

HUGHES PROPOSES TO WRECK WARSHIPS OF THREE BIG POWERS

American Position Is Disclosed at Opening Session of Conference for Disarmament

UNITED STATES, BRITAIN, JAPAN SHALL SCRAP CRAFT NOW AFLOAT

Crux of Conference Is Reached Within Few Moments of Opening of Momentous Convocation of Nations

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—A ten-year naval holiday in naval construction, involving a tremendous scrapping of ships now on the ways and contemplated by the United States, Great Britain and Japan, was proposed to the conference on the limitation of armaments by Secretary Hughes at the opening session today as America's proposal.

That there immediately be destroyed by the navies of the three great powers, 60 capital fighting ships and a total tonnage of 1,878,043 tons.

Limita Big Navies.

Within three months after making an agreement the navies would consist of designated and agreed upon ships as follows:

United States, 18; Great Britain, 22; Japan, 10.

In tons, this would be: United States, 500,000; Great Britain, 604,480; Japan, 270,000.

Replacement would be limited by an agreed maximum of capital ship tonnage as follows:

United States, 300,000 tons; Great Britain, 500,000 tons; Japan, 300,000 tons.

Provides for Replacements.

Subject to the ten-year holiday limitation, capital ships could be replaced when they are 20 years old. No replacement ship would have a tonnage of more than 35,000.

A total tonnage in cruisers, flotilla leaders and destroyers for each power would be as follows:

For the United States, 450,000 tons; for Great Britain, 450,000 tons; for Japan, 270,000 tons.

Submarines Are Allocated.

The total tonnage of submarines allowed each power would be as follows:

For the United States, 50,000 tons; for Great Britain, 50,000 tons; for Japan, 50,000 tons.

The total tonnage of airplane carriers was proposed as follows:

For the United States, 50,000 tons; for Great Britain, 50,000 tons; for Japan, 45,000 tons.

Will Await Dispositions.

In each case, it would be provided that no government whose present tonnage exceeds the prescribed limit could acquire or scrap such excess until replacements have begun.

Cruisers 17 years old could be replaced by new construction.

Similarly, destroyers, flotilla leaders and submarines could be replaced when 12 years old and airplane carriers when 20 years old.

Limitation of airplane construction was not outlined in detail in the American proposal, but it was declared in the proposal that since the importance of the merchant marine is a factor in any naval armament program "regulations must be provided" to govern the conversion of merchant craft for war purposes.

Exemptions Are Named.

Other features of the auxiliary craft reduction program, included:

Exemption from the terms of the agreement of the existing monitors; unarmored surface craft under 3000 tons; fuel ships, supply ships, tenders, repair ships, tug and mine sweepers.

No new auxiliary combatant craft could be built, except from terms of the agreement, that exceeded 3000 tons. All a speed of more than 15 knots and carried more than four five-inch guns.

All auxiliary surface craft whose keels already have been laid for war were carried to completion.

Agreement would be made later for details of scrapping the ships falling outside the proposed limitation.

Imposes Heavy Obligations.

Each of the powers party to the agreement would bind itself to inform all the other parties concerning:

1. The names or number of the ship to be scrapped by each power.
2. The date of authorization of replacement tonnage.
3. The dates of laying the keels of replacement tonnage.
4. The displacement tonnage of each new ship to be laid down.
5. The actual date of completion of each new ship.

LEGION HOSTS TO THOUSANDS IN HONOR OF ARMISTICE DAY

Record Crowd in Twin Falls Enjoys Day of Sports and Recreation—Parade Is Gorgeous Affair at Night

Ideal weather, general observance of the holiday and an entertainment program of extraordinary interest combined to make for the American Legion second annual fall festival and Armistice Day celebration in Twin Falls yesterday a new record for events of similar nature in the history of southern Idaho.

Throngs Are Everywhere.

One of the largest crowds of people ever assembled in Twin Falls attended the celebration. More than 10,000 persons gathered along the line of march on Main avenue and Shoshone street in the evening for the spectacular electric pageant, a crowning feature of the festival.

The celebration, which was pronounced generally by far the best parade ever staged in Twin Falls and done that would be a credit to a much larger city.

Legion Makes Good.

Officials of the Legion post today estimated the gross revenues from the celebration at between $2,000 and $2,500.

The day was not marred by any serious accident or disorder of any kind. Records of the police court and sheriff's office do not disclose a single arrest made Friday for infraction of the peace.

Congest Is Halted.

Alton blasts had the salute of three guns, interrupting a band concert at the center of the day's festivities on Shoshone street between the city park and the Legion grounds, and signaling the beginning of the "silent two minutes" set apart for public manifestation of appreciation of the dead in the world war.

Booths Are Attractive.

In a score of concessionaires' booths ranged on either side of the street and effectively decorated with grins and grins, the Legion post offered for entertainment of the guests a variety of the various organizations participating were busy with traffic in home cooked foods, cakes, candies and other wares donated and sold for the benefit of the Legion funds.

Bravado Lincoln Field.

A partial lull in activities at the carnival grounds resulted as many of the crowd moved toward the football field at 2 o'clock, but the celebration surged back in greater numbers at the conclusion of the game, and the ceremonies incident to the coronation of the carnival queen and presentation of the prizes to the open and her maid of honor marked a climax in the day's activities at this point.

Supplies Are Exhausted.

Heavy demand for furs offered for sale completely exhausted the supply and by six o'clock several of the booths had to be closed on that account. By 10 o'clock there was not a booth in operation although supplies had been collected in almost double the amount gathered for last year's celebration.

Throughout the afternoon and evening.

Attorneys Say French Bluebird Will Make His Own Court Plea

Insanity to Be Defense Offered for Murderer of Eleven Women.

VERMONT. (AP)—An attempt to establish that Henri Landru, the modern "Blue Bird," is insane will be made at his trial now in progress in the Assizes court here. Landru is charged with the murder of eleven persons, ten of them women whom he is said to have promised to marry. This decision was reached after a conference between Landru and his lawyers last night.

"It is my head that is at stake, so I will direct my own case," they quoted him as exclaiming. He was under the delusion, they said, that he was the most famous man on earth. Landru would be allowed to say whatever he pleased, they added, but his lawyers would seek to have him declared insane.

War Worn World Clammers For Abandonment of All Armament Says Harding

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The text of President Harding's address at the opening of the conference on limitation of armaments follows:

"Secretary and Members of the Conference, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"It is a great and happy privilege to bid the delegates to this conference a cordial welcome to the capital of the United States of America. It is not only a satisfaction to greet you because we were lately participants in a common cause, in which shared sacrifice and sorrow and triumph brought our nations more closely together, but it is gratifying to address you as spokesmen for nations whose convictions and attending actions have so much to do with the peace of all mankind.

Great Opportunity.

"It is not possible to overpraise the importance of such a conference. It is no unseemly boast, no disparagement of other nations, which, though not this one, are held in highest respect, to declare that the conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress—on the peace of the world.

"Here is a meeting, I can well believe, which is an earnest of the awakened conscience of twentieth century civilization. It is not a convention of remorse, nor a session of sorrow. It is not the conference of victors to define terms of surrender. Nor is it a council of nations seeking to dominate humankind. It is rather a coming to gether, from all parts of the earth, to study the attributes of mankind to minimize the faults in our international relationships.

Orator for Better.

"Speaking as official sponsor for the invitation, I think I may say that this is not of the United States of America alone, it is rather the spoken word of a war-weary world, struggling for restoration, hungering and thirsting for better relationship, of humanity crying for relief and craving assurances of lasting peace.

Easy to Understand.

"It is easy to understand this worldwide aspiration. The glory of triumph, the joy in achievement, the love of liberty, the devotion to country, the pangs of sorrow, the burden of debt, the desolation of ruin—all these are appeals alike in all lands. Here in the United States we have been freshly turned from the burial of an unknown American soldier, when the nation grieved while paying him tribute. Whether it was spoken or not, a hundred millions of our people were summarizing the inexorable

KATO DECLARES HUGHES PLAN TO BE DRASTIC AND FAR REACHING IN EFFECT, BUT WORTH CONSIDERING

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The American armament limitation plan as outlined to the armament conference today by Secretary Hughes was described by Admiral Baron Kato, of the Japanese delegation, as very drastic, but a good proposal to have been placed before the delegates.

"The American proposal," Baron Kato said, "is very far reaching but I consider it a good one to have been presented to the conference."

The Japanese government has not contemplated submitting a counter proposal, Baron Kato said, stating that determination of this question would await a more complete study of details of Secretary Hughes' plan.

Asked if the American proposal would be acceptable to Japan, Baron Kato said:

"As a basis of discussion the American proposal might be suitable."

Baron Kato added that although it was too soon to express a definite opinion on the subject his impression was that "Japan will comply with the American proposal as far as possible."

Disarmament Conference Enters Its Labors with Show of Agreement on the Preliminaries

HUGHES MADE CHAIRMAN UPON MOTION OF ENGLAND

Great Minds of World Assembled to Hear President Harding's Plan for Removal of Causes of Warfare

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Fresh with memories of the soldier dead, the conference on the limitation of armaments, met in its first session today to seek the "rule under which reason and righteousness shall prevail."

In the memorial hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution the statesmen and diplomats of five great powers, gathered about the table to organize the way through which they hope to remove causes which might lead to war and thus as a consequence remove the economic burden and waste the world suffers in preparation.

Arrivals Are Early.

Although the opening hour of the first session was set for 10:30 o'clock the thrills began arriving soon after ten to hear the opening address of President Harding and to form their permanent organization with Secretary Hughes as president of the conference.

Delegations Arrive Seated.

The American delegation had chairs across the west end with the British on their right and the French on their left. The right of the French were the place allotted to the Japanese, while the Italians had a corresponding position directly across the aisle.

At the foot of the table and at smaller ones were the Portuguese, Belgians, Dutch and Chinese. Advisers had chairs of gold and velvet directly behind the delegates. Behind the American section were the flags of the nine nations. Senator Lodge was the first of the American delegation to arrive. He walked about the room meeting members of the American advisory committee, much as he talks with colleagues in the senate chamber. There was a scattering of gold leaf.

Loose His Hat.

As the French delegates reached the main entrance there was something of a jam. Premier Briand, edging his way through, dropped his silk hat. Attendants quickly made a way for him to get in.

Military and naval attaches appeared in full dress uniforms, making a show of their regiments and uniforms. The British had not seen since the war. All most all the others were in the conventional dress of the diplomatic corps.

Notables on Time.

Vice President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge and Speaker Gillett, of the house, and Mr. Gifford occupied a box to the right, and the British ambassador, Mr. Balfour, entered with former Premier Borden of Canada.

The first applause, hearty and generous, broke when Secretary Hughes and the entire American delegation took their seats at 10:55 o'clock.

A momentary hush fell upon the assembly after the applause greeting the entrance of the American delegation and then the storm of conversation broke loose again.

Rushes to Center.

Secretary Hughes sat in the center of the table and with a white cloth of

6. The fact and date of the scrapping of ships replaced.

To Enter Scrapheap

A summary of the results of the agreement so far as it affects capital ships, was included in the American proposal in the following terms: "If the terms of this agreement are agreed to, then the United States, Great Britain and Japan agree that their navies, three months after the making of this agreement, shall consist of the following capital ships:

Name American Ships

United States: Maryland, California, Tennessee, Idaho, Mississippi, New Mexico, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Nevada, Texas, New York, Arkansas, Wyoming, Utah, Florida, North Dakota, Delaware—18.

Total tonnage 500,000.

Great Britain: Royal Sovereign, Royal Oak, Royal Arthur, Royal George, Queen Elizabeth, Warship, Vanguard, Barham, Malaya, Bismarck, Emperor of India, Iron Duke, Marlborough, King George V, King George VI, Ajax, Hood, Renown, Repulse, Tiger—22.

Total tonnage 604,450.

Japan: Nagato, Hanga, Ise, Yamashiro, Fuso, Settsu, Kirishima, Mutsu, Hiei, Yogo—10.

Total tonnage 229,700.

Regarding the naval armaments of France and Italy, the American proposal says:

"In view of the extraordinary conditions due to the world war affecting the existing strength in the navies of France and Italy, the United States does not consider necessary the discussion at this stage of the tonnage allowance of these nations, but proposes it be reserved for the later consideration of the conference."

Offers American Plan

Mr. Hughes laid down four general principles:

1. That all capital ships built during the war, either actual or projected, should be abandoned.

2. That further reduction should be made through the scrapping of certain of the older ships.

3. That in general, regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned.

4. That the capital ship tonnage should be used as the measurements of strength for navies and a proportionate allowance of auxiliary combatant craft prescribed.

Would Limit Construction

A provision also would be included permitting replacement of capital ships when they were twenty years old and provided that the construction of any ship built in replacement with a tonnage of more than 35,000 tons. The text of the proposal as its details concern the three leading naval powers is as follows:

As a replacement program, the American government proposed that no more ships be laid down for the next ten years and that a maximum replacement tonnage figure be fixed providing eventually for 500,000 tons for the United States, 300,000 tons for Great Britain and 200,000 tons for Japan.

Would Stop Building

Japan would abandon plans for two battleships and four battle cruisers not yet laid down and in addition would scrap three capital ships and four battle cruisers in process of construction and all ten of the pre-dreadnought and battleships of the second line.

America Is Willing

The United States is now completing its program of 1916 calling for ten new battleships and six battle cruisers. One battle cruiser has been completed. The others are in various stages of construction; in some cases from sixty to eighty per cent of the construction has been done. Of these fifteen capital ships now being built or under construction, $330,000,000 has been spent. Still the United States is willing in the interest of an immediate limitation of naval armament to scrap all these ships.

Would Scrap Old Ships

The United States proposes, if this plan is accepted:

"1. To scrap all capital ships now under construction. This includes six battle cruisers and seven battleships on the ways and in the course of building, and two battleships launched.

"2. To scrap all of the older battleships up to but including the Delaware and North Dakota. The number of these old battleships to be scrapped is 15. Their total tonnage is 227,740 tons.

"3. The number of capital ships to be scrapped by the United States if this plan is accepted is thirty, with an aggregate tonnage (including that of ships in construction, if completed), of 847,470 tons.

Britain and Japan

The plan contemplates that Great Britain and Japan shall take action which is fairly commensurate with their action on the part of the United States. It is proposed that Great Britain:

(1) Shall stop further construction of the four new Hood, the new capital ships not yet laid down, but upon which money has been spent. The four ships, if completed, would have a tonnage displacement of 127,000 tons.

(2) Shall, in addition, scrap her pre-dreadnought, second line battleships, and first line battleships, up to but not including the King George V class.

These, with certain pre-dreadnoughts which it is understood have already been scrapped, would amount to nineteen capital ships and a tonnage reduction of 111,370 tons.

The total tonnage of ships thus to be scrapped by Great Britain (including the tonnage of the four Hood, if completed), would be 553,725 tons.

Mutual Abandon Program

It is proposed that Japan:

1. Shall abandon her program of ships not yet laid down, viz., the K-1, O-1, O-2, O-3, O-4, O-5, O-6, O-7, O-8, O-9, O-10, O-11, O-12, O-13, O-14, O-15, O-16, O-17, O-18, O-19, O-20, O-21, O-22, O-23, O-24, O-25, O-26, O-27, O-28, O-29, O-30, O-31, O-32, O-33, O-34, O-35, O-36, O-37, O-38, O-39, O-40, O-41, O-42, O-43, O-44, O-45, O-46, O-47, O-48, O-49, O-50, O-51, O-52, O-53, O-54, O-55, O-56, O-57, O-58, O-59, O-60, O-61, O-62, O-63, O-64, O-65, O-66, O-67, O-68, O-69, O-70, O-71, O-72, O-73, O-74, O-75, O-76, O-77, O-78, O-79, O-80, O-81, O-82, O-83, O-84, O-85, O-86, O-87, O-88, O-89, O-90, O-91, O-92, O-93, O-94, O-95, O-96, O-97, O-98, O-99, O-100.

2. Shall scrap three capital ships (the Mutsu, launched, the Tosa, the Kaga, in course of building), and four battle cruisers (the Amagi and Akagi, in course of building, and the Atago and Takao, not yet laid down, but for which certain material has been assembled).

The total number of new capital ships to be scrapped under this program is seven. The total tonnage of these new capital ships when completed would be 239,100 tons.

3. Shall scrap all pre-dreadnoughts and battleships of the second line. This would include the scrapping of all ships up to but not including the Settsu, that is, the scrapping of ten old ships, with a total tonnage of 127,833 tons.

The total reduction of tonnage on vessels existing laid down, or for which material has been assembled (taking the tonnage of the ships when completed), would be 448,923 tons.

Would Destroy Big Ships

Thus, under this plan there would be immediately destroyed, of the navies of the three powers, sixty-six capital ships, built, and building, but a total tonnage of 1,878,043.

It is proposed that it should be agreed by the United States, Great Britain and Japan, that their navies, with respect to capital ships, within three months after the making of the agreement, shall consist of certain ships designated in the proposal and number for the United States 18, for Great Britain 22, for Japan 10.

Tonnage Is Allocated

The tonnage of these ships would be as follows:

Of the United States, 500,000; of Great Britain, 604,450; of Japan, 229,700.

In reaching this result, the factor in the case of the respective navies has reached appropriate consideration.

Replacement Is Calculated

With respect to replacement the United States proposes:

(1) That it is agreed that the first replacement tonnage shall not be laid down until ten years from the date of the agreement.

(2) That the replacements be limited by an agreed maximum of capital ship tonnage as follows:

For the United States, 500,000 tons.

For Great Britain, 600,000 tons.

For Japan 300,000 tons.

(3) That subject to the ten-year limitation above fixed, and the maximum standard, capital ships may be replaced when they are 10 years old by new capital ship construction.

(4) That no capital ship shall be built in replacement with a tonnage displacement of more than 35,000 tons.

Replies to Past Outline

"I have studied the proposal only in outline," said Secretary Hughes, "leaving the technical details to be supplied by the formal proposition which is ready for submission to the delegates."

"The plan includes provision for the limitation of auxiliary surface combatant craft. This term embraces the three classes, that is:

(1) Auxiliary surface combatant craft, such as cruisers (exclusive of battle cruisers), flotilla leaders, destroyers and various surface types;

(2) Submarine; and

(3) Airplane carriers.

Attempts No Review

"I shall not attempt to review the proposals for these various classes as they bear a definite relation to the provisions for capital fighting ships."

"With the acceptance of this plan, the burden of meeting the demands of competition in naval armament will be lifted. Numerous sums will be released to aid the progress of civilization. At the same time, the project demands of national defense will be adequately met and the nations will have ample opportunity during the naval holidays of ten years, to consider their future course. Preparation for future naval war shall stop now. I shall not attempt at this time to take up the other topics which have been listed on the tentative agenda proposed in anticipation of the conference."

FILER GRABS VICTORY BY DEFEAT OF SHOSHONE LADS

Winning Streak of Battling Boys Shows No Abatement in Fast Conflict

Filer continued its winning streak by defeating Shoshone yesterday morning at Filer by a score of 10 to 7. The game was played at 10:30 to enable both towns to see the Twin Falls High School football game. The Filer squad were guests of the Filer fans.

The game was far better than the score indicated, and only through hard and consistent football was Filer able to pile up their big score.

Shoshone made their lone touchdown in the last period through a forward pass.

Filer played straight football, during the entire game. Jones of Shoshone starred for his team, while L. Amos, captain of the Filer squad, was their mainstay.

How Not to Take Cold

Some persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid over heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, over eating, becoming over-heated and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over—adv.

BUYING START UPWARD

MOVEMENT FOR WHEAT

All Grains are Firm to Strong on Reports of Commission Purchases

CHICAGO, (AP)—General commission house buying continued with lightness of offerings gave strength to the wheat market today in the early dealings.

Bullish sentiment appeared to be chiefly based on the fact that receipts continued small and that in some quarters the winter crop start in the southwest was regarded as the worst ever known.

Outside advice were at hand that the stock of Number 1 Manitoba in Liverpool was exhausted. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.25 to 1.34 1/2 high, with December $1.05 1/4 to 1.06 3/4; and May $1.10 1/2 to 1.11, were followed by further moderate gains.

Prospects of a decrease in the United States' visible supply total on Monday tended to help the bulls. Prices closed strong, 3-5 to 4-8-8 not higher, with December $1.09 to 1.09 1/4 and May $1.13 1/4 to 1.13 3/4.

Corn and oats hardened with wheat. After opening 1-8 to 1-9 to 5-8 high, or May $2 1/4 to $2 3/4, the market scored slight additional gains.

Board advice told of an active European demand for corn. The market closed steady, at 3-4 to 3-5 to 3-6.

Oats started unchanged to 1-4 high, or May $1.25 to $1.26. The market gathered a little more firmness later.

Provisions were dull, and showed a tendency to sag, notwithstanding higher quotations both on hogs and grain.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—Selected issues furnish the only features of interest at the dull and irregular opening of today's stock market. Mexican Petroleum, Pullman, Haskell and Barker and Railway Steel Spring were firm to strong, as were also some of the domestic oils. Coppers and food and textile specialties straggled, but changes among rails were slight and restricted to secondary issues. Sears Roebuck declined one point and American Sugar preferred, United States Rubber and Allis-Chalmers were under pressure. European advices over the holiday were without influence on local foreign exchange rates.

Oils and equipments were the most prominent features of today's brief but fairly broad stock market. Prices were firmer in the initial dealings, but fragrant later on the marked strength shown by high grade oils, notably Standard Oil of New Jersey, which rose seven points. The closing strong. Sales approximated $20,000 shares.

FEDERAL FUNDS RELIEVE CREDIT STRINGENCIES

Loans of Over $200,000 Made in Twin Falls District, the Bankers Say

"Relief for the credit situation is here," said J. M. Maxwell yesterday. "It is not something that we hope will be arranged. It is something that has already been made from this statement."

Mr. Maxwell's statement referred to the active operation of the relief afforded by the War Finance corporation which was designed to take care of the stock industry, by using $500,000,000 of government money in long-term loans. It is the belief that in the manner the present situation will be safely tilted over, and that at the expiration of the three years, prices will be adjusted to the cost of production.

Small Owners Included.
"It has been my impression, an impression derived from the literature we received on the subject, that the plan was devised for the relief of the large stock owners, and not for the small owner," said Mr. Maxwell further. "But we are told that such is not the case. The owner of a few cows or sheep is entitled to the same measure of consideration as the owner of thousands."

"Local banks have not been able to take care of all the demand for loans in the normal manner during the past year or more. It is estimated by local bankers that at least $200,000 in long-term loans may be allotted to the War Finance corporation and this leave that amount free for the normal demands of local business."

"It is a fine thing for us at this time," said J. M. Russell of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company. "I hope to see stockmen take the fullest possible advantage of the proposition." Applications may now be made through the local banks. These are sent through "feeder" organizations of the War Finance corporation which are now up and running at both Boise and Salt Lake. An inspector is sent out to inspect the loan. When his approval is placed upon the application, the money is loaned once available.

Two inspectors have been working in this territory during the past two weeks with the result that loans aggregating $200,000 have been approved.

Federal Agent Here.
O. H. Brown of Salt Lake is in Twin Falls for the purpose of explaining the plan of the War Finance corporation to the local bankers, and to urge the fullest acceptance of its provisions, and to stress the fact that it is open to the small stock owner as well as the large one.

"It means just so much additional money in the community as the live stock security will warrant," said Mr. Brown. "We are not offering any loans that we would refuse to place into our own notes in normal times. But it will enable the local banker to care for the people of his territory taking care of a normal market and at the same time to see his own loans against their proper ratio in the state without the fear of banks condition. There will be no effort to liquidate the assets of the local banks or of the federal reserve, except where such liquidation is to the direct advantage of the stock owner. We do not wish to oppose in any manner plans formed locally for the relief of this very situation. If such plans can be successfully put into operation so much the better. But we do wish to emphasize the fact that we are now ready to do business. There is no waiting for funds to be made available. The funds are available the instant the loan is approved."

"I wish also to emphasize the fact that the security of the loan is covered by the live stock and does not rest on the word of the borrower or the state. The time is three years. The rate is 8 per cent."

Come From Denver. Mrs. Levison and mother, Mrs. Jennie Levison, are in Twin Falls from Chicago for a two-month stay, to be devoted to business. They made the trip from Denver by automobile and state that they found the roads free from mud but somewhat bumpy and rough.

A Timely Suggestion.
This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and held against it has become settled in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

ARGUMENTS ARE CLOSED IN SCHOOL BOARD CASE

Judge Leo Indicates Purpose to Render Judgment in School
Board Controversy

Judgment of the court in the case of C. A. Robinson against the trustees of Twin Falls school district is to be rendered on Monday morning according to statement of Judge T. Bailey Lee, before whom argument in the case was completed in district court here late on Thursday afternoon, after a hearing extending over two days. The action was brought by Mr. Robinson to obtain a writ of mandamus compelling the trustees to order the promotion of his ten year old daughter, Dora Lee, from the fourth grade to more advanced classes and for recovery of damages to cover expense incurred for employment of a tutor for girl during the continuance of the controversy brought to issue in the lawsuit.

Judge Babcock Hears Argument in Case of Corporation Against Kim-

Arguments in the case of Idaho Land and Improvement company against J. M. Steelhead of Kimberly, and others, involving a contest for the sale of land, is occupying the attention of the district court, Judge W. A. Babcock presiding, here today. J. H. Richards of Boise is appearing for the plaintiff company, and S. H. Hodgins of Walla Walla, Hodgins and Bailey, for the defendants. The case was tried before a jury in district court here some time ago, findings of the jury being now before the court.

LEGION HOSTS TO THOUSANDS

ing vaudeville numbers, dancing and the "forty-nine" show were in operation in the big tent erected at the end of the parade route, and the legion booth. Interest in this feature of the entertainment reached its height in the evening immediately following the parade, when the capacity of the big tent was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the surging throng of merry makers.

Business Men Busy

Business and professional men were making good use of the operators of the several gaming tables in which bogus currency was won and lost, and impatient groups of players were ranged many ranks deep around the tables where cards, checkers, "craps" and shooting and other games of fortune held sway. A bar over which "pop" and other innocuous beverages were vended in an atmosphere recalled from more recent periods in the history of the west, was liberally patronized by thirty multitudes, while in a roped-off area dancers, many of them in costume, moved and swayed over glass-smooth pavement to the accompaniment of the orchestra.

Dancing Is Enjoyed

The masquerade ball conducted in the lavishly pavilion drew the attention of the crowd later in the evening, and it was there that the day was ended for the last of the merry-makers. More than 40 institutions and organizations were represented in the spectacular pageant and night parade. Although there was no competition for prizes in this event, the number and beauty of the various floats gave evidence of wide interest in the event and of much time and effort expended in their building.

View Is Enjoyed

Progress of the pageant was illuminated by generous use of electrical devices in the construction of the various floats. The parade was watched by thousands of people who moved along streets that were brightly lit up. More than 30 minutes was required for the parade to pass a given point.

The parade was divided into six sections, each in charge of a Legion member delegated to this duty. Its approach was heralded by two men in the costumes of heralds, and the Twin Falls band. Immediately following came the officers of the Legion post, and at the rear came the O-l-a-d section comprising a throng of costumed and masked legionnaires bearing torches and fireworks, following the wake of Chief O-l-a-d seated on the municipal water cart.

The queen of the carnival and her maids of honor occupied positions on an elaborate float designed to represent a ship, which was the first float in line. The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion was represented by float in which a huge illuminated star was the central figure.

War Section

Termed the "Spirit of '76" a float on which stood three young men in position of the familiar painting of that name, was entered by Edward J. Allen of the local school faculty with the assistance of students to lead the section designated the "war section". Next following came two elaborate representations of the war section, the first designated "Blue and Gray", entered by the Big White Store, and the second termed "Tenting Tonight", entered by Dan M. Cook post, G. A. A. group of boys Scout in the costumes of Rough Riders headed by Robert Evans in the character of the late Colonel Roosevelt, represented the war of '98, while the third war was represented by a group of young women bearing flags of the allied nations and occupying seats on a huge white float drawn by four white horses. This was entered by the War Mothers.

Patriotic Section

"The Statue of Liberty," represented by a young woman as the central figure of a handsome float, entered by the Idaho Department store, led off the "patriotic" section of the parade. The Red Cross was represented by a group in which a Red Cross nurse in costume stood over a wounded soldier. "Over the Top" entered by the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company, was a representation of a dugout surmounted by barbed wire entanglement, several veterans in uniform being grouped in and about the structure. "We Shall Not Shrink," a patriotic float of the field of Flanders poppies over which three men in uniform representing the army, navy and marine corps stood on positions afforded by a meta structure, was one of the most elaborate of the floats in this section and was entered by the Idaho Power company. "Lorraine Delivered," an elaborate work of the painter's brush was entered by the McGriff Sign Painting company, and members of the Salvation Army reproducing scenes from their ministry on the battlefields of Europe completed the section.

The manufacturing and industrial section included two floats, that of the Amalgamated Sugar company, the central figure of which was a miniature reproduction of a sugar factory, and that of the employees of the Lind Automobile company. This section included automobiles entered by practically all of the dealers of the city.

Organizations

A float representative of the "Christian Mission," an organization which in the Civil war corresponded to the Red Cross in the war, was entered by Don McCook circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., and a float representing of Betty Ross and the making of the first American flag, entered by Henry W. Walling circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. were outstanding features of the organizations' section, while the floats of the Camp Fire girls and of the Boy Scouts with groups of scouts and guides, were also notable figures about the parade. The float of the Ladies of the G. A. R. was a miniature reproduction of the Camp Fire girls and of the Boy Scouts with groups of scouts and guides, were also notable figures about the parade.

Students of the high school entered an elaborate float in which Flanders fields with hundreds of warlike poppies waving over mounds marking the graves of war dead, was the motif. A long line of students equipped with burlesque representations of musical instruments and bearing the title "Booze and Band" was an interesting feature of the school section.

Two Floats Damaged

Two of the floats entered in the parade met with mishap, resulting from difficulty in turning corners. The American Legion float, an elaborate affair with a white mound bearing the words "For God and Country" emblazoned on it and surrounded by pillars surmounted by emblems of the various branches of the military service, came to grief when it encountered a curb. It was hastily repaired and entered the march at the rear instead of at its head as had been intended.

The Rotary club's float, the central figure of which was an enormous circle representing the emblem of the organization, was irreparably damaged when the big wheel was dislodged in an encounter with a curb. Flashed and down the principal streets were gaily and appropriately decorated, the designs in many cases being most elaborate and artistic while the store or office that did not display a flag was the rare exception.
