

NON-PARTISANS ADOPT FREIGHT RATES AS ISSUE

Townley Organization Grasps at High Transportation Costs as Excuse for Entering Next Political Campaign

BOISE, Idaho (Special).—Politicians here for some time have been speculating as to the manner in which the Non-partisan league would enter the next campaign. They have known all along that the league has never ceased its organizing efforts, although meeting with no such success as during the first year or two after Townley's invasion of Idaho.

They have felt, too, that the league would be active in the 1922 campaign, but they were not sure as to the campaign cry, though realizing that it would be most anything to catch votes. All doubt has been removed by the recent speech of Mr. Stuenkel, twice leading candidate of the league. He freighted his remarks exclusively to the voters, and while dealing in generalities his utterances were prophetic of the league's policy for the next campaign.

Other Attacks.

Right now freight rates are a matter of concern to both shipper and railroad managers, and there is enough talk about them to render the subject attractive to campaign propagandists. Those who are cunning in taking advantage of temporary sentiment. It is recalled, however, that the league's first assault on the power companies, felt down as far as the face of the moon made public. Then it assailed the timber companies, and similarly failed. Now it is to be railroad rates. The league is taking the same line in making their political thunder and expects to profit therefrom.

Too Early, Say Politicians.

Politicians who are familiar with the conditions declare, however, that the league will again break its back because the situation will undoubtedly be entirely changed over before the campaign starts. They also point out that the reductions in rates already made in Idaho render the new attitude of the league practically a political impossibility, for they realize that the public finally gets to the facts and disregards flowing phrases.

Reductions Already Made.

Only recently the first official announcement of rate reductions already made in Idaho was published here, and there are pointed to as sustaining the view that the Non-partisan league leaders in Idaho will find themselves completely at sea in their failure to become familiar with the facts. Among these reductions are the following:

Potatoes—Approximately $20 a car. Live stock—Approximately $50 a head. In 1920, 12,000 of sheep were shipped from Idaho to distant markets affected by the reduction, as shown by official figures just made public.

Wool—Twenty per cent. reduction. Hay—Fifty dollars to $55 a car. Because of the production of forage crops generally over the country hay markets were not what was expected even at the reduction.

Apples—Reduction of $3.25 a ton to points east of Chicago. Alfalfa meal—Approximately $75 a carload. Lumber—An average of $1.25 per ton, practically re-establishing the former difference in rates, yet without stimulating movement of the business.

Smelter's products—Reduction of $5.50 a ton. These and other reductions, republican and democratic politicians point out, will react strongly against the Non-partisan league's main issue and especially at a time when there is a demand for additional transportation facilities and a widespread public knowledge that development of the state is not possible without self-supporting railroads.

To Gain a Good Reputation.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you appear. That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for cough, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been full up to its brim 8000 cases of children's ailments for it. People have found that it can be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take—adv.

BOND ISSUES SEEN AS UNEMPLOYMENT REMEDY

Conference at Washington Con- siders Federal Aid in Form- ing Permanent Policy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Advisability of a federal bond issue to create a fund for making loans to aid municipal public works in years of depression when jobs are scarce was under consideration Monday by sub-committees of the National Conference on Unemployment.

Such a proposal has been suggested to the conference as part of a plan for permanent safeguards against bad years for the nation's workers. Loans to municipalities would be made by the federal government under the plan only upon proof of national unemployment and industrial depression, as shown by industrial and unemployment statistics and upon proof of the soundness and utility of specific public works proposed.

Steps have been taken by city officials of Boston and Cleveland to put into effect the emergency relief program adopted last week by the conference. Secretary Hoover announced, today that he had been informed officially that Portland, Ore., and Milwaukee were working along the same lines.

"The next step is taken by city officials for the unemployed," Mr. Hoover said, "is definite organization by the mayors in the municipalities where this has not yet been done definitely and systematically."

The problem of unemployment will be presented to the American Bankers association at their convention this week in Los Angeles. Henry N. Robinson, of Los Angeles, chairman of the organization committee of the conference, has left for Los Angeles to attend the convention, and it is expected he will lay before the convention the problems and plans now under discussion by the conference.

KING SEES REMEDY FOR TRADE SLUMP IN JAILS

Utah Senator Takes Administration to Task for Failure to Send Those Re- sponsible to Prison

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Charging that retailers and manufacturers in every state had illegally combined to maintain high prices, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, during consideration of the tax bill Monday declared the attorney general should "send to the penitentiary thousands of conspirators responsible for paralysis of trade." Until the government takes action, he added, there will be no marked decline in prices or in beginning of prosperity.

Senator King censured the Republican party for "failure to deal with the situation fearlessly."

"It is the favorite outdoor sport of wealth to attribute all economic ills to one great system," said Senator King. "The evils of unemployment cannot be laid in whole to the effect tax laws have had on business."

Senator King said Senator Nelson, Republican, Minnesota, in a recent Saturday had "emphasized too much" the part labor laid played in keeping up prices, and added:

"When labor sees retailers and manufacturers refusing to be content with normal profits, it finds justification in combining itself to maintain high wages."

WILL INSTRUCT MATRONS IN REARING OF BABIES

University Professor Proposes Lectures on "Normal Psychology"

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special).—What are you doing to your baby? Are you making him a freak or a defective? Professor J. W. Basten of the university department of psychology, invites Moscow mothers to attend his courses in "normal psychology" and find out.

"Most all cases of hysteria result from suppression in childhood and could be prevented if mothers know the facts necessary for proper care of children," said Professor Basten. "These facts will be completely elaborated in this course."

"Psychologists, of course, do not take the stand that all abnormalities result from psychological causes, but the larger number are of this nature and could be prevented much more easily than they can be cured."

WEST VIRGINIA COAL FIELD INVESTIGATION NEARS END

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate labor committee is to conclude its investigation of disorders in the Mazon W. coal fields in a week's hearings here, beginning next Monday. Chairman Kenyon announced Monday that plans for another visit to West Virginia had been abandoned.

PUT ONE MAN TO WORK, IS KIWANIAN'S ADVICE

Organization Executive Calls on Membership to Help Relieve Unemployment

CHICAGO, (AP)—"Put one more man on the job" is the latest message of Harry E. Karr of Baltimore, president of the International Association of Kiwanis clubs, to that organization. He points out that inasmuch as every one of the 40,000 members of the Kiwanis are owners of their own business or chief executives in prominent corporations, they are in a position to relieve the present unemployment situation to no mean extent. Not only would the job seekers benefit but the 200,000 people dependent upon them would be materially helped.

Mr. Karr thinks that there are very few employes in the country who cannot make some slight addition to their working forces.

League Disposes of Albanians' Appeal

GENEVA, (AP)—Albania's appeal to the assembly of the league of nations in which she alleged that Jugoslavia was taking an aggressive attitude against her, was disposed of by the assembly Monday when it passed a resolution recommending Albania to accept the decision of the council of ambassadors, which is expected soon. The assembly decided to ask the council of the league to send a commission of three to Albania to see how the decision of the ambassadors' council was carried out.

Leaders of Giants and Yankees Hold Final Practice and Are Set for Battle

NEW YORK, (AP)—The metropolis is all worked up over the world series. The novelty of having its own two major league clubs fighting it out for the highest baseball honors has set the whole town agog.

So far the battle has been entirely on paper—and considerable paper already has been used—but the tommor will get down to business tommor afternoon at the Polo Grounds.

Enthusiasts by the thousands are pouring into the city from the north, south, east and west—a few with tickets and others with hopes of getting them. Hotels are rapidly filling and it is predicted that sleeping space will be at a premium before the series starts.

Both the Giant and the Yankees hold their final practice today. The Yankees' practice was for fine weather today and tomorrow.

The rival managers, McGraw and Huggins, are equally confident of the outcome of the games.

"We are ready and no excuses will be offered on the score of condition of the Giants are beaten by the Yankees," said McGraw.

"I intend to play regular American league baseball in the series with the Giants," Manager Huggins said. The kind of baseball that won for us in our season's campaign. I think it will be a hard fought series."

UNIVERSITY GRID EXPERTS HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

Moscow Football Folk Will Move in Style to Pullman for Annual Game

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, (Special)—Keyed to the highest pitch and ready for the crucial battle of the entire gridiron season, the Idaho student body, fortified by the greater part of the citizens of Moscow, will move in on Pullman for the annual Idaho-Washington State college conflict, Friday, October 21, in a special train.

Following a conference between Coach Thomas Kelley, members of the athletic council and B. A. Kilpelt, Jr., traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific system, it was announced that a 12-car rooters' special would leave Moscow at 1:35 o'clock Friday afternoon for Pullman. Twelve cars have a capacity of more than 1000 persons.

Mr. Kilpelt said the special would be side-tracked near the Washington State college campus, where it will stand in view of the delegation after the game.

In view of the low fare to be charged—25 cents each way—it is expected that every one of the cars in the special will be jammed to the doors with enthusiastic boosters for Idaho.

CONFLICTING STORIES OF MEYER'S DEATH ATTRIBUTED BY TESTIMONY OF DEFENDANT

"Were you asked if you would testify for Mrs. Meyer in the event you were asked to?"

"Yes, Mrs. Meyer asked me to testify on her side if it became necessary. She had heard much talk about suspicions entertained relative to Meyer's death and threatened to sue me and against the talkers if there was any more of it."

Attorney W. P. Guthrie stated this morning following the marriage, she visits with his client, Mrs. Sophiar, by anyone with a legitimate reason for such visits so long as misleading statements were not made public as a result of such interviews.

Two Witnesses Tell Stories The stories told by the first two witnesses called in class of yesterday afternoon's session dealt largely with the bringing of a certain package on fly paper and the finding of packages of the substance in the room occupied by Meyer and his wife after the illness and subsequent death of Meyer.

Mrs. Carrie Howe, of Muscatine, Iowa, testified that she was the first witness called; Granville Haight, manager of the property at the time of Mrs. Meyer's death, was the second.

The end of the work of securing a jury came suddenly and without delay the clerk read the charge and Prosecutor Stephan began his argument to the jury. This taking about 15 minutes after the jury had been sworn.

Known Defendant Well Mrs. Howe, under direct examination by Prosecutor Stephan, stated that she had first met the defendant in January, 1920, that she knew him first as Mrs. McHaffie, and later called her Lydia. She heard of the marriage of Meyer and the defendant in August. Meyer's wife did not return with him to the ranch following the marriage, she testified, offering as an excuse the statement that she was suffering from an ailment which she described as typhoid fever.

Dr. Coughlin Called Later, Dr. J. P. Coughlin was called to the case after the cross-examination of this witness. Mrs. Meyer is said to have received the angust with the remark that she would call a doctor, "then no one would have anything to say." Following the direct testimony of Dr. Coughlin, the witness testified, Mrs. Meyer told her that Ed was suffering from ptomaine poisoning, and that Dr. Coughlin had said that he had eight cases on his hands, one of those a young girl he did not expect to recover. She repeated the story of the eight cases following a second visit by Dr. Coughlin and a day or two later Meyer was taken to the Twin Falls county hospital.

Had Little Baggage Mrs. Howe declared that the only baggage Mrs. Meyer had when she arrived at the ranch just prior to her husband's illness consisted of a suitcase and a box of fly paper. The witness described the fly paper as black, in square pieces and said that Mrs. Meyer had placed the fly paper in a box in which to place the fly paper. Mrs. Meyer was given these and the suitcases remained about the place until Mrs. Howe threw them out some days later.

"Mrs. Meyer had full charge of Meyer during his illness," the witness said. "I did not see anyone else about the place assist her in any way in caring for him. Lydia told me that she expected to receive about $50,000 as estate in Montana belonging to her husband. She did not say which husband. She also told me that she did not love her husband as a wife should love her man married but that she was in the trust him right. I told her he was a good man and she should treat him as such. She said she intended to do this although it would be hard for her to settle down."

"When did you see Mr. Meyer again?" the witness was asked by Prosecutor Stephan. "The day after Meyer died," the witness replied. "What conversation if any did you have with her at that time?"

"Suspensions Reach Wife" She called to the car the came down in and told me Ed had just passed away. She said she wanted to see me and we went to her and Meyer's room. She said she had received a letter from her husband about the suspicious circumstances of Meyer's death. I said I had and she said she wanted me as a witness. She said she needed me. I told her if she had done anything wrong to tell the truth about it and she said if she had she would do so."

Few Clothes at Ranch "Were there any clothes in the room the day after Meyer's death?" asked the witness. "Only a waist or something of the sort. Lydia had few clothes at the ranch."

"Did you see any fly paper?" "Yes, on a table in the room and later I saw a piece of a fly paper in a small commode under some paper, in the room occupied by Meyer."

"What did you do with it?" "I kept it until I left."

"Were you ever testified that there were two packages of the flypaper and another variety of fly poison which she found under the bed, that she did not know what was the second first and could not tell if it had been used or not."

The fly paper referred to was brought into court and entered in the record as Exhibits "A" and "B" and identified by the witness as similar to that which she had seen in Meyer's room.

Under cross examination the witness stated that the defendant had stayed with Meyer at the ranch six nights, once for one night and later during a period of 3 days and nights. No new points were advanced under cross examination.

Granville Haight was next called and under direct examination told of his acquaintance with Meyer and the details of the marriage and the fact as announced to Mrs. Meyer that she was at the Blue Lakes ranch of which Mr. Haight was manager.

Used Former Husband's Name "Under what name did Mrs. Meyer pass after her marriage to Meyer?" the witness was asked by Prosecutor Stephan.

"Under the name of Lydia McHaffie," replied the witness. "Did you see the marriage certificate?"

"Yes, about two weeks after the marriage, Meyer showed it to me at the ranch."

"Was the defendant living at the ranch with Meyer at the time?" "No, she was then living at the Rochester hotel."

"The balance of the reply was objected to by the defense. The witness testified that Meyer was about 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighing about 170 pounds. He described Meyer's appearance as a large, healthy appearing man, about 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighing about 170 pounds. He described Meyer's appearance as a large, healthy appearing man, about 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Hospital Costs Money Following a visit by Dr. Coughlin about that time Meyer's wife stated to the witness that Dr. Coughlin had told her that Meyer was a very serious case and that if he did not soon take a turn for the better he would not get well. The idea of sending Meyer to a hospital was suggested by Mrs. Meyer who resented it and she thought she ought to be able to take care of him herself and that a hospital was an expensive place.

Meyer was taken to the hospital on Sunday and later the witness visited him there and found him greatly improved. On a subsequent visit made about three days before Meyer's death he found Meyer much worse.

Mrs. Howe testified that about August 15 Meyer telephoned him from town that he wished to see him and that he went to town and met Mr. and Mrs. Meyer.

"What was done or said during this visit?" Prosecutor Stephan asked the witness.

"I loaned them money to clear a car which I had a little retaining note."

"How did you make the loan?" "I gave a check for $500.00 and endorsed a note for about $700.00 payable to the Jackson Auto Sales company, signed by E. P. Meyer and Lydia McHaffie."

"Was that after the marriage?" "Yes."

"When was it due?" "September 10, but it was agreed that it be held a few days. Mrs. Meyer said she could pay it September 10 or 15, that she had made a check for the present time. Following the death of Harlan C. Lewis she assumed the name of a previous husband and was known as Mrs. Lydia McHaffie. The witness was married to Meyer August 11, 1920.

The day following her marriage to Meyer, the latter made a will in her favor, making her application for ten thousand dollars life insurance, naming his wife as beneficiary. Mr. Stephan declared that it will be shown in the evidence that this was done at the instigation and counsel of the defendant; that he was examined and passed a good physical examination and a policy duly issued on August 23rd.

Traces Defendant's Story. In his opening statements to the jury County Prosecutor Frank L. Stephan traced the story of Lydia Meyer's death back down to the present time. Following the death of Harlan C. Lewis she assumed the name of a previous husband and was known as Mrs. Lydia McHaffie. The witness was married to Meyer August 11, 1920.

The day following her marriage to Meyer, the latter made a will in her favor, making her application for ten thousand dollars life insurance, naming his wife as beneficiary. Mr. Stephan declared that it will be shown in the evidence that this was done at the instigation and counsel of the defendant; that he was examined and passed a good physical examination and a policy duly issued on August 23rd.

"Were there any clothes in the room the day after Meyer's death?" asked the witness. "Only a waist or something of the sort. Lydia had few clothes at the ranch."

"The evidence will also show," said Mr. Stephan, "that on August 10 the defendant went to Magd Brothers' garage and ordered a Cadillac motor for delivery September 15, making a small payment, and stating that she expected to have by then eight or ten thousand dollars. During the month of August she purchased a Hudson roadster from the Johnson Auto Sales company, repeating the statement that she expected to have eight or ten thousand dollars in the fall.

"Between August 10 and 25 the defendant bought fly paper, a part of which she took to the Blue Lakes ranch and spread it about in saucers of water. The following day her husband became seriously ill. He was unable to work and that evening was put to bed by his wife, where he remained until August 29, when he was taken to the Twin Falls county hospital, where he died.

Gravely Calls Doctor "The evidence will prove to you that when employees advised the call of a doctor the defendant made the statement, 'Well, I guess I will call a doctor, they can't have anything to say.' I was called and Dr. J. F. Coughlin was ultimately after his visit Mrs. Meyer told persons making inquiries that there was an epidemic of such cases, that Doctor Coughlin himself had eight or ten patients similarly afflicted and that he did not expect some of them to live. She also said that Doctor Coughlin advised her that her husband had no chance for recovery.

"On August 29 Meyer was taken to the hospital, where he developed a subnormal temperature and for some time his condition remained practically unchanged. Later he showed improvement, was able to eat and appeared to be recovering and talked of discharging his special nurse. The evidence will show you that Mrs. Meyer visited her husband at the hospital and that following her visit the patient suffered a relapse, developed the same symptoms he had previously been afflicted with, grew steadily worse and died September 7.

"We will further show you that Doctor Coughlin insisted on a post-mortem examination of the deceased and that Mrs. Meyer was unduly resistant about the matter, following the statement that she didn't care if they cut him to pieces and if they found anything they wouldn't tell."

"We will further show that, Mrs. Meyer desired Doctor Coughlin to prepare an article for publication dealing with the matter of her husband's death and stated that she would pay for the same. She declared that this course was advised by C. D. Thomas, but the evidence will show you that Mr. Thomas so offered no such advice.

"We will also show you that Mrs. Meyer stated C. Mrs. Carrie Howe, boarding house keeper at the ranch that her home there was not a permanent one and that she stayed at the Rochester hotel during her brief residence with her husband. She also stated to Mrs. Howe that she believed she had typhoid fever.

"We will show you that following the death of C. D. Thomas the defendant went to C. D. Thomas, who questioned her about her former husband, Harlan C. Lewis, and life insurance which he carried, and that she denied having contracted marriage with Mr. Lewis and refused to admit the collection of the policy which he carried on his life following her husband's death. She made the statement that she didn't care for him as he had only married her for her money. We will show you that Mrs. Meyer's motive was acquisition of ten thousand dollars, for which sum her husband Meyer's life was insured, together with twenty acres of land which Mr. Meyer owned there. We will prove to you that she was the criminal agency that administered the poison and caused the death of Edward P. Meyer.

"We will ask for conviction of the defendant and will prove conclusively that death ensued through the administration of a lethal dose of arsenic. We will show you that large quantities of the body that large quantities of arsenic were contained therein."

Today's Markets WHEAT PRICES DECLINE WITH SLUMP IN EXPORTS CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat prices had an upward tendency today, influenced more or less by an opinion current that there is but little unsold wheat in Europe and that there will be no surplus this year, whereas, the end of last year there was a large one. The only offerings of consequence came from houses with northwestern connections. Quality of wheat varied from 61.18 to 61.12 and May 61.23 3/4, with moderate upturn at ground.

Sharp declines took place later owing to a large degree apparently to absence of export business and to assertions that Argentina was underselling the United States. The close was heavy, 2 3/4 to 3 1/4 net and May 61.15 1/4 to 1 1/4 net and May 61.20 1/2 to 1 1/2 net.

Notwithstanding frost last night, corn was firm with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1-1/2 higher, including December at 49 3/4 to 49 7/8; the market closed additional gains. Subsequently profit taking sales led to a setback. The close was weak, 1 1/4 to 5/8 net lower, with December 49 1/2 to 49 3/8.

One derived strength from other cereals, starting 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 in advance, December 20 1/4 to 30 3/8, and then made a general upturn.

Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to provisions.

Cash Quotations CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat—No. 1 hard $1.20 1/2; No. 3 hard $1.10 1/4; Corn No. 2 mixed 48 1/4 to 49; No. 3 yellow 48 1/2 to 49 1/4.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET NEW YORK, (AP)—Oils and the price of secondary securities were the prominent features of today's stock market together with specialties comprising the mail order and chain store groups. The market closed 475.00 above the previous day's close.

Domestic oils again were in demand at the opening of today's stock market on the higher prices quoted for crude products in the Pennsylvania and Wyoming fields, but European demand of that class continued their recent reactionary course. Standard Oil of New Jersey rose 2 1/4 points and California and Mexican Petroleum were fractionally higher. Selling of sugar shares was resumed on the unfavorable trade outlook. American Sugar preferred fell 2 1/2 points to a new low record and Western Sugar and C. & W. were subjected to further pressure. Dealings in rails, steels and equipments were light at irregular changes.

Foreign exchange was weak later and the leaders of steel, equipment and tobacco groups reacted. The closing was easy. Liberty and Victory bonds were active and strong and foreign bonds, including French government's improved.

Social Notes

Miss Desso Conover and Fred W. Meach were married at the home of the bride's mother at 127 Sixth avenue north at 3 p. m. Monday. The wedding was attractive with a profusion of flowers, late roses, ferns and vines. Miss Edna Graham sang "I Love You Truly" and "As I Daringly," accompanied by Miss Mae Scott. The piano, the bride and groom took their places while the pianist played the "Wedding March" from Loebengrin. The bride was attended by the Misses Edna Graham and May Beatty as flower girls. The marriage service was read by the Rev. Charles Glenn Baird of the Church of the Ascension. Following the ceremony, Miss Scott played "Simple Confession." The bride was charmingly gowned in a simple white dress of Canton crepe, with metal beads and carried a flower bouquet of orchids roses and white geranium blooms, and wore a handsome platinum and diamond pin, the gift of the groom. The young party were the recipients of many gifts from their friends.

Following the ceremony the wedding party was served with a five-course dinner in the Rogers hotel dining room. The table was centered with a bowl of pink and white asters, and ribbon streamers of the same colors tied at the crystal chandelier. The table was decorated with candles that held pink and white candles. Mr. and Mrs. Meach left on the evening train for Portland and Pacific coast points, where they will spend two weeks. They will be at home their friends at 127 Sixth avenue east after November 1. Mr. Meach has been in Twin Falls for several years and is well known in business circles, having been connected with the Cloe book store during the time of his residence in the community, and Mrs. Meach here as an instructor in music in Twin Falls for the past six years. Those present at the happy event were the Messrs. and Mesdames Marshall Conover, O. A. Laird, P. Greenhalgh, C. W. Beatty, L. Cloe, Harold Beatty, J. C. Beatty and the Misses Mae Scott and Edna Graham, Mrs. Charlotte Conover, Mrs. C. E. Scott, Howard Conover and Pierre Van Dyke.

Denham, the latter accompanied by Mrs. Steelmith on the violin. A splendid luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. M. Steelsmith, Mrs. Dreyer, Mrs. C. T. Brown, Mrs. Shephard, Mrs. Cantlin, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. W. L. Stone, Mrs. W. H. Turner, Mrs. Patten, Mrs. Summers and Miss Carol Summers.

Mrs. Willet Hance, Sr. entertained the Henry Y. Walling circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. at a jolly Monday evening at her home, Seventh avenue north, in honor of Mrs. T. O. Boyd, a past president of the circle, who is visiting here from California. Mrs. W. A. Patrick rendered two delightful vocal solos, "Songs My Mother Used to Sing" and "Arling," with Miss Marian Patten accompanying. Mrs. Patten also favored the guests with a piano solo. THE LIBRARY AS AN INVESTMENT

Of what real use or benefit is the public library to the average citizen and taxpayer? Directors of the library want to know, and in a letter addressed to a number of Twin Falls citizens, they put the question in this manner: "Every business man, naturally, hopes to realize a reasonable per cent on his investment. Each year you invest a certain amount in this institution, in taxes. Are you realizing anything on this investment?"

"The Public Library contains about six thousand volumes, and last year we circulated 64,668 volumes, so we feel that the library is being used. We do feel, however, that the institution could be made more of a business asset. We have an excellent location, and with the co-operation of the business and professional trade, in the selection of books, we believe that the Public Library could be made a profitable investment."

It goes without saying that the Public Library is of very real value and a worth while investment in the advantages it gives to the school children of the community. This is pretty generally recognized and justifies the investment made annually in the library, from the viewpoint of many taxpayers. In many homes too, Public Library books afford much of education and diversion. But what has the Public Library to offer as an asset to business men and working people?"

Library directors themselves suggest an answer to this question. "During the past two years," they say, "we have added to our library a small number of business and technical books, books on the automobile, electrical books, books on house planning, journalism, etc., and we hope soon to add 'Thomas's Register,' which is a complete index to every manufacturer in the United States."

The library is just starting to develop this phase of its potential resources. It needs and invites suggestions in developing this field of its usefulness. There ought to be no hanging back on the part of citizens and taxpayers who, in this department of the library, will find quick and positive proof of the value of the library as a business asset.

RUSSIA'S CHANGING POLICY. If dispatches portraying conditions in Russia may be relied on, the soviet government is decentralizing industry more rapidly than it nationalized business when it came into power. "Do it yourself" is the advice given those who have hitherto depended upon the government for the initiative in everything.

If this policy is being pursued to the extent indicated, the reaction against communistic forms of government is complete. It marks an acknowledgment of the utter failure of the theorists who plunged Russia into chaos. It is self-evident that the retreat would not have been permitted if there were not an entire collapse of the communistic tic scheme. Yet that the altered program will lead speedily to improved conditions is not probable. So disastrous has been the effect of the soviet regime that no change will be potent to bring order and restore industry quickly. However, that is not proof that the altered conditions will not be welcomed. Any change cannot be for the worse and through opening the way to individual initiative lies the only hope of a restored Russia, though the process may be long and painful.

Telling the people "do it yourself" is not by any means assurance of having it done. Such advice will be worthless unless there is a government which is able and willing to protect the individual in his labor and the rewards which he must reap from it, if individualism makes headway. Though the communistic principles may be abandoned in practice Russia will not "come back" until there is a government made up of honest men and security is offered the people the stability of which is not open to doubt.

The soviet government is reported issuing 4,000,000, 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 ruble notes because it was necessary to haul 40,000 rubles around to buy a dollar's worth.

There is optimism as well as pessimism in the thought that things are not always as they seem.

PINKNEYVILLE WILL BEAR WATCHING

PINKNEYVILLE is on the bum; excitement's ruminant high and hot. Some music folk have lately come to deracinate this peaceful spot; There's forty of 'em, none or less, and, gosh, the costly clo's they wear!

THE women play without no shame, the young ones and the old, as well. And every evening since they have come there's cuttin' up at Swan's flutted; We've got to watch our young folks how, or they will all be led astray;

"WINDCATCHING" DEBORNY. During the past few weeks the Ku Klux Klan, operating in Texas, has tarred and feathered sixty-three men and one woman. All members of the Ku Klux Klan think it is outrageous to fail to conform to the requirements of the law.

MISERY REIGNS IN FORMER SCENE OF PROSPERITY

Hopeless Groups of Famine Refugees Crowd Wharves of Astrakhan, Russia, Once Filled with Commerce

ASTRAKHAN, Russia, (P)—Hopeless groups of famine refugees crowd the wharves of Astrakhan, which in happier times were filled with the tides of commerce flowing to and from Russia and the trans-Caspian plains. Bitter rains of autumn are falling almost continually and the first snow of the Russian winter has whitened the roofs of the buildings of the city, but the throngs of emigrants have no shelter while they wait, perhaps today, day and night for transportation to the Kuban and Don regions, where they can obtain food. Astrakhan is a city of misery and suffering and death.

Disillusionment in Store.

The traveler who has seen Russia and the Russians in times of plenty may expect to meet with a very round-faced people when he again enters the country. Disillusionment is in store for him, however, for everywhere he sees this face, the skin of which is scarily stretched tight across the cheek bones. He remembers Astrakhan as a city filled with industries and commerce, but he finds it but a shadow of its former self. Its canning and fishing industries are estimated to have dwindled nearly 70 per cent. Where once 5,000 ships daily sailed up and down "mother Volga" there are now barely 100 on that stream.

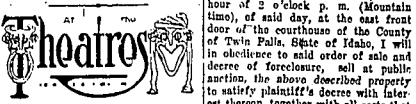

Deaths seem to dog the footsteps of the refugees. They are fleeing from starvation, but many hungry children and adults die from the first food they eat, the very bread they have striven for proving fatal to them in their weakened condition. Meat or bread cost 3,000 rubles, or about five cents, per pound but there are few who have money enough to pay this price day after day.

Disaster Exacts Toll. Disease has played its part in the ruin of Astrakhan. Black typhus took a terrible toll during the winter of 1919-1920. Forty out of every hundred physicians died during the awful scourge. During the past summer Astakhan cholera and malaria have carried off thousands of victims.

When one asks the people the cause of the present terrible condition of affairs the inevitable answer is: "There has been no rain." The only ray in the gloom is the fact that the potato crop was slightly larger than usual, and for the moment this crop is helping in the solution of the dire problem of hunger.

Along the western coast of the Caspian stands the island of Shilov, where one of the gravest tragedies of the famine was recently enacted. Mariners noticed the lighthouse on the island was darkened, and landed to investigate. They found in the lighthouse the twelve keepers all dead from starvation. They had eaten their shoes and had boiled fur skins to maintain life and one by one had succumbed, the light going out when the last of the twelve sank to death.

Thrill in abundance, exotic picturesque and drama with a powerful emotional appeal are found in "A Tale of Two Worlds" the first story written directly for the screen by Gouverneur Morris, one of America's most widely read novelists, which comes to the Lansing theater next Thursday for three days. Lentric Joy holds a splendid star cast. Frank Lloyd directed for Emment Authors.

Similarly, "Sometimes you see a man," said Senator Sorghum, "who behaves toward his country the same as he does toward his wife. The more he says he loves her, the worse he seems willing to treat her."

How Better Than Pills? The question has been asked: Is what you eat Chambrain's Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is, they are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is as gentle that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then, they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.—adv.

Public notice is hereby given, that on the 21st day of October, 1921, at the hour of 3 o'clock p. m. (Mountain time), of said day, at the east front door of the courthouse of the County of Twin Falls, State of Idaho, I will in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure, sell at public auction, the above described property of the United States.

Dated this 23rd day of September, 1921. E. R. SHERMAN, Sheriff. BY BEN J. BROWN, Deputy.

Lucky? Why, man, I'm the Human Horseshoe!

I CERTAINLY was born UNDER A lucky star. FOR INSTANCE the time, I HOOKED my boots. TO PLAY the market. ON A sure thing up. AND BOUGHT Slippery Shalom. AT SEVENTY-TWO. FOR A healthy rise. AND FOR seven days. I HUGGED the ticker. AND COULDN'T sleep. ONCE IT jumped two points. AND I walked on air. AND THAT very day. I SAW a sign. IN A cigar stand. THAT SAID "Batsy." IT GAVE me a hunch. TO BE satisfied. WITH WHAT I'd got. AND NOT hog the deal. SO I phoned my broker. TO SELL me out. AND THE very next day. SLIPPERY ELLUM slipped. TO FIFTY-FIVE. SO NOW I've gotten. BACK MY bonds. AND BABY'S got new shoes. AND NOW my regular smokes. ARE THE cigarettes. THAT "BATSIFY."

WHENEVER you get that "Batsify" hunch, play it. Short straight for the nearest stand and invest in Chesterfield. This combination of fine Turkish tobacco blended with Burley and other Domestic leaf, will give you a new measure of cigarette enjoyment. You're in luck from that day on.

TWIN FALLS DISTRICT HOME OF PURE BREDS

E. O. Walter Tells of Livestock Uprighting Throughout Section

Crediting the Twin Falls district with being the home of purebred livestock of various sorts, E. O. Walters of Filer, makes the following statement in the Capital News of Boise: "The purebred livestock cannot be overestimated which is shown by the purebred stock of Twin Falls county. At the Twin Falls county fair this year we had 433 head of purebred stock at the fair of which only 26 head of swine and six head of cattle were out of the county. The farmers in that section realize the importance and value of purebred stock. Some of the highest priced stock of all breeds in the state was represented at that fair."

Wanted the "Prescription."

One day when Lawrence was eating dinner at a friend's home the soup seemed to make a particular hit with him. After expressing the desire that his mother might learn how to make this kind of soup, he said: "Mrs. B, don't you please give me the prescription for this soup?"

SIGNAL HONOR TO BE PAID TO UNKNOWN HERO

Body of Unidentified American Soldier, Brought Back from France, to Lie in State in Rotunda of Capitol

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—When the body of the American soldier brought back from France for burial at Arlington cemetery November 11 in memory of the nation's unknown dead in the war is placed in the rotunda of the capitol on the night of November 9, it will lie in state on the same catafalque that was used for Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley. An announcement issued today by the war department said that the drapings about the reproduction of those used at the funerals of the three martyred presidents.

Designates Military Escort.
The following designations of regular troops to form the funeral escort for the unknown dead were announced today: The marine band in its full strength, of 70 pieces, a battalion of field artillery from Fort Meyer, Va.; a regiment of cavalry, Fort Meyer; a regiment of infantry composed of the third battalion, Sixty-fourth infantry, Fort Washington, Md.; a battalion of sailors and marines from Washington navy yard and Quantico, Va.; and a national guard battalion composed of two rifle companies of the New York national guard and two companies of Pennsylvania national guard.

AMERICANS TAKE COMPLETE CHARGE OF REMOVING BODY
PARIS, (AP)—America's "unknown soldier," who will find honored equisire in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., will be selected by a non-commissioned officer from the American forces on the Rhine at Chalon-sur-Marne on the morning of October 24. The body will leave France late on the evening of October 25, on board the United States cruiser Olympia.

States, it was announced by General Henry T. Allen, commander of American forces in Germany, late today. At the request of the American government, elaborate plans formulated by the French government for receiving the body in Paris have been abandoned.

Casket to Be Decorated.
Minister of War Barthou, several French generals, General Allen and other French and American officials will go to Havre to attend the ceremonies just before the body is placed on board the Olympia. A French general who is yet unnamed, will pin the cross of the legion of honor to the casket. Mr. Barthou informed General Allen yesterday that Marshal Foch would decorate the unknown soldier with the French military medal and the war cross at Arlington cemetery on November 11, when the body will be buried.

General Allen has taken the most complete precautions to insure the selection of a body which is impossible of identification. The bodies of four unidentified soldiers who fell in actual fighting, one from each of the four prominent American cemeteries in France, will be assembled near the railway station at Chalon-sur-Marne.

Selects One Among Four.
A non-commissioned officer selected by General Allen will then be ordered to place his hand on one of the four coffins. The one chosen will immediately be taken to Havre on a special train, accompanied by a guard of honor, pallbearers, General Allen and a delegation representing the Paris post of the American Legion.

SPORTS

Brief Bits of Sport

For the baseball fans everything is due to happen tomorrow.

The Giants and Yankees engage for the first time in the fall championship of the world.

Tentative lineups have been given out, but many changes are probable before the teams take to the turf of the Polo field.

Locally sentiment is about evenly divided for the teams. The Giants are regarded as the best balanced playing outfit of the outstanding contingents, but it is admitted that in pitching strength the Yankees are equal to McGraw's bunch, while Huggins has the most dependable wrecking crew on his batting order.

The city series in Chicago is attracting a lot of local attention. Dickie Kerr is slated to open for the White Sox against Grover Alexander for the title. This series should be as interesting as the world championship games.

The News will provide service extra-ordinary for the world championship title. Besides the posting of bulletins an expert telegraph operator will read the story of the games, play by play, for the enlightenment of the public. There will be no delay in providing the fans with the information unless the wire busts.

King hot have become so madly in love that the sport fan is turning to the crapping ring for entertainment.

Probably believing in the theory of the lesser of two evils.

In the last game of the National League season, played Sunday afternoon, Muggsy McGraw used an even 20 ball players against Philadelphia. The Giants lost the toll, 4 to 7.

Hughie Jennings is credited with making a pennant winner out of the Giants. And the former manager of the Detroit Tigers will probably get all the credit if the Giants win the world's gonfalon.

Earl Sheely, former Salt Lake Sox, batted .1000 per cent in Sunday's game against the Indians. He faced the pitcher twice and got a hit each time, one being a double.

Following Babe Ruth Through on His Mighty Swing

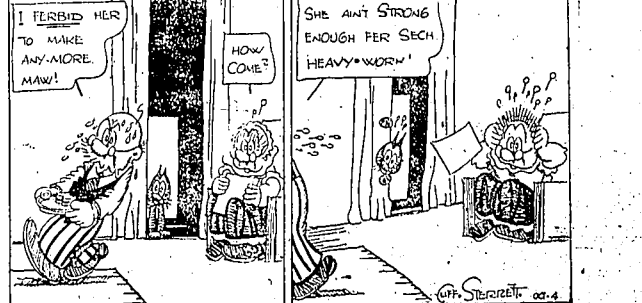

Just what will be the feeling of the opposing pitchers when Babe Ruth, Sultan of Swat, faces them in the world series is hard to say especially if the bases are filled, but if you have a good imagination now is the time to put it to use. They might succeed in knocking a couple of strikes over on Hamilton, but with the big one left, Ruth takes a 30 hold in the ground with his cleated shoes, clinches his jaw and at attempts to murder the next ball that is anywhere near the plate. Above are four different poses of Ruth, showing him at the beginning of this mighty swing and carrying it through. The illustration also shows his hard grip on the bat and his keen eyes.
