15 minutes. This is one minute more than the winning team of last year required to bring home the honors, but is well ahead of the time made by the other competing teams. Gooding took second place. The personnel of the winning team this year includes: Leona Stokstad, Roberta Silver and Elizabeth Miller. These girls are 14 years of age and all their competitors were older, in many cases more than twice their age. This is the second year that the championship has come to the clubs of this county, the winning team of last year taking first place at the northwest fair at Spokane a few weeks ago, now being in line for the exhibit that is a part of the National stock show at Chicago early in the winter. It is thought that they would be the national champions.

In the judging contest, competition was keen, as there were 100 entrants for the various classes in judging. There were ten champions in the various classes and the Twin Falls county judges won seven of them. In bread judging, the winner was Thelma Greenwood of Moscow; in cake goods, Robert Silver, McMillan; avian, Ralph Brown, Mullan; sheep and potatoes, Milo Davis, Twin Falls, who is also holder of the championship in the livestock show at Lewiston last year and the champion of the pig raising contest of the state fair this year. In the contest Maurice Harris won first prize for junior exhibit, and 70 per cent of them were awarded to the exhibits from the clubs of this county. The sewing display made up half of the exhibit show along the line in the judges' building, and the farm products and canned goods shown were in the same proportion to the entire exhibit offered in competition.

That the young contestants of his county are to be congratulated in the statement of the judges, according to A. J. O'Reilly, who was in charge of the junior clubs at the state exposition. Ten blue ribbons were awarded for the state fair junior exhibits, and 70 per cent of them were awarded to the exhibits from the clubs of this county. The sewing display made up half of the exhibit show along the line in the judges' building, and the farm products and canned goods shown were in the same proportion to the entire exhibit offered in competition.

pod no hint of the purpose for which he expects to use Thornberg, the statement is made by friends of the young man that he became acquainted with the woman during the time she was employed as cashier in a Twin Falls restaurant where Thornberg took his meals, that the two became friendly and that Thornberg talked freely of his desire to marry her.

Carried War Risk Insurance Policy - Thornberg carried a government life insurance policy of $10,000.

At this time, Southard was known as Mrs. McMillan, although her name was properly Mrs. Harlan G. Lewis. Lewis was married to the defendant, Denver, March 10, 1919, and died at Hillsdale, Mont., July 6 of the same year, the cause of death being given as gastro enteritis. Lewis carried a life insurance policy of $5,000, which was collected by the widow.

Prosecutor Stephan has stated that an autopsy revealed the presence of poison in the body of Lewis and that it is in possession of evidence to take effect.

Seemed Deeply in Debt - Acquaintances of Lester Thornberg recall him as being deeply in debt with respect to his intentions regarding the widow, who posed as possessed by a good deal of money and who had a claim financial assistance for purpose of keeping up the premiums on life insurance and even went so far as to suggest that he take out further life insurance.

The present whereabouts of Thornberg are unknown. He is supposed to have gone from Twin Falls to Pullman, Wash., for medical treatment at Washington State university, leaving there some time ago.

BUHL BUSINESS MEN USE HAMMER AND SAW

Roseworth Settlers Get Help on Sunday in Erection of Ranch Homes

BUHL (Special).—Under the direction of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce 19 business men of this place yesterday went out to the Roseworth project to render assistance to the Brooklyn settlers in getting up against work done by the city. Each separate group was chiefly on residences now in course of construction for the pilgrims. When the day's work was completed, more than half of the residences, started last week, were well under way. This week should see the whole job of eight houses nearly finished.

The Buhl party went out to Roseworth in extra equipment provided for this purpose. Each separate group was equipped with working tools, and placed under the command of a competent carpenter. Work went along fast and all houses were put in to make a day. The Idaho Farm Development company has a large force clearing farm tracts drawn by the settlers. Implements of a heavy character are being employed to remove the aspenbrush.

FLOOD WATERS CRUMPLE SAN ANTONIO LANDMARK

Postoffice Built 100 Years Ago Partially Disappears as Result of Deluge

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, (AP)—Among old land marks which disappeared, partially with the recent flood here, was the "Quinta" better known as the first post office on Dwyer avenue in this city. It was built some 160 years ago, and marked with the Alamo in claim to more historic events in the city's past.

The structure was stone. It stood on the bank of the river just across the street from the courthouse. About a year ago it was condemned to be razed to make room for widening Dwyer avenue, but before the order was carried out the flood started the removal. The foundation crumpled and one end and side of the building is a mass of ruins. Deeds show the "Quinta" was built in 1761. In 1814 it was confiscated by a Spanish general who had sacked the outpost and was used as a prison for more than 600 American women and girls who were forced to grind corn and perform other labor.

It next entered the limelight of Texas history when it was collected as the first postoffice for San Antonio, about 1821. Then it was the property of John Bowen, the first postmaster. It remained in the family since. For the past few years it was the home of several Mexican families and one or two small business enterprises. The slots cut in the masonry doors in which to drop letters remained until last.

GIRL GOES ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF STEPFATHER

Miss Marian McArdle Answers to Charges in Connection with Slaying

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—The trial of Miss Marian McArdle, charged with the first degree murder of Daniel Kaber, her stepfather, was set for today. She is the third to be tried. Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, her mother, and Salvatore Calo, serving life sentences for the crime.

The girl's knowledge of the plot to kill Kaber, which also involved Mrs. Mary Erick, her 60-year-old grandmother, will be added by the prosecution, according to Francis W. Poulson, associate counsel for Miss McArdle, but a general denial that she participated in the murder conspiracy will be offered.

That Miss McArdle's devotion to her mother prevented her from interfering with or disclosing any details of the plot will be one of the pleas offered, Attorney Poulson said.

State Would Bring Thornberg Here as One-Time Financier of Alleged Murders

A new witness in the case of the state against Lydia Meyer Southard, charged with the murder of her fourth husband, Edward Meyer, now trial here in district court, is sought by Prosecutor Stephan, in the person of Lester Thornberg, a friend of the defendant prior to her marriage to Meyer.

Thornberg was a resident of Twin Falls for about a year, coming here in the early spring of last year. Although a young man he was a veteran of the world war. He was employed at newspaper work in Twin Falls, leaving here early this spring.

PENROSE DENIES REPORTS OF TARIFF SIDETRACKING

Finance Committee Chairman Announces Decision to Hear Farm Interests

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Published reports that the administration or republican leaders in congress planned to abandon or unnecessarily flay enactment of the permanent tariff bill were formally denied today by Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Senator Penrose also denied that there was a purpose to select a permanent successor to Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts as republican senator elect, or that certain groups or individuals were being favored in the selection, or that any such group or individuals were being favored in the selection, or that any such group or individuals were being favored in the selection.

Announcing that the finance committee formally approved his decision to hear agricultural interests on the tariff beginning November 1 Senator Penrose said he would like to deny reports for all the rumors that the administration or a considerable element in congress wanted to kill or unnecessarily delay the tariff bill.

Filling Cracks in Shoes

Cracks in shoes, at a point above the small toe of the wearer, may be easily repaired with a substance mixed with hot water to the consistency of glue. The crack is filled with the mixture, and the gettative smoothed down flush with the leather, whereupon one or two coatings of formalin (40 per cent formaldehyde) are applied to the patch. The formalin has the effect of hardening the gelatin, making it waterproof, tough, and insoluble in water.

Old car rubbers can be heated in a pot until they become soft and then smeared on holes in your hotwater bottle, your boots, shoes, or anything else that needs mending. The rubber patch should be smoothed down with the heated blade of a knife.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat which Ologs Kidneys, then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowel, rot sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. One who has kidney trouble and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headache, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of hindfire disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

THEY'LL AGT WHEN THEY KNOW IT PAYS

It is a good sign that President Harding seems to have rejected sentiment as a factor in his disarmament movement. Sentiment is a good agitator, but it seldom gets the signatures on the dotted line. When it comes to putting over the deal sentiment has to stop back and make room for business and politics.

For a good many years a lot of people wanted to get rid of the saloon in this country. They held meetings and sang songs and gave pathetic recitations and passed resolutions. Meanwhile the politicians winked knowingly and the "boys in the back room" fixed up the ticket and the barkeeper got a day off to serve on the election boards.

Then one day business got the notion that saloons interfered with the prompt and regular purchasing of time clocks and made skilled hands uneasy. Funds backed sentiment and politicians saw the light.

There is a vast body of sentiment in favor of disarmament. There must be no more wars. Wholesale international murder is abhorrent to all human sensibilities. But representatives elected by the people, who are praying and sentimentalizing and weeping, calmly sit and discuss "the next war" and vote huge appropriations for armies and navies. The sentiments of the people lack the reach. They fall just short of getting results.

The reason is that business and politics are not convinced of the evils of war for themselves. There are men of influence who get jobs and control jobs through the military machine. There are interests that make money by making and selling war materials, and there are men who get fortunes by war conditions and other men who hope, through a gambler's chance, to make other fortunes if of war occur.

Now, of course, the truth is that war outrages every law of economy. Where a few gain, millions must lose, and bear burdens through lingering years of misfortunes and hardship. If some statesman, in a cold, dispassionate, business-like way, could put the problem upon that basis, if politics and business could be persuaded that this content in armaments and the whole reckless train of procedure that can lead only to war, are no longer in the best interests of the makers of money and the holders of public jobs, the disarmament conference would get results with dizzy suddenness.

Maybe the calm, judicial, methodical mind of Secretary Hughes ponders something of this sort. Maybe the president's recent utterances forecast some such program. The United States, with the bulk of the world's gold and credits in its vaults and a dominating commercial position, would be able to give telling emphasis to such arguments.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE ROMANTIC MESSENGER

By S. E. KISER

I HATE to hurry every day to 50 Chicago street; She watches at the door, and, say! she's mighty good to meet. She reads the messages I bring, and hands a smile to me; I guess she must be twenty-two, or maybe twenty-three;

Her little hands are soft and white; her eyes are big and blue; The guy's a lucky guy, all right, that she sends answers to.

ONE time she brought me out some pie, and watched me while I ate; Her fingers touched my hand, and I can almost feel them yet. I wish when I was there, some time, the house would start to burn.

And she would nearly faint and not see anywhere to turn, And then I'd take her in my arms and hold her close and fast.

While folks were sending in alarms, and rescue her at last. AND when I got her out where we'd a chance to draw our breath.

The crowd would praise my noble deed of saving her from death, And she'd forget about the guy whose messages I bring.

And say that she'd be glad to be my wife 'at' every thing; But what's the use for me to dare to think of what I'd do!

It's only in the movies where such kind of things come true.

Bride Seeking Thrills Plans to Explore Thibet

Only a few months ago Mrs. William V. Alford, formerly a school teacher in Ohio, returned from a honeymoon trip through Peru, in the course of which she crossed the Andes on muleback, and penetrated to the headwaters of the Amazon, after traversing country inhabited by tribes of savage Indians, one of which was said to practice cannibalism. Now she is on route to China in search of further thrills, which she hopes to obtain during trips of exploration in the northern provinces and in Manchuria and Tibet.

With her husband, an engineer employed by the Chinese government, she sailed from Seattle and expects to remain in the Orient three years, while Mr. Alford replaces, with steel bridges the ancient ferries on the more important canals and rivers in China.

Embarrassing Moment. It happened when I used my first visit to my husband's people. My sister-in-law had made some cakes and had several yolks of eggs left and didn't know what she could do with them. I suggested she let me make scrambled eggs like I had seen my mother make, so nice and fluffy. But I put too much flour in the mixture and it came out so hard it was a task to cut through it with a knife.—Chicago America.

GRAIN DEALERS FIGHT FOR OWN PRESERVATION

Speakers at Chicago Convention Assail 'Agitators' Who Endeavor to Turn Producers Against Middlemen

CHICAGO, (AP)—Preservation of the middleman in the grain industry is to be the principal topic for consideration at the three-day convention of the National Grain Dealers' association which convened here today, according to Charles Quinn, secretary.

The 120 members of the association, including the producers' purchasing power, H. E. Clement of Waco, Texas, president of the association, said in his address.

"A return to normal cannot mean price levels for farm products," Mr. Clement said. "Values for farm products that will enable producers to meet obligations and retain purchasing power will start the wheels of industry and wipe out unemployment."

Open Fire on 'Agitators.' Mr. Clement assailed agitators who endeavored to turn producers against middlemen and said "to communicate farmers would destroy their individual initiative, place them at the mercy of industrial leaders and bring wreck and ruin upon America."

Johnson Corrected Goldsmith. Goldsmith's wrong interpretation of the first line in his own "Traveler"—"Hemlock, unattended, unchocolately, slow," is familiar. When asked, in the presence of Dr. Johnson, if the word "slow" be meant "tardiness of locomotion," Goldsmith said he guessed that was what he meant. But Dr. Johnson blurted out angrily, "No, that was not what you meant. You meant that sluggishness of mind that comes upon a man in solitude."

Whereupon Goldsmith agreed that that must have been the meaning he meant to convey.

EVERY THIRD FARMER OWNS AN AUTOMOBILE

Increasing Statistics Are Put Out by Agriculture Statistician

Nearly every third farm in the United States had at least one automobile on the first day of last year. Of the 6,448,350 farms in the United States, 1,972,457 had at least one automobile. The number of automobiles is the number of 2,146,518. Although Iowa led all other states in the number of automobiles on farms, with 177,781, Nebraska, with 154,453, showed the highest percentage, with 9.37; New York, with 6259; Iowa with 6910; Ohio with 7319; Nebraska with 6548; California with 6416; and Illinois with 6167.

Motor trucks were reported on 131,516 farms in 1920, or about two farms out of every 100 in the United States, as a whole. The number of motor trucks on these farms was 139,169. The states leading in the number of motor trucks on farms are: Pennsylvania with 9,372; New York, with 6259; Iowa with 6910; Ohio with 7319; Nebraska with 6548; California with 6416; and Illinois with 6167.

Three and six tenths per cent of the farms in the country were reported as having tractors on January 1, 1920. This is about one farm out of every 32. The 229,231 farms that represented had a total of 246,139 tractors. Telephone were reported on 2,508,000 farms, or 38.9 per cent of all farms in the United States. In the following ten states had telephones: Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Vermont, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Oregon. Iowa, with 183,852, showed the largest number.

Farms reporting water piped into the house in 1920 numbered 644,083, or about one farm out of every 10. The percentage was highest in the New England states and in California. The states leading in number were as follows: California, 65,228; Pennsylvania, 48,492; New York, 45,487; Ohio, 41,531; and Texas, 39,580. Gas or electric light was reported on 458,609 farms, or 7 per cent of all farms in the United States. These figures, gathered by the bureau of the census, are being studied by the United States department of agriculture in connection with its work along these lines.

ORGANIZATION IS NOW BEING FORMED TO ADMINISTER AND ENFORCE PACKER LAW

Designation of Chester Morrill, as assistant chief of the bureau of markets and crop estimates, as assistant to the secretary of agriculture, for the purpose of constructing an organization to administer the packers' and stockyards act, is announced.

Mr. Morrill, who has entered upon his duties, is engaged in the preliminary task of collecting from various government departments and agencies having to do in the past with the packing industry information which will be used in the construction of a permanent organization, under the direction of the secretary of agriculture, to administer the act.

Able Assistance Obtained. In this work Mr. Morrill is receiving the assistance of Bayard T. Hatcher, of Oklahoma City, former judge of the United States district court in Oklahoma, who is looking into legal phases of the proposed organization's activities.

Administration of the act will be undertaken by a new and separate unit of the department. In organizing it, special care is being exercised to obtain for the personnel men whose knowledge of the industry and the law best fit them for that service. It is Secretary Wallace's desire that these men shall be familiar with problems and affairs of the packing and livestock industries and qualified through training and experience to deal with those problems intelligently and fairly. In addition a careful study is being made conditions that have existed and now exist to determine equitable and fair methods of procedure to all parties involved.

Big Job. The study of the industry is a task of large proportions, involving the digest of a vast volume of information already in possession of the federal trade commission, the department of agriculture, the interstate commerce commission and other government agencies. Every detail is under careful consideration, and no attempt will be made to start a new and far-reaching organization all a thorough grasp of all the facts has been obtained. The work at the present time, therefore, is largely preliminary.

Formal supervision of the industry awaits the fulfillment of certain preliminary legal requirements. Already, however, the department has been informed that there will be placed before it at an early date complaints as to the commission rates—long a bone of contention—charged at some markets.

RETAINS CONFIDENCE IN SNAKE DISTRICTS

Iowa Man, with Investments Here, Seeks a Land of Coming Prosperity

G. M. Emery, of Northwood, Ia., is in Twin Falls today in the interests of his investments. He states that the Twin Falls section is in better financial standing than is most of the state of Iowa, where the date crop has been almost a complete failure, fruit negligible, and where an abundant corn crop will bring but small returns, owing to the low price that prevails.

The visitor is much gratified at the improvement noted in Salmon river conditions this year. Mr. Emery who has ranch property on the Salmon and on the north side, states that his faith in the ultimate prosperity of the Snake river valley as a center of Idaho's agricultural centers of the country has never wavered.
