

BRITAIN HAILS PROPOSALS FOR NAVAL HOLIDAY

Statement Voicing Government's View Says British and American People Are At One in Desires

LONDON, (AP)—The British government's view on the naval limitation proposals of the United States was given expression Monday afternoon by the issuance from a high authority of a statement which reads:

"The greatest satisfaction and admiration are expressed in responsible quarters in London for the spontaneity, frankness and far-sightedness of the proposals made by the United States government in connection with naval disarmament. The bold initiative taken by President Harding's administration will not fail profoundly to impress the peoples of the British empire."

Most Far Sighted Move

"It was inspired by the same generous impulse which brought the English-speaking peoples into the war against militaristic aggression in the cause of freedom, and is looked on here as by far the most far-sighted and broad-minded proposal that has been made to free the world from its crushing burdens and from the menace of future wars."

It is certain that the British government and the British people will respond in the same generous spirit to President Harding's bold move and that there will be no delay on their part in giving a most intense and searching examination to the American plan by the British government after consultation with their advisers."

At One with Americans

"The British people are at one with the American people in the desire that this long-expected moment should not be wasted in establishing a new basis of world relations in the spirit of practical idealism which inspired President Harding's great proposal."

DENIES DAKOTA'S MOTION TO DATE RATE HEARING

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chief Justice Taft announced Monday that the supreme court would deny the motion made by the state of North Dakota against the Chicago and Northwestern and other railroads, involving the right of the interstate commerce commission to increase rates in the state. The motion was to cancel the recent order setting the case for hearing.

The effect of the court's action is to deny the motion, which the state made to have the date hereafter set for hearing the case cancelled so that the case could be argued with the Wisconsin rate case, leaving before the court the motion made by the railroads to dismiss the rate.

Adapter of Airplane Propellers to Railway Cars Pays Experimenter's Penalty

MOSCOW (By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press).—The Bolshevik government is proud of its attempts to solve the problem of land locomotion by the use of airplane propellers attached to railway cars, automobiles and boats. It has not been discouraged by accidents.

The most notable crash was that at Sushchikov, 40 miles from Moscow on the Petrograd line, when Abakovsky, the adapter of the air propeller for these new uses, was killed in a passenger car together with numbers of delegates to the Third Internationale congress.

Attains High Speed

The car was going at a speed of about 70 miles an hour when it jumped the track. The victims were brought to Moscow and buried with great ceremony in the Red Square, against the Kremlin wall, where Ios John Reed, the American Communist and journalist.

The objection to this adaptation of the airplane propeller, at least for railway uses, is that when a high speed is attained, the single car becomes uncontrollable. The brakes do not function effectively and, when the rounded is uneven or turns a curve, the car leaps the track. Collisions occur because the car cannot be stopped quickly, when it overtakes a train ahead.

The adaptation may have to be limited to boats for these reasons, and lately a number of flat iron boats with an upturned prow have been built, each equipped with a high-power motor. Critical engineers say the method is wasteful, despite its spectacular effect.

Milwaukee Man Makes First Legal Purchase of Brew Under New Rules

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (AP)—Juel Scheiderer of this city, was the first resident of the United States to purchase medicinal beer under the new federal regulations.

The case of 24 bottles cost Scheiderer $5.25. It was the first legal sale of beer here since the war-time prohibition regulations went into force.

How Not to Take Cold

Some persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid over-heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid exercises, over-eating, becoming over-tired and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over.—adv.

How to get quick starting even in cold weather

DON'T think that you have to put up with slow starting just because the temperature is rather low. It is true that some gasoline starts easily enough in summer but gets balky when the air is a little frosty.

Conoco Gasoline vaporizes quickly and makes starting easy whether the thermometer registers 60° or 6°. Of course in those cases where the carburetor has been adjusted to give a very thin mixture for summer economy it is only logical to provide a slightly richer, but not heavy, mixture when really cold weather sets in.

Sluggish and slow burning gasoline is not only hard to start in winter but also falls down in power and mileage. The Continental Oil Company has studied carefully the motoring conditions in the six intermountain states which it serves and Conoco Gasoline is the best that can be produced for this territory the year round.

Drive up to a Conoco Service Station or a Continental dealer's pump and get your full requirement of gasoline. You'll find it satisfactory from every standpoint, in cold weather just as in the warmest days of July.

Polarine is the standard oil for motor lubrication. Purchase both of these Continental products with Conoco Coupons, sold in book form.

VETERAN GIVES EXPERIENCE IN PRISON CAMPS

Witness at Trial of "Hard Boiled" Smith Talks to Twin Falls Service Men

Wanted destruction of records of prison camps in which members of the American expeditionary force were confined "prevented conviction by court-martial of army officers superior in rank to the notorious "Hard Boiled" Smith, Joseph H. Murphy, formerly a sergeant of Company A, Twenty-third engineers, told members of the American Legion at Inncheon today at a talk on his own experiences as a prisoner in the Petit Rouge, better known as "the battle," and at prison farm No. 2, in charge of "Hard Boiled" Smith.

Called as witness.

Mr. Murphy was one of the witnesses called to testify at the trial of Smith on charges of abusing American soldiers in Smith's prison camps. Despite the fact that prison records including order of prisoners had disappeared before the opening of the proceedings, Smith was convicted and sentenced to 18 months imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. This sentence was later commuted by former Secretary of War Baker to ten months imprisonment at Fort Jay at the expiration of which term Smith was pardoned.

Mr. Murphy was made a prisoner on November 23, 1918, while in Paris on his way to spend a furlough in the Monte Carlo area after having served with his company almost without interruption on the front lines since February 23. In ignorance of the relaxation of the order permitting American soldiers on furlough to spend 24 hours in Paris, Mr. Murphy and his companions overstayed the time limit were taken in custody when they presented themselves at a designated American army station in Paris for correction of their furlough papers. He was released from prison after 14 days confinement, when the successor to Smith intervened in his behalf.

Describing his reception at this place, Mr. Murphy said:

"Three husky marines with loaded sticks landed on me all together and while two of them stood in attitudes of readiness to strike in defense of democracy, the third stripped me of coat, jacket, leggings and money with about the same degree of formality as one would skin a rabbit. Afterward I was thrown into a room with 40 or more others who were due for the same trip. A Sergeant Brown took charge of the detail in the prison office. While we all stood in attention, he paraded up and down the line. Without apparent provocation he struck someone at the other end of the line a healthy swing to let us know, I suppose that he was the "bull of the woods," and with a burst of profanity he let it be known that the performance would be repeated at a moment's notice.

"One thing that struck me as peculiar was that as he struck this lad, a marine stepped forward at each end of the line and like the old western "bad men," unlimbered their side arms. It made me rather nervous, as we were in close quarters for target practice."

Mr. Murphy related having heard that evening the sound of a man suffering a terrible beating at the hands of prison attendants, and of having seen the victim the next morning being dragged along with blood matted his hair and his face beaten beyond recognition.

Tamers Wounded Men.

Indicating the reception accorded to prisoners at "Hard Boiled" Smith's prison camp, Mr. Murphy said:

"A lad in the prison bunch wore a wound stripe showing that he had seen front line service. That seemed to tickle "Hard Boiled," for he cursed his lip and sneered. "Well, buddy, you may think it was hard up in the Scarre country, but take it from I, B., it ain't patch in hell to what I give them here."

WRESTLER PESEK GOUGES PLESTINA AND GETS BARRED

Nebraska Pulls Rough Stuff in Gotham Match with Chicago Title Claimant

NEW YORK. (AP)—Local promoters of last night's wrestling bout between John Pesek, of Nebraska, and Martin Plestina, Serbian, have been ordered by the state athletic commission to hold the Nebraskaan's share of the purse. Pesek was disqualified for rough tactics and forever barred from wrestling activity in this state.

Plestina was awarded the first fall on a foul after eleven minutes and nineteen seconds of wrestling, while Pesek ignored the referee's warnings to desist from his savage attack. The Nebraskaan continued to gouge and butt Plestina and at the end of 24 minutes and four seconds Plestina was awarded another fall.

"Members of the athletic commission then overruled the referee and ordered the match resumed until a legitimate fall was gained. Pesek again resorted to gouging, the bout was stopped and the decision awarded to Plestina.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By PHILBA K.)

So that the fans will know just why we have to play Wendell for the southern Idaho championship, it won't go astray to give a little dope.

At the meeting in Burley early in the season, this section of the state was designated as the south central district, being divided into three parts, the first section comprised Rupert, Paul, Albion, Burley and Oakley. The second section was composed of Twin Falls, Ellet, Buhl and Kimberly. (Kimberly dropped out after the first game.) The third section had Jerome, Wendell, Shoshone and Gooding. (Gooding also dropped out after playing one game.)

It was decided that the winner of the first section should play the winner of the third section to see who should play the winner of the second section for the championship of the south central district.

It so happened that Rupert won the championship of their section and Wendell in their section, thus the winner of last Saturday's game was entitled to a game with the winner of the south central district, which is Twin Falls. Thus do we find Twin Falls going over to Wendell Friday afternoon to decide the championship of this district.

The games that were played outside of the district had nothing to do with the standing of the teams, consequently when Twin Falls played Wendell, it was merely an extra game, being played to give the two coaches a line on their men. Filer had three of these games, having played Burley, Rupert and Shoshone.

The game will be called at 2:30 to enable the Twin Falls fans to get home before dark.

This coming game shouldn't be taken too lightly, as Wendell worked hard for the right to play Twin Falls, and no one made them any presents of games, so it can be figured that the game will be nip and tuck.

That 123 to 0 affair at the start of the season is not a criterion as to the relative strength of the two teams, and shouldn't be taken as such. It was a "practice" game pure and simple.

The boys were out last night and showed considerable pep, after their grueling battle of last Friday. None of them are the worse for wear, and the team went through a hard workout.

Houghtalen and Fix were out, and although it isn't probable that either one will play the whole game, the team will have their services part of the time.

With Fix at quarter, Seilley and Houghtalen at half and Scott at full, Twin should give Wendell a real game.

Idaho Fresh team defeated Lewis and Clark Saturday by the score of 42 to 7. Otto Newman is still out of the game, and Kline carries the place at quarterback. "Bub" Kleffner again starred for the first year men, making three touchdowns.

GOT HAM TRADERS BUILD NEW HOME

New York Stock Exchange Prepares for Coming of International Market

NEW YORK, (AP)—Confident of becoming an international market of greater proportions and to some extent assuming the position held by the exchange by the London Stock Exchange, the New York Stock Exchange is speedily pushing to completion its handsome 23-story addition.

Despite the reaction which has followed almost two years of unprecedented speculation and inflated values, officials of America's leading security market apparently have absolute confidence in the return to the country of business prosperity.

While trading is slack, they are improving their opportunity to provide greater facilities for a future which to them seems limitless. In addition to marketing and making otherwise negotiable some $35,000,000,000 of American stocks and bonds, the exchange has listed about $500,000,000 of foreign securities for trading on its floor.

In Heart of Financial Area

The site of the new stock exchange occupies the block upon Fifth street between Broadway and New streets in the very heart of this financial district. The steel structure, which rests upon a coffer dam extending to below 70 feet below street level, is finished and the Georgia marble facing of the building should be in place before the new floor.

Swing to the complicated mechanical and electrical equipment to be installed, however, almost a year will pass before the new building will be made ready for use.

The stock exchange will occupy the basement and the lower seven of the 23 stories and will rest the remaining upper stories to brokers, preferably members of the exchange.

One-third of the new space will be devoted to trading in bonds, while the remainder will contain eight new stock posts. These new posts and the 20 already in the board room will be equipped with an extension of the present inter-communicating pneumatic tube system, of which there is already over 20 miles under the present exchange.

No Expense Spared

The new tube system will also accommodate over 3300 new telephone booths to be located in the new board room. This trading hall will be connected with the present floor by three large open doorways.

Although in mechanical equipment the New York Stock Exchange is today unrivaled among the stock exchanges of the world, no expense is being spared to provide every facility which science has made possible.

IF HERD IS FREE FROM TB, WHY NOT LET PEOPLE KNOW?

It pays to advertise a worthwhile article. In Portacote, Idaho, the inspectors in charge of the tuberculosis eradication work of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, came upon a dairymen whose herd had been tested and was under federal and state supervision. He turned these facts to good account in advertising his wares, and greatly increased his business.

"Why pay your dairymen for keeping poor cows when you can get MILK from the MODERN DAIRY'S pure, healthy, clean cows at $3.75 per month, cash in advance? Cows all guaranteed pure and clean."

This poster was widely circulated in the district, and on his milk tickets the fact is reiterated that "Our dairy cows are tuberculosis-free by government test." These methods have resulted in many other dairymen in the Portacote district applying to the tuberculosis eradication office at Boise, Idaho, for the testing of their herds.

HARDING LAUDS WORK OF CHURCH

President Says Hope of Civilization is Involved in Religious Endeavor

DETROIT, Mich., (AP)—If the churches fall in their high and holy tasks there is small hope for civilization, President Harding told a national conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here today in a message read by Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington, D. C. The message was read at the opening of the conference regarded by leaders of the denomination as one of the most important in the church's history.

"Wherever the churches must march forward more swiftly than they have done," the president's message continued. "The churches must not fail."

Prayer War Work

The president paid a tribute to the church for its work during the war, adding:

"The world never before was in such need of right minds, right ideals, right relations among men and nations, right spirit for meeting unparalleled conditions and sacred religion in general, social and public life."

The president closed his message by extending "best wishes for the work your churches and other churches are trying and planning to do in all the countries."

Brings Prominent Churchmen

The conference brought to Detroit about 25 bishops of the church in the United States and other countries and hundreds of ministers and laymen. The meeting is intended to be inspirational and, according to church leaders, is the outgrowth of the contemporary movement.

House of Historic Interest

One of the features of the territorial celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims, to be held at Plymouth, will be the opening to the public of the William Harlowe house, built in 1671. This is one of the few buildings now remaining which stood within the lifetime of any of those who came on the Mayflower, and it has a particular interest owing to the fact that it was framed with oak timber from the old fort, which, as Winslow relates, "was built in 1622 on the top of the hill under which the town was located."

After King Philip's war, when danger from Indian aggressions had passed, the fort was dismantled and the timbers sold to Sgt. William Harlowe, a man of prominence in the colony, who used them in the construction of his house on the ancient high way where it still stands.

CITY ATTORNEY ASKED TO URGE FEES PAYMENT

Administration is to Make Another Attempt to Collect Bill Against Butchers

An attempt to collect a sum amounting $1500 is to be made by City Attorney Taylor Cummings from butchers of Twin Falls. Failing in this attempt Mr. Cummings will, if instructed by the municipal legislature are carried out, take the matter of settlement to court.

The amount in question is said to represent slaughterhouse and meat inspection fees accruing since the adoption of the first meat and milk inspection ordinance two years ago, and a subsequent ordinance later. It is said that butchers and vendors of meat in Twin Falls have declined to pay the fees in full, and that the city has fought the first ordinance in the city court. Since that time a new ordinance has been adopted correcting some of the old law. Last night the council, while instructing Attorney Cummings to take steps to collect the fees alleged to be due, adopted an amendment to the meat ordinance now in effect, authorizing the inspector to refuse inspection in case of failure to pay fees. The amendment also provides for the inspection of chickens offered for sale here.

May Grant License.

J. H. Phillips, a resident of Harrison avenue, is to be granted a meat vendor's license if it is found that he is complying with sanitation regulations laid down by the city in slaughtering cattle and handling meat for trade.

The council accepted an offer made by J. B. Mullins of $200 for a year's lease to ten acres of farm lands adjacent to the city filtration plant. The type is to include a residence on the land, a committee headed by W. S. Sanger and including the city attorney, is to draw up a lease.

Because streets lights are far removed from the city, the city engineer, who on Shoshone street have been found to be utterly dark at night. To remedy this defect the city administration has appealed to the Idaho Power company to make a shift in the location of its lights at both ends of the street. This action was taken at the instance of Mayor P. W. McRobert.

Ty Fight Damage Case.

A committee is to be appointed by the mayor for the purpose of considering the employment of assistant city engineer in the city. The committee is to be headed by W. S. Sanger and including the city attorney, is to draw up a lease.

FEATURE AT FACTION FOUND AT TWIN FALLS' BACK DOOR

Subterranean Cavern Half Mile Long is Explored by Residents of City — Find Wonderful Cave Dark as Charon's Crossing but Replete with Interesting Detail — Geological Specimens Taken

Within falling distance of the north end of the Hinner bridge, in located one of the wonder places of southern Idaho a place as yet known to but few of the citizens of this section, yet one of the district's most remarkable spots, and one that could be developed along with other scenic points of interest in the south end of the state, according to H. Palmittier of 325 Elizabeth boulevard.

Have Material Evidence.

The spot referred to is a mammoth cave some four miles immediately west of the city. Mr. Palmittier, with Mrs. Palmittier, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nelson, of 773 Sixth avenue east, and Charles Hixson, 901 Locust street, visited and thoroughly explored the enormous cavern. Specimens of geological formations found in the cave were gathered by members of the party. Mr. Palmittier has a large assortment of these specimens on exhibition at his home.

"Mr. Hixson got a vague intimation of the existence of the cave from one who had been in the vicinity, and he induced Mr. Nelson and myself to go with him on an exploration tour. This trip we took with the intention of making a quick check and found more than we expected," Mr. Palmittier says.

Out of Breath and Back.

The cave, according to the exploring party drops almost directly from the level ground at the point mentioned. There is little preliminary depression, and the country round about gives no indication whatever of the existence of a great subterranean cavern such as Mr. Palmittier describes. There is no road within two miles of the spot; nothing but a dirt trail leads straight among rocks and sagebrush. The rock road from the bridge leads almost directly north for two miles and then enters out. From that point the explorers went on. The cave was reached through brush and among rocks until "hot holes" resulting in a fissure in the rocks, about large enough for the passage of a man's head was discovered. This fissure, Mr. Palmittier declares, led directly into the cave, which has no outlet except through the one opening. Of the discovery, Mr. Palmittier makes the following statement, to which he announces he will make affidavit if need be:

Tells of Exploration.

"Our party made the trip to the cave on Sunday, November 7. We found a cavern some 50 feet wide and 100 feet high and half mile long and as dark as pitch. Using a lantern, and flashlight we traced our way along the cave, making such observations as the light permitted us to make. We found an almost perfect arched roof, apparently rock, with rock and soil sides. The floor is of earth with but little appearance of rock in it. We found no signs of running or stagnant water in the place though the side walls were damp. We noticed one or two breakers in the roof but none extended through the daylight. We did not make a thorough exploration of the cave but found sufficient material of interest to warrant conviction that the cavern may some day be developed as one of the natural features of southern Idaho and an attraction for tourists as well as home folk."

VAN TOY LOW ADMITS GUILTY

Van Toy Low, a Buell district farmer, was Monday arraigned in the police court, Judge O. P. Duvall presiding, to answer charges of larceny of irrigating water. Defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $50. With the conclusion of this case on the basis mentioned a district court action, charging tampering with an irrigation aqueduct, was dismissed.

CHURCH SERVICES GIVE WAY TO RELIEF WORKERS

Presentation of Red Cross Activities Takes Place of Evening Sermon

Evening services at the Methodist church Sunday were devoted to the presentation of the Red Cross work of George H. Caldwell, chairman of the Twin Falls chapter, spoke on the organization of the departments briefly outlined the work done by each department.

Dr. Caldwell stated that the Red Cross is the outgrowth of a desire to serve which had its inception in the exigencies of war but has since spread to include the aftermath of war and the more constant problems of peace, and that the problems of care had progressed to include problems of prevention.

Mrs. Burton E. Morse, chairman of the home nursing department, spoke of what is being accomplished through the office of the home nurse and of the follow up work that is stated to be bringing satisfactory results.

Mrs. Morse said the work of the home nursing department is fourfold, its purpose being, (1) To inculcate habits of service to the community; (2) teaching loyalty and allegiance to the country; (3) to relieve suffering children throughout the world; (4) to develop an international goodwill and understanding made necessary by the new world conditions following the war, as it is needed to start new teaching children to think in terms of world peace.

"We are told that the 'I don't know' attitude of mind has killed seven out of ten babies brought before their time. The Red Cross nurse is bringing to us the one specific remedy for that condition, education at the time and the place where it is needed, the home."

The speaker told further of the personal experience of Miss Rosetta McCall making a plea for support for her work.

FINES IMPOSED AGAINST FIVE FOR DISTURBANCE

They are John Anacava, Manuel Bolta, Jose Martinez, Gonzales Culin and Frank Julien. The men were arrested some time ago during a riot by police and county authorities on various Mexican houses on the south side. A formal charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor was filed against the defendants following arrest, but this was changed later to disturbance.
