POLITICS OF RAIL UNIONS GIVEN WARNING

Trainmen's President Takes the Stand at Opening of Hearing on Threatened Strike Issues Before Board

ENGINEER'S CHAIRMAN IGNORES BOARD'S ORDER

Brotherhood Chiefs Serve Notice that They Will Withdraw Whenever They Choose; Cite Operators' Proxies

CHICAGO, (AP)—The United States railroad labor board's hearing to determine whether the big four brotherhoods and the switchmen's union have violated their contracts is being held in a room here today which is the scene of a struggle between the union and the board.

W. G. Lee, called to the stand by Ben W. Hooper, who conducted the examination for the board, declared the strike ballot of the other four organizations violated his understanding of what the transportation act provided.

Lee withdrew from the joint meeting when the other unions prepared a plea to accompany the ballot in which they referred to the proposed wage cuts and the board's refusal to be decided by the board among the questions at issue.

Lee told the board he understood the July 1 wage cut was the only question on which a strike could legally be called.

Wrangle Over Ball Call

Taking of the testimony of the brotherhood chiefs followed more than an hour of wrangling over the right of the board to take the testimony of the Brotherhood of Railroad Locomotive Engineers, objected to the roll call of his general chairman, but which the board finally undertook to call their names at which the engineer's chairman had obeyed Stone's instructions and ignored the board's order to abstain.

Brotherhood Serve Notice

The brotherhood chiefs served notice on the board they would withdraw any time they chose and leave substitutes in their places after the board's hearing on October 31, 1921.

Continuing his questioning of President Leo of the trainmen, Mr. Hooper asked who had the proper authority to call off the strike. Mr. Leo said that the general committee, but only the committee, as chief executive, could send the word when the committee had reached a "satisfactory settlement."

INVESTIGATING CLUES

Ben J. Brown, chief sheriff's deputy, and Irving Nistrup, manager of the claims department of the United States Fidelity & Guarantee company of Baltimore are today in a listening room to investigate clues that may have bearing upon the perpetrators of the Rogerson bank robbery Sunday night.

Stone Says Unions Stand as Barriers Against Radicals

OBVIELAND, O., (AP)—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in a statement made public here today, asserts that the brotherhoods "are fighting for their very existence" and warned that if they are destroyed, "radical organizations are free to spring up to take their places within a few years of their death."

Let us assure, however, Mr. Stone said, "that this overreaction is being based upon an apprehensive fear. Mr. Stone also asserted that "the most powerful force in determining the railroad controversy is the force of public opinion, and asked if security in travel furnished by experienced employees of the brotherhoods should not be preferred to insecurity that would result if the operation of trains is left to inexperienced men."

Mr. Stone said the railroads, "with chargeable companies," have made it "appear that the brotherhoods have precipitated the whole trouble." Evasive answers, he said, were made by

Europeans Demand for American Wares Shows Falling Off

Exports Decline by $31,000,000 While Imports Increase $4,000,000

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—Exports to Europe during September fell off by about $31,000,000 as compared with August and imports increased by approximately four million dollars, according to foreign trade figures issued today by the commerce department.

Exports from South America during the month increased by about six million dollars while exports remained practically unchanged.

ADVISES CURB ON RADICAL PAPERS

American Legion Americanization Commissioners Call for More Drastic Laws

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—More drastic legislation governing the transmission and distribution of radical papers, and the prohibition of their circulation through the mails were recommended by the American Legion commission of the American Legion here today.

The director's report recommends the passage of a law which would prohibit the sending through the mails of any printed, written, photographic or pictorial matter that has an American tendency and also a clause prohibiting the sale of such matter.

Oppose Part for Debs

The commissioners discussed the case of Eugene Debs, now serving a prison term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, after having been convicted of violating the wartime laws, and Grover C. Bergdoll, American draft violator, now in Europe.

Concerning the Debs case, Lindsey Blaylock, Texas, representative of the board, declared certain statutes of the United States. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve a term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Director Oswald's report reported progress in the last year in the commission's campaign for more pronounced Americanism and it stated that in a number of states legislation had been passed requiring that the flag be flown on all public buildings.

More Flags Flying

The suggestion that certain parts of each day in the week of school sessions should be devoted to patriotic exercises in the holding of a "national hour" has met with hearty response and the Stars and Stripes are flying from the flagpoles of more American schools.

More appropriate and solemn national-ism ceremonies for schools were urged in the report.

WIRTH GIVES PERSONNEL OF NEW GERMAN CABINET

Forms Ministry to Take Place of One that Resigned Oct. 15—Receives Recently

BERLIN (AP)—Dr. Joseph Wirth, who remains German chancellor in the new cabinet which takes the place of that which resigned last week, today announced the personnel of the new cabinet formed by him.

The railroad executives to all queries by the "big five" transportation organization chiefs concerning retention of various rates and working conditions.

"Suppose the brotherhoods are broken up. The first result will be a certain lowering of physical and moral standards, with inevitable loss of life and property," the statement continued.

"It will come an inevitable result of the loss of the worker, not along the lines of the old brotherhood organization based on the 'one big union' principle; widdling the power of direct action and stopping at nothing in the old brotherhood's political designs. Such has always been the reaction from unbridled bourbon domination."

DAIRY INDUSTRY STRIVES TO BE CONSIDERED

Local Businessmen Propose Association to Take Advantage of Loan

Plans for purchasing and importing from 30,000 to 35,000 high grade, product-tested dairy cows, together with young stock of this character, have been worked out by special interests in Twin Falls until the scheme seems now sufficiently definite to warrant assurance of success.

While intense consideration has been given during the past few weeks to a proposed loan of association capital largely of interest centering in the development of the dairy industry in this section of the country, the chief interest in the construction of effort until a number of Twin Falls business men, including bankers, attended a meeting held in Jerome recently.

Use Government Funds

The plan worked out by the north side business men for this project involves a loan of sufficient government money to guarantee the purchase and transportation of 30,000 dairy stock on the north side.

Price Reasonable

Statistics supplied by Mr. Shephard showed that mature, high grade milk cows, meeting all test requirements as to health and production, can be purchased in the state westward of $80 to $100 each according to grade.

Progressive Farmers Called to Conference

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS ARE INVITED TO MEET WITH AGRICULTURISTS IN THE PORTLAND CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., (AP)—A conference of representatives of "Progressive farmer organizations from the west and northwest," will be held in Portland, Ore., November 14 and 15, the Farmers-National council announced today which will be in the nature of a council of war on securing legislation and measures needed by agriculturists.

International labor organizations and the American Federation of Labor have been invited to send delegates, the announcement said, since "the fundamental interests of all producers of wealth, whether on farm or in cities, are identical."

Memorandum to cover deficits in expenses. Such certificate as reported in billings on the road's property and made to be paid ahead of the bonds. The petition sets up that the road is not making enough revenue to take care of the bondholders.

The road is known as the "Moffat road." It operates 257.4 miles of track between Denver and Craig, Colo. It has some miles of track in central Idaho, along its route, including Corona, the "top of the world," with an altitude of 11,600 feet. The road also serves a vast country west of Denver and carries much high grade coal from western Colorado to Denver for distribution.

HARDING DEALS WITH PROBLEMS OF RACE ISSUE

President Handles Question Without Gloves in Address at Herringham; Calls for Economic Equality

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP)—President Harding handled the race problem without gloves here today in an address, which sounded varying choruses of sentiment in a mixed crowd of several thousand whites and negroes.

Speaking at an outdoor meeting in Herringham's semi-circular coliseum, the president outlined with pointed sentences and vigorous gestures a suggested progress of wider education, economic and political advantages for the black races without any attempt at social equality.

A great roar of applause came from this segregated negro section of the crowd when the president declared for economic equality, and then he turned to the white section and departed from the line of his prepared manuscript to say:

"Whether you like it or not, unless our democracy is a lie, you must stand for that equality."

BITTER FIGHT LIES AHEAD IN NORTH DAKOTA

Recall Election Invoked Against State Officials, to Close One of Most Intense Campaigns in History

BISMARCK, N. D., (AP)—One of the most intense campaigns for state office waged in any state will come to an end in North Dakota, October 28, with the casting and counting of ballots in its now famous recall election. The three men that the Independent Voters association will recall from the North Dakota industrial commission and it is for the handling of state cleanups as officers in this body, rather than for inefficient action as governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor, that the recall petition has been set in motion. At the same time the recall ballots are cast, voters of the state will be asked to pass upon six measures it is proposed to write upon the statute books of the state at this time through the consent of the voters and also to decide if they desire to accept or reject three amendments to the state constitution.

Names Successors

The recall petition program asks the removal from office of Loran J. Praxler, governor; William Lonke, attorney general; and John M. Hanson, commissioner of agriculture and labor. The candidates to fill these positions, if recalled, are H. A. Nelson of Bismarck for governor, Everett Johnson of Grand Forks for attorney general, and Joseph A. Kitchin of Bismarck for commissioner of agriculture and labor. Mr. Praxler and Mr. Hanson will serve for six years each, while Mr. Lonke took office at the beginning of the present year. Their present terms expire with the end of 1922 and if any of them are recalled, the candidate in the vacant place will fill out this term.

While the battle for these individual places is bitter, so bitter it has passed the stage of argument, an intensive fight of the campaign has been waged over the initiated measures and the constitutional amendments. The included measures, if passed, will cut the income tax of the state from 1.5 per cent to 1.25 per cent, the taking over of its farm loan business by a rural credits association has in part upon the similar organization now functioning in South Dakota, to change certain financial conditions within the state and to provide, by means of two election laws, for separate ballots for candidates for county, state and federal offices.

Amendments Submitted

The three constitutional amendments provide for a constitutional debt limit and the creating of a sinking fund for the payment of bonds, and a real estate basis for said bonds, for increase in the pay of the members of the state legislature and of the combination of the office of judge and county clerk in counties of less than 4000 population.

While the North Dakota law provides that every voter shall receive a publicly pamphlet, proposing forth in full the measures it is intended to initiate, the same pamphlet presenting the arguments of each side at so much per page the rival factions have not been content with this method of reaching the voters are counted, many on one side of the state will take part in the contest. The non-partisan leagues have arranged for help from Gulston Borjesson and G. C. Daniels of New York city, the latter a brother of Joseph Daniels, former secretary of the navy; Senator E. F. Ladd of North Dakota, Glen Plumb and William H. Harvey, Mr. Harvey special agent a month in the state, making addresses upon financial subjects.

Present Other Side

The Independent Voters association have renounced dates for Governor J. A. O. Ryan, attorney general and will have the assistance of former Senator A. J. Groana, Thomas Hall, present secretary of state; Congressman George M. Yonkers, C. B. Hutcheson and a number of former state officials.

LEGIONNAIRES PREPARING FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Local Organizations of Veterans of World War Through-out United States Arranging for Celebrations

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—Posts of the American Legion throughout the United States are arranging for celebrating the third anniversary of Armistice Day. The national headquarters of the Legion here has received information from the posts and from units of the Women's Auxiliary which indicates that interest in the proper observance of this new American holiday is widespread.

Large public meetings are being arranged in many communities and more than a thousand Legion posts will stage symbolic parades. Plans have also been completed for large meetings in New York, San Francisco and Chicago, at which the audiences, by means of amplifiers used in connection with long distance telephone wires, will hear the addresses made at the burial services in Washington for an unknown soldier.

Emergency National Statement

John G. Emery, national commander of the Legion, today issued the following statement to Legionnaires regarding Armistice Day observances:

"At eleven o'clock on the morning of November eleven, nineteen hundred and eighteen, an entire world, weary and sore, bent under the discharge of the world's war, knelt in thanks to God. The guns ceased booming. The roar of their firing no longer echoed around the world in a terrible thunder. A new note came in the air, light and strong, and a symphony of joy. A new hope was in every heart, a hope and a prayer that the fighting of nation against nation, of people against people, had ended for all time.

"Three years have passed. We are about to celebrate the third anniversary of that action when, for the last time, the runner dashed across the field of death and carried to the farthest outpost the order 'cease firing.' We want to look under the flag through to that grand moment. We want to recall, in full, the purpose common to every cad at that moment to do each his or her share to make impossible, for ever again, such a disaster. Let us do this in celebrations that will include every American citizen."

Want to Recall Thrill

"We want to recall the thrill that came to each of us, whether at the front or at home, in the knowledge that our duty was done. We want especially to turn aside from the routine of daily life and to remember the sacrifices of those whose pride is that they gave of their sweat and blood, and of those among us, torn and crippled, who gave of themselves. These are our heroes—our living monuments to American ideals, to American principles, to American citizenship."

RAILROAD RULES FOCAL POINT IN CONTROVERSY

Hundreds of Regulations About Working Conditions Top-ics for Dispute

CHICAGO, (AP)—The railroad rules, which have been an unofficial point of controversy in the conditions leading up to the present strike situation, comprise hundreds of regulations about working conditions, only a few of which have been made issues in the strike arguments.

The entire question of rules and working conditions was aired last spring when the labor board held a hearing on the rank's application for the abolition of the national agreement reached during the war-time control by the United States railroad administration. The board has so far rendered decisions on some thirty rules affecting the shop crafts, but has not yet reached the regulations governing the train service unions which are now threatening to strike.

The unions sought an agreement with the roads providing that the companies should not, for a fixed period, attempt to change the present schedule and working conditions, but the roads refused to consider the proposal.

Among the rules which the trainmen are particularly anxious to retain are: Time and a half for overtime in the slow freight service.

Time and a half for Sunday work for seven days a week now.

Pay for extra service from the time a man is called from his home, instead of from the time he reports for work.

Board members came time ago indicated they hoped to dispose of the case by next January, but the present condition of the docket indicates a decision will not be possible before March.

VETERANS HEAR INSPIRING TALK

Coch and Captain of Football Team Pledge Best Efforts on Armistice Day

Coch Clinton W. Evans and Phillip Fix, captain of the Twin Falls high school football team, were guests of members of the American Legion at their weekly noon-day luncheon Tuesday at the Rogers cafe. Coach Evans expressed appreciation of the veterans' support of high school athletes and pleaded for a more general infusion of this spirit in the community.

Both Mr. Evans and Captain Fix pledged the best efforts of the Twin Falls team against the Salt Lake East Side eleven in the Armistice Day celebration.

Paul Davis of Boise, director of the state department of law enforcement, was called upon to relate incidents from his acquaintance with the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt dating from the political campaign of 1912.

Cleanup Squad Acted

Declaring that the veterans' bureau "cleanup" squad now operating in Idaho is getting in contact with a larger number of former service men than had been anticipated, Byron H. Christ of Seattle, advance agent for the squad, related some of the incidents met with by the squad in its work of assisting veterans in presentation of their claims.

The squad is to arrive here about November 5.

Joseph Harvey of Pendleton, Ore., a former member of the local Legion post discussed briefly the veterans' compensation act passed by the state, embodying the cash bonus plan with an alternative loan for purchase of homes or farm property.

Carnival Making Brides

The carnival queen contest being conducted in connection with the second annual fall festival and Armistice Day celebration to be given under auspices of the local Legion post is proving decidedly popular and promises to be one of the most successful of the events planned for the affair, according to the statement of H. B. Sabin, festival manager.

The contest is to be closed at midnight Thursday before the day of celebration, Mr. Sabin stated.

A. W. Sowe, general chairman in charge of the Armistice Day celebration, reported that satisfactory progress was being made with all arrangements for the affair.

Dr. W. F. Passer presided as chairman of the committee in charge of entertainment at the luncheon.

SPORTS

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By FULBRAKER)

But two days remain for us to howl about the coming Nampa game, so we will start right in. Coach Hestebach informs us that his team is in tip-top condition, outside of a few minor details which will be remedied by Friday. He is bringing his very best and says that if he gets beat, it will be because the Twin Falls has a better team. Well, we think that it is about a toss up, and that the score will be very close, but as usual are hoping that there won't be anything to it but Twin Falls.

The local lads are going through some real hard practice this week, and if conditions permit for anything, they should be at the top of the heap when the final shot is fired.

Chief Fix is still in the repair shop, so it looks as though Jim Seilly, the boy that took the mis out of Missouls, will be at quarter.

Just before each game Coach Evans sort of closes up, and it is hard to get any dope but here is what we think: Pulver, Houghton and Scott will be in the backfield with Seilly, the same line will be on each side of Denton that held the Jerome boys.

C. Scott, who has been laid up with a sore toe, is wearing shoes again, and will report for practice next Monday.

The Nows will have a special phone.

MRS. SOUTHARD'S MEMORY FAILS

that it might be necessary to ship the body of Mr. Meyer... asked Prosecutor for Hoffman.

"Was it before or after you ordered the casket?" "The defendant testified that she did not know that Meyer had a sister in this county or anything at all about Meyer's father."

Didn't Offer Doctor Bribe. "Did you tell Dr. Coughlin that you would pay him well if he would write an article on the cause of Meyer's death for publication?"

Memory Perfect Family. "Questions after questions were addressed to the witness by Mr. Stephan as to life insurance held by Mellaffie, to which she had no recollection."

"There is no particular reason why you should forget, is there?" inquired Mr. Stephan.

"No, I don't remember," answered the witness. Mrs. Southard said that she left Monahan once during the year of her marriage in Lewis, when she came to Twin Falls.

"Do you know Mrs. Henry Schaefer of Stockton, Cal.?" "I never visited her."

"My brother told her that you and Mr. Lewis were married in Los Angeles?" "No, I did not."

Refers to Mrs. Brevick. "As you acquainted with Mrs. Mary Brevick?" "Yes, I know her."

"How long was she at your house?" "Not very long."

"When she first called during Mr. Meyer's illness, did you say to her: 'I realize how sick he is. I have been through this before. I buried my husband and a baby who died of typhoid fever?'"

"I don't remember."

"Didn't Mrs. Brevick say to you to get up out of bed and take care of your husband as you ought?"

"She didn't say to me, I was already up and looking after him."

"How long you were confined to your bed during his last illness?" "I was in bed for three days."

"Do you remember Mr. Helwick's testimony as to this?" "She was not there the last time."

"When Mrs. Helwick returned on Sunday before your husband's death and found you in bed again, didn't you say that Dr. Russell had ordered you back to bed?"

"Didn't you tell her you had a policy on the life of Mellaffie?" "No, she is mistaken."

"Yes." "No Recollection of Loan. "Do you remember receiving $500 from Walter?" "I don't recall it."

"Don't you remember that you were trying to raise money to pay for the car you were buying?" "Didn't Mr. Erickson drive you out to Mr. Walter, from whom you tried to raise $1700?"

"Or about receiving Mr. Walter's check for $500?" "I don't know anything about Mr. Meyer's business, didn't you?"

Not Concerned About Business. "Did you ever ask any of those husbands of yours about his business?" "They never discussed their business affairs with you?"

"What, some of them did?" "Which ones?" "What did he say to you?"

"He came into the restaurant where I was working and said, 'Lloyd, I am going to take out some insurance' and I said, 'Why Gordon, I don't believe we can afford it.'"

"Then you really protested against it?" "The question was objected to and the objection sustained."

License Introduced. Certified copy of the marriage license of Mr. and Mrs. Southard was for the purpose of showing an attempt on the part of the witness to enter her when she was through the use of other than her own name."

Mr. Stephan asked one or two further questions in an effort to establish the fact that Lewis was taken ill at Harlin, Mont., immediately upon his arrival there from Billings, which journey he made by auto truck."

"Dropping practically every allegation contained in the testimony of previous witnesses with respect to conversations between those and the defendant, Mrs. Southard spent the greater part of yesterday on the witness stand on both direct and cross examination."

Mrs. Southard appeared brighter and more cheerful after her day's grilling than has been the case in some time past. She chatted breezily with her attorneys, exchanged a word or two with her counsel and was completely at ease on the whole as one freed suddenly of restraint. Her answers to questions were given in a tone of voice which could easily be heard at a distance of a few feet but this she explained in reply to constant admonitions to speak loudly on the ground that she was suffering from a cold."

Her replies to questions were addressed directly to the jury in whose direction her gaze was bent most of the time. Her answers for the most part were quick and voluble. Only occasionally did she glance in the direction of her attorneys or hesitate before speaking. On certain questions put to her in half a dozen different forms during her cross examination her replies were frank in the same words practically every time."

Know Meyer Had Land. Mrs. Southard admitted that she knew Edward F. Meyer owned 20 acres of land. She did not urge him to make a will, however, and never discussed with him the matter of life insurance. She denied that she had ever said that she knew or believed that Meyer could not recover from his final illness or that she had made use of the words attributing to her by former witnesses with respect to the holding of a post mortem on the body of Meyer, to wit, "go ahead and cut him all to pieces if you want to."

Cross examination of the witness was constantly interrupted by objections on the part of attorneys for the defense, the most frequent objections being on the ground that such examination was not being kept within the record in the case. Practically all were overruled by the court."

Purchase of the poisonous fly paper was admitted by Mrs. Southard and two packages placed by her as the amount she bought. Asked as to whether she remembered the testimony of S. E. All, the clerk who waited upon her at the Barber Brothers store, to the effect that her purchase was of several times this amount she declared that the clerk was mistaken. She declared that she had no recollection of the clerk saying to her, "How gracious, what are you going to do with it all?" or her reply to the effect that she intended taking it to a ranch in the canyon, all of which was contained in the testimony of Mr. All as a witness for state."

Mrs. Southard testified to the effect that she too was taken sick shortly before Mr. Meyer's first attack in his final illness and that both were sick at the same time. Her sickness she said resembled that of Meyer and lasted until after her husband's death. The symptoms she said were similar to those of her husband although she did not suffer as much."

She Didn't Say It. The witness denied having said in answer to a suggestion that she call a doctor during her husband's illness. "Well, I will call a doctor, then they can't have anything to say," or that she ever told Mrs. Carrie How, the street cleaning house keeper, following the death of Meyer, that she would like to have trouble in connection with his death."

On only one occasion during Meyer's stay at the hospital in which he died did she ever offer him food or water, she declared. This was on the day after his arrival as a patient."

Upon the resumption of cross-examination of Mrs. Southard by Mr. Stephan, yesterday afternoon after recess, Mrs. Southard said she did not know exactly who she bought the flypaper from, but she got it at the Fisher Drug Store. She stood by her statements that she had bought two packages of flypaper from Mr. Grady that she purchased a Daisy Fly Killer?" asked Mr. Stephan.

Didn't Have Daisy Fly Killer. "Did you ever use a Daisy Fly Killer in your room?" "I never did."

"What did Mr. How say when you gave her the fly paper?" "She said she was glad to get it."

"When Mrs. Howe is mistaken about the fly paper?" "She must be."

"Did you tell Mrs. Howe you didn't love Mr. Meyer as you should?" "I didn't."

"Did you tell Mrs. Howe it would probably be a little hard for you to settle down after your marriage?" "I didn't make any such statement."

Mrs. Meyer Sick Too. Mrs. Meyer said she was sick before Meyer was. Meyer got up the night he was stricken and went outside. His wife followed him and found him sitting on a big rock near the water. Both vomited, the witness said, during the evening. Mrs. Meyer's sickness lasted until after the death of Meyer. Dr. Coughlin prescribed milk of magnesia for her. She did not suffer as much as Meyer, she said, but she was pretty sick."

Meyer, she said, agreed with her that both needed a doctor. "What Coughlin Told Her. "Did you say that Dr. Coughlin told you that he had eight or ten patients suffering as Meyer was and that not all of them would recover?" asked Mr. Stephan.

"Not quite that way. I said the doctor told me he had several promising poisoning cases but I didn't say she would live," replied the witness.

"Didn't Mrs. Howe say that you ought to call a doctor?" "She did not."

"Did you say to her, 'Well, I'll call a doctor, then they can't have anything to say?'" "I didn't make any such statement."

The witness denied saying to Mrs. Howe that she would let her as a witness on case of trouble over Meyer's death. She declared she told Mrs. Howe that if she was responsible for Meyer's death she ought to be punished. Details of Diet. "What did you tell Dr. Coughlin you use, the slight Meyer was taken sick?" asked the attorney.

"Mr. Meyer spoke up and said we had had beans. I didn't know if they were seasoned or not," replied the witness.

"Did you tell Mrs. Hoodenslype you had canned corn that night?" "I don't recall it."

Meyer complained that his stomach was drawing up into knots, the witness said, but didn't say much when pain. "How did your stomach feel when you were sick?" asked the prosecutor.

"Mostly the same—drawn," answered the witness. Meyer vomited but was not nauseated. "This seemed to be the sum total of the testimony of the witness on the difference between the two symptoms. Questions failed to shake her on the point."

Practically all conversation with the defendant testified to by previous witnesses was denied outright by the defendant. Her story of Meyer's state of health during the auto trip to Salt Lake City of last year was the subject of questioning. Her answers were the same as those given during direct examination."

"Did you ever feed or give Mr. Meyer anything to drink at the hospital?" asked Attorney Stephan.

"Only once, on the first day; he said he wanted tea. The nurse said to help myself and I got it for him," replied Mrs. Southard.

Didn't Feed Her Husband. "Did you ever give him toast and tea?" "I never did."

"Did you hear, Miss Garrett say you had?" "She is mistaken."

"You recall Miss Garrett's testimony making a conversation you had with her when you said 'I know he is not going to get well for I see death in his face.'"

"I didn't say this—not the last part." "Then you would say Miss Garrett was mistaken?" "She was mistaken."

"Did you recall a conversation with Miss Maxwell at the hospital when you aid to her that he would not recover?" "She told me he was a very sick man but I did not say to her that he would not recover."

Asked About Divorce. "Did you furnish any money to Hugh Wright to enable him to get a divorce from his wife?" "Objection by the defense resulted in the evening recess being taken. The court was to rule on the admission of this line of examination in the morning."

WARFARE AGAINST PEST OF WEST IS UNAVAILING

Coyote Increases in Numbers Despite Relentless exterminating Attacks

The coyote, pest of the western plains, against which unrelenting warfare has been waged for the past six years, is increasing its range, notwithstanding the fact that since 1915 nearly 300,000 of the animals have been killed by hunters under the direction of the Biological Survey in addition to those killed by private avengers. Reports by the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture state that several specimens were killed in sections far east of their usual haunts, within a comparatively recent period.

One of these was on the northern shore of Lake Ontario, hundreds of miles from the accustomed range, another in western Pennsylvania, and a third in western New York. In northwestern Indiana and in northern Michigan their presence has been reported and considerable damage has been done to growing live stock. All these places are far from the coyote's main range. Not content with pushing its jaws eastward, the coyote has penetrated a long land trail from the wilds of British Columbia, a thousand miles or more, through the Klondike fields, and into the Arctic Circle to the mouth of the Mackenzie river which flows into the Arctic ocean. The migration was begun after the rush of gold seekers to the Klondike, the coyotes following the trail of horses that died during the long perilous journey. Almost untold damage has been done by three bands, and their presence in localities remote from their usual haunts is regarded as unfortunate, even though only occasional stragglers have been reported.

Even the woman who wants to talk all the time isn't satisfied unless her husband wakes up long enough to say yes or no, now and then.

HANSEN-BLISS HIGHWAY SOON WILL BE READY

Only Two Short Pieces Remain to be Finished in the Long Stretch of Highway

J. H. Shoemaker, federal inspector for government projects, is in Twin Falls to inspect the section of concrete highway from Curry to a point about three miles west of Fry which has just been completed. The section has been built by Phelps Construction company of Ogden on contract at a cost of $310,000 for seven miles of roadway.

With two strips yet to be finished, a hard surfaced road will extend from Harpeland to Bliss. The first of these incomplete sections is one and eight-tenths miles between the end of Bull highway and the Fryer highway. Work on this strip will start about 10 days according to information from the office of the state highway in Twin Falls. The cost of this strip will be about $100,000, one-third of which will be borne by the state and the remainder by the Fryer highway district.

The second uncompleted section lies three miles west of Bliss. This will be completed and about the same time as the first section mentioned. Funds for the completion of this strip will be forthcoming from the sale of the state highway bonds. This is known as the Deep Creek section. Four miles in Gooding county and one mile in the vicinity of Glenns Ferry will complete the hard surfaced road to Bliss.

Of the 46 miles between Mountain Home and Boise, Ada county has advertised for bids to gravel one stretch of 17 miles; Mountain Home highway district has finished curbing six miles and the remaining 20 miles has no immediate prospect of treatment. This is in the Yates Center highway district, which is making plans looking toward early improvement.

AMERICAN METHODISM TO HONOR OWN ST. FRANCIS

Anniversary of Landing of Pioneer of Denomination to be Observed

CHICAGO (AP)—American Methodism will observe at Washington tomorrow the homecoming of the Rev. St. Francis who landed at Philadelphia 1771 will have its 150th anniversary, according to announcement from Methodist headquarters here today.

On a bleak October Francis Ashby stepped from the ship after 52 days of sleeping on the deck, hard fare and hardships for his position. Ashby, John of the Methodists on a day of 13. At 16 he heard his call to preach. At 22 he was ordained and at 25 volunteered and was accepted for service in America. He was soon later stationed in Bristol, England, where he had a new suit of clothes, and gave him ten pounds. When he took up the torch at Philadelphia he carried his flame from Boston to Savannah and as far west as Ohio.

Not alone was he the pioneer bishop of Methodism, he was the first bishop of a church concerned on American soil. He was the originator of Methodist missions, and the first Sunday school in this continent was the child of his endeavor. He sent his preachers to the forest depths, most destitute settlements of human habitation and wherever a group of log cabins were gathered, there would a man of God come to point to the city which both foundations and claim the banner for the empire of Christ.

Francis Ashby, scattered as good seed in all parts of soil, 16,500 sermons. In the thirty years of his life he traveled 270,000 miles, presided at 223 conferences, ordained 4600 preachers, read 400 sermons, often with his saddle for a study and its pommel for his desk. He crossed the Alleghenies 60 times. When perils of the wilderness had every ill that the flesh is heir to.

According to the announcement, Methodism intends to present to the nation Ashby's statue in bronze on a site in Washington which has been granted by congress and President Harding will unveil the statue and give a brief eulogy.

The S. R. O. sign was in evidence last night at the Lavering, when the Marcus show raised the curtain on the best show that has visited Twin Falls for a long time. A musical extravaganza without a plot, a lot of pretty girls, a comedian that was really funny, pretty music, fine dancers, all made up an evening's entertainment, that made those that were fortunate enough to get a seat, remember "Clark, Chuck" as a show worth while. Charles Abbot, a Joplin, was a scream, with Stanley and Byrnes, two clever dancers, running him a close second. It will be well to keep in mind for future reference that the name Marcus guarantees a show that will be hard to beat.

Owing to repeated requests, "The Girl from God's Country" will be held over today, at the Idaho. This picture is the sort that keeps you on edge all the time, wondering what thrill will come next.

On Thursday for one day only, Shiz by West End, will be seen in "The Mother Heart." Miss Mason needs no introduction to the movie fans of Twin Falls.

The Orpheum hosts of another feature today in "The Man" with Jack Holt in the leading role. It is a mystery affair, so to get the full benefit, go to the Orpheum, and try and figure it out. A two-part comedy rounds up the bill.

Jack Pickford finishes this evening at the Lavering in "Just Out of College," a comedy by George Ade, which in itself, guarantees a pleasant evening.

MURTAUGH

MURTAUGH, Idaho—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fry and baby are visiting relatives in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Gertrude Deery of Twin Falls, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Day, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred and daughter, Kathleen, returned from Paroleto and Idaho Falls, Sunday, where they spent the past week.

Mrs. L. M. Rawlings and children, June and Jack, left the first of the week for Twin Falls, where they will make their home. Mr. Rawlings expects to join them by the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Mrs. Jessie Weck and mother left the first of the week for Twin Falls, where they will reside.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, who were recently married, tendered them a miscellaneous shower at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. William Nelson, Saturday evening. Many nice and useful things were received by the bride and groom. A short program was enjoyed and the rest of the evening spent in a social group. Delightful refreshments were served to the guests.

Mrs. D. W. Thomas, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Willie Nelson, has returned to her home at Amodeo, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nelson and children, and Mrs. D. W. Thomas returned from their home where they spent several days visiting relatives.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. E. S. True Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in work and conversation. At the close of the afternoon a delicious luncheon was served to ten ladies.

The faculty and school children are busy preparing for a carnival to be given at the school house Friday evening.

Mrs. Julia Byer is visiting at the home of her son, J. J. Byers in Twin Falls.

Today's Markets

RE-SALES TALK CAUSES WHEAT MARKET DECLINE

CHICAGO, (AP)—Wheat showed an upward tendency today, with bulls counting on general receipt of grain being small, at least until the national strike problem was settled. Trade was light, and the market easily influenced. Estimates that winter wheat acreage would be 5 per cent less than last year's total attracted some attention. Opening quotations, which varied from 1-4c off to a like advance, with December $1.08 to 1.08 3/4 and May $1.13 1/4 to 1.14, were followed by moderate gains all around and then something of a reaction.

Subsequently talk of re-investments of red winter wheat from Montreal to Cleveland led to general selling and to a material decline. The close was weak, 1-1/4 to 1-1/2c net lower, with December $1.05 7/8 to 1.07 and May $1.11 5/8 to 1.11 7/8.

Corn and oats hardened with wheat. After opening a shade to 1-1/2c higher, December 48 1/2 to 48 5/8c, corn scored slight further gains.

In the late dealings corn followed wheat downward. The close was weak 1-1/4 to 1-1/2c net lower, with December 48 to 48 1/2c.

Oats started unchanged to 1-1/2c up, December 31c, and then continued firm. Provisions were dull but had an upward slant with grain despite downturns in the hog market.

Sheep—Steady; receipts 2,100.
Heavy yearlings $3.50 to 4.00; light weights $3.75 to 4.50. Others unchanged.

New York Stock Market
NEW YORK (AP)—Speculative observers the chief features of today's professional stock market at gains of one to three points. Bulls and representative industrials were dull and inclined to react. Sales approximated 600,000 shares.

Further retirement of the short interest was noted at the opening of today's stock market, especially in oil, cotton, steel and equities. Royal Dutch, Shell Transport, Atlantic Gulf, Willys Overland preferred, Baldwin Locomotive, Pressed Steel Car, Bethlehem, Crucible and United States Steel were higher by large fractions to two points. Shipings also improved, but falls failed to throw off their recent gain. Prohibitory quotations for the principal foreign exchange rates were irregular, reflecting latest political developments abroad.

Palls, copper and tobacco became heavy later but this was offset by higher prices for oils, rubbers and leathers.

The closing was irregular. Liberty bonds and most other domestic issues were steady.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Potatoes—Lower receipts 90 cars; total United States shipments 1,471; Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin bulk and sacks $1.2 to 1.80 cwt.; Dakota White $1.40 to 1.75 cwt.; Minnesota and North Dakota Red River $1.65 to 1.85 cwt.

REPORT ON COW TESTING SHOWS BETTER DAIRIES

Association Official Records a Vast Improvement in Production During Month

The race for premier honors in Idaho's leading cow testing association continues to wax warm between the Big Black and Whites and the Golden Penney herd for individual testing honors and team averages.

In the fifteen cow class E. G. Ehlers kept the Blacks and Whites in the lead again with 30.46 pounds over the William Shotwell & Sons Jerseys, 29.33 pounds.

Some facts rather pertinent in dairying in the Twin Falls district would seem to be indicated by the above figures.

Mr. Middlestead obtained the maximum profit for herd, $7.62 on a production of 38.5 pounds of fat, although it cost him 13.6 cents per pound.

Another low profit herd made fat for 8.9 cents per pound but fell short of high profit, making $5.96. This cow is indicative that under present feed and butter fat prices it pays to feed good herds liberally to gain, especially when pastures are getting scarce.

Reserves

Many corporations and business men have been able to weather the late year of strain because of reserves which they had built from previous years. Such a reserve is useless unless it can be turned to account when needed.

The Twin Falls Tract is now harvesting what will probably be the largest crop it has produced. There will be many farmers again in possession of surplus funds. Now is the time to start such a reserve.

A savings account is the place to put this money for it will be at your service when needed.

OLD SHOE WEEK Beginning SAT. OCT. 29 Ending SAT. NOV. 5 THE ELDRIDGE CLOTHING CO. WILL PAY $1.00 FOR YOUR "OLD SHOES" WEHY WEAR OLD SHOES? Knowing that many men in Twin Falls are today wearing shoes too good to throw away and yet hardly good enough to pass muster, we have decided on OLD SHOE WEEK. Wear your old shoes into our store, any day during OLD SHOE WEEK, and we will pay you $1.00 on them on the purchase price of any pair of shoes in the House. Our prices, fairest always, range from $5.00 to $10.00 and during OLD SHOE WEEK we give you $1.00 for your old shoes so that lets you buy a good pair of regular MAN shoes for from $4.00 to $9.00. We have the shoe you want at the price you can pay. Make us prove it!
